Well...
I Dunno.
But...

Old as we are and as stiff as our joints have become, when that orchestra struck up the first dance tune Friday night at the RJC Queen's ball, we had to restrain an impulse to grab one of those guys and do a little fling all our own.

The coronation, which has become a tradition at the college, was one of the prettiest yet staged. The girls get prettier and prettier and the young men more handsome and it was warming to an old heart to see those graceful boys and girls swing out of the grand march into the dance.

Yes sir, that dance did honor to Queen Nancy.

The militant editor, Bob Moore of Eastland, who is crusading to put women back in the home and keep 'em there has made a most astounding admission. He goes in detail to tell how Peter B. D. Andrews has found out about women.

How Bob ever brought himself around to printing such figures we're at a loss to understand. But we must say the figures must have impressed him or he wouldn't have repeated 'em.

Here is what Mr. Andrews found out about women after an extensive research.

Women own 65 per cent of the accounts of mutual savings banks, 74 per cent of the titles to suburban homes, 65 per cent of the nation's private wealth, are beneficiaries of 70 per cent of men's legacies and 64 per cent of women's legacies. They pay 80 per cent of all inheritance taxes, and are beneficiaries of 80 per cent of the outstanding life insurance policies. In the various corporations of the United States, women own about half of all the privately owned stock. In addition, they are reputed to have greater powers of endurance, superior mechanical aptitude—and are healthier, saner, more modest, more purposive, and have the majority of the vote!

"It must be wonderful to be a woman," concludes Mr. Andrews wistfully.

You better get on our side, Bob.

There's somethin' phoney about this coal strike situation. Here a short time back the miners were defying John L. Lewis with scorn and this morning they were reported cheerin' him. That makes the suspicion of a frame-up look more logical.

Amarillo Bandit Strikes Again

AMARILLO, Tex., March 4 (UP)—A bandit took $300 in cash from the Ideal Food Store last night, then apparently escaped in a car stolen two blocks away.

Police, meanwhile, recovered the safe taken from a service station last week. Some $550 in cash was missing.

Loyalty Questioned

The U. S. government has no intention, in existing circumstances, of altering its decisions prohibiting the travel of U. S. citizens in Hungary and closing the Hungarian consulates in New York and Cleveland.

The U. S. said "the sentencing of Vogeler to prison on false charges merely confirms this government's conviction that it is unsafe for American citizens to visit Hungary."

Giving each other a big kiss at their reunion in Rensselaer, New York, are Mr. and Mrs. Sherrill Ovelander. She returned to her New York home from Stillwater, Oklahoma, after seeing an NEA Telephoto news picture of herself in the local paper. The picture was carried with a story which informed the missing woman that she did not have cancer, as she had suspected when she left home. (NEA Telephoto.)

U. S. REJECTS DEMAND TO REDUCE LEGATION

WASHINGTON, March 4 (UP)—The United States today rejected Hungary's demand that the size of the American legation in Budapest be reduced.

The state department made public a note delivered to the Hungarian Communist government today. The note stated that Hungary's demands were "improper and irrelevant."

Hungary, in a note on Feb. 23 said the trial of Robert A. Vogeler, American businessman convicted of espionage in Hungary, showed that the chief purposes served by maintenance of the present U. S. legation staff was to facilitate spying.

The American reply stated: "The United States Government does not recognize the proceedings against Robert A. Vogeler, which were completely ex parte and were characterized throughout by demonstrably preposterous falsehoods."

The United States said "in view of the character of this trial and of the wholly groundless charges against personnel of the (U. S.) legation, the U. S. government considers improper and irrelevant the inquiry" made by Hungary.

Hungary also asked if the U. S. would reconsider its ban against travel by Americans in Hungary, and also its action in closing Hungarian consulates in this country.

These requests also were turned down.

"The U. S. government has no intention, in existing circumstances, of altering its decisions prohibiting the travel of U. S. citizens in Hungary and closing the Hungarian consulates in New York and Cleveland."

The U. S. said "the sentencing of Vogeler to prison on false charges merely confirms this government's conviction that it is unsafe for American citizens to visit Hungary."

