Controls On Retail Credit End Nov. 1

Well...
I Dunno,
But...

Mr. Wadec Youseff Dakour left Fort Worth by plane Friday morning where he will join his family already in New York and from there sail for an extended visit in Beyrouth, Lebanon, Syria. In case you don't know who we're talking about, that D. Joseph. The name above is his true Syrian name but when he came to the United States, Syrian friends already here advised him to change his name to one more easily understood by the Americans.

The Josephs, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph, Azette and Freddie, plan to stay as long as they wish and the two boys will enter the American University in Syria. They're taking along their car so that getting about over there won't be any problem.

At the request of the Times, Mr. Joseph promised to see if he couldn't get Freddie to send us back some descriptive articles about the country.

"A friend in need is a friend indeed" so the old saying goes and just such is Mrs. J. D. Johnson to the M. S. Wade family. The two families live next door to each other and recently after Mrs. Wade who had major surgery in a Fort Worth Hospital was returned to her home, Mrs. Johnson takes over the management of the household and the two Wade children.

Papa Wade says he doesn't know what he'd done if it hadn't been for Mrs. Johnson.

Incidentally while we're on the subject of friends in need, a former Ranger resident, lies dying in Rising Star. They tell us that there's no hope for the recovery of H. T. Schooley who is suffering from an advanced state of cancer and a word from friends here would cheer his remaining days. As we remember the Schooleys, they were always very thoughtful of their friends and we might return the favor. A cheery card or a visit might lighten the burden for the whole family.

Don't forget the meeting at Licasa tonight. Those who plan to go are asked to meet at the Chamber of Commerce at 7 o'clock and from there go to the meeting.

This is a good will deal and an opportunity for the business people of Ranger to make friends with the people of that community. Like Edwin George said in a recent talk before the Rotary Club, "Those that know you like you best," and it's much easier to draw trade to Ranger if we know the people in our trade territory.

The meeting tonight, is your opportunity. It is planned to help you, so do your part by going.

Another wartime federal control will end on November 1. That's the control on retail credit and installment buying.

One by one the restrictions of the war years are dying but still we can't say the world's at peace. And apparently we've got some distance to go before it will be.

Masking of streets for parking purposes will get underway again tonight and people have been asked to remove hill cars from streets so that the work can go ahead.

This is a part of the program to improve traffic conditions in Ranger and your cooperation will be a contribution to the work not only to you but to the fellow that has forgotten the request, remind him of it.

Crust Franksters Soaked
WICHITA, Kan. (UP)—It may have been on consultation to Casade, a cocker spaniel, but the judge fined each of two men $50—the legal limit—for tying a can to her tail and tossing lighted firecrackers into it.

Record supplies of canned fruit juices are predicted for the coming winter.

BACK TO ENGLAND TO DIE

Mrs. Nina Willgrass Delcoure, 25, her husband, Charles, and their daughter, Carol, 4-months, paused at Westover Field, Mass., before leaving for her home in Norwich, England. Mrs. Delcoure is unaware that she is dying from an incurable cancer. (NEA Telephoto).

Club Boys From Five Counties End Cisco Camp

Club boys from five counties completed their fourth annual two-day camp at Lake Cisco Thursday afternoon. There were 147 club boys, their fathers and local leaders from Palo Pinto, Stephens, Shackelford and Callahan Counties besides Eastland County at the annual camp according to J. M. Cooper, County Agricultural Agent. The camp started early Wednesday afternoon with a general assembly and wound up the two-day fun and relaxation at 4 o'clock on Thursday afternoon.

Swimming, boxing, pole pillow fighting, track events and other contests held the spotlight at the two day's camp. Ribbons were awarded the winners in the various contests. A trip was made through the State fish hatchery just below the Lake Cisco picnic grounds.

Jack Cox, state representative of Breckenridge, talked to the group on Wednesday night on "Americanism". Through the courtesy of the AG Motor Co. in Cisco two films on safe driving were shown, supplemented by talks on driving safely by State Highway Patrolmen from Breckenridge and Eastland.

As in the past the boys carried most of their food from home and hired a camp cook.

