Senate Told Of Meyers' Contracting Firm

SAYS COMPANY PAID $10,000 REDECORATING BILL FOR GEN.

WASHINGTON — Senate investigators were told today that a wartime subcontracting firm promoted secretly by retired Maj. Gen. Bennett E. Meyers footed a $10,000 bill for redecorating his swank Washington apartment and paid him $2000 a month.

B. H. Lamarre, president of the Aviation Electric Corp., Vandalia, O., said the redecorating job was charged off first as a sales expense of the firm, which Meyers secretly "owned" and promoted as a sub-contractor of airplane equipment.

After accountants questioned the charge, Lamarre said, it was listed as part of his—Lamarre's—"book" salary of $31,000 in 1941. Lamarre testified yesterday that he made out an income tax return showing a $31,000 salary but that he actually made only about $3000 a year as president of the firm and that the rest went to Meyers.

Meyers was a key procurement officer in the Army Air Forces during the war.

Lamarre also testified that the $2000 a month he said was paid to Meyers in 1941 never showed on the firm's books as such. Instead, he said, half of it was listed as Lamarre's salary and the other half as entertainment and travel expenses.

Besides the $2000 a month, Lamarre said that in 1941 the firm paid off its total indebtedness to Meyers of $29,482, which included $1172 interest.

His testimony about the expensive redecorating job was substantiated by Miss Nita Davis, now a San Francisco decorator.

She said Meyers requested the redecorating job because "important people would be visiting the apartment and he wanted it nice."

Miss Davis said the bill was addressed to Meyers and the checks in payment—usually delivered personally by Meyers—came from Aviation Electric Corp.

Lamarre and Miss Davis testified as the Senate war investigating committee delved further into Meyers' connections with Aviation Electric, which got $1,053,000 (M) in sub-contracting business from the Bell Aircraft Co., on Meyer's recommendation as procurement officer.

Lamarre also testified that the $2000 a month he said was paid to Meyers in 1941 never showed on the firm's books as such.

Instead, he said, half of it was listed as Lamarre's salary and the other half as entertainment and travel expenses. Besides the $2000 a month, Lamarre said that in 1941 the firm paid off its total indebtedness to Meyers of $29,482, which included $1172 interest.

Policeman, Now Priest, Gives Parents Advice

JEFFERSON, Mass. (UP) — A policeman who became a priest has been named first chaplain of the Massachusetts Police Association.

The Rev. Michael J. Ryan, curate at St. Mary's Catholic Church here, was a policeman for 14 years in Worcester before entering the seminary.

As a result of his double career, Father Ryan believes that "if parents keep their youngsters away from the drugstore corners, they won't need to fear juvenile delinquency."

Friendship Train Over 100 Cars

WICHITA, Kan. (UP) — The Southwestern Friendship Train will be hauling more than 100 cars of food for Europe's hungry people when it leaves Kansas and starts northward to Chicago, drive leaders forecast today.

The train, hauling full carloads of foodstuffs from Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas, will leave Thursday.

Say Alligators Don't Eat People

NEW ORLEANS (UP) — Alligators do not eat people. Outdoorsmen familiar with the mysterious, semi-tropical Green Delta region said the alligator today was having his troubles.

In fact they said he actually was disappearing from southern marshlands.

Br'er Gator, as the reptile often is called, long has been recognized by sportsmen as a friend of man. His tanks have been that he has been ginned, shot, beaten, choked, chopped, and made into handbags.

Alligators, sportsmen say, eat turtles, snakes and garfish, all deadly enemies of game fish.

PREDICTS RED COUP

WASHINGTON — Rep. Everett M. Dirksen, R., Ill., recently returned from Europe, told the House foreign affairs committee today he believes Czechoslovakia will fall under complete Communism domination within four months.

Says Control Of Speculation Needed

WASHINGTON — Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson said today that regulatory power over speculation in commodity futures was needed to assure that such trading does not turn into a "big crap game."

He said President Truman, in requesting such legislation, was merely asking Congress to give the government the same type of control over commodity speculation as it already has over stock speculation—the power to fix margins in trading.

