Several folk dances will be called at Friday's area-wide get-together—Put Your Little Foot; Calico Polka, Boston Two Step,

Former Ranger Minister Calls On Local Rotary

Dr. W. H. Clark of Lidshor, Kans., former pastor of the First Baptist Church here, spoke to Rotarians this week on the practical application of Christianity, and the part played by Rotary throughout the world. Dr. Clark, who is conducting a Baptist revival here, was introduced by the president, E. P. Brasher, Sr.

Dr. Clark spoke of the ease with which we talk of the practical application of Christianity. Actually, he said, when we endeavor as individuals to put these concepts to work in our own everyday life, it is not so easy. He spoke of the part played by habit and learning, and the fruits of right living.

Stressing the rolls of fellowship and friendship, he told how Rotary tries to apply Christian principles to professions and trades all over the world, as well as maintaining fellowship and understanding.

Among the visitors present at the meeting were R. E. Higdon, manager of Montgomery Ward, Cluff Smith Junior, college student, and Dr. Clark.

Three Mothers — One Child

Lady Who Says She Persuaded Her Best Friend To Bear Her Husband's Child May Call On Other Woman

HOUSTON, Sept. 14 (UP)—Mrs. Edward Hartman, who says she persuaded her "best friend" to bear her husband's child, feared today it would be necessary to bring the other woman into court to back up the childless Mrs. Hartman's story.

Scientific tests were being conducted to determine whether the baby, 13-month-old Eugenia Leon, belonged to the Hartmans or to Mrs. Farrie Lee Bell, a waitress who claims the child was born to her last October.

Mrs. Bell said yesterday she was "getting acquainted with my baby all over again."

The Hartmans had agreed to give the woman custody of the child for a week while the tests were being made.

Lawrence Arim, attorney for Mrs. Hartman, said the "good, unmarried girl" who was the "actual mother" probably would have to be called into court. Mrs. Hartman has said the girl was willing to appear in court "if we need her."

Mrs. Bell, who hailed the Hartmans into court in an effort to gain custody of the baby, said she gave birth to the baby last Oct. 12 and released it to the Hartmans temporarily because of financial difficulties. She calls the child Caroline Sue.

The Hartmans claim they got the baby last August. Mrs. Hartman said the "mystery woman" became the mother of her husband's child at her suggestion because she (Mrs. Hartman) was unable to have children following an operation.

Mrs. H. J. Childers was reported ready to testify she kept the baby for Mrs. Bell for nearly a year before turning it over to Mrs. Hartman.

Mrs. Bell said the child knows "I'm the mother."

"She comes to me naturally," the woman said.

'He Doesn't Have To...' DALLAS OILMAN CHARGED IN CONNECTION WITH LOTTERY FREED ON $2,500 BOND

WACO, Sept. 14 (UP)—Wilbur Arthur Brian, Dallas oilman arrested and charged in connection with a $2,000,000 international lottery ring, was freed on $2,500 appearance bond today.

Brian, one of 10 persons arrested in a nationwide FBI roundup, was taken into custody yesterday as he entered the Fall Hotel at Marlin. Brought to Waco, he waived preliminary hearing last night before U. S. Commissioner J. W. Cooke and was released on bond. He must appear before the U. S. Federal District Court at Miami, Fla.

Arrest of the Central Texas oil operator came after a tip from the Canadian Royal Mounted Police led to seizure of $450,000 in undistributed lottery tickets at the Franklin Press in Miami. Tickets worth some $1,500,000 were taken from the 10 persons arrested, the FBI reported.

The federal agency said the lottery was a sweepstake for the Dec.

26, 1950, running of the Christmas two-year old stakes race at Knottford Park racecourse, Kingston, Jamaica, British West Indies.

Those arrested were charged with conspiracy to transport lottery tickets across state boundaries, a federal crime carrying a maximum penalty of $10,000 fine and five years' imprisonment.

Henry O. Hawkins, agent in charge of the Dallas FBI office, said Brian's arrest was preceded by seizure of 240,000 lottery tickets with a face value of $300,000 at the oilman's Dallas home.

"They apparently arrived in Dallas by air express on Sept. 1 when Brian was out of the city," said Hawkins.

A similar opinion was expressed by Brian's wife, who said the search and seizure "came as a shock." She said she had no idea how the tickets came to be at the home.

