29th YEAR RANGER, TEXAS, MONDAY, JULY 28, 1947 PRICE FIVE CENTS No. 50

Well...
I Dunno,
But...

Boyce House really gave the Ranger rodeo a plug on his 12:45 P.M. broadcast Sunday. Speaking on his Justin Boys' program, "I Give You Texas and the Great Southwest," he claims that the plug was heard by several hundred thousands over stations WEAP-570, KTSB and KGNC.

Following is the text of his comment:
Your radio columnist used to live in Eastland County. In fact, for years a big argument has gone on out there; two towns claim me—Ranger claims I belong to Eastland and Eastland claims I belong to Ranger.

Well, Ranger seems to have lost the argument so they've invited me to their second annual Junior Chamber of Commerce rodeo and round-up this week, opening Wednesday night and running for four nights at the new $50,000 rodeo arena.

Ranger's main street has seen lots of crowds. Back in the oil boom days of 1919 and 1920, you could hardly walk down the crowded sidewalks and if you wanted to cross the street, unless you were wearing Justin boots or if you didn't want to get them muddy, you paid a man a dime and rode across the mud on a sled drawn by a mule.

Back in those days, Ranger's main street was so muddy that a mule actually drowned there. I know because 617 old-timers who actually witnessed it have told me—one at a time.

Well, that historic main street paved now of course, is going to be roped off for a big crowd Wednesday afternoon when there will be a parade and free shows on the street to celebrate the rodeo opening that night. Ernest Shelton, chairman, says 10,000 saw the parade last year and more are expected this Wednesday. There'll be one more anyhow—I'll be there.

Helen McAnelly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley McAnelly, took off Sunday for one of the nicest trips yet heard about.

"The" as she's better known to her friends, left Abilene early Sunday morning via American Airlines for Phoenix, Arizona for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. W. Francis Wilson. They will be joined by Olive McCollum of New York, N.Y., and from Phoenix the party will take off for a tour of California. Teen is Mrs. Wilson's niece and Olive is Mr. Wilson's niece. Both girls will be college freshmen next fall. Teen going to Sophie Newcombe in New Orleans.

Jayces report a brisk sale of rodeo tickets and predictions are that the first and last nights will be sell-outs. Don't delay, you might not get that ticket that you want. Victor Cornelius of Eastland, so far, has purchased the largest block of seats, having brought 100 tickets to the rodeo. Thanks from the Jayces, Victor. That's a right good neighborly act and it's appreciated.

Did you know that there's no number 13 box or seat in that rodeo arena. We hadn't discovered it until Sunday when we were studying that arena seating chart in the Times. We questioned C. E. May, Jr., about it this morning and he assures us that it was planned that way. Superstition was lurking in somebody's mind.

Ella White did a real human as well as public spirited deed recently. George Bale who's instructing at the Ranger Flying Service wanted to bring Mrs. Bale and their three children here to live, but alas no piece could be found for them to live. Their predicament got the better of Ella's kind heart and so she just took 'em in to live with her until they can find their own place.

ees were giving a vote of thanks today to George Campbell, and H. O. Woods, Jr. George sent out a jeep and some other equipment needed for work at the rodeo grounds and one of his employees worked with the equipment all Saturday and Sunday. H. O. who's duties keep him from working during the week, spent all day Sunday working at the arena.

The rodeo stock is being moved into the pens at the rodeo grounds and this morning a big truck load of hay was being unloaded in the livestock barns.
It's beginning to take on the air of the big show.

PRIVATE RITES HELD TODAY FOR MRS. TRUMAN

GRANDVIEW, Mo. —Heavy of heart, President Truman remained in the seclusion of his "summer White House" in Independence through the hot morning today before making an early afternoon drive to his mother's cottage here for simple, private rites for 94-year-old Mrs. Martha Ellen Truman.

Only members of the Truman family and Mrs. Martha Truman's two physicians were to be present when the Rev. Welburn Bowman, 46, pastor of the Grandview Baptist Church for the last seven years intoned the final words of About 2,000 messages of con-comfort.

