28TH YEAR

RANGER, TEXAS, SUNDAY, MAY 18, 1947

PRICE FIVE CENTS No. 282

American Press Aroused By Bevin Attack

Well... I Dunno, But...

Monday is to be a big day for Ranger High School seniors. They leave Monday morning for the annual senior trip which this year will be to Galveston. Those that will make the trip have chartered a bus and my, the fun they'll have on that trip. Reservations have been made at the Galvez Hotel and the group will be accompanied by Coach Onis Warden and Mrs. Hamie Ruth Hamrick. It's a three day deal with the group returning to Ranger Wednesday.

Members of the Rotary Club, the 1920 Club and the Chamber of Commerce have done a fine thing for six to-be lucky students. Each group has purchased two memberships in the Eastland County Community Concert Association which they will present to scholarship students.

This is certainly a commendable effort and will encourage the love of music in the community. More of such would be a fine thing and would be welcomed by the association.

While we're on the subject of music, we hear with much pleasure that the First Methodist church of Ranger has purchased and soon will install a Wurlitzer pipe organ.

To our way of thinking there's nothing that adds more to a church service than organ music. There's something quieting and soothing in organ music, something that puts one in the proper mood to listen to a good sermon. A committee composed of David D. Pickrell, Arthur DeFebach, J. Floyd Killingsworth, Price Crawley and Rev. Claud P. Jones, engineered the purchase of the organ and preparations are already underway for the installation.

More music—don't forget the concert that's to be given Sunday night at 8:00 o'clock at the Recreation building. It'll not only be a good program but you'll be given an opportunity to contribute to the united relief fund in Ranger.

That long awaited moment has arrived. We've got telephone service again. But you know, we've become so used to silence of the telephone bell that it's almost annoying to hear it ring and every time we reach for the phone, we do it with a half apologetic attitude, the same as when the strike was on and we felt sorry for the three people that were carrying on for Ranger.

We have an idea, too, that the workers are glad to be back on the bread and butter end of the deal again.

People, Saturday morning, were a little doubtful about the news of the end of the strike being authentic, due to the fact that at least one false report had been circulated that it was over.

The Ranger Livestock Commission Company, recently purchased by P. T. Smith and George Campbell, did a landslide business at the weekly sale Thursday with a record sale of $29,000 worth of livestock.

Those sales draw people from all over the country and are bringing lots of money into Ranger. Besides that they help to put Ranger on the map as a livestock center which it is rapidly becoming. Ranchers are getting to be almost as thick around here as oil men used to be.

Gets Stolen Car Back With Repairs

COLUMBUS, O. (UP)—L. M. of Huntington, W. Va., is pleased because someone stole his automobile. It has been returned to him in better condition than when it was stolen.

Police reported that Lintz's car was stolen here six weeks ago and the thief had made improvements on the car which raised its value at least $300.

The improvements include mechanical repair work, a new paint job, new seat covers and a new chrome trim.

PHONE WAGE BOOST SAID TO BE $4.42

ST. LOUIS (UP)—The Southwestern Bell Telephone strike involving 35,000 workers in five states was settled early today.

Everett E. Cotter, general counsel for the Southwestern Telephone Workers Union, said the settlement includes wage increases averaging $4.32 per week. Settlement of the 35-day strike was reached after several hours of continuous negotiations lasting into the early hours of the morning. Telephone strikes in most other sections of the nation already had been settled.

Cotter said the terms of the settlement were "the most satisfactory reached by any union in bargaining with companies of the Bell system." He said the new contract will provide "flat, across the board increases of $4 per week in basic wages, with increases of 42 cents per week in fringe items."

Company spokesmen, however, said that starting wages had been raised in some instances only $2 or $3 weekly.

TRUMAN FLIES TO BEDSIDE OF ILL MOTHER

GRANDVIEW, Mo.—President Truman, flying home to be at the bedside of his critically ill mother, landed at Grandview airport shortly before noon today as a tornado was sighted about 25 miles away.

The weather was bad as Mr. Truman's plane landed. Lightning flashed in the low hanging clouds and thunder cracked as he stepped into the rain, hurried a few feet to his motorcar and then was driven quickly to his mother's bedside.

Meanwhile, the Olathe Naval Air Station tower, about 25 miles southwest in Kansas, reported a few minutes before Mr. Truman's plane landed, that a tornado funnel was sighted in that vicinity. It was moving eastward, in the direction of Grandview.