Variety Show Planned To Raise Red Cross Funds

Bruce Maddox, Ranger chairman for the Red Cross funds drive stated today that plans are being completed for a variety show at which he hopes to raise the major part of Ranger's quota of $1,500.

Maddox stated that the date of the show and more details concerning it will be announced the middle of this week.

He said that all proceeds from the show will go to the campaign and advertising on the programs will represent the Red Cross donations from those who advertise.

Maddox stated that committees for the show are being appointed and these, too, will be announced this week.

The show, he said, will be a home talent production and all facilities for the show will be donated so that no expense will be attached.

The chairman has appealed to the public to cooperate with him in this effort to complete the drive without delay and without house to house solicitation. "If the people will really put their hearts in this move, we can put it over with a bang," Maddox said.

Gholson Coffee Shop Refined

The Gholson Coffee Shop which was recently purchased by Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Jones is undergoing a program of redecoration and Jones stated today that the whole shop will be completely refinished.

The shop walls have been repainted in a soft green shade with white ceiling and dark woodwork and the same color scheme has been used in redecorating the dining room. Wall mirrors have been added at each booth in the coffee shop.

Tickets Here For Eastland Show

Mrs. Arthur Deffebach stated Saturday that she has on hand tickets to the marionette show to be staged in Eastland Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock and those wishing tickets may get them by contacting her.

The show "Pinocchio," is being sponsored by the P. T. A. and will be given at the high school auditorium. School buses will take students from Ranger to the show.

EXPECTED TO MAKE SHORT WORK OF NEW AGREEMENT

WASHINGTON, March 4. (UP)—John L. Lewis and northern and western coal operators began mapping the legal details today of the basic agreement they reached last night for ending the nine-months soft coal dispute.

One operator predicted a contract might be ready for signing by noon, EST.

Lewis and his United Mine Workers aides and attorneys began a closed meeting with George H. Love, president of the Operators Negotiating Committee, shortly before 10 A. M. EST.

As the negotiating committees met. Chairman David L. Cole of the president's fact finding board reported to President Truman on the basic agreement reached last night. Cole went to the White House with other members of the board.

Lewis was flanked by Thomas Kennedy, Vice President of the UMW; John Owens, secretary, and Attorney Welby K. Hopkins as he entered the conference room in the Statler Hotel. Love was accompanied by several attorneys.

It was generally agreed that a contract would be ready for signing before nightfall, bringing to a close an impasse that had plunged the Nation into the worst coal crisis in its history.

Government mediators said a new contract would send about two-thirds of the 370,000 strikers back to their jobs Monday morning. It was also agreed that it would forestall the need for congressional action on President Truman's request for power to seize the mines.

But industry spokesmen warned that the effects of the strike would not end with the miners' return to work. They said it would require two or three weeks to deliver any appreciable amount of coal to industrial and retail consumers.

The coal shortage already has idled 600,000 workers, forced demobilizations in New York and other large cities, reduced operations in the automobile, railroad and steel industries; closed many schools and forced lowered thermostats in hospitals, jails and public buildings.

Lewis and the operators reached their basic agreement last night in a 60-minute bargaining session. According to industry sources, the new agreement provides for:

1. An increase from $14.05 to $14.75 in the miners' daily wage.
2. A 10-cent-a-ton boost in operator royalties to the Union's welfare and retirement fund, raising the total to 30 cents a ton.
3. Elimination of the "willing and able" clause in the old contract under which Lewis was able to call sudden strikes.
4. Limitation of memorial period work stoppages to five days a year.
5. Revision of the administrative set-up of the welfare fund, including a new board of trustees.

The operators said the new agreement would run to July 1, 1952, with either party authorized to re-open contract talks on 30 day's notice after April 1, 1951.

The individual miners, who defied a "no strike" court order in order to continue their walkout, were jubilant about the new agreement. They agreed it was good enough to induce them to return to their jobs.

Water Meeting To Be Thursday

The report on a proposed dam for an increased water supply for Ranger and this area will be heard Tuesday when Harry Burleigh of Austin, Reclamation Bureau Engineer, appears before a meeting at the courthouse in Eastland at 2 o'clock.

The meeting was called by the Eastland County Water Supply District board of directors at the request of Burleigh. Members of the board stated that Burleigh had requested the representatives from Ranger, Eastland, Cisco, Gorman and DeLeon to attend the meeting.

