Vishinsky Confers With Council Chairman

DELEGATES HOLD LENGTHY MEETING TO CONTINUE SEARCH FOR BERLIN SOLUTION

By R. H. Shackford
United Press Staff Correspondent
PARIS, Oct. 8 (UP)—United Nations Security Council chairman Juan D. Bramuglia of Argentina pressed the search for a solution to the Berlin crisis today by conferring for more than an hour with Soviet delegate Andrei Vishinsky.

Bramuglia, Argentine foreign minister who is acting as mediator in the Berlin dispute, is expected now to spend the rest of the day talking with representatives of the three western powers and the six "neutral" members of the Security Council.

Reliable sources said he may also confer this afternoon with Ukrainian delegate Dmitri Manuilsky, Russia's only supporter in the Security Council.

Object of Bramuglia's intensive behind the scenes discussions was to obtain some compromise agreeable to both East and West which would keep the Berlin crisis from blocking all progress in this session of the General Assembly.

In formal session, the General Assembly elected Cuba, Norway and Egypt to two-year terms on the Security Council to replace Colombia, Belgium and Syria. The non-permanent members will take their places on Jan. 1.

Reliable sources said that Bramuglia and Vishinsky "satisfied" with their morning conference. The two men used every effort to keep their sons on a plane of unidentified "outlets."

Bramuglia is expected to discuss with western representatives and the "neutral" states, reliable sources reported.

No details were disclosed on the Argentine-Russian discussion. It was known, however, that a majority of Security Council members not directly involved in the Berlin dispute favor a compromise along the lines of the American offer this week.

This called for an immediate council of foreign ministers meeting on Germany the "moment" the Berlin blockade is lifted.

Bramuglia's assistants apparently made overtures to Soviet officials yesterday to promote today conference.

An authoritative Latin American source said the Western Powers were aware of Bramuglia's mission and approved of it.

"The Western Powers are approving Bramuglia's moves and have expressed confidence in his conciliatory efforts on the Berlin issue," this source said.

Elections of non-permanent members of the Security Council this morning will be followed this afternoon by elections to the economic and social council.

Cuba and Norway won their places on the Security Council on the first ballot, Cuba receiving 53 votes and Norway 44.

Egypt and Turkey were the two top runners for the position to be vacated by Syria. Egypt obtained the necessary two thirds majority on the third runoff ballot.

Informed sources said a possible compromise on the Berlin dispute tonight call for an agreement under which Russia would lift the Berlin blockade as soon as a Big Four foreign ministers conference on Germany starts.

Business Men Hear Plans For Aggregate Plant

A representative group of Ranger business men met at the Chamber of Commerce office Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock to discuss the location of a light weight aggregate plant in Ranger.

Joe N. Graham, president of the Chamber of Commerce which has been working on the project, introduced the subject and presented Hall Walker who gave a comprehensive outline of what is required. He explained that local assistance in the form of preferred stock would be necessary to cinch the plant for Ranger, and met with favorable response from those present.

In order that the men might have a better idea of the setup, the group drove to the site of the proposed plant where a large amount of equipment has already been stored.

W. C. Cline, an experienced engineer in this field, has been working on the deal, along with the Chamber of Commerce for several months.

It established here the plant will ultimately employ between 40 and 50 people and will have an output of four cars of aggregate a day. The aggregate is a building material that is much in demand all over the country and the deposit of clay required for producing aggregate underlies the tract of land on which the plant would be established.

At the meeting Graham appointed Hall Walker, C. B. Froot, H. C. Henderson, C. E. May Jr., and B. V. Galloway as a committee to work with business men of the town in connection with the project.

French Strikers Clash With Gov.

PARIS, Oct. 8 (UP)—Thousands of Communist-led strikers and 500 troops and Republican Security guards battled furiously for hours today at the Micheville Steel Works near Nancy in the first serious clash of a nationwide coal strike.

The strikers, hurling bricks and swinging bludgeons, forced troops and security guards to evacuate the plant they had stormed at dawn with tear gas and guns.

