W. Q. Verner called the meeting to order, briefly stated the purpose for which it was called, and called for those present to state their view. A number responded and the meeting developed into a general discussion of sports in Eastland—past, present and future.

When the election of officers was called for Conrad Reeves was elected president, H. J. Tanner, vice-president, Willy Smith, secretary and Jack Chamberlain, treasurer.

The club will meet again next Tuesday night at which time it is expected that a constitution and set of by-laws will have been drawn up for presentation to the club.

COMMONS TOLD SOVIETS WILL RESPECT IRAN INTEGRITY

By United Press Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin expressed confidence today that Russia will respect Iran's territorial integrity but reports from Tehran indicated Soviet troop movements still are in progress and tension was high.

Bevin told the House of Commons that Generalissimo Stalin and the Soviet government had given "most categorical assurances" that Iran's integrity would be respected and that no aggression against her was contemplated.

He said that Russian policy was difficult to understand in the light of these assurances and "more difficult" to believe that Russia would not live up to her promises, including the withdrawal of troops.

MOSCOW (UP)—Russia has laid down a five-year program for the development of atomic energy, it was revealed today.

Bevin said Britain had no present plan for restoring her garrison to Iran despite the reports of Soviet troop movements.

Reports from Tehran said that Soviet troops had been moving north out of Tabriz, capital of Azerbaijan and that one column had swung west toward the Turkish border. These reports also estimated that the Soviet garrison in Azerbaijan had been doubled in the last month from its original size of 30,000 men.

Premier Ahmad Ghavam who said yesterday he had no official information on the Soviet troop movements today banned all political demonstrations. The move apparently was directed against the Pro-Soviet Tudeh party which had been conducting almost daily demonstrations in the Tehran streets.

In Moscow, London and Washington there was no effort to minimize the gravity of the situation underlined by Generalissimo Stalin's blunt and personal charge that Winston Churchill is seeking to rally Anglo-American forces for war on the Soviet union.

THE WEATHER WEST TEXAS — Partly cloudy this afternoon, tonight and Friday. Showers except in extreme northwest portion Friday.

ST. RITA'S 100 PER CENT IN CONTRIBUTION

Students of St. Rita's Catholic school led Ranger schools today when a 100 per cent contribution from the school was reported to the Red Cross fund drive headquarters.

Mrs. Harry Wallace in charge of the drive in the school reported that a total of $52.33 had been contributed by the students at the school and that every room was 100 per cent contributor.

Mrs. Jewel Green, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, where collections are being turned in, reported that a total of $1,634.19 has been collected and that represents reports from about half of the workers.

Mrs. Joseph M. Perkins, Eastland county chairman of the Red Cross, stated today that Eastland has about $1,600 and that Cisco only started work this week. A few of the smaller communities in the county have reported one hundred per cent over the quota.

College Debates Arousing Much Student Interest

A series of debates being sponsored by the speech classes of Ranger Junior College are creating much interest among the students and live questions are being debated back and forth by the negative and affirmative teams.

First of the debates on the subject of the British Loan which currently is a heated question in Congress, Alvin Johnson and Miss Dorris McCrum won this debate for the affirmative, against Wesley Walker and Robert McCallip who took the negatives.

Next of the debates was on the continuation of the draft law and Misses Bilye Jeanne Crawley and Valerie Leonard won this for the negative side, debating against Misses Myra Sue Lee and Mary Gues, representing the affirmative.

The series will be concluded Friday when Murel Squyres and Louis Croom take the affirmative and Misses Wanda Myrick and Carolyn Ducker take the negative side on whether or not the United States shall have socialized medicine.

The speech classes are under the direction of Miss Rita Austin.

FUNERAL FOR DR. JACKSON STILL PENDING

Funeral services for Dr. W. L. Jackson of Ranger were still pending today awaiting arrival of a son, Albert W. Jackson, who is en route from the Pacific coast by plane and who it was understood today had been grounded enroute. Latest word was that he would arrive the day following that he may reach Ft. Worth early in the morning.

Dr. Jackson died very suddenly at his home early Wednesday morning and a shocked people learned of his death that morning. He had apparently been in the best of health having been about his duties all day Wednesday and until well into the night.

Closely associated with the development of Ranger, through the practice of medicine and church and civic work for the past 27 years, few people in Ranger had as wide a circle of friends as did Dr. Jackson.

