

Ranger Men, Women Favor Use Of Troops

A sampling of public opinion in Ranger showed that most people were in favor of using troops to defend South Korea.

This survey did not call enough people to be considered as a completely accurate account of Ranger's opinion.

But names were picked at random from the telephone directory and from those who called at the Ranger Times office.

No one definitely expressed the opinion that the U. S. should withdraw from Korea.

Dr. Dan Drain, a local jeweler, said that the situation is "certainly most critical. It could go to shooting at the drop of a hat". When asked if he thought we should send troops, he said yes. He expressed the opinion that we should go ahead that this is no time to back out."

D. E. Pulley, another jeweler, said that Korea is "our baby." He said that we've got to make up our minds to protect it or cast it aside. "It's our baby," he said, "we got to protect it or lose pres-tiage."

He said that if necessary the U. S. should use troops.

Rev. Garland T. Lavender, Methodist minister, said that "if democracy is to maintain a line of defense against an aggressor, let it be a defense worthy of the name." Rev. Lavender wanted to know why we weren't ready. He pointed out that you can't wait until a fight gets started to stop it. He said that nobody got sicker of war than he did. But "you can't stand idly by and watch two men beat up another one, and call it justice."

G. O. Kimbrough, a farmer on the Breckenridge road, said that we ought to send troops if necessary to keep Korea. Mrs. Kimbrough said that "something should be done." "You give an inch and they'll take a mile."

Mrs. Roscoe Hopper, wife of a tourist motel operator, said that she thought it would take very little to turn the cold war into a hot one. She said that she was not prepared to answer when asked whether we ought to use troops to defend Korea but she said we "will eventually have to."

Mrs. A. D. Wynn, a housewife, said that it sounded like another "Pearl Harbor." She said that she didn't "hardly know what we ought to do".

J. M. Elder, operator of a hatchery here, said that we've got to set "our foot down before it goes too far." He expressed the opinion that the U. S. has been too lenient with Russia already. "Put a stop to it now before it goes any further."

Horance Trout Killed By Train 10:40 Today

Horance Trout, 74, was killed instantly at 10:40 a.m. this morning by a Texas Pacific freight train, going west.

Trout's body was discovered when a four year old Mexican boy screamed as Trout's body rolled out from under the train just behind the Ranger Peanut company office.

Charlie Bobo, justice of peace, said that the death was apparently accidental. Three addresses found on Trout's body—the Simon apartments, his present address; 615 East Second Street, Ft. Worth; 6159 Llano, Dallas.

Bobo said that apparently Trout had come to Ranger around

South Korean Army Saves Capitol, At Least Temporarily By Eleventh Hour Counter Offensive Drive Today

TOKYO, June 27 (UP)—South Korean troops hammered Communist invasion forces back 13 miles from the capital Seoul in a counter-offensive today while American fighter pilots were reported to have shot down at least six North Korean Russian-made fighters.

Refugees flown out of Southern Korea by Gen. Douglas MacArthur's emergency airlift said they saw at least six North Korean Yak and other Soviet type fighters crash during day-long dogfights with the Americans.

The North Korean fighters tried repeatedly to break through the American fighter screen and strafe the airfields, the refugees said, but each time were beaten off. All witnesses agreed that the American planes refrained from firing until "forced to do so."

DULLES DURING KOREAN INSPECTION—At a trench along the 38th parallel, John Foster Dulles, special representative of the U. S. State Dept., wearing black hat, looks over South Korean defenses, as Korean officer points across boundary at Red Korea on June 20. This inspection trip was made at Uijongbu. With Dulles is Sihng Sung Mo (in sun helmet), defense minister and premier of Kroean Republic. (NEA Telephoto).

President's Statement Commits U. S. Military Forces To Armed Action On Possibly Major Scale

WASHINGTON, June 27 (UP)—President Truman announced today that he has ordered U. S. air and sea forces to support South Korean forces in their fight against Communist invaders from North Korea.

At the same time he said he had ordered the American Seventh Fleet to "prevent any attack on Formosa," the island rampart where Chiang Kai-Shek's Chinese Nationalists are making a stand against the Communist conquerors of China.

The President said in a statement that the Communist attack on South Korea "makes it plain beyond all doubt that Communism has passed beyond the use of subversion to conquer independent nations and will now use armed invasion and war."

