Near Record Vote Cast In Ohio Primary

Well... I Dunno, But...

We missed the motorcade that came in Ranger, yesterday afternoon advertising Bob Estes Rodeo at Baird this week-end but they tell us they had some good stunts. For instance, Alee, the clown who has performed at the Jaycees Rodeo in Ranger, rode a donkey right into Swaney's Pharmacy and asked for a ci-gar and some woman did a race right up the sidewalk, riding a donkey.

Don't know how it was yesterday afternoon, but this morning the sidewalk rider wouldn't have threatened any pedestrians. There weren't any.

Sure enough, variety is the spice of life and the variety in the weather was very welcome this morning. That cold north wind felt mighty good after several days of record breaking heat. But no rain, no rain.

Bob Hickey, George Beighley and Palmadge Craig claim a record catch of fish this week-end. They say that they caught the limit and had to throw fish back into the water. George says they were biting so fast that they needed at least two persons to do nothing but string 'em as they pitched 'em in the boat.

Now, that's their story. We didn't see the proof.

The library board reports that 450 books were checked out of the library during the month of April and the library now has over 1700 volumes.

People like attention and pats on the back and we get a big boost out of the woman whom we meet early many mornings and who always tells us we look pretty or something to that effect. While we have our serious doubts about the truth of the compliment, we like it just the same.

And like we've said before, kindness never falls on barren territory. No matter how indifferent a person may seem, kindness strikes a responsive cord somewhere.

Then there's the man that always slays us by saying "Episcopal" instead of "Episcopal." And that he's not casting in "accusations" instead of "accusations."

Then there's another one that speaks of a geologist as a "geologer."

But then "a rose by any other name" you know!

Besides that, we've been called some names, besides our own, too.

Second Attempt Lands That Fish That Got Away

SAN DIEGO, Cal. (UP)—Jack Prodonovich, crack deep sea spear fisherman, turned the trick on the "one that got away," but did it the hard way.

While swimming offshore from La Jolla, Prodonovich spotted a large grouper on a shelf 25 feet down and harpooned it with a power spear. The fish dived beneath a sharp ledge, severing the line.

Some 40 days later Prodonovich again spotted a large grouper and speared it with a hand spear. He pulled the fish ashore.

There was not only his hand spear but the power-driven spear. The grouper, which weighed 112 lbs., had been swimming around for nearly two weeks with a gaping hole in its side and carrying a heavy spear.

Generals Eisenhower Meets Neighbor

Chemical Dyes Used As Tracers New Weapon In Fight On Cancer

PHILADELPHIA (UP)—Chemical dyestuffs similar to the ones used in coloring Easter eggs and textiles, may prove eventually to be a powerful weapon in the warfare against cancer.

Doctors on the cancer commission of the University of Pennsylvania are studying the use of certain dyes as therapeutic agents aimed directly at the possible destruction of cancerous tissues.

The commission says that in animal experiments, selected dyestuffs not only retarded certain malignant growths, but actually caused a marked shrinkage of the malignant tissues.

This new phase of research in the fight against cancer has been conducted for some time by Dr. Margaret Reed Lewis, of the War Institute of Anatomy and Biology, the oldest research institution in America. She was aided in the experiments by Drs. Henry A. Sloviter and Phillip P. Goland, university scientists.

Knowing that cancer cells break off and spread to other tissues, Dr. Lewis set out to find a colored substance selective for cancer tissue, so that its course could be traced through the body.

Previously, it had been observed that dyes would surround, but not penetrate malignant tissues. After numerous experiments, Dr. Lewis and her associates found that a dye, catalogued in the color index as Nile blue sulfate, is absorbed directly into the cancerous tissues.

The discovery leaves the way open to load the Nile blue compounds with a variety of other therapeutic substances, which may possibly help destroy the malignant growths. Experiments conducted by commission doctors showed that tumors when stained with Nile blue compounds, grew more slowly than uncolored tumors, and that treated animals lived longer than untreated animals.

HOUSE OK OF DRAFT BILL IS PREDICTED

WASHINGTON, May 4 (UP)—Speaker Joseph W. Martin, Jr., predicted today that the House will approve the bill to draft men in the 19 through 25 year group for military service.

Martin did not commit himself one way or another on the two-year draft program okayed overwhelmingly yesterday by the House armed services committee. But he said it will be brought up for debate "as fast as possible."

"I don't see any reason why it won't pass," he added.

Meanwhile, there were strong signs that House GOP leaders would scuttle any effort to link to the draft bill a delayed-action plan for universal military training.