Plane Crash Victims Removed

HAVANA, Ark. — Authorities climbed high on Mt. Magazine near here today to remove the bodies of five army airmen who were killed when their B-25 enroute from Chicago to its base at Barksdale Field, La., crashed into the mountain top and burned last night.

Searchers who went to the scene of the crash said they found five bodies and reported that a sixth passenger might have been aboard the plane.

There are 9,000 school districts in Minnesota.

B Team To Meet Breckenridge Wednesday Night

Fresh from a 7-0 victory over the Mineral Wells B team, the Ranger B team will meet the Breckenridge B's in a game at the Bulldog stadium Wednesday night at 8:00.

The cheer leaders and pep squad will sell tickets and all proceeds will go for the annual football banquet.

This is the third game of the season for the B team and they have won one and lost one of the games.

Starting lineup Wednesday night will be as follows: RE, Ronald Williams; RT, Roy Lindsey; RG, Ralph Gay; C, E. P. Robinson; LG, Stiles; LT, Southern; LE, Buddy McKinney; RH, Dean Elder; FB, Raymond Camacho; LH, Meredith Sides; QB, Buddy Hamrick.

Navy Recruiter To Be Here Mondays

R. C. Broadus, chief petty officer with the United States Navy will be in Ranger each Monday to interview young men interested in service with the Navy.

He can be contacted at the post office on those days.

Navy Men's Lost Belongings Await Owners In Utah Clearing Center

By Murray M. Moler United Press Staff Correspondent CLEARFIELD, Utah (UP) — World War II may be history now to the historians, but not to the staff of the personal effects distribution center at the Clearfield naval supply depot.

This center, directed by Capt. W. R. Ryan, is the U. S. Navy's only clearing house for the effects left behind by the fallen naval heroes—and by living naval veterans who insist on leaving wallets in taxicabs all over the world.

To the P.E.D.C. at this huge supply depot falls the task of forwarding to "next of kin" the clothing, souvenirs and other "locker gear" of deceased sailors and officers and of sending to living navy men the stuff they've lost.

Sometimes it's simple. Just get the proper address from the Navy Department files in Washington, verify it by mail and then give the package to the postman.

But not usually. Next of kin keeps moving. So do sailors. Addresses change constantly. Legal complications come up. Widows, once in a great while, don't want their wounds of sorrow reopened. And lost clothing and souvenirs, can't be identified as to proper ownership.

That's why the officer in charge of the center, Lt. Cmdr. William McKenna of San Diego, and his key men, Lt. R. I. Haag of Eden Valley, Minn., Chief Payclerks E. E. Stevens of Rochester, Minn., and Stephen J. Walsh of Boston, get called Sherlock Holmes sometimes.

For months after the war's end, most of the work at the center was that of sorting out the possessions of the men killed in action and making sure they got in the proper hands. That phase of the work gets lighter as months go by, but there's still a lot of it.

About $300,000 to $400,000 in checks and money orders has found its way through the center. Money that can't be returned to its rightful owner, or sent to an heir promptly, is put in safekeeping and the intricate process of detective work started.

Among the 5,638 boxes of valuable property in the heavy-guarded "valuable effects" corner of the center's huge Clearfield warehouse are two boxes filled with household effects of an officer who was being moved. They got lost in transit—and the officer hasn't been relocated yet.

On one shelf is an Annapolis sword, property of some naval academy graduate—but no one knows who. Beside it are several Japanese Samurai swords. They will be sent off their way in the 500 shipments made weekly, when their owners or the next of kin are found.

In the larger storage bays of the warehouse are 26,000 more pieces of luggage, boxes of cloth-

COMMUNISTS IN ITALY LEAD MORE RIOTS

ROME — Communist-led rioting broke out afresh in Italy today when a mob of 5,000 attacked police in Corato, in the Puglia region, and were repulsed by police gunfire.

The new outbreak in more than two weeks of political disorders came as Palmiro Togliatti, Communist leader, was quoted as hinting at "revolutionary action" if the party is defeated in the national elections scheduled for next March.