Survivors besides the son enroute here are his wife, Mrs. W. L. Jackson of Ranger, two other sons, Walter L. Jackson, with the Marines in China, and Andrew Jackson of Ranger; his mother, Mrs. M. Jackson of Denton; six brothers, Dr. C. L. Jackson of Ranger, Horace Jackson of Pasadena, Homer Jackson, of Irvin, Marvin Jackson of Thalia, Frank Jackson of Pasadena and Luther A. Jackson of Nocona; three sisters, Mrs. John Duggan of Nocona, Mrs. Lehman Hunter of Pasadena and Miss Alma Jackson, a missionary in Brazil.

Betty White Has Part In College Stunt Program

Special to Ranger Times DENTON, Tex. — Miss Betty Lou White, daughter of Mrs. Van O. White of Ranger, participated in the ninth annual all-college Stunt Night program at Texas State College for Women Feb. 28 when the four classes presented skits in competition for the 1946 loving cup. The winning stunt was given by the senior class.

Characterized by intense class rivalry, the stunts are four 20-minute musical skits, written, directed and acted by members of the classes. They are judged on a basis of originality, integration of story and lyrics, music, design in costumes and settings, performance and general effectiveness.

Miss White, a junior occupational therapy student, took part in the junior class stunt "The H. M. S. Applecore."

TEXAS ELECTRIC SERVICE COMPANY TO LOWER RATE

A new and substantial system-wide and voluntary reduction in the rates for electric service to its customers in Ranger and in other cities, towns and rural areas of West Texas will be made by Texas Electric Service Company, A. N. Larson, manager, announced Thursday. The new low rates have been filed with the city and become effective on bills made from meter readings on and after April 1.

"Savings to customers in a 11 areas served by the Company will amount to approximately $1,142,000 a year as a result of this reduction," Larson said. "This reduction in electric rates continues the long established policy of the Company of passing along to its customers the benefits of increased load, savings resulting from technical development in the production and transmission of electricity, operating efficiencies, the benefits from refinancing, and any benefits resulting from the purchase of incidental power from governmental hydro electric projects," Larson stated.

"All residential customers whose bills are above the monthly minimum will benefit. The first step in the Ranger residential rate is cut from 5 cents to 4 cents per kilowatt hour. The next step in the rate has been reduced from 3 cents to 2 1/2 cents per kilowatt hour, and the 2 cent step on the old rate has been reduced to 1 1/2 cents per kilowatt hour. A low rate for the operation of off peak electric water heaters is provided in the new rate. "The savings to customers of Texas Electric Service Company will enable both residential and commercial customers to use many of the new electrical appliances and electrical equipment now coming on the market with little, if any, increase in their electric service bills. Many industries will find themselves better able to meet competition in today's market and to take maximum advantage of the many new processes based on the use of low-cost electricity. "We are proud, after having gone through the war and having carried all the war load without delay, served our customers with no rationing and no increase in price, to be able to make this reduction at a time when reconstruction problems are upon us and when most commodities are services are going up instead of down," Larson concluded.

Lake Hagaman Fishing Permits Now On Sale

Officials of the Ranger Country Club announced today that fishing permits for fishing in Lake Hagaman are now on sale at Vaughn's Home and Auto Supply Store and will be sold for $5.00 for the season. This permit becomes valid April 1 and entitles the purchaser and his family to fish in the lake.

The Country Club has charge of the fishing rights at the Lake and each year offers for sale the fishing permits. It was pointed out that the permits should be carried on the person of fishermen at all times when fishing on the lake.

Fishermen believe that the catch should be good in the lake this year in as much as the lake was stocked with 3,600 bass, channel cat, crappie and brim last season.

Ranger Student Nurses Get Caps On Wednesday

Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Pearsall have returned from Ft. Worth where they attended capping ceremonies at St. Joseph's Hospital where their daughter, Miss Marjorie Pearsall, is in nurses training school. Others from Ranger who received their caps in the ceremonies were Misses Waydene Kelly and Bobbie Ann Buchanan.

The ceremonies were held at 10:30 o'clock in the recreation center of the nurses home with Dr. McVey delivering the address. The ceremony signifies that the students have fulfilled all requirements and have been accepted into nurses training. Students have a nine month course before receiving the caps, and will receive three years training before graduating. Thirty-one young women received their caps in the service Wednesday.

Mrs. Sims, one of the real pioneers of this section, had resided on the same farm in the Jewel community south of Gorman for 70 years. Her husband, the late R. F. Sims, died in 1925.

Richard Cox, Out Of Navy, Here For Visit

Richard Cox who has just received his discharge from service with the Navy arrived Wednesday for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Cox.