It was one of the best boys camps that has ever been held there according to Cooper who had charge of the boxing, the pole pillow fighting and other arrangements.

TWO NEW SUBPENAS ISSUED IN HOWARD HUGHES CASE

WASHINGTON—A senate committee today fired two new subpoenas in a stormy battle with Howard Hughes when the millionaire plane maker refused to hunt up a missing witness and balked at producing his business records.

Chairman Homer Ferguson, R., Mich., of a war investigating subcommittee looking into Hughes plane contracts at one point threatened to cite a Hughes associate with contempt if the demanded records were not produced.

Hughes' third day of testimony before the subcommittee churned up repeated clashes between him and Ferguson and between the Chairman and Noah Dietrich, executive president of the Hughes Tool Co.

The loudest wrangle was over John W. Meyer, Hughes' pudgy $290 a week party-thrasher who already has told the subcommittee about spending $164,000 in five years on entertainment in his boss' behalf.

Hughes flatly rejected Ferguson's demand that he produce Meyer by noon CST. He said he didn't know where Meyer was and didn't see why he should dig him up so the committee could "put him on the witness stand for publicity purposes."

Curb Painting Of Side Streets Begins Tonight

Painting of parking spaces on downtown curbs will be resumed tonight and it is urged that all cars be removed from the streets by 10 o'clock tonight.

The fire department hopes to complete the painting of North and South Austin streets and in order to do this all cars will have to be removed from that street.

It was explained that the workers hope to work Saturday and Sunday nights completing the painting along the other streets that cross Main street and so cars will have to be removed those two nights also.

Hershel Angus, fire and police commissioner, asked that the people cooperate with the request in order that the work may be speeded.

CHURCHILL BALKED IN CRISIS MOVE

LONDON—The House of Commons today rejected Winston Churchill's motion to sidetrack the Labor government's bill to give it wartime powers over the nation despite his warning that it was a "blank check for totalitarian powers."

After hearing Churchill assail the bill as a potentially sinister instrument of dictatorship, Commons gave it a vote of 251 to 148. It was an exceptionally light vote. The House has 640 members.

The ballot of less than two to one for the government's bill was something short of a smashing victory for Prime Minister Clement E. Attlee's wrists program aside from the lambasting the bill took from Churchill, the vote reflected discontent with the government plan which had been heard on all sides since Attlee unveiled it Wednesday.

Churchill spoke in commons for the first time since he underwent a hernia operation. He had not planned to return actively to the political arena until autumn.

The government's demand for broad powers was denounced by Churchill as a "negation of British freedom and the way of living in time of peace."

4-H Club Girls From Eastland-Stephens Meet

The program included swimming, skating, games, braiding, glass etching.

Highlight of the camp was a demonstration on flower arrangement by Mrs. W. W. Fewell of Cisco.

Eastland County girls presented a style show. Blue ribbon group selected were:

- Mary June White, Morton Valley 4-H Club;
- Barbara Reese, Scranton 4-H Club;
- Sally Ruth Hicks, Scranton 4-H Club;
- Neta Fay Lindsey, Olden 4-H Club;
- Marjorie Hendricks, Olden 4-H Club.

Agents attending were Jean Bain, Stephens Co., H. D. Agent, and Helen Marquardt, Eastland Co. H. D. Agent.

Hoover Urges Separate Peace Without Russia

SAN FRANCISCO—Former President Herbert Hoover today urged the United States to make a separate peace—without Russia, if necessary—to "reverse the tide of disaster" sweeping the postwar world.

In a statement prepared for release on his 73rd birthday, Hoover blamed "one nation alone" for the condition of the world. He said he thought that co-operation from that country, meaning Russia, was "improbable."

EXPECT BIG INCREASE IN COTTON CROP

WASHINGTON—The Department of Agriculture today forecast the 1947 U. S. cotton crop at 11,844,000 bales, 3,402,000 bales more than last year.

The forecast, based on Aug. 1 information was 546,000 bales less than the 1936-45 average. Last year's crop of 8,640,000 bales was the smallest since 1921.