Premier Alcide De Gasperi had moved to enlarge his Christian Democratic government to include Center and Leftist Parties, excepting Communists.

"The question can be put in the following terms—if we win the elections, our prospects will be pacific. Otherwise we will evidently pass to revolutionary action," Togliatti was quoted as saying last night.

This method of putting the question is absolutely abstract in all senses and does not take into consideration the general development of our action," he was said to have added.

The Communists were expected to ignore Premier Alcide De Gasperi's appeal last night for them to stop serving foreign interests and save Italy from the "spectre of Civil War". Leftist newspapers described his speech today as "a struggle to reconquer the world for Christ."

Concert Monday Said To Be One Of Finest Yet

Music critics generally were unanimous in their praise of the performance given Monday night by Angel Reyes, violinist and his accompanist Claude Jean Chission when they appeared at the Eastland High School auditorium.

It was stated that not only was Reyes superb in technique but the melodious tones surpassed anything ever heard in this part of the country. "Such a performance is proof of the high standard musicians that the Eastland County Community Concert Association is bringing to the county," one violinist commented.

Equally pleasing to the audience was the performance of Chission who was very generous with his encores.

GI TAKES BUDDIST VOWS

George Levy, 21, of New York City, a T-5 stationed with a medical dispensary in Tokyo is believed to be the first member of the occupation to take a vow of a Buddhist Priest. Pictured during the ceremony at the Koyasan Betsuin Buddhist Temple, Shiba Ward, Tokyo, Levy said he had no other religion and took this step to further his studies of religion. (NEA Telephoto).

Aircraft Mechanic School Now Open For All Veterans

Announcement was made today by George M. Foltete, of the Eastland County Vocational School, that an Aircraft and Aircraft Engine School is now in operation at the Cisco Municipal Airport in Cisco.

The school is available for all veterans under the G.I. Bill of Rights. The length of the course is 104 weeks, and after passing the required CAA examination, an A. and E. mechanics license is given, which entitles the bearer to do maintenance on most any type of modern airplanes.

Persons having previous experience, while in the service, or civilian, can receive their licenses sooner than the beginner, depending on their ability.

Equipment includes: set of complete shop tools, modern civilian airplane engines, a complete airplane and components.

Horsepower of the engines run from the 145 horsepower Kinner to the R-2800 1800 horsepower Wright Whirlwind engine, used in four-engine bombers for the Army and Navy.

Mr. Foltete is head instructor for the school, and may be contacted at the Eastland County Vocational School in the Eastland National Bank building in Eastland.

Nazarene Young People Of Area To Meet Nov. 20

Young people from the Church of the Nazarene in Breckenridge, Mineral Wells, Ranger, Stephenville, Cisco and Eastland, will convene Thursday, November 20, at 2:00 p.m. at the Eastland Nazarene church for a zone rally.

An interesting program is planned with speeches, songs, discussions and various other items of interest to all.

At the 7:30 evening service, Rev. Lauriston DeBois is on the program and is an interesting speaker. His message will be a vital one.

Supper will be served to the visiting church members, and friends between 5:30 and 6:30. Rev. Wm. C. Emberton, pastor, says: "We trust the young people of this community will attend this special service. Everyone is invited and we are certain you will profit by attending."

JURY FINDS W. J. HARRISON IS GUILTY

Sentenced To Two Years; Fined $1,000

The case of the State of Texas vs. W. J. Harrison, charged with failure to stop and render aid, in a car-truck accident on a public highway, went to the jury just before 11:00 o'clock this morning.

The jury found Harrison guilty and he was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary and a $1,000 fine was assessed him.

The case went to trial Monday morning testimony was concluded Monday afternoon and argument by attorneys took place this morning.

District Attorney Everett Grisham representing the State and W. H. Welch of Breckenridge representing the defense.

Harrison, a Breckenridge truck operator, is charged by the State as the driver of a truck that on the night of September 4 last, sideswiped or was sideswipped by a car driven by Darwyn Doyle of Cisco on the Breckenridge-Cisco highway and that he failed to stop and render aid.

