Bandits Get Another Boston Payroll

Well...
I Dunno,
But...

Hollywood touched Ranger for a brief time Wednesday night and Thursday in the person of Carl Farr, the man that plays the guitar with Roy Rogers and his "Sons of Pioneers."

Farr with Mrs. Farr were here for a brief visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Farr while enroute back to Hollywood from Chicago where he with his brother, Hugh, appeared in Roy Rogers Rodeo. Hugh is the man who plays the violin with the "Sons of Pioneers." The rodeo completed a tour with the Chicago show and other cities where the rodeo was staged were Philadelphia, Detroit and St. Louis.

Carl intended to remain several days with his parents but a long distance call from Hugh in California summoned him back to begin a new picture, and he left Ranger this morning.

The Farr boys made their home in Ranger in early days and began public appearance in musical performances here.

Just before beginning the tour with the rodeo, a picture, "Gay Ranchero" was completed but has not been released yet. Pictures in which they appear are made by Republic Studios. Other recent pictures in which they have appeared are "Bells of San Angelo" the actors used to go to school in San Angelo, "Springtime in the Sierras," and "Apache Rose." Carl says that they are usually on Rogers' side in the pictures, but sometime get off on the other side usually winding up back with Rogers.

"The Sons of Pioneers" write their own lyrics and compose their own music. One of their members, Bob Nolan, is the man that wrote "Tumbling Weeds" and "Cool Water." One of their latest numbers is "You'll Never Miss The Water Until The Well Goes Dry."

Rogers who started the "Sons of Pioneers" is really named Len Slye.

Another Farr brother, Glen, also lives in California where he is a contractor. Carl says he's the only one of the three that's making "an honest living."

The tall dark eyed, gray-haired Carl is completely rapped up in his work and speaks of it with interest and enthusiasm. He has a gracious, easy manner befitting one in his position.

We can't say for sure, but it would seem that the bandit who used a Halloween mask during a robbery in Massachusetts recently, might have read the story of the famous Santa Claus bank robbery in Chico in 1927.

Thanks to Boyce House who was in the newspaper business in Ranger during the Cisco robbery, the story of that robbery went all over the United States. It's a story that Boyce still loves to tell.

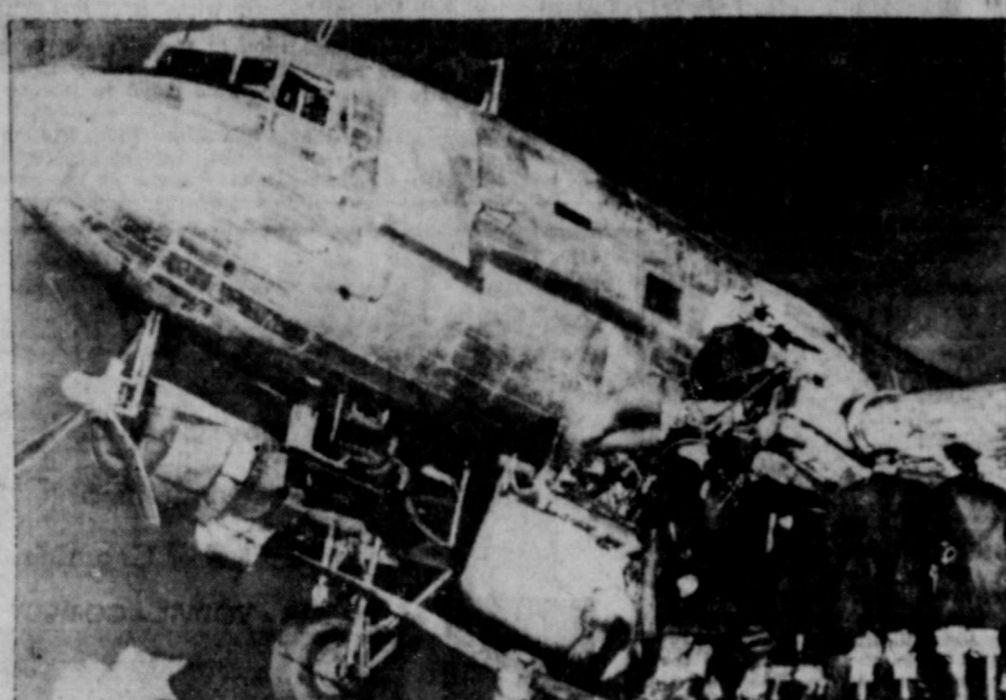

Today is that day, Halloween and also the day for the Ranger-Mineral Wells game. Now if there is anything to this witch business, we sure hope that they are riding the skies for Ranger. A little of their bewitching activities might through some breaks our way, to at least lessen the margin of defeat.