3 Powers Plan To Keep Balkan Crisis Before UN

ABOUT 250 BILLS AWAIT TRUMAN PEN

WASHINGTON — President Truman still must act on about 250 bills passed by the 80th Congress. The fate of some of these measures, passed in the final hours before adjournment, will not be determined until around Aug. 19.

Under the constitution, the President has 10 days—not counting Sundays—to approve or disapprove a measure after it reaches him.

But a flood of measures passed shortly before Congress adjourned had no chance to reach President Truman.

Bills passed by Congress first must go to the government printing office to be put into final form. Then they are returned to the capitol for the signatures of the House speaker and the Senate president.

After this, a messenger takes them to the White House. If the President is not in residence, a member of the White House staff brings the bills to him.

But the 10 day period of grace does not begin until the bills are in the President's hands. Because he is in Missouri, some of the bills may not be delivered to him until Tuesday or Wednesday, possibly even later.

Chief Appeals For Cooperation In Car Parking

Chief W. G. Pounds today appealed to the people of Ranger to cooperate with the city and police department in the new angle for parking on Main street.

City employees worked Sunday night at marking the curbs for parking at a 35 degree angle. This was done in order to give traffic a more room on the street. Chief Pounds also pointed out that the new angle lessens the danger of cars backing out from opposite sides of the street colliding.

The chief stated that parking correctly will be strictly enforced and members of the police department will be instructed to give tickets to violators.

C. of C. Meet Tonite At 8

A meeting of directors of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce will be held tonight at 8 o'clock at the managers office and all directors are urged to attend.

This is an open meeting and anyone who wishes to attend may do so. Matters of considerable importance to Ranger will be discussed.

Missing Hughes Witness To Return To U. S.

WASHINGTON — A missing witness in the Senate inquiry into Howard Hughes $40,000,000 war plane contracts is on his way back to this country and will appear when summoned, a Hughes spokesman said today.

Meanwhile, Hughes and Chairman Owen Brewster of the Senate War Investigating Committee which is conducting this inquiry, engaged in a trans-continental exchange of words about some plane trips they made together.

Hughes in an open letter to Brewster published in the Los Angeles Examiner said the Maine Republican made $1,400 worth of flights with him last February. Brewster retorted here that he made the trips as a convenience to Hughes. He added that "this is the first I've heard about a bill for it."

The missing witness was John W. Meyer, a publicity man employed by the Hughes Tool Co. In secret sessions of the committee some time ago, he turned over expense accounts indicating he spent large sums for Hughes entertaining government big wigs at parties attended by $125-a-evening Hollywood beauties.

Sweetwater Man Injured Near Ranger Saturday

S. L. Jones of Sweetwater was treated Saturday night at the West Texas Hospital in Ranger for injuries sustained in a collision near Thurber.

Attendants at the West Texas Hospital reported that Mr. Jones received a very serious injury to his elbow. He has been removed to Sweetwater.

According to officers at Strawn, the car driven by Mr. Jones collided with another car driven by a man reported to have been drunk. After the collision the latter man abandoned his car and was picked up sometime later by Strawn officers about a mile from the scene of the accident.

Mr. Jones told Ranger police that after the driver of the other car had run into him and injured him, that he started throwing beer bottles at him. Shortly after the man reported to be drunk had disappeared another man came along and removed Mr. Jones from his car. He was brought to Ranger by a Strawn ambulance.

Boy Being Held For Authorities In Michigan

A boy picked up for questioning in Ranger Friday is being held by Ranger Police for authorities in Michigan.

Chief W. G. Pounds answered a call from the east part of Ranger Friday and found the boy who had been reported as pilfering a round at a touring camp.

After some questioning, it was learned that he had escaped from a reform school in that state. Authorities were contacted who verified that fact.

The ceramic tile work on the inner and outer walls of the Blue Mosque at Tabriz is considered one of the finest examples of Persian ceramic art.

BAND TO REHEARSE
The rodeo band will hold a rehearsal at the Recreation building Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock and all members are urged to attend.
This will be the last rehearsal before the rodeo parade and it is important that all be present.

The meeting was called to order by Mr. Walker, Acting Chairman since the resignation of county chairman, Mr. Clyde Karkalitis. Each town was well represented and the meeting proved successful. The annual reports from each chairman was heard and all reports indicated a very successful year for the chapter.

