Navy Captain Questioned About Pearl Harbor

POINTS OUT CHANGES FOR SCHOOL AIMS

In connection with the opening of National Education week today Dr. G. C. Boswell, superintendent of Ranger Schools and Ranger Junior College has issued the following statement:

This year should cause all friends of education to view the situation from different standpoints. There are phases of education as we see it, which we have never faced before. Schools should not be out, and youth should not be denied and receive the benefits of education which would be good citizens. Our program should be more elastic, should be more varied and should allow more freedom. There are not many businesses that would succeed if the businesses were established on the "hand out method". Boys and girls should be given the privilege of selecting their courses, in fact the curriculum should be the work of the students, teachers, parents and others who are interested.

The courses of study for Ranger might not be suited for a school system 100 miles from Ranger, nor the course of study that is used in a school 200 miles from Ranger might not meet the needs for a Ranger boy or girl. Too little attention is given the course of study—too little attention is given the teachers who are teaching our boys and girls. In fact, by and large, we give too little attention to the whole school program.

This Education Week is national in scope and each parent should, during this week, at least, have a conference with the teacher or teachers who are teaching his child. Therefore, as head of our school system, I am making a plea for you to visit our schools—attend the classes and let me, if you care to do so, have your reaction.

I appreciate your kindness and assure you the big motives in my mind are the boys and girls. They are the greatest asset Ranger has.

CISCO WINS GAME BY A 13-0 SCORE

The Ranger Bulldogs tumbled to the Cisco Lobos by a score of 13 to 0 in the district game played at Cisco Friday night.

On a rain soaked field and with rain falling during part of the game, the Lobos proved too much for the Bulldogs and in the first and second periods scored a 9 to 0 touchdown and kicked the extra point on the second touch down to make the score 13 to 0. The Lobos on the 3rd and 4th periods scored on extra points after the opening of the second half were not able to push across again. Scrimmage of Cisco made both touch downs for Cisco.

Ranger completed two passes out of three attempted and Cisco completed 3 out of an attempted nine. Ranger gained 25 yards in passing and Cisco gained 88 yards. Ranger's star passer played with an injured arm, was not only hand-capped but the object of Lobo coverage.

Cisco drew the most penalties, seven for 85 yards and Ranger drew two penalties for 20 yards. Ranger had 3 first downs, a 4 Cisco 17, and while the Lobos gained 165 yards in scrimmage, Ranger stacked up only 14.

Ranger sustained fewer injuries in this game than in any other played this season but Don Ford had a perfect record for playing all of every game this year, when he was taken out of the Cisco game with an injured leg. He was returned to the game a short time later.

Cisco's starting line-up was Center, Alvin King; tackles, Raymond Penn and Melvin Noble; ends Charles Pence and Stanley Williams; guards, Harold Hill and Joey Paum; backs Jim Sauls, Jerry Farley, Albert Tipton, Mac Hatfield.

Ranger's starters were Don Ford, center; Arterburn, Parrish, Elder and Dawn, backs; Terry and Griffin, guards; Balch and Carlin, tackles and Gray and Frasier, ends. Substitutes for Cisco were Watts, Cleveland, Maxwell, Leshover, Hays, Baum, Mueller, and Hayne. Ranger's substitutes were Frank Ford, Williams, Griffin and Hardy.

NEW LUMBER COMPANY TO OPEN MONDAY

H. J. Jordan, district manager, today announced the opening of the Ray D. Martin Lumber Company, recently completed at the corner of Oak and Houston streets in Ranger.

The store will be opened to business on Monday morning at 8:00 o'clock and the public is invited to visit the new establishment and look over the supplies stocked so far.

Jordan, who has supervised the construction of the new building and yard and has overseen the stocking of supplies, stated that the company will have a complete line of building materials as will be found anywhere. At present, he said, some items are not in stock due to the fact that they are not yet available, but as soon as shortages are reduced the company will stock these items.

The firm which is now operating five lumber yards, has headquarters in Ft. Worth and Frank Smith of the Ft. Worth branch will be acting manager for the Ranger yard. Jordan will be here until about the first of the month and after that will call on the Ranger house at intervals.

COMMITTEE OPPOSITION FAILS TO HALT MOVE

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Congress of Industrial Organizations is determined to push the wage issue before the full labor-management conference even if it loses its fight in the executive committee, it was understood today.

A CIO resolution pending before the executive committee has run into apparently unanimous opposition from other labor and management delegates. It falls for an endorsement of President Truman's statement that there is "an imperative need" for wage increases.