We're not saying for sure that the Bulldogs will be defeated but the odds are sure against them, as Mineral Wells is the strongest opposition that they have had yet and also a team that's sitting in the top ranks of the district.

Again we'd like to put in our two bits worth in an appeal to the kids of the town to refrain from molesting public property and property in general, as a means of Halloween entertainment.

In the first place we think such activities could hardly be fun, not even devilish, just plain vandalism, and place those who engage in such in a position to be confronted with the law.

U. S. DEVELOPES FIELD IN PHILIPPINES AS AIR BASE

MANILA (UP)—Clark Field is on the way to being completed. The air outpost has been described by Gen. George C. Kenney of the Strategic Air Forces as a first line of defense of the United States.

Preliminary work on the field has been done. Work on the permanent field has started.

When Gen. Kenney was in the Philippines on his round-the-world flight, he stressed the strategic importance of the Philippines. He said Clark Field would be able to take ships of any size. The Clark Field-Fort Stotsenberg area will be the largest American base in the Philippines under treaties between the United States and the Philippines.

The Clark Field base, nestling in the "mountains of Pampanga province, dominates all of the south China Coast, Malaya, the Indies and Siam—all with a population of more than 100,000,000.

Clark Field ordnance officers said the experience of the past was being utilized in constructing the new Clark Field. Experience with typhoons has driven all communication lines underground, for example.

Presently, road constructions and "communications facility construction" of a permanent nature is being undertaken. About 6,000 civilians are employed on the base at present.

The spokesman said the entire program is estimated to cost about $100,000,000 and will take about two years to complete.

The early history of the Clark Field-Fort Stotsenberg base dates to the beginning of the present century, when cavalry units in search of fodder during their fighting with Filipino troops came into the area and pitched tents.

The original tract had about 7,600 acres. Now the area is more than 130,000 acres.

The construction at the field during its history has progressed

COMMITTEE AT WORK ON NEW ESPIONAGE LEADS

WASHINGTON—House investigators digging into alleged Soviet atomic bomb espionage "already are at work on new leads," Rep. J. Parnell Thomas, R., N. J., said today.

An agent of Thomas' House Un-American Activities committee testified yesterday that Soviet spies tried unsuccessfully to buy U. S. atomic secrets as early as November, 1942, thirty-three months before the first atomic bomb was exploded.

Paul V. McNutt, counsel for the major motion picture producer, interpreted what he called "the abrupt termination" of the hearings as "a complete vindication" of American movies.

from roofed bamboo barracks of the original installation to what will be the most modern in army housing when the construction is completed.

Clark Field, which was one of the first spots in the Philippines hit by the Japanese at the beginning of the war, was re-occupied by American forces in late January, 1945.

Five Distress Calls Picked Up By Globe Wireless

MANILA—Globe wireless reported today that it had picked up distress calls from five ships caught in a 100 mile an hour typhoon that battered the Eastern Philippines.

One ship, the inter-island passenger-cargo vessel FS-277, sank yesterday off Cababaran in Butan Bay. There were 27 crew members and two passengers aboard but a radio report said they were all presumed to have reached shore safely.

The typhoon veered toward Clark Field, where hundreds of surplus U. S. warplanes were parked.

Price Ceilings On Sugar To Go

WASHINGTON—Price ceilings on sugar die at midnight tonight, but government officials say there is so much sugar on hand now that price boosts by grocers would be plain and simple "rouging."

"There is absolutely no excuse for higher prices on sugar," said officials of the Department of Agriculture sugar branch.

Sugar price ceilings vary with each community, but under controls the average today is about 10 cents a pound, department statistics showed.

