UN Again Tenders Berlin Solution To Soviet

Well...
I Dunno,
But...

The growth and expansion of a town is dependent very largely on the payrolls of a town. The more people have to spend and the more people that have money to spend, the more progressive the town and the better its business.

Consistently, we hear talk of getting more payrolls for Ranger. Payrolls that will be dependable and permanent. Payrolls that may not be so big but with a number of smaller ones the grand total is the same.

Ranger has an opportunity to add another payroll to its list. A payroll that will be considerable from a business that will be permanent and one that will give Ranger much advertising.

We have reference, of course, to the possibility of a light-weight aggregate plant, or haydite plant, being located at Ranger. Some equipment for such a plant has already been stored in Ranger and Ranger can have that plant if the business people of the town want it.

A meeting of business men has been called for tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 at the Chamber of Commerce for the purpose of discussing this new plant.

A new payroll in Ranger means more business for you. A new payroll means another step in the gradual and solid growth of the town. It means more money for more people to spend. Just another link in the steady and permanent advancement of Ranger.

If the plant is established here, and it will be here or some other town, it will produce a building material that is in demand all over the United States and one that is growing in popularity. That material will go out of Ranger well labeled with the town from which it comes and thus aside from the money it brings into the town, will give it widespread advertising.

The material will be produced from a deposit of shale taken from the earth of a tract of land on which the plant would be located. It will not be dependent on gambling as to whether or not the material is there. It is there and has been laboratory tested to prove its qualities for making the building material. The tests were returned with very encouraging reports.

All of the equipment for such a plant has already been bought by C. W. Cline, who proposes to put in the plant, and who has installed similar plants, or the equipment is available. The material for the product is available.

Now, it's up to the people to get behind the project and complete details for it being placed here and that's why it's important for you to be at that meeting Thursday afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce at 2:30 o'clock.

The Chamber of Commerce has been working on this project for months and every detail of the proposed plant has been thoroughly gone over. The men of the Chamber of Commerce feel that it's a sound proposition and they are asking your cooperation.

From the wire news today:
HENRYETTA, Okla., Oct. 6 (UP) — Today's safety editorial in the news:
Henryetta high school boys are playing a new game in their dad's automobiles. Two cars, both loaded with teen-agers, start several blocks apart and head for each other at full speed — reportedly as high as 60 miles an hour.

The idea is to see which driver turns away first is "it", and must chase the other car in a game of "car tag." If he can force any other car into a ditch or up on a curb, or can "tag" the bumper of another car while both are moving, he ditched or tagged car is "it."

One young hero boasts his "nerve" is so good he has never been "it."
Now we can picture what happens when both have "nerve." A perverted idea of "nerve" and fun we'd say. Wonder what they'd do if they met a big grizzly bear in the middle of the road.

Still more important, we wonder how much "nerve" they'll have when the inevitable crash comes.

Keep Atom Secret Because Of Reds Says British Del.

PARIS, Oct. 6 (UP) — The Western Powers are keeping the atom bomb and all atomic secrets because "we all fear Russia," British delegate Hector McNeil told the United Nations political committee today in a searing attack on Russian policy.

The British secretary of state reflected a formal proposal by E. S. Uador that a sub-committee attempt to reach a compromise on the atomic question between Russia and the West. It would be useless even to name such a committee," he said, unless Russia "in simple and unambiguous language" answers these three questions:

1. Is Russia willing to accept an adequate control system as a preliminary to signing a treaty to prohibit atomic bombs and destroy existing stock of them?
2. Is Russia ready to accept the western control plan "as a general basis for the atomic convention?"
3. Is Russia willing to give up its veto power over the proposed international atomic energy control agency?

Only affirmative Soviet answers backed by appropriate action can make it worthwhile even to seek an agreement, McNeil said.

"The United States and my government and all governments which signed the majority report (of the atomic energy commission) will not hand over this (atomic) information or destroy bombs and stocks of nuclear fuel semi-conditionally because we all fear Russia," McNeil said.

Clark Says "No" To Lewis Charge

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (UP) — Attorney General Tom C. Clark says John L. Lewis talks so loud and "bellows" so much it isn't necessary to tap his telephone wires.