Executive committee members expected the resolution to be put to a vote next Tuesday of Wednesday. Even if one committee meeting Tuesday and Monday none of the conference groups was scheduled to convene until Tuesday.

Although the conference has not yet discussed whether minority reports will be accepted, a CIO source said there was no question that minority report could be submitted to the full conference. And he said it could be presented if the executive committee voted it down as expected. However, there would be little chance to anticipate a different result in the full conference because the executive committee reflects the views of the conference in approximately equal proportion.

President William Green of the American Federation of Labor reiterated after a caucus of AFL delegates yesterday that there had been no change in the AFL position opposing the CIO resolution. He said it had not even been discussed in the caucus.

It has been unofficially reported that another company already interested in the Ranger area has contracted for ten more wells in this area.

WLB Setting Up Machinery For Wages Cases

WASHINGTON (UP) — The War Labor Board is setting up machinery to handle voluntary wage cases under President Truman's new wage-price policy, it was announced today.

Chairman Lloyd K. Garrison said the board was acting on Mr. Truman's request that it establish a separate division to carry on board functions after it is liquidated and until the wage stabilization act expires next June 30.

The new division will not handle labor disputes but will merely pass on voluntary wage increases requiring approval, and handle violations of wage stabilization regulations.

Garrison said that organization of the division on a national level is near completion and that its two public members already have been chosen. They are W. Willard Wirtz, former WLB general counsel, and Sylvester Garrett, present chairman of the regional board in Philadelphia.

DEAD ANTELOPE KICKS
LARAMIE, Wyo. (UP) — "Dead" antelopes sometimes can prove dangerous, according to a certain Laramie man. He reported he shot one of the animals at a range of several hundred yards. Figuring it was dead for sure, he confidently advanced, hunting knife in hand. As he leaned over the antelope, it let loose a haymaker with a hind leg. The huntman received shattered glasses, and a facial mess in general.

DENTON, Tex., Nov. 11 — Playing to audiences of more than 10,000 in eight Texas towns under the sponsorship of civic, educational and music organizations, members of the North Texas State College School of Music opera cast of "The Bohemian Girl" completed their tour of Texas cities with a final performance in Longview Saturday night.

The 65-member student cast of vocalists, dancers and instrumentalists were well received in auditoriums of the four towns. At Lubbock, after standing room had been sold, disappointed patrons were turned away.

Four towns were San Angelo, Brownwood, at Camp Bowie, Vernon, Lubbock, Amarillo, B I & Spring, at Texas A. & M. College and Longview.

Directed and produced by Miss Mary McCormick of the School of Music faculty, and former star of the French and Italian opera companies, the opera was conducted by Dr. Wilfred C. Bain, head of the School of Music at North Texas State College. The opera was composed of six lead vocalists, 23 chorus members, 25 instrumentalists in the orchestra and a dance ensemble of nine members of the Modern Dance club.

1946 PONTIAC ON DISPLAY BY CRAWLEY

The Price Crawley Motor Company now has on display in their windows at the corner of Pine and Rush streets, Ranger's third 1946 model automobile, a Pontiac sedan coupe.

The streamlined car is black with red trimmed wheels and a grey upholstery and is listed as the company's medium priced model. Other features distinguishing the car are the newly designed front grill, relocated parking lamps and heavier bumpers extended in a sweeping curve to protect front fender skirts. Emphasis is placed on the road-hugging appearance and plane-like contours.

Price Crawley owner of the agency stated Saturday that orders for the cars will be taken as they come in and will be filled in order received, just as soon as the cars can be delivered to the dealer.

Crawley was informed by telegram Saturday that the company believes that plenty of Pontiacs will be forthcoming in the very near future.

The Pontiac is General Motors' second lowest priced car.

Parent - Teacher Teamwork Urged For Guidance

IOWA CITY, Ia. (UP) — Parents and teachers should combine forces to ferret out and forestall children's behavior problems instead of waiting until trouble actually occurs, according to Prof. Ralph Ojemann of the Iowa Child Welfare Research station at the University of Iowa.

This is one method, Prof. Ojemann says, by which home and school can build together.

"Home and school, working as a team, must aim to produce citizens who know the meaning of self-discipline and self-control; who live democratically every where and at all times," he said.

He believes that parents and teachers should meet several times annually to study child behavior. Education can help the nation to arrive at the threshold of a better world if parents keep interested in the schools and see to it that high ideals are maintained there, he declared.

