PRICE FIVE CENTS No. 109

No Return To Price Controls Expected

Well... I Dunno, But...

When kids set their heads to go to a football game they leave no stone unturned to manage to make it. Last week when a group of college boys and girls discovered that a bus was not available to take them to the football game in Terrell, they didn't let that stop 'em. They just accepted an offer made by the Ranger Transfer Company and went to Terrell in a moving van.

The deal was that they could go in the truck if they'd pay the expense of the trip and this they were glad to do just to get to go. Would have loved to have been around to see 'em crawling out.

We don't guess we were ever any sicker over a ball game than over that whirlwind defeat that Overton gave the Bulldogs Friday night. Just to sit there all thrilled through almost four quarters and then have those last five minutes turn up what they did was heart rending.

The Bulldogs really played ball through most of the game and provided a lot of thrills for the fans but something sure happened to 'em in that last quarter.

But talk about your money's worth those Bulldog Pups really gave it to the crowd between halves. Fearlessly they hit that line and ground play netted 'em plenty of yardage. That was a right nice initiation of those new pups.

Mrs. Rena Conway of Mineral Wells, formerly of Ranger and the first society editor of the Ranger Daily Times, is California bound and with expenses paid. She won the trip in a radio contest. For several weeks the Mineral Wells radio gave each morning a program of music with titles of songs unannounced. The person that could name the most of the tunes was to get the trip. Mrs. Conway named 13 out of 15 to win the prize.

Bon voyage, Mam.

Not all of the praise goes to the football boys for Friday night's game. We'd like to put in a plug for those pep leaders and for the band. Both turned out excellent performances and added color and spirit to the game. Yes, sir, both of 'em did all right.

We hear by grapevine that Father Duesman is being transferred from here to Abilene. We couldn't contact him this morning to get the details but whatever they are, his moving is Ranger's loss.

Not only has he served well as a priest of his church but he has devoted much time to the children of the parish and of St. Rita's school and was one of the best scoutmasters that Ranger has ever had. The latter work he took very seriously and his troops, we hear, are really bemoaning their loss.

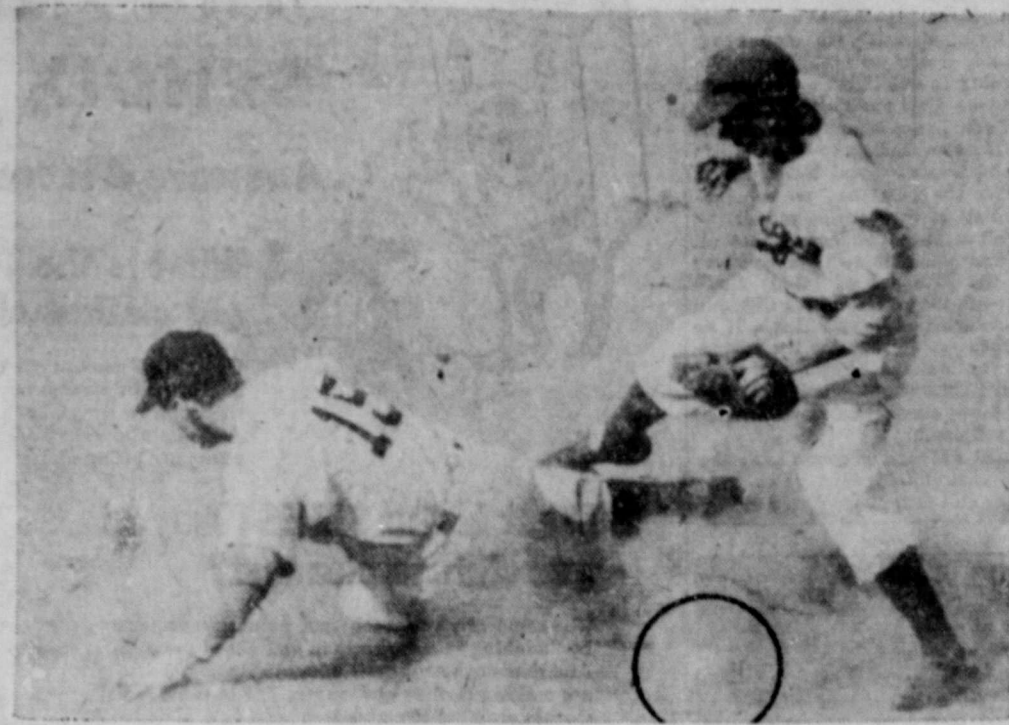

Yes, Abilene's gain is certainly our loss.

Here are the Bulldog Pups that were on parade in their new uniforms Friday night. Incidentally, in case you've forgotten, those uniforms were bought for the boys by the Quarterback club.

Here are some of the future Bulldogs, Jackie Hummel, Donald Ray Edlemann, Billie Patterson, Red Smith, Billie Simpson, J. D. Harper, Earnest Wilhelm, Max Wade, Wance Hargraves, Johnny Gay, Bobby Hooks, Donald Varner, Tommy O'Shields, Mark Huff, Arriel Wheat, Conrad Kelly, Peter Everett, J. L. Baines, Lee Crawford, Herbert Williams, Jimmy Bonney, Sandie Comancho, Eugene Howell, Al Tunc, Weldon Cunningham, Edward Stephens, Jerry Rushing, Dickie Garrison, Jimmy Cantrell, Jack Allen, Lem Nickelson, Jerry Courson, Rob Brooks, Billy Talley, T. L. Bush, and Billy Ferguson.

At one time it was the custom for engaged couples to wear a favorite flower as a mark of their engagement.

DODGERS WIN IN NINTH

Tom Henrich, Yankee right fielder, is safe at second base as Reese, Dodger shortstop, drops the throw from Jackie Robinson, in the first inning of fourth game of World Series. It was scored as an error for Reese. Ball may be seen in circle. (NEA Telephoto).