Carl Elliott of Eastland, county school superintendent, was named to head the Eastland March of Dimes campaign put on in January at a meeting of the executive committee held in Eastland last week.

Mr. Elliott will announce the personnel of his staff in the near future, according to R. V. Gallaway, of Ranger, who is county chairman of the Eastland County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis Fund.

The executive committee is composed of Judge P. L. Crossley and Victor Cornelius of Eastland, Leon Kirk of Gorman, E. M. Howard of Rising Star, E. T. Thomas of Cisco, and W. F. Creager and Mrs. Ella White of Ranger.

Mr. Elliott expects to complete his county-wide organization soon which will consist of local chairmen and committees in every town in the county.

The various schools of the county will also be asked to participate in the campaign and help in every way possible.

One-half of the money raised during the campaign will remain in Eastland county to be used for the benefit of local cases. One such case is now being helped and if funds had not been available through previous March of Dimes campaigns much more serious consequences would have resulted.

Say Retail Food Prices Up 38%

WASHINGTON—Labor Department figures revealed today that average retail food prices have increased at least 38 per cent since June, 1946, when most price controls were abandoned.

The department reported that its latest "complete" survey showed food prices rose 35 per cent between June, 1946 and last Aug. 15. It said "preliminary reports" indicate another three per cent increase since mid-August.

Brotherhoods Demand Wage Jump

CHICAGO—Representatives of five railroad operating brotherhoods today demanded that railway officials, with whom they have been discussing rules changes for more than three weeks, "give immediate consideration" to demands for a 30 per cent wage increase.

The brotherhoods as of Sept. 30 served notice that they wanted a 30 per cent 2 dollars daily minimum wage increase to become effective Nov. 1.

On Oct. 7 they opened discussions with railroad representatives on rules changes and working conditions which they also have demanded.

ONE WAY TO BEAT HIGH GAS TAX

One way to beat the high Oklahoma gas tax of 7 cents per gallon is proposed by using a mixture of 50-50 gasoline and kerosene. This was suggested by Mr. A. C. Russell, right, of Shawnee, Oklahoma, whose special designed carburetor will handle mixture as well as regular gas, he says. Oklahoma City gas station operator, Joe Dewess, puts in the regular gas while Russell stands by with kerosene. Oklahoma, third largest petroleum producer in the U. S. has highest state gas tax. ## ROBBERS W TAKE $29,000 LIKELY SA

BOSTON—A major holdup in 24 hours today when four masked men seized a $29,000 payroll at the South Boston plant of the American Sugar Refining Co.

Police said there was evidence that today's robbery was engineered by the same gang that held up the Hyde Park Division office of the Westinghouse Electric Corp. here yesterday and escaped with a $107,997 payroll.

The plants are little more than five miles apart.

The cash seized in today's holdup already had been put into pay envelopes for distribution among the refinery's hundreds of employees.

Police noted these similarities in the two holdups... Bags were used as masks. The escape car in both cases was a new black Buick sedan. Sawed-off shotguns and revolvers were displayed in both.

In both cases the robbers appeared soon after an armored truck of Brink's Inc., had delivered payroll money.

In each case the robbers were dunnage, and working clothes to distract attention.

Bulldogs Slated As Underdogs In Big Tussle Tonight

SPORTS

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

CHICAGO (NEA)—Dwight Eddleman was one of the nation's top all-around college athletes before establishing himself as an ace Illinois back this fall.

The 6-7 1/2-inch-tall Eddleman stands 6 feet 2, and high jumps well over his height. As a matter of fact, the remarkable product of Centralia, Ill., high does 6-2 with ease in sweat clothes. He has 6-7 1/2 in the Big Nine indoor football championship. Seldom a time he doesn't attain at least 10 points in four years, including 966 in 45 games in his junior season.

He was the second player in state history to be accorded all-state honors for three consecutive winters.

Returning from service early last year, Eddleman saw some action in the tail-end of the basketball campaign. He lettered with the cagers in the 1946-47 season, seeing only limited action as the Whiz Kids completed their careers. With the Whiz Kids gone, he figures heavily in '47-48 basketball.

