Texas Demo Liberals May Lose Control Of Party Powers

By O. B. Lloyd, Jr.
United Press Staff Correspondent
MINERAL WELLS, Tex., Sept. 12 (UP)—Texas Democrats met here today for their biennial state convention with Liberal leaders facing probable loss of their control.
Gov. Allan Shivers set the pre-convention temper with statements that he wanted neither the radical left nor the Dixiecrat-tinged right to run the party.
Houston Attorney Leroy Jeffers, the convention keynoter, was ready to spell out further Shivers' middle-of-the-road policy for the convention delegates.
The first blow to Liberal control fell last night when members of the state executive committee closed day-long preliminaries by voting, 45-14, to seat Conservative delegations from four contesting counties.

The executive committee overrode Liberal leaders' pleas that the Conservative delegations were dominated by ex-Dixiecrats and thus opened the way to an almost certain fight on the convention floor.

Thousands of party big-wigs swarmed into this North Texas health resort, jamming hotels and tourist courts. More than 2,000 of the Democrats were delegates to the convention. Hundreds of others were hopeful of gaining seating space, already at a premium.

Polio Crisis Over In Houston

HOUSTON, Tex., Sept. 12 (UP)—Dr. Fred K. Laurentz, city health director, said today that the polio peak in Houston appears to be over.

He said there was only one city polio death and one new case during the weekend and only three cases in the city last week and seven county cases outside Houston.
Two weeks ago there were 19 city cases, the highest total for any week this year.
The new polio victim was a 13-year-old girl from the north side.
So far this year there have been 154 cases and 14 deaths in the city and 68 county cases with one death outside Houston.

INVESTIGATORS PROBE TRAGIC TRAIN WRECK THAT KILLED 34

NEWCOMERSTOWN, O., Sept. 12 (UP)—Investigators searched twisted wreckage and questioned railway and military personnel today to fix responsibility for the troop train wreck that killed 34 Pennsylvania National Guardsmen and injured 67 other persons.
"The most modern signalling and protective devices available" failed when a fast passenger train—the Pennsylvania Railroad's Spirit of St. Louis—roared out of a gray morning mist yesterday and smashed into the rear of the stalled troop train.
The soldiers, ordered to active duty for the Korean war, were on their way to Camp Atterbury, Ind., for training.
Brig. Gen. Francis Brink, chief of the Ohio military district, said 33 bodies had been removed from the troop train wreckage. No passengers or crewmen of the passenger train were killed. Nearly all the injured were soldiers, 24 were listed in serious condition.
Officials of the Pennsylvania Railroad, the Interstate Commerce Commission, and military personnel opened full-scale on the scene investigations.
At a loss to explain what caused the accident, railroad officials said the area "is equipped with the most modern signalling and

NOTED CISCO LEADER DIES; RITES TODAY

Henry Sterling Drumwright, resident of Eastland County, died at his home in Cisco Monday a short time after being stricken by a heart attack. A prominent merchant and civic leader in Cisco, Drumwright had been in ill health since Aug. 9, relatives said.

Funeral services will be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the First Methodist Church in Cisco, with Rev. Leslie Seymour, Methodist superintendent of the Cisco District, officiating, assisted by Rev. L. L. Lightfoot, pastor. Burial will be in Oakwood Cemetery under the direction of Thomas Funeral Home in Cisco.

Drumwright, owner of the largest store in Cisco, was born in Mart, Texas, and came to Cisco in 1919 to work for the H. Garner Dry Goods Store. In 1940 Garner sold out to Drumwright. He was past president of the Cisco Chamber of Commerce and the Merchants credit Association, and also served on the school board and the city commission.

He is survived by his widow; a son, Sterling Drumwright of Cisco; a sister, Mrs. E. Y. Blount of Houston; and a grandson.

'Too Many Baths' Shaw Says After Leg Surgery

LUTON, England, Sept. 12 (UP)—George Bernard Shaw, 94, sat up in bed today and complained indignantly that he has been given too many baths since his fractured thigh was operated on last night.

Shaw showed no signs of his ordeal. He joked with members of the Luton and Dunstable hospital staff, and said his only complaint was the sight of nurses with wash basins.

"Mr. Shaw demanded I give him a certificate that he has had a bath," nurse Elizabeth Gallagher said. "He said we give him too many."

The famous playwright's apparently rapid recovery had the entire hospital staff in high spirits. Bulletins throughout the day said he was "fairly comfortable," then "resting comfortably." By late afternoon, a bulletin was issued saying, "his condition continues to be satisfactory."