Churchill Warns Party To Get Set For An Election

BRIGHTON, Eng. — Winston Churchill, hailed as "the man Britain needs now for a prime minister," told his Conservative Party today to get ready for a general election and the unseating of the laborites at any time. The wartime prime minister capped the annual convention of the Conservative Party with a blast against the labor government. It was cut along the classic lines of "throw the rascals out." He also implicitly assured his followers that a majority of British voters now were on their side.

Amendments Free Thousands of Nazis

BERLIN — Five hundred thousand Nazis were saved today from trial under a ruling by Gen. Lucius D. Clay, the American Military governor. Clay approved three amendments to the denazification law, submitted to him by the German Council of States in the American zone. While they will not allow any important Nazis to escape justice, they will make it possible for military government to finish the job of denazification by next spring.

KRISTENSEN OUSTED COPENHAGEN (UP) — Knut Kristensen resigned as premier today after the radical Liberals teamed with the social Democrats and Communists to win a motion of non-confidence, 80 to 66, in the lower House of Parliament.

R. C. STUARD TO BE 100 WEDNESDAY; WILL HOLD OPEN HOUSE SUNDAY P.M.

Life begins at the second century Wednesday for Robert Crawford Stuard of Ranger and he is celebrating with an open house for his friends Sunday afternoon. Born on October 8, 1847, at Raleigh, Smith County, Mississippi, Robert Crawford Stuard is today observing his one hundredth anniversary at his home, 1204 Young Street, Ranger, Texas. His parents were Benjamin and Nancy Stuard of Smith County, Mississippi. He is the tenth child of a family of twelve children, and the sole survivor. He attended school at Raleigh, and his brother was his teacher.

At the age of 14 he came with his parents to Texas settling in Milan County. This was in the year 1861 at the beginning of the Civil War. Because of his youth, and the further fact that he was underweight, he did not engage in the war; however, his father and brothers fought in the Civil War. He recalls clearly Lincoln's administration as president, and also Lincoln's assassination. On October 22, 1879, he married

JURY DEBATES OVERRELL AND GOLLUM CASES

SANTA ANA, Cal. — The six men and six women jurors who heard 19 weeks of testimony and argument today debated over the fate of heiress Benian Louise Overrell, 18, and her fiancé, Geo. Gollum, 21, accused of murdering her wealthy parents. The jurors were given the case at 4:47 p.m., PST, yesterday and retired to their hotel at 11:52 p.m. after deliberating five hours and 40 minutes without reaching a verdict. They were out to dinner for an hour and 55 minutes.

Deliberations were scheduled to resume this morning. Superior Judge Kenneth L. Morrison planned to keep the jury in session until midnight tonight and again tomorrow night if necessary in an effort to get a verdict. The jurors were obviously relieved to receive the case and end their many weeks of listening to testimony.

Jaycee Meeting Monday Night

A very important meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce will be held Monday night at 8 o'clock at the Ghelson Hotel.

Matters of importance to the group will be brought up and it is urged that every one make his plans to attend.

Students Have Kick-Off Meeting For Their Annual

A kick-off meeting for the Ranger High School annual was held at the school Thursday with Joyce Cole, president of the student council, presiding.

Editors and business managers, Jo Ann Deaton, Velma Lou Rose, Leo Miller and Sammie Elder, were in charge of the program. Miss Rose gave a short report of the school annual clinic which was held in Austin last week and which was attended by the editors and managers of the Bulldog. Sammie Elder gave a short sales talk and launched the advertising campaign for the annual.

At the meeting additional staff members were elected and presented to the student body. Those selected were, art editors, Sonny McGowan and Bobby Gene Williams; sports editors, Jimmy Heinlen and Robert Imholz; club editors, Joan Boyd and Melba Creager; photographers, Billy Eakin and Richard Hodges; snapshot editors, Ollie Rogers and Louise Hill; feature editor, Anita Faye Gryder; bookkeepers, Glenna Weaver and Betty Jean Falls; publicity chairman, Loretta Stephen; sales manager, Georgeanna Rogers and Mary Helen Kirkpatrick; junior representatives, Tony Lewis and Betty Reuter; sophomore representatives, Johnny Marlow and La Gene Bates; freshmen representatives, Carolyn Pruet and Jimmy Bonney.

OVERTON WINS GAME IN LAST FIVE MINUTES

In a last minute rally the Lions of Overton came up from behind Friday night to defeat the Ranger Bulldogs by a score of 13 to 12. The Lions made their two touchdowns and the extra point on one in the last five minutes of play.

Up to that time the game belonged to the Bulldogs with passes and ground play clicking for the two touchdowns. The first score of the game came when after a series of ground plays and passes, Williams went over right tackle from the two yard line. Lanier's pass catches and long runs set the ball up on the 2 yard line. The whole Bulldog line held fast in the first half and opened up numerous holes in the Lions line.

From their own 49 yard line in the second quarter, Bobbie Williams took the ball, ran off left tackle, cut back to his right, picked up blockers and ran the 53 yards for the Bulldogs second touchdown. Deaton failed to convert the extra point with a kick and the half ended 12 to 0 in favor of Ranger.

Ranger received to start the second half and all through the third and all but the last five minutes of the fourth, held their own and threatened several times to score. With five minutes to play the Bulldogs elected to pass from their own 46 yard line, only to have the pass intercepted by Page of the Lions who raced down the field for Overton's first touchdown. They failed to make the extra point.

The Lions kicked to Ranger and after failing to make a first down the Bulldogs punned to Overton. Gregory took the ball back to his own 42 yard line. From there with only 2 minutes to play, the Lions pulled a double reverse and an end to net them a ball on Ranger's 10 yard line. With only one play left, Gregory raced around his right end and over for another touchdown. Collins kicked the extra point to end the game with a score of 13 to 12 for Overton.