Doyle's left arm was torn from his body in the accident and was picked up ten or fifteen miles up the highway sometime after the accident.

The state contended that human blood and parts of human flesh were found on Harrison's truck. It also claimed that samples of paint taken from Harrison's truck matched the paint on Doyle's car. Chemical analysis of the blood, paint and other items from the two cars were made by chemists for the State Department of Public Safety, who officers worked on the case, and at least one of them on the case and at least one such chemist was a witness in the case testifying as to the tests he had made. Other witnesses for the State included people who lived in the vicinity of where the accident occurred.

Harrison, testifying in his own behalf, said that he did not know that he hit any car on the highway and that the blood alleged to have been found on his truck, might have been from his hand which he had slightly injured on a piece of wire or something of the kind.

Harmony Speeds Palestine Deal

LAKE SUCCESS—A surge of Russo-American harmony carried the United Nations today toward final action on a program for partitioning Palestine by next Oct. 1.

The big power compromise cleared the way for a fateful vote on Palestine's future by the UN General Assembly by the end of the week.

Well... I Dunno, But...

Robert (Bobbie) Thompson lays claim to having killed the largest deer yet reported by a Ranger hunter and until somebody steps forward with a better one we'll have to admit his claim sounds authentic.

The deer on foot weighed over 200 pounds and when dressed weighed 184 pounds. He got his kill while hunting on the Bud Christwell ranch near Pietown, New Mexico. When he arrived at the ranch the temperature was 10 below zero and two snowfalls during the stay made the deer hunting good.

When Bobbie and his party checked out Saturday morning about 3,000 hunters had checked out of that part of the state and only about 300 deer had been killed.

Others in the party were J. D. Spears of Big Spring, Bruce Henderson of Carlsbad, New Mexico and Rex and Granville Norris of Pietown.

The following clipping from a company magazine about former Ranger residents has been sent to us.

Recently Pleas E. Moore and family motored up to Ho Springs Ark., to see their son Bill, whom they had not seen in almost two years and Bill's wife, Pauline, whom they had never seen.

Bill, wanting to show off his bride and strut-his-stuff in general, had reserved a special table at Arlington Hotel for a real dinner, on the Saturday night of their visit there. It was about a ten course dinner, with complete silver service including individual silver coffee pot, etc., etc. Of course, Pleas reared back and acted like that was every day occurrence with him until—when they brought the finger-bowls in, Little Patty said loud enough for all to hear, "Mother, what are those?"

Pleas and family fell in love with their new daughter-in-law, whose marriage to Bill was something like the romance you read in a book.

Pauline accompanied her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Valdimir Timoshenko, when they left Palo Alto, Calif., for Germany last spring. Dr. Timoshenko, who is a professor in Stanford University, has been stationed with the United States Office of Military Government for Germany as analyst of statistical information. The family spent last Christmas in Montreux, Switzerland, and it was there that Pauline met Lt. William Dudley Moore, who was stationed in Austria, a Texan stationed abroad with the army.

The friendship ripened when Lieutenant Moore, who was stationed in Vienna, Austria, spent his leaves visiting Berlin. And on May 10, the couple was married by the Burgermeister there.

It was a formal wedding, with Pauline in a white silk gown trimmed with pearl-embroidered heirloom lace. Her maid of honor wore pale yellow marquisette, and bridesmaids were in light blue taffeta frocks made with overskirts of blue net.

Pauline and Bill honeymooned for a few days in Salzburg, Austria, and on May 16 Bill was sent to a hospital with Arthritis. He was confined in one hospital after another and finally sent to the Army and Navy General Hospital in Hot Springs, Ark. He is fast recovering and it is hoped that within a very short time he will be home visiting his parents and family.

If you want to help a good cause, then attend that B team football game Wednesday night. The proceeds from the game will be used in staging the annual football banquet and every ticket bought will be just that much help toward the banquet fund.

BANKERS TO MEET

WASHINGTON — Export-Import bank officials said today that Canadian and American experts would meet in the "near future" possibly next week—to discuss an agreement formalizing a $300,000,000 (M) export-import bank credit to Canada.