"They came by mail while my husband and I were at Marlin and apparently the maid signed for them," Mrs. Brian said.

"My husband had nothing to do with any lottery. He doesn't have to make money that way."

Brian brought in a new oil well near Marlin on Tuesday.

Agent Hawkins said the lottery tickets weighed 510 pounds, and were arranged in 20,000 books of 12 tickets each.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14 (UP)—North Atlantic Pact nations have a vast network of strategic air bases built up for emergency operations against Russia, Pentagon sources said today.

The network stretches along the Arctic Circle from the Aleutians to Norway on the north and from Gibraltar to the Persian Gulf on the south.

If war should come, big B-36 intercontinental bombers could take off from these fields almost immediately to deliver atomic bombs on Russian targets. Interceptors also could use the bases to head off Soviet aircraft enroute to bomb the United States or other pact nations.

Some of the more vital spots along these perimeters also are guarded by radar warning units and similar protection is contemplated in other areas.

Gordon Rites Scheduled For 2 P. M. Friday

Services for A. N. Gordon, route 2, Ranger, will be held at 2 p. m. Friday at Hannible Methodist church, located between Thurber and Stephenville.

Gordon died at a local hospital Wednesday night. He was born in Erath county, May 12, 1870. He had lived in and around Ranger for the past 10 years. He was a member of the Methodist church, and the Masonic lodge of Trent.

Rev. Carlton Thomson of Decatur will officiate.

The Killingsworth Funeral Home will have charge of arrangements.

Gordon is survived by the following:

Three sons—A. H. and L. P. of Ranger and C. R. of Hockley; two daughters—Mrs. J. K. Dori and Mrs. E. L. Danley of Ranger; a brother, C. N. Wyatt of Stephenville; and three sisters—Mrs. Annie Fuller of Mingus; Mrs. Kattie Fuller of Mountain Aire, N. Mex.; Mrs. W. D. Cowen of Ranger, and 16 grand children, 14 great-grand children.

NUDE PHOTOS SLATED FOR DESTRUCTION

Science Backs Down Before Co-Eds Yells

SEATTLE, Wash. Sept. 14 (UP)—President Raymond B. Allen of the University of Washington said today that nude photographs of co-eds taken in the interest of science, will be destroyed.

Indignant co-eds protested to the university about being photographed in the nude because they were not told why it was being done.

WHILE THIS PROJECT IS AN important one from the standpoint of scientific study," Dr. Allen said, "the purpose of the photographs was not fully explained to the students due to the large number of women concerned and the shortage of time available.

He said taking of pictures had been discontinued and all films already exposed would be destroyed.

The nude photographs were being taken for research study by the constitution laboratory, a Columbia University medical school research project. Barbara Housman, executive director of the project, said the idea was "to determine if a relationship exists between an individual's behavior and his physique and to establish norms for medical diagnosis and treatment." Miss Housman took the pictures herself.

IN ALL ABOUT 300 GIRLS were photographed in the nude here.

A spokesman at Columbia University in New York said photographing of young, unclad women and men has been going on for 15 years at several institutions.

Belgium And Netherlands Offer Troops

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14 (UP)—The United Nations has accepted offers of Belgium and the Netherlands to send ground troops to South Korea, authoritative sources reported today.

The Netherlands offered a company of Marines and a company of Army Infantrymen. Belgium, it was said, agreed to send a somewhat larger force.

Units of both countries will be welcomed by Gen. Douglas MacArthur's battered United Nations forces.

DETAILS ABOUT THE MOVEMENT

and supply of the troops still are being worked out. Neither the Dutch nor Belgian soldiers should be too difficult to supply.

Belgium purchased large amounts of American army equipment at the end of the war, and American-made weapons are standard equipment in its army. The Belgians thus will be able to draw ammunition and spare parts from the U. S. supply line.

The British which already have troops fighting alongside the Americans and South Koreans, would be expected to help supply the Dutch forces. The Netherlands equips its troops with British-made weapons.

BELGIUM WAS THE 15th

member of the United Nations to offer usable ground, sea, air or medical units to MacArthur. The Dutch already have a destroyer operating with UN forces off Korea.

Australian and New Zealand infantrymen are expected to be in action on the battle lines before long.

Other nations whose offer of aid has been accepted are Canada, France, Greece, Norway, the Philippines, Thailand, Turkey, South Africa, India and Sweden.

