Lewis Signs Best Contract Yet Managed

Well... I Dunno, But...

Heard somebody saying the other day that they thought Ranger citizens should be asked to wear rodeo apparel of some kind at least one week before the coming Jaycee rodeo.

That's a good idea. It'll help to make the town rodeo minded and is a good advertising stunt.

The Jaycees have given Ranger something in that big plant they have built and in the big show they put on each summer. The town owes them its cooperation and backing in the rodeo.

Anything that's a success is so because of the cooperation of all the people.

If the people that keep reporting seeing flying discs aren't "latched in the head" they gonna have us that way before it's over with. The flying disks have taken over the front pages of newspapers and have aroused more controversy than the atomic bomb.

If the disks are really there, they had to come from somewhere and somebody knows that source, and what they are. But whoever that somebody is, is sure keeping quiet and there must be some reason why they're not talking.

And there's one thing sure they didn't just appear out of the blue. Somebody some where saw to it that they got into the air.

Wayne (Butchie) Bowers, 3-year-old, has been found asleep 6 miles away and 1000 feet up the mountain side from the Marine Recreation Camp at Big Bear Lake, California. Butchie strayed from the camp while his mother was fixing breakfast on the morning of July 4. Here, Butchie is brought to his mother by some of the Marines who helped in the search. (NEA Telephoto).

ESTIMATE SHOWS MORE COTTON IN CULTIVATION

WASHINGTON — The Agriculture Department today estimated that 21,389,000 acres of cotton were under cultivation on July 1, compared with 18,190,000 acres a year ago.

Nearly two thirds of the entire increase took place in Texas. Acreage under cultivation on July 1, was larger than last year in all states except Oklahoma.

Increases of more than 25 per cent were reported in Texas, Arizona and California. Increases of 5 to 10 per cent were reported in North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Tennessee and Louisiana.

The department said that during April and early May temperatures were generally below normal and early growth was retarded over an extended area. In late May and early June conditions were mostly favorable and cotton made good progress. However, again in late June unseasonably cool weather prevailed and the crop now is later than average in central and eastern states.

TEXAS UNIFORM TRAFFIC CODE

(First of A Series)

This state's new uniform traffic code, which will become law Sept. 3, will represent a big improvement in traffic enforcement as a man "trying to harvest a wheat field with a knife would notice if suddenly given a combine."

The comparison is that of Capt. C. G. Connor, Texas Highway patrolman in command in Tarrant and 13 other county districts. Connor helps write the law and was an instructor at sessions held in Austin to acquaint all highway patrolmen with provisions of the new code.

Peace officers are not to be the only persons benefitting from the new code, though.

"The new law will make no changes in the habits of good drivers," Capt. Connor declared.

"The common sense rules that good drivers have always followed will become law in September, that is all, and the good drivers will be protected, through it's provisions from careless and reckless motorists."

Uniform rules throughout the Lone Star State whether on a big city traffic artery, a busy state highway or a rural roadway for both drivers and pedestrians will be one of the code's salient safety features.

"We kill three-fourths of our people in traffic accidents outside the cities," Capt. Connor explained.

York was brought in a Hamner ambulance to the Eastland Hospital where he was given emergency treatment. The exact extent of his injuries is not known, however, he is reported to have sustained a number of broken bones and possible internal injuries. His wife and brother arrived from Clyde at 3:00 a.m. this morning and were preparing to move him to an Abilene hospital.

Anglers Snag 2 More Tagged Fish At Lake

POSSUM KINGDOM LAKE, July 8 — Fort Worth anglers stole the show in the Possum Kingdom Fish Rodeo over the past week-end but at that their percentage was only 500.

Don Powell, of 944 East Jeannine and E. M. Sager of 1712 Carleton snagged prize fish. Powell caught his, a one pound bass, at P. K. Lodge and the fish was worth $130 in prizes. Sager, fishing from Buckhorn Camp, pulled in tagged fish No. 44—and this one was worth $158.50 in awards.

The big catch in it all was that Sager had not purchased a membership in the Possum Kingdom Game and Fish Association—so all that he received was the pound and a half bass that bore the tag.

Wisconsin placed the first state unemployment compensation act in America into effect July 1, 1934.

Owen will be confined to his bed for several days.

Says Steel Will Take Brunt Of New Contract

CLEVELAND — C. M. White, president of the Republic Steel Corp., said today that the new coal contract with the United Mine Workers, along with wage increases to steel workers "has placed an unbearable burden on steel costs in relation to selling price."

