Soil Conservation Pasture Tour Is Set For Thursday

Randall Reeves, conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service will be in Eastland Thursday to conduct a pasture tour for farmers, ranchers and others interested in pasture improvement.

Those interested in making the tour are requested to meet in front of the city hall and be prepared to leave at 1:30 p.m.

The tour is being sponsored by the Eastland group of soil conservation co-ops. M. D. Fox is the group leader.

A number of good pastures in the vicinity of Eastland will be visited in which various grasses will be identified and rated according to their grazing value, Fox said.

Reeves will also discuss pasture management, controlled grazing and deferred grazings as means of increasing the carrying capacity of pasture.

Fox stated that since pastures are among the most valuable enterprises in Eastland county, it is just as important to have the right kind of pasture/grasses as it is to have the right kind of field crops to make the most net return.

Martin & Sons Open Eastland Business Soon

E. L. Martin and Sons have announced their plans for opening a general dry goods store in Eastland sometime in the very near future.

Location of the store will be at 104 West Commerce, next to the Majestic Cafe. The site until recently was occupied by Sanders Auto Supply store.

Martin said that the store would be opened sometime this month. Work is now underway to get the building in shape, and to move the stock for the opening.

E. L. Martin, Jr. will be the manager of the local store. He and his wife are planning to move to Eastland shortly. They are now residing in Ranger. He served for three years in the army during World War II, and spent some time in the European area.

Known as "the friendly store," Martin and Sons have operated a similar business in Ranger since 1939, with which many Eastland citizens are familiar.

Nationally advertised and accepted brands of mens, women's and children's shoes, mens furnishings and clothing, ladies ready to wear and children's clothing will be sold by the store, Martin stated.

Brands to be handled include: ladies ready to wear, Vitality and Glamour by Bourbese; Polly Parrot children's shoes; Betty Rose coats and suits; ladies Daniel Green house shoes; mens Nunn-Bush shoes and various other nationally known brands of merchandise.

Bluestem Pastures Are Outstanding In Grazing Trial

Good bluestem pastures can compare favorably with vetch and rye, in grazing per acre, when managed properly, according to results from trials this year.

On a 25-acre pasture, on which the brush was pushed in 1947, and killed by goats in 1948, followed by a feferment in the summer of 1949 Cecil Shultz grazed 17 heifers and 20 hogs for three and one half months, and followed these with 32 head of cows for a week.

This would be equal to a cow to each two acres for five and one-half months.

Cecil plans to defer the pasture until after frost, in order to mature a seed crop, and establish a thicker stand, as well as maintain the vigor of the present plants.

He thinks that, by seeding an adjoining field to vetch and rye, his cows can get green grazing from it, while they get their needed hay from the bluestem.

Then in the spring months, between the periods of vetch grazing and Johnson grass grazing, he can again get green grazing from the bluestem.

W. I. Brooks of the Dan Horn Soil Conservation Group, found that his 20-acre pasture, which he had bulldozed and goated in 1948, and deferred in the summer of

Let's Keep The Record Straight When I served the people of Precinct No. One as County Commissioner, I took office with a deficit of $19,667.18 in warrants charged against the Road and Bridge fund allotted to the precinct. During the first two years of my tenure of office I was able to pay off the major portion of this deficit, but due to the added expense of sponsoring the relief program during the depression years and the small amount of revenue allotted to the road and bridge fund during those years, I was unable to liquidate the entire deficit and build the many needed roads and keep them in good condition. In addition I was compelled to buy new machinery which was turned over to the present incumbent free of debt and with a reasonable value of $12,000.00. With this machinery I completed 139 miles of graded and graveled roads, installing 245 permanent stone and concrete drainage structures on roads in precinct No. 1. During my administration commitments were made with the State Highway Department, under the State Farm to Market road program for approximately 23 miles of surfaced roads in this precinct, out of a total of approximately 28 miles allotted to the entire county. Owing to the fact most of the right of way had been secured, the road beds graded and drainage structures installed, I was able to secure the major portion of the allotment for the county. Most of these roads have been completed, and for which my opponent seems to take credit, but during the present administration when it seemed that the Farm to Market road north of Ranger to the County line had been lost, I made a trip to Austin in company with Ranger citizens and Stephens County officials and was able to get the project re-instated and the road is now completed. But since my administration no further commitments have been made for Farm to Market roads in this precinct. Considering my opponents statement that he had bought new machinery and had a cash balance of more than $15,000.00, he did not state that he still owed $7,940.00 on the machinery. The more than $25,000.00 earned with the machinery was of a commercial nature in direct competition with private citizens engaged in the same line of work, underbidding them on many of the projects, while this commercial work was being done the graded and graveled roads of the precinct were deteriorating. During the years I served as your Commissioner, the available funds for road work in the precinct averaged between $16,000.00 and $18,000.00 each year. During the incumbency of the present Commissioner the available funds average between $30,000.00 and $35,000.00. Had I had an equal amount of funds with which to build roads, this precinct would have had the best road system in the county. I solicit your vote in the coming Primary Election on the basis of experience and ability. Henry V. Davenport (Pol. Adv.)