Orders Ashes Strewn In Quiet Woodland

PITTSFIELD, Mass. (UP) — Mary Calef Durant Mart of North Adams asked in her will that her ashes be scattered in Berkshire County woods.

"It is my request and desire that I have no funeral, no ceremony or service of any kind, but that I be cremated and my ashes strewn on high ground in woodland, a distance far from any habitation or picnic ground near North Adams, and that nothing mark the spot of such disposal."

Dutch Troops In Possession Of Oil Fields

With the Dutch Army on the Palembang Front, Sumatra—a week's "little blitzkrieg" today has given the Dutch possession of the major Indonesian oilfields despite blazing oil traps set by Republican saboteurs.

Four Dutch columns today were in possession of the important Socony Vaccum oil field at Pendopo 60 miles south of Palembang, and the Royal Dutch Shell oil fields at Talang Djimar.

The Dutch troops won their victory with a minimum of fighting due to tactics marked by rapidity and efficiency.

The chief barrier they encountered was blazing oil traps cleverly set by the retreating Indonesians. The column which headed for the Royal Dutch Shell fields swung southwestward along little known roads and the railroad.

Silver Hoard Flits Silently In, Out

BURLINGTON, N.J. (UP) — There was rich prospecting in this New Jersey city for six months when a man-made silver mine yielded $116,272,000.

Chances of staking a claim were out, though, even if the folks in Burlington had known that stuff was silver. Only a few select government and trucking company employes got to do any mining from the 4,975-ton stockpile.

Five days a week trucks owned by the local firm pulled up at a war assets administration warehouse to pick up their $1,600,000 loads of silver bars. Then they moved under heavy guard across the Delaware River bridge to the mint in Philadelphia, where the valuable slabs were destined to be made into coins.

The silver was assembled in Burlington just as secretly as it was spirited out. It was collected from war plants all over the nation, to which it had been "lent" through the Reconstruction Finance Corporation when enough scarce copper for parts could not be obtained to keep assembly lines moving.

A RFC guard likes to tell the story of a war worker who wisely told a companion "I hear there's silver around here. I wonder where they hide it." The worker was standing in front of a conduit worth thousands of dollars.

Three presidents died on Fourth of July; Adams, Jefferson and Monroe, and one was born on Independence Day, Coolidge.

U. S., BRITAIN GREECE WILL FIGHT SOVIET OPPOSITION

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y.—The United States, Great Britain and Greece have agreed tentatively on three emergency steps to keep the Balkan crisis before the United Nations if Russia vetoes the present American proposals for a long range UN Balkans commission, it was learned today.

The first step if Russia uses the veto, officials disclosed, will be a move by the United States to reopen debate immediately in the Security Council under the punitive sections of the UN charter.

Such an action would amount to re-introduction of the American proposals under the "Pacific settlement" provisions.

If Russia used the big power veto for a second time to kill the American plan, American, British and Greek officials would proceed with plans to establish a commission in Greece outside the UN to watch for signs of the Communist-directed Yugoslav, Bulgarian and Albanian meddling which the Greek government blames for the internal plight of Greece.

The third step, the officials sources said, would be to lay the findings of this commission before the September session of the UN General Assembly.

The first Republican Congress in 16 years closed the books on its first session early yesterday with no plans to return before January unless foreign developments require a special fall session.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

BY PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(NEA)—One of the most devastating broadsides ever fired against the U. S. Navy's social caste system and its silly etiquette has just come booming off the presses in a work called "Off My Sea Chest," by Lewis H. Conarroe.

The author is a Philadelphia Mainliner who probably had no business in the Navy in the first place. He was underweight even after two overfilled meals and several quarts of water. But he used his drag and a couple trips to see the right people in Washington and they made him an officer.

His first assignment was to a cruiser in drydock. Here Navy tried to make him into a gentleman. There was a war on, he points out, and something had to be done fast to give him enough social polish to associate with the Regulars.

A lieutenant commander set up a Little Annapolis and proceeded to teach the reservists how to pay formal calls, how to write a letter, when to wear gray gloves, when not to wear 'em.

Instruction on how to eat was contained in a paper which quoted literally from Emily Post. It was marked, "Confidential. Officers only." It contained such gems as "Drinking coffee with the spoon left in the cup . . . is an unforgivable offense."