India and Sweden offered only medical detachments. But the United States feels that it is encouraging to get these two countries—which are playing a middle-of-the-road role in the cold war—to take sides even that much.

To Vote Against Marshall

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14 (UP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft, R. O., said today he will vote against Gen. George C. Marshall's appointment as Defense Secretary on grounds it will strengthen Secretary of State Dean Acheson's hand in dealing with the Chinese Communists.

Fighting Spotty

KoRed's Radio Upset By US Navy Attack

By Ralph Teatsworth
United Press Staff Correspondent

TOKYO, Friday, Sept. 15 (UP)—The mightiest Allied air-sea bombardment of the war has blasted Korean port of Inchon, gateway to Seoul, and given the enemy his greatest case yet of invasion jitters.

American and British cruisers and destroyers levelled their five and eight-inch guns against Inchon and its island approaches, while Navy Corsairs climaxed a two-day attack by strafing, rocketing and gasoline-jelly bombing enemy airports and other installations in record numbers.

Hundreds of fires were started both at Inchon and at Seoul 18 miles away.

The jittery Pyongyang radio, acknowledging the record strike, said:

"On Sept. 13, the Peoples army, navy and coast defense units shelled United States warships which penetrated near the Inchon area and sank three small-type destroyers, four landing boats and inflicted heavy damage on three landing boats." (The Pentagon admitted slight damage to destroyers.)

It was the enemy's first mention of Allied landing craft in the Inchon area, and indicated that the Communists believed United Nations forces were softening up the Korean west coast for an amphibious assault deep into the heart of Red-held South Korea.

Military quarters here quickly denied enemy claims of losses against the combined task force but refused comment on the landing boats.

They pointed out that any plans for a United Nations offensive would involve the strictest security.

It was a day of comparative lull on the battle front—the 120-mile perimeter protecting the Allied base of Pusan at Korea's southwestern tip.

The Taegu front at the northwest corner of the line remained the hottest spot. There, United Press Correspondent Peter Kalischer said that U. S. First Division Cavalrymen had recaptured two hills to the west and most of another eight miles north of Taegu, a vital communications center.

Kalischer described the fighting as "small scale but savage."

Along the Naktong river front to the south, second division infantrymen captured a small hill, but action in that sector was light except for sniping and a number of air strikes.

Still farther south, on the Masan front, United Press Correspondent Gene Symonds reported a twin-pronged "local" enemy attack, which drove one unit of the American 25th division out of its position in the central sector. Approximately 500 Reds were involved in the attack and at nightfall Thursday the Americans still had not been able to regain their position.

The Americans held firm against the southern prong of the attack, but a spokesman said "one hell of a fight" still is going on.

But the air-sea strike against Inchon held the center of attention.

It was in that area, just off Inchon, that South Korean Marines landed from British naval ships about a month ago. They landed on Tokchook island and expanded their operations to Sojak, Yonghung and Palmi islands in the same area.

On Sept. 8th, R.O.K. Marines occupied Taeyonggyong Do Island in Soeju bay, northwest of Inchon, against light resistance.

RJC FOOTBALL TEAM GOES TO ABILENE TO MEET H-S FISH FOR SEASON OPENER

Coach Boone Yarbrough Predicts Scrappy Football For His Team

The Ranger Junior college football squad opens the season at 8 p.m. today against Hardin-Simmons Fish, there. Betting should be running about even.

The Rangers have ten lettermen from last year's squad to furnish experience.

Coach Boone Yarbrough predicts that the whole squad will have plenty of scrap. He wouldn't climb on a limb with any other predictions.

Last year, the Rangers won a majority of their games, taking six, losing three and tying one to stack up second in district play.

Generals Report

Air Force Bombers Now Finding Few Important Targets In Korea

By Charles Moore
United Press Staff Correspondent
TOKYO, Sept. 14 (UP)—Lt. Gen. George E. Stratemeyer, commander of the U. S. Far East air forces, said today that the sweeping Allied aerial attack had halted all large-scale traffic in Communist-held Korea.

At the same time, Maj. Gen. Emmett O'Donnell, Jr., Far East air force bomber commander, reported that "practically all major military industrial targets" in Communist North Korea had been knocked out by American B-29 Super Forts.

WERE WOMEN BORN TO SUFFER?