The President's decision committed American military forces to armed action on a possibly major scale for the first time since World War II.

Allied Headquarters Reports US Fighters Shot Down Four Korean Planes; American Refugees Say Six

ITAZUKE, Japan, June 27 (UP)—American refugees who arrived today from embattled South Korea said their mercy transport planes roared out of Kimp'o airport in Seoul while protective American fighter planes shot down at least six North Korean planes which tried to interfere with the evacuation. Allied headquarters reported that American fighters shot down four North Korean planes over Kimp'o airport outside Seoul.

The refugees said several members of an American geological survey team who were on field trips at the time the invasion started still were missing.

The refugees were among the first of approximately 1,950 Americans and other foreign nationals scheduled to be evacuated from South Korea. Details contained in their stories were held up by censorship.

The refugees roared into Itazuke airbase at intervals, bringing an average of 30 passengers on each trip.

Meantime, the United States Lines Ship Pioneer Dale sailed into the port of Fukuoka with 102 refugees who hurriedly boarded the vessel in Fusan, Korea, at 6:30 a.m. today (4:30 p.m. EDT yesterday).

Most of the refugees were women and children who left so hurriedly that they had no luggage.

Soviets Say UN Cease-Fire Order No Good

MOSCOW, June 27 (UP)—The official Soviet news agency Tass said today that the security council's condemnation of North Korea and "cease fire" order were illegal because Russia and China's "legitimate representative" did not attend.

The Tass dispatch from New York contended that a Security Council decision on a substantive matter requires the approval of all permanent members in accordance with the United Nations charter.

Neither Russia nor the Peiping government representative was present and therefore the Council could not make "any valid decision," Tass said. Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's Nationalist government represented China at the meeting.

Russia is taking the war in Korea calmly. The Soviet press and radio refrain from expressing sympathy for either North or South Korea, although Russia supports the Northern government.

Soviet newspapers publish dispatches from both Western and Communist correspondents.

Caso March Levels Guns At Shivers

SAN ANTONIO, June 27 (UP)—Gubernatorial candidate Caso March lived up to the 1950 campaign last night with a personal attack on Gov. Allan Shivers.

March admittedly was trying to force Shivers to campaign "out in the open like a man."

In an address before the league for political education of the Texas State Federation of Labor, March called Shivers, among other things, "pretty boy" and "fancy pants" and "temporary governor."

March said Shivers got his political start in the state senate with the backing of organized labor.

"But he betrayed labor just as he betrayed the old people of Texas," he said.

Shivers, March said, had voted for "all Texas anti-labor laws which were enacted during the administrations of both (Gov. W. Lee) O'Daniel and (the late Gov. Beauford) Jester.

March also said Shivers had blocked an increase of the present old age pension.

The old people of Texas are starving on a $34 per month pension," March charged.

March accused Shivers of refusing to "mix with the common herd."

"He thinks it is beneath his dignity to campaign out in the open like a man," charged March.

Instead, said March, Shivers was waging an "undercover job" by sending "five or six paid workers" over the state to campaign against him.

"The most complimentary thing they are saying about me is that I'm crazy," March said.

It followed an emergency White House meeting with his military high command.

The decision was announced to the world shortly after Congressional leaders of both parties had been informed at a special White House briefing session.

The President's statement said that in Korea government forces "which were armed to prevent border raids and to preserve internal security" were attacked by invaders. He said the UN security council had called upon the invaders to cease hostilities and to withdraw.

"This they have not done, but on the contrary have pressed the attack. The Security council called on all members of the UN to render every assistance to the United Nations in the execution of this resolution," he said.

"In these circumstances, I have ordered United States air and sea forces to give the Korean troops cover and support."

Truman said he had also directed that U. S. forces in the Philippines be strengthened and that military assistance to the Philippine government be accelerated.

And he directed that military aid be accelerated to Indo-China to combat the Communist menace in that part of Asia.

The President's decision was America's answer to world Communism which, contained on the European continent, has conquered China and is now trying to conquer South Korea and Southeast Asia.

Shortly before the President's statement, the Air Force announced that it has 509 planes in the Far East, 473 of them combat craft. They include a medium bomb group of 30 B-29 superforts and five fighter groups of 75 planes each. It was the B-29 that carried the Atomic bomb to Japan in the last war.