The meeting is open to the public and all interested persons are invited to attend.

Racey Jordan Recalled To Testify

George Racey Jordan, above, former Air Force Major, has been recalled to testify before the House Un-American Committee in Washington. Democrats Plan Statewide Dinner

AUSTIN, Tex., March 4 (UP)—Texas Democrats have laid tentative plans for a mid May statewide dinner party to raise funds for the campaign chest.

Site for the dinner was not determined, party leaders said after a conference yesterday with Gov. Allan Shivers.

Vice president, Alben W. Barkley will be invited as principal guest.

Among the party calling on Shivers yesterday to talk about the dinner were national committeeman Wright Morrow of Houston, national committeewoman, Mrs. H. H. Weimer of Seguin, and state chairman John C. Calhoun of Corsicana.

Store Keeper Jailed In Shooting

JACKSONVILLE, Tex., Mar. 4 (UP)—A country store keeper was jailed here today as an aftermath of the fatal shooting of sawmill operator L. J. Pope during an argument about wartime "slackers."

Pope, 42, was shot six times with a .22 caliber pistol yesterday. He died in a Jacksonville hospital.

Police said murder charges were being drawn up.

Investigators said the two men argued about "slackers" of World War II military service. They said a fist fight ensued, after which the storekeeper, not a war veteran, returned with a pistol and allegedly began firing.

Oilman Indicted On Hot Oil Counts

TYLER, March 4 (UP)—N. P. Powell, well known Tyler oilman, was released under bond today after a federal grand jury indicted him on 17 counts of violating the Connally "hot oil" act.

Powell entered no plea upon arraignment. Maximum sentence upon conviction on all counts would be eight and a half years' imprisonment in a federal penitentiary and a fine of $34,000.

Powell, an independent operator, owns numerous leases in the east Texas oil field. His holdings include land in Rusk and Gregg Counties.

Library Board To Meet Monday

It was announced today that a meeting of the Community Public Library board will be held Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the library.

Mrs. J. R. McLaughlin, chairman, has urged that all members attend the meeting.

French Ports Strike Bound

PARIS, March 4 (UP)—Communist led strikes closed all French ports today while the National Assembly beat down with the help of troops an all night Communist filibuster of flats and words.

The Red filibuster was aimed at paralyzing action of an anti-sabotage bill with which the government hopes to crack Communist resistance to the North Atlantic military aid program.

The weary assembly adjourned for a four hour recess at noon after calling in troops twice to clear the hall and ordering two Communist deputies expelled for one month each.

The bill that stirred the Communists to fist fights and seizure of the rostrum would provide prison terms in jail for Communist strike agitators and death sentences for sabotage against American arms aid.

The Communist attack against the government was carried to the floor of the assembly simultaneously with a 24 hour strike in all ports of France and Algeria.

The strike started this morning to test Communist strength among dockworkers for the coming battle against unloading American arms shipments.

It was part of a nationwide strike wave, partly political and partly for wage increases, which has made 300,000 workers idle in scores of industries and services.

Texas Gets 187 New Oil Wells

AUSTIN, Tex., March 4 (UP)—A total of 187 oil wells were completed in Texas last week, hiking the total for thus far this year to 1,585, the Railroad Commission reported today.

Gas well completions numbered 17, bringing the number for the year to 182.

Dry holes totaled 99. A total of 703 have been reported so far this year as compared with 653 during the same period last year.

FATE DECREED GROCERY BUSINESS FOR PIPKIN

Back in 1919 during the oil boom days, Grady Pipkin moved to Eastland to go into the dry goods business, but due to lack of sufficient capital, he and a brother, Jess, who died in 1945, purchased a small grocery store.

From that modest beginning, Pipkin has mushroomed his business into its present status of nine modern stores in West Texas, known as Pipkin's Piggly-Wiggly Grocery Stores, with a conservative value of $400,000. He plans to open two additional stores in Odessa and Midland in the near future, which will bring the total to 11 in the growing chain that sees more than $2,000,000 of merchandise pass through the main warehouse in Eastland each year.

Pipkin attributes the remarkable growth of his business firm to "plenty of hard work and loyal employees under the policies established by the Pipkin's from the beginning—quality merchandise, fair prices, courteous service and keeping abreast of the times."