Early reports said at least 12 strikers and security guards were injured and eight security guards were taken prisoner in the outbreak of violence at the plant in Lorraine which had been tied up for two weeks.

Two hundred troops in full battle kit and 300 security guards captured the strikebound plant earlier. The government had ordered the seizure of the plant and the operation of its coke ovens, by force if necessary.

The clash stemmed directly from the walkout of 350,000 coal miners, which in turn set off strikes affecting railroads, docks, textile mills and public utilities.

When the troops and guards surrounded the Micheville works, they were engaged at once by strong strike pickets. Strikers on rooftops pelted the government forces with bricks and other missiles.

Credits Fire Department For Saving Shop

Don Ervin today expressed his thanks to the Ranger fire department for the manner in which they handled the fire which broke out in his Arcadia Theatre last night.

He stated that had the department handled the fire in any other way there would have been irreparable damage to watch repair machinery and to watches in the shop. As it was there was no damage to any of his equipment.

Only damage was to the door which had to be broken in to fight the fire, and Ervin lost a broom and a waste basket.

The fire was discovered by passers who notified the personnel of the Arcadia Theatre who in turn notified the fire department. The shop is located in the Arcadia theatre building.

Parker County Clerk Exonerated

WEATHERFORD, Tex., Oct. 8 (UP)—The Parker county clerk's office today had a clean bill of health from a grand jury concerning charges that it was operating as a "marriage market."

District Judge J. E. Carter early this week ordered an investigation of "under age and drunken marriages."

Curtis Holland, the jury foreman, reported to Judge Carter last night that newspaper reports of the issuance of marriage licenses by the county clerk were exaggerated.

Rev. Speaks On "Dissatisfaction"

Speaking on the "Fine Art Of Dissatisfaction," Rev. Andrew Fuller addressed the Lions Club yesterday at the weekly meeting held in the Diamond Hill Baptist Church in Fort Worth.

Rev. Fuller clarified his difficult subject saying that dissatisfaction is the basis of progress. A person without tension or discontent is going to be gradually left behind, he added.

He urged the bringing of this dissatisfaction into the church as well as into daily business and living routine. Rev. Fuller explained that men who are progressive in mercantile affairs are usually status quo in their religious dealings.

The speaker was introduced by Joe Graham, program director for the week. Guests at the meeting included Rev. David C. Bism and C. T. Babain. The Lions will engage in their first bowling match Wednesday at 7:30 P. M.

Company To Get $17,312,000 On Texas City Loss

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 8 (UP)—The Monsanto Chemical Company will receive $17,312,000, described by the company as the largest single insurance payment in history, for the losses it suffered in the Texas City disaster of April 16, 1947, William M. Rand, Monsanto president, disclosed today.

Negotiations for this sum, Rand said, have been concluded with the Oil Insurance Association of Chicago which is a group of many leading stock insurance companies. Monsanto had originally claimed $21,542,999.

Rand explained that the company had carried $14,750,000 in property insurance, in which there was a 90 per cent co-insurance clause, and $7,000,000 in use and occupancy which incorporated an 80 per cent co-insurance clause. These policies were written by the Oil Insurance Association. Monsanto also carried a supplemental use and occupancy policy for $567,937 with Lloyd's of London.

Marshall Admits Crisis Explosive

PARIS, Oct. 8 (UP)—U. S. Secretary of State George C. Marshall told the American club at a luncheon yesterday, in referring to the Berlin crisis, that "if anything is a threat to peace—short of cannon going off—this is it."

Marshall's remarks, made extemporaneously, were supposed to have been completely off the record. They were transmitted to the United States by the special correspondent of one newspaper, however, and were published.

The U. S. delegation said that this violation made possible publication by other correspondents.

Marshall reviewed the Berlin crisis in informal terms, sharply criticizing the Russians for their blockade and reiterating that the United States would not negotiate under duress.

Then he reminded his listeners that the Western Powers have taken the Berlin case to the United Nations Security Council as a threat to peace.

"If anything is a threat to peace—short of cannon going off—this is it," he said.

Well...
I Dunno,
Bro...

We betcha that if we'd had an electric recording machine at the game over in Cisco last night that about half of Ranger would have their names in the paper today.