By United Press Two of the nations longest and largest labor disputes, involving 276,000 workers, were settled today except for the formality of rank and file acceptance of the proposed contracts.

Agreements to end the two strikes — the CIO Auto Workers against General Motors and the CIO Electrical Workers' walkout against the General Electric Co. — were reached on the basis of wage increases of 18 1/2 cents an hour.

Navy Plane Blacks Out Los Angeles

The dotted line shows the path of a wrecked Navy pursuit plane in the foreground which crashed into Boulder Dam power lines cutting off the power to Los Angeles, Calif. for nearly 20 minutes. The pilot, who was killed, was tentatively identified as Ensign Joseph C. Bryant of Pomona, Calif. (NEA Telephoto).

CONSERVATION DISTRICT HITS COVER CROP HIGH

More acreage of winter crops of vetch, Austrian winter peas, and aburazi rye have been planted in the Palo Pinto Soil Conservation District this year than ever before, according to Leslie Hagaman, chairman of the Board of Supervisors.

"The fact that the large acreage has been planted does not mean that the maximum benefit will be received because of the mere fact that they have grown of the land during the winter months. To receive the maximum benefits," Hagaman continued, "the protection from wind erosion and a cover on the land during the heavy spring rains, with a larger addition of organic matter, plus nitrogen, it will be necessary to take livestock off of the crop by March 10. By discontinuing the grazing of the cover crop on this date will allow from six weeks to two months growing that will give a good growth on most soils."

The best methods of applying the green manure crop to the soil is by chopping the residue into the top three inches with a disc harrow or one-way plow. If a large amount of green matter is turned under deep where the air cannot get to it, the time required for decomposition is lengthened more especially on the tighter soils.

FORD SHOWS THE WAY

At long last the thing for which all of us would-be consumers have been wishing and waiting has happened. Common sense and the American spirit of understanding compromise have entered the blood-spattered arena of current economic controversy.

The auspicious debut was made in Detroit, where officials of the Ford Motor Company and of the CIO's United Automobile Workers got together, calmly talked over their differences in an atmosphere of co-operative honesty rather than in that of the recriminating super-sensitivity which has marked so many labor-management conferences.

The company agreed to an 18-cent per hour wage increase, retroactive to January 5, and to a full-time grievance - investigating status for factory union representatives. The union agreed to prevent illegal work-stoppages and to sanction discharge of trouble-making or inefficient workers.

Elsewhere the picture remains diametrically different. Just how sadly different was revealed with the release, at almost the same time, of preliminary estimates of the Bureau of Labor Statistics covering the month of January.

The record shows that during that one month there were approximately 500 strikes, involving a "grand" total of 1,750,000 employes and producing an all-time high (or, more appropriately, low) of 19,200,000 man-days lost. It does not show the infinite human suffering inevitably involved.

That is the inescapable story of American industrial civilization in this Year of Our Lord 1946. That is the record compiled by human irascibility, by human recalcitrance, by human folly.

And yet in an American city, capital of the automotive industry, in that same period, representatives of the same warring factions, faced with the same problems and exposed to the same explosive elements, met and arrived at an amicable and mutually satisfactory solution.

The path has been charted.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

By Peter Edson, NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(NEA)—Most amazing follow-up to the resignation of Harold Ickes has been the rise of Congressman Frank W. Boykin of Alabama as a congressionally backed candidate for the job of Secretary of Interior.

When Boykin's name was first mentioned, the tendency was to laugh it off. Yet 11 senators and 154 southern congressmen petitioned the President to name the fabulous Boykin to his cabinet. Feb. 21 was Boykin's 51st birthday and on that day all his pockets and the tops of two desks in his trophy-filled office were littered with telegrams endorsing him for the job. They came from 20 states.

How did he get that way? Boykin is Mr. Five-Foot-Five. His signature is five inches high. He has five children. He sleeps only five hours a night. He gets up at 5 a. m.—to start the sawmill and go "turkey shooting".

He measures 50 inches around the chest and you can use your imagination about his waistline. He weighs around 300, and it's all honey. Imprinted in letters of gold on the inside of his handkerchief is the inscription, "Everything Is Made for Love." Every woman is "honey" or "sugar" or "darling" to him on sight.

NEEDLESS to say, he's a millionaire and then some. He owns 136,000 acres of Alabama timber and farm land. Twenty thousand acres are surrounded by miles of fence. His livestock includes 2000 head of cattle and hogs. On his game preserve are wild turkeys, bobcats, coons and lesser game, plus a few foxes and bears. Two of his brothers now run the place.