Dillinger Gets Most Optimistic Player Label; Just Low Man On Big League Baseball Totem Pole

NEW YORK, Aug. 3 (UP)—Bob Dillinger must be rated today as baseball's most optimistic player. He thinks it's a "break" being sold by the last place Athletics to the last place Pittsburgh Pirates.

"Maybe it does sound funny," the 31-year-old third baseman chuckled, "but that's the way I feel about it. Pittsburgh is a good baseball town and the Pirates draw much better than the Athletics have been drawing. And you feel more like playing when you know more people are watching."

Dillinger, a better-than-average major league player, shrugs off his apparent destiny to remain with bottom division clubs. The three-time stolen base champion of the American league started out with the low St. Louis Browns and looked for a good year with the A's this season.

"The A's pitchers always gave me plenty of trouble," he exulted when he was sold to the Athletics. "But the A's, figured to be in the thick of the American league pennant race, folded miserably."

"That pitching failed, and that's the whole answer," Dillinger insisted.

The slender six footer looked little like a major leaguer as he made these observations. Thick-lensed glasses nearly hid his blue eyes and his relaxed body appeared almost frail. It's a different picture on the ball field.

There the placid expression is gone. A cud of tobacco juts out on his jaw and the indolence is replaced with a wiry readiness.

Currently his is plagued with a pulled tendon in his right leg and it has cost him much of the speed which allowed him to steal 82 bases during the last three seasons.

"You think a person would be in good shape this late in the season," he groaned. "Just think, I've missed two games this year."

Sitting on the bench is galling to Dillinger. "I'm an every-inning, every day ballplayer, even though it must be obvious that this year the Pirates aren't going much of anywhere."

"I haven't seen too much of the National league," the Californian explained, "but I did see the Dodgers, Braves and Phillies—and when I saw them, the Dodgers looked to be the strongest of the lot."

North Korean Propagandists Got Know-How

By James E. Roper
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (UP)—North Korean propagandists have pulled out all the stops against South Koreans, the United States and the United Nations.

Never before have the Red Korean propagandist been so vigorous and never before so dangerous. They are dangerous because they are skillful.

The Communist radio at Pyongyang is featuring the voices of American prisoners of war in day and night operations. The voices mouth the Communist line.

The speakers often falter or mumble as if they were tired—exhausted by the grillings and psychological mistreatment that at last made them talk for the Reds. But their stories sow doubt.

The Communists are hammering at themes popular in the Orient. One is land reform—the Communist kind—that involves cutting up big land holdings and giving the bits to poor farmers. The people in areas freshly overrun by the Communists are told that taxes will be reduced, and elections held. The elections are only for local Communist peoples' committees that take orders from higher up. And the ballot is barred to "pro-Americans, pro-Japanese and the insane."

That phrase, carried time and again, is insidious. Psychologically it hints that Americans are just like the Japanese, whom the Koreans hate. It also says Americans and Democratic Koreans are in the same class as lunatics.

A South Korean cabinet member is accused of using missionary funds for carnal pleasures.

Another is denounced as being too ugly to seduce a girl. This man the Communists cry, has to resort to rape.

This is how low Communist propaganda can be. But is it too low to be effective?

Anyone inclined to underestimate the danger of Communist propaganda should recall that even Joseph Goebbels seldom inspired his enemies 16 times in one sentence—and made some people believe it.

Tex. Candidates Begin Wind-Up For Run-Off

By United Press
Texas candidates are beginning to warm up for the Aug. 26 Democratic runoff primary.

Some heat already has been generated in the race for agriculture commissioner between J. E. McDonald, who has held the job for 20 years, and John C. White, a vocational agriculture instructor at Wichita Falls' Midwestern University.