ACCUSE U. S. OF GIVING CHINA AID

CHUNGKING (UP) — Chinese communists angrily accused the United States today of backing Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek in China's civil war with a 64,000,000 munitions loan and the use of American pilots as gun runners for the Nationalist armies.

Meanwhile, a United Press dispatch from Chinwagao said that U. S. military equipment already landed might be turned over to Chinese government forces, determined "whether the Nationalists would be able to force the Great Wall."

The charge was leveled at the United States government by the New China Daily, Chungking mouthpiece of the Chinese communists.

The newspaper gave no details of the alleged loan, except to say the agreement already had been signed by representatives of the American and Chungking Nationalist governments.

Fifteen More Enrolled In Special Course

Miss Felda Fulmer, instructor for the salesmanship class now being conducted in Ranger announced Saturday that 15 additional members were enrolled in the class Thursday night. This brings to 56 the total enrollment in the class. Seventeen firms were represented in the class.

Miss Fulmer stated that this is the largest class she has ever had and she believes that it is one of the largest ever enrolled by the extension department for the course.

Classes for the commercial department of Ranger high school and Ranger Junior College will be started by Miss Fulmer next week.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UP) — The Texas - chartered Congress of Industrial Organizations, Inc., formed by San Antonio businessmen, made it plain today it was not going to stand idly by while unions in Texas used the initials CIO after their names.

Notifying other labor unions not to use the initials CIO, the new Texas corporation whose letterhead states that it is "for general industrial improvement in the state of Texas" said it would file suits for injunction and damages at each violator.

Illinois Tells Cities How To Obtain Grants

CHICAGO (UP)—The American Municipal Assn. reports that the Illinois postwar planning commission is instructing county and city officials in how to get grants from a $4,850,000 state appropriation for local public works projects.

The handbook explains that each municipality is tentatively allocated $1,000 plus its proportionate share on a population basis. Money for which approvable applications have not been made by Jan. 30, 1946, is to be reallocated.

State payments are to be made only after the planning work has been completed and reviewed by the state agency, the handbook said.

Women Act As Lookouts On Lonely Peaks

CRESTLINE, Cal. (UP)—Three slim, attractive girls are replacing fire wardens in the lonely, important lookout towers which look down on the thickly forested resort areas of the San Bernardino mountains.

On Strawberry peak, 6,150 feet above sea level, is Mrs. Barbara Wager, wife of ex-forest ranger Harry Wager, now in service. Keller peak tower rises 7,883 feet above mountain vacation spots and portions of the Santa Ana river. Here is Mrs. Wilma E. Murphy, fire spotter for three years.

Cajon mountain lookout, 5,340 feet high, overlooks the vital Cajon pass area, main inlet for two railroads and a transcontinental highway. This lookout is "manned" by Margaret V. Johnson. They keep the home fires from burning out the forest.

Church Installs Bible Quotation In Neon Sign

NEW ORLEANS (UP)—And now the churches have gone streamlined.

The Mid-City Baptist Church sits on a principal highway leading into New Orleans—and greeting every passer-by is a large neon sign containing a quotation from the Bible: "Believe in the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved."

The church was built during the war by members of the congregation, who did all the actual labor themselves. They bought the materials bit by bit, and they finally finished the $30,000 building on a midnight Saturday, just in time to have Sunday services.

Every Victory Bond bought—and held—is accomplishing medical tests for disabled veterans. The Chesapeake Bay retriever is the only hunting dog whose development occurred entirely in the United States.

Court will be the principal speaker. Both of these gentlemen are ex-residents of Erath County and have been intimate friends of Dean Davis for many years.

Dean Davis came to Tarleton shortly after the first World War, and under his guidance and direction the school grew from a student body of 321 students and 24 teachers to over 1800 students and 50 faculty members in the years immediately preceding the last great conflict. No other man has served as long as administrative head of a state college. At sixty-five, he is still regarded as one of the most forward thinkers of this section, and will continue as a teacher in the Stephenville institution.

Retired Dean To Be Honored At Dinner Nov. 28

J. Thomas Davis, who recently relinquished the deanship of John Tarleton College, a position he held for twenty-six years, will be honored with a testimonial dinner in the John Tarleton College dining hall the night of November 28. Invitations are now being mailed to friends of the dean throughout the nation, and a crowd of 300 is expected to attend. Robert L. Thornton, Dallas banker, will be master of ceremonies at the occasion, and Judge J. E. Hickman of the State Supreme Court will be the principal speaker.