At Chicago, in 1944, when Byrnes was counted out as a vice-presidential candidate, Boykin claims he rallied support behind Senator John Hantke and got him 90 votes. Then at the crucial moment, Boykin claims he led the switch to Truman. That would make Truman his political debtor. Boykin is chairman of the House Committee on Patents. He says Henry Wallace and some of the other liberals around here want to do away with the U. S. patent system. Boykin is against patent law reform. Patent lawyers all over the country are strong for Boykin.

When the tideland oil issue came up, Boykin lined up with the state attorneys general who are fighting federal acquisition of oil and mineral rights below navigable streams and on the continental shelf. Ickes has opposed the House-passed bill giving these rights to the states, believing title should first be determined by federal courts. Boykin's leadership in the movement against Ickes makes Boykin the white-haired boy with states'-rights and private oil interests wanting to exploit these under-water areas.

Boykin takes credit for getting OPA to increase ceiling prices on lumber. That won him support from southern lumbermen. Boykin claims that his voting record is strictly conservative. He was for Bretton Woods as "good business" but he is against UNRRA, FEPC, full employment, repeal of the poll tax. With this record behind him, it is obvious that Boykin in the Department of Interior would wing the Ickes New Deal policies way over to the reactionary side.

PICKS ON POLICE CHIEF

YUMA, Ariz. (UP)—Chief of Police Harold Breech contemplated an intensified drive against car thieves today. Someone stole his 1939 Buick coupe from in front of the police department, drove it to Holtville, Cal., and left it parked in front of a station there. The thief got away.

A Good Day's Work, Men!

STYLE CLASH IRKS THEM JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UP)— Sailors at the Naval Air Station here have one very decided opinion on the proposed new uniform for Navy enlisted men. They don't like the idea of wearing the traditional white hat with a shirt and tie copied from civilian

XVI JUST then Dr. Lacey came noisily down the stairs. His eyes were burning. "She was trying to reach the phone to call me," he said. "I got that much from her." Mrs. Kittridge flinched back from the anger in his face. "Why in heaven's name wasn't I called hours ago? You must have realized the importance of it."

THAYER lay in the big bed, her gaze wandering about the room. This had been her room for months yet nothing looked as it once had; nothing was the same. In this room she had waited, in it she had hoped; in it she had known complete despair. Dr. Lacey, for all his skill, had been unable to save the growing child within her. Always she would know regret and tenderness for the nameless son who might have been.

CORINNE KITTRIDGE sat in her room amid the ruin she had pulled down upon herself. The old pain was dug in her chest, but a deeper pain was in her heart. She had wronged them both—Brock and Thayer. She had meddled with a terrible consequence to them all. Hildreth had put it into unforgettable words of harsh pity. "I'm sorry for you, Corinne, because after all most of what you did was stupidity, and Life is somehow kinder to the sinners than to the fools."

SPORTS

By HARRY GRAYSON, NEA Sports Editor

SELECTION of Joe Lapchick as coach of the eastern college All-Star basketball squad was a happy one—though the western aggregation they are to face March 30 in the East-West game at Madison Square Garden may dissent from this opinion. Especially if Joe's game wallops the westerners, who will be under the direction of Harold C. (Oley) Olsen.

From now until after March 30, Joe and Oley will be friendly enemies. The Brooklyn St. John's basketball mentor, now 45, has long been recognized as one of the outstanding teachers of the game for 10 years the six-foot, six-inch Lapchick played center for the annual Original Celtics, was teammate of such stars as Nat Holman, Dutch Dehnert, Pete Derry and Davey Banks. As player or coach, Joe has been associated with the game for more than 25 years.

Lapchick came to St. John's in 1935 and in nine years before this season his team won 138 games and lost 25. In 1942 and '43, four of those nine years the Brooklyn Indians were generally conceded to be the metropolitan champions.

Olsen, a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, is concluding his 24th consecutive season as coach of the Buckeyes. He went to Ohio State from Ripon College, where he coached three championship basketball teams and two title-winning football teams in the Wisconsin Collegiate Conference. His teams at Columbus have won three undisputed Big Ten titles and shared in another. They finished second to Iowa last year and are now locked in another close struggle with the Hawkeyes.

Under Olsen's direction Ohio State participated in three N. C. A. A. tournaments, the last a year ago when it lost in a great overtime rally to New York U. in the East-West final.

Oley, chairman of the N. C. A. A. basketball rules committee, was awarded the Coaches' trophy last year in recognition of his long service and as the man who, in the opinion of the coaches' association, had given outstanding service to the sport.