LIKE nearly all reservists, Lt. (j.g.) Conarroe takes a dim view of Annapolis glamor and grads. "As if their bloated egos were not already turkey size," he writes, "there is bred into them a lofty intolerance and disdain for the undisciplined world outside their gates, and a sense of snobishness that makes Princeton look like reform school."

He tells about one, whom he calls "Lieutenant Priggish," who once told him, "I resent anyone who consciously or unconsciously makes me feel that I must consider his feelings before I can act on my own impulses." Later this same "Priggish" told the author, "I find your assumption of friendship presumptuous. Friendship is not one of my weaknesses."

Norfolk he busted a tooth just before he was to go to sea on convoy duty. He couldn't get it fixed because he couldn't find the base dental officer and chief of staff to sign Form G-604 (C) /44.

The Navy, he learned, "is like a cumbersome cement mixer in which, once the machinery is set in action, individual ambition has no more chance than a pebble tossed into its revolving drum. The cement mixer is, in turn, only an incidental unit of the far more complex, far more costly machinery the demands of waging war had set up at Washington, D. C. No one brain, I dare say, has ever grasped the extent and full potential of Naval GHQ on the Potomac."

HE tells a lot about R.H.I.P.—Rank Has Its Privileges. "There was, for instance, the case of the sail locker room that was made secure for 48 hours and couldn't work on asbestos gloves for the hot shell men because the sailmaker had been ordered to work on chintz curtains for the captain's cabin."

He learned about cumshaw—the petty grafts and rackets. Like that of the top officers on one ship who gave their wives' shopping lists to the wardrobe mess treasurer, who bought groceries with the mess red and blue points and delivered them in the ship's station wagon.

There are classic stories about one Admiral who lost his corset, and a description of another Admiral's party—paid for by forced collections from officers of lower rank.

For the enlisted man in the Navy, the Lieutenant's cap goes off. "He had to live not only at the bottom of the social ladder," he writes, "but also at the foot of the steel one leading down from regions of fresh air and sunlight. Sometimes his bunk and locker were 20 or 30 frames apart and on different decks."

SPORTS

BY HARRY GRAYSON

NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK (NEA)—The Red Sox sputtered and the Tigers sagged down, but the Yankees helped themselves to turn the American League race into a runaway.

Figures reveal why the revitalized Bronx Bombers now have things their own way.

The New York club dominates in practically every department. The Yankees didn't get started until Larry MacPhail cracked the whip after they dropped three straight to the Indians late in May.

The Yankees' team batting average is .272. The Indians are next with .255.

Two Yankees are in the league's top five tappers, Joe DiMaggio with .339, the surprising George McQuinn with .328. The Yanks have the most hits, 673, the White Sox being the runners-up with 606.

The Yanks show the way in doubles with 112, triples with 31 and home runs with 1026. The Sox are next with 882, a considerable difference that tells quite a story.

BUCKY HARRIS' Buckos have batted in 348 runs to the Red Sox' 310, DiMaggio with 50, Bill Johnson with 46 and Tommy Henrich with 44 being in the first five in this most important department.

Manager Harris expects help from another direction when double-headers catch up with the club—from Charlie Weisoff, who bugged 13 games in his last year as a Yankee, 1943, and 21 in the American Association the previous season. The Sausalito Slingshot has been retarded by a spike wound on his heel inflicted by Lou Boudreau of the Indians when he covered first base.

That is the tale of the Yankees of 1947, a story highly illuminated by the smashing comebacks of Joe DiMaggio and George McQuinn.

President's Mother Dies

Of all the photos taken of the late Mrs. Martha Ellen Truman and her son, the President, none, shows the extremely close relationship between the two as well as the one above, taken at Grandview airport in 1945, when she advised the President, about to leave for Washington, to "be a good boy."

Game of Death

Mrs. Jane Gulledge, 18-year-old Dearborn, Mich., bride of two months, is shown in police headquarters following questioning after death of her husband, Lloyd, 25. The pair had been playing "Russian roulette," in which one bullet is inserted in the cylinder of a revolver. Participants take turns spinning the cylinder, holding the gun up to their heads, and pulling the trigger. Jane spun and won, but Lloyd lost. Police say they had been drinking. (NEA Telephoto).