Judging from the grandstands on the Ranger side and the continuous string of ear lights between Cisco and Ranger after the game, the fans must have wanted to see just what they did see—a jump up good game with the heavy end of the score on our side of the fence.

That was the most satisfying game. We were so contented the whole time, 'cause those Rangers from the outset put us at our ease with the assured way they went about putting the Wranglers in their place.

Up in the press box where the population was rather cosmopolitan—Cisco, Ranger, Breckenridge, Carbon, and foreigners from heavy, knows where all—they all conceded that "it's just too much football" for the Wranglers.

However, Cisco did counter with the remark that they were minus about five of their best players, including Noble, who's evidently something they depend on.

Like we always say, we like to see and like to watch them and their reactions and a long time ago we came to the conclusion that a grandstand full of people at a football game is the same whether it's in Punkin Center or the Rose Bowl.—We've never been to the Rose Bowl, but people is people anyway.)

There are those that show the proper sportsmanship and respect for the opposing side and there are those that don't. There are those that boo when they shouldn't there are those that manage to keep quiet when they want boo and there are those that are genuinely regretful for any mishap to the opposition. There are those that think the referee is wrong if the decision is against them and yelp with glee when a wrong decision is made on the fellows in the other colors.

Yep, a grandstand full of people at a football game is the most convincing proof that we know of the old saying that "you can't please all of the people all of the time."

Heard a man saying last night that the dry weather wasn't bothering him 'cause he didn't have any traps. But brother, we betcha he's gotta crop of hayfever today after taking a dose of that dust at the ball game.

Not that we wish him any hard luck.

Yep, it was perfect football weather except for that pall of dust. Course it wasn't Cisco's fault. We're dry, too on account of we've had only 40 of an inch of rain since the first of August. Last September we had nearly four inches of rain. Yep, it's dry.

Miners Indirectly Endorse Dewey

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 8 (UP)—United Mine Workers 40th convention today indirectly endorsed Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, Republican nominee for president, and called for the defeat of President Truman as an "enemy" of the union.

The 2,900 delegates overwhelmingly shouted their approval after a 15-minute floor fight on the special political action recommendation made by the resolutions committee.

The resolution said that Dewey "has never uttered any statement that reflects upon the integrity or the objectives of the United Mine Workers of America or its officers or members."

"We conclude by recommending the defeat of our enemies and the election of our true friend," the resolution said.

Parity System Will Remain with Either Party in Power

BY DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

(Peter Edson is on vacation.)

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Regardless of whether Truman or Dewey is next president of the United States, it appears that the U. S. government is permanently committed to an active price support program for farm products based on a parity price formula. The parity system now has a brand new basic, long-range law on the books which is designed to keep farmers prosperous for many years to come and which is also hoped will keep farm and city prosperity in happy balance. It provides for permanent active price support programs under farm products based on a parity price formula. Up until now this method of trying to maintain farm prosperity has been the source of bitter political debate. But the new law, sponsored by Senator Aiken, a Republican from Vermont, is practically identical to the long-range program worked out by the Department of Agriculture and approved by President Truman, and has now been endorsed by Governor Dewey.

THIS new law which has such warm bi-partisan support, however, will have practically no effect on lowering U. S. taxpayers' food bill for at least two or three years, if then. And it won't have any effect on the taxpayers' tax bill for two years.

On the six basic commodities, cotton, wheat, corn, tobacco, rice and peanuts marketed before June 30, 1950, the government will be forced to support the price for the farmer at 90 per cent of parity. The same is true for the price of hogs, eggs, chickens, and milk and its products on which the government tried to increase production during the war. To alleviate the almost ridiculous potato situation somewhat, the minimum support will be cut from 90 to 60 per cent in 1949.

In 1950, the long-range part of the new Aiken law will grind to a slow start. The most important thing it will do first will be to establish a new parity price formula. The present formula attempts to set a price on farm products which will give the farmer the same quantity of calico and shoes, per unit of his product, that his crops were able to buy for him during the years 1910 to 1914. That is the base period when the experts figured that city and farm prosperity were in almost perfect balance.

