

Clayton Resigns Undersecretary Post

WILL SERVE AS ADVISER TO SECRETARY GEO. MARSHALL

WASHINGTON—William I. Clayton resigned today as Undersecretary of State for Economic Affairs and his resignation was accepted by President Truman.

Clayton will remain, however, as an unpaid adviser to Secretary of State George C. Marshall.

Clayton, in his resignation which was accepted with "deepest regret" by President Truman, gave the health of his wife as the principal reason for leaving the government.

Clayton told the President that if Mrs. Clayton's health was completely restored, he would be available later for "special jobs".

Clayton told the President that he was convinced his wife needed his "undivided attention" for several months at least to return to their home in Houston, Texas, where she could rest.

The 67-year-old millionaire former cotton broker has submitted his resignation previously. His resignation was approved by Marshall June 20, but Clayton agreed to remain for an additional period to participate in the 16-nation conference at Paris for European economic recovery.

Mr. Truman, in accepting Clayton's resignation, said he had no choice but to yield to the Undersecretary's "primary duty" to his wife.

"In a time of world upheaval and general economic dislocation yours has been a contribution of incalculable value," the President wrote Clayton.

The White House gave no details of Clayton's assignment except that he would become an adviser to Marshall immediately without compensation.

RANGER PUPS DEFEAT DOGIES BY 12-7 SCORE

In a spirited battle between the Eastland Dogies and the Ranger Pups played at Ranger Tuesday night, the Pups flashed a brand of ground play and passing that would have done credit to a senior team and to come out with a 12 to 7 victory over the Dogies.

The victory was not easily won against the Dogies who were strong in their line and repeatedly presented a stone wall to the Pups.

The first touchdown of the game came when Ranger blocked a punt and recovered the ball on Eastland's 35 yard line. On an end play the Pups carried to the six yard line and from there Weldon Cunningham carried the ball from quarterback and plunged over for the touchdown. They failed to convert the extra point.

The half ended with the score 6 to 0 in favor of Ranger.

At the beginning of the second half Eastland came back fighting and marched down the field for a touchdown. Ranger kicked to Eastland and on two plays the Dogies won their marker with Robertson carrying over. They converted the extra point, making the score 7 to 6 in favor of Eastland.

Ranger then opened up their passing attack completing 2 out of 3, one for 35 yards, which carried the ball to Eastland's 2 yard line. On two plays with Camacho carrying both times, the Pups scored their second touchdown making the score at the end of the game 12 to 7 for Ranger.

Wallace Says Forrestal Head Of War Group

BALTIMORE—Henry A. Wallace today denounced Secretary of Defense James V. Forrestal as a leader of "the war group in Washington."

The former vice president said that Forrestal and "his Wall street crowd are out for world domination."

Wallace, at the same time, told a news conference he believed that Forrestal was "the head of the war group."

Wallace said he had proposed "a definite program for peace" in his memoirs published today.

"I feel the net effect of Mr. Forrestal's book was for peace and understanding with Russia," Wallace said.

Wallace here to address a Progressive Citizens of America rally tonight, said a definite "war group" had developed in Washington.

PROSPECTORS TRAIL LOST GOLD MINE SEALED IN BLOOD

By Lloyd Hulmer
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW WESTMINSTER, B. C. (UP)—The story of a lost gold mine in the Pitt river area near here is slowly unfolding, two separate parties are reported "hot on the trail."

The first attempt was made by helicopter when a city man chartered the aircraft. Although officials of the airline would not reveal the destination, hunters and fishermen in the Pitt area reported seeing the craft in their vicinity the day it was chartered.

The other attempt is being made by a Vancouver B. C. sign painter who is reported to have a map of the area, but he says he will not be going out until next spring.

The story of the mine is one of bloodshed, and the stoical attitude of an Indian who died on the gallowes refusing to tell where the gold could be found.

It started around the turn of the 20th century, when a lonely prospector found gold nuggets the size of walnuts near Pitt Lake. The prospector returned to New Westminster but failed to register his claim. He was found murdered a short time later.

An Indian, Jim Slummock, who had been a guide for the old prospector, was tried for the murder and sentenced to be hanged. The location of the mine went with him to the grave.

The story of the mine caused much speculation and in 1903, a veteran Alaskan prospector, John Jackson, searched for the lost hoard. He brought back gold, but the ordeal of the trip was too much and he died without revealing the location of his find.

On his deathbed, he wrote to a man called Doctor Hall. A copy of that letter came into the sign painter's hands in 1922.

The sign painter says the mine is described as being less than 20 miles from the head of the Pitt River, where the river flows down a canyon and disappears. The canyon is guarded by three mountains standing sentinel over the hidden treasure.

The Vancouver man reports he found the three peaks this summer, but was unable to enter the canyon and river bed because of ice and snow.