A formal tornado warning also was issued by the Kansas City weather bureau. At that time, rapidly quickening wind and heavy rain was lashing the Grandview airport.

The weather bureau, an hour after the tornado was sighted near Olathe, Kansas, reported it had no further word of the funnel and that it apparently either had dissipated or had by-passed Grandview.

Mother Truman was in critical condition after taking a turn for the worse at 2 A.M. CST. Her family physician said the deterioration had set in rapidly.

"Complications have set in," the physician, Dr. Joseph W. Greene, reported. "She suddenly went into chills and general debility."

Dr. Greene said Mrs. Martha E. Truman, 94, was in good condition yesterday morning.

Outside the little yellow bungalow home of the President's mother, Brig. Gen. Wallace Graham, the President's personal physician, said too that her condition was critical.

Graham has been here since last Friday, when he flew from Randolph Field on receipt of word that Mother Truman had suffered a setback. The President came home for Mother's Day. He spent three hours with her and mother and son had a "lively chat." Her condition was much better that day.

Advised of his mother's critical turn this morning, Mr. Truman hurried to the airport in Washington and took off for Grandview at 6:45 A.M. CST.

Class For Water Works Employees To Be Conducted

Beginning Monday evening at 8:00 o'clock a school for water works personnel of this district will be held at the city hall in Comanche.

Classes will be Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings for three consecutive weeks and will be conducted by Johnnie Williams, itinerant instructor from Texas A&M College.

Texas law requires that operators of water works be licensed and those who attend the school at Comanche will be given 20 hours credit which will entitle them to take the examination for the license.

M. H. Alexander of Ranger city water works will attend the school.

Directors Of C. of C. To Meet Tuesday Night

The regular meeting of the board of directors of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce will be held Tuesday night at 8:00 o'clock at the manager's office.

RANGER PHONE WORKERS BACK ON THEIR JOBS

Twenty striking telephone workers in Ranger went back to work Saturday morning after it was officially announced that an agreement had been reached between telephone company officials and union officials.

Since April 7 the workers had been on strike and local service had been carried on by Mrs. Sylvia Neal, Miss Lillie Sheppard and W. W. Gilley, the latter from Cleburne, and all listed as supervisors with the company.

In speaking of the end of the strike this morning, officials of the company made the following statement.

"We are glad the telephone strike is over. We realize the serious inconvenience the strike has been to the public and we greatly appreciate their understanding and cooperation. We welcome the return of our employees.

We will use all possible efforts to restore telephone service to normal as quickly as possible."

Wallace Gives Reasons For His Fear Of War

AUSTIN—Henry Wallace said today he was "afraid" of war between the United States and Russia not because either of the nations want it, but because of certain groups "whose fundamental idea is war between the United States and Russia."

Wallace mentioned specifically "Serbs" who might "place a mine on an American warship in the Dardanelles," as a war threat.

"With the present feeling that might cause a war," Wallace told newsmen, "I am also afraid of a tendency to build up extremes throughout the world."

He referred to the Truman doctrine of $400,000,000 aid to Greece and Turkey, which Wallace has denounced repeatedly in an international "peace" tour.

May To Resume Testimony At Trial Monday

WASHINGTON—Former Congressman Andrew J. May sought seclusion in his hotel room today, preparatory to resuming his testimony at the war frauds and bribery trial.

May was to return to the stand Monday to continue his story that everything he did for Murray and Henry M. Garson was "in line of duty" as chairman of the House military affairs committee and in the interest of winning the war.

The former Kentucky representative was expected to consume at least another day answering the government's contention that he received more than $50,000 in bribes for helping the Garsons obtain war contracts and other favors.

Airline Pilots Appoint Crash Representatives

CHICAGO (UP)—One of the first persons to reach the scene of an air line crash here was a pilot carrying a little red and white card reading: "Official Crash Representative—Air Line Pilots Association."

The association has 70 such crash representatives, according to David L. Behneke, president. They are located regionally coast to coast.

It is the duty of the crash representative to reach the scene of an accident as quickly as possible, make a study of it and try to determine the cause. Subsequently, he attends hearings held by the civil aeronautics board.

Ushers at the concert will be eight members of the Sub-Deb club and are as follows: Anita Carlin, LaNita Creager, Melba Creager, Barbara Wylie, Nancy Phillips, Patsy Wallace, Jane Hardy, and Joyce Cole.