KIDNAPPED CHILD FOUND IN MIAMI

The FBI has announced that Bernice Henry, above, 17-months-old, who was "kidnapped" by an aunt from her Houston, Texas, vacation home in June, has been found in a children's home in Miami, Florida. A kidnapping warrant has been issued for Mrs. Mitchell Ashline, 23. The FBI said the charge was technical, since the abduction was "in the family." (NEA Telephoto).

Herdsmen Again On Job In Big Bend Country

ALPINE, Tex. (UP) — Herdsmen have taken their place again in the ranching scene at Big Bend. The U. S. Park Service has notified the ranchers that any straying into the Big Bend national park will be seized and impounded.

No seizures have been reported, but the ranchers in most cases have taken the precaution of assigning men to ride herd.

The Park Service also has banned commercial truck traffic from the Big Bend park.

Tooth Reaction Violent WASHINGTON, Pa. (UP) — A toothache caused a freak accident here. Mrs. J. A. Yusko, who was driving to her dentist, told police she was struck by a sudden sharp pain in her jaw, causing her to crash into a parked truck.

All but five of the 112 Methodist churches in the London area were damaged during the war and 46 were destroyed.

MIST

Each life is shrouded in vapor, through which shadows are glimpsed.
Things and forms that cannot quite be made out . . . moving here and there. Now we almost have it; now we don't.
Fog.
Impulses . . . desires . . . that shock us.
Sudden whims.
Strange, is it not?

Mists that rise from the waters of life.
Discontent.
And then we walk quickly . . . pushing through the mist.
Everydayness shrouded in mystery.
Commonplace thoughts disturbed by we know not what.
Is this it? Is this what we were seeking . . . through the fog and the mist?
No?
A tired hand brushes through the shadow.
Familiar things . . . and faces . . . where we may rest . . . for a while.
And the mist again.

Texas City Disaster Sparks Move To Control Nitrate Ship Cargoes

By Henry Minard
United Press Staff Correspondent
SEATTLE (UP)—Undesirable to handle and at the same time a vital need, ammonium nitrate presents a ticklish problem to U. S. port authorities, harbor officials here point out.

Cocky? And How

This New Hampshire rooster has a right to be cocky. It was recently purchased at the ROP cockerel auction in Peoria, Ill., for $300, reportedly the highest selling price ever recorded for any similar bird. The rooster will be used for breeding purposes.

The chemical has been given a wide berth ever since it blasted Texas City last April 16. And yet, it is an urgent need to revitalize tired, nitrogen-starved soils of the world.

The problem is how to keep nitrate-laden ships moving to Europe, Asia and South America and at the same time observe required safety precautions.

Ships taking on nitrate at New Westminster, B. C., often carry other cargo destined for American ports of desire to take on additional cargo en route.

Seattle, one of the first ports to realize the explosive qualities of the chemical, has limited to 10 tons the amount of ammonium nitrate that can be carried aboard an incoming vessel.

"Any ship exceeding that amount doesn't get in," Chief Harborman James A. Burns, said.

"And we lost shipping," said Col. Warren D. Lamport, general manager of the Seattle port commission. "However, the public's safety transcends shipping interests."

Indian Leader

This new camera study of Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, premier of India, was made at New Delhi by Bert Brandt, NEA-Acme correspondent, on his round-the-world photo-reporting trip via Pan American World Airways.

Barracks on a Truck on a Barge on a River

Barracks, formerly used to house atomic workers at Hanford, Wash., are being moved to Richland, 24 miles away, where a new city is springing up as the Richland Engineer Works is expanded. This building, going by truck, crosses a waterway by barge. The barracks city will eventually provide homes for 15,000 persons at Richland.

"What is needed right now is a clear, reliable report on what ammonium nitrate is. Explosive or fertilizer? Then draw up a uniform list of regulations to apply in every port."

If nitrate were classified nationally as a high explosive and banned for every congested area, as Fire Chief William Fitzgerald has done locally, the solution would be simpler, Lamport said.

"Then, possibly, ships would be assigned to carry nitrate exclusively. And move directly from loading zones to destinations," he continued.