The Department predicted a yield per acre of 270.8 pounds, 33.5 pounds more than above the average in cultivation July 1, the Department computed harvest acreage this year at 20,989,000 acres. This would be 19.2 per cent more than the 1946 harvested acreage but 12 per cent less than the 1936-45 average.

Prospective production is larger than last year in all states except South Carolina, the Department said. Texas, with an increase of about 1,500,000 bales, accounted for nearly half the gain.

Clark Agrees To Investigate Blackmail Charge

WASHINGTON—Attorney General Tom Clark today assured Sen. Owen Brewster, R., Me., he will look into the "blackmail" charges made against the Senator by Howard Hughes.

Brewster had asked for the justice department investigation. In a letter dated yesterday, Clark replied to Brewster—

"Thank you for your communication of August 2, enclosing a copy of your statement to the press.

"When the committee investigation is concluded, the matter will receive my attention. I appreciate your courtesy in making your statement available to me."

Truman Turns Sleuths On GOP Economy Claims
WASHINGTON—President Truman, openly skeptical, turned loose his budgetary sleuths today on Republican claims that the GOP-controlled Congress asked U. S. taxpayers billions of dollars.

Mr. Truman said he was going after facts. When he gets them, he said he will make his own report.

Some Republicans have claimed savings as high as $6,000,000,000 Democrats scoff at such figures, saying the cut is closer to $1,000,000,000.

The President himself made plain his belief that "so-called savings" may turn out to be far less than a casual glance might indicate.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(NEA)—Norman Armour, new Assistant Secretary of State and very fresh on the job, got thrown to the lions his first week in Washington by having to take Secretary Marshall's weekly press conference. He did his best by saying in the softest of voices and gentlest of manners that he had no information on that question, there was nothing new on that, and so-and-so was not in his field of competence. It was all over in a hurry with no news. On the way out one reporter asked "nothing in mock seriousness, "How did you interpret that last mumble?"

Edson

If the new tripartite commission of congressmen, administrators and businessmen to investigate government bureaucracy spends only one day on each unit, it will take nearly seven years to complete the job. The investigation was called for by a resolution introduced by Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., of Massachusetts, and Congressman Clarence Brown of Ohio. The idea was to see if more simplicity and efficiency could be introduced. Comptroller General Lindsay C. Warren says the investigation will be a waste of time and effort, but nobody paid him any attention.

As Sen. George Aiken of Vermont points out, there are now 2370 principal offices on the federal government organization chart. There are 879 bureaus, 83 sections, 128 services, 119 branches, 549 offices and 621 divisions. As a first step to standardize their operations, Senator Aiken suggests that they be renamed. He would put at the top level only 10 departments, those headed by cabinet officers. Next in rank would be the independent agencies which he would call bureaus. Then in the departments and bureaus would be divisions, branches, sections and units, ranking in that order.

IN the Senate tax reduction debate, Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney of Wyoming quoted President Harding's Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon to the effect that debt reduction was not a bad thing for business, as some people contend. Sen. Millard Tydings of Maryland interrupted to remark, "In those days they used to listen to Mellon. In these days all they want to do is cut a melon."

Over 7700 applications for trademarks on radio programs have been received by the U. S. Patent Office for registry under the new Lanham Trademark act, passed by the last Congress. The old law was written before radio programs were common enough to have titles. But now the various "forums" and "hours" have a definite identity and trade value and they are eligible for registry on a supplementary list. A test case will be set up on one application to get the law interpreted by the courts, then the other applications will be acted upon. The new law is much more liberal than the old, in that it permits trademarks to contain geographical terms and surnames. Only that is that the trademark must be capable of distinguishing the applicant's goods or services. Proving violation of trademark will be made a lot easier, too.

ANOTHER side angle on the meat situation comes from John L. Lewis' new contract. Coal miners are said to be great pork eaters. Their new wage agreement, guaranteeing good pay for a full year, is expected to shoot up pork consumption in the nearly half-million families in coal mining communities.

John B. Blandford, Jr. has returned to Washington after a year in China as financial adviser to Chiang Kai-shek, and he has cleared up a minor mystery. Before going to China, Blandford had been with TVA, Budget Bureau and the wartime Housing administration. It was generally supposed he was "kicked upstairs" to China to make way for Wilson Wyatt as Housing Expediter. The real story is that Blandford had once told the President that he would like a foreign assignment some time.