Eddleman's long-distance punt-and-outstanding defensive play had a lot to do with Illinois' Big Nine and Rose Bowl championships last season. Dike's 39-yard punting average in 40 kicks tells his defensive value, but his punning was practically negligible because of the presence of the fleet Buddy Young and Julie Rykovich.

In the first three outings this fall, Eddleman booted 21 times for a 32.4 average, two being quick kicks that soared more than 60 yards and stopped dead inside the opponents' 10. He did this against Iowa and Army.

With Young and Rykovich departed, Eddleman romped 25 yards with a lateral from Perry Moss and 40 yards on a punt return for both touchdowns against Pittsburgh. In 10 carrying attempts, he racked up 68 yards, for a commendable 6.8 average, added another touchdown on a two-yard tackle smash against Iowa. He didn't score against Army, but neither did anybody else.

Eddleman first attracted attention, as a 14-year-old eighth grader, when he cleared 6 feet in the mile meet.

As a high school senior in the spring of 1942, however, he clinched a phenomenal prep high jumping career by leaping 6 feet 8 in an exhibition at the Western and Pacific Coast Conference dual meet in Evanston, beating the winning collegian by two inches.

Eddleman, who because of his three years in the Army Air Forces, at 24 still has another year of college competition, gained even more fame at Centralia High as a basketball player. Called one of the greatest in Illinois high school history, he amassed 2389 points in 105 games.

The Rangers have won three of seven games with a total score of 91 points to the opposing teams' 51. Weatherford is in the lower regions of the junior college zone ratings and the game Saturday night might turn out a victory for the Rangers.

A number of fans are planning to follow the Rangers to the neighboring town for the game Saturday night.

WILL GO UP AGAINST POWERFUL MOUNTAINEERS

Going into the game as the underdogs, the Ranger Bulldogs tonight will meet the Mineral Wells Mountaineers, contenders for the district championship. The game will be called at the Bulldog stadium at 8:00 o'clock and Coach Onis Warden stated this morning that the Mountaineers will be the strongest opposition the Bulldogs have gone up against.

Mineral Wells has been defeated only once and that by Brownwood by a score of 7 to 0. However, the Mountaineers do not recognize this as a decisive defeat in as much as they made 12 first downs to Brownwoods four. Too, the Mountaineers penetrated Brownwood territory to the three yard line twice while the Lions never got farther than the Mountaineers 20 yard line any time in the game except when the 85 yard run for the touchdown was made.

Coach Warden stated this morning that the Bulldogs will likely be minus the services of Red Townsen who received a knee injury in the work-out Wednesday. Townsen probably won't see any action at all tonight.

Starting line-up for Mineral Wells will be:

No.	Name	Position	LE
50	Glenn	IE
71	Cowley	IT
73	Turner	LG
52	Neel	C
62	Long	RG
70	Walker	RE
82	Chesek	RB
41	Guissett	QB
10	Marshall	LH
22	Searcy	RH
12	Boone	FB

Max No. 50 will start for Walker if Mineral Wells is on the offensive and McWhorter, 31, will start for Boone if they are on the defensive.

Starting line-up for Ranger will be:

No.	Name	Position	LE
27	Bo Deaton	IE
25	Marvin Wilson	IT
32	Alvin Langley	LG
29	Jim Heinlen	C
28	Keith Munterlyn	RG

16	Jerry Gray	RH
17	J. G. Wright	QB
18	O. G. Lanier	LH
32	Kenneth Williams	FB

Robert Imholz, 31, will start for Deaton if Ranger is on the offensive and J. M. Bush, 19, will start for Kenneth Williams, if Ranger is on defensive.

Heartsease

by Elsie Glenn

Suddenly, I am actually conscious of my body.

Or do you think about yours? It's just dawned on me that my body and I are not very good friends; or rather, my body has been a superb friend to me and I have not cared enough to return the gesture.

I've always taken it for granted but it is because it has given me so little trouble.

That's a pitfall in friendship, taking so much for granted.

But all of a sudden I am progressively proud of my body.

Because I realize that I live in it; that I can't escape it, and like any other treasured possession, its value has become priceless.

Peanut Marketing Slowed By Rains

Rains interrupted peanut picking at many points in the Southwest during the past week, according to the Production and Marketing Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture. Rainy weather delayed hay and slowed marketing, but no material damage to the crop was reported.