The Seventh fleet, ordered to defend Formosa from attack, is based in the Philippines-Guam area close to its new scene of operations. It is commanded by Vice Adm. Arthur D. Struble.

In addition to ordering the seventh fleet to prevent any attack on Formosa, Truman said he also was calling on the Chinese Nationalist government of Chiang Kai-Shek on Formosa to "cease all air and sea operations against the (China) mainland."

"The Seventh fleet will see that this is done," Truman said. He added:

"The determination of the future status of Formosa must await the restoration of security in the Pacific, a peace settlement with Japan, or consideration by the United Nations."

This appeared to be a complete reversal of the administration's previous decision not to defend Formosa, island refuge of the Chinese Nationalist government.

This reversal apparently stemmed from recent conferences in Tokyo between Gen. Douglas MacArthur, supreme allied commander in Japan, and Defense Secretary Louis Johnson and Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the U. S. joint chiefs of staff. The Communist invasion of South Korea was the clincher.

Truman said the United States is pitting its air and sea might against the Communists because they have failed to obey a cease-fire order by the United Nations Security council.

"In these circumstances," he said, "the occupation of Formosa by Communist forces would be a direct threat to the security of the Pacific area and to the United States forces performing their lawful and necessary functions in that area."

Teh President said he had instructed Ambassador Warren R. Austin, U. S. Representative on the UN Security Council, to tell the council what he has done.

Volunteer Firemen Learn About Pumper, Study Use Of Iron Lung

Volunteer firemen found out how an iron lung works last night. A newly formed group had a turnout for fire drill which yielded every two weeks.

The group received instruction from Fire Chief Charlie Isabel and Instructor D. A. Faucett on how to use the 500 gallon pumper and iron lung.

George Andrews got caught in the lung as demonstration victim. The lung was donated to the fire department by the Ranger Elk club and is for the use of any club—and is for emergency use outside of the county.

The fire department at the present time has a 750 pumper, built about 27 years ago; the 500 pumper, delivered in 1943 by the Army and used little by the Army.

De Kalb Breaks Out Fog Machines As Polio Continues March In Texas

By United Press

Eight new cases of Polio were diagnosed in Dallas yesterday, and the little Northeast Texas town of De Kalb rolled out fogging machines to spray both business and residential districts as it reported another victim.

Among the patients admitted to Parkland hospital in Dallas was Mrs. Hazel Gentry Jones, 18, of Bonham, an expectant mother. Doctors said they hoped for a normal birth. The child was to be born soon.

The newest De Kalb victim was a 10-month-old girl, suffering a "mild" case. She was the seventh person struck this year in the town of less than 2,000 population.

Among the other seven polio victims admitted to Parkland was an Ivanhoe (Pantola County) man.

Fort Worth doctors reported four new cases. Isolation wards at Dallas and Fort Worth hospitals were nearing capacity.

It is estimated that at least 100 Texans will meet a violent death from Sunday through Tuesday of the holiday week. Thirty-six of these, experts say, will be in highway accidents. Drownings, fire-arms, fireworks, homicides, and suicides will up the total.

The Texas Safety Association states that if each of us would but stop and think and exercise a little care and a lot of good common sense, that many of these deaths could be eliminated.

Officials who estimate the number of deaths during the holidays usually look bad when things are over because they have a tendency to underestimate the total. Why don't we take care and make them look bad with an overestimate this time?

EASTLAND COUNTY HIGHWAYS BECOME DEATHWAYS INSTEAD OF HAPPY WAYS

By Everett Taylor

Eastland County highways are becoming known as deathways rather than happy ways.

The number of deaths on county highways for 1950 is startling. Ten persons have met death from traffic accidents in the county this year. That is four more than were killed in the county for the entire year of 1949 by traffic mishaps.

Add to this the fact that the three largest holidays of the year are still ahead and you have a sum which should make you stop at the next stop sign. July 4, Thanksgiving and Christmas are expected to bring with them record highway accident deaths.

It isn't happening thousands of miles away, in another state, or in another county, it is happening here. Right here in Eastland county.

To make the picture more tragic, most of the accidents are caused by some traffic rule violation or carelessness.

All of which makes the individual ask, "What can I do about it?" You can do plenty. You can resolve that at least YOU will observe the traffic rules that violation that you may have made, but didn't because of this resolution may be the one that saves a life or lives.