Following is the program which will be presented: Quartet Op. 33, No. 3—Haydn; Allegro; Moderato; Scherzando; Adagio; Rondo, Presto; by Varina Powell—1st violin, Rosemary Bruce—2nd violin, Bernice Lebowitz—viola, Marjorie Meacham—violinella.

Jaycees Urged To Attend Meeting Monday

The regular meeting of the Ranger Junior Chamber of Commerce will be held Monday night at 8:00 o'clock in the Blue Room of the Gholson Hotel and it is urged that members be present.

Important matters are to be discussed at the meeting and plans completed for the painting of the buildings and grandstand at the rodeo arena.

BREAKS RECORD MIAMI (UP)—Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker's Lockheed Constellation smashed the west-east cross-country flight record to Miami-Fla., today, settling on the Miami runway at 11:01 A.M. CST, six hours, 55 minutes and 51 2-5 seconds after taking off from Burbank, Calif.

FEAR MOVE TO SHROUD BIG FOUR MEETINGS IN SECRECY

WASHINGTON—British Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin's savage attack on the United States press was viewed in many quarters today as forewarning of a British campaign to return the Big Four sessions of the council of foreign ministers to secret diplomacy.

His charge that the United States press "full coverage" of the recent Moscow conference was primarily to blame for the failure fell on unsympathetic ears here.

Bevin asked for the wrath of the American press and American officialdom, and it was forthcoming at once. Nat Howard, president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, said Bevin "doesn't clearly understand the tradition of the freedom of information." If he did, Howard said, he would not have made such a proposition.

Secretary of State George C. Marshall did not comment immediately, but he can be expected to repudiate the Bevin thesis as well as his proposal that the council revert to the unsuccessful system of telling the world only what can be agreed upon in a formal communication.

If Bevin's proposal had been followed in Moscow—announcing in a communique only agreements—there would have been no official news of the conference because no major agreements were reached.

Republican Leader Guest Of Houston Men

HOUSTON—Joseph W. Martin, Jr., speaker of the House of Representatives, was visiting the Democratic Lone Star State today "to show Texans that we Republicans are not so bad as we've been painted."

The Massachusetts congressman, speaker of the first Republican-dominated Congress in about 16 years, came to Houston as the guest of H. R. Cullen and H. J. Porter, both independent oil men.

Looking to the 1948 political arena, Martin said "I've never thought of myself as a presidential candidate" when he was questioned about his possible White House ambitions.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(NEA)—It all depends on who says what—when and where and how. For instance:
The other day a fellow who used to be considered pretty important got up and said, "High prices of today are more dangerous to free enterprise than the Communist Party of the U. S. has ever been."

Edson

It wasn't Henry Wallace who said this from a soap box in Europe. But suppose it had been. The cries of anguish that would have arisen from Republican leaders, the NAM, and other similar minded parties would have been enough to drown the neighbors' radio. It would have been denounced as New Dealism or pro-labor, left wing propaganda intended to destroy the free enterprise system.

It may come as a shock, therefore, to know that the quote above came from good old conservative Alf Landon, addressing the Republican National Committee at Kansas City.

It was Governor Landon, of course, who led the Republican Party in the worst licking it ever got. Therefore, he speaks as an authority on what it takes to beat the GOP. At the Kansas City meeting of the party bosses he showed no restraint in giving them several pieces of his mind. Among other notable quotes was:

"Congressional authority over tariff rates and excess profits—which it should not hesitate to use by drastically lowering the first and taxing the second, if necessary—is a powerful weapon to encourage industrial and labor leaders alike to work together towards a sensible price structure."

WHAT the governor had to say to the party bosses, however, apparently went right over their heads. They missed the significance just as Republican majorities in Congress seem to be missing it.

The U. S. may miss the recession that so many experts are now predicting, but there seems to be a lot of effort around here to head right into it. A little depression is even suggested in some quarters as a good thing. It comes from the same people who in 1941 were suggesting that a little inflation would be a good thing.

All the blame for this can't be put on the Republicans. They get lots of help from the Democrats. The only thing the Republicans can be blamed for is lack of leadership to head in any other direction than towards glorious boom and inglorious bust.

On this current issue of high prices, Congress got in its main licks against stabilization last year, when the Democrats were in control. But this year, congressional aid to wool growers looks toward high prices. Removal of sugar controls looks toward high prices. The new Wolcott housing bill, if passed, would mean higher-cost housing.