Much of the current movement of farmers' stock peanuts went to Commodity Credit Corporation at the government support schedule of prices.

Markets for shelled Spanish peanuts continued sluggish, with relatively few mills operating. Some mills made deliveries on previous bookings, and some held for higher prices or later sale. In scattered spot sales, prices ranged mostly from 16 to 16 1/2 cents f.o.b. shipping points.

Peanut crushing was limited to meager government offerings. Peanut oil and meal markets held barely steady to slightly weaker. Mills quoted oil at 23 to 23 1/2 cents per pound in carlots, basis prime crude, and meal at $85 to $88 per ton.

Fire But No Excitement
NAKOMA, WIS. (AP)—Three hundred pupils in the Nakoma grade school took part in an orderly fire drill. Half an hour after returning to their classrooms, the building caught fire. The children fled out again, thinking it another drill and there was no excitement.

Fire Fighting In Rural Districts Is Organized

Jack county farmers saw pastures destroyed by fire this summer; watched a neighbor's barn burn to the ground. They didn't like the helpless feeling they had while fire raged and so they decided to do something about it.

They organized into the Jack County Rural Fire Fighters and J. W. Hulse, county agricultural agent, said that all farmers, ranchers and businessmen in the county "went all out to put over the project and they went over the top."

Oak Ridge, Tenn., had the highest birth rate of any city in the United States at the war-time peak of atomic research.

ed to buy a fire truck and other equipment that will be necessary to fight rural fires. Each land owner in the county was assessed 2 cents an acre to raise the money. At the last meeting of the organization, it was decided to buy the latest type of rural fire-fighting equipment as soon as it is available, and the possibility of insuring the equipment and the lives of the fire-fighters was discussed.

It's a project that has been badly needed in Jack county, Hulse said. In fact, it's something that farmers and ranchmen all over the state might be interested in.

Over $3,800 has been collected to buy a fire truck and other equipment that will be necessary to fight rural fires. Each land owner in the county was assessed 2 cents an acre to raise the money. At the last meeting of the organization, it was decided to buy the latest type of rural fire-fighting equipment as soon as it is available, and the possibility of insuring the equipment and the lives of the fire-fighters was discussed.

Almost All Known Denominations Are Represented Here
 AUSTIN, (Tex.)—Almost every known denomination is represented in church affiliations and preferences listed by University of Texas students enrolled in 1946-47. Membership included 30 different religious groups, including Moravian Brethren, Mormons, Quakers, Unitarians and Buddhists. Of 19,331 students enrolled in the 1946-47 long session and summer session, 17,998 or 93 percent said they belonged to churches or had definite preferences. Statistician Byron Shipp reports. Records for 1945-46 show 90 per cent were affiliated or had specific preferences. Of 15,118 enrolled, 13,816 listed religious membership or preference. Seven religious organizations have buildings near the campus for work in the University. The Episcopal church has a dormitory for girls (Grace Hall), a church, parish house and Bible Chair; the Roman Catholic church has a chapel, a parish house (Newman club), dormitory for girls (Newman Hall) and a Bible Chair. The Methodist church has a girls' dormitory (Helen M. Kirby), a church and a Bible Chair. The Baptists, Christians, Presbyterians, and Congregationalists have churches.

The Woman's Board of Missions of the Church of the Disciples of Christ maintains the Texas Bible Chair; Baptists and Presbyterians also have Bible chairs.

The F'nai H'elth Hillel Foundation offers a clubroom and a meeting place for Jewish students, the Christian Science organization maintains a reading room near the campus, and the Austin Presbyterian Theological Seminary is a few blocks from the campus. Courses for credit are offered by the Association of Religious Teachers, an organization in which various religious bodies cooperate.

Bobby Sox Era Ending On Texas Tech Campus

LUBBOCK, Tex., (UP)—The bobby sox era appears to be nearing an end on the Texas Tech campus.

It's not ended yet, but a recent survey by a home economics class showed that eight per cent of the coeds choose hose for classroom wear. Sixty-one per cent prefer, however, to go barelegged—wearing neither hose nor sox.

