What to Do With Franco Is Still Tough U. S. Problem

BY PETER EDSON NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON-(NEA)-What to do about Dictator Francisco

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—What to do about Dictator Francisco Franco in Spain is one of the toughest nuts the U. S. has to crack. By dint of some fast work in the U. S. Senate, Wisconsin Republican Congressman Alvin E. O'Konski's embarrassing amendment to include Spain in the Marshall Plan was stricken out of the new Foreign Assistance Act, after it had passed the House, 149 to 52.

The O'Konski amendment was in the bill only a week. But that was long enough for Communist propagandists to get in some awfully good licks against U. S. intentions. They sold eastern Europe on the idea that America was just another Fascist country, willing to support Fascist Dictator Francisco Franco.

Some of this propaganda has taken exceedingly weird forms. A short time ago Maj.-Gen. August W. Kissner of U. S. Air Force stopped off in Madrid after an inspection of the Mediterranean. Kissner is a long-time friend of U. S. Charge d'Affaires Paul T. Culbertson at the American embassy in Madrid. It was a purely social visit and it caused no concern in Madrid. When the Moscow radio got hold of this event, however, it reported that U. S. Gen. Lucius Clay was in Madrid to make a deal with Franco. Clay had never left Berlin.

A short time later U. S. Adml. Forrest W. Sherman came to Madrid to visit his daughter, who is the wife of the U. S. naval attache in the Spanish capital. The Commies reported this event as a deal by which the U. S. was to turn over British Gibraltar to Franco.

THEN when Myron W. Taylor, President Truman's personal representative at the Vatican, stopped off in Madrid on his way to Rome, the Communists really got worked up. Taylor made courtesy calls on the Papal Nuncio and the Cardinal. He also saw Franco, alone. Communist propaganda reported Taylor had come to assure Franco that Spain would not be excluded from the Marshall Plan.

Official assurances are given in Washington that no possible change of U. S. policy towards Spain was discussed.

That Generalissimo Franco is a dictator of the worst sort is no longer open to doubt. The U. S. and other Allied nations did business with open to doubt. The U. S. and other Allied nations did business with him during the war to keep him from openly joining up with Hitler and Mussolini, who were also doing business with him.

All this time most American officials were saying privately that Franco would have to go when the war was over. The big question was how to get rid of him. Nobody knows the answer yet. In the meantime, Franco has dug himself in more solidly than at any time since he began his revolution in 1936. Last July Franco put over a highligide authorizing him to name his own successor. Out of 17 lebiscite authorizing him to name his own successor. Out of 17 million eligible voters, 15 million voted and 14 million voted "Franco, es. Communism, No."

THE Russian formula for getting rid of Franco is to break off all diplomatic relations, apply economic sanctions, blockade and boycott the country. Soviet delegates proposed this course to the UN in 1946. Other countries couldn't see it. They feared that this policy would merely produce chaos which would enable the Communists to

So a watered-down resolution was passed for all UN members to withdraw their ambassadors from Madrid. This is a mild kind of snob-insult which really doesn't mean much.

There is apparently no sentiment in Washington for a change of policy that would accept Franco as a partner. Undersecretary of State lobert A. Lovett says it's up to the Europe they want to cut Spain in on their recovery program. So far, none

Still, say good planning for total European recovery should include pain as a necessary part of a natural geographic and economic unit. he question is how to include her without taking Franco.

DiMaggio, Musial Okay Again, Set Pace for Pennant Races

BY HARRY GRAYSON NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK-(NEA)-Not the least reason why the handicappers lean to the Yankees and Cardinals is that the great Joe DiMaggio and Stanley Musial are sound again.

Teammates wonder how DiMaggio and Musial got through the campaign of 1947. Shortly before the season opened, DiMaggio submitted to a skin grafting job found necessary after the removal of a

The Clipper rushed back into the lineup before he should have. played throughout the grind with an open crescent-shaped wound on the base of the heel.

The season was well along before he could put weight on his pivot heel without suffering the pain of a toothache. On top of that, Di-Maggie carefully concealed a sore arm until after the World Series, Knowing that the Red Birds would fall apart like a hollow shell if he went out for any length of time. Musial stalled off an appendectomy and a tonsillotomy until the last shot was fired.

Doctors took his blood count and whatnot all the way along the route. Worrying about his condition hurt him worse than the sad state of affairs. Musial did not crack .200 until June I, wound up at state of affairs. Musial did not crack 200 until June 1, wound up at a better than 400 clip to finish with .312.

DiMaggio was hitting .400 during the Yankees' 19-game winning streak, wound up with .315 and as the World Series star. A year ago it was Musial's ambition to equal DiMaggio's record of having been in World Series in his first four seasons in the majors.

Now the Donora Dandy is the Cardinal most positive that the blokes in the red blazers are back on the winning track. He's 15 pounds heavier, hitting line drives over the right field wall, and don't wager that he won't lead National League hitters for the third time.

that he won't lead National League hitters for the third time.

Joe DiMaggio was the best bailplayer in the American League on one leg. Imagine what the big fella will be on two.

Once he got rolling, Stan Musial stuck out under distressing circumstances. Wait until you get a look at him now that he is well.

ROB CHESNES, left in San Francisco with a sore shoulder when the Pirates headed east, is back with the club.

The $100,000 right-hander says his pitching equipment is okeh now.

If he can pitch, he's going to be one of the best stories in the majors.

Chesnes was purchased from San Francisco after winning 22 and losing eight with an earned-run mark of 2.32. He had the amazing ERA of 1.32 starting and finishing 26 games, winning 18 and losing six, for Salt Lake of the Class C Pioneer League in 1946.

THE telephone cell rang at that moment. Charlotte picked up the receiver.

"Hello, who is that?"

"Miss Cariotta? Mr. Breeden's secretary here. Will you hold the line, please? Mr. Breeden wishes to speak to you."

Charlotte glanced back over her shoulder at Pattence: "This is a call I've been waiting for for weeks. It's Dwight Breeden. He's head of G. R. P. You know, the big movie people. They're just starting up here in England. Hello, yes?"

"HUMBER, PLEASE?" NUMBER, PLEASE "NUMBER, PLEASE?" "NUMBER, PLEASE?" NUMBER, PLEASE ? IT'S A BIG JOB THESE DAYS

One of the first things a new telephone operator learns is to be always ready for the next call-your call-anybody's call!

Operators have a lot of calls to handle nowadays. There are more telephones in use than ever before and calling is at an all-time high. The switchboard at times is literally ablaze with lights-each one calling for "Number, please?" and each one getting a "Number, please?" as quickly as skilled and courteous operators can manage. If your call is not answered at once, you'll know that nimble fingers will reach it as soon as they possibly can.

As soon as much-needed new equipment can be obtained and installed, we'll be ready to handle your calls quicker and better than ever before.