DRABSTIC labor curbs, the proposed freeing from government controls in the public interest for the private power industry, the natural gas industry, the railroad industry, the radio industry and other special interests whose lobbies are hard at work in Washington, the abandonment of the reciprocal trade agreements which seems to be a definite plank in next year's Republican program—all such things can only make a lot of people think that some form of socialism might not be so bad after all.

The trouble is that the people who claim to hate communism the most can't see it—can't see what another uncontrolled spree would lead to. The last time it led to the New Deal.

It is difficult to grasp the congressional frame of mind on all this. Republican congressional leaders feel that the last election gave them a "mandate" to take off government controls, restore free enterprise, curb labor, cut government expenses to the bone. When Roosevelt and the New Dealers claimed they had a "mandate" from the people to curb industry and install tight government regulation over business, Republicans said that was a lot of nonsense.

So it all depends on who says what—when and where and how.

SEARCH FOR OLDEST TRUCK LAUNCHED BY CHEVROLET

Owners of early-model Chevrolet trucks in Ranger were invited today by Anderson - Pruet to participate in a nationwide search by the Chevrolet Motor Division to locate the oldest Chevrolet truck still in active service in the United States.

"The owner of the oldest truck will be presented with a brand-new Advance-Design Chevrolet truck and may choose any standard model in the current line of Chevrolet commercial cars and trucks," Mr. Anderson said.

Trucks entered in the search must be driven to a Chevrolet dealership, where official entry blanks are available. The search ends June 15, 1947, and the winner will be notified on or before June 20, 1947.

"We have a large number of old Chevrolet trucks still in everyday service in the Ranger area," Mr. Anderson said, "and the winning vehicle may be on a farm or engaged in some other hauling work right in our own community."

The winning truck, Mr. Anderson said, must carry 1947 license plates. The oldest Chevrolet truck will be determined by the earliest serial numbers. In cases where the serial number is lost or illegible, the number may be established by an original bill of sale or other legal documents showing the original serial number.

Entries must be filed with a Chevrolet dealer by midnight June 15, Mr. Anderson emphasized. Only vehicles manufactured as trucks by Chevrolet are eligible, and the search is open to all truck owners with the exception of employees of the Chevrolet Motor Division, dealers in cars and trucks and their employees.

Prefer Roses to Dogs

PORTLAND, Ore. (UP)—The annual dog versus garden "civil war" is in full swing here, with gardeners in the "City of Roses" demanding a city ordinance keeping dogs on leashes, and dog-owners quoting liberally from poetry about "man's best friend" in defense.

Restaurant Men Study Quality Of Their Coffee

CHICAGO (UP)—The restaurant industry is taking a long hard look at the coffee it serves.

The National Restaurant Association has joined with the Pan American Coffee Bureau and the National Coffee Association in a survey of coffee brewing equipment and methods of making and serving coffee to restaurants.

The organizations also will survey customer's preferences in coffee service.

Results of the research will be used to establish minimum specifications for coffee-brewing equipment.

The professor says key words which give clues to the birthplace of the speaker are "about," "Bos-

Try Not To Aid Crippled Veterans, Experts Say After Hospital Study

By Joe E. Wilson
United Press Staff Correspondent
POLO ALTO, Cal. (UP)—The best way to assist war crippled veterans is not to help them unless absolutely necessary.

A group of Stanford University psychologists after interviewing crippled veterans at Dible General Hospital in Menlo Park, Cal., and Bushnell General Hospital, Brigham City, Utah, gave four general rules on treating cripples without hurting their feelings or injuring their morale. They advised:

1. Don't help unless it appears necessary and then only after you have obtained the injured man's consent.
2. Remember that inconvenience which is tolerated by the injured person before he considers help necessary often far exceeds that ordinarily tolerated by non-injured persons.

3. Don't talk with the man about his injury unless you give the injured man a chance to determine how the discussion should start and what course it should take.
4. Above all, don't make a "fuss" or emotional display in helping, and don't make an issue of it. But be ready to help when the crippled person wants it.

The psychologists pointed out that help "becomes worse than useless when it becomes interfering."

A characteristic comment from one wounded man was: "Help is bad unless the man is terribly handicapped," he said. "Even then be careful unless he wants it. Don't cut the meat for a one-armed boy unless he wants you to."