UNDER the Aiken law, a new element is added to the parity formula. In addition to the base period of 1910-1914, farm prices for the preceding 10 years are averaged in. The old formula didn't take into account the improvement of seeds and farming methods which raised production per acre, and other elements. These factors tended to make the parity price too high. The 10-year average idea is expected to correct that.

It would lower current parity prices on many of the major field crops. For instance, today the parity price on wheat is $2.22 a bushel. Under the Aiken method the price would be $1.82. This change is going to be put into effect slowly, however, with only 5 per cent of the drop permitted each year.

In addition, after 1950 it will no longer be mandatory for the government to support basic farm crops at 90 per cent of the parity price. A flexible range of 60 to 90 per cent will be permitted depending upon the national supply of a crop. When the total supply is more than 130 per cent of normal, the minimum price support will be 60 per cent of parity. When the total supply is 70 per cent of normal, the government can pay 90 per cent of parity to try to increase reserves.

When these and other provisions of the Aiken law begin operating, the normal law of supply and demand, it is hoped, will be able to operate more freely to get food prices down. In the meantime, however, all indications point to continuing high grocery bills for the American family.

Southworth's Boston Success Stresses Value of Manager

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Lou Peralta, Guido Rugo and Joseph Maney are contractors and practical businessmen.

So when the Three Steam Shovels decided to build up a badly run-down Boston National League franchise, the first thing they did was put a competent baseball man at its head. Billy Southworth is currently working on a five-year contract at $50,000 per, and is worth every nickel of it.

They say Billy the Kid Southworth does it with mirrors, or something like that, but he would be the first to tell you that no manager was ever phenomenal with a bad club. The first Braves to come down in front in 34 years have evenly distributed power down through the batting order, and in right-handed Johnny Sain and southpaw Warren Spahn remarkable pitchers who complement each other.

Yet, while there may be no such thing as a miracle man in baseball, Southworth this year makes a mighty fine stab at being one.

In August of 1938, two stars of the Rogers Hornsby-directed Cardinals were not speaking and the Redbirds were taking sides. Things got so bad that at a meeting one afternoon, right fielder Southworth asked to be heard, and hopped up on a bench.

"Let's cut out this petty squabbling, and get out there and play ball," he said. "We can win that pennant. I want to win, and there are other fellows here who want to win. If you fellows who are fighting about nothing will throw half of that fight against the other clubs, we'll finish in front. I'm going out there and fight myself. How many are going with me?"

Sam Breadon heard about it, and knew he had a future manager.

SOUTHWORTH'S quick success in the Hub and fourth pennant in eight years further stresses the value of a manager.

"He is middle of the road, sound," says Branch Rickey. "Southworth believes he will win, is never beaten. You get everything he has until the last man is out."

"He controls his emotions. His judgment is good. He is secure tactically and not afraid to make a decision. He pays strict attention to details, knows everything that is going on all the time."

"Southworth is an extraordinary handler of men. Players like him, although he can be very firm. He handles each player individually, yet has a tremendous team spirit. He is interested in his players off the field as well as on. He is highly industrious, works at managing 18 hours a day."

Branch Rickey brought Billy Southworth back into baseball in 1935 after he had been out two years. Billy the Kid took a job as playing manager of the Asheville club of the Piedmont League at $200 a month. He was down there, too.

Jesse James Refuses To Meet Oklahoman

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 8 (UP)—Jesse James' son will not meet with an Oklahoma centenarian who claims to be the famous outlaw, his attorney announced today.

As far as Jesse E. James, retired Long Beach, Cal., lawyer, is concerned his father was killed

60 years ago in St. Joseph, Mo. Attorney Charles L. Thompson, who has long represented James in dealing with impostors, said he has written the Rev. R. E. Highley, Pasadena, Cal., to discontinue his activities or face possible legal action.

Highley said he was a family friend and announced he had arranged a public meeting between James and the Oklahoman for Oct. 14, Thompson said.

WILSON TO SEE SERVICE AS BULLDOGS TACKLE LOBOES

It will fall to the lot of the Bulldogs to make it a double-header victory over Cisco when they run smack against the Loboes tonight at Bulldog Stadium.