Eastland Rites For Mrs. Allen This P. M. At 3

Funeral rites for Mrs. Mayme Allen, 58, will be conducted from the Eastland Baptist church Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock with Rev. Homer J. Starnes of Weatherford, former pastor of the Eastland church officiating. Mrs. Allen passed away at 1:45 Saturday morning.

Survivors include her husband and two sons: W. H. Osbourn, of Frederickburg, and M. H. Osbourn of Abilene, and her mother, Mrs. Ada Holdridge of Eastland.

Born March 28, 1889 in Tarrant county the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Holdridge, she deceased was a member of the Baptist church and a devout Christian. Her husband being deceased, she married Dave Allen in Eastland in 1920. She has lived in Eastland 27 years. She was well known in Eastland where she had numerous friends.

Italy Told U. S. Renounces Share Of Italian Fleet

ROME — Foreign Minister Count Carlo Sforza announced to the Italian Assembly today that the United States has officially renounced her peace treaty share of the Italian fleet and that the American share would be allowed to remain in Italian hands.

Sforza's announcement said Italy would retain at least 40 of her warships. His statement was hailed as the greatest boost to Italian pride since the war and virtually assured a government victory in the vote of confidence scheduled for late today.

Fair Opens With Festive Air

DALLAS — With an air of festivity, the 1947 State Fair of Texas got underway early today with what promised to be the biggest opening day in the Fair's history.

Exhibits which stood ready to fill the eyes of thousands of visitors included everything imaginable and, according to fair officials, more of it than ever before. Although Dallas skies were overcast early today, the weather bureau saw no likelihood of rain during the day, forecasting clearing skies by afternoon.

Boosting the attendance for opening day were to be 45,000 Future Farmers, Future Homemakers and 4-H Club members, as well as 1,500 newspaper and radio men attending a press and radio day barbecue luncheon at noon.

GUNMAN ESCAPES

NEW YORK (UP) — Police reported today that a gunman escaped with an estimated $750,000 in jewelry from the swank upper east-side apartment of Mrs. Sari Hilton today after tying up Mrs. Hilton and a maid and threatening to kill a child in the apartment.

Letters From Readers

Editor's Note—The following suggestions for improvement in the Ranger were submitted to the Times by Hall Walker, former mayor and civic minded citizen.

I read with much interest in your paper of September 7th a statement written by Mr. Wylie regarding the purchase he and his partner, Mr. Simms, made two years ago from the City of Ranger of the N. Y. A. Buildings located on Pine Street.

This week I had a call from Mr. Simms stating that he felt that I was mostly responsible for them not being able to secure the tenth building which is known as the Teen Canteen Building. I want to make myself clear as to my stand on this deal.

When this deal was made the City proposed to sell Mr. Wylie and Mr. Simms nine of the ten N. Y. A. Buildings for a consideration of $5,000.00 and an at-

ACCUSE U. S. OF STARTING GREEK CRISIS

LAKE SUCCESS — Poland branded the United States today the instigator of trouble in Greece charging that American officials have dictated the size of the Greek army and the makeup of the Athens government in carrying out the Truman doctrine.

Dr. Oscar Lange of Poland told the UN General Assembly's political and security committee that the western powers' charges of Communist interference in Greek affairs were "an anticlimax" when compared to the way the United States and Great Britain have tampered with Greek freedom.

In a spirited defense of Russia and its Balkan satellites, Lange charged that the western countries has undertaken the diplomatic battle of the Balkans in the UN because they "feared the consequences of a transfer of power to the democratic forces" in Greece.

Lange said Great Britain began western interference in Greece and the United States "succeeded the British" when it launched the $400,000,000, Truman aid program for Greece and Turkey.

He quoted Greek newspapers to support his claim that the American embassy in Athens had dictated the recent change in the Greek government and that Dwight Griswold, administrator of the Truman doctrine aid to Greece, had determined how big the Greek army would become.

Ranger Junior College To Have Homecoming

Dr. G. C. Boswell announced today that a homecoming for Ranger Junior College ex-students is being planned for Thursday, October 23.

Plans are not yet complete but are in the making. Highlight of the day will be the Ranger-Hillsboro football game in the evening.

Invitations are being prepared and will be mailed out soon.

Junior College Athletic Ass'n Meeting Called

A meeting of the Junior College Athletic Association of Texas has been called for October 26 and will be held in the Kyle Hotel in Temple.

The meeting has been called by Dr. G. C. Boswell, president of the association, and will begin promptly at 1:00 P. M. Purpose of the meeting is to arrange basketball schedules for the east, west, north and south zones of the Association.

GOVERNMENT COUNTING ON VOLUNTARY FOOD SAVING

WASHINGTON — The administration appeared today to be staking all its hopes of meeting Europe's critical food needs on the voluntary cooperation of individual Americans.

Any return to price controls and rationing — for the present at least — seemed out of the question.

Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson last night outlined what presumably is the administration's point of view on mutuals "meet the press" radio program. He said that if voluntary measures won't work nothing will.

His statement was made as Americans were asked to get along without fancy grades of meat skip a little on lard and perhaps forego a couple brands of liquor to save an extra 100,000,000 bushels of grain for Western Europe.

Meanwhile, Charles Luckman, chairman of President Truman's new food committee, scheduled a meeting with representatives of the nations beer manufacturers to see what they can do to help out in the food conservation program.

A large segment of the distilling industry agreed yesterday to quit using wheat for alcohol and to reduce consumption of other grains 50 per cent for the remainder of the food crisis. This might have an early effect on blended whiskey supplies, one industry spokesman said.

Anderson said he was convinced that consumers and farmers will cooperate to put the food drive over. But if they don't, he said, mandatory controls won't work either because they also depend on the voluntary cooperation of the people and on their willingness to boycott the black market.

Other administration officials have expressed fear that a return to price controls and rationing would result in a widespread black market in food which might outweigh any savings.

Lt. Poynor At Brooks Field For Training Course

1st Lt. Con. F. Poyner, 517 Mesquite Street, Ranger, Texas is now taking two weeks active duty training with the Tenth Air Force Summer Encampment at Brooks Field, Texas. It was announced by Colonel John W. Egan, Commanding officer of the Encampment.