The shifty storm, which had lashed south Florida Sunday and then whirled over large areas of the Atlantic, suddenly reversed its direction late yesterday, moving south and then west finally hitting the Georgia coast between Savannah and Brunswick.

The Savannah police department said roofs of several homes here had been blown off and that uprooted trees littered streets, blocking emergency traffic.

The storm struck with only about five hours warning. Residents didn't have time to board up homes and buildings and the lashing winds crashed many windows.

HURRICANE REVERSES, HITS GEORGIA

SAVANNAH, Ga.—An erratic Atlantic hurricane rammed the Georgia coast today with torrential rains and winds up 100 miles an hour, knocking out windows in downtown stores here, uprooting trees and causing power failure in some parts of the city.

The army reports said the guerrilla fire occurred when the Congressmen and their escort were entering Kastanous, north of Kilkis, about a mile and a half from the juncture of the Bulgarian, Yugoslav and Greek frontiers. Greek artillery replied to the guerrilla mortar fire and the mortars ceased action.

More Details Of Attack On Solons Given

ATHEENS—An official Greek Army report today gave additional details of the firing by Greek guerrillas on two U. S. Congressmen touring northern Greece.

The Representatives, Olin E. Teague, D. Tex., and Donald L. Jackson, R. Cal., are due back in Athens today.

The army reports said the guerrilla fire occurred when the Congressmen and their escort were entering Kastanous, north of Kilkis, about a mile and a half from the juncture of the Bulgarian, Yugoslav and Greek frontiers. Greek artillery replied to the guerrilla mortar fire and the mortars ceased action.

Air France Line Starts Luxury Sleeper Service

NEW YORK (UP)—An all-sleeper luxury airline service between New York and Paris has been inaugurated by Air France, the French national airline.

Operating the giant long-range Constellation 749, Air France will call its new de luxe service the "Golden Comet" and will make flights to the French capital at 7 p.m. every Tuesday. Flying non-stop, the Golden Comet will arrive in Paris before noon the next day, and breakfast in bed will be available to late risers.

The line announced that $125 single and $150 double would be charged for sleepers. The regular fare is $345, which means the Golden Comet fares will be $470 single or $840 double.

STOCKHOLM (UP)—The newest fashion trends—mid-calf skirt lengths and classic bust lines, have not influenced the latest jersey suits which Swedish girls will wear this winter.

Jersey suits displayed this week clearly show the cloth is made for comfort. The practical suits are cut for cycling, walking and all sports and give the full amount of freedom needed for sitting and working in the winter seasons. Normally, winter clothes tend to be tight-fitting and uncomfortable.

Jersey cloth is a newcomer to the Swedish market. Only in the past months have Swedish girls worn the cloth. But because of its many uses and low prices, the material is popular with the Swedish girl. Today every third girl has a jersey garment in her wardrobe and many wear jersey dresses every day.

Says Captives Treated Well

VIENNA—British authorities said today that Yugoslavs who captured a mixed British-Austrian patrol of six men on Sunday staged a farcical "execution" of them but otherwise treated the men well.

There were a British officer, two British non-commissioned officers, two Austrian drivers and an Austrian customs official in the patrol. They returned to the British zone of Austria yesterday and are back on duty.

Expect Price Of Potatoes Jump

WASHINGTON—The Bureau of Agricultural Economics expects the price of potatoes to increase sharply this winter. This would enable the government to trim its price-support purchases.

Estimating this year's late crop at about 71,000,000 bushels smaller than last year's, the Bureau said there probably would be a "close balance between potato supplies and demand in the months ahead in contrast to the burdensome surpluses a year earlier."

CIO Asks Return Of Rationing Price Controls

BOSTON—The CIO demanded today that price control and rationing be revived as one step toward maintaining full employment.

The demand was made in a resolution, one of a series approved by the ninth CIO National Convention. It cleared its decks to hear a foreign policy speech this afternoon by Secretary of State George C. Marshall.

Besides rationing and price control, the full employment resolution demanded a 75-cent an hour minimum wage fixed by federal law, higher tax exemptions for low income groups, liberalized unemployment insurance and a program to assure equitable distribution of farm income.

At the invitation of Frank Roberts, next year's district meeting will be held in Breckenridge. Mr. Kelly was nominated for reelection as director, the election to be held at the November 11 meeting.

Young Resigns Post On CAB

WASHINGTON—Clarence M. Young has resigned as a member of the Civil Aeronautics Board, the White House announced today.

Young disclosed no reason for resigning. Young submitted the resignation Aug. 11 and in accepting, the President said he regretted that "circumstances" made it necessary for Young to return to private life.

"I appreciate particularly the sacrifice that you have made in continuing in office beyond the period when you felt that you should leave," the President wrote Young who had suggested Oct. 1 as an effective date for the resignation.