All U. S. ports must obey a recent Coast Guard regulation which requires a permit before unloading.

To Fitzgerald, who didn't wait for the Texas City disaster before clapping on rigid restrictions, the Coast Guard doesn't go far enough. He maintains the ship should never get into the port.

"I say the stuff's explosive. Some say no, it's fertilizer. But I saw Texas City after the blast and I came back convinced."

If You Need Job Ohio's The Place

COLUMBUS, O. (UP)—Unemployment Compensation Bureau figures reveal that fewer people are looking for jobs now in Ohio than at any time since World War II ended.
Culminating a steadily declining unemployment trend over a three-month period, job seekers numbered only 95,000 on Oct. 2, while the state employment service has 68,000 job vacancies listed several paying more than $400 a month.

 Princess Elizabeth will ride to Westminster Abbey for her marriage to Lieut. Philip Mountbatten in the Irish Coach and return to Buckingham Palace with her husband in the Glass Coach.

Along with the great coach of state, these two are the most famous of the gold scrolled horse-drawn carriages of the royal stables.

The Irish Coach is a replica of a bulky equipage bought in Ireland by Queen Victoria. The original burned just before the Coronation
 of George V in 1911.

The Glass Coach—so-called because of its high glass windows enabling an excellent view of the passengers—was built in 1881 for
 Sir Whitaker Ellis, a Lord Mayor-elect of London who wanted to be seen in his gorgeous robes of office.

The Glass Coach is more delicately constructed than the Irish
 Coach and its sides of black lac-

 touch—like the coach the fairy

Princess To Ride
 In Famous Coaches

LONDON, Nov. 20 (UP)—
 Princess Elizabeth will ride to
 Westminster Abbey for her marriage to Lieut. Philip Mountbatten
 in the Irish Coach and return to Buckingham Palace with her husband in the Glass Coach.

Along with the great coach of
 state, these two are the most famous of the gold scrolled horse-drawn carriages of the royal stables.

The Irish Coach is a replica of
 a bulky equipage bought in Ireland by Queen Victoria. The original
 burned just before the Coronation
 of George V in 1911.

The Glass Coach—so-called because of its high glass windows
 enabling an excellent view of the passengers—was built in 1881 for
 Sir Whitaker Ellis, a Lord Mayor-
 elect of London who wanted to be seen in his gorgeous robes of office.

The Glass Coach is more delicately constructed than the Irish
 Coach and its sides of black lacquer and gilt give it a fairyland
 touch—like the coach the fairy queen made for Cinderella from a pumpkin.

HONEYMOON HOME OF ROYAL COUPLE NOW HOSPITAL

LONDON, Nov. 20 (UP)—A hospital is a strange place for any honeymoon but even stranger when one of the honeymooners is the heir to the throne of the British Empire.

Yet a hospital is where Princess Elizabeth and Lieut. Philip Mountbatten will spend the first part of their honeymoon.

Ever since the war, Broadlands, near Romsey in the New Forest—one of the stately homes of Eng-land—has been an official annex of the Royal South Hampshire Hospital, with only a small portion of its rooms retained as private by Earl and Countess Mountbatten, who own it.

Countess Mountbatten inherited the house from her wealthy father, Lord Mount Temple. Originally built in Elizabethan times, it was reconstructed in the 18th century and was the ancestral home of Lord Palmerston, who was born there in 1784.

About 100 patients are in the building, many of them surgical cases. The news that they are to have the royal lovers as neighbors has had interesting psychological results, according to nurses who say some patients showed immediate improvement.

The Mountbattens have retained a dining room, two lounges and three or four bedrooms for themselves. The patients have the run of the grounds, with the exception of a small private garden. Before the war, the Mountbattens had a staff of 50. Today there is only a butler and two or three helpers.

After two or three weeks at Broadlands, Elizabeth and Philip will go to Birkhall, a small ivy-covered house on the royal estate a few miles from the King's residence at Balmoral.

Birkhall is a three-story house built in 1715 and close to some of the best shooting country in Scotland. It is considered unpretentious as royal establishments go.

