1950 City Funds Jump $16,930.30 Over 1949 According To Audit

CITY SHOWS PROFIT IN BOTH DEPTS.

The 1950 city general fund and water department showed a net increase of $16,930.30 over 1949.

According to an audit of the 1949-1950 budget, by Public Accountants A. M. Higgs and Company, the city had a profit of $8,745.18 in the general fund for the fiscal year ending 1950 as compared to a $5,424.07 deficit in 1949.

The city commission approved the audit this week.

The profit came mainly from parking meter deposits and a higher number of tax collections.

In 1949, the city had an income of $52,881.65 from taxes. In 1950, this income had increased to $60,132.95.

O. G. LANIER FINANCE commissioner, said that this increase in taxes came from the higher number of tax collections. "There has been no tax rate increase or blanket raise of property valuation."

The parking meters gave the administrative department an increase of $8,894.10 over last year's. The sewer department and police department also showed substantial increases. The public welfare, cemetery and sanitary departments showed decreases of income from 1949.

EXPENSES COMING FROM the general fund were higher than in 1949 by $2,994.31. But the increased income allowed the city general fund to show a profit.

This gave the city general fund a net gain over 1949's budget of $14,269.25.

The water department showed less profit in 1950 than in 1949. And expenses were slightly more. But the department's ink stayed black. The profit from the department was $8,206.56 in 1949. In 1950 it was $5,592.62.

THE CITY ALSO MOVED closer to getting the surplus account out of debt. This is figured on the basis of city income and inventory of city owned property—such as roads, pipelines, desks, etc., balanced against bonded indebtedness and other liabilities.

The city had a deficit of $21,505.66 at April 30, 1949. The deficit at April 30, 1950 was only $9,560.48. Lanier said that he hopes, as finance commissioner, to erase this deficit in one more year. He pointed out that the city financing would only have to be equal to the 1950 progress to do so.

THE INCREASED TAX COLLECTIONS are illustrated by the fact that in 1949 there were $46,608.72 in delinquent taxes listed among the city's assets and deficits. By April 30, 1950 this had been reduced to $28,476.71—a decrease of $18,132.01.

The city at the present time has a bonded indebtedness of $622,640 as balanced against fixed assets—paving, sewers, pipelines of $598,388.21.

Democrats Predict Senate Will Approve Strong Economic Controls

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (UP)—Jubilant Senate Democrats predicted today that a split in republican ranks would insure passage of a strong emergency economic control bill.

Among other things, they said the measure would include standby wage-price rationing power—authority which President Truman did not ask for but which he will accept.

The GOP split flared into the open yesterday when Liberal Sen. Irving M. Ives, R. N. Y., broke with Sen. Robert A. Taft, R. O., over the issue of wage-price rationing curbs. Taft wants the controls put on the law books, but he favors a provision requiring a joint resolution from Congress before they could be invoked.

Ives said such a move would "handicap... efforts to curb inflation," and "impair the effectiveness of controls." He was expected to swing enough GOP votes to guarantee victory for a strong control bill.

ELSEWHERE IN CONGRESS: Taxes—The Senate Finance committee was today with the idea of taxing the exempt income of cooperatives, but there appeared to be little chance such a provision would be written into the next tax law. The group was considering the plan in connection with President Truman's $5,000,000,000 war tax program.

Wire taps—Chairman Claude Pepper, D. Fla., said his special Senate investigating subcommittee would push forward its inquiry into reports of wire-tapping by Washington policemen. After one or two more secret sessions, he said, the hearings will be thrown open to the public. The group already has heard testimony from four Washington police officers who said they acted under orders when they listened in to tapped phone conversations. The police said they thought the work was being done for Congressional benefits.

REA—A HOUSE EXPENDITURES subcommittee said federally financed electric cooperatives in several states apparently are filled with fraud and "dishonesty."

The group, headed by Rep. Porter Hardy, Jr., D. Va., blamed the Rural Electrification Administration for not keeping a close watch on the co-ops and said the agency had better hire more men to do the job.

Pussfoot—Sen. Pat McCarran, D. Nev., says Secretary of State Dean Acheson doesn't want a Communist control law with teeth in it. Instead, McCarran said, "Mr. Acheson wants to pussfoot as he has in the past." The Nevada Democrat attacked Acheson after the cabinet officer urged Congress to tone down the Senate's sweeping anti-subversive law.

Lending—Chairman Burnet R. Maybank, D. S. C., said he planned to state by his decision to investigate lending policies of the export-import bank. He refused, however, to confirm reports that he would check whether Secretary of State Dean Acheson's former law firm was involved in the Senate-approved loan to Argentina.

