COMMITTEE HEARS OF PRESSURE, ABNORMALITY IN HUGHES CASE

WASHINGTON—Charles E. Wilson, industrial and wartime head of the Government Aircraft Procurement program, testified today that "outside pressure" was exerted on him not to cancel Howard Hughes contract for a four-engine plywood flying boat.

Wilson was the first witness to be called before the resumed hearing of a Senate war investigating subcommittee. He also said "abnormal" procurement procedure was involved in the award of the original contract for the giant 200-ton plane to Hughes and industrialist Henry J. Kaiser.

Wilson was called before the committee to tell what he knows of $40,000,000 in war time contracts awarded to Hughes for the flying boat, and photographic planes.

Chairman Homer Ferguson, R. Mich., opened up the second round of the hearings by serving notice that the inquiry would be conducted with "dignity" and the committee would not tolerate any interference with its investigation.

Wilson, who is president of General Electric Co., said Kaiser and "Mr. Jesse Jones" department were among those exerting the "outside influence" to prevent cancellation of the contract for the flying boat.

UN TO SEND COMMISSION INTO KOREA

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y. — The United Nations political committee today voted to send a special UN commission to Korea to lead that nation toward political freedom in the face of a Soviet boycott of the whole procedure.

The Korean proposal was sponsored by the United States and calls for a special UN commission to supervise Korean Elections as a preliminary to establishment of an independent Korean government and withdrawal of occupying forces.

The Soviet boycott, however, made it plain that the UN commission would be allowed to operate only in the American or southern zone of Korea, leaving the fate of northern Korea uncertain.

Russia and its supporters announced their boycott because of the failure of the United Nations to invite representatives of Korea to Lake Success to participate in the discussions of their country's fate.

Cabinet Works On French Economy

PARIS — The cabinet began revamping France's basic economy today by withdrawing subsidies from coal and other industries, hiking the retail price of coal and lifting price controls from a number of products.

Caught between the hedge, the cabinet took its first major steps toward the economic reorganization for which Premier Paul Ramadier called when he won a close vote of confidence in the assembly.

The problem of French economy ranked with the clash between the Communists and the anti-Communist rally of Gen. Charles DeGaulle in exerting pressure on the middle of the road cabinet.

Last Hungarian Patriot Flees

BUDAPEST — The Communist-dominated government announced today that its only remaining major opponent, Zoltan Pfeiffer, 47, year old leader of the Hungarian independence party, fled the country last night.

A warrant already had been issued for Pfeiffer's arrest. It was to have been served as soon as his parliamentary immunity—was a deputy—could be taken away. Authoritative sources in Vienna reported that Pfeiffer arrived here early today, and was staying with friends.

DISASTER TOPS HEADLINES OF MOMENTOUS 10 YEARS

CHICAGO (UP)—Deaths and disaster made the big headlines of the last 10 years.

Grant M. Hyde, director of the University of Wisconsin school of journalism, has made a survey of the big news stories, excluding those dealing with World War II.

Hyde picked 37 stories as the top news of the decade from 1937-57 for the Encyclopedia Britannica's new four-volume history of the 10 years.

When the editors of the book looked at his choice they found that individual or mass deaths accounted for 14 of the top-33 and that another, the Bikini bomb tests, were as important for their scientific interest.

They classified six as dealing with political or economic subjects and four each with labor, adventure, and court trials.

They added a letter to Hyde's year-by-year choices to designate the category in which the stories had been placed: A) for adventure; B) for death and disaster; C) for court trials; L) for labor, and P) for politics and economics.

Hyde's choice for the 33 top news stories of the decade were: 1937: President Roosevelt's Supreme Court battle. (P).

The CIO steel strike and sit-down strikes in auto factories (L).

The burning of the Zeppelin "Hindenburg" with 97 deaths (D).

Disasters of three submarines: U. S. Squalus, British Thetis, French Phoenix (D).

1941: The strike in captive coal mines (L).

1942: Republican comeback in November elections (P).

admitted he was paying for train tickets in his travels and not resorting to the time-honored "riding the rods."

"It's against my better judgment, however, to travel inside trains," he said. "In the 53 years I've been hitting the road, I've traveled 2,286,000 miles, made six trips around the world and only paid for 96,000 miles of the distance."

The king said he believed he was the world's most traveled individual.

"There are only four of us in the higher-travel bracket," he said. "The Duke of Windsor, Eleanor Roosevelt, Believe-it-or-Not Ripley and me."

"The Duke has gone about one and a half million miles, but Eleanor is my closest competitor. She's gone over two million, if her mileage reports in the papers are correct."

Speaking for his fraternity members, who number 1,024,000, according to his Cincinnati files, Davis said in commenting on the political scene: "We're not exactly opposed to Senator Taft. We are opposed to labor regimentation and regulation. If they regulate labor, they'll be regulating food."

Today there are few members of the itchy-foot brotherhood on the road, Davis said.

"During the war a lot of our knights enlisted," he added, "and more went into defense work. After VJ-Day, all the knights wanted to hit the road again, but we dissuaded them at the annual conventions. Each year we've agreed to spend another 12 months in re-conversion work."

"Of course, as soon as the work is finished we'll go back to our normal life."

Since 1900 a standard lamp socket and base has replaced 175 sizes formerly used in residential installations.

Being Hobo King Not All Loafing Jeff Davis Says
 CLEVELAND (UP)—Take it from Jeff Davis, being king of the hoboes doesn't mean less work, it means more.

Davis, who stopped off here on his way to Cincinnati headquarters of the Knights of the Road Fraternity, said his duties as lifetime king of the hoboes entailed considerable office work.

"The Grand Supreme Knights pay dues and there are 2,000 of them," he said. "We have 48 laymen representing the states, also representatives in all United States possessions. I have 14 assistant secretaries and it doesn't seem enough."

The hobo head, just turned 65,

Father's Ingenuity Aids Polio Victim

LORAIN, O. (UP)—A father's ingenuity may help his 10-year-old son recover from infantile paralysis.

Little Eddie Tougas was the city's first polio victim this year. When the youngster was taken to the hospital, his father, Marcel S. Tougas, heard one of the nurses mention the need of a "shoulder wheel."

The wheel, so constructed that paralyzed patients may use it helps strengthen arm and shoulder muscles.

The elder Tougas got busy fashioning such a wheel out of plywood and presented it to the hospital.

Officials there have acclaimed it as the best "wheel" they have seen and say it should be especially helpful to polio victims.