"No," say lots of lucky girls
Maybe you, too, can look back on those "dreary days" each month and revel in blessed relief from pain. For if you suffer from functional periodic cramps, discover—as so many other women have—the wonderful help Cardol may bring.

that large-scale traffic in enemy-held Korea is to all intents and purposes at a halt as of today," Stratemeyer said. "More than 170 attacks on bridges, 60 on secondary marshalling yards, 21 on tunnels and more than 50 cuts in rail lines have been made by B-29's, F-26's, F-51's, F-82's, and F-80's since September 4."

O'Donnell said in a report to Stratemeyer that the B-29's now had trouble finding worthwhile targets north of the 38th parallel. "Results on both strategic targets and in the interdiction program have been most gratifying," Stratemeyer replied. (North Korean) heavy industry has been severely crippled by an estimated 75 per cent destruction of assigned targets.

"The movement of supplies and troops from North Korea to the south has been seriously disrupted by the carefully planned severing of rail lines, the bombing of bridges and the saturation of marshalling yards, leaving wide gaps in North Korea's highly important rail and highway network," Stratemeyer said. "Some of the bridges and rail lines have been repaired but the interdiction program took this into account and scheduled return attacks on the principal communications tributaries." The B-29's, which have been winging over North Korea from both Japan and Okinawa for two months, often went out 50 at a time in the early days of the Korean war. Ninety-eight of them were used for a saturation bombing raid of North Korean troops along the Nakdong river. But now they are taking off in small groups and individually, hitting bridges, rail lines and marshalling yards in the interdiction program because of a lack of major industrial targets.

"The chemical complex of Songjin and the Chinsampo chemical plant were removed from our target list during the past 30 days," O'Donnell informed Stratemeyer. "In addition to our strategic attacks on industrial objectives, the North Korean transportation system, its marshalling yards and bridges have been attacked by precision bombing with an ever-increasing degree of accuracy."

Four B-29's have been lost since they started operations on July 13. One was downed by a Communist fighter and one exploded in the air, presumably when flak hit it. Two others were listed as operational losses, meaning enemy action was not responsible.

ON THE NORTHERN FRONT, Korea, Sept. 14 (UP)—Lee Chang Song, 33, watched the other prisoners of war sitting in a circle on the ground eating rice with their hands.

Then, he tapped timidly on the shoulder of the interpreter. "He wants to know if he can have a handful of rice before we shoot him," the interpreter said. "He says he hasn't eaten in two days."

Lee, a private in a North Korean rifle company, was one of 73 prisoners in the makeshift compound. His clothes were filthy and the canvas tops of his tennis shoes were ragged and torn. His feet were blistered and bleeding.

We asked the interpreter how long Lee had been a Communist. "He says he's a farmer, not a Communist," was the reply. "Then why is he in the Peoples army?"

"He says he was drafted." "Ask him what his officers told him would happen to him if he surrendered."

"They told him he would be shot if captured."

"He doesn't know," the interpreter replied. "He says everything is different than he had heard or

Ranger Rambling

Three days out of town—and the city commission breaks the biggest story of the year—a sugar power business.

And no comment from the Rambler. He's just going to report the goings-on on both sides.

Paid a little visit to Uncle Sam at San Angelo the first three days of the week.

And Uncle Sam found me acceptable.

One thing I'll say about collecting in the air cadets—they treat you like a human being.

I suppose everybody at one time or another has written about the indignity of pre-induction and induction examinations. I don't know how it is this time—but last time, a guy had one of two choices: animal on display or start reciting the h— out of being shoved yelled at.

And did you ever see so many prepositions "at" without objects.

At San Angelo, the food was good, the barracks were comfortable and the doctors, technicians of us going through like human beings, able to think and with a feeling for the dignity of ourselves.

The officers acted first class, too. Whether this is typical—or not, I don't know. But there wasn't much griping among the regular army.

Of course some reservists weren't happy. But neither were they moaning the way a lot of draftees felt they had to moan during the last war.

Incidentally, cavalry came out in Tuesday's issue of the Times.