PHA Survey Slated To Finish Soon

The typographical survey of property for Public Housing here is delaying construction of the housing units.

JOE NUESSE, LAWYER FOR the local housing authority, said that the survey should be completed by next week. He estimated that it would only take a week or 10 days for final architectural and engineering plans to be made after completion of the survey.

THE NATION'S PUBLIC housing authority is de-centralizing in an effort to expedite the building of 30,000 units before January 1, Nuesse said.

Before the outbreak of the Korean war, the authority planned to build 40,000 units.

There has been no later cut-back on the number of units to be built here.

The bands, and calls were good. And at 11:30 p. m. the hall wasn't too warm for the spectators. Varner said that he considered the Round-up a success.

Unions Striking For More Money; Atomic Plant Walkout Dies Today

By United Press

Wildcat strikes halted the St. Louis transit system and hampered transportation in New York City today but the threat of a major strike in the meat packing industry appeared to be easing.

Members of the AFL Amalgamated street car and bus operators union quit work at St. Louis in what officials said was an illegal strike. The unionists had accepted a seven-cent hourly wage increase but demanded that it be retroactive to Jan. 1.

Officials of the Union said they had exhausted all means of forcing members to return to their jobs. The state had seized the transit lines yesterday under a law which forbids strikes or lockouts in utilities.

About 200,000 homeward bound workers were caught yesterday when the buses and street cars were stopped. They had to hike or use taxicabs.

More than 350,000 New Yorkers also faced the problem today of how to reach their jobs. CIO bus drivers in the Bronx and Manhattan were engaged in an unauthorized walkout resulting from a squabble within the union.

At Waterloo, Ia., 150 foundry core workers voted to continue a strike against the John Deere tractor plant which was not approved by their union, the CIO United Auto Workers. The Union was attempting to get the men back to work before the strike cut back production.

UNION OFFICERS WARNED, however, that they were receiving increasing demands for a work stoppage unless the contracts are signed quickly.

Local C of C To Act For Government

To give all American businessmen equal opportunities to compete for military and civilian procurement contracts, the Department of Commerce has developed cooperative programs with the Department of Defense and the General Services Administration to speed procurement information to key points throughout the country.

The Dallas regional office for region 9 of the Commerce Department's field service for the states of Louisiana and Texas, recently announced that in addition to the lists of items currently being procured there is now available once a week a list of names and addresses of contractors awarded contracts valued at $25,000 or more who may be contacted for subcontracting opportunities.

The Ranger Chamber of Commerce recently became one of the cooperating offices for the distribution of the consolidated supplies lists of items currently being purchased by the Armed Forces and the General Services Administration of the Government.

R. V. Galloway, Manager, invites businessmen in this area who are interested in the program to visit the Chamber Office and pick up a copy of the synopsis lists, as these lists are received in his office daily.

Main Fight At Miryang; 'Keans' Hit

Earnest Hoherecht
United Press Staff Correspondent

TOKYO, Sunday, Aug. 13 (UP)—American troops, handicapped by the severance of their main supply line, battled desperately on the south-central front today to protect the port of Pusan.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's midnight communique reported heavy fighting under way in the sector west of Miryang, a town on the vital railroad line that runs from Pusan to Taegu.

The Communists have established two road blocks on the American main supply line, and the communique said these "continued to hamper vehicular and wire communication."

The Communists have thrown a bridge head across the Nakdong river and have succeeded in getting reinforcements across.

MacArthur's communique said a Communist prisoner of war claimed that the North Korean 16th, 17th and 18th regiments of the fourth division had crossed the Nakdong southwest of Changyong. That is the area that the American 24th division is defending.

"This is the first time I've ever had my main supply routes cut in more than 30 years of military service," Maj. Gen. John Church, commander of the 24th division, said.

A joint Army-Marine task force on the Southern front also was in trouble. A force of about 1,000 Communists got in behind their lines and cut their supply road 12 miles from the front. The GI's and the Marines were driving toward Chinju.

"Task Force Kean (the GI's and the Marines)," the communique said, "continued to be plagued by heavy infiltration of enemy troops and guerrillas dressed as refugees, who attacked supporting field artillery units in rear areas."

Mobilization

Army Plans No Further Call Up Of National Guardsmen Unless World Situation Becomes Worse

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (UP)—The Army plans no further call up of National Guard Divisions or Regimental Combat Teams unless the world situation worsens, it was learned today.