The Senate armed services committee was undaunted by growing evidence that no UMT measure will pass the House at this session. It continued work on a plan to combine a 19-through-25 draft with a modified form of UMT for 18-year-olds.

Senate action on money for air force expansion was delayed by other business. The $3,233,000,000 bill carries $3,198,000,000 for buying some up-to-date planes at once and for putting in orders for others.

It passed the House 343 to 3. Senate sponsors hoped to bring it to a vote there late this week.

Youthful Kilt Hater Is Sent Cowboy Suit

AUSTIN, Tex. (UP)—A Scottish lad is going to receive the answer to his dreams, a full cowboy rig, in response to a letter he wrote to the "Sheriff of Texas, America."

Ten-year old David MacGowan of Stirlingshire, Scotland, a professed kilt-hater who wants to be a cowboy, wrote the letter, which would up in the hands of Sheriff H. W. Collins a Travis County.

In addition to a full cowboy ensemble ranging from Texas made boots to a gun belt and suit, Collins enclosed something to make the other Scottish lads take notice: an autographed picture of a "real live Texas sheriff."

A little rebel himself David said he wanted to be a cowboy, though his father had hoped he would turn into an architect.

And as far as his native Scottish dress was concerned, David wrote: "I hate my old kilt."

THREAT OF RAIL STRIKE IS DARKENING

By United Press, May 4 (UP)—The nation's labor picture darkened considerably today as federal mediators virtually gave up hope of averting a rail strike and the CIO United Auto Workers demanded a 30-cent hourly wage increase for Ford employees.

Frank P. Douglas, chairman of the National Railway Mediation Board, scheduled final meetings between the carriers and representatives of three railway operating unions. But he expressed little hope that settlement could be reached.

"It looks very much like there might be a nationwide railway strike May 11," he said.

The unions, representing 150,000 engineers, firemen and switchmen, said they would leave their jobs on that date unless the railroads granted their demands for changes in the working rules and a 30 per cent wage increase.

In the only optimistic note on the labor scene, the Communications Workers of America (Ind.) announced they will extend their contracts with the telephone industry for "short periods of time" to forestall a nationwide telephone strike.

The union represents 230,000 workers and its contracts with the companies expire this month.

Powell of Ranger, Mrs. Mollie Puryear of Weatherford, and Mrs. Dell Hindman of Ranger.

BILL GETS NOD

WASHINGTON, May 4 (UP)—The House rules committee today okayed a bill designed to unlock the secret files of government agencies for any congressional committee.

Worker Buried Alive

Emergency crews work in a desperate effort to extricate the body of Angelo Corsino, Chelsea, Mass. worker, that was buried by a cave-in. Spectators watching a power shovel proved futile when sides of the 30-foot-square hole kept caving in and filling the excavation. (NEA Telephoto.)

No Peace As Long As Reds Push Communism

is little hope of any real or lasting settlement with Russia as long as she persists in spreading communism throughout the world, Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin told the House of Commons today.

Bevin's statement came as he opened a two-day foreign policy debate in Commons with the flat statement that British forces will remain in Berlin despite any Russian efforts to oust them.

The foreign secretary praised the Western European Union formed at Brussels as providing hope for reaching agreements with Russia on specific issues, and said he hoped discussion would "take the place of provocations" and the war of nerves in occupied Germany would end.

Soviet Ambassador George Zarubin sat in the diplomat's gallery as Bevin began his realistic review of Britain's foreign affairs and after discussing Britain's difficulties with Russia admitted he saw scant hope of any final agreement with Soviet Union as long as the latter persisted in spreading Communism.

Bevin rejected the idea of a European federated state.

County Court In Session Today

County court, with Judge P. L. Crossley presiding, was in session this morning. A number of criminal cases were scheduled to be heard.

A jury, previously summoned to try the cases, was on hand for that purpose.

STASSEN, TAFT BATTLE THERE IN NATION'S SPOTLIGHT

By United Press, May 4 (UP)—The primary battle between Harold E. Stassen and U. S. Sen. Robert A. Taft for 23 of Ohio's 53 delegates to the GOP national convention brought out a near record vote today.

Florida, Alabama and Indiana also held primary elections, but the spotlight was on the Ohio fight where Stassen was battling Taft on the Senator's home ground.

Ohio election officials predicted that approximately 1,200,000 persons would vote, including 550,000 in the Republican primary and 650,000 in a Democratic primary.

The state's total primary vote in the last presidential election in 1944 was 895,000. In the 1946 primary the turnout was only 751,000. If the 1,200,000 vote is realized, it would be the largest since 1940.

Taft and Stassen made final appeals to Ohio Republicans last night. Taft outlined his 10-year record in the Senate which he describes as an "uphill battle against federal control and against heavy taxes."