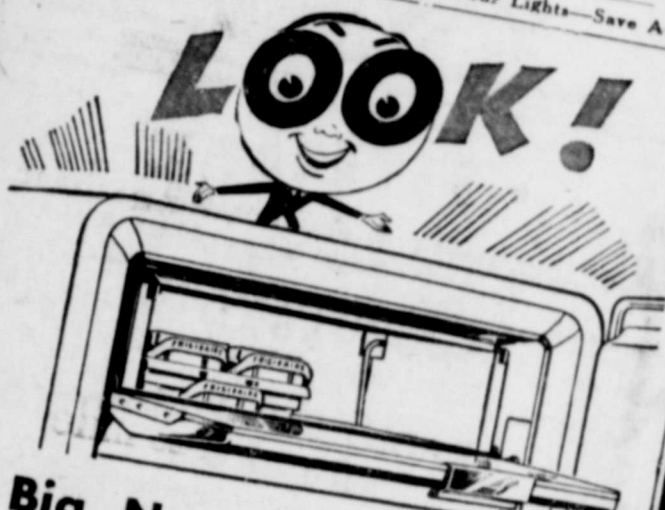

It's a common mistake. It's made because most of us pronounce a horse fighting unit "cavalry" when it should be "cavalry"—in short—start the pronunciation of cavalry the way you start the pronunciation of cavity. Cavalry hill was where Christ was crucified.

A crowding young editor printed a paragraph in his paper one afternoon: "If a certain lawyer, who is married, doesn't quit carrying on an affair with his pretty secretary, we will publish his name." Next morning on the way to his office, the editor was whipped by four different lawyers. He growled, "Next time I'll print the name to begin with; that way I'll only get licked once."

TEXAS NEWS BRIEFS

By United Press

HOUSTON, Sept. 14 (UP)—The State Citrus Commission drew words of praise yesterday from the Governors of both Texas and Florida as a convention of citrus and vegetable growers came to a close.

Gov. Fuller Warren of Florida told delegates Texas was wise in setting up the State Citrus commission in 1949. He said a similar body set up in Florida in 1935 had tripled production and sale of citrus through advertising and quality control.

Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas praised the commission for its "united stand" in facing problems of the Texas citrus and vegetable industry.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 14 (UP)—Sale of Earl Carroll's theater-restaurant, once billed as the home of the most beautiful girls in the world, to a Texas hotelman was approved yesterday by Superior Court Judge Newcombe Condee.

The establishment was purchased by Frank S. Hofues of Dallas, at a price of $1,025,000. He owns Southern Hotels, Inc., which operates the Ambassador hotel in Dallas and others in Pampa, Midland, Sweetwater and Wichita Falls.

Hofues said he would operate radio-TV shows during the day, a theater in the evening and a super-club after the theater.

GARRISON (Nacadoches County), Sept. 14—Carl Duke, of Tyler, about 35, was killed yesterday in a two-car collision on a farm road near here.

John Spivey of Garrison driver of the other car, was hospitalized.

ANGLETON, Sept. 14 (UP)—Mrs. Frieda Tofte, 54-year-old Houston woman, was killed yesterday when she was crushed to death by her automobile in a freak accident while on a fishing trip.

Mrs. Hazel Anfield who had accompanied Mrs. Tofte on the trip said she had gotten out of the car with the bait and was walking about a half block away when she saw Mrs. Tofte trying to hold back her car which was trying to roll down a steep incline.

"She was standing in front of the car pushing against it," Mrs. Anfield said. "I put down the bait bucket and started toward the car, but by the time I got there she had disappeared. I found her body underneath the car in the deep ditch."

HURRICANE MOVING FAST
MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 14 (UP)—A small but severe hurricane packing winds of 140 miles an hour was located today 1,370 miles east of here and rolling slowly in the direction of the mainland.

TEXAS TIM — Just call him "Mr. Texas, Jr.," "Texas Ambassador of Good Will," "Ambassador at Large," "His Honor, the Mayor" or "Special Deputy Sheriff." They are all official titles and commissions conferred on nine-year-old Tim Nolen, of Longview, Tex. Having won a state-wide contest on his personality and photogenic qualities, Tim goes to Los Angeles to compete for the title of "All American Boy."

DRAWING HELD FOR ANTELOPE HUNT

The drawing for permits to hunt antelope in the Trans-Pecos area during the 1950 open season was held in Austin on September 11th, according to the Chief Clerk of the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission.

Antelope hunting licenses will be issued within the next ten days to the 337 applicants drawn from a total of 571 applications. The names of all applicants, some single applications and others by hunting parties, were drawn by a representative of the International News-Service.