Shaw's greatest enjoyment, nurses said, appeared to be in listening to radio broadcasts about his condition.

"He passed a comfortable night and his condition is satisfactory," his doctors said in a bulletin issued near midday after they visited the Irish playwright and philosopher.

Shaw showed amazing recuperative powers after undergoing an operation to mend a thigh bone broken in a fall in his garden Sunday.

Although doctors had warned that an operation on a man of Shaw's age must be regarded as serious, he did not seem to concur in their weighty concern.

Hurricane Heads For Sea Leaving Six Dead Behind

BOSTON, Sept. 12 (UP)—An Atlantic hurricane missed Nantucket Island off the New England coast by 83 miles today and headed northeastward to sea, leaving at least six dead and more than $500,000 damage in the wake of its 100-mile-an-hour winds.

The disturbance, traveling at about 15 miles an hour, endangered the Atlantic shipping lanes but was expected to pass harmlessly south of Nova Scotia barring any sudden shift in its path.

The fierce winds at the hurricane center skirted the land, but gusts up to 76 miles an hour lashed exposed Nantucket while 50-mile-an-hour gusts battered coastal sections of the mainland.

The death toll rose to six early today when an east Boston man was struck and killed by an automobile on a windy, rain swept street. Three other persons perished earlier in a Maryland highway accident and two persons drowned in Virginia floods.

As the hurricane fringe struck the New England coast, it raised abnormally high tides accompanied by a drumming rain and high winds that tore many pleasure and fishing boats from their moorings and drove them aground.

Anchorage, Alaska, has grown in population from 4,000 in 1940 to more than 14,000 in 1949.

1st Cavalry Gains Mile In Rush Above Taegu

"Worst Over" In Korea; Says U.S. General

By Earnest Hoberecht
United Press Staff Correspondent
TOKYO, Sept. 12 (UP)—The U. S. First Cavalry went over to the offensive above Taegu today and gained nearly a mile in their first rush.

From his Eighth Army Headquarters, Lt. Gen. Walton H. Walker announced "the worst is over" in Korea. "The enemy still has the initiative and is capable of hitting us anywhere on our 120-mile perimeter," Walker said, "but I am sure we can stop him."

Like a boxer who hangs on grimly waiting his chance for one good punch, the Yank Cavalrymen took everything the enemy had to offer for 10 days. Today they let him have it.

They plunged forward 1,500 yards along the "bowling alley" highway toward Tabu, 12 miles north of Taegu, against savage enemy resistance.

Sweeping in ahead of them in at least four sorties were fighter bombers which dropped flaming gasoline jelly bombs and raked a vital hill with rockets and bullets.

Tonight, the Yanks held the dominating hill eight and one-half miles north of Taegu.

But the 30,000-man Communist army massed before them on the blazing battle arc was not giving up easily. Late this afternoon they began shelling Chidok, five miles north of Taegu, and the town was blazing.

A captured prisoner from the Red First Division said an order had gone out for every battalion to organize 12-man squads under orders to take the Taegu airstrip by tonight. An 8th Army spokesman treated the report as "doubtful" but was not ignoring it.

Forces guarding the airstrip two and a half miles northeast of Taegu and five from the fighting lines were alerted, and a practise alert also was called at the command post inside the city.

It was estimated that the North Koreans had suffered at least 20,000 casualties in the fighting since the first of September.

East of Taegu, South Korean forces struck forward up to eight miles and reclaimed three-quarters of the 18-mile road between Yongchon and Angang. American and Korean Republican units a little farther east cut the road between Angang and Pohang in an advance of more than a mile.

Across the beachhead on the lately dormant Nakdong river front U. S. 2nd Division troops beat off a heavy Communist attack, losing no ground. Synchronized counter-blow by troops, planes and artillery killed about 2,500 Communists, MacArthur's headquarters reported.

Allied warplanes had one of their greatest days of the war.

Time Capsule To Be Buried At The State Fair, Dated Year Of 1050

The 1950 State Fair of Texas will mark the Mid-Century point in history for future generations by burying a Time Capsule with instructions not to open until 2050 A. D.

The Time Capsule, containing data of historic interest about life in Texas during the first half of the 20th Century, will be sealed and buried on the final day of the 1950 State Fair Mid-Century Exposition.