Each coach will select 10 players, and the game will settle the question of supremacy between East and West, for this year at least.

should be kept and what discarded. Many weapons become obsolete so fast they are not worth keeping.

For example, two years ago airborne tanks were a top secret. Now they are outdated, and the storage space they occupy will be given over to newer and more essential items.

All the weapons and equipment have been preserved against the ravages of time and can be put into service on short notice. There is so much bulk, a half dozen other buildings could be used.

Material continues to arrive here in great quantities. Eighty carloads were received during a recent 24-hour period from all theaters of operation.

From Where We Sit and Observe—
 . . . it is apparent that there is a growing interest on the part of many people in land titles. Every day we have folks in the office who are interested in buying a place but seem to be more interested in the title. This is a healthy sign. They are on the right track. For, after all, it's the title, not so much the location or the nature of the improvements, that determines the value of all real estate.

SUPPLIES of canned chicken and turkey are looking homeward. For civilian use they are more plentiful now than at any time since the beginning of the war. Poultry processing plants were greatly expanded to meet wartime needs of canned chicken soup and poultry. Our GI boys liked them—so much so, that for a period of about seven months last year, 100 per cent of the output went to the military. But the Army has been out of the market for processed poultry products since August, 1945, and since then all output has been going to civilian markets. Right now our storage holdings of chicken and turkey are the highest in history. So we can get all the canned poultry meat we have the money to pay for during the next few months.

Non-Sticking Rice

Open a package of rice, turn into 1½ cups boiling water, add salt, bring water back to boil, cover securely, remove from heat, stand ten minutes—that's all—then serve hot, fluffy, steaming rice—each kernel separate and not one sticking to the pot. Sounds like an over-worked housewife's dream—but it's true—the latest kitchen magic on the market. Processed by a large food company, this amazing "pre-cooked non-sticking rice" is now being sold only in test markets of Philadelphia and Atlanta. However, it will soon make life easier for homemakers all over the U. S. A.

Malva Improves Diet

An extended nutritional research program to promote the

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

FOR meatless Lenten meals, eggs are of first importance. Not only tasty, but from the nutrition standpoint, eggs are one of the most valuable of all foods. The white is almost a pure water solution of protein. The yolk is a combination of many food substances. Although the egg yolk contains proteins of very high quality, its chief value lies in its rich store of minerals and vitamins. It contains iron, calcium and phosphorus, and, what is even more important, these minerals are in a form easily adapted to changing into body tissues. The iron in egg yolk is of special help in building rich, red blood. The egg yolk ranks high in vitamin "A" which promotes growth; also furnishes us with vitamin "D" the sunshine vitamin which prevents and cures rickets in children. Egg yolk is the diet of infants is especially important. Eggs are highly perishable and must be kept under refrigeration and away from strong odors and excessive moisture until ready for use. Your dealer should be discouraged from the practice of displaying eggs on the counter of a heated store instead of keeping them in a cool place. Use good recipes for egg dishes.

Scrambled Eggs with Finnan Haddie
Four eggs, 4 tablespoons milk,

BREAKFAST: Sliced bananas with ready-to-eat cereal, crisp bacon, raisin muffins, butter or fortified margarine, coffee, milk.
LUNCHEON: Spaghetti and cheese with tomato sauce, apple and cabbage salad, French bread, fruit bowl, tea, milk.
DINNER: Meat and vegetable pie, pastry top, quick-steamed rice, mixed green salad, French dressing, rolls, butter or fortified margarine, cut fruit, sponge cake, coffee, milk.

health and well-being of our fellow Americans of the Caribbean area was announced.

Instead of undertaking to provide the inhabitants of tropical countries with more milk, more butter, and more eggs, all of which are either difficult or impossible to produce in the tropics, it is now believed possible to develop in each country a diet which is easy to produce, and which may supply the necessary food-values for adequate human nutrition.

Over the centuries the aboriginal inhabitants of the Mexican highlands, by a process of trial and error, have learned to utilize in their diet native plants of unusual value, particularly one wild plant, malva, which contains vitamins in unusual variety and quantities. While not a particularly tasty herb, malva meets a diet deficiency otherwise hard to fill. It is hoped other plants might be found in Middle America which have unusual dietetic value.