White, 25, announced he was "confident of victory against my opponent," and prepared to stump through Houston, the coastal area and the Rio Grande Valley this week.

McDonald, now seeking his 11th term in the state's top agricultural post, took a poke at destruction of cotton under the federal acreage allotment. The fiery McDonald said the program was detrimental to the war effort.

He said he saw Rio Grande Valley and South Texas cotton plowed under last week-end.

"It broke my heart," he said, "to see the product of food and fiber being destroyed when we are likely to need all of it and more before our victory in Korea is realized."

Ben Ramsey, seeking the post of Lieutenant Governor, spoke out on economy.

"We should put aside the thought of new taxes and unnecessary spending" until Gov. Allan Shivers' economy commission has made its report, he said in a statement from his campaign headquarters in Austin.

Russia Returned To UN To Use It As Platform For World Propaganda

By Harry Ferguson
UP Foreign News Editor
It now seems clear that one reason—and perhaps the main reason—why Russia returned to the United Nations was to get a world-wide propaganda campaign under way.

The U. N. provides an ideal platform for a man like Soviet Delegate Jacob Malik who wants to try to sell the Communist line to the world. His words go ringing around the globe as soon as he utters them. Malik made three speeches yesterday. And when he was defeated in the voting, he did not use the veto or walk out as Russian delegates have done in the past. He stayed there and kept right on talking.

One of his speeches indicated the line that Russian propaganda will now take. It will be an attack on that old, familiar figure of the American millionaire, Malik said yesterday that a "small clique of American millionaires" was responsible for the Chinese Communists being denied their seat in the U. N.

The American millionaire is the villain in all Soviet propaganda. He combines the worst features of Simon Legree and the big bad wolf in the "three little pigs." His life, outside of eating and sleeping, is devoted to two projects: counting his money and ordering the president of the United States to start wars of aggression. There are no American millionaires in the Chicago grain pit, the Texas oil fields, the Detroit automobile factories or the Pittsburgh steel mills. They all live in Wall Street. When he appears in Soviet cartoons the American millionaire is always fat and wears a big gold watch chain across his vest. Usually he is sneering.

It was the American millionaire who sent orders to President Truman to have the South Koreans attack the North Koreans. Naturally, the North Koreans defended themselves and that was what caused all the present trouble.

That trouble can be solved by stripping the American millionaire of his power. The first step would be to evict the Chinese Nationalists from the U. N. and give their seat to the Chinese Communists. The next step, presumably, would be to give all of Korea to the Korean Communists.

That will be the line that the Moscow radio, and the Russian Newspapers, Pravda and Izvestia, will continue to take. It will all be done in dead earnest and with a perfectly straight face. And Americans would be wrong to assume that such propaganda will not be effective in several places in the world. Even so able a man as Premier Nehru of India, for instance, believes that the seating of the Chinese Communists in the U. N. would be a step toward peace in Korea. That was the basis of his recent peace proposal to the United States and Russia.

The Russians did not invent this propaganda technique. They borrowed some of it from the late Joseph Goebbels, who displayed genius as a propaganda man when the Nazis were dreaming of world conquest. His method was the technique of "the big lie, endlessly repeated." He reasoned that if he invented a story and told it over and over it was inevitable that somebody would come to believe it, no matter how unreasonable it seemed to reasonable men.

Injuries Take Toll As All-Star Footballers Gear For Friday

By Lloyd Larabee
United Press Staff Correspondent

AUSTIN, Texas (UP)—Injuries took their toll today among members of North-South all-star football squads and caused a whole sale shakeup of the "Yankee" lineup as the two teams geared for Friday night's clash.

Two Northerners—fullback Bud Rollins of Wink and guard Richard Martin of Jackboro—were lost to coach Bud Wilkinson's squad, a third suffered a slight injury, and a South all-star lineman was hobbled with a pulled thigh muscle.

Rollins suffered two fractured vertebrae and Martin went out with a fractured thumb.

The injuries resulted from full scale scrimmage yesterday when the two teams cracked down on preparations for their Friday night meeting in Austin's House Park, climaxing the 18th annual clinic of the Texas High School Coaches Association.

Tackle Jack Archibald of Highland Park, Dallas, was limping from a turned ankle, but was expected to be ready for starting duties with the North squad.

The only casualty in the South camp, guided by Michigan State College's Clarence "Biggie" Munn was end James Gist from Marshall, who suffered a pulled thigh muscle.