During his 14 days on active duty, he will receive on-the-job training in his respective military occupational specialty, attend lectures, and will be given an over-all course in the latest developments of the Air Force.

Paper Drive Oct. 12

Now is the time to begin saving paper and magazines for the Jaycee Paper Drive coming up Sunday, October 12.

It has been requested that papers and magazines be bundled separately and that both be tied securely and left at curbs for the collectors to gather. The drive will start promptly at 2 o'clock and all bundles should be out on curbs before that time.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(NEA)—Most of today's demands for bringing back your bonny OPA to you make a pretty song, but it's truly nostalgic for the good old days of 50-cent beefsteak, butter and eggs, and it's a wishful thinking. There isn't a chance that a price control law could be brought back, either dead or alive.

Even if Congress were of a mind to pass a law restoring OPA, it might not do any good. Some of the more conservative economists think along these lines:

Price ceilings were put back on everything, they would have to be at present price levels. That might stop prices from going any higher. But it wouldn't make them any lower. And it's lower prices that are wanted—not a law freezing today's high prices.

Experience with wartime price controls showed that, whenever a fixed, dollars-and-cents ceiling price was put on any article, this maximum price tended to become the minimum as long as the supply was less than the demand. Goods sold on the black market always went for more than the legal ceiling.

If price ceilings were reimposed—with shortages of everything still pretty acute—the black market which would develop would make the old wartime black market look like a bargain counter.

Any idea that a new, peacetime OPA could roll back prices to what they were in June, 1946, when the old OPA passed out is likewise silly. OPA never did have any luck in rolling back prices in wartime—though it talked a great deal about the theory.

Only roll-backs that were put over were done with the help of subsidies. That is, the taxpayers, through the government, paid the producers the difference between the legal ceiling price and the actual, higher costs of production.

It is hard to believe that the present economy-minded, conservative-dominated Congress would appropriate money for a lot of consumers' subsidies in 1948. The only way congressmen might do it is if they thought it would help them get re-elected next year.

First demands for restoration of OPA controls seem to be coming from union labor leaders who want the cost of living brought down. These demands aren't making any headway because they bump into the general confession that any reduction in prices by law must be accompanied by a similar reduction in wages.

It is possible to talk till the voice gives out on the theory that prices could be lowered if industry would just cut profits. That bill of goods can't be sold. The one argument that producers have been able to use most effectively to explain today's high prices is their alibi that postwar wage increases have raised their costs so much they have had to raise prices.

Summing up this case, the only conclusion seems to be that, since Congress and the Administration decided to abolish price and wage controls, the country is stuck with high wages and high prices till nature takes its own sweet and deliberate course and brings them down like autumn leaves in an economic change of season.

The public is therefore now paying through the nose for the mistakes of 1946, when controls were thrown out the window. That man Chester Bowles, who had to leave town because he was so unpopular, is now entitled to the biggest "I told you so" that was ever uttered.

Airport Activities

Speedy says--

The number of airports in the United States has increased 22 per cent in the fiscal year ended July 1, with airports in operation totaling 8251. Airports at the same time last year totaled 4,396. Total registered aircraft rose from 57,488 to 93,920 in the same period.

T. P. Wright, Administrator of Civil Aeronautics, approved on August 4 the revised Federal-aid airport program to be undertaken from funds appropriated for fiscal years 1947 and 1948, $45,000,000 and $32,500,000, respectively, which have been merged and are to be administered as one fund.

The program calls for the construction or improvement of 908 airports at an estimated cost to the Federal Government of $69,569,590, with local or State sponsors providing an additional $79,235,095.

Wright declared in approving the program that the CAA's primary consideration was aeronautical necessity and that he had not been able to program all projects for which the CAA had received applications for Federal assistance.

The CAA has on file now a backlog of approximately $250,000,000 in requests for Federal Aid.

Texas had 76 projects approved for a total of $8,057,853.

The waters of life rush strongly sometimes. Seldom do they flow without the storm. The breakers roar and the waves dash high.

Put in the quiet places of the heart, in the recesses of the human soul, one may rest in peace, while the waters rush, if one knows how.

It is the presence of God in each human heart that leads to the quiet places.

It is the simple knowledge that "God's in His Heaven and all's right with the world" . . . with the individual world.

One has only to believe in order to rest in the quiet places.

God, in His goodness, did not create man or bird or beast, or any living thing to be lost.

When we at long last have intelligence enough to stop being afraid, to live as best we can according to our lights . . . then we shall all find the quiet places.

Each living human has a right to his own belief; to live his life as he honestly can, if he strives to be the best man he can, according to the way he sees it.

When the day comes that all human beings know that the River of the Presence of God flows through the streets of the City and that each person may drink, if he wishes . . . on that day the universal brotherhood of man can unite in the church of the universe, with no more creeds, no more division of religions.

When that day comes . . . the day that intelligence rules over chaos and fear . . . we may all dip

The Quiet Place

Fortunate indeed and doubly blessed is the man or woman who has found the refuge of quietness.

"Quiet minds can never be perplexed," and the wins of life flow gently, yet strongly for him who knows how to retreat into the quiet places.

Such places are in the hearts of men, but are often not discovered. In the midst of turmoil and upheaval, it is possible to go away to the quiet places, to retain the sanity, the dignity of living, if one knows how.

The River of the Presence of God flows through the streets of the City and all who will may drink.

The International Sunday School Lesson for Oct. 5

The Better Revelation

Scripture: Hebrews 1:1-4; 2:1-2; 8:1-11

BY WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.

THIS lesson is the first of a three-month series based on the messages of the New Testament Epistles, other than those by Paul. In the King James or "authorized" version of the Bible, the Epistle to the Hebrews is attributed to Paul, but from early days in the church there was much questioning regarding its authorship, and the American Standard Revised Version, and "The Bible: An American Translation," by Professors Smith and Goodspeed, along with Moffatt, Moulton, and other translations, follow the prevailing opinion of Biblical scholars in omitting Paul's name.