In recent years, he has been turning over active control of the stores to two of his sons, James and Bruce, in order that he might have more time for relaxation. Present plans are for him and Mrs. Pipkin to go to Detroit, Mich., to purchase a new automobile and take a pleasure trip into Canada before returning home.

A native Texan, Pipkin was born near the small community of Ferris (Ellis County), next to the youngest in a family of six boys and two girls. His father, J. C. Pipkin operated the town's cotton gin. While still a young boy, Grady moved with his family to Plainview in 1890, where his father opened the town's first mercantile store. Since the nearest railroad bringing in supplies—the Santa Fe—was at Canyon at that time, the Pipkin's sold the Plainview store and moved to Canyon to open a mercantile business, which they operated for the next 15 years.

Grady graduated from Canyon High School and attended the old Polytechnic college in Fort Worth. Coming back to Canyon, he clerked in his father's store one year, before going to Plainview at the age of 21 to enter the gent's furnishing business with an older brother, Jim. Two years later, the brothers sold out and Grady purchased an interest and went to work for the Carter-Houston Dry Goods Company in Plainview. While connected with the latter firm, he met and married Miss Clyde Turk, violin teacher in the old Plainview Seth Ward College.

One of Grady's brothers, Jess, meanwhile had moved to Eastland and was employed by Gulf Oil Corporation. He wrote Grady about the oil boom that was getting underway, and in 1919, Grady came to Eastland with his wife and two small sons, James, four years, and Raymond, two months old; with the idea in mind of entering the dry goods business with his brother. This required more finances than the brothers could swing, and they bought a small grocery store from Dell Cox, formerly known as Martin & Day, located in the Stubblefield Building, which is now the home of the Eastland Daily Telegram.

The Pipkin brothers did a rushing business for the next few years as the oil boom hit Eastland County with the velocity of a tornado. The square was not paved at that time and when the rains came, the front of the Pipkin store would become a quagmire where people would back their mule and horse-drawn wagons to load up a bill of groceries. The Pipkin's big business came from the oil field purchasing agents—picking up the merchandise each morning and delivering to camps located in the oil fields. Lease on the building expired

In 1924 and the Pipkins moved their store to the West side of the square to Jim Beard's building, where the Men's Shop is presently located. It was during the same year that the Pipkin's youngest son, Bruce, was born. Soon after moving to the new location, the Piggly-Wiggly franchise was acquired. The boom by this time was on the decline and while business was good, it did not have the rush conditions as before. The following year the Pipkin brothers purchased the Piggly-Wiggly Store in Breckenridge and Jess moved there to operate the store, with Grady remaining in charge of the Eastland store.

In 1926 the fixtures of another Piggly-Wiggly store in Eastland were purchased by the Pipkins and consolidated with the store on the West side of the square. The same year the Ranger store was established. Two years later, the Graham store was established. The same year the Eastland store was moved to a building on the Southwest corner of the square, now known as the Fagg Furniture building, where it was operated until 1940. At that time, Pipkin built a modern, new building on Olive Street as permanent home for the business. The main office and warehouse were built near the Texas and Pacific Railroad depot in 1935. This was when Grady removed the white apron he had worn so many years in clerking and devoted his time to managing the growing chain. In 1937 the Odessa and Monahans stores were opened. The Midland No. 1 store was established in 1946, Kermit store in 1947, and in 1949, the Midland No. 2 was added, making nine stores in the chain.

Upon the death of his brother, Jess in 1945, Grady purchased the half interest of stock for his sons, James, Raymond and Bruce. James handles the home office outside supervision of the stores, while Bruce does the inside purchasing. Raymond is in the lumber business at San Angelo and

The Law Of Diminishing Returns—

. . . like the law of gravity, is controlled largely by natural forces. When man-made laws come in conflict with natural laws there is never any doubt which will win. Long before the point is reached where cause equals effect the diminishing process sets in. Levying taxes is an excellent example, but the law operates in all fields of endeavor. Successful business men escape serious consequences of the law by selling a quality product for a reasonable profit.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE
"Man" is the subject of the Lesson - Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, March 5.