He made one comment in denying a charge by the United Mine Workers president that Justice Department agents had listened in on his telephone conversations.

Lewis made the accusation yesterday in a speech before the union's convention in Cincinnati. It came during his attack on the administration's handling of recent coal strikes which led to big contempt of court fines against both him and the union.

Rotan Civic Groups To Honor Dr. Callan

ROTAN, Tex., Oct. 6 (UP) — Dr. Chester U. Callan, whose life story appears in the Oct. 6 Saturday Evening Post will be honored here Friday by doctors, civic leaders and West Texas friends.

The occasion will be "Dr. Callan Appreciation Day."
Many doctors will represent unofficially the Nolan, Fisher and Mitchell county medical associations. The medical group plans a special program later, dedicated to Dr. Callan.

IMPORTANT MEETING OF BUSINESS PEOPLE CALLED

A meeting has been called by the Chamber of Commerce for Thursday afternoon at 2:30 at its office for the purpose of discussing plans to secure a haydite plant here.

C. W. Cline, who installed a similar plant in Eastland, has assembled enough equipment in Ranger to build a plant which is temporarily located north of Ranger on the W. F. & S. railroad.

The financing of this plant has not been completed as yet. The directors of the Chamber of Commerce are hoping to secure funds whereby one kiln could be put in operation and the Chamber feels confident that if this kiln could be put in operation that sufficient funds could be had to erect the other kilns, it was pointed out.

Four kilns have been purchased up to date, two are in the ground at the plant site and two more are in transit and should arrive this week.

NEW TREATMENT TO AID OIL PRODUCTION CLAIMED

DALLAS, Tex., Oct. 6 (UP) — A new method of treating oil wells to increase the amount of oil that may be taken from underground formations was claimed today by the Stanolind Oil and Gas Company.

The method consists of cracking rocks thousands of feet underground to make it easier for oil to flow into the well hole.
J. E. Clark of Stanolind's Tulsa research laboratories revealed the new "hydrafrac" process at the annual meeting here of the Petroleum Division of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers.

He said Stanolind had made arrangements to have the process patented but that other companies would be allowed to use it.

The method now commonly used to break underground rock is jelled gasoline, pumped into the well under high pressure to split the rocks. Frequently, little of the oil underneath the rock layers can be produced because the rocks are too tight for the oil to flow easily.

Since more than half of the oil wells in the nation are producing from sandstone, the new hydrafrac process was developed for use in sandstone formations but its said to work equally well in limestone.

Heavy equipment is needed for the Hydrafrac treatments, Clark said. As many as four heavy-duty oil field trucks may be required, each equipped with heavy duty high pressure pumps.

Cost per treatment ranges from a few hundred dollars to several thousand. But instances were cited by Clark in which production was increased from 60 to 160 barrels a day.

COOLER WEATHER, RAIN EXPECTED

BY UNITED PRESS
Lower temperatures and showers were expected over much of Texas today with yesterday's warm weather still in evidence.

The United States Weather Bureau predicted showers in the northeast portion of the state for today. Cooler weather was seen for North Texas, the Panhandle and the South Plains.

South winds have been rather strong during the past 24 hours. Presidio recorded the highest maximum temperature yesterday with a reading of 93 degrees. Guadalupe Pass enjoyed a cool 75 degrees for the state's lowest maximum reading.

The plant, if built, will produce a building material that is very much in demand in the country and will have a considerable payroll.

U. S.-Red Rift To Grow Until After Election

By MERRIMAN SMITH
United Press Staff Correspondent
ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 6 (UP) — The cold war between the United States and Russia will increase in intensity until after the presidential election at least John Foster Dulles told Gov. Thomas E. Dewey in his report on the Berlin crisis, it was learned today.

Dulles, a member of the United States delegation to the United Nations meeting in Paris, spent three and a half hours with Dewey yesterday, briefing the GOP presidential nominee on the foreign situation. Dulles flew here from Paris for the conference and will fly back to the French capital today.

No official account of Dulles' report was made public, but it reportedly contained two basic points:

1. Dulles reported that the Russians are just pretending when they seem to seek solution of the Berlin crisis. Furthermore, he told Dewey that Soviet block spokesmen are spreading the word in Paris that the United States is on the brink of a depression. Dulles said they base their belief on campaign statements made in this country.
2. Dewey's speeches about national unity, according to Dulles, have had a good effect in Paris and have done a great deal to offset the Soviet whispering campaign about the American economy.