BREAKFAST: Tomato and lemon juice, cooked cereal, hot cross buns, butter or fortified margarine, coffee, milk.
LUNCHEON: Scrambled eggs with Finnan haddie, cole slaw, rye bread, butter or fortified margarine, grapefruit on half shell, tea, milk.
DINNER: Rice tomato soup, crackers, corn souffle, sliced bologna or crisp bacon, bowl of greens and raw vegetable salad, French dressing, hard rolls, butter or fortified margarine, strawberry jam tarts, coffee, milk.

pepper, 4 tablespoons butter or substitute, 1 cup flaked Finnan haddie, fresh cooked or canned, buttered toast, paprika or minced parsley.

Beat eggs, yolks and whites together, until just thoroughly blended, adding milk and seasoning with pepper only (no salt). Melt and heat half of the butter and cook as directed for scrambled eggs. Meanwhile heat Finnan haddie in remaining butter. As eggs begin to set, combine the two mixtures and complete the cooking. Serve on toast, dusting with paprika or minced parsley.

MEATLESS dishes for Lent will often surprise the family with their rich flavor and satisfying consistency. Try cottage cheese with baked potatoes. To the cheese, add a little minced onion or chopped chives, salt, pepper, mayonnaise and enough milk or cream to bring to a creamy consistency. Mix well. Put a large serving of this cold cheese on the dinner plate with the baked potato and vegetables. You'll be delighted with the result.

Baked Tomatoes with Mushrooms (Serves 6)

Six slices bread, lightly toasted, 4 tablespoons of melted butter or fortified margarine, 6 whole firm tomatoes, 18 whole mushrooms, 1 small onion, finely chopped, 1 green pepper, finely chopped, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper.

Cut the bread into large rounds and spread with half the melted butter or margarine; arrange in a well-greased two-quart heat resistant glass utility dish. Wash the whole tomatoes and slice off the stem ends. Place a tomato on each round of toast. Place 3 whole mushrooms on the top of each tomato. Put the chopped onion, one-half the chopped green pepper in remainder of melted butter or margarine, add salt and pepper and cook until onion and green

BREAKFAST: Stewed prunes, ready-to-eat whole grain cereal, hot cross buns, butter or fortified margarine, coffee, milk.
LUNCHEON: Tomato juice, prepared cottage cheese, baked potatoes, whole wheat rolls, butter or fortified margarine, sliced oranges, tea, milk.
DINNER: Scrambled eggs, baked tomatoes with mushrooms, parsley boiled potatoes, enriched bread, butter or fortified margarine, baked ginger pears, peanut cookies, coffee, milk.

pepper are tender, stirring occasionally. Pour the onion and green pepper mixture over the tomatoes and mushrooms. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for about 30 minutes. Garnish with the other half of the chopped green pepper, sprinkling it over the top.

Another good meatless main dish consists of a baked potato scooped out, mashed and then stuffed in the shell. Make an indentation—place a raw egg in the pocket, sprinkle with salt, pepper and a little grated cheese. Return to hot oven until egg is set and cheese melted.

Goering Sought Long Range Plane To Attack U. S.

SUGGESTS REFRESHER COURSE IN CRIMINAL LAW FOR ATTORNEYS

AUSTIN, Tex., (UP) — If you take the trouble to look through the law reports of the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals you likely will reach the conclusion that the University of Texas could do the state a service by a refresher course in criminal law for district and county attorneys.

The prosecutors are elected — for practical purposes — in the mid summer Democratic primary elections. When there are changes, the new prosecutor goes into office January 1 after the November election.

A prosecutor's course could be given in the fall semester at the University Law School and save the state many a retrial. A lawyer need not feel that it would be a reflection upon him to take the course or to promise to do so if elected. Many of the best lawyers confess a frank ignorance of criminal law and refuse to handle criminal cases.

The unimportance attached to criminal law in the profession is reflected in the college courses not only at the University of Texas but elsewhere.

At the University of Texas a course in criminal law is taught in the second year of the three years. Some of the leading universities teach criminal law only as a first year course and then forget it.

Take the Chesley Gragg case at Dallas as an example. A death sentence was reversed in that case for a faulty indictment and on retrial the prosecution referred to the jurors the previous death sentence — an error which the defense promptly made grounds for asking a retrial in case of conviction. There was a hung jury so that point will not be utilized. The Gragg case has centered attention on criminal law more perhaps than any other recent case in the state. It gained nationwide prominence on the inaccurate report that the Court of Criminal Appeals had reversed it because a drowning in water rather than in coffee, tea, milk, or wine. That point was raised by a defense attorney and commented on by one of the judges but was not the deciding point, judges say.