While the Bulldogs will be gunning for their third victory and Cisco has yet to finish the long end, complacency is the wrong attitude as the Loboes have been playing in faster company. Running against all AA opponents, Cisco has not been beaten by more than six points.

guards. Despite the one-sided nature of the Gorman game, the Bulldogs will have to improve upon that performance to take this one. Blocking was lax and the tackling was slipshod against the Panthers but the superior strength of the Bulldogs made these errors of little consequence. Harkening back to painful memories, slight let-ups in the same vein cost the Albany game.

While big boy Marvin Wilson is still operating at considerably below his top grade of efficiency, the 210-pounder will be in the starting line-up. Wilson is hobbling from a knee ailment and is sporting a brace to keep everything in one piece.

It will be heavy conference duty for the Bulldogs after Cisco. The meat of the important tilts start with Dublin, Comanche, Hamilton, DeLeon and Eastland faced in order.

Bowling Briefs

On defense the injury won't be too troublesome but Coach Warden may be forced to shift Charles Wheat, some 80 pounds lighter to the offensive guard post. However, Wilson says he'll add minutes to his consecutive playing time record.

Highlight of a busy week bowling activities will take place Sunday at the Ranger Bowl at 2:30 when a picked team of Ranger men and ladies will bowl against a mixed team from Cisco. This will be the first inter-city match for Ranger bowlers and will clinch a week of football activity between the two towns. Allen Full will captain the men's squad while Vivian Fleckenstein will handle the ladies team.

Warden warily commented some of those excess points piled up in the Gorman game might come in handy tonight. A point or a touchdown will likely settle the issue. And the Bulldog coaching staff is sharpening the right toe of their delayed conversion artist Jimmy Comacho as that may very well be the margin of victory.

Two Lobo backfield men will carry the burden of Coach Harsard's single wing formation. Tailback Russel Johnson will handle the pitching chores and can toss strikes with regularity. Chief running threat will be Robert Rendell who despite his 150 pounds is a power runner of the old-fashioned school. George Watts is the explosive boy on the offense and will be dangerous in the open field.

But Warden has a group of high stepping backs himself. The Comacho boys have been burning up the chalk stripes in practice sessions and are primed for a peak performance. R. C. Smith, better known as the "Booby" will see action in the backfield.

RJC RANGERS FLASH STRENGTH IN THUMPING CISCO BY 20-6

By Marvin Gross
Potent on the ground, superb in the air, Ranger Junior College held the whip hand all the way, cruising to a 20-6 victory over Cisco Junior College last night at Chesley Stadium.

In a pre-game statement Coach Yarbrough was fearful his team wouldn't be "top" for the game. But the Rangers evinced with more fire and hustle than they have shown in a carload of football games. Aside from a dying spurt in the waning moments of the final quarter the Wranglers spent the evening trying to get over the mid-field marker.

The Ranger forward wall, led up by Bob Herrington, Charley Sullivan, Johnny McClelland and Jud Jones was like a reinforced Gibraltar, throwing up an impassable road block to the Cisco running game.

And it was Junior Arterburn, the cool, methodical pitcher who in completing eight of 11 tosses opened the way to the Rangers' opening second period scores. A pair of heaves to Howard Frazier and Jimmy Crawley set up the first six pointer while another pitch to Frazier, partly another pitch to Frazier parted the gates for the second score.

Late in the first quarter the Rangers took over on their 20 and rolled 80 yards for the touchdown. Arterburn skirted right end behind a wall of blockers on the bootleg play for 21 yards. Then Junior found Frazier free for an 18 yard pick-up in Cisco's 41.

Bailey Woods hit up through the middle for five more yards when Arterburn faded, was about to be dumped then threw to Jimmy Crawley who made a super diving catch on the 32. Frankie Ford streaked for five as the period ended.

Runs by Woods and an aerial to Ben Blitch moved the ball to the three. Here the ball squirted loose as it piled up at center and Johnny McClelland fell on the bounding pigskin in the end zone. McClelland added the extra point.