Stassen summarized his "fundamental liberal philosophy" and urged that the United States "initiate the calling of a major amending convention for the United Nations charter."

He said this nation should try to "end the veto in every particular and develop a new voting method."

Both candidates expressed confidence in the outcome of today's crucial test. Taft predicted he would shut out the former governor of Minnesota altogether. But Stassen said he expected to win at least 12 of the 23 delegates he has entered in the election.

Arab King Hints Incorporation Of Palestine

LAKE SUCCESS, May 4 (UP)—King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan hinted in a message to the United Nations today he will try to incorporate Palestine into his Arab kingdom.

Abdullah said in a cable to UN Secretary General Trygve Lie that "everything cries for intervention" to halt the Arab-Jewish warfare in Palestine.

The Trans-Jordan king did not say flatly he would invade the Holy Land. He told Lie, however, that he was ready to "give the Jews in Palestine full Arab nationality in a military state sharing all that we share while yet enjoying a special administration in particular areas."

"I am . . . persuaded," said Abdullah, "that the Jewish people as a whole desire to live in amity with the Arabs."

The message from Abdullah was interpreted as an indirect announcement that Trans-Jordan's well-equipped Arab legion would make its long-predicted move to absorb Palestine after Britain's mandate ends 11 days hence.

Lewis' Grammatical Error Probably Shocked Miners

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Everybody around here is so hot and bothered by overwhelming world events that the really important news at home gets overlooked. For instance:

John L. Lewis, the great English scholar and Shakespearean authority, made a bad mistake in grammar the other day. He sent a telegram to his local United Mine Workers leaders reading in part: "I do hope you will convey to each member my wish that they immediately return to work."

It should, of course, have read: "I do hope you will convey to each member my wish that HE immediately return to work." The miners probably didn't go back at once because they were so shocked at this grievous error.

Republican Presidential Candidate Robert A. Taft has accused his rival, Harold E. Stassen, of shirking responsibilities by refusing to be a candidate for the U. S. Senate and helping share the burden of work in Washington. Taft thought Stassen shouldn't spend so much time campaigning for the presidency. But when Taft's own pet housing bill was before the Senate, Taft was campaigning in Ohio.

Also, while President Truman keeps hammering away at Congress to do something about his ten-point anti-inflation program, the Joint Committee on the Economic Report, of which Taft is chairman, hasn't been able to get together on a program. The President's Economic Report went to Congress in January. The President's Council of Economic Advisers made a second report April 1. The Taft Committee was supposed to report Feb. 15. It got a delay till March 1, then March 15, then April 15. The committee staff has drafted a report but Taft has never been able to get the committee together to consider it. The staff is now peddling the report around to get approval.

THE Supreme Court has decided to hear a case on whether it's legal for cops to peek over a transom to get evidence, unless they have a search warrant. Two Washington men were convicted of running a numbers racket on evidence obtained in this way. Their lawyer has appealed to Supreme Court on the grounds that peeking over a transom violates Constitutional rights.

General Electric Company, the first big company to jump on the price-cutting wagon, has now announced that its profits for the first quarter of 1948 are 42 per cent higher than for the same period last year. U. S. Steel does an about-face and cuts prices. But American Telephone and Telegraph says it will have to ask for increased rates, while at the same time giving assurances there will be no cut in its regular 39 dividend. Here are three different big business views which economists can't fit together in the economic jig-saw puzzle.

CONGRESSMEN like to accuse Russia of not co-operating with other countries, but they overlook their own blocks against co-operation. Republicans leaders are looking for ways to block renewal of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements act. A bill to authorize U. S. participation in the World Health Organization is bottled up in House Rules committee. Bills to admit 100,000 refugees a year are stalled in both Houses. A loan to help UN build its headquarters is being held up and there's a move on in the Senate to revise the whole UN charter.

One made-up story going the rounds in Washington is about the Grand Duchess of Luxembourg calling up Secretary Marshall to get some aid. "Have you any Communists?" asks Marshall. "Not one!" the Grand Duchess replied. "Then you can't have any money," says Marshall, "because this program is aimed to defeat communism."

Giants, Dodgers Might Just As Well Have Stayed Home

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA-Sports Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—As one of the harassed baseball writers checked, the Giants and Dodgers should have "stood in bed" instead of running all the way to Phoenix and Ciudad Trujillo for what was loosely identified as training.

The Polo Grounds returned home much worse off than they were when they shoved off for the wild and woolly west.

Mel Ott developed just one pitcher on the long trip, and until the ancient and honorable Bobo Newsom was acquired it looked like the New York club would open the season with just two, one of them a recruit.