"If the amendment passes," he said, "it will assist counties and cities of Texas in their welfare work, relieving them to that extent in providing for the aged, blind and dependent children within their respective jurisdictions."

The states' chief executive said he also would recommend to the legislature a general assistance program which would make it possible to appropriate money to take care of persons totally and permanently disabled and who have no one responsible for their care.

He pointed out an "urgent need" for action toward finding additional sources of revenue for Texas cities.

McLaurin is fortified in his newest attack on Oklahoma's "Jim Crow" schools by a ruling from a three-judge federal court last Wednesday. The judges told the state its segregation laws are "unconstitutional and void," and served notice the negroes must be given equal opportunities for schooling.

The court acted on assurance from the state that something would be done about facilities for negroes. Whether this means a special session may depend on an opinion by Atty. Gen. Mae Q. Williamson, who will give it to the regents today.

Governor To Ask Increase For State's Needy

EL PASO, Tex., Oct. 6 (UP) — Gov. Beauford Jester said last night that he will ask the next legislature to submit a constitutional amendment to he voters to raise the present ceiling of $35,000,000 for aid to dependent children, the aged, blind and needy.

He said the last legislature had appropriated the full $35,000,000 but had refused to submit an amendment for raising the ceiling.

The governor addressed the League of Texas Municipalities convention at the El Paso County Club.

"If the amendment passes," he said, "it will assist counties and cities of Texas in their welfare work, relieving them to that extent in providing for the aged, blind and dependent children within their respective jurisdictions."

The states' chief executive said he also would recommend to the legislature a general assistance program which would make it possible to appropriate money to take care of persons totally and permanently disabled and who have no one responsible for their care.

The court acted on assurance from the state that something would be done about facilities for negroes. Whether this means a special session may depend on an opinion by Atty. Gen. Mae Q. Williamson, who will give it to the regents today.

COUNCIL REQUESTS BLOCKADE LIFT CALLS FOR IMMEDIATE CONFERENCE

Independents Hail Price Hike
AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 6 (UP) — A recent hike in the price being paid for crude oil by Phillips Petroleum Company was hailed today by Guy I. Warren, president of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association, as a "healthy step for the oil industry as a whole."

The increase was instituted last week by Phillips, Southern Minerals Corporation, and the Shamrock Oil and Gas Corporation.

Following a meeting here yesterday of the association's advisory committee, Warren said that "with this increased price, the spread between the price of crude oil and that of the finished products still leaves at least a normal profit for refiners and pipeline companies."

He said this was "fully borne out by the premiums that were being freely offered and paid before the raise. Those premiums approximated the amount of the raise."

However, Warren said the increase "still doesn't bring the price of crude oil to the same percentage of increase as the increase in the cost of drilling and producing over a period commencing with the freezing of the price of crude oil by OPA early in the war period."

MALONE, Tex., Oct. 6 (UP) — State and county police authorities fanned out across central Texas today in search of an elusive bank robber who fled this town of 500 persons yesterday with $16,000 taken from the Malone State Bank.

The gunman last was reported fleeing toward Hillsboro, some 20 miles to the northwest, in an old-model black Ford sedan. He was carrying the loot in "something that looked like a flour sack."

E. M. Mann, vice president of the bank, said the lone gunman entered the firm shortly before noon yesterday, poked a pistol in his ribs and ordered him and two other persons in the vault. In the bank also were assistant cashier Mrs. Weldon Kaddatz and a customer, Billy Gelpmier.

Mann said he put the money in something that "looked like a flour sack."

"It was white," he said, "but it was dirty or greasy around the top — like maybe a mechanic or someone like that had had hold of it. It was about half full when he left. You'd be surprised how much money a flour sack will hold."

Legion Meeting Thursday Night
A meeting of the m. A. A. meeting of the American Legion will be held Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock and all members are urged to attend.

Committees will be appointed for the November 11 celebration.