Disinterment of the hermetically sealed metal cylinder 100 years hence will probably be a high point of the next Mid-Century Exposition. Its contents will enable Texans at the 2050 Fair either to marvel or smile tolerantly at the way we live in 1950.

Prominent among exhibits to be included in the Time Capsule to give a true picture of Texas in 1950 will be copies of the front pages of virtually every newspaper, daily and weekly in the Southwest. The front pages will be photographed on microfilm, which will be specially treated and sealed in an air-tight container of its own.

Other items will include documents and photographs pertaining to the history of Texas and the State Fair and a description of the everyday life of today. The Atomic Age Science Show of the 1950 State Fair also will be described in great detail.

"The Science Show at the 1950 State Fair will present a graphic picture of the near-miracles which have been accomplished by science in the first half of the 20th Century," said James H. Stewart, executive vice president and general manager of the Fair.
"At the next Mid-Century Exposition, when the Time Capsule is opened, who can predict what unimaginable marvels may be revealed at the Science Show of that far-in-the-future Fair? At any rate, it may be amusing to our descendants to see how amazed we today are at the Atomic Age accomplishments which then will no doubt be something from the realm of antiquities."
The Time Capsule will be buried at an impressive ceremony at 3 p. m. Sunday, Oct. 22. Officials of the Fair are consulting engineers concerning the type of cylinder to be used and how best to preserve it in its resting place for the next 100 years.
Dates of the 1950 State Fair are Oct. 7-22.

SCORES INJURED IN TROOP TRAIN ACCIDENT Near Newcomerstown, Ohio a troop train carrying 600 Pennsylvania National Guardsmen and a Pennsylvania Railroad passenger train collided, injuring a score of persons and killing at least 21. ALLIED BOMBERS & FIGHTERS DAMAGE 21 RED TANKS TODAY

By Charles Moore
United Press Staff Correspondent
TOKYO, Sept. 12 (UP)— Allied bombers and fighters raged through North and South Korea, today, bombing a Communist arsenal in the North and running their 40-hour bag of tanks destroyed or damaged to 21 in the south.

Jet and propeller driven fighters and light bombers swooped down along the fighting fronts in 186 close-support sorties by 3 p. m. today. But cloudy weather over the battlefronts indicated the war planes would not be able to approach the record 683 sorties flown yesterday.

In fighter missions today, top priority went to the northern sector, where the planes blasted and burned Communist troops and equipment in 73 missions.

Second priority went to the 1st Cavalry sector, where 50 missions were flown. And 63 sorties were devoted to the 2nd division and 25th division sector.

One hundred and forty nine additional sorties were flown elsewhere.

THE STORY: Alice Pine, secretary to Muriel Halleck, who writes popular stories under the name of "The Palgrave," suspects Muriel's husband Brent of cruelty to Muriel, his four-year-old adopted son. Although Alice cannot forgive this, she feels strangely drawn to Brent. One night Muriel sees Brent take Alice in his arms, but Muriel does not seem to be disturbed. Brent goes away to take care of business. One day Muriel goes to New York to see her literary agent, leaving Alice alone. Brent turns up unexpectedly. He asks Alice to go with him to New York. Alice refuses. Brent tells her she has to see him in New York. "Why? Alice replies, "Because I like you." She had meant her words to sound casual, but her voice betrays her.

XXIII
ALICE'S voice had betrayed her, definitely. And Brent Halleck caught her in his arms. Alice's hands came up instinctively, pressed against his chest. Pressed once, and then dismayingly the strength went out of them. "You like me?" It was a swift hoarse whisper as Brent repeated Alice Pine's words. Her lips, raised and parted, were too close. Brent's head bent. "It was a rough, hard kiss. Its very roughness brought Alice to her senses. She pushed him away, but his fingers clung to one arm. Bit into it, hurt it. "I asked you something," he said, unsteadily. "You haven't answered." Had he let her go, even slackened that painful grip, she might have said something entirely different. But the fingers remained, digging inexorably into soft flesh. And, all at once, came the remembrance of another arm, mottled with blue bruises. And with it, a more disturbing recollection. Thunder rolling, a black sky torn by peals of vivid lightning. "No, Brent." Strange how a repulsion she had thought long gone could swarm back. "I—pena, she's succeeding beautifully. After dinner Alice retired to her own room. With a family concave on, it seemed the discreet move. She read a while, but presently fell asleep. It was nearly evening before she went downstairs again. "Well, Alice, I've been arranging flowers in the living room. "Well, Alice!" She stepped back, inspecting a vase critically. "At last, we're around to you and me." "Oh," Alice said, "there's no hurry." "Well, Brent and I are talked out. Beyond that, he's gone." Alice controlled a start. There was every reason why Brent should have left without seeing her. But she had been silly enough to think that he wouldn't—today. "You mean he's gone back to Providence?" "Presumably. Sit down, Alice, and—forget Brent."