SPORTS

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Now is the time for chairman Eddie Egan of the New York Boxing Commission to relinquish Rebeco Silvio Barbellina and "recognize" him as middleweight champion, which he undoubtedly is.

The license of young Barbellina, who is Rocky Graziano, will be restored ultimately, perhaps in late September or early October, when 1948 licenses are to be doled out, but Egan is as smart a politician as he should be. He'll act of his own volition before his hand is forced by public opinion.

After all, Graziano was merely a political football for the District Attorney's office at a time when sports news was hot subject, exploited by the Fileback-Hapes professional football scandal. The D. A.'s office booted Graziano's case into the lap of Egan, who booted the Rock-a-Ry Kid out of New York boxing, which turned out to be a great break to Chicago and the state of Illinois.

BY now the football has grown bigger than the Knicks. Graziano has agreed to help New York's Police Athletic League in the drive against juvenile delinquency, which has grown to be such a national problem that Attorney General Tom Clark enlisted the aid of the country's sports writers. Enlisting the aid of Graziano, the PAL shows vastly more insight and wisdom than Attorney General Clark and the New York Boxing Commission. The police organization realizes that one Rocky Graziano, working in cooperation with the authorities, is worth more to the cause than all the coppers, sports writers and preachers in the land. Wild tough kids are only human. They have their dolls, but too frequently these dolls are beyond the pale of the law, working against society. Their lawless, swashbuckling deeds enhance them with a glamor that appeals to adolescents, who seek to ape them, and unless curbed in time, grow up to be outlaws themselves. Graziano was a dead-end kid in his younger days, had many a brush with the law, could not conform in the Army Boxing proved the safety valve which provided an outlet for his ebullient spirit, gradually weaned him from the path that already had brought him to a reform school, bade fair to lead to the penitentiary or worse.

Kids throughout the nation, wavering between right and wrong, worship Graziano. He is their man, has become an idol, the kind which is idolized when he revels in bang-bang tales of cops and robbers, and leaned toward the robber. Surely Eddie Egan, active in a youth movement in New York, interested in juvenile delinquency, can see the powerful appeal of Rocky Graziano to the bad boys of America.

CLEVELAND TRANSIT GETS BOND ISSUE SHOT IN ARM

By Kenneth Fod
United Press Staff Correspondent
CLEVELAND (UP)—Faced with the need to provide faster mass public transportation despite outmoded equipment and more riders, Cleveland City Council approved a $22,000,000 transit bond issue. Like many other large cities, Cleveland found itself confronted with transportation problems at war's end. Not only had much out-worn equipment been forced to last through the war years but emergency housing created out-of-the-way communities crying for extension of public transportation facilities.

municipally owned since 1942, asked for money—funds for rapid transit lines, to replace weary busses and street cars, some in service since 1913, and capital improvements.

The bond issue was approved by the city fathers on June 16.

It was CTS's first step toward providing the service demanded by its rider-owners. Included in the $22,000,000 appropriation was $8,000,000 for a west side "rapid" transit line; $8,000,000 for capital improvements and $6,000,000 for debt redemption.

Although CTS General Manager Donald Hyde did not call it a real rapid transit line, since it terminated in busy Public Square, center of the city, he felt it was a step in the right direction. For the most part, the line will run over a private right-of-way.

Actually it may be considered the first step in plans for an east-west "rapid" transportation system. By charging an extra nickel fare—tariff will be 15 cents—officials hope to amortize the debt. It is expected to carry 15,000,000 riders yearly.

Another $8,000,000 was for capital improvements on gages, car barns, maintenance equipment and other things necessary to "keep 'em rolling."

Plans called for CTS to double its existing supply of busses and trackless trolleys by 1948. Some 250 trackless and 500 busses have been ordered.

Fare hikes were small although Cleveland's public transportation pay 10 cents straight fare with a penny for one transfer, or may purchase a weekly pass good for parison to some other cities. Riders fares are considered high in comparison to other cities. Riders pay an unlimited number of rides for $1.25. Too boost revenue, strips of six tickets good for six rides and costing 50 cents were eliminated. Several express bus lines to suburbs charged 15 cents straight fare.