Oklahoma Board Faces Problem
NORMAN, Okla., Oct. 6 (UP) — A meeting of the University of Oklahoma board of regents late today promises answers to two big questions:

1. Will O. U. admit its first Negro student?
2. Will Gov. Roy J. Turner call a special session of the legislature?

The regents will discuss the enrollment application of G. W. McLaurin, Oklahoma City negro professor who wants to enter the graduate school. McLaurin applied for the third time yesterday, and Dr. George L. Cross, O. U. president told him he would hand the case to the regents today.

McLaurin is fortified in his newest attack on Oklahoma's "Jim Crow" schools by a ruling from a three-judge federal court last Wednesday. The judges told the state its segregation laws are "unconstitutional and void," and served notice the negroes must be given equal opportunities for schooling.

BY R. H. SHACKFORD
United Press Staff Correspondent
PARIS, Oct. 6, (UP) — The United Nations Security Council gave Russia another chance today to accept American, British and French proposals for ending the Berlin crisis.

The council heard representatives of the Western Powers open their case against the Soviet Union by charging it with "acts of aggression" in Berlin, vowing that they would never surrender their hold on the western sectors of the German capital, and then offering an immediate Big Four Ministers Conference on German problems in return for lifting of the "illegal" Soviet blockade.

Promptly then the council, in which Soviet Delegate Andrei Vishinsky sat silent, agreed to a suggestion by Chairman Juan Bramuglia of Argentina that an "intermediate waiting period" be taken in the case.

Bramuglia did not specify the length of the recess, proceedings which amounted to a trial of Russia's actions before the jury of world opinion. It was, however, to allow the Soviet Union another opportunity to accept the western offer.

It was assumed that the Berlin case in which the United Powers charge Russia with UN charter violations and with being a threat to the peace would not be taken up again before sometime next week. Bramuglia said only that the next meeting on this issue would be called at an appropriate time.

The decision to recess came after American, British and French delegates in turn had pressed their case against Russia in terms which implied determination of their countries to use force if necessary to maintain their hold in Berlin.

Vishinsky, who announced yesterday that Russia would boycott security council debate of the Berlin dispute, attended both morning and afternoon sessions. It appeared that Soviet tactics were to listen and wait until a resolution is submitted, then to cast a killing veto.

The morning session was consumed by a calm, dispassionate 80-minute speech of Dr. Philip Jessup, the U. S. delegate who opened the trial of Soviet union tactics in Berlin before world opinion.

He indicated Russia on the charge of committing an "act of aggression" and using "hostile and threatening measures" in imposing an "unlawful" road, rail and canal blockade on Berlin.

He described the Anglo-American air lift which has hurried the blockade to supply 2,600,000 persons in the western sectors of Berlin during the past three and one-half months as a "symbol of peace" and promised it will be continued, come what may.

In the afternoon session, with Vishinsky again in his seat and again alternately reading newspapers and taking notes as he had in the morning, Britain's polished old-time diplomat Sir Alexander Cadogan endorsed fully the American stand, made the same offer of a Big Four conference if the blockade is lifted, and added the direct charge that the Russians entered the recent direct negotiations without good faith.

Alexander Parodi of France spoke after Cadogan, couching his charges against Russia and his promise of a four-power conference if the blockade is lifted in similar terms.

Vishinsky was 20 minutes late for the morning session, but Juan Bramuglia of Argentina, the council chairman, did not open the meeting until he had taken his place at the horseshoe-shaped table with Vasily Tarasenko, youthful delegate of the Ukrainians, who also has his country's full boycott of the Berlin debate.

MARVIN WILSON ON SICK LIST, TACKLE SUFFERS KNEE INJURY

By MARVIN GROSS Some sly Cisco fan, rooting hard for a Lobo victory, has apparently brought out his book of hexes and slung the old double whammy on the Bulldogs. For like a bolt from the blue Texas skies, ace tackle man Marvin Wilson reported for practice yesterday with a bugged-up knee.

Marvin Wilson

And Wilson was just about Coach Warden's key man in his defensive plans for Friday's Cisco game. Coach Hansard's team specializes in powerful off tackle thrusts. Wilson had shut the door on all opponents thus far this year and his potential loss would send the Bulldog stock plummeting.

Surprisingly the Lobos are still looking for their first victory of the year. Playing all AA foes the Lobos dropped a 13-12 decision to the Springs, tied Grand Prairie, 13-12 and lost to Stephenville 13-7.