ALICE gave her a sharp look. She had the uneasy feeling that Muriel had been about to add something else and changed her mind at the last second. Instead, she waited for Alice to seat herself on the divan and then Muriel sat down beside her. Muriel fairly beamed. She was anxious to tell Alice something that she thought Alice wanted to hear. Muriel said: "Hold your hat, Alice! You've got yourself a job in California, if you want it." "What?" Alice jumped. "California?" "You, California. Oh, Alice!" Muriel kicked up her heels wildly like a hoyden. "I've hit the jackpot. Pat and I had company yesterday. A very charming man named Alec Crowther. Does that ring any bells?" "Alec?" Alice nodded. "Isn't he some terrific Hollywood person?" "Just about the biggest of the big brass in Ganz-Phenix Pictures. Smack me down, Alice, if I start sounding big-headed. Pat, according to Pat, this Alec Crowther saw all the way to New York just to see Little Jo." Muriel chuckled reminiscently. "That's what he calls me, 'Little Jo' Palgrave." (To Be Continued)

"Mrs. Dawson called Tuesday to give me her recipe for blackberry jelly. I made 13 glasses!"
"Then early Wednesday morning we knew the stork was on his way. Mother called the doctor."

John got the cab, while Mother packed. Within minutes we were off!

It was a busy week for Mr. and Mrs. John Bowman of Independence, Missouri—the week that young Linda Marie joined them.

Busy week, too, for the Bowman telephone. As Mrs. Bowman reports, "We use the telephone a lot from day to day, but we never stopped to think how helpful it really is, until we kept a record of calls. We averaged our bill—and were really surprised at the low cost—about 2¢ a local call!"

Telephone service has grown steadily in the part it plays in our daily lives—and in the value it delivers. Most folks agree it's the best buy in their budget! Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

What else gives so much for so little?

"A half hour later John called home to say that 'Junior' turned out to be a girl!"

"Mother called everyone we knew, as soon as they were up. Karen and Sharon, our other daughters, were trying to get in their two cents worth, too, of course."

"John and Mother kept our telephone record for me. I'm finishing it now. Reading it back makes me realize how much we depend on our telephone—and how little it costs!"

Port Arthur Rites Set For Newsman

BEAUMONT, Tex., Sept. 12 (UP)—Funeral services will be held at 4 p. m. today for Hugh Baker a Port Arthur News Staff writer and United Press Beaumont correspondent who died Sunday night from a heart ailment. The 36-year-old newsman had been in ill health for the past two years and entered the hospital five days before his death. Baker came to Beaumont from Houston where he had worked as a Houston Press reporter. He joined the staff of the Beaumont Journal in 1938. Baker joined the news staff in 1945 shortly after returning from service with the Navy. Funeral services will be conducted at the Carrull-Wallace Funeral Chapel. Where there are trees on or abutting lawns special attention to feeding the grass is necessary, says Scotts Lawn Research. World Capitals Stirred By Rumor Russia Plans World War III Soon

By Harry Ferguson
United Press Foreign News Editor
Most of the world capitals are excited these days over a report that Russia plans to start World War III some time between now and Oct. 1.
The rumor came out in the open the other day when Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York said "well informed people" had told him the shooting would start this month. He advised that personally he did not believe it, but he said there was no doubt that war with the Soviet Union is coming eventually.
The same rumor that Dewey mentioned is racing through Europe. The story goes this way: Russia is working feverishly to harvest her crops. She recently collected all the combines and other farm machinery available, and sent it into the Ukraine—the bread basket of the U. S. S. R.—to speed up the harvesting. Now the machinery has been shifted to the northern sections of Russia and in a few more days the crops will be stored. Then the hatches will be battened down and Russia will be ready for war.
Dewey isn't the only person who doesn't believe it. There is hardly anybody in official life in the United States who thinks Russia will be ready to take the big gamble of World War III this month, or for that matter, this year. Those officials are divided on whether World War III is inevitable. The official American line, as expounded by President Truman and Secretary of State Dean Acheson, is that such a war can be avoided. But we are going to have to fight Russia some time, and some of them lean to the theory that it might as well do it now and get it over with.