A survey of air shipments to U. S. department stores shows that 53 per cent comes from New York, seven per cent from Philadelphia, six from Chicago, four from Boston and three from Los Angeles, according to Railway Express.

International Touch Added By Foreign Pupils

AUSTIN, Tex. (UP)—There's an international air on the campus of the University of Texas this summer with 125 students from 33 foreign countries mingling with native Texans in the classrooms.

Many of the students could—if they would—tell tales of the all out artillery barrage of the British Eighth Army at El Alemeln or of stealing the evil-smelling concoction the Germans called gasoline for an attempted escape from Nazi occupation troops in Norway.

They could relate how Central American revolutions affect their banking accounts or who the Japanese did to their people in China before the American Military made them cry "uncle" aboard the Battleship Missouri in Tokyo Bay.

Joe Neal, advisor to foreign students on the campus, said that more and more students from foreign nations are registering at Texas U. Contrary to common belief, he said, most of them are paying their own way.

The high enrollment figure places Texas among the big 10 for foreign student enrollment throughout the nation, Neal said. The state itself ranks sixth among states for international enrollment in its institutions and more than half of the foreign students in the state go to the University of Texas.

The foreigner is easy to spot on the building-jammed campus until he has been around a week or 10 days. When he first registers, he's wearing the stiff formal clothing of his native land.

In short order, however, he's decked out in the conventional American student garb of slacks and a sport shirt.

With the increased enrollment of foreign students, the University has instituted a number of special courses to assist them in working with the English language and to gain a better understanding of how the government of the United States works.

Airport Activities

Speedy says--

Jimmy Higgenbotham and Bill Lester were the first students of the Ranger Flying Service to solo at night. Both of them soloed the Cessna last night, and both did a good job.

Parking on the spot over which a landing aircraft will fly is similar to boating on a lake in the middle of a forest fire. There isn't much chance of getting hurt in either case, but why take that chance. I refer to the automobiles that park directly opposite the North South runway on the road running North of the airport; especially while night flying is in progress. Ranger has so many places to park that would much safer and less confusing to the pilot that it seems hardly worthwhile to park underneath a landing aircraft. For those that wish to observe the night flying, I suggest that you drive on the parking area provided. We will welcome you and make certain that you see everything.

WILDE RETIRES; STAFFORD NEW KELLOGG DISTRICT MANAGER

ADOLPH H. WILDE

L. P. STAFFORD

Adolph H. Wilde, for seventeen years Texas District Manager for the Kellogg Company, cereal manufacturers of Battle Creek, Michigan, has announced his retirement, effective August 31st.

Wilde, who said he was retiring for reasons of ill health, plans to devote his time to the further development of his 180-acre farm near Grapevine, Texas.

Wilde will be succeeded by Lon Stafford, formerly District Manager for Kellogg of the Kansas City territory.

Stafford accepted employment with the Kellogg Company in 1925 from a position he had held for several years as Coach of all sports and a Professor of Mathematics at the grade and high schools of Vergennes, Illinois.

From 1925 to 1930, he contacted jobbers and retail outlets handling Kellogg products.

Early in 1930 and to 1935, he worked directly under the Battle Creek home office of the Kellogg Company, serving as Field Representative and covering the entire United States on special sales work. It was during this period that he served in the Dallas territory on two different occasions under Wilde. In 1935, Stafford was promoted to the position of District Manager of the Richmond, Virginia territory, which position he held until 1938.

Then came another promotion to the position of District Manager of the Kansas City territory, from which post he was transferred to the Dallas district territory, which includes the bulk of Texas and a small part of New Mexico.

Remembrance

There are certain happenings, certain moments or events in each life that serve as a sustaining influence throughout the life cycle. The Lord perhaps meant it that way.

There are brilliant moments of happiness throughout the years that are too beautiful to be endured for long. All the unhappiness, the viciousness, the thastiness, the viciousness, the thastiness for a little while at least because of these times that come to us all.

A sudden lilt of music, the odor of a forgotten perfume, the panorama of certain scenery . . . bring it back . . . that happy, headlong time of lost happiness.