However Warden is ruling out all past season performances. He realizes the Lobos have material on hand to give the best of teams a battle. With a minimum of luck the Lobos would be going into the Bulldog game with an unblemished record.

The Bulldog board of strategy rates Cisco tailback Russel Johnson a top hand in the air lanes department. The reed-like 136-pound tosser handles all the Lobo passing and threw plenty of bombshells in the Stephenville contest.

Other offensive dynamite to be reckoned with includes Robert Rendell, fullback, who carries the mail on the power plays, generating a tremendous amount of steam out of his 150 pounds. Quarterback George Watts at 126 pounds is the sprint boy of the Lobos and is best kept away from these wide open spaces.

Along weight lines the teams will be about even in the forward wall with perhaps the Lobos owning a slight advantage. And in the backfield it will be the Bulldogs who will own a slight weight advantage.

Warden stepped up aerial drills yesterday with R. C. Smith and Buddy Hamrick doing the tossing. The Bulldogs still haven't flashed the passing game they are capable of playing. In Smith and Hamrick Warden owns two better than average chuckers who should stand higher in the completion department. Then, too, the receiving end of the combination could stand some tightening as Bulldog receivers have bobbed too many air bombs.

Aside from the Wilson injury the Bulldogs are raring to snag a Lobo. Keith Munnerlyn hasn't as yet fully recovered from the wrist injury but definitely will be in the starting line-up.

Sain VS Feller In Series Opener

BOSTON, Oct. 6 (UP) — Two of baseball's greatest pitchers, an Arkansas hillbilly and an Iowa farmer, carried the championship hopes of the Boston Braves and the Cleveland Indians into the first game of the 1948 World Series today.

Fort the Braves, it was Johnny Sain, who has come a long way on baseball's path to glory since he left Pine Bluff to make his mark as a pitcher. For the Indians, it was rapid Bobby Feller, finally getting a shot in the blue ribbon classic of the American sports.

The Indians were favored to take the first game, starting at 1:00 P. M. (EST) under skies which were expected to be cloudy, at odds of 9 to 5. The American League champions, who did not win their way into the series until a day after the regular season closed, were 13 to 5 shots to take the beat four out of seven series.

Both Manager Billy Southworth of the Braves and skipper Lou Bourdreaux of the Indians decided to lead with their best bats. Southworth had announced Monday — as the Indians were beating the Red Sox, 8 to 3, in the American League playoff — that Sain would be his man. Bourdreaux, who with Rookie pitcher Gene Bearden, was the hero of the Indians playoff victory, did not confirm until yesterday that Feller would be his starter — although there had been little doubt about it.

★ THE SCOREBOARD ★ Cerdan-Zale Massacre Echoes Alarm Over Ring Fatalities

BY HARRY GRAYSON NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Tony Zale came closer to breaking our mailman's back than he did Rocky Graziano's jaw last June 10. Where did I get off writing that boxing men saw grave danger in the third meeting of Graziano and Zale? What boxing men? Did I consider myself one? Was I referring to the risk the younger Graziano was running? If Zale was a has-been, what did his third-round knockout of Rocky Rocky make the sweet little character? Had I changed my opinion about Zale being washed up?

Well, the flattening of Graziano left him right where he always was in this book—a dangerous bum, as the boxing writers call him. And, inasmuch as Graziano just stood there to be hit until he was belted out, the result did not dispel my belief that Zale was at a stage where he might be irreparably hurt by a sweeper. I can take it like Zale used to, but to each of the constituents who chided me about attempting to put carpet slippers on the Gary steelworker prematurely, I'm mailing a photograph. It shows poor Tony slowly sinking to the canvas in Jersey City the other night, as though in a slow-motion picture, with the bell ending the 11th round, after being massacred by Marcel Cerdan.

It was just as well that Zale was in there with a mauler, and not a puncher. Suppose that bell hadn't sounded, and a real hitter moved in for the kill while the old man with a heart as big as a watermelon was desperately trying to keep his pins?

Well, that's what I meant when I said there was genuine cause for apprehension in the renewal of the Graziano-Zale series. The Rock's flop only sent Zale to the cisterns once too often, anyway, and fighters shouldn't be permitted to make that trip even when they're getting $120,000.