An authoritative Pentagon source said that the current recall of four divisions and two combat teams is all that is contemplated under present mobilization plans for the guard. However, small non-divisional guard units will be called from time to time.

Yesterday's Army and Air Force calls went only to reserves, not to Guardsmen. The National Guard, a federally recognized militia normally under command of the state governor, can be called into action by the federal government in emergencies. The Reserves, composed of trained military men not on active duty, are under direct control of the federal government at all times.

Air Force sources indicated that the call now going out to 50,000 of its Reserves—42,000 of them enlisted—will take care of its needs this year. Most of the 8,000 officers being called will be Captains and Lieutenants, while the airmen called are those with critically needed military skills.

THOUGH THE AIR FORCE needs some officers who are combat pilots, its principal officer need is navigators, bombardiers and radar specialists. And the greatest need, among enlisted personnel is for airplane and engine mechanics, radar and radio specialists, armament specialists and medical personnel.

In order to process the reservists being ordered up, the Air Force has designated nine processing stations, including one at San Antonio.

Ferguson Says US Has Tough Time In Korea 'Cause Country Is Preparing For Big Show

By Harry Ferguson
UP Foreign News Editor

One reason that the United States is having such tough going in Korea is that we are waging two campaigns at once. We are like a heavyweight boxer who is training for a championship fight and at the same time is sparring with a featherweight opponent. We have to keep jabbing with one hand and keep hitting the heavy punching bag with the other to build up our muscles for the main bout.

If the United States could drop everything else and concentrate on Korea, the war out there would be shortened by months. But President Truman and Congress are keeping their eyes on the main bout—the day when we may have to defend ourselves against a Russian attack.

Most of the news out of Washington these days deals with the main bout. Yesterday a House armed services committee called for a speed-up-radar-warning screen designed to sound the alarm if and when a Russian plane, carrying an A-bomb, approaches our coasts.

At the same time Truman asked Congress for legislation to protect us from within—laws that would make it easier for the government to get at spies and saboteurs.

All our military thinking in the last four years has been based on one assumption. It is that some day Russia may attack us and that we must have ample warning to take defensive measures. Then the next step would be to throw a counter-punch—send our big bombers on an Atom bomb mission to Moscow and Stalingrad.

While we were making those plans, we allowed the kind of weapons we need in Korea to become rusty. We need bazookas, tanks and ground support planes. In short, World War II weapons rather than the dazzling equipment of a push button war. We are getting those weapons into Korea now, but it has been a slow and painful process.

Our allies, too, have to keep one eye on the main bout. That is the reason so few United Nations troops are in Korea. Britain has thousands of experienced troops in Hong Kong and Malaya. France has more thousands in Indo-China. But if they shift them to Korea to put out a fire, a bigger blaze is likely to break out in the places they vacate.

Charles Cordry, United Press Aviation writer who is assigned to Korean air bases, has been discussing the dilemma with high Air Force officers. He reports their attitude as follows:

"They challenge people who contest the Korean war proves they put too much emphasis on strategic bombing and too little on tactical aircraft for ground support. They say that's the same thing as contending that our major military preparations of the last few years should have been based on the assumption that North Korea, rather than Russia, was going to be the United States' primary adversary.

"They see nothing in the Korean war to indicate there should be reduced emphasis on the development of B-36 superbombers and a B-50 superfort long-range striking force.

"In the mean time our Air Force in Korea is improvising. They took fighter planes primarily designed for interceptor work and quickly turned them into ground support planes. And that—by the testimony of the Army—prevented a Dunkirk in Korea."

GIs Kill Commies But Contribute Pay To Keep Youngsters Alive

By Jack James
United Press Staff Correspondent

SOMEWHERE IN KOREA, Aug. 12 (UP)—American G. I.'s are violently killing Communists in Korea. But they're charitably keeping youngsters alive in Japan.

The American soldiers are members of the 27th Infantry Regiment.

When they were back in Japan as members of Uncle Sam's peacetime Army of Occupation they had a pet charity—the Holy Family orphanage of the Vincennes Sisters of Osaka.

They had learned that the Sisters were too poor to pay their rent and feed their youthful charges. So the G.I.'s contributed $1,500 every month to help the cause. This enabled the Sisters to move to new quarters and supply the youngsters with better clothes and food.

Now that they have marched off to war the soldiers haven't forgotten their orphan charges.

When pay day rolls around they dig deep and hand their contributions to Sgt. John O'Reilly of Brooklyn who forwards the money to Japan.

Some of the men, including Pvt. Hubert Muckle (address unavailable), drew only enough pay for their monthly contribution.