White said he had not had an opportunity to evaluate the terms of the new coal contract into costs of steel "but personally I do not see how the price of steel can any longer be held at roughly 24 per cent above 1936-37 selling price, especially when average steel wages are 93 per cent above these levels."

Petrillo Offers To Confer To Iron Out Trouble

WASHINGTON — Music czar James C. Petrillo offered today to meet with a committee of educators to "iron out" the troubles stemming from charges that his American Federation of Musicians interfered with the broadcast of school band concerts.

He denied before a house labor subcommittee investigating his activities that he has any blanket policy of preventing the radio airing of concerts by amateur and school orchestras. His sole aim, he added, is to prevent amateur musicians from taking money away from professionals.

Two Students From Ranger At Hardin-Simmons

ABILENE, July 8—Two students from Ranger are enrolled in summer school at Hardin-Simmons university, according to Mrs. J. A. Beard, university registrar. They will finish their first six weeks term on Friday, July 11 and registration for the second six weeks period begins on the following day.

Ranger students attending Hardin-Simmons are: Miss Wanda Myrick, a junior student, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Myrick, Route No. 1, Ranger; and Porter Willis, a senior student, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Willis, 1201 Blackwell. Miss Myrick is society editor of the H-SU Brand, official student newspaper.

The students from Ranger are two of the 1,095 persons registered, a record enrollment for Hardin-Simmons summer school. This figure is exceeded only by the fall and winter semesters of the 1946-47 school year, the year the Cowboy gridmen overran 11 opponents to finish the season with the only undefeated record in the entire Southwest.

187 Mile Flight Made At Soaring Meet Monday

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. — A 187-mile motorless flight was made late yesterday by Eric Nessler, national French champion, in the 14th Annual National Soaring Meet, officials announced today.

It was the longest flight since the opening of the 17-day meet on July 4. Nessler's hop was from Sheppard Field, site of the meet, to the rim of the Palo Duro canyon, near Tulsa, Texas.

Nessler made the flight in five hours after taking off with 50 other contestants who spread out to their chosen goals in Texas and Oklahoma. He departed from Wichita Falls at 1:29 p.m. and arrived at 6:30 p.m. on the canyon rim.

MOTORCADES TO BE ON JULY 24-26

Thursday and Saturday, July 24 and 26 have been set as the dates for the motorcades which will advertise the coming Junior Chamber of Commerce World Championship Rodeo.

The dates were set Monday night at the regular meeting of the Jaycees held in the Blue Room of the Gholson Hotel. Jaycees today were advising the people to get their cowboy hats and dust them off and shine up the boots.

Chief George Murphy was busy this morning rounding up cars to go on the motorcades and stated today that those who can and will take cars either or both of the trips to contact him so that the cars and be listed.

One of the motorcades will take in the southern and western parts of this area and the other will go east and north. In speaking of the dates set, it was pointed out that while Saturday is a poor day for business men to get away, it was also pointed out that more people will be contacted in the towns visited on Saturday.

C. E. May, Jr., and James P. Morris were in Ft. Worth this afternoon in the interest of advertising for the rodeo.

At the meeting Monday night it was also planned to have a barbecue for rodeo stockholders a week from Thursday night at the rodeo arena.

James King, Perry Horton, and Charles Hodges were named on a committee to work a program for sponsoring girls in the rodeo. It was also announced that a $100 prize will be given the person who sells the most memberships to the Jaycee Safety Club.

CIO Asks Boycott Of Leases With Voluntary Boost

WASHINGTON — The CIO, predicting that rent controls will be extended again next winter, urged tenants today to reject new leases which carry the voluntary 15 per cent rent boosts.

The union called on local officials to organize tenants block by block, apartment by apartment, in opposition to the increase.

The CIO campaign was the first of its kind on a national scale. It came as landlords over the nation, under provisions of the new rent law, were reported offering tenants leases running through 1948 in exchange for a rent boost.

Singers from all over the County and various other parts of the state are expected, and several quartets will be present, it was stated.

There will be dinner on the ground at noon Sunday. The public is cordially invited to attend and bring a basket lunch.

AGREEMENT GRANTS MEN $13.05 BASIC DAILY WAGE

WASHINGTON — John L. Lewis today signed his best contract ever with more than half of the nation's soft coal industry and predicted that the rest of the owners—southerners and far westerners—would fall in line within a few days.