It easily could have been that Referee Johnny Behr saved Zale from something vastly more serious than the loss of the middleweight championship when he stepped in as stout-tickered old Tony sagged across the middle rope in the sixth round of his Chicago battle with Graziano.

Chicken Thompson, a young Negro heavyweight, died in Philadelphia the other night, the 11th boxer and seventh American to die of injuries received in the ring this year, an all-time record for a period of nine months.

As I have pointed out before, an Ernie Schaaf, a Jimmy Doyle, or an opponent of a top-notch, such as Sam Baroudi, has to die before any fun is made about these tragedies.

It's totally unpleasant to tell a fighter he is as old as yesterday's newspaper, and definitely showing the rips and tears, but someone has to.

Of course, promoters and managers would shove them into machine gun fire as long as the suckers paid to see the carnage. He can't hurt us, and that's a pity, too.

TWO RUN DROPO HOMER GIVES BARONS 5-4 WIN

FORT WORTH, Tex., Oct. 6 (UP)—The Birmingham Barons of the Southern Association lead the Fort Worth Cats of the Texas League in the 26th Dixie Series today, 2 games to 1.

The Barons took the third game of the series last night, 5 to 4. Birmingham won the tilt in the seventh inning with three runs, two of which were the result of Walter Dropo's home run over the left center field fence, 370 feet from the plate.

The Cats played raggedly throughout, klicked in two runs, fouled up in their base-running and left 14 runners on base.

Pete Modica, a young right-hander with a 7-8 record for the regular season, started for Birmingham and lasted until the ninth inning, when Mike Palm had to rescue him from a rally that netted the Cats one run. Modica got credit for the victory.

Willard Ramsdell started for Fort Worth and was the loser. He was removed for a pinch-hitter in the eighth and Bob Austin finished.

Birmingham collected eight hits and drew only three walks, compared to Fort Worth's 12 hits and eight bases on balls. But the Barons committed no errors and left only seven men on base.

Fort Worth lead 3 to 2, in the seventh when Dropo walloped his two-run homer over the left center field fence. The Barons pushed what proved to be the winning run later in the same inning on a walk and two singles.

Tigers Buckle Down For Aggie Contest

BATON ROUGE, La., Oct. 6 (UP)—More Contact work was scheduled today for the LSU Tigers in preparation for Saturday night's game with Texas A & M, the first home game of the season.

The Tigers worked out under game conditions yesterday. The all-around play of end Sam Lyle and the defensive work of quarterback Jack Cole and guard Dick Bradley were high-lights of an hour-long scrimmage of Coach Gagnell Tinsley's men.

Bowling Briefs

The Premier Oil League met in their regular Monday night session for the first time with a new foul lane buzzer. However the buzzer didn't come in for much attention as very few keglegs ventured across the foul stripe. Standing for the first two weeks are as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Team, Won, Lost. Penpushers 7, 1; Wildcats 6, 2; Pumpers 5, 3; Lobos 3, 5; Oilers 2, 6; Roadrunners 1, 7.

Holding individual high honors was Beck with a score of 199 while the Pumpers ran off with the high team series with a mark of 1480. Red Townzen copped last week's high score for the men's division with a mark of 224 while Vivian Fleckenstein carried off the women's laurels with a score of 190.

The newly organized Merchant's League is ready to begin league competition. This group is composed of some of the better bowlers in Ranger as well as beginners. This circuit appears to be well divided in strength.

Plans were outlined for the formation of a Civic League at a meeting at the Ranger Bowl Monday. The League scheduled to bowl every Wednesday will be composed of the Lions, Rotarians, Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Split Pick-Ups

Among the ladies Ouida Brown was successful with a 5-7 split as was Dorothy Roscoe while Jerry Pettit knocked down a 4-5-7 split. And for the men Bob Robertson knocked off a 4-10 split, Clyde Ivy also had a 4-10 while Dan Ford did the trick with a 5-7.

Owls Leave For West Tomorrow

HOUSTON, Tex., Oct. 6 (UP)—The Rice Owls were to hold their last practice session of the week on Texas soil today, with emphasis on blocking.