Case after case in Texas has been reversed because the prosecutor commented directly or indirectly on the failure of the defendant to testify. A frequent cause of reversal is found in inflammatory remarks made by a prosecutor in his argument, or in statements going out-suggested construction of a bomber able to fly to the United States and back. He said he wanted it "in event America should enter a war against Germany, and so I could reach the American armaments industry."

NOW SHE SHOPS "CASH AND CARRY" Without Painful Backache

Many doctors believe nagging backache is due to kidney trouble. The real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 2 quarts a day. When disorder of kidney function permits poisons to remain in your blood, it may mean nagging backache, rheumatism, uric acid, gout, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent urination, passage with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a standard domestic, and successfully be relieved for ever. Doan's Pills have helped millions and will help the 12 million of kidney trouble that out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

side the record of the case. Some of these are so glaring that they raise the suspicion that maybe the prosecutor was more interested in getting a conviction in the trial court than in seeing that the defendant was convicted in a way that would stick.

Criminal law may have too many technicalities. If so, there is the more reason for District and County Attorneys to study it carefully.

A few years ago many cases failed because of faults of officers in gathering evidence. Marked improvement has been observed since the State Safety Department began conducting schools for officers.

Now leading police officials participate in the conferences. There is a marked reduction, too, in the number of cases that are thrown out of court because of alleged forced confessions.

There was a period when few sessions of the Court of Criminal Appeals were held without some question about admissibility of an alleged confession being raised. Improved crime detection methods now are relied upon mostly for evidence.

Man Treasures Letter Signed By Late General

TEXARKANA, Tex., (UP) — Edwin E. Morrow, postal employe, has a letter signed by the late Gen. George S. Patton.

Morrow, who served under "Old Blood and Guts" in World War I, had it filed with some old papers, and just happened to run across it today. It was issued by Patton during the first war.

Morrow is one fellow who "put it over" on Patton, he says as he reminisces over experiences in that war.

It seems that Patton was commanding a tank outfit that didn't have any tanks, and saw just a little action later on with British tanks.

Upon landing in France, Morrow, a tall, lanky fellow, was billeted with a receiving battalion.

Growing lonely with no entertainment Morrow with other fellows of his group decided — despite restrictions — to go to a service canteen sponsored by the Salvation Army.

And in walked Patton. He noticed their insignia and knew they were restricted.

"Oh, brother, did he ever blow up," said Morrow.

"He ordered us outside the building, lined us up and really ate us out."

"Late, he placed a sergeant in charge and ordered us marched back to the camp."

"But he didn't get anybody's name, and didn't remember what we looked like the next day, except that one of us was quite tall."

"He questioned one tall fellow the next day, but it wasn't me."

"The whole thing blew over later, and I served with Patton being assigned to his tank outfit later."

"The letter, signed by Patton, is for a promotion. He was a colonel at that time."

Morrow, who has been with the postal railway service for more than 20 years, is superintendent of a Sunday school in a large church here.

HISTORY St. Patrick's Day

ST. PATRICK'S DAY, March 17: The anniversary of the death of St. Patrick, March 17, 493, has been celebrated in this country since its beginning. The first celebrations in the United States were held by the Church and later by the American Irish Society of Boston which was founded in 1797. This was followed by celebrations by other Irish societies. The usual type of celebration consisted of parades followed by dinner and music and speeches. St. Patrick was born at Kilpatrick, near Drumahaire, Scotland in 387. His father was a Roman citizen of high rank who was stationed at that time in Gaul or Britain. At the age of sixteen, young Patrick was captured by Irish marauders and sold as a slave to one of the chiefs. He remained in servitude six years when he escaped and fled in a ship to the west coast of Ireland. A short time later he reached Britain. He had decided to devote his life to religious work and made his way to the monastery of St. Martin at Tours.

He remained on the continent for eighteen years during which time he prepared himself for religious work. He was commissioned by the Pope to work in Ireland. The Druids resented his coming and took him prisoner. Escaping he went to his old master and purchased his freedom, and, it is said, converted the old man and his family to Christianity. He spent many years preaching and teaching in Ireland. He built churches, organized parishes. He was taken prisoner many times by the Druids and narrowly escaped death. His death occurred March 17, 493. . . .