The one year pact grants miners a $13.05 basic daily wage for eight hours—up $1.20 from what they have been getting for nine hours.

It sends some 195,000 of the country's 400,000 bituminous miners back to work immediately and ends a brief strike.

Still on strike, however, are around 200,000 southern and far western miners.

Operators in those areas thus far refuse to go along with the agreement. But Lewis predicted they will sign up within a few days. He said they "can take it or leave it."

Northern operators said the agreement is "the most effective way to maintain the economy of the nation." Although operators estimated it would increase the cost of coal by an average of $1 a ton.

They said the cost of mining coal and producing goods depending on coal will be higher as a result of the new contract. But they added that the price increases "will be substantially less than would have been the case had a strike occurred."

The new contract runs until next June 30, but may be terminated on 30 days written notice. Lewis face broke into a smile as he signed the new agreement—his first with private owners since March, 1946.

But at a press conference later he lashed out at the new labor act as "the Taft Slave Law" and he said that Sen. Robert A. Taft, R. O., co-author of the act, had "forfeited his chances for the presidency of the United States."

Safe And Sound

More people arguing about the flying disks. All the speculation in the world won't solve the mystery and personally, we think we've got about as much chance to solve the truth, as we have to get Russia to agree with any other country.

Another one of the good will trips to nearby communities is scheduled for Friday night, with the crowd going to Desdemona this time. This is a grand opportunity for business people to become personally acquainted with the people of this trade territory and it's to the interest of the business people to cooperate with the men that are handling the deal.

Think you're hot? Listen to this. Last year in July there were eleven days with better than 100 degrees maximum temperature. In one spot five of those days were hand running. In August there were fourteen days with better than 100 degree temperatures. And in one spot in August there were eleven straight days when the over the 100 temperatures hung on.

Jaycees will be corralled tonight to work at the Rodeo and Round Up grounds and the boys have even suggested that they bring their supper and just work right on through.

It was explained that lights are now working so that not even dark can stop 'em. Furthermore, Ernest Shelton is going to furnish ice cream for the workers.

It sure looks like they got those Jaycees fenced in without a single loophole through which to escape. And they tell us that all Jaycees are expected out tonight, not just part of 'em.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(NEA)—After six months of life in which it has done no more than any babe of similar age, Sen. Robert A. Taft's Joint Congressional Committee on the Economic Report shows a few signs of getting ready to crawl.

Edson

Appearance of President Charles E. Wilson of General Motors before the 14-man committee marks the start of a month's hearings to wise up members on where we are and whither we drift. If the committee finds out what goes on in that time, it's good, though Taft says they may not do anything about it till fall.

Most witnesses will be representatives of the same old crowds that are always making statements to congressional committees. NAM, Chamber of Commerce, AFL, the Farm Bureau, CIO, the Grange, CED, small business, ADA, etc.

A few will be individuals from banking or business. Representatives of the President's Council of Economic Advisers will sit in as observers.

If the (Full) Employment Act which created the committee is lived up to it can become the top bipartisan steering committee for both houses of Congress.

AS such it will have a say-so on all legislation touching national welfare—which includes practically everything: taxes, appropriations, welfare, public works, even military and foreign affairs.

In this respect the Committee on Economic Report can be even more important than the Republican and Democratic caucuses and policy committees. It all depends on whether Chairman Taft and his successors want to make this new committee that important.

The committee has named a staff of three economists. It is headed by Charles O. Hardy of Chicago. He was for 20 years with Brookings Institution, where he was closely associated with Dr. Edwin G. Nourse, now head of the President's Economic Council.

Fred E. Berquist is assistant director. He has been in government 20 years, with Justice, RFC and Temporary National Economic Committee. Third staff member is John W. Layman of Wisconsin who has been with Bureau of Labor Statistics, Federal Reserve and the Roosevelt administration National Resources Planning Board.

Members of this staff have been sitting in with the staff of the President's Council of Economic Advisers. Relations between the council members and the committee haven't become too intimate yet. The Council feels it is a confidential agent of the President.

WITH the council, things have been stirring. It has moved out of the basement to redecorated upstairs offices in the old State Department building across from the White House. It has been hard at work on a number of special price, tax, housing and similar studies.

The council made a national survey for the President in April, but this was kept confidential and not made the basis for a White House report to Congress. Currently the council is making a similar report on the second quarter of 1947. Other reports will be made in September and December, the latter being the basis for the President's January Economic Report to Congress.