After their honeymoon, Philip and Elizabeth will have suites in Windsor Castle and in Buckingham Palace. They probably will accept Windlesham Moor, one of the nicest small estates in Surrey, pending the rebuilding of Sunninghill which burned down shortly after they chose it as a home.

Windlesham Moor has only 50 acres compared with 770 for Sunninghill, a few miles away. But it is more modern and has a nine-hole putting and approach golf course and a garden famous for its rhododendrons. It was offered by Mrs. Warwick Bryant, widow of a millionaire industrialist.

Copper and brass strainers should not be used for citrus or tomato juice, since they destroy vitamin C.

African Expedition To Contact World By Short Wave Radio

CHICAGO (UP)—A caravan of eight trucks and four huge trailers will leave Chicago Nov. 17 on the first leg of a scientific safari to the Mountains of the Moon in East Africa.

Led by Attilio Gatti, veteran of ten African expeditions, it will be the first safari equipped with two-way radio.

The expedition, sponsored by the Hallcrafters Co., is scheduled to arrive in New York Nov. 23 and leave there by boat five days later.

For the first time, 70,000 radio "hams" in the United States will be able to talk directly via short-wave radio with an expedition in the field. Daily reports on their explorations, scientific research and experiments will be made to company headquarters here during their six-month stay.

William J. Halligan, president of the Hallcrafters, said the Mountains of the Moon area was chosen as a site for the experiments because the "climate is the worst in the world" for radio reception and transmission.

"There are mountain peaks which tower nearly 17,000 feet into the sky and equatorial swamps in the Eluri Forest, the wettest spot on earth, all within a 100-mile area," Halligan said.

Although the primary purpose of the safari is the testing of equipment, the party expects to hunt big game "within the limitations laid down by the government of British East Africa."

Mrs. Gatti will accompany her husband, whose last trip ended when war broke out in 1939.

Equipment for the safari includes a "floating island," a silently propelled craft camouflaged with fresh vegetation, from which wild life along lake shores will be photographed.

Expedition leaders still are seeking a helicopter which will operate satisfactorily at altitudes above 5,000 feet, to photograph animals never before seen by white men.

The party will add about 100 native bearers before it begins to penetrate the dense jungle at Mombasi in January.

Halligan said the expedition might become an "international ham-fest."

"We expect that hundreds of thousands of listeners will tune in on the expedition via short wave," he said.

Results of the technical research and experiments will be made available to the entire radio industry, Halligan said.

Goldilocks, A Dog Adopts A Stray Kitten

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UP)—Goldilocks, a six-year-old Pomeranian, greeted her mistress holding a tiny kitten tenderly in her mouth.

Mrs. W. B. Smith watched while the dog deposited her burden in her sleeping basket.

"Goldilocks," Mrs. Smith said, "watches over the kitten as if she were the mother."

Where Goldilocks got the kitten is a mystery. The neighborhood felines weren't expecting.

Carmel Cracks Down On Some Rooming Houses

CARMEL, Cal. (UP)—Carmel, where everything is done differently, is waging war on a new type of "criminal"—people who run rooming houses.

There's an ordinance against it. The law says you can't let accommodations to more than three people inside a single residence. It also says there can't be more than one cooking layout in any one house.

Some householders have been renting spare rooms to more than three persons at a time, and also smuggling in hot plates.

The city council says it's positively got to stop.

The world's horse population dropped from 95,000,000 to 75,000,000 during World War II, the U. S. Agriculture Department reports.

ONE LAXATIVE IS ENOUGH

SOME PEOPLE keep many kinds of laxatives on hand. They include weak, mild, strong and harsh types for different members of the family. Actually, all you need is a single bottle of ADLERIKA, the FAMILY LAXATIVE. It's a scientifically compounded fine old product originated by a doctor . . . works quickly, but gently, to move waste through the digestive tract. Stimulates sluggish intestinal muscles equally well for youngsters or older people. Try it—learn why over 20,000,000 bottles have been sold.

Confirms use only as directed. You'll always be your "healthiest" with ADLERIKA on the shelf.