But one fact concerning the Pauline Epistles, the Epistles by James, Peter, and John, which Paul certainly did not write, and the Epistle to the Hebrews, is that they are all agreed in a common faith in Jesus as the Messiah, in belief in His saving power, in His resurrection and living presence through the Holy Spirit, and in their conception of the Christian fellowship and the nature of the Christian life.

This could be demonstrated in many parallels of actual expression, though each Epistle may have its particular emphasis. James, for instance, emphasizes works as the evidence of faith, where Paul puts the emphasis on faith, but in Paul's more extensive writings one would find many passages that, as strongly as James, stress the practical nature of the Christian life. So, also, though John is the apostle of brotherly love, all that he says only strengthens what Paul wrote of love in I Corinthians 13. And when Peter writes of believers as "partakers of the divine nature," it is precisely what Paul has written in Ephesians 3:19.

I stress this, because it is a matter about which there should be no misunderstanding, and about which, from my own study of the New Testament, I have strong convictions.

This unity is emphasized in the conception of God's better revelation in Jesus, as presented by the writer of Hebrews, and as presented by Paul. Both are intense in their conviction that Jesus was the fulfillment of the Messianic hope, and both write from the background of Judaism; but Paul is chiefly concerned with doctrine, while the writer of the Hebrews emphasizes the priestly character of Jesus, and the fulfillment of the ritualistic side of the Old Testament heritage.

BELIEF in Jesus as the Messiah, and the fulfillment of Jewish hopes and prophecies, is dominant in the Christian church; and it is at this point that the devout Christian and the devout Jew differ, though they have the Old Testament in common. The devout Jew may regard Jesus as a great teacher, a view now more widely held than formerly, but he looks still for the coming of the Messiah and the fulfillment of the prophecies.

It is a difference of belief that is not unimportant, but it should not in any sense be an occasion of intolerance or unbrotherliness. If the Jew lives up to all that is best in the Old Testament, and the Christian up to all that is best in the New, the spirit of both Testaments would make impossible the intolerance and prejudice that have led to so much suffering and tragedy. It is in ideals of peace and good will that Judaism and Christianity both find their highest expression.

SPORTS

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Burt Shotton is expected to manage the Dodgers again next season, and Edward Raymond Stanky is seen headed for the job when the 63-year-old former outfielder steps down.

This would mean that Leo Durocher was definitely out in Brooklyn—like a third strike.

"I don't see how or why he would bring Durocher back," says a man very close to Branch Rickey.

Lippy Lee received $60,000 on a bonus arrangement in 1946, when the Ebbets Field attendance exceeded the fondest expectations. His contract called for a flat $50,000 when Commissioner Happy Chandler set him down for the season just closed.

Shotton was paid $20,000 this season.

THE very antithesis of Durocher, Shotton quickly won the affection of the incredible Flatbush fans. He is even more popular with the players than was The Lip, vastly better liked around the National League.

President Rickey himself tells you Eddie Stanky would make a fine manager.

Second baseman Stanky, 30, kicked around in the low minors for seven years, spent another campaign in Triple A.

Muggsy Stanky came the hard way, but obviously learned his lessons well.

Stanky is an aggressive and natural leader with a wholesome family life. He married the daughter of a smart baseball man, Milton Stock, who third based the Phillies in their only pennant in 1915, managed successfully in the minors for years, is currently a coach with the Cubs.

Landlord Takes Over, Helps Self

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—A West Side couple complained to police that shortly after they rented their home, the property owner ran into a domestic storm at his house, left his wife and moved in with them—although they didn't know it at the time.

The couple said they returned home to find that the landlord had broken in, taken up residence in their basement, raided the icebox and rifled their living quarters of more than $10 in small change.

Houseflies Succumb To DDT Campaign

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (UP)—Julian J. Chisolm, instructor in entomology at the University of Maryland, has credited DDT with another victory.

Chisolm says reports from nearly half of Maryland's 23 counties showed common houseflies either "missing entirely" or "considerably checked."

Chisolm credits widespread use of the war-born insect-killer with the housefly's defeat.

Answers 4 Important Questions

1 What is the THRIFTIEST way to get clothes cleanest?

Use a small amount of soap in a small amount of hot water so there'll be enough hot water left to give the clothes a thorough rinsing. That's how the Bendix works. And that's how the 1,000,000 Bendix Washers now in use are piling up big savings for their happy owners.

2 What is the SAFEST way to get clothes cleanest?

The same way you wash your daintiest garments . . . by "dunking" them gently in and out of the suds. And that's exactly how 1,000,000 Bendix Washers are making clothes last longer. For in the Bendix, clothes are gently tumbled—hundreds of times—in and out of the suds. No agitator wear and tear . . . no rubbing, scrubbing and twisting.

3 What's the EASIEST way to get clothes cleanest?

In ten whole years of trouble-free service, the Bendix automatic Washer has saved more hard work for more housewives than any other washer in the world. Just put in the clothes, set the dial, add soap . . . and you're through. The Bendix thoroughly washes, rinses and damp-drys the clothes . . . automatically . . . even when you're not in the house.

4 How can I be SURE the Bendix is the best?

One of the million lucky Bendix owners is a neighbor of yours. So you don't have to take our word for it. Just ask her what a wonderful washing job her Bendix does . . . how thrifty it is . . . and what a wonderful life it is with all the work of washing done for her automatically.

Duncan Coffee Co. Announces Contest Plans

An unusual contest is brought to the attention of the Ranger Daily Times' readers by Admiration Coffee in their Five Thousand Dollar "My Favorite Grocer" contest.