With July 4 coming up, it will pay to be extra careful.

Traffic deaths are not the only form of violent deaths which we can expect on July 4th.

Lions Founder Endorses Independence Drive

Examining a reproduction of the Liberty Bell at the Treasury in Washington, Melvin E. Jones, founder and Secretary General of Lions International, says: "The Liberty Bell symbol and the Independence theme of the 1950 Savings Bonds campaign have a particular significance to Lions, since our own slogan is 'Liberty—Independence—Our Nation's Safety.' As in past Savings Bonds campaigns, the Lions may be counted upon to do their full share."

speaking after news of the Korean war broke out. They started every sentence with an "if," finished it with an "if" and put a couple "ifs" in the middle just to be on the safe side. "It means U. S.-Russian war if—it means no war if." Anyway that's the idea. But the Russians have done it again. And that's caught us flat-footed. It's getting to be an old habit—and winning habit for the Russians. If we continue to let them do it, we might as well sign over the world to them, withdraw into our caves if we can find any not already inhabited by Commies, and let the world go to. If you haven't looked at a map, you might do so and find some interesting reading. Japan is only a few miles off the South tip of Korea. Russia already has Japan bracketed from the North and will have Japan bracketed from the South when they take Formosa. But the danger is perhaps not as imminent as the prestige we're going to lose if we put our hands under our laps and let them take Korea. People must already be getting the idea that you can't stop the Russian. And even though I'm almost a chauvinist when it comes to the U. S.—sometimes I get that idea after I see us letting Russia take all of Eastern Europe, trip us like books in the UN, swipe China and hold strong threats over the Middle East and India. Whether we like it or not—we might do well to admit that we're losing this cold war. Just about the time that Washington acts like it has caught up with Russia, the Reds pull another trick out of their sleeve and take the whole pot. For a nation that has long been devoted to poker playing, we're sure losing a lot of good pots as we let the vodka drinkers bluff us when we ought to stay in; and kid us into staying in when we ought to get out. We're going to keep losing this war until we decide whether to play this game consistently from the power-politics angle or from the democratic ideology angle. We can't mix the two techniques and win. Not only that but we have a bunch of soft-seated buzzards in Washington who are so busy playing politics that they're sinking

TEXAS NEWS BRIEFS

DALLAS, June 27—Testimony began today in the suit of two Monahan ranchers against the Texas Electric Service Co. for payment of water rights on 26,000 acres of land. Pat and L. O'Brien, brothers, charged the company had been using water from their acreage to cool the utility's turbines near Monahan. The utility said it did not know who owned the water rights. The O'Brien brothers purchased the land from the George Sealey estate in 1948. LUBBOCK, June 27 (UP)—Ray E. Dickson, the friend of rolling plains farmers, is dead today at the age of 61. Dickson, one of the state's foremost agricultural researchers, died yesterday in a Lubbock hospital. He had been superintendent of the Spur substation of the Texas Agricultural experiment station since 1914. Dickson specialized in water and soil conservation and development of plant materials best suited for the plains. He was the first graduate of Texas A&M's course for vocational agriculture teachers. RAYMONDVILLE, June 27 (UP)—Two brothers drowned yesterday after saving a young girl, daughter of one of the victims. Joe Chappel, 50, of Willmar, and his brother, Chester, 38, of Kilgore, were the victims. They were swimming with Joe Chappel's daughter, Thelma, in Redfish bay, when the girl sank in deep water. They managed to push her into shallow water, then both of them went under. Right now there are probably as many good lies in the club house as there are on the golf course.

There's a
NEW and MODERN Electric Range for you!

A SIZE AND PRICE FOR EVERY FAMILY BUDGET!

ELECTRIC COOKING IS COOL

Surface units of the new, modern, streamlined electric ranges apply their heat directly to the cooking utensils and the food—ovens are heavily insulated too—assuring cool comfort while meals are being prepared.

No matter where you live—in a big house with a large kitchen or in a small cottage with a tiny kitchen—there's an electric range to fit. Apartment-size electric ranges take up very little room space yet give you lots of cooking space and large ovens. Larger electric ranges are available with either single or double ovens and fully automatic controls.

Your favorite electric appliance dealer or home furnishing store will show you the new electric ranges with all the new features which make cooking easy and economical.
