WASHINGTON COLUMN

BY PETER EDSON NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D. C .- (NEA)-Looking at it from an earthy. everyday point of view, what the world may need first is not bigger and better supersonic airplanes, atomic bombs, international conferences, or United Nations skyscrapers. What it needs worst is just more fertilizer.

The International Emergency Food Council meeting in Washington this week is hearing nothing but tales of gloom. The number of people in the world is increasing. The supply of food is not. The acreage under cultivation is no bigger than it was before the many control of the many cont That reduces the problem to growing more food on the same amount of land to feed more people. One way to do that is to use more fertilizer, as the

"Edson U. S. did in the war.

Making more fertilizer and spreading it around doesn't sound too hard. But data presented to the IEFC on the world fertilizer situation reveal that mankind is still pretty clubfooted in the head and not much better than a Neanderthaler when it comes to using his noggin to maneuver his law bones out of the mire.

his lazy bones out of the mire. Principal commercial fertilizers are phosphorous and nitrogen comands. The phosphates are in fair supply now, and the IEFC is inquishing its controls over them as of July 1. The big shortage is in the nitrogenous fertilizers which this year are 25 per cent under world demand and probably won't be any better next. Only five countries have excess nitrogen to export. They are Chile, Canada, the United Kingdom, Norway, and Belgium. They have to make up the shortages in nearly 100 importing countries which don't produce enough at home for their own use.

THE U. S. is in this class. Though it has doubled its fertilizer consumption since the start of the war and now produces over 600,000 tons, 22 per cent of world supply, the U. S. must still import 200,000

To increase the production of explosives in wartime, the U. S. gov. were so scattered about the country that their use in combination to produce fertilizers requires service by a large number of tank cars for reshipment of chemicals from plant to plant.

If enough foresight had been used to locate these plants better so that they could have been converted to nitrogenous fertilizer productime of peace, the world's food production situation today might be a lot happier.

European fertilizer production is all snarled up. The principal diffi-culty is lack of coal to run the plants. Coal production can't be stepped up till there is more food for miners, industrial and transport workers. They can't get more food till there is more fertilizer.

GERMANY used to be a big nitrogen fertilizer exporter to the rest of Europe. Bombs destroyed some of the chemical plants. But the Allied military government authorities at first didn't want the nitrogen plants repaired to operate because they were considered So here you had the sorry spectacle of the U. S .- which produce less fertilizer than it uses—exporting and buying not only fertilizer but also food for occupied Europe, while German fertilizer plants remain idle and European food production is below par. This year an effort is being made to get some of the German nitroger plants, going again in the U.S. French, and British zones. Production of 200,000 tons is hoped for. All the German potash plants are it the Russian zone, so nobody knows what they're doing.

All countries that have fertilizer surpluses want to export to the U. S. to get dollars. That's one of the factors which makes it difficult o get, the exporting countries to allocate their surpluses to countries that don't pay so well.

THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES: "The problem of lowering the highway death rate remains one of the nation's most serious problems. It is an appalling fact that 33,500 American citizens were killed in automobile accidents in 1946. I therefore call upon every State and every community in the land to work unceasingly through 1947 to promote highway safety.

"Laws and regulations will be of little avail unless the individual driver holds himself strictly accountable to his own conscience."

That call is to you personally to cooperate as a citizen of the United States in helping reduce highway accidents. It is a shameful record when in one year 33,500 lives are sacrificed; 1,150,000 persons are injured and $750,000,000 in property destroyed, resulting in an economic cost to the nation of $2,000,000,000 because of careless, reckless driving.

It is a national problem, but essentially the solution is in your hands. Drive safely - live and let live'

This year champions in each division will be chosen on the merit system combined from both the halter and performance classes. Instead of picking the champion from halter, each horse will be given points on how he places at halter, and later points earned in the performance classes. Then the horse with the greatest number of points will be declared champion.

As well as usual reining classes, three gaited and bridle path classes, several new and exciting events have been added this year, such as a ring tournament, arena races, balloon and barrel races ,wild cow milking, calf roping, obstacle course, and a five-gaited class, which is open to stallions, mares and geldings.

Two things must be borne firmly in thind if we are to understand the history of those times in Israel and get any idea of the lessons its history offers the world today.

Such lessons are particularly appropriate for the United States and Canada, for these democracies face new and unforeseen responsibilities and dangers in their relation to the rest of the world. Whatever isolation we have had, or might still desire, has been irrevolutions. It is quite possible that even a highly moral and spiritual integrity might not have spared Israel's fate of martyrdom. Army Shows It's New 'Silent' Plane

The oddly-propellered craft above is reported by the Army to be the world's first silent airplane. Designated the Stinson 1-5, it was unveiled at the laboratory of the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, Langley Field, Va. Propeller with five broad blades, driven at 1000 rpm by an engine geared down by a ratio of 2.8 to 1 replaces the standard two-blade propeller. Reduction in tip speed is most responsible for eliminating noise.

Hermit's Sister Stamp Believed World's Oldest

ROME (UP) - A tinv rectang of paper, supposedly the world's dest postage stamp, has been rediscovered in the small Italian Adriatic coastal town of Cerignola. It was purchased for a "consider ble amount" by arents of Louis Massabo de Villas, a Mexican The encient stamp bears no date mark, but was attached to a letter written March 22, 1806, in which an Alemo merchant gave secret formation to the "Magnificent Messer Leonardo" Contarini of Venice about Nanoleons' plans for the conquest of Rome.

More than 34 years older than the world's recomized oldest postal stame the British one-penny edition of May 6, 1840, the Aleppo stamp carries no indication of national origin but only the legend "Genoa-Cadiz Post" and a figure representing the Virgin and Child. Its expressed value is one "patac ca" an old and long valueless Por-

Hidden through two world wars the Aleppo stamp narrowly missed being lost when the liner Titanic sank off Newfoundland after striking an iceberg in 1912. An American agent had intended to but the their N.Y. home.