W. O. Pearson of Mission and B. H. Jackson of McAllen were the first applicants whose names were drawn to receive licenses. An additional 85 applicants, or 20 per cent of the 422 surplus bucks to be killed, were allotted to landowners whose properties are to be hunted. These permits may be used to secure licenses from the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission by the landowner or whoever he designates.

Applicants not among the first 337 names drawn will be placed on an alternate list in the order in which they were drawn. In the event that permit holders are unable to make the hunt, they are requested to notify the department immediately so that alternatives may be moved up to take their places.

No antelope hunt was held in 1949 because of serious losses during the preceding winter. In 1948, 702 permits were issued and the total bag for that year was 629 male antelope.

Boyce House Gives You Texas

By Boyce House
In Lockhart lives the historian of the city and county—J. Henry Martindale. Caldwell County was named in honor of Matthew "Old Pat" Caldwell, who led the Texans at the Indian battle of Plum Creek. When the county was created from parts of Bastrop and Gonzales Counties, the enactment directed that the county seat be located on the Byrd-Lockhart league and be called Lockhart. Lockhart was one of the couriers sent out by Col Travis before the fall of the Alamo.

Mr. Martindale considers the two high points in the history of the county, the development at the turn of the century, by Alexander D. Mebane, of the cotton plant to a standard of perfection and the discovery of oil in 1922 by Edgar B. Davis near Luling.

The oldest protestant church building in Texas still in its original condition, built about 100 years ago is in Lockhart—the Episcopal Church, and it is an inspiring edifice to visit.

Historian Martindale quotes an advertisement from an early daily newspaper, "Capillary abridgment and tonsorial enactment, performed at the City Shaving, Bathing, and Hair-Cutting Salon." I think it means you could get a haircut and shave.

Besides writing history, Mr. Martindale is the county treasurer, and at last accounts notary public, publicity director of the rationing board of the county, secretary-treasurer of the Lockhart Business men's Club, Sunday School secretary at the First Baptist Church, Secretary-treasurer for the San Marcus Baptist Sunday School Association, represents Dun and Bradstreet, the Retail Merchants Association and is correspondent for the San Antonio and Austin newspapers as well as for the United Press and International News Service—and writes a column each week in the Lockhart Post-Register.

Now there's a man who really keeps busy.

Nurse Tells How Hadacol Was So Helpful To Her

She Suffered Deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Iron and Niacin

Mrs. Jennie Lee Adele, 412 N. 27 St. East St. Louis, Ill., says being a nurse really lets her know when folks are sick. That is why when she tried all sorts of remedies and didn't get relief, she knew she was in bad shape. That was, of course, before she heard about HADACOL and before she found out she had a deficiency of Vitamins B-1, B-2, Iron, and Niacin.

Here is Mrs. Adele's own statement: "I have been a nurse for over 14 years. I had to stop working and went to the hospital. I was suffering all kinds of dizzy spells, weaknesses and growing weaker. I had pains in my chest, and I could hardly eat. My food never seemed to agree with me. I was terribly run down and growing worse. I had tried all kinds of remedies. Don't think I wasn't plenty scared—'cause I know, being a nurse, when folks are really in bad shape. . . I heard one day how so many folks were being helped because of HADACOL. I tried it and after 3 bottles I could tell a big improvement. Now I eat anything I want—sleep well and I don't have dizzy spells any more—I am full of energy. The only thing about HADACOL is that I didn't find out about it sooner. Now I am going back to work at last, thanks to wonderful HADACOL."

Why HADACOL Gives Such Fine Results
HADACOL does not bring just symptomatic relief. HADACOL now makes it possible to actually relieve the cause of neuritis

HUNTERS PLEASE! THERE I WAS, SITTING ON A TELEPHONE WIRE, MINDING MY OWN BUSINESS, WHEN ALL AT ONCE A BLAST FROM A SHOTGUN KNOCKED ME RIGHT OFF MY PERCH

WELL, SIR, I CAME OUT PRETTY GOOD—ONLY A FEW TAIL FEATHERS MISSING—BUT THE HUNTER THAT MISSED ME CLIPPED A COUPLE OF TELEPHONE WIRES. ONE WAS MY FAVORITE ROOSTING PLACE, TOO.