And just when Manager Ott was beginning to believe pitching was his only problem, second baseman Bill Rigney bruised a nerve in his throwing shoulder.

The next time Ott looked up, Buddy Kerr was being hit on the back of the head by a ball thrown by Allie Clark, of the Indians in Topeka.

Kerr insisted on opening the season in street clothes when the medicine men told the front office he was perfectly all right, so the shortstop was suspended.

THEN to complete the hard luck straight down through the middle, center fielder Bobby Thomson sprained a ligament in his left knee stumbling after misjudging a fly that went over his head for a home run, and catcher Walker Cooper went out with a bruised kneecap.

Mel Ott hopes the Giants are getting all this kind of stuff out of their systems early and at once. If they don't, even 221 more home runs won't help them, especially with that pitching staff, or lack of it.

A month on the island of Santo Domingo, the Brooklyn's swing through the south and southwest, and 27 victories in 28 exhibition games seemingly didn't prove much to Branch Rickey and Leo Durocher.

Bruce Edwards looks like a miniature blimp, and Jackie Robinson is carrying enough excess ballast to steady a ship.

At the outset, the new, new Durocher said only Pee Wee Reese was sure of his job, and that's the way it looked with the season under way.

Robinson was at his natural position, second base, and was benched in favor of Eddie Miksis in the fifth inning of the second game.

The brand-new Durocher lost no time making it plain just who is managing the Brooks, however, when in their second start of the championship race he established a new National League record using 24 hired hands in a nine-inning game in a futile attempt to catch the Giants. He employed five pitchers and as many pinch-hitters, three in the seventh without a score. Four worked out at second base.

Look who gets squeezed!

Union leaders representing less than one-tenth of railroad employees reject recommendations of President's Emergency board—refuse to negotiate except on their own terms—threaten to paralyze nation by strike!

THE LEADERS of three railroad unions, representing less than one-tenth of all railroad employees, have called a railroad strike that would paralyze the nation. These leaders refuse to accept a 15 1/2 cents an hour wage increase retroactive to November 1, 1947. This increase was recommended by an impartial Emergency Board appointed by President Truman. This increase of 15 1/2 cents already has been accepted by the 19 other railroad unions. But the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engine-men, and the Switchmen's Union of North America won't accept what more than 90% of all railroad employees have accepted. They have called a strike to get more!

Spurned Police Horses Find New Careers

ST. LOUIS, (UP) — The city's police department horses have been kicked upstairs.

Reporters shed gallons of printers' ink tears when the department announced the retirement of the traffic cop's faithful steeds as a part of a program of mechanization.

But the horses entered a glamorous new life when the Moolah Temple Shrine bought all 13 of them. Now they are slated to furnish the foundation for the Shrine's mounted patrol.

More than 900,000 species of animals are now known and well over 600,000 of them are insects.

Latin American Theme Used In W.S.C.S. Study

The Woman's Society of Christian Service met Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Methodist Church with the president, Mrs. Vernon Deffebach, opening the meeting with a prayer song, "I Would Be True".

Against a background of Latin American atmosphere, Mrs. Stanley McAnely presented the second session of the study, "We The Peoples of the United Nations". An open Bible and picture of Christ surrounded by Mexican articles formed the worship center, which was arranged by Mrs. Tom Stewart.

The songs, "Juanita" and "Silent Night," were sung in Spanish by Martha Flores, accompanied at the piano by Miss Mildred Balch. This was followed by a Spanish legend given by Betty Jean Howell. These numbers were under the direction of Miss Calla Mae Deaton and Miss Balch.

Mexican pralines, further featuring the Spanish theme, were passed to those present by Kay Hopper.

Mrs. A. W. Brazda spoke on "Experiments in International Living" and "Duties and Functions of the Security Council of the UN Organization" were explained by Mrs. Morris Newsham.

Another agency of the U.N., the Economic and Social Council, is given by Mrs. Arthur Deffebach. Additional information on the subjects was given by Mrs. McAnely following each speaker.

Current events regarding international relationships will be featured at the next meeting.

Piped Air Proposed To Protect Oranges

REDLANDS, Cal. (UP) — The old-fashioned mudge pot, used to keep oranges from freezing during cold nights, will be a back number if Paul C. Weeks' invention is a success.

Weeks, who runs a Redlands welding shop, has devised a system of pipes carrying compressed air to protect the fruit. He would bury the pipes six feet in the ground, where the temperature is always 73, and use nozzles to squirt the warmed air up beneath each tree.

Dan Schacht, orange grower, is going to test the system on half an acre of his ground.