Well... I Dunno, But...

If you missed that Ranger Pups and Eastland Dogies game Tuesday night, you really missed something. Those boys really put on a good show. If they retain their pep and fearlessness that they now have, what a football team we're gonna have some day.

We have a sneaky notion that those nice new uniforms that the Quarterback Club bought the boys had something to do with putting the pep into them.

Eastland had one boy on the team an Eastland fan told us was 13 years old, weighs 180 pounds and is almost six feet tall. But the mountain of a boy didn't phase Weldon Cunningham. He plowed into him as if he'd been his own size even if he did come out with a busted nose.

Yes sir, that game was a sight to see.

And one of the Eastland fans told us that the Ranger team was the best one the Dogies have played this year.

Tomorrow is Thursday, the next day Friday and the next day election day and like we always say, if you don't vote don't cuss the fellow that goes into office.

Voters have the choice of three candidates and that's a wide enough selection.

The election will decide who will be finance commissioner of Ranger an important position on the city commission. So weigh well the future of the city before casting your vote.

A town's progress rests largely with the men that manage its affairs.

The friend of ours who's always saying "it's the squeaking axle that gets the grease" has had his philosophy proved wrong for once. Cause if hollering would do any good, it sure would have rained by now.

The populace is really crying for rain. Following on the heels of one of the driest summers in many years, the last two months haven't helped any by producing less than an inch of rain between them. In the same two months last year 6.21 inches of rain fell.

Now cry.

Facts are facts, they will tell you. But facts that are facts sometimes don't look like the facts, depending on how they are presented. So take no other man's word for anything. Investigate for yourself.

Which all boils down to the old saying, "Believe nothing that you hear and only half that you see."

So that being the case, what are we to think of world conditions today. There's no question about it, there's an awful lot of talking going on and talk that it deliberately designed to mold public opinion.

Personally, we think that a calmer attitude of the public would do a lot toward eliminating some of the difficulties.

Like we've said before rumors grow as they travel. We might help some if we stopped the rumors in their tracks.

Well, Henry's talking again. We mean Henry Wallace. This time he's hopping on Forrestal. If Henry wants to be president, it looks like he'd say nicer things about people, make 'em like him. That's the way to get the votes.

Always being agin' everything sometimes gets the people to wondering and when they wonder, they sometimes find the right answer. Which might not be in Henry's favor.

Under The Dome At Austin

AUSTIN, Tex. (UP)—Bed 13 has been reserved in the hospital building of the Texas Confederate home because another Confederate has been added to the rolls of the Texas' Civil War pensioners.

None of the 15 veterans occupies a bed in the hospital now, but the beds are kept ready for them any time they feel need for hospital care.

In fact the Confederate home, with its big rambling buildings on a sloping site near the Colorado river, has not housed a Confederate veteran for some time. The buildings have been filled with gentle state war veterans regardless of war service, only reservation for the actual veterans being the hospital provision.

Bed 13 was added to the reserve list when the state decided that members of Quantrell's Raiders are entitled to participation in the Confederate pension fund. It pays $100 a month to single veterans and $150 a month to those with wives living.

The inclusion of Quantrell's Raiders among the organization's whose members are eligible for Confederate pension is based on reported mustering into the Confederate States Army on Aug. 15, 1862, of William Clarke Quantrell and 150 of his daring guerrilla fighters. The incident is detailed in William Elsey Connelley's book "Quantrell's border raids."

Frank Dalton, who described himself as a cousin of the notorious Dalton brothers of Missouri and Kansas, is the first Quantrell Raider to get the Texas Confederate pension. He will be 100 years old next March. Until recently a resident of Austin, he now makes his home in Elgin.

Solomon Bedford Strickland, another Quantrell Raider, who lived in Austin, died a month ago without having claimed a pension. Strickland said before his death that he was chief scout for Quantrell.

Dalton's grant restored to 13 the number of Confederate soldier pensioners. The number had been reduced to 12 when James A. Ahney died at Brownwood on July 30, 1947.

The other Confederate soldier-pensioners include two with living wives which entitles them to payments of $150 a month. One is Samuel L. Tumbleson of Montague, now over 100. He joined the Confederate army in Arkansas in 1863, serving in the artillery under Capt. James H. Frazier. The other is Walter W. Williams, also over 100, who lives near Franklin. He served in the Fifth Regiment of Hood's Brigade. Veteran W. M. McLeod, another married veteran, died at Wills Point on November 23, 1946, at the age of 100. Single veterans on the pension roll besides Dalton are: R. S. Hillburn, 100, Graham. Company H, McIntosh's Regiment.

T. R. McGuyer, 99, Cooper. He was in the state home guard cavalry during the closing days of the war—one of the "younger" veterans.