There is not a person in the world who has not had such experiences and not a person lives in the world who has not had occasion to fall back in memory to a better time in order to endure a bad time.

And its good that we can go back in memory . . . to tie the past with the present and to go on into the future . . . braver men and women . . . perhaps it is a part of God's plan.

Always I shall remember once when I was very ill . . . waking up in the night . . . momentarily lost and afraid and sick . . . hearing the sound of someone breathing slowly and quietly near me . . . turning my head to the soft pool of light coming from my bedside lamp and seeing the face of my friend bowed serenely over her knitting. Just sitting. Just being there. All my life the benediction of that golden moment will bless and sustain me . . . someone who loved me dearly had come quietly to sit, just to be with me, while I was ill and had no knowledge of her presence. That silent moment of companionship and friendship was filled with unspoken words, love, affection, loyalty, everything that selflessness can mean, and since that moment, it has served me on many occasions to lift up a tired heart and to go on.

You're had moments like that, too. Of course you have. Just acknowledge them in your heart . . . and remember . . . and then use them.

And pay them back. That is the important thing.

Not the least of Palestine's virtues is its three-day weekend. Friday is the Moslem sabbath, Saturday the Jewish and Sunday the Christian. It's wonderful.

UNPRODUCTIVE LAND, HIGH BIRTH RATE IN PALESTINE

By Robert C. Miller
United Press Staff Correspondent
JERUSALEM (UP) — Notes from a Palestine reporter's notebook:

A Holy Land contrast: The unproductive land and the productive population. The Arabs produce 54 children per thousand people; the Jews 29. The American average is 22. The death rate here has been lowered to that of ours just before World War I . . .

More statistics: there is approximately one British soldier in Palestine for every six Jews. Guard duty for the British is a 48-hour affair; two hours on and four off for the first 24 hours; then two on and two off for the remainder. Unreported are the numerous cases of sleeping sentries court-martialed . . .

The Moslem religion forbids the wearing of the head in a mosque, but demands removal of shoes. No brims on Moslem hats either; the Koran says no man should ever shield his eyes from the sun . . .

Palestine's greatest need, aside from peace, is child labor legislation. Many Arab industrialist experienced great unhappiness at the UNSCOP press for publishing the ages of youngsters seen working in local mills . . .

The Eucalyptus tree, a native of Australia, has been used here most successfully in swamp draining. It takes more water from the soil than any other tree. Jewish chemists are experimenting with the pulp in the manufacture of paper, coastal and interior sections of Malaria is quite prevalent in many Palestine . . .

Most memorable incident on the recent UNSCOP tour—the amazed looking delegates when greeted by Jewish boy scouts at a collective farm carrying proudly aloft the red flag. It was minus the hammer and sickle; the farmers claimed it was the French Revolution worker's flag . . .

The Arabians guide their horses with western hackamores. They never use a bit. Too cruel . . .

Nothing new about pre-fabricated houses. The Sea of Galilee Arabs have been building them for centuries; they're made from reeds woven into huge mats laced onto wooden framework . . .

Palestine is the land of the tattoo mark. The Arabs identify the tribes by various tattooing; the Jews got theirs in the Nazi prison camps where their serial numbers were tattooed on their wrists. The Beduin women wear their wealth on their face. The gold coins take the place of jewelry and dangle

Wise Weather Guessing Pays Off In Tomatoes

HASTINGS, Neb. (UP) — On the morning of May 27 Art Alberding studied the sky and called his family into action in the tomato patch.

The Alberdings pulled 1,600 tomato plants set out two weeks before and put them in the basement. Before the day was over, an inch of snow covered the ground and the temperature was considerably below freezing.

The next day the sun was hot and the snow was gone. Alberding

Don't Look Now . Girls But You Were Robbed

READING, Pa. (UP) — There's no doubt about it, the blond thief who walked into a dress shop here was handsome . . .

While five salesgirls turned their heads to look at him, he nonchalantly picked up $60 worth of dry goods and put them in a cardboard container. Then he walked out.

Minutes after the stranger disappeared, the girls realized they had been robbed.