Early tomorrow the squad leaves for Los Angeles and Saturday's game with the University of Southern California. The trip westward will be by air, and a workout has been set for Thursday afternoon in Los Angeles. Coach Jess Neely said.

Neely viewed his injury-plagued left halfback slot as the most serious threat to the Owl's chances on the west coast, but announced John Kelley of Edinburg would be the likely starter. Possible relief for Kelley would come from the roster of injured left halfbacks, Neely said, including Huey Keeney, Van Ballard, Emanuel Braden and Rex Proctor.

Oldsters Enter Second Round

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Oct. 6 (UP)—Second-round match play was scheduled today in the State Senior Golf tournament at the San Antonio country club, with Houston's Willie Hunt, defending champion, past his first barrier in the defense of his crown.

He won yesterday against J. Abbott of San Antonio. Tom Ahern of Houston, qualifying medalist, went down under the shots of M. P. Wilson of San Antonio.

Ed Dyer of Houston beat his fellow townsman George O'Leary, and Dick Harrison of San Antonio took the measure of Hap Masingill, also of San Antonio.

Dr. G. S. Weaver of Dallas, the oldest competitor at 79, did not make the championship flight. He went over the course yesterday, however, spurring the service of motorized cartais known as arthritis specials.

Stiteler Drills Aggies In Secret Practice Session

COLLEGE STATION, Tex., Oct. 6 (UP)—Coach Harry Stiteler indicated today that the first practice of the 1948 Texas Aggie football season—held yesterday—was so satisfactory he may stick with it.

The private session was a long one, lasting well into the twilight hours, and was concerned primarily with polishing the cadets in formation offense. The probable starters, minus regulars Jim Flowers and Max Griener, sidelined with minor injuries, spent most of the afternoon running plays against a squad of ineligible.

Meanwhile, the reserves had their hands full in stopping the fresh eleven, brought over to give the varsity substitutes some defensive work.

Rollie Chapman, one of the reserves seeking Flowers' right tackle post, was back in full uniform today following nearly a week's absence due to an ankle injury. Flowers, Griener, and Andy Hill, No. 1 sub wingman, all suited out in shorts today and confined their practice to conditioning exercises.

Coach Stiteler expected all the

Faces Death Twice Daily In Iron-Barred Arena

CLYDE BEATTY, world's foremost wild animal trainer, whose startling arenic exhibition is a feature of the Clyde Beatty Circus.

Most men, who have escaped death once or twice feel they have pushed their luck far enough, but not Clyde Beatty. Twice each day Beatty faces death in its most hideous form when he presents his spectacular wild animal act in the Clyde Beatty Railroad Circus coming to Cisco Junior College Ground, Moran Highway, Thursday, Oct. 7.

At any moment, any one of his big cats may fly into a blind fury, clawing, slashing and roaring with rage. Beatty's lions and tigers have done it before and he knows that they will do it again. Surgery has saved his face from being permanently scarred, but his body bears scores of horrible mementos of his close, personal encounters with kill-bent beasts.

Completely refurbished and enhanced with a galaxy of famous European acts and artists, the Beatty show is this year offering an overwhelming feast of extraordinary features. Performances are slated for 2:30 and 8 p. m. with doors to the menagerie and horse fair opening at 1:30 and 7 o'clock.

ESTIMATE HURRICANE DAMAGE AS OVER TEN MILLION MARK

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 6 (UP)—The Caribbean hurricane belt from Cuba to South Florida counted the damage from its second blow in two weeks today and feared that flood waters would add to the bill which already has reached an estimated $10,000,000.

The small but vicious hurricane named "mighty midget" by the weather bureau, passed out to sea late last night at Pompano, 33 miles north of Miami.

At 5 A. M., today the storm was traveling northeastward 120 miles east northeast of West Palm Beach at about 20 miles per hour and was picking up some speed. It still carried hurricane force winds over a 50-mile area and shipping was warned to stay out of its path.

The storm was blamed indirectly for the death by heart attack of John Gilmore, 42, at his Miami home during the height of the blow.

In 20 furious hours the hurricane left 13 persons dead in Cuba, where it struck without warning early yesterday, and cut a path of destruction up from the Florida Keys through the gold coast area

Cuba suffered most from the 132-mile an hour winds and torrents of rain. More than 100 persons were injured there and crop damage in tobacco-rich Pinar Del Rio province was heavy.