If the committee had such a report as background for its current hearings, it would be useful. But it could hardly be ready before Congress adjourns late in July. In view of current speculation about a special session of Congress in the fall, an October message would be more likely and more logical. At that time the Taft Committee would have digested the results of its own hearings.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Eastern and Western playoffs scheduled June 20-21 at Yale and Denver, with the survivors meeting for the national championship, focuses attention on college baseball as it has never been focused before.

And a round-up finds the schools loaded with talent trailed by major league scouts.

In the pitching department, for example, Yale has the six-foot two-inch, 200-pound right-handed Junior Frank Quinn, who struck out 119 in seven games, 20 Pennsylvanians in one start. Competent appraisers say he can't miss in the big show.

Illinois nominates the only left-hander mentioned in a national check. He is Macy Rotblatt, who turned in six consecutive victories pacing the Illinois to the Western Conference title and into the eastern National. His performance tied the Big Nine modern record established last year by Wisconsin's Gene Jaroch. In 54 innings, this Chicago lad, who stands no more than five feet eight and weighs only 163 pounds, yielded no more than nine runs and 18 hits, fanned 49, walked 14.

TEXAS' great passing back Bobby Layne has won 24 consecutive Southwest Conference games in three years. This season he bagged eight, added three others for an 11-0 record, pitching the Longhorns into the western section.

Robin Roberts, who continued when the temperature buildings. He ordered the heat diminished to 84 degrees.

The next day, the mercury dropped to 45. Because boilers are dismantled when the heat is turned off, Schibursky said it would be impossible to take care of the city during the temporary cold spell.

The heat, he said, would not be turned on again until next September.

DEATH of a DOLL

THE STORY: Ruth Miller, a salesgirl at Blackman's department store, saves to rich young Mrs. Sutton, her favorite customer, about the wonderful residence which she feels she is about to begin a new life.
RUTH walked slowly down the last block. Other people were coming home to shabby brownstone tenements and rooming houses, stopping on the way to buy food at the corner delicatessen, collecting the week's laundry from the Chinaman whose basement window was beaded with steam. She watched them from the secure heights of one who was bound for a warm dinner, a bed with a cretonne cover, and a writing desk of her own. There was a shoe-repair shop in the middle of the block and next to it a dry cleaner's. Very handy, she told herself, especially the cleaner's. For when I get my blue...

Ruth Miller looked as if she were cornered. She looked terrified. For a brief moment Miss Small felt the contagion of panic.

Ruth dwell on the blue. Seventy-five dollars in stores like Blackman's, sixteen-fifty on Fourteenth Street. She had eleven dollars saved up and her week's salary was untouched. She asked herself what she was waiting for. Take out eight for board, she figured rapidly, no carfare, and lunch in the cafeteria is twenty cents. I can do it and maybe a hat to match. And who's to tell me not to? This is a new life and I want to look nice. Who's to tell me the glasses come first? Well, maybe Mrs. Sutton, but—She put Mrs. Sutton out of her mind. I want the blue, I need it. There's nothing like a touch of color after black all day. That Miss Brady said dinner was from six to eight. I'll eat right away and get down to Fourteenth Street. Saturday night, they'll be open late. I'll wear it to the dining room tomorrow. There's nothing like a good first impression, and you never know when you may meet somebody. Some of the girls may have relatives in New York and Sunday's when they'd come to call. And have dinner, maybe. Sunday dinners are always special. She saw herself entering the dining room, alone and poised, sitting at one of the small tables, saying something pleasant to the maid who served her. Wearing the blue.

question. She examined her sharply and closely for the first time and was disturbed by what she saw. Why, she's frightened, she told herself. Or is that shyness? No, it's fright. She looks as if she were cornered, or caught, or something dreadful like that. She looks terrified. For a brief moment Miss Small felt the contagion of panic, but she quickly recovered. She rapidly scanned the lobby, but there was nothing unusual that she could see. The invisible diners chattered behind the blue curtains, as harmless as a caged sparrow. Mrs. Foster, the housekeeper, stood by the dining-room door calmly collecting the tray and guest checks. Jewel lounged beside the elevator, waiting for the after-dinner rush. At the switchboard, Kitty's bony hands darted from plug to plug about her. She could see the other girls clearly. SHE saw the dark blue curtains at the dining-room door, the elevator and its uniformed attendant, the telephone switchboard and its operator, the girl with red hair who slouched against the office railing and whistled under her breath. There was a single yellow rose on the desk and an open money box filled with bills and silver. Miss Small had light blue eyes and a rosebud mouth. "Kitty Brice and Lillian Harris," Miss Small's voice was saying. "This is the new girl, Ruth Miller. She'll be in 706 with April Hooper. Lillian, I'm afraid you'll be late for work, dear. Are you waiting for something?" The red-haired girl drawled, "Not any more."