Psychologists discovered that cripples want most of all to learn to do things for themselves. They believe unwanted help retards their progress.

Wounded men waver between a desire to discuss their injuries and wanting to keep quiet. Therefore, it is best to let the crippled veteran open the subject and guide the conversation in order to protect his feelings.

Wounded men generally resent curiosity or being stared at.

"The audacity of staring puts you in the same class as some freak in a sideshow," said one veteran.

"What we want is good wishes—not pity," a wounded GI said.

Better Pay For Judges Sought In California

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—Support of legislative measures increasing judicial salaries in California and liberalizing the judges' retirement system was announced by the California State Chamber of Commerce directors.

"Judges in comparable courts in other states, such as New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Illinois, and Massachusetts, are all paid higher salaries than California pays," Asa V. Call, president of the chamber, said.

It is hoped the proposed reforms will improve the quality of California's judicial system by attracting outstanding private attorneys to the bench. Call added.

Among the first books published in the United States was a Bible at Harvard University in one of the American Indian languages.

Jay Walkers Assessed For School Fountain
 DONNA, Tex., (UP) — There were enough Jay walkers in Donna to pay for a new water fountain. Members of the high school Hi-Y club decided the school needed a fountain. They set out one weekend and whenever they spotted a traffic violator asked for a 25-cent "fine." If the violator refused payment he was hauled before a school-boy judge who was authorized to assess "fines" up to $1. The take was $121, enough for their purpose.

Stranded Bass Are Rescued From Tunnel

OKDALE, Cal. (UP)—More than a ton of adult black bass were rescued from an outlet tunnel of the Woodland reservoir where they were stranded when the flow of water was shut off.

Rescue equipment was sent to the reservoir after a game warden and local sportsmen discovered the plight of the fish. Equipped with a big drag net and a rubber suit, Gus Geibel, of the Central Valleys Hatchery, waded through the 200-foot long, 100-foot high outlet tunnel, dredging up the fish.

Assisted by men in a rescue boat Geibel recovered approximately 750 adult bass the first day and 350 more the next. The fish were planted in nearby waters.

Typing Mass-Produced
 DETROIT (UP)—What is said to be the world's largest battery of automatic typewriters has been installed by R. L. Polk and Co. Using only 25 typists, up to 10,000 individually-typed letters can be turned out at a time. The machines operate on the same principle as a player piano, with perforations in reels of paper causing tiny bellows to actuate the keys of the attached typewriters.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Surles and daughter, Carol Ann, of Dallas, are the week-end guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Pounds, of Ranger, and Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Surles of Cisco.

John Kindie of Dallas has been transacting business in Ranger.

Bill Morris and A. J. Baker of Carmi, Ill., are transacting business in Ranger.

Miss Alma Fullbright and her mother, Mrs. W. G. Fullbright of Stephenville, left Saturday for College Station where they will visit Mrs. Fullbright's other daughter, Mrs. J. D. Litton and Mr. Litton.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Champion of Wink, formerly of Ranger are here for a visit with friends.

Lloyd L. Bruce is a patient in the Ranger General Hospital.

Rev. and Mrs. David C. Ham and Miss Betty Reuter have returned from St. Louis where they attended the Southern Baptist Convention.

Dr. and Mrs. G. C. Boswell will be in Graham Sunday for a visit with their daughter, Miss Genevieve Boswell.

Mrs. G. C. Boswell was in Abilene Friday where she attended a breakfast given by the Bullder's Class of St. Paul's Methodist church and in the afternoon attended a party given by the Arts and Crafts Club of which she is a former president. She was accompanied by Mrs. Milburn Long of Eastland who is also a former member of the two organizations.

Garden Lore

Among the more than 4000 different types of orchids, the clown is the glad-eyed orchid that winks at you, and when you smell that most fragrant flavoring, vanilla, remember it is made from the bean pods of one species.

Tropical orchids are mostly epiphytal—that is, they grow on trees without deriving their nourishment from them. Some are provided with "pseudo-bulbs", consisting of, large swellings of the stems, in the tissues of which water and nutritive materials are stored. Generally speaking, these plants have aerial roots of thick or thin wire like form, covered with a spongy investment. By these air-roots, the plants are able to absorb watery vapor and perhaps actual water.