Taking over the Wranglers 48 two minutes later Ranger used up six plays in slaying another score. Ford gained 10 to the 38 and Frazier plucked off another Arterburn pass on the 14. Then the terrible tosser, finding receivers all blanketed, pirouetted a round right end to the two. Behind a mobile wall Junior plunged over on the first try. McClelland raised the count to 14 with another conversion.

Thumped and harried Cisco continued to flounder in the second half and the Rangers powered their way over again. Mixing up their offense the Rangers zoomed down to the two where Crawley found a monstrous hole and went over. But a back in motion nullified the touchdown and Leonard Boyd hit center on the next play for the 20th point. McClelland's conversion was blocked.

Aided by an interference penalty the Wranglers drove 76 yards late in the game to escape whitewashing. Don Johnson and Jimmy Gauntt swept the flanks to move to the Ranger 29. Here the Wranglers went back into phibotic times to pull off the Statue of Liberty with Johnson handling off to Spec Tompkins to put the ball on the one.

The Ranger line tared back the Wranglers on the first shot but Don Johnson tossed a short one to Jack Leveredge for the touchdown. The Rangers were knocking again from the two yard line when the referee tooted his whistle.

GROSS UNDERSTATEMENTS

BY MARVIN GROSS

All fired up as a result of that Ranger sweep last night we envision 100% sailing in the football mindreading sweepstakes. We've got a secret system for calling the upsets which anyone can obtain at this office by bringing in four rows of seats from the Cotton Bowl Stadium.

Now that the Longhorns have removed the cloak of invisibility they don't have to hide their faces when the opposition gains a yard. We pick the men of Cherry to prevail, despite the sick list, with a touchdown margin over Oklahoma.

The Arkansas-Baylor offering calls for deep concentration. But who in their semblance of a right mind can vote against the leading citizen of Smackover, Clyde Scott will lead the Razorbacks to another conference win.

The poor Aggies head for trouble again this week. L. S. U. gained prominence with a victory over Rice and the Aggies gained nothing losing to Oklahoma so it will be roar roar for Tiger triumph.

T. C. U. heads for the corn country for an afternoon of friendly battle with Indiana. The Horned Frogs have a fine performer in Lindy Berry but Lindy can't do a solo job although his name—~~he did it once a few years back~~—We like the Big Nine team in a close one.

Doak and a few of his friends play the show-me boys from Missouri and probably won't score in telephone numbers but will have enough to win. Out on the coast U.S.C. entertains Rice, who were walloped last week. In their own backyard the Trojans are tougher and will have a few more points than the Owls.

Making the rounds of the compass we select Penn State over Syracuse which is no feat, Penn over Princeton, Notre Dame over Michigan State, Army will glide past Illinois and we'll take a flyer on an upset by picking Purdue to crack Michigan's winning streak with a 14-7 victory.

And here at home the Bulldogs will have a few uneasy moments but that slick T-formation will be more than a match for the Cisco single wing attack. Getting down to details the Bulldogs should land on top by a 20-6 count.

THE STORY: Hilary Shenstone, a secret agent, is stranded in the Indian desert beside a crashed plane, after completing a dangerous mission. He thinks of Nuns Farthing, his home in the English coast-guard, and feels a desperate need to get back there. He doesn't know that the house has been let and that dreamy, 17-year-old Sabrina, whose he has never met, has adopted his old room and eagerly awaits his return. "Things have begun to slip, Hill . . ." she tells the pilot with him, as they await rescue.

VIII
PERHAPS it was a dream and he would wake up soon in his narrow bed in Peshawar. . . .

Mist was creeping in over the Embankment from the River. Not an old-fashioned fog, for it was June in London. This was just a white blur, hanging still and muggy—a come-by-chance summer mist.

Big Ben had just struck 10 p. m. when he passed Cleopatra's Needle and glanced up into the calm, bronze face of one of the attendant sphinxes.

"Do you think, if I'm very careful not to jar myself or knock into anything, I can get as far as the club and have a drink there before I wake up?" Hilary inquired of it, and there was naturally no reply. "I'm going to try, anyway. I'd like to see London again, even if it's only a dream," he told the sphinx, and moved away westward, into the mist.