NEWS FROM Gorman (By Special Correspondent)
Gorman, March 14.—Under plans made by the City of Gorman with the Texas Electric Service Company, the Texas Electric will, in the near future, install as many as 21 450-watt mercury lights along the streets in the business section. This new type of bulb, it is claimed, gives a better light and without creating a glare. Other types of lights will be placed on residential streets.
The senior class of Gorman High School is planning an extended trip for the entire class in the near future. The proposed trip is to be paid from funds the class is accumulating from the sale of greeting cards, and from the sponsorship of other projects. On the night of March 22, the class will sponsor Raymond Sheets, a magician, at the High School gym.
Around 175 boxes have been signed for in the proposed lockup plant for Gorman. It is understood that before construction on the plant will be started, 300 boxes must have been rented.
Mr. and Mrs. James Blair of Gorman recently celebrated their 67th wedding anniversary.
Miss Gerry Walker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Walker of Gorman, has arrived home after spending 20 months with the Red Cross. Much of this time was spent in the European theatre of operations.
Mrs. T. L. Gates has been critically ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Homer Prehsford, in Dallas.

The new, low rates become effective April 1, 1946. While the benefits of these new, low prices are widespread among customers served by the Texas Electric Service Company, wherever located, they benefit most the small and medium users of residential, commercial, industrial and rural service.
This latest rate reduction continues the Company's policy of passing on to you the savings resulting from increased sales, technical improvements, operating efficiencies, the benefits of re-financing . . . and, such benefits as may result from the purchase of incidental power from governmental hydro electric projects in the area. Thus do you benefit directly from the know-how and the fair play of a business-managed, free enterprise.

This rate reduction . . . this lowering of prices . . . comes at a time when the trend in the cost of living is upward. And, at a time when public interest is keenly centered upon what is new in electrical appliances for the home, electrical devices and processes for business and industry. With the new and bigger buying power given the Electric Dollar by this latest rate reduction . . . you can enjoy the fullest benefits of electrical living at the new low prices.
You are sharing in the total annual savings in the amount of $1,142,000 . . . spend those savings for more cheap electricity . . . gain the maximum benefits for you and your family from lower prices for your electric service.

Trapp Family To Be Heard Tonite

The third and last in a series of musical concerts, sponsored by the Eastland County Community Council Association, will be given in the Eastland High School auditorium, Thursday night at 8:00 when the famous Trapp Family Singers are presenting...

A young Catholic priest who is at the same time a gifted singer, composer, conductor and performer on such ancient instruments as the spinet, recorder and viol da gamba is the musical director of the famous Trapp Family Singers. He is the Reverend Father Franz Wagner, holder of Doctorates in Philosophy and Theology as well as a master musician, and he travels around the world with the Trapp and Harmon von Trapp and their ten gifted children on a special dispensation from his bishop, not only to conduct the concert programs, but to serve as the family's spiritual mentor, celebrating mass for them each morning wherever they may be.

It is Dr. Wasson, too, who has transcribed for this unique family chorus much rarely heard church and folk music of many lands and, most recently, even such popular American folk airs as "My Old Kentucky Home," "Home on the Range," and "Old Black Joe."

An Austrian by birth, Father Wagner, on completion of his theological studies, went to Rome for further work on Jus Canonium and for three years held the post of organist at the Austrian National church in Rome, Santa Maria dell'Anima. On his return to Austria, he was appointed as a teacher of Gregorian chant in the Seminary of Gregorian chant in Salzburg diocese, and it was from there that he journeyed out one Sunday in the home of the Trapp Family to serve as a substitute when their own resident priest was unable to conduct the services.

"He has been our town character for some years now," Mayor Arthur Aitkenhead said.

"He is very gentle and is loved by everybody. He visits the theater, the schools and the churches. He carts the smaller children around on his back. Anyway you look at it, he is a most unusual dog."

Butch, whose six-foot frame is big enough to block an ordinary sidewalk, has a home, but seldom bothers to stay there. He is the property of J. Norris Miller, owner of an estate and a relative of former Gov. Nathan L. Miller.

Eric Krabel, editor of the Glen Cove Echo, sometimes gives Butch more space in his column than he does the doings of the scions of Long Island's first families.

"Sometimes when Butch gets tired of the town he goes down to the depot and boards a train and rides down to Oyster Bay," Krabel said.

"Of course, he hasn't any ticket or anything, but the trainmen know him and he's never put off. When he's ready he hops another train and comes back."

Townpeople remember what was perhaps Butch's most famous exploit two years ago.

Early one morning someone heard a commotion in the depot and told police they heard robbers inside.

Follee surrounded the depot. They tried to open the door, but it slammed back at them. One got a tommy gun and covered the door while the others prepared to rush it.

"Put your hands up and come out or we'll shoot," they ordered. They rushed the door.

Out came Butch. He had been locked in by accident.