The winds had diminished slightly by the time the hurricane center passed directly over Miami last night, but they were clocked in one downtown Flagler street and other sections.

Greatest threat now was from flood waters. Rain falling steadily for more than 24 hours reached a depth of 9.64 inches here last night and floods covered large areas of low-lying Hialeah. Fifty families were driven from their homes by rising waters.

The Tamiami trail highway was flooded 30 miles west of Miami.

It remained to be seen whether the rich farmlands west of Miami would be spared further flood damage. They were hit hard by the September hurricane waters and could ill afford another deluge.

U. S. engineers said last night that danger appeared past in the Lake Okeechobee area, where less than one inch of rain had fallen. But further rains or overflowing canals from the coastal area could still inflict heavy crop losses.

Truman Off On Second Round

By SANDOR S. KLEIN
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (UP) — President Truman comes out for round two today in his "title" defense against Republican Challenger Thomas E. Dewey.

The president sets out by train this morning on a three-day campaign tour of Delaware, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and upstate New York. Originally scheduled for four days, the trip was cut short to enable Mr. Truman to confer Saturday in Washington with Secretary of State George C. Marshall who will fly home from the United Nations meeting in Paris.

During his swing through the northeast, the President will be

MARSHALL COMING HOME TO GIVE TRUMAN REPORT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (UP)—President Truman's personal plane leaves for Paris today to bring Secretary of State George C. Marshall home for a direct report to Mr. Truman on the United Nations meeting.

Marshall is expected to arrive here Saturday morning, a few minutes after Mr. Truman returns from one political campaign trip and less than 24 hours before he leaves on another.

The White House said "no particular crisis" was responsible for the President's decision to recall Marshall. It said Mr. Truman merely wanted a first-hand report on developments at the United Nations meeting.

The announcement came shortly after Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, the Republican presidential nominee, held a similar conference in Albany with John Foster Dulles, his foreign policy adviser and a delegate to the UN. Thus, both major party candidates will round out the week with first hand reports from their foreign policy chieftains.

Dulles, who flew back from Paris earlier this week, told Dewey that Russian-American relations are at the lowest ebb since the end of the war.

And in what appears to be a reference to some of Mr. Truman's campaign speeches, Dulles told the GOP nominee the Russians are using certain warnings against a Republican "bust" as propaganda to convince Western Europe that shooting for 191 electoral votes, more than one-third the number he needs to win a full four-year term in the White House. He will be traveling through areas which have sent solid republican blocks to the 80th Congress, Mr. Truman's chief campaign target.

Indications are that the chief executive will follow the same strategy he used on his recent 8,000-mile western trip, hammering away at the record of Congress in an effort to "smoke out" Gov. Dewey on specific issues.

the U. S. will be unable to carry through the Marshall plan.

White House Press Secretary Charles G. Ross told newsmen Mr. Truman spent considerable time yesterday morning talking to Marshall in Paris by Trans-Atlantic Teletype. However, he said, Mr. Truman wanted more details on the progress of the UN meeting and Marshall agreed he could return home this week-end.

Ross said they probably would spend the greater part of Saturday discussing the international situation.

Prisoners Quite After Revolt

HUNTSVILLE, Tex., Oct. 6 (UP)—Order prevailed today at Darrington Prison Farm after a four-hour revolt against work yesterday was abruptly ended in the face of tear gas and Texas Rangers.

Darrington Warden Joe Batson reported a group of surly prisoners refused to leave their tank cells at 1 P. M. yesterday to work in cotton fields.

The trouble started, the warden believed, when four inmates attacked another prisoner with knives Sunday. Injured was James E. Long, 28, serving petty theft convictions from Dallas and Harris counties.

The four men, Charles D. Kelly, 26, of Orange, Fred Harris, 26, of Dallas, Jess Morton, 27, of Fort Worth and Nelson Bray, 24, of Wichita Kans., were placed in solitary confinement.

"Monday, other prisoners objected. They wanted me to let the prison according to their rules," Batson said.

Approximately 100 of the 261 Darrington inmates refused to go to work. Batson confronted the prisoners alone in their tanks and pleaded with them to go to the fields, he said.