Steinzel questioned 290 guys and girls at the school and learned that personality was the heavy favorite. However, they say they are still in the dark. First preference of 68 of the 100 men was personality. Twenty-seven of the women listed it as their first choice. So Wilson and Steinmetz rechecked the 95 who preferred preferred personality to get a good definition of the trait. They got 95 different definitions. Your Electric Refrigerator Is a Priceless Possession ... Give It Good Care

Your electric refrigerator is built to give long service. Like all equipment, it serves you best if you give it proper care. To help your refrigerator operate better and last longer, here are some timely suggestions:

- Defrost your electric refrigerator regularly—at least once a week in the summer, or when the layer of frost becomes about as thick as a lead pencil.
- Your refrigerator needs breathing space. Be sure there is air space in back of the refrigerator, and over the top.
- Avoid using a knife, ice pick or other sharp instrument to loosen ice trays. You might puncture the freezing coil.
- If your refrigerator has an open type mechanism, it should be oiled according to the manufacturer's instructions.

Should your refrigerator need adjustment or repair, call the dealer from whom it was purchased, or some other reliable service man who is experienced with your make of refrigerator.

'Comeback Girl' Comes Back Again

In the late twenties, Betty Compson, famed silent film star, was called "the girl who came back" because she made a comeback in talking pictures. Now at 50 she is making another comeback with several roles in current Hollywood productions. One of the films is "Second Chance." Pictures show her as "silent" star, left and as she looks today.

Prince of Wales Was Once Most Angelic Imp

NEW YORK (UP)—The World Book Encyclopedia notes that the original meanings of many words have changed considerably. "Depart" used to mean separate or divide. The old English marriage service once read "till death do us depart." A "jig" was once a fiddle to whose music the country folk danced. "Imp" used to mean a young shoot of a plant. Then it came to mean child, and prayers offered for the health of the Prince of Wales at one time referred to him as "that most angelic imp." The word "cab" is a short form of cabriolet, which originally meant a leap or caper like that of a wild goat.

Spotty Given Diploma For Perfect Record

McKEESPORT, Pa. (UP)—It was an unmatchable record that Spotty left behind when he graduated from grammar school into retirement.

Principal H. E. Ramaley waited until everyone had received his diploma before climaxing the exercises by calling Spotty to the stage.

Cincherly, the aged and nearly blind dog trotted up the steps. He was getting a real diploma, plus a certificate of perfect attendance.

 "EVERYTHING FOR THE OFFICE"

Washington state game protectors John Kanz and George McDaniels, about a meat-eating horse rambled with them all.

While patrolling the Okanogan district, the wardens came upon a half-alive horse, weaving and staggering in the deep snow. Around the animal's belly hung a saddle, with a tree-tangled rope attached and leading to deer carcasses a few feet away.

Kanz and McDaniels found the horse had kept himself alive by eating a large portion of the dead deer.

The wardens traced the horse's owner and learned that the horse had bolted and run away when the shots rang out. The owner was fined for killing the deer out of season.

Identical Twins Making Same School Grades

PITTSBURGH (UP)—Identical twins with identical scholastic marks were nominated for the same merit award.

That situation faced Mrs. Edith Sleath, history instructor at Latimer Junior High School.

Frances and Nancy Boyrich were as alike mentally as physically. Their final grades for the past two years were the same in every subject.

Mrs. Sleath, who taught 20 sets of twins in a lifetime of teaching, admitted she had never faced a pair so outstanding and well matched.

After several conferences, the D.A.R., which sponsored the American history merit award, deecided a choice was unnecessary. Medals were given to both girls.

Want $3,000? Then Catch A Flying Saucer

A "flying saucer" in the hand is worth $3,000 today, but those seen in the sky were still a dime a dozen. There were no takers for rewards of $1,000 each offered in Chicago, Los Angeles and Spokane for a genuine flying saucer.