The Golden Text is: "Know ye that the Lord he is God: it is he that hath made us, and not we ourselves; we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture" (Psalms 100:3).
Among the citations which comprise the Lesson - Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Mark the perfect man, and behold the upright; for the end of that man is peace" (Palm 37:37).
The Lesson - Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "God is the creator of man, and, the divine Principle of man remaining perfect, the divine idea or reflection, man, remains perfect (page 479).

Sermon Subject Is Announced

The Rev. R. C. McCord announced today that the subject for his evening sermon at the First Baptist Church today will be "Wise Wives-Happy Husbands." He stated that gifts will be given to the oldest grandmother attending the service, the youngest grandmother, the most recently wed couple, the couple married the longest, and the couple with the most children present.
The sermon is one of a series being delivered in the Loyalty campaign at the church and the service will begin Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Grady Pipkin—

not actively connected with the management except as a director. The financial set-up for the chain is divided into the Pipkin Grocery Company, Incorporated, with a total capital of $244,465, and the Pipkin Properties Company estimated valued of $250,000. The latter company includes the store, warehouse and office building in Eastland; buildings at Breckenridge, Monahans, Odessa and Midland. Other buildings in which stores are located are leased.

Hub of the grocery chain revolves around the main office and warehouse, with most branch managers being with the stores many years and owning stock in the company. Through a unique card file system, a perpetual inventory of merchandise in the warehouse and stores is maintained. Six trucks are used to transport merchandise from the warehouse to the retail stores. Most of the purchasing is direct from the producers.

Pipkin is particularly proud of the produce department. Two refrigerated trucks, one a Diesel, travel 3,000 miles a week to Los Angeles and back, causing the produce to appear on the dealer's shelves from three days to a week fresher than the average.

Believing that business and politics don't mix, Pipkin has never been a candidate for public office, but has long been one of Eastland's most ardent civic boosters. Along with civic activities, Pipkin's leisure time is devoted to his two principal hobbies—the Boy Scout organization and fishing.

The largest fish he ever caught is mounted on his office wall—a 100-pound, six foot tarpon that took 45 minutes to snag out of Port Aransas.

Pipkin has been connected with the Boy Scouts since 1927, when he became a charter member of the Eastland County Council, which later became the Comanche Trail Council. He served as president of the Council in 1948 and is presently finance chairman and National Council member. In 1939 he received one of the highest honors in Scouting, the Silver Beaver award.

Other activities of Pipkin include: director in Chamber of Commerce, a position he has held at various periods during the past 20 years; a 32nd degree Mason and Hella Temple Shriner since 1920; steward in First Methodist Church and chairman of finance committee from 1944-49; commissioner of the Methodist Home at Waco for the past four years; former director of the Eastland National Bank; member of Piggly Wiggly Operators' Association; charter member of Eastland Rotary Club and active for 20 years until recently when he had to go on the inactive list because of business reasons; Quarterback Club; Texas Merchants' Association; Lakeside Country Club, Eastland School Board from 1933-40; director of the Eastland Building & Loan Association in 1925, which is no longer in existence.

WEEKLY BIBLE COMMENT

An Episode, Old Yet New, in Ephesus

BY WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.

EPHESUS, in the days of the Roman Empire, was the capital of the Roman province of Asia. Situated at the mouth of a river, three miles from the sea, its ample port made it a most important point on the route of trade between Rome and the east. Silt from the river made constant care necessary to maintain the port, and after the decay of Rome the harbor began to fill up, and the modern place is inland from the sea.

Much of interest was associated with the place, but its significance for our story, drawn from Acts 19, was in the strength of its pagan religion, which centered in the goddess, called Diana in Acts, but actually the goddess Artemis. This goddess, reputedly fallen from heaven, was worshipped in many parts of the east as the huntress goddess, goddess of fertility, with rites in her worship of a degraded nature to which pervasions of that conception easily led.

HERE, at Ephesus, was a great temple to the goddess. Thronged came to worship at various times of the year, and the worship and the throngs made much opportunity for profitable business. Worshippers in the temple presented shrines to the goddess. Among the poor such shrines were of terra cotta, but the rich presented shrines of silver. The terra cotta shrines were later thrown out by the priests, but the silver shrines were hung in the temple, and then they were melted down.