In this contest not only does the Grand Prize Winner receive a thousand dollars in cash, but the grocery store named in the winning entry receives Five Hundred Dollars in cash. Winners are judged on the best statements of fifty words or less completing the sentence—"My Favorite Grocer is (name of favorite grocery store) because" . . . telling why this grocery store is the favorite of the contestant.

It was pointed out by contest officials that since this is strictly a regional contest—that is, confinied to the Southwest—and not offered nationally—contestants have eight times better chances of winning than any contest offered throughout the United States.

In addition to the grand cash prize of $1,000.00 for the contestant, the second and third grand prizes are a Philco Refrigerator and a Crosley Radio-Phonograph Combination, respectively. Before the judging of the Grand Prize Winners, there are six weekly contests with the winners receiving the items named above, plus Westinghouse Electric Roasters, Dornier Electric Mixers, Manning-Bowman Electric Percolators, Dominino Electric Toasters and dozens of others.

Not only do these prizes go to the winning contestants, but the "favorite" grocer's name in the winning contestants' entries, also receive valuable prizes.

The contest started September 29th. Weekly contest winners will be selected from entries received before midnight Saturday at the end of each week for the following six weeks.

Entry blanks may be secured from grocers, or contestants may merely write on one side of a plain sheet of paper. Anyone may enter as many times as he wishes but each entry must be accompanied by the label (or mammy picture) from the Admiration Package or Jar or the strip that unwinds from the vacuum can. All entries should be mailed to "ADMIRATION CONTEST, Box 285, Houston, Texas."

SECRET CANCER SURGERY ON CLEVELAND RECOUNTED

By C. R. Wilkinson
United Press Staff Correspondent
ST. LOUIS (UP) — Details of two secret cancer operations performed on President Grover Cleveland at a time when the nation confronted a grave economic crisis have been disclosed by Dr. M. G. Seelig of St. Louis.

Dr. Seelig was one of six physicians who boarded the yacht of a friend of the president's to operate on him.

Writing in the medical journal, Surgery, Obstetrics and Gynecology, he tells how the operation was not revealed for 24 years, nine years after Cleveland's death.

In June, 1893, the country was in financial near-panic and a special session of Congress was set for little more than a month away. The economic and political consequences of a disclosure that the chief executive had cancer of the mouth were impossible to predict.

So, late on the night of June 30, the six doctors, the president, and his secretary of war, Daniel Lamont, came aboard the yacht. The craft had been converted into a hospital ship.

The next morning the president's entire upper left jaw and a portion of his palate were removed in an hour-long operation as the yacht cruised lazily in Long Island Sound.

Dr. Seelig writes that, although President Cleveland was "a poor surgical risk," everything went well. Two days after the operation, he went home.

The physicians deemed a second operation necessary, however, and it took place two weeks later under similar circumstances.

Three days before the special Congressional session began, the president returned to Washington. A dentist had fitted a specially-constructed vulcanized rubber jaw in place.

As he opened the special session, his voice was firm and strong. Since the operation was entirely inside the mouth, there were no scars to mar his appearance and give away his secret.

Cleveland lived for 15 more years and his death certificate recorded that he died of "heart failure complicated with pulmonary thrombosis."

A short time after the operations the Philadelphia Press printed a story which, according to Dr. Seelig, was "uncannily accurate in many respects."

The Press report was angrily denied by L. Clarke Davis, editor of the Philadelphia Public Ledger and a close personal friend of the president, and was generally disbelieved at the time.

Police Station No Place To Slap Wife

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (UP)—Walter Kamphues, 32, will be more careful where he is when he picks a fight with his wife next time.

Police reported that an argument led to physical violence when the Kamphues were going home in a cab early in the morning. The cab driver stopped under the police station windows.

The desk sergeant said police came out the door in time to see Kamphues slap his wife.

Phone Independents To Hold Meeting

CHICAGO (UP) — The independent telephone companies of the United States will observe their 50th anniversary, as a national business association at their annual convention here Oct. 13-16.

The association reports that it has 12,000 exchanges, serving through more than 6,000 independent companies in every state, Hawaii and Puerto Rico.

STUDENTS TAKE CHANCE TO LEARN MASTER MINING

WASHINGTON (UP)—The soft coal industry reports that at least 81 college students and several hundred high school boys began resumed class room studies this month on how to be "master miners" or technicians.

The Bituminous Coal Institute said a partial survey revealed operator-sponsored educational projects in Utah, Colorado, Illinois, West Virginia, Kentucky, Pennsylvania and Ohio.

"A more comprehensive survey now under way is expected to reveal that these educational projects are widespread indeed," the institute said.

It singled out the $500,000 Wyoming County Trade School, Pineville, W. Va., as one of the most unusual projects and said to be the first in the country established.

expressly to train high school students in mining safety, mine maintenance and related subjects. The school has a simulated coal mine erected above the ground which closely duplicates conditions in a real mine, the institute said. Not only high school students attend, but training is given men already working and war veterans.

The Mayo, Ky., State Vocational School plans to use a small nearby mine to give students actual experience in underground conditions and an opportunity to test machinery, the coal institute reported.

West Virginia University was listed among the leaders in offering college courses for student-miners. The institute said that 45,000 men had taken the university's summer short course in the past 35 years. St. Francis College, Loretto, Pa., has just completed the first year of the new three-year summer course for miners.

The 31 college scholarships enable high school students to take mining engineering and technical courses at West Virginia, Illinois, Kentucky and Cornell universities; Massachusetts and Illinois Institutes of Technology, Pennsylvania State College and Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

Garden Lore

By Ethel Brooks Gilmore

Blue mists of Indian summer surround the hills in Ranger Valley. The mesquite leaves move softly to and fro in the breeze, but they are slowly turning from green to yellow-green.

The seeds of this tree crossed the Rio Grande and in 1845 began growing on the Texas side. It is a member of the Mimosa family and the Indians of Mexico called it "mezquit".

These trees are a problem, and at the same time a blessing. During the "Dust Bowl days", its succulent beans saved countless numbers of stock.