It Was An Error In Judgment—

... when the rejected candidate was led to believe that he had his race in the bag because every voter he met told him so. And about as disillusioned is the person who is convinced that an abstract is a lot of extra expense, and unnecessary, in a real estate transaction. There's another error in judgment. He stands to lose more, perhaps, than the candidate who lost the election. A winner always insists on an abstract when he buys real estate, and you can't beat that for good judgment.

story in the Ranger Daily Times about arthritis crippling 15-year-old Noel Judy. The contractor immediately mailed a $200 check in care of the Times for Noel.

This money will buy medicine for 20 days to help Noel beat the disease that has tied him to his bed for several years.

Other contributions—$100 from the First Baptist church—plus smaller ones from individual members has relieved the pain. But more money must be secured if Noel is to have complete recovery and be able to become an active and useful citizen.

Mrs. Winnie Mitchell and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Payne are conducting a drive to raise funds. They or the Ranger Times will take your check to help Noel.

The Odessa contractor's name? He likes to do good without the publicity. And that feeling will certainly get the respect it is entitled to from the Rambler.

General Likes Offer But Can't Accept Wine

ADVANCE COMMAND POST, 1ST CAVALRY, Korea, Aug. 12, (UP) — The General appreciates the offer but doesn't feel he can accept free champagne for his bazooka ace.

That's the gist of a letter Maj. Gen. Hobart R. Gay, commander of the 1st Cavalry Division, is sending to Frank Palumbo, of Philadelphia.

Palumbo read recently that Gay had promised a bottle of champagne to each bazooka team that knocks out a tank. The General received the following cablegram from Palumbo yesterday:

"Your champagne offer moved me. May I supply you free the champagne your men earn? Hope they clean out my entire stock."

The Comfort of Religion

WE live in an Age of Comfort... physical comfort, that is, and we like it. In fact, we demand comfort. Our homes must be comfortable... warm in winter, cool in summer, equipped with electrical conveniences and good plumbing. Our furniture must be comfortable. Our clothes must be comfortable. Our automobiles, trains, airplanes must give comfort in every detail. Even the style of our architecture has changed to reflect this modern trend toward, above all else...COMFORT.

YET, are we indulging ourselves in the Supreme Comfort, the COMFORT of RELIGION? A man with folded hands; that means a soul in fellowship with the Almighty. See what aids he has summoned in his hour of great need! As our nerves are torn ragged each day from the wear and tear that must come in every routine, do we restore our souls in the BLESSED PEACE OF OUR RELIGIOUS PROMISES? When a crisis comes, when someone dear to our hearts lies sick beyond reach of medicine or skill, when we must stand by helpless and watch death take away our sweetest treasure, or when we find that we must live daily with tragedy, do we experience the Comfort of a Divine Presence ever with us, to give us stout hearts and strong courage? Read Psalms 103:2-4.

THE HOLY COMFORTER brings joy, peace, patience, loving-kindness. As you walk down a busy street, notice how few faces reflect this Spirit within. Harried, cross, impatient, unkind faces betray a pitiful need for Spiritual Comfort: The strain and stress of complicated modern life are more than any human can bear alone. Psychiatrists are stampeded; mental institutions are overflowing. Our nerves simply can't take it. Why not turn to the COMFORT of RELIGION? The man with folded hands and open Bible; we do not know just where he is reading... But he is in company with noble souls of all the ages. FOR MAN, IN HIS DARKEST HOURS OF SORROW, SEEKS THE COMFORTS OUR CHRISTIAN RELIGION OFFERS. There's room, there's welcome, there's COMFORT waiting for you in your church.

YOU IN THE CHURCH THE CHURCH IN YOU. Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fertilize and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial and a stranger give character. Deacons and laymen are making religion a more fruitful leadership in handling the affairs of state. go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you" — form a combination for peace. Be a regular CHURCH-GOER and a daily BIBLE READER. © Williams Newspaper Factors P. O. Box 211, Ft. Worth, Tex.

PLUG 'N TRIGGER

By J. Fred Eder
United Press Outdoors Consultant

Conservation groups and sportsmen are being urged to organize a militant watchfulness to prevent possible exploitation of recreational resources such as occurred in a number of instances during World War II.

The possibility of all industry and agriculture being drafted for an all-out war effort presents a serious problem and new handicaps to both state and federal agencies furthering conservation.

The forces of conservation are much better prepared to meet these conditions than they were at the start of World War II. The average citizen today knows the importance and urgent need for conservation in field and stream and is better prepared to meet the onslaught of selfish exploiters who would encroach upon the recreational resources in the name of the "war effort."