Obviously the making of such shrines was very profitable to the silversmiths, and they naturally were stirred up when the worshippers fell off under the success of Paul's Christian teaching—Paul spent nearly three years in the city—and the demand for silver shrines declined.

Among themselves they said, "Our craft is in danger"; but that might not have been of much appeal to people unconcerned about their profits. So they made a religious issue of it, concealing their personal interest and stirring up prejudice, by crying that the great goddess and her temple were being despised, and her magnificence destroyed.

Their ruse worked to the extent that a great riot was started in which Christians and Jews who had been in danger of being killed, had not the town clerk managed to stop the riot and dismiss the assembly.

The interesting story is old, but ever new. Never, when great reforms are planned, or effort is made to suppress vice, or anti-social practices, are these things defended for what they are. It is not so long ago that the most ardent advocates of liquor were decrying the saloon, and giving the strongest assurances that it would never return. But the rallying cry was about "personal liberty." The gambling interests today have entrenched themselves around the taxes they pay for old age pensions, and if profits from doubtful things can arrange for taxes to go for schools, or for some other socially worthy project, their defense is secure. Disreputable businesses shelter themselves around what will happen to reputable business if they are suppressed.

Ancient Ephesus is not as old as it seems.

Bastogne Veterans To Be Guests At "Battleground" Showing At Arcadia

Lt. Col. Angus

1st Sgt. Robertson

1st Lt. Jones

Corp. Huffman

The famous picture, "Battleground," the film story of the Battle of the Bulge at Bastogne in World War II will be shown at the Arcadia theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, and these four veterans will be the guests of the Arcadia at the showing.

All four men fought in the Battle of the Bulge and one gave his life in the battle.

Lt. Col. Hershel E. Angus was a battalion commander in the battle and helped to organize the 101st Airborne Division at Camp Claiborne, La. He fought with the 101st Division from Normandy on "D" Day to Germany. He is a resident of Ranger and serves the city as police commissioner. He was awarded the Bronze Star for gallantry in action while fighting in World War II.

First Sgt. Estil (Bob) Robertson served with the 101st Division paratroopers and was twice wounded in the Battle of Bastogne, Belgium, in which he served as a platoon commander. He was flown from Paris, France to New York in hospital plane and was hospitalized at Bushnell General Hospital in Utah for 16 months after his return to the States. He holds the Purple Heart with Oak Leaf cluster among other citations.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Preston Robertson of DeQuincy, La. He is now a Ranger resident.

First Lt. Claude P. Jones, the late son of Dr. and Mrs. Claude P. Jones of Cisco, formerly of Ranger, was killed in the Battle of the Bulge on December 22, 1944. The 26-year-old officer was cited for gallantry in action several times and served as a battalion adjutant with the 101st Division. His remains now lie in Luxembourg National States cemetery.

Corp. Norman Eugene Huffman, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Huffman was twice wounded in the Battle of the bulge. He holds the Purple Heart with Oak Leaf cluster. He is a resident of Ranger, having been reared here and attended schools here. He served with the 596th Parachute Infantry with the 101st Division from the time it was organized until he was wounded at Bastogne.

The 101 Airborne Division was a division made up of glider and paratrooper regiments. Was organized at Camp Claiborne La. Went overseas for its first battle "D" Day in April 1943. Then to "Holland Invasion" and to Bastogne where it wrote its name in history. The Battle of Bastogne Belgium lasted 9 days during which time the famous 101st "Screaming Eagle Division" was surrounded and was in contact with Numerous German Divisions. Dates of this battle were December 19, 1944 to December 27, 1944. Their only means of supply was by air and parachute which was not ample. Needless to say the 101 fought a bloody battle with many American lives lost but emerged the victors on December 27.

"Screaming Eagle Division" holds Citations from Congress of U. S. and 4 foreign countries for this battle.

The Division was commanded by Gen. Anthony C. McAuliffe whose reply was "nuts" when the Germans demanded surrender.

After the battle of Bastogne the 101 received a new name the "The Battling 'Bs' Of Bastogne" The Troopers seemed to be prouder of this name than any they had had.

Otis Harbert vs. L. H. Mathis, agreed motion to file appellee's brief.