Pioneers soon learned from the Mexicans that the clusters of beans could be used for food, that the beans being rich in sugar content were valuable to themselves and to their livestock. Mexicans ground the beans, then rolled the pulp into small balls. Three of these balls would sustain a man for a whole day.

Some pioneer women of the southwest placed a bag of mesquite leaves in their washday water. They claimed this helped to whiten linens. Man of that day, often padded the top of their hats with the leaves to ward off sun-burns.

During the Civil War, Confederate soldiers ran out of coffee, so they started making a beverage from mesquite beans, which they called "mesquite coffee." It was considered quite palatable. During World War I, experiments produced 21 different articles of food etc. from mesquite trees, including syrup, and a meal from which a tasty bread was made.

Fifteen years ago I started training one mesquite which was growing in my corral, to prove to myself that it was possible. All branches were cut off leaving a crown like a palm tree. The tree was held steady by wires while it was young. Now it is taller than trees that are much older, but it still lifts its perfect, palm like crown to the sky.

For spring blooming the following bulbs and seeds should be planted this fall, hyacinths, tulips, daffodils, narcissus, madonna lilies, jonquils and bearded iris. Care should be used in the planting of the following seeds, poppies, larkspur, carnations, snapdragons, pansies, columbines, hollyhocks, and delphiniums. Be sure that you do not plant these seeds any deeper than the directions state and mulch the soil well before planting. If you are leagling gladioli bulbs in the ground during the winter, mound them up with rich dirt to prevent freezing. When spring comes rake the dirt down from around where the bulbs will force through.

Q—What point on the earth's surface has neither latitude, longitude?

A—The Gulf of Guinea, where the prime meridian crosses the equator at sea level.

The Art Of Finding Oil

DAN KRALIS Lone Star Gas Company (One of a series).

(One of a series). The general public is ignorant of the work involved in drilling a well.

After rigging up on location and drilling starts the geologist and petroleum engineers are on a 24 hour day basis like doctors. The geologist keeps constant watch on the rock fragments coming out of the bore hole. He identifies the age of the rock, the type, the mineral constituents. The rock is microscopically examined for porosity and oil stain. It is tested with chemicals and ultra-violet light. The geologist advises when to stop drilling and where to carry on completion tests for oil.

It is not unusual to be on a drilling well for 24 hours a day for as much as 14 days in the Eastland area.

Once the author had geological supervision of a deep well in Western Colorado that took six months to drill at a cost of five hundred thousand dollars. The company built a one room house and laboratory and the author settled down to taking care of the patient, the well.

Tomorrow—Geophysics.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

"Unreality" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 5.

The Golden Text is: "The hills melted like wax at the presence of the Lord of the whole earth. The heavens declare his righteousness, and all the people see his glory" (Psalms 97:5, 6).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Charge them that are rich in this world that they be not highminded, nor trust in uncertain riches, but in the living God, who giveth us richly all things to enjoy" (1 Timothy 6:17).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Nothing unspiritual can be real, harmonious, or eternal" (page 335.)

Jailed Too Well, Is Sawed Out

ALTUS, Okla. (UP)—Altus police had to reverse the usual procedure and saw a prisoner out of jail. A cell door lock jammed when police tried to release a man arrested for drunkenness. They tried to open it with keys, wire and hairpins, but gave up after a 30-minute struggle. Exasperated, the officers called for a hacksaw and sawed off the lock.

ed wisely in selling it for the price they did in order to secure these two factories. There was some criticism on the contract that was made as to when the factories would be installed and I am still defending the City and Mr. Simms and Mr. Wylie on this deal for this reason. At the time this deal was made machinery was hard to get and no definite promise could be made on what date the factories would be installed but everyone understood that the factories were to be installed when machinery became available. Now, I understand the machinery is available and Mr. Simms and Mr. Wylie are ready to proceed. However, they are asking for the tenth building which is very much to my surprise as a committee was appointed and called on the City Commission when the first deal was made asking them to retract the tentative deal on the Teen Canteen building. According to the Commission that the majority of the people of Ranger wished that we keep this building for the use of our young people in town and for other purposes. The Commission immediately notified Mr. Wylie that they could not pass on the deal for the tenth building because of the Teen Canteen Building. They also conveyed the fact that if they were displeased with the purchase of the nine buildings for $5,000.00 that the City would be glad to refund the money back to them and no one would lose any money due to the fact that Mr. Simms and Mr. Wylie were notified within one week's time that the tenth building would never be sold to them. About that same time Mr. Simms and Mr. Wylie called on me in person at my office at the bank and discussed with me the deal. As I served on the committee that requested the City to keep this particular building, I tried to explain to Mr. Wylie and Mr. Simms that I did not believe they would ever be able to secure this building as the town could see a general need for it whereby it could be used for entertaining the youth in our town then and for all time to come. The Teen Canteen was just across the street from the City Park and we felt that other buildings would be built in front of it for our library and other purposes and that the City and School really needed this building for a number of reasons. I further told them that they knew how they had secured the nine buildings for $5,000.00 and that they were to install a pecan shell plant and a peanut butter plant. Furthermore they understood much more money but for what they had to offer they received the buildings for the price they did. I also told them I was glad they received the buildings for the price and hoped they could go through with the deal even though they would never receive the tenth building and if they felt like they could not go through with the deal they should return the buildings to the City because it caused five good Ranger citizens to be criticized then and for all times to come for making a deal of this kind.

Now, since Mr. Simms and Mr. Wylie have kept the buildings I am of the opinion they owe the town the factories promised. I cannot see how it could be understood otherwise and I really believe they are honest and sincere.