The true sportsman objects only to needless exploitation. He stands ready to sacrifice anything, no matter how precious, if actually needed by the nation.

Your reporter would like to point out what conservation groups and sportsmen by standing together and acting cooperatively can prevent needless exploitation again. The memory of the slogan, "Fish For Food," is still fresh as well as its devastating effect in undoing in a few short years the work of a generation of effort to teach the doctrine of "Fish For Fun."

The Tulsa district office of the Corps of Engineers, notes that because of continued rains in the Southwest, water levels are above normal pool elevations at all flood control reservoirs. Lake Texoma, for instance, is up about seven feet. Most of the lake elevations are about stationary or falling slowly.

Although water and weather conditions indicate poor fishing, the success of those fishing at lakes recently has held up unusually well, with many nice catches being taken. Lake Texoma has been producing exceptionally good angling. Principal fish being caught are black bass, white bass, crappie, and channel catfish. It is reported that black bass are spending their time in weeds and among willows anywhere that there is foliage of water plants on the lake. They are hitting colored lures.

Sand bass are said to be hanging out at depths of about 30 feet and seem to be particularly fond of silver spoons. Crappie are being caught on minnows at a number of places in Texoma. Most channel catfish are being caught on trotlines.

With dove season only a few weeks away in the North zone, it's time to check and clean old Betsy. Wide-spread rains have created an abundance of water holes. It's too early to predict what the final effect will be, but every indication points to scattered shooting with considerable field hunting necessary for a full bag. In short, it looks as if "walking them up" will be the ticket.

Fight Centers Near Miryang—

said the by-passed Communists "remained the only serious enemy activity on the southern flank" as two Army regiments lanked up in hills overlooking Chinju. The Marines were advancing on Sachon, 12 miles south of Chinju.

The American offensive has so disorganized the enemy, a spokesman for Gen. Douglas MacArthur said, that the Reds may abandon Chinju, and fall back 20 miles west of Hadong.

Front dispatches and the 8th Army communique reported these developments on other fronts:

Pohang—South Korean troops made small gains in a counter-attack near Fallen Pohang on the east coast. The Communists withdrew from the perimeter of the American airfield six miles south of Pohang to regroup. Up to 10,000 Communists were expected to attack the airfield tonight or tomorrow.

Taegu—1st Cavalry division troops killed half a Communist force of 300 which crossed to the east bank of the Nakdong river 14 miles southwest of Taegu and the survivors were trying to withdraw. The Reds also made several other crossings of the Nakdong in the Songdong area.

Northern Front—The South Korean First division repulsed a tank-supported enemy attack with heavy Communist losses. The South Korean 8th division made a limited attack and killed 147 Communists and took others prisoner.

Army Hunts Enlistees; Some Offers Good; More Officer Training Set

The initial processing machinery began to roll this past week as thousands of young men reported to the various induction centers for the pre-induction examinations.

The first call will effect about 10,000 men in the Southwestern Recruiting District, which includes Texas and New Mexico.

Meanwhile, the Military Personnel Procurement section at Fourth Army headquarters in San Antonio, announced that there will be no curtailment in the voluntary enlistment effort.

Men who have not received pre-induction notice are being urged to take advantage of the opportunities offered to Regular enlistees.

Volunteers are given their choice of a three, four, five or six year enlistment in the Army; or a four, five, or six year enlistment in the Air Force. Army enlistees are also given their choice of the combat arm in which they prefer to serve. Soldiers and Airmen alike have the chance for highly specialized training in various fields if qualified. The career advantages such as retirement benefits, still apply to current enlistees.

It is evident that many young men are taking advantage of the Regular enlistment opportunities, as Recruiting Stations report that enlistments have more than doubled since the advent of the Korean crisis.

Step-up of the Air Force pilot training program is indicated, as Air Force headquarters has an-

Editor Charges Slandering

ASHLAND, Wis., Aug. 12 (UP)—John Chapple, editor of the Ashland Daily Press, has asked the Justice department to issue a warrant charging Jacob Malik, chief Soviet United Nations delegate with criminal slander.

Chapple telegraphed the U. S. district attorney's office in Madison, Wis., asking for the warrant on the basis of Malik's statement before the UN Security Council Aug. 3, that Warren Austin, chief United States delegate, is guilty of blackmail.

"I maintain that this statement is criminal slander under the laws of the United States, and as a citizen I ask for a warrant for the arrest of Malik," Chapple's telegram said.