The so-called "new look" hasn't taken an overwhelming hold on the girls, but the survey showed that slightly more than one-fourth of them have dropped their hemlines to midcalf, or lower, for daytime wear and almost one-third of them are wearing the new flaring skirt. Almost one-fourth of them have adopted tailored dresses for classes and 14 per cent choose suits. The rest, ignoring Paris dictates, cling tenaciously to the "gal's best friend"—sloppy jog sweaters and colorful skirts.

The expression "double in brass" came from the time when almost every American village and town took great pride in its local hand. Employers advertised for workmen who also could play a hand instrument or "double in brass."

MAY BE NEXT GOVERNOR OF OREGON

John H. Hall, left, Speaker of the Oregon House of Representatives, will succeed to the Governorship of the state since Governor Earl Snell, Secretary of State Robert Farrell, center, and Senate President Marshall Cornett, right, were all found dead in the wreckage of a small plane that was carrying them on a hunting trip. (NEA Telephoto).

Braggs Of Chasing General MacArthur

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UP)—Not many men can boast that they ever chased Gen. Douglas MacArthur anywhere. Ed Armstrong, Sr., 82 year old veteran of two major wars and the Philippine insurrection is the exception.

He chased MacArthur off the parade field in the Philippines. "It was this way," the former soldier explained. "I was a major in the 50th Infantry under the late Maj. Gen. Douglas MacArthur, father of the now-famous commander of allied occupation forces in Japan."

"That was in 1899, and Doug, Jr., was a mischievous 16 year old boy. He had the same squint in his eyes that he has today. He wore his cap at the same jaunty angle. Then, as now, he wore his shirt open at the throat."

Armstrong remembers General MacArthur as an "unforgettable youngster." "He was full of pep and ginger and curious about anything that was military," he recalled.

He added that it probably was the curiosity of young Doug that caused him to get too close to the reviewing troops. "It was my duty to chase him off the field," Armstrong said.

Farm Youth To Convene In Jackson

Young growers from four counties in Texas, who are competing against boys and girls from 43 other states in the annual National Junior Vegetable Growers production-marketing contest, are hoping to surpass their prize winning record of one award last year, according to Prof. Grant B. Snyder, adult advisor, who announced today that winners in the 1947 competition will be named at the 13th annual convention at Jackson, Miss., December 11-13.

Keynote of this year's convention, Snyder said, will be the placing of more emphasis on the efficient marketing phase of the program as the answer of American farm youth to President Truman's plea for food conservation. Agricultural officials, he pointed out, estimate that 25 per cent of the nation's food is lost annually through waste and spoilage caused in large measure by inefficient marketing.

The convention agenda will feature educational tours of the Jackson area; key speakers in the agricultural field; a series of judging and grading contests, business meeting, election of officers for 1948 and the annual banquet at which the winners in the 1947 production-marketing contest will receive their awards.

Farmers' Prexy

Irvin Martin, of Salem, Ind., now heads the 236,000 young agriculturists of the Future Farmers of America. The 20-year-old Navy veteran, who farms 200 acres of land and raises dairy cattle and hogs, was elected president at the national FFA convention in Kansas City, Mo.

from the $6,000 provided annually by A & P Food Stores. This national competition is designed to teach farm youth new and improved agricultural practices. These prizes are distributed to young boys and girls between the ages of 14 and 21 who have, in the opinion of the judging committee, demonstrated the greatest ability in good growing and handling practices.

BUSINESS FAILURES

AUSTIN, Tex.—September Tex. business failures numbered seven, equalling August's total, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports. Last year each month had only one.

International air express shipments with daily flights from the United States to over 70 Latin American countries have been inaugurated, including Chile, Central America, and the Canal Zone.

USAF Discovers New Magnetic Poles

For many years, geographic maps showed only one magnetic north pole. But when U. S. Air Force planes invaded the Arctic on a large scale this past year they found three such poles forming an elliptical magnetic field. Major pole is on Prince of Wales Island (1), with local poles on Bathurst Island (2) and Boothia Peninsula (3).

Map shows location of the three new north magnetic poles forming an ellipse shaped magnetic field recently disclosed from Air Force flights over the North Pole from Alaskan bases. The discovery is expected to prove important in trans-Arctic aerial navigation.