THAT "ROOST" WAS ALSO CARRYING AN IMPORTANT LONG DISTANCE CALL. THAT'S WHY WE ASK HUNTERS: PLEASE DON'T SHOOT AT BIRDS ON TELEPHONE WIRES OR POLES. THANK YOU.

Court To Hear Charges Against Conroe Trio

CONROE, Sept. 14 (UP)—A defeated political candidate, his wife and his brother will go on trial Oct. 30 in connection with Montgomery County's absentee ballot tampering case.

The three are La Verne Smith, his wife Marie, and Clyde Smith. They were indicted jointly on 11 charges of altering ballots and 31 charges of destroying and suppressing ballots. The Smith brothers also face a charge of burglary.

The case grew out of the alleged removal from the county clerk office of 86 absentee ballots in the August race for county commissioner of precinct three in which La Verne Smith lost to incumbent Guinn Sanders. The ballots were altered and some were destroyed.

The two Smith brothers posted bonds of $18,900 each and Mrs. Smith an $18,600 bond.

A Thin Green Line Of Tired—

est degree.

It was a big mistake to underestimate the North Koreans, and as usual even after all the lessons of the past, we found ourselves starting out with totally inadequate forces. We were fantastically outnumbered against an enemy who has as many strategists and moved as craftily as the Indians in their wars of many years with the United States Army during the winning of the west.

Only this time, we were up against tanks and automatic weapons as well.

Many enemy units were built around hard cores of veteran Koreans who had fought in Chinese armies. They were masters of the technique of envelopment, which, with out small forces, they found easy on account of unprotected flanks and no reserves close behind.

Fortitude, grim determination and endurance of the very highest order was required of our men who were required to remain in the lines, fighting day and night weeks longer than is usually necessary.

The "thin Red line" of Balaclave has been justly celebrated almost 100 years for the stand it made, which probably lasted 41 minutes.

This thin green line of tired guys in fatigues has stood and fought, then retreated to escape encirclement and stood and fought again for over two months.

To paraphrase Churchill, probably nothing so important has ever been accomplished with so little on a modern battlefield.

The sharpest fighting now is around the Taegu area of the United Nations perimeter or "beachhead."

On the Taegu front, areas around division headquarters and other command posts are blacked out during the night. Wherever you go you are challenged to give the password at night.

I witnessed powerful air support given at attack by the Eighth and Seventh (Custer's old outfit) Cavalry Regiments on a ridge among frowning hills. The cavalrymen inched their way up the steep slope, diggin in, squirming, running, dodging ahead from shelter to shelter.

In a sandbagged command post, both regiments heard telephonic reports and conversations regarding air support to blast the enemy off the hill.

Planes first appeared high above their targets, then went into steep dives. You could see the flick of light when rockets were discharged, then hear the heavy explosions reverberating and rumbling among the mountains, followed by the stimulating sound of rapidly whacking machineguns and the occasional thump of bombs, then black smoke plumes showing where napalm or jellied gasoline was blazing in enemy positions.

ILLUSTRATING THE INTENSIFICATION of effort which has been required, it might be noted that in Europe the fighters of the Ninth Air Force flew 35 per cent of their total sorties in close support of ground troops. In Korea, from 50 to 90 per cent of the fighter sorties have been in close support of the ground forces.

All along the front line now a wide belt of territory has been depopulated to guard against infiltration and enemy sharpshooters posing as peasants or refugees.

The result is that as you approach the front among the scowling mountains you pass through many deserted villages where there seemingly isn't even a stray dog left behind. When you take a jeep ride toward the front you always have a shotgun guard. The G.I.'s do it too. They call it "riding shotgun."

THE GOOK TURNED OUT TO be a great grandmama who had been left behind to starve when her family was moved.

She moaned and rocked, holding her hands as in prayer. She pointed to a crippled foot as the reason they left her.

Even so the soldiers approached her with the utmost caution, carefully and gingerly examined a little bag of oddments she had wrapped in dirty rags lest it contain a grenade.

In this war, it wouldn't be at all surprising to find a great-grandmother abandoned and booby trapped.

In addition to furnishing artillery for ground forces the Air Force of course bombs and strafes military objectives in rear areas wherever weather permits and sometimes these lads, their planes loaded with rockets, bombs and napalm, go out over the enemy's country in weather you wouldn't care to tackle in a nice fat DC-6 or Constellation transport riding on the beam with a beautiful stewardess to tuck you in with pillows.