There is a reasonable chance that the rumor started in Moscow. It is a variation of the technique of the war of nerves which Adolf Hitler perfected and which he used to the great advantage of Nazi Germany. His method was to make inflammatory speeches and threatening gestures at one or more nations. After he did that two or three times and nothing happened, people whom he had frightened, began to relax. Then he hit them hard and without warning, such as the morning he invaded Poland.
Russia might figure she would have much to gain by setting the nerves of the world on edge with a rumor that she was about to attack. She might figure that instead of reinforcing our troops in Korea, we would divert them to Europe. Or that members of the United Nations which have pledged troops to the Korean fighting would delay in fulfilling their commitments. Or that the foreign ministers of Britain, France and America—meeting in New York today—might be panicked into some sort of action they would regret.

Those who think World War III is several years away—1954 is the most popular guess—say there are two reasons why Russia doesn't want a big-league war now:
1. She either hasn't perfected a workable atomic bomb or she hasn't stockpiled enough of them to challenge the U.S.
2. There is no point in sending Russian troops into action so long as she can get other people to harass the democracies. People such as the North Koreans today and maybe the Chinese Communists on some unspecified tomorrow.

ABSOLUTE PROOF HADACOL HELPS FOLKS SUFFERING STOMACH DISTURBANCES

when due to lack of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin in the system!

Mrs. John W. Geary, attractive and charming woman of 840 Ursuline St., New Orleans, Louisiana: "I'd been sick quite some time and the doctors told me it was a nervous stomach. I couldn't eat regularly and lots of times I was unable to hold the food on my stomach. Then I heard about HADACOL. After the first few bottles I could tell a definite improvement. Now my stomach doesn't trouble me at all. I eat anything I want, and my nerves are fine." (Give HADACOL a chance to help you.)

Mr. John Cox is a retired gentleman who lives at 1224 Gonder Street, Springfield, Ohio: "I had nervous indigestion and suffered terribly from stomach bloating and gas. After taking HADACOL, I have no more stomach distress and sleep well." (Note: HADACOL gives such wonderful results because it actually relieves the seat of indigestion, gas pains, after-eating belching, heartburn, constipation due to such deficiencies. And continued use helps keep such stomach distress from coming back.)

Mrs. Hilton Skuff, a loving mother of Rt. 1, Box 42, Ville Platte, Louisiana: "My son Mark Wendell has been sick for some time. A lot of the time he couldn't hold anything on his stomach. He was very weak and pale. Then I started giving him HADACOL and he improved in just a short time. He's gained weight and has more energy than a dozen wild Indians." (HADACOL is great for puny, nervous kiddies with easily upset stomachs due to lack of important Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin.)

Mrs. Anna Kierstead, 2125 E. Adelaide, St. Louis, Missouri: "I've been taking HADACOL for over a year. Before taking it, I had stomach distress for some time. Nothing seemed to help me. Then I took my husband's advice and took HADACOL. A good friend of his told him of the wonderful results he had from HADACOL. Now that I'm taking HADACOL, I eat anything. I recommend HADACOL to all my friends." (A big improvement is often noticed within a few days.)

WHY CONTINUE TO DOUBT These are just a few of thousands of letters that constantly pour in telling of the wonderful results the great new HADACOL is giving. It's only a very foolish person who would continue to doubt HADACOL's effectiveness and continue to suffer in view of such overwhelming evidence.

Hundreds of Doctors Recommend It
A quick-acting antacid which gives symptomatic relief—instead, HADACOL actually relieves the REAL CAUSE of such stomach misery due to such deficiencies. And continued use helps prevent such painful distress from coming back.

Hundreds upon hundreds of doctors recommend HADACOL. It not only supplies weak, deficient systems with extra quantities of important Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin but also beneficial amounts of precious Calcium, Phosphorus and Magnesium—elements so vital to help maintain glorious health and guard against such deficiency ailments. And so inexpensive. Costs only a small amount a day. Trial-size bottle, $1.25. Large family or hospital size, $3.50.

Grid Machines Step In High Gear In Southwest Conference

By United Press
Southwest Conference coaches shifted their football machines into high gear today in preparation for the wearing grid war which gets under way Sept. 23.

Texas A&M coach Harry Stiteler locked the gates at Aggieland and said all practice sessions henceforth will be secret until the opening with Nevada less than two weeks from now.

In practice yesterday, the Cadets filled the air with passes, and Stiteler said Andy Hillhouse, Clinton Gwin and Charlie Hodge were hauling them down in fine fashion.