As he turned into Northumberland Avenue, Hilary caught sight of Nelson on his column. No mist in Trafalgar Square. That was queer. London was suddenly in sharper focus as he reached Cockspur Street and heard taxi horns and passed a policeman with a short rolled mackintosh hooked to his belt in a normal sort of way, and noticed that the pavement was up in the Haymarket as usual.

But it was still rather like a dream, to sight the Carlton again, with Fox Mall just ahead. . . .

The missing plane, an AT-6, was piloted by Aviation Cadet Frederick Kaplin, 22, of Roselle Park, N. J.

The BC-1 was spotted 10 miles northwest of New Braunfels. That type of plane had not been in use since 1942.

DALLAS, Tex., Oct. 8 (UP)—The Texas & Pacific Railway today planned inauguration Sunday of three new trains, including the Louisiana Eagle, a Fort Worth-Dallas-New Orleans streamliner.

The other two trains will be the all-coach Louisiana daylight, the first daytime train service between New Orleans and Dallas-Fort Worth, and the Westerner, operating on an overnight schedule between Dallas-Fort Worth and El Paso, with California connections.

LUBBOCK, Tex., Oct. (UP)—About six hundred persons today were expected to attend the second annual bit-wide cotton mechanization conference in Lubbock.

At the time of his death in 1944, Hunter was chairman of the Board of Trustees of the University. Oil men, subscribing to the Hunter Memorial Fund, donated the money which retired a loan against the new dormitory.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Oct. 8 (UP)—Search continued today for a training plane missing from Randolph Airbase since Wednesday, while authorities puzzled over the wreckage of a BC-1 aircraft spotted during the search.

Man Held In Twitchell Case

HOUSTON, Tex. Oct. 8 (UP)—Harris county officers, still battling at the fringes of the Twitchell murder mystery, held a man for questioning today after he claimed he was "a sheriff from four states" and planned to lynch the killers of the Beaumont woman.

The man was picked up yesterday after a complaint by Mrs. O. J. Dean, who said he "acted peculiarly" in her cafe. Mainly, said Mrs. Dean, she objected to him demanding a meal on credit and claiming he was a sheriff working on the unsolved murder of Mrs. Eloise Twitchell.

Mrs. Dean told police, the man, who wore overalls over his other clothes and had a crew haircut, had bothered her neighbors for two days. He constantly questioned them, and boasted he was about to unravel the mystery, she said.

The climax came late yesterday when Mrs. Dean called police, claiming the man had "looked at her threateningly."

Police withheld comment today, but said the man was being held for examination by the county psychiatrist.

Meantime, officers in Beaumont said they were without new leads in the slaying of the 32-year-old Beaumont woman, whose torn body was found Monday in a dense thicket near Kountze, Hardin county.

DALLAS, Tex. Oct. 8 (UP)—E. A. Lagow, a former convict, faced a 90-day term in the county jail today and a fine of $300 for bookmaking.

Lagow was found guilty by a Dallas county jury last night—the first major gambling case on the fall docket of Judge Henry King's criminal district court.

Peanuts Move Slowly At Support Prices

More peanuts came to southwest markets this week as warm, dry weather favored digging in nearly all areas, reports the Production and Marketing Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

These later fields showed smaller yields per acre and lower quality. During the past week most farmers' stock graded around 67 per cent average.

Farmers received mostly government support prices for their offerings. Heavy supplies went to the Commodity Credit Corporation.

Demand for shelled goods continued slow at southwest markets. Occasional sales of Number 1 Spanish brought 16-38 cents per pound.

Unfavorable weather for curing and picking peanuts restricted operations along the Atlantic coast this week. Digging was estimated to be about 50 to 60 per cent completed in the Virginia-Carolina district. It is feared that undug peanuts may shed heavily when digging is resumed. Also, peanuts in stacks may suffer from rains.

Market for new crop peanuts from the Atlantic coast for November-December shipment was a slightly weaker and prices were substantially below prices for old crop for prompt shipment.

Peanut meal market was slightly weaker.