CHINA PAPER SEES NEED FOR BANK REFORM

CHU CK G (UP) — In a recent editorial discussing the present economic crisis in China, The Sun has advocated relief of industrial and commercial enterprises and liquidation of unsound ones and in view of the dim outlook for immediate stabilization of the financial situation.

The editorial said that national finances could not be stabilized within six months or a year and thus the war as in note issue is bound to continue. It predicted a second inflationary period after the liberal areas have been saturated with national currency, although today prices are dropping steadily.

Industrial and mining enterprises which are indispensable to the nation should be reorganized to raise their efficiency, while unsound concerns should be closed, the editorial continued. Government loans should be given commercial firms to tide them over the short crisis caused by the tightness of national currency. These loans should be secured by gold or American notes but should not be given at higher than market rates, for then they would constitute subsidies.

Banks and money shops experiencing financial difficulties should be liquidated after investigation of their assets and liabilities, for the price drop is expected to continue over another six month period, and if they cannot carry on now they will be forced to liquidate later, the paper said.

Frogs Expect Rough Going in Tech Game
FORT WORTH, Nov. 8.—The stage is set for rough going for T. C. U. when the Frogs play Texas Tech in Lubbock Saturday. The contest will be Tech's last home game of the season and the Red Raiders' last chance to win one from the Southwest Conference opponent this season.

CITIES LEVY FEE FOR WASTE DISPOSAL
CHICAGO (UP) — Many cities are charging industries for disposing of large amounts of industrial waste, according to the International City Manager's Association.
The volume of industrial waste in the United States is nearly equal to the sewage pollution, the association said.
Charges are based on the volume of sewage, the amount of solid matter in it, and the amount of chlorine needed to treat it, the Association said.
Some cities charge an additional fee based on the number of men employed by the industry.

Here's one of two men whose future should interest you

Yesterday, this fellow was an American fighting man.
Today, he's an ex-soldier — wondering what kind of a future he'll find in the country he fought for.
We've all agreed that his future interests us — that we have an obligation here. Loans, education, a chance for a decent job—they're not too much to give a man who had the tough end of this war.
The way to discharge your obligation to this fellow is to buy extra Bonds in the Victory Loan. And the nice part of it is that, when you do this, you're taking care of another fellow's future, too.

You're making sure that you, yourself, will have a financial anchor to windward. You're putting your money to work, earning more money for you. You're making sure you'll have extra cash, in a few short years, for the things you want.
For the ex-soldier's sake, and for your own, buy all the Victory Bonds you can.

GLASS-MAKING COURSE PROVIDES FIRM WORKERS

CORNING, N. Y. (UP)—One of the nation's leading glass centers, this western New York city has developed its own source of manpower for the huge Corning Glass Works—all for five cents a day per future worker.

Three years ago, instruction in glass manufacturing was started for boys at the Corning Free Academy, and since then about 70 per cent of the students taking the course have joined the company in producing glass, first for war and now for peacetime usage.

Under the program, a school glass shop was set up colorfully decorated with student-made murals, depicting industrial scenes and a huge floor map of the United States, showing sources of glass materials and their transportation routes to Corning. Actual glass-working equipment in the shop includes nine metal-sheathed tables, each supplied with glass lamps, glass furnace and all the modern tools of the industry. Also at hand is a portable glass furnace, one of a few in existence, which was produced right in the school shop.

The young glass workers began their instruction with the Phoenicians' discovery of glass centuries ago and its development to date. Along with this study goes blackboard drill on the types of glass and their uses.

Practical training in the fundamentals of rotation, manipulation, file-cutting, flaring, bending and sealing is designed to develop coordination between hand and brain and the extreme manual dexterity needed for glass-making.

The students turn out apparatus for the chemistry classes and, at the same time, become familiar with many of the types of laboratory apparatus which are supplied by Corning Glass Works to 90 per cent of the laboratories in the country.

Glass furnace instruction begins in the winter, and the students soon learn the intense heat of furnace and red molten glass. They must "gather" and "blow" understand the timing necessary between gathering and blowing and the various idiosyncrasies of glass at different temperatures. They also must learn the use of such things as blowpipes, glass scissors and arboards for shaping.

Establishment of the glass school was inspired by an instructor, Rory L. McIntosh, who believes "if the schools will co-operate with industry, industry will help the schools."

The glass works has given McIntosh not only material help but also expert instructors, who teach the young glass students the finer points of glass manipulation. And, partly because of this assistance, cost of operating the glass shop is kept at five cents per day per pupil.