Trainer Bill Dayton said Jimmie Flowers, Dick Frey and Charley McDonald were responding well to treatment, and should leave the injured list sometime this week.

At Houston, Coach Jess Neely of Rice Institute said the Owls were "looking good" in secret practice. He said the defending champions concentrated on blocking and timing in yesterday's practice.

Neely ventured a prediction that Rice "would have a pretty good football team this year," although it lacks good reserves in key spots.

The highly-touted University of Texas Longhorns ran through a short dummy scrimmage, with Ben Tompkins quarterbacking the first squad. Coach Blair Cherry, who said the Steers' blocking and tackling was getting better every day, promised the team a harder scrimmage today.

Meanwhile, Texas lost two players. Letterman guard Howard Hurt was called to active duty in the Marines and tackle Ken Jackson was out because of a knee injury.

The Texas Christian Horned Frogs were scheduled to undergo a stiff practice session, following a day in which the squad in general posed for pictures and talked to newsmen for their annual tour. It was the Southern Methodist University Mustangs' turn to "look at the birdie" today, as the reporters and photographers reached the Dallas campus. Yesterday, the Ponies practiced defense against variations of T-formation such as might be thrown by razzle-dazzle Georgia Tech, whom SMU meets Sept. 23 in the Cotton Bowl.

Coach Otis Douglas had his Arkansas Razorbacks practicing the field goal in practice yesterday, and the Baylor Bears worked on defense in preparation for their meeting next week with Wyoming.

Helicopters Used To Carry Wounded

U. S. AIR FORCE BASE, Korea, Sept. 12 (UP)—The U. S. Air Force has added a Buck Rogers touch to the evacuation of wounded G. I.'s from the frontlines to rear area hospitals by using helicopters for the job.

Where ambulances require four or five hours to evacuate a wounded soldier, the helicopters do the job in 20 or 30 minutes.

"We sure are big favorites with frontline soldiers," 1st Lt. Ray Costello, 29, operations officer for the Air Rescue Service, says.

Costello, a native of Redlands, Calif., said ambulances crawling over narrow Korean roads can not always get up to isolated forward positions.

But the helicopters, with pods hitched to both sides of the fuselage, can maneuver into small frontline areas.

Costello's organization, which began operations on July 23, has moved 255 patients in eight weeks, often under enemy fire.

Its members are on call 24 hours a day.

"Several times we went behind enemy lines to pick up pilots who had bailed out or crash-landed," Costello said. "Other times, when the Reds were pushing hard, we rushed blood and medical personnel to the front line and stations. You never know what the next call might bring."

LOW MAN IN THE CHOW LINE—Built almost too low to the ground for convenience, "Little Joe," a 5-year-old South Korean orphan, waits patiently for his chow on a mess line near the Masan front in South Korea. Koreans Join US Divisions

TOKYO, Sept. 12 (UP)—South Korean volunteers are being taken into American divisions in large numbers and are fighting shoulder to shoulder with the Americans, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters said today.

Headquarters said the move was "unprecedented in the history of the United States armed forces." The volunteers recruited from the civilian population of Korea, are being paid by their own government.

ENJOY THE MAGIC OF BETTER LIGHT FOR BETTER GRADES

Now that students are starting another school term, it is vitally important that they have enough of the right kind of light for easy seeing.

All lamps used by students for home study should have at least a 100-watt bulb—150 watts in many cases—to provide good light to make their home-work easier and to prevent undue eyestrain. Lamp shades, too, are important—they should be wide enough to spread the light evenly and keep glaring, unshaded light from striking the eyes.

It looks like the threatening rain may not move on for a bit. Monday it was a regular "gully washer and trash mover" for a while, but that old sun turned the town into a steam bath by mid-afternoon.

There's something about a little town in West Texas on a Monday. All the peace of a Sunday seems to carry over—Folks just naturally hate to get back to the old routine after the week-end of leisure. Guess we never get over that "have-to-go-to-school" feeling we had as kids.

Melba Ritchey at the West Texas Clinic has a new "play-pretty" a new-fangled bookkeeping machine that looks like it takes a doctor's degree to operate. Among other things, it combines a calculator and a typewriter. Melba may be learning fast how to operate her new gimmick, but she still doesn't know what it's called. It's just a "play-pretty" to Melba.

It's bad news for fisherman this week with all the local fishing spots rising with the rains. Possum Kingdom is reported the highest