Mrs. Joe Moore is a patient in the West Texas Hospital for medical treatment.

M. L. King has been dismissed from the West Texas Hospital where he received medical treatment.

Falsies Sweep Country But It's Nothing New

NEW YORK (UP)—"Falsies" are highly popular with the fair sex these days, but it is not precisely a new trend.

Figures released by the Corset and Brassiere Association of America show that 5,000,000 pairs of bust pads, as they are known to the trade, were sold in this country last year.

That would appear to be mass deceit on a grand scale. However the association said, there is nothing closer to death!"

Heartsease

What's Your Value of a Moment?

Is time your most valued possession? Nearly everyone has a clock or watch. Does its ticking ever disturb you? Do you stop to think, once in a while that every time that clock ticks away a moment, you are minus one more moment of life?

It's a rather gruesome thought, in a way. Moments, minutes, hours, days, years.

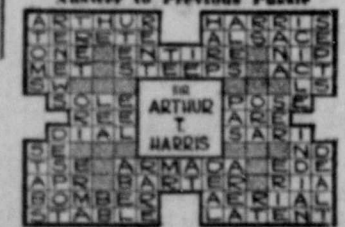

Certainly it is, the moments, brief as they are, that grow into the years. We would be foolish indeed to drive ourselves crazy by watching the clock, knowing our fingernails, and muttering to ourselves:

"Another moment gone! I'm Time."

Ready for a Look at the Past

A collection of 20,000 of Lincoln's personal papers, which Robert Todd Lincoln, his son, willed should not be made public until 21 years after his death, was opened one minute past midnight, July 26, in the Library of Congress in Washington. Here Dr. C. Percy Powell, kneeling, of the Manuscripts Division, opens the safe with librarian Luther H. Evans watching, as eager scholars awaited a glimpse at the papers. (NEA Telephoto).

ATTEND THE JAYCEE RODEO

Great Britain would make a special effort to renew trade talks with Russia, which broke down last week.
 Cripps said the Moscow negotiations collapsed solely because the British and Russians could not agree on revised terms for repayment of $400,000,000 in credits extended by Britain to the Soviets in 1941 for civil supplies.

Prospective home builders are advised by insurance experts to include in their construction plans niches or cabinets for fire extinguishers.

STUDY PROVES QUAIL GET THE VITAMINS

MADISON, Wis. (UP)—There's one thing you can stop worrying about: Quail are not suffering from a lack of vitamin "A".

There was a flurry of concern over that possibility about a year ago when a scientist published a paper on the extremely high vitamin "A" requirements of quail and pheasants.

The wildlife people knew domesticated fowl are susceptible to vitamin "A" deficiency during the winter and that their diets have to be supplemented with the addition of vitamins to their feed. Their conclusion was that wild life must have the same problem when snow covers their usual diet of green plant growth. Therefore, they feared, quail must be suffering from a lack of vitamins.

The Wild Life Management Institute, Washington, D. C., assigned Donald Thompson, to find out if that could be the case. Thompson worked in the laboratories of the University of Wisconsin College of Agriculture for nine months, studying the livers of pheasants sent to him by field workers with permits to trap and shoot the birds in or out of season.

Thompson found that the birds, by scratching around in frozen cornfields, managed to accumulate a store of vitamin "A" even larger than during the summer. He said that even in the depth of winter, their little livers had stored up enough of the vitamin to meet the requirements of a full-grown man for 14 days.

Airport Activities

Speedy says---

Charlie Strong and A. N. Ridings flew Mr. Ridings' Cessna 140 to Wichita Falls, Fort Worth and back to Ranger, Sunday. Tommy Strong and Harvey King flew a long in formation with them over the same route. Tommy and Harvey were flying Harvey's Cessna 140.

Leonard Pounds received his private license last Sunday. A Kirk gave him the check ride necessary to receive the license.

Jack E. Parker, Mingo, received his private license last Saturday.

Con F. Poyner took his first duel cross country Sunday. The trip was from Ranger to Fort Worth and return with George Bale riding as instructor.