There is also in Australia, a plant that when touched, makes a laughing sound and an African plant that is said "to weep" if any one tries to pluck a blossom from it, but the strangest tale of all was brought back from Africa, by a French botanist during 1912, concerning a plant that makes a coughing sound, like a young child in need of a doctor. This coughing plant of Africa is a crank about dust. The moment a few grains of dust fall on its leaves, the air chambers, covering their faces and fine breathing organs of the plant, become filled with gas. The chambers become swollen and end up by forcing out the dust grains and gas with a snappy little explosion, that is so much like the cough of a child, that botanists say it is hard to tell the difference.

The Ranger Civic League emblem, the honeysuckle is now in bloom in many gardens of Ranger and the white Austrian is simply loaded with blossoms this year and where it is blooming, the air is sweeter than that of a rare perfume-shop.

The Orchard oriole, Spanish canary, cardinal and the mockingbird sing at early morn and in the cool of the evening, for these simple things we give thanks to God, the creator of all that is good and pleasant.

Dr. Foreman To Be Heard On Baptist Broadcast Sunday

Dr. A. D. Foreman, Jr., of Amarillo, Texas will be the feature speaker on The Baptist Hour for the next two Sundays, May 18 and 25 according to the Radio Commission of the Southern Baptist Convention, S. F. Lowe, Director, Atlanta, Georgia. Dr. Foreman, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Amarillo, has selected as his subject for Next Sunday, "Man's Chief End," as divulged in the Atlanta release.

In his announcement Mr. Lowe further states that "a sustained spirit of old-fashioned evangelism prevails in literally thousands of the churches throughout the territory, while tens of thousands of the faithful are steadily enrolling in a one-million prayer league with a promise to pray daily for the spiritual awakening our world must have to survive man's modern progress in the material realm."

The Baptist Hour may be heard in Texas over radio stations KGNC Amarillo, KRIC Beaumont, WFAA Dallas, KPRC, Houston and WOAI San Antonio, at 7:30 A.M. CST Sunday, and over KCRS, Midland at 7:30 A.M. CST the following Sunday.

SAYS BLOOD-AND-THUNDER FUNNIES NOT HARMFUL

AUSTIN, Tex.—Relax, parents. Those blood-and-thunder "funnies" your children read so avidly won't make them become juvenile delinquents.

Investigations by some of the nation's educators show no correlation between juvenile crime and addiction to the highly adventurous funny books so popular today, Dr. Cora M. Martin, professor of elementary education at the University of Texas reports.

Children identify themselves with characters who win, Dr. Martin says, and in most widely read comic books the admirable character is always the one who wins. Furthermore, investigation shows sentimental books are least popular with children.

As to the bad grammar used so frequently in some of the books, Dr. Martin points out that the books are usually in the vernacular, and that usually it is only the gangster, or "bad" man who uses bad language.

"Silly" language, she said, has great appeal to children, as evidenced by the fun they have with sheer "gibberish."

"Parents and teachers have a responsibility in guiding children's tastes in reading matter," she said. "Criticism of funny books is that they are bad taste. Parents and teachers should read the books before condemning them, then should help the children develop their taste from the crude in to the more refined. They should not absolutely forbid children to read them for the reaction from such a mandate might be worse than the reading."

What, then, should those who guide children do?

First of all, Mrs. Martin suggests, children should be provided with reading material that satisfies the desire created by the comic — adventure, excitement, and stimulation of imagination by interesting pictures. Next, she says, parents should discuss and analyze the books with the children, and help them discriminate in their choice of books.

Of greatest importance, however, is for parents to give children plenty to do constructively, and in physical activity. Few homes, or schools, provide enough crafts, and children thrive on creative activity.

"The child's normal yearning for action and adventure is found in literature, but the comics have it so condensed and tell the story so readily by pictures that the child will naturally take the course of least resistance and resort to the funny books," Mrs. Martin says. "The books may also be a form of escape and wishfulness, and if these are carried to the extreme, they will develop into bad habits.

"More good literature of the simple type, with all the qualities a child likes in the comic books could better meet the tendency of the children to turn to comic books."

Veterans Find 2

MEADVILLE, Pa. (UP)—Allegheny College veteran students are finding definitely that two can't live as cheaply as one.

Polled by a service organization to determine the adequacy of government education allowances, single veterans reported their expenses average $86.43 a month, while married veterans said their bills run up to $143.60. The government allows single veterans $65 a month; married men, $90.

Three-fourths of the veteran students said they have to draw on savings, while others are receiving parental help or using income from outside jobs.