Now, am I wrong on my contentions about this deal? You remember I have been reduced to the rank of "buck private." I am just the average citizen ready and willing to criticize those who are in office. We "cuss" if they do about placing the factories in Ranger. They are both men of high standing, active in church work, lodges and other organizations that make up a town and I cannot see how they could place the factories in any other place and keep the faith of the City Commission that gave them this deal. If they do put the factories in Ranger as promised it will certainly take a lot of criticism off of the Commission. I for one would like to see the Commission relieved of this criticism because I believe they acted wisely and I have defended their acts from that time to this date. I have always defended Mr. Simms and Mr. Wylie as to their good intentions. I have had business dealings with both of them and find them to be good men to deal with.

It is my suggestion that if Mr. Simms and Mr. Wylie do not feel like they can go through with the deal as promised that the City offer them the N. Y. A. Radio Shop located on Pine Street which is a parcel street. The building has 1848 square feet of floor space and if that is not enough the City can add the building which adjoins the Radio Shop which was formerly used by the N. Y. A. Tin Shop and now used by the Army. I feel that we can find another building for the Army that will be as satisfactory as the present building as we do not want to lose the Army. This is one project that will mean a great deal to Ranger in the future. This building has 2720 square feet and is on South Rusk. The two buildings together give them 4568 feet, two entrances, one on Pine Street and one on South Rusk Street and both streets paved. I cannot think of a better deal to offer them in lieu of the Teen Canteen building. The Teen Canteen building has only 2300 square feet which if they will take the other two buildings will give them twice as much floor space. If they had the Teen Canteen building they would be putting their factories out in front of their other buildings. When the deal was made it was my impression the factories were going into the N. Y. A. Mess Hall which is the long building back of the N. Y. A. cottages.

Of course Mr. Simms and Mr. Wylie are asking for the tenth building for $1,500.00 even though they were advised that they would never receive it when they purchased the other buildings. I do not fall out with them about that as they are just good business men and if I could get a $1,500.00 building for $1,500.00, I would be asking for the same thing and you would probably too. That goes with good business.

and we "cuss" them if they don't. The best way for the average citizen to know what the fellow in office is going through is to serve as a Commissioner, trustee of the school and etc. You can better understand their position and they are not going to please all of us whatever decisions they make. Everybody has been doing a little fussing here lately, some about one thing and some about another. Someone said he thought that was a bad sign for the town but I disagree with them. I think it is a good sign. It shows the citizens are awake, on their feet and thinking about what is good for Ranger. I think that is a better sign than to be unconcerned about what is going on.

While we are on the subject of the Teen Canteen I wish to state that I believe that we should add further improvements to the Canteen by placing more lights, fix a better parking space and add another rest room and if possible a small kitchen because we have a high school and junior college group that are going to need some place for headquarters for recreation for all times to come.

Just while we are discussing better things for Ranger I would like to suggest some Club take over the strip between the U. S. Highway 80 and the railroad, borrow some machinery from the City, level this down and put out a few trees and some grass. This would not cost much and would beautify our city along the highway.

Why doesn't some one suggest to the City Commission that they inspect the corner of Commerce & Main. The old building which is so dilapidated and dangerous for people walking along the sidewalk. The owner of this building received a fair settlement on taxes when the taxes were paid, which she was entitled to. Why not now expect the owner to tear this building down or rebuild it? This is one of the worst appearances that we have in our town and it is seen from the highway. If you come up across the railroad on main street it is in your face. I am highly in favor of this having the City Commission's immediate attention. What do you say?

We have two parks in town. A number of small trees have been set out this last year. Why doesn't some club pick up all of the concrete pipe joints that are loose and cannot be used in our sewer and get some man who has a post hole digger attachment on his tractor dig holes by these trees, place the soil back and water through the pipe which will reach the roots of the trees and take less water, less time and the trees will do better.

I have a real good proposition to talk with the citizens of Ranger about between now and the first of the year who are interested in a permanent cemetery fund. I have talked to people who operate a permanent cemetery and also the largest bank in Dallas who is trustee of these funds. They have agreed to come to Ranger to explain how these operate and we can put it on a profitable basis and in four or five years will be proud of the program we started if we start now. I hope to contact each and every one of you between now and the first of the year to get this program in full swing between now and January 1st.

I am mighty proud of our Chamber of Commerce. They recently put over one of our major programs to get the Caddo road taken over by the State. This road will mean a lot to Ranger when it has been improved. I understand the State has set aside funds for this purpose and in the very near future we will enjoy this improvement. I for one feel like all I have contributed to the Chamber of Commerce has been worth while. Let's work with our City and all other organizations for the betterment of Ranger.

number of years. He built the first cotton gin in Ranger, and operated it until the Ranger oil boom. Mr. Stuard is intensely interested in state affairs and never fails to vote. He cast his first vote in 1868 for Horatio Seymour, the Democratic nominee for president. However, General Ulysses S. Grant, the Republican nominee, was elected.

In a recent interview Mr. Stuard was asked his views on several current issues:

When asked how to attain the age of 100 years, Mr. Stuard stated: "I do not know why I am blessed to live 100 years. I always worked in the open and followed the simple life. This might be the secret."

Commenting on the old age pension, Mr. Stuard said, "I have never been on the pension and never expect to be. I always followed the policy of saving a few dollars for a rainy day, and I can provide for my own living. However, I am not against the pension for those in need."

High prices? "All prices are too high—groceries, clothing, wages—in fact everything is too high. I have worked for as little as 50c a day and got along and saved money. Also, I have picked cotton for 40c and 50c a hundred, while today they are striking for $3.00 a hundred. Strikes were unknown in my day."

As to prohibition and temperance, Mr. Stuard stated: "Temperance is a matter of education and not legislation. I am not a reformer, nor am I a radical. If you should offer me a little toddy, I would take it, but I would refuse the second. I believe in moderation."

When asked if the world was getting better or worse, he replied, "Young people are about the same as they were in my youth. However, they have more privileges than we had. Friendship meant more in my youth than it does today. The young people are not taught discipline as we were. If people would work and produce and quit striking, most of our troubles would be over."

In 1600, Robert Bakewell of England developed the Leicester breed of sheep.