Dr. and Mrs. Clyde Craig were visitors in Ranger over the week-end. Dr. Craig flew his Bellanca Crusader from Lubbock to Ranger in one hour and twenty minutes which is not exactly poking along.

Walter Gilliam, Dallas, landed in Ranger Sunday morning on a student X-C from Dallas to Sweetwater. He is flying with the Masters and Bullock Flying Service in Dallas.

Alton Hutehinson landed here Sunday on his way to Nebraska. He was flying a J-3 Cub crop duster and was going to Nebraska for the dusting season.

Aerial advertising for the rodeo was very successful Saturday. It attracted so much attention that the Jaycees have decided to continue the advertising through Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. People in Breckenridge called the airport to ask if "Speedy" was over town while the motorcade was there.

Faulkinberry, Browning Wedding Held Recently

In a double ring ceremony performed Saturday, July 19, at 7:30 p.m. in the First Baptist Church in Brownwood, Miss Thelma Maxine Faulkinberry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Faulkinberry of Brownwood, became the bride of Hayett L. Browning, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Browning of Ranger.

Dr. Harry Lee Spencer read the vows before an altar banked with fern, palms, and baskets of maroon daisies, gladioluses, asters and feverfew. Pewes were marked with white satin ribbon.

Frederick L. Thiebaud played the wedding music which included "I Love You Truly," "Melody," and Schubert's "Serenade." Gabriel Fransee sang "The Lord's Prayer" and Mrs. Fransee sang "Because" by Guy d'Hardelot.

Mrs. Eulas M. Oliver of Winslow, Arizona, attended the bride as matron of honor and bridesmaids were Misses Tommie Ruth Browning of Ranger, sister of the groom, and Ruth Wilson of Brownwood.

Jack Browning of Ranger attended his brother as best man and ushers were Eulas M. Oliver and Irvine Oliver of Winslow, Arizona.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of traditional white satin. It was fashioned with a polonaise, which formed a bustle in the back, a straight skirt, fitted bodice and cap sleeves. Her fingertip veil was held by a tiara of Iris rose crochet and seed pearls. She wore white satin mits and an antique brooch, and carried a white Bible, which belonged to her great grandmother. The Bible was topped with pink bride's lilies and a shower of ribbon.

Bridal attendants wore eyelet embroidery dresses, with bustle effect, and headresses of net. Their bouquets were of mixed pastel flowers matching their dresses, which were blue, yellow and pink.

The bride's mother wore a gown of steel blue crepe, fashioned with a drape skirt, and short sleeves.

Mrs. Browning's gown was of blue rayon crepe fashioned with a drape skirt and long sleeves. Their cottages were of fuchsia carnations.

Following the ceremony a reception was held on the back lawn of the bride's home. Receiving guests were members of the wedding party and the bride and groom's parents.

The bride's table was overlaid with a white linen cloth and held the wedding cake, which was a three-tiered confection, topped with a miniature bride and groom under an archway of silver bells.

The table was centered with twin green vases of white verbenas, flanked with white taper in crystal holders. Tall baskets of maroon daisies made a background for the table.

Miss Ruth Todd served the cake and Mrs. C. L. Scott, Jr., of Waco was at the register. Mrs. C. L. Scott, Sr., and Mrs. Acia Hoover of Ranger presided in the gift room.

When the couple left on a short wedding trip the bride wore a gold print dress with white accessories.

The bride was graduated from Brownwood High School a n d Howard Payne College. Mr. Browning is a graduate of Desdemona High School and attended Daniel Baker College for two years and will graduate from Howard Payne this summer. He served in the Army for three years, including 18 months in the European theatre.

The couple will make their home in Bangs where he will be principal and coach.

Those from Ranger attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Browning, Edith, Sharon, Lynn Douglas, Tommie Ruth, and Jack Browning, a n d Mrs. Acia Hoover.

Vesper Choir To Rehearse Tuesday

Barbecue Supper Given Saturday

The supper was served buffet style on the spacious lawn of the home with the supper tables arranged under the great oak trees. Attractive arrangements of zinnias centered the tables.

The hosts were assisted in entertaining by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gholson of Dallas and Mr. and Mrs. John Bracken of Fort Worth.

A large group of Ranger friends enjoyed the occasion.