J. H. Whitsett, 98, Bonham, who served in the Second Missouri Cavalry—another of the "youngsters" Samuel M. Ramey, 100, Mt. Vernon, a former member of the 34th Tennessee Infantry.

T. B. Iden, 97, Houston. He got in two months service before the war ended in an infantry company in Walker's division.

Jeremiah P. O'Brien, probably oldest surviving veteran, age 103, a resident of Kirbyville. He was in the 1st Virginia Cavalry and was a Confederate soldier from July 1, 1861 to April 9, 1865.

J. C. Matthews, 101, San Augustine. He had two years service in the 13th Texas Cavalry.

W. N. Whitton, 100, Timpson. He served as Capt. Eubank's company of the Nacogdoches and San Augustine home guards.

William Henry James, 98, Edgewood, a confederate infantryman. Thomas E. Riddle, 99, Wichita Falls, former member of the 12th Tennessee Infantry.

Texas war pensions date back farther than the war between the states. There is still one pensioner from the Texas War for Independence. This lone pensioner is Mrs. S. R. Freeman of Elkhart. Her quarterly pension of $37.50 was mailed this week from the state comptroller's office. Mrs. Freeman, 88, is the widow of Private Thomas Freeman of Capt. Sidney Sherman's command. Private Freeman missed participation in Sherman's gallant charge at the Battle of San Jacinto only because he had been assigned to the more prosaic duty of guarding baggage.

Freeman died in 1889. Mrs. Freeman gets her pension under an act of that year. The act authorized grants to soldiers or volunteers who were in actual military or naval service at the time of the siege of the Alamo (December, 1835) or at the time of the Battle of San Jacinto (April 21, 1836). The grant was extended also to their widows.

Plans Study Of Atomic Effects

LOS ANGELES (UP)—The University of California at Los Angeles will begin operation of an atomic radiation laboratory about Oct. 15 to study the effects of radiological injury to human beings.

The laboratory, fifth of its kind in the country, will begin with data collected after the atombombings of Nagasaki and Hiroshima, and also will use material from the Bikini tests. The university will maintain the laboratory under contract with the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission. Dr. Stafford I. Warren, who was medical director of the Manhattan Project which produced the first atomic bomb, will head the school's laboratory. Dr. Warren also was head of the first medical parties which went into the atom-bombed Japanese cities after the blasts, and was named chief of the medical parties for the Bikini tests last summer.

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

Airport Activities

Speedy says--

The airport ran out of news today No one landed and no one took off it reminded me of a cow pasture on which no cattle grazed. The regular students flew, but one gets to expect that. Thomas Higdon did fly to Abilene and return for the purpose of getting a cub licensed.

The Cisco Junior College is interested in a flight contract with the Ranger Flying Service. The business manager will make a trip to Dallas this week to gather facts in the case.

Con Paynor, one of our students, has returned from two weeks active duty with the army at Brooks Field, San Antonio. Con is going in the life insurance business.

In the days when buzzing the tower was practically a criminal offense, this little conversation took place. "Tower to the ship that just buzzed the tower, what is your number?" "Ship that just buzzed the tower to the tower, do you want to try for the $64 question now?" Both sides gave up after that as it appeared rather useless to continue.

Street Exchange

No, I'm not talking about bananas vendors or peanut sellers, I'm referring to those cozy, little tidbits of gossip two or three people get together on street corners or in drugstores and exchange.

The quiet, sly scenes of malicious talk that get started like a snowball and roll all over town. Morning greetings, in which some one is torn to shreds, someone perhaps perfectly innocent and defenseless.

It's not cricket. You know it isn't. You may even succeed in reality hurting someone you don't like. You may do him a lot of harm.

And by all means, go right ahead, if that's what you want. Get in your insinuation, smear it on thick, crooked smiles, then proceed on your way down the street.

You haven't done a thing except to add more misery to an already bleeding world. All you've done is make life harder for someone else. All you've done is disgrace yourself in the eyes of your Creator a little more. You've just added a little more of the definition of a cad, coarsened yourself a little more, lost a bit more of human decency, dragged the human race down a little more.

Go on.

Isn't there someone you can call raw for a cup of coffee.

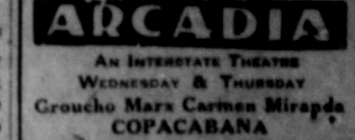

What you have to tell surely can't wait long. I know what you're thinking, but I don't do it . . . not often. I don't care that much about turning a sharp knife into wounds that are hard to heal. I think a little too much of my personal integrity.

It's a rotten, devilish thing to do. Think what would happen, if instead of the ugly things we think to say, we would all substitute a word of kindness instead!

We're trading beauty for squalor. Rotten, decayed stuff
