Little Marvin Brown and huge Jack Jones will lead the Tarleton Plowboys against Ranger Junior College in Ranger Thursday night. Against Blinn J. C. Saturday night Marvin made three touchdowns and Jack one as the Plowboys won, 40-0. Brown, who is from Alice, has scored 7 of the 14 Plowboy touchdowns in two games. He made the first tally in the Blinn game with a 65 yard punt return.

RANGERS WORKING HARD TO PREPARE FOR TARLETON TILT

Ranger Junior College will meet one of the toughest of Junior college teams, 8 p. m. Thursday, here. Tarleton State packs a lot of brown and lots of backfield speed. The Plowboys have a superb running game. And their passing is effective enough to keep opposition loosened up.

In answer to this the Rangers will be using some new offensive plays, worked out this week. Coach Boone Yarbrough has worked the experienced Rangers hard — hard enough to send left end Wayne Standridge to the hospital.

Standridge was knocked out Monday afternoon after tackling three men. He stayed in the hospital Monday night and was still there this morning.

John New twisted his knee. And Tidmore is still out with a separated shoulder.

Ranger so far has met bad luck — losing their opener 6 to 0 to the Hardin-Simmons Fish and rain; losing their first home game, 13 to 7, to a heavy Arlington State eleven.

It was a good game and the Rangers made a game showing last Saturday. Yarbrough figures they'll make a better showing for aficionados of the football field Thursday night.

Whether the Rangers can hold Tarleton as well — well that depends.

Nobody's spreading rays of sunshine. The Plowboys score over Blinn Junior college of 40 to 0 and over Cisco a week before of 54 to 6 doesn't encourage optimism.

Football Is Fun But Not Profitable

RJC Clears Only $383 In Two Tilts

They ain't gettin' rich out at the Ranger Junior college.

Out of football anyway. Dr. G. C. Boswell, president, released a few figures to prove his point that the college is not making money playing football.

The college cleared only $383.45 in the last two games. They got $300 for playing at Abilene. But $11.75 of that went for expenses.

AT THE HOME GAME, THE college had to pay Arlington State $300. Taxes were $111.25 and the cost of the game — officials, linemen, etc. — came to $123.

The school made $667.40 in gate receipts and $61.85 from concession rights sold to the Parent-Teachers association.

The profit, $383.45 in the last two games must pay for uniforms, coaching and other incidental expenses.

THE LOCAL COLLEGE MUST put $500 on the line to get Tarleton State here. Expenses will run the same and if the college is to pay them, the crowd has got to be bigger.

Dr. Boswell summarizes the situation like this: "There's not any money in playing football. But it gives a lot of pleasure and does a lot of good."

80 English Miners Die In Explosion

WORKSOP, England, Sept. 26 (UP)—Eighty miners were killed today when an explosion turned the Creswell coal mine into a flaming inferno 1,335 feet underground. The National Coal Board said three bodies were removed and hope was abandoned for 77 others trapped below.

Texas Will Furnish More Army Officers

AUSTIN, Sept. 26 (UP)—Texas military district headquarters announced today that Texas will be called upon to furnish an additional 179 reserve captains, 469 lieutenants and 14 chaplains under a new quota set up by the department of the Army.

TMD headquarters pointed out that the new call for organized reserve officers by the department of the Army more than doubled a previous call made for Aug. 10.

In the five-state area served by the Fourth Army, the TMD said, orders for recall to involuntary duty of company grade officers for 21 months will affect 309 captains and 834 lieutenants, totaling 1,143 officers.

District headquarters here pointed out that the total represented a markup of 120 per cent of quota, to make allowances for failures to pass physical examinations and for officers whose orders to active duty are not authorized.

The latest actual quota, before the markup, is 257 captains and 693 lieutenants, totaling 950 company grade officers for the Fourth Army area.

The five military districts, the TMD said, will be required to nominate officers to fill the quota on the basis of one-third by Oct. 1, two-thirds by Oct. 7 and the remainder by Oct. 14.

Orders for active duty will call for reporting to stations on a basis of one-third by Nov. 8, two-thirds by Nov. 15 and all by Nov. 22.

Conferences Set For Brotherhood

The Baptist church will hold a "Brotherhood Methods" conference at 7 p. m. October 5 at Cisco at the First Baptist church, Cisco.

A second conference will be held October 6 at the University Baptist church, Abilene.

L. H. Tapscott, Dallas, staff brotherhood secretary, will be in charge.

Brotherhood officers and members, pastors and laymen are invited, W. A. Stephenson, president said.

rades and crawling on their hands and knees, escaped shortly after the blast at 4 a. m. (9 p. m. Monday CST).

Thousands of volunteer workers stood helpless at the pithead while the miners perished in the blazing trap.

Flames which roared through the shaft were so thick rescue workers could pull only three bodies from the pit. And a coal board official announced:

"Attempts to recover the bodies would be futile and the affected section of the colliery is being sealed off."

The disaster, one of the worst in British mining history, sent Creswell, 18 miles from Sheffield, into deep mourning.

"They never had a chance," one woman sobbed. "It's just hell down there," a rescue worker said. "The fumes have not only filled the return airway but have filled the whole pit as well."

It was the second mine disaster in Britain's small coal towns this month.

A previous disaster at New Cumnock, Scotland, took the lives of 13 miners. But 116 were saved.

TITO'S COMMUNIST GOVERNMENT GRANTS IMPORTANT CONCESSIONS TO PROTESTANT, CATHOLIC CHURCHES

By Edward Kerry United Press Staff Correspondent BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Sept. 26 (UP)—Premier Marshal Tito's Communist government has granted important concessions to the Roman Catholic, Serb Orthodox and Protestant churches in Yugoslavia as part of a new religious "peace" policy, church sources said today.

Churchmen of all denominations reported a relaxation of government interference in ecclesiastical affairs. They said a much more "reasonable" attitude by the state had led to these recent significant developments:

1. Four Lutheran churches have been handed back by the government and allowed to reopen.

2. The Yugoslav army has returned to the Serb Orthodox church the oldest theological seminary in Serbia and the patriarchal palace. Both are located in Srémski Karlovci, seat of the Orthodox patriarch, and had served as barracks.

3. The first consecration of a Roman Catholic bishop since the war took place this summer in the northern Adriatic Diocese of Patin and more consecrations are scheduled to fill some of the nine existing vacancies.

4. Lutheran churches in Cjeje, Maribor and Izbjajana in the Republic of Slovenia and in Sarajevo are now open for the first time since the Communists came to power.

The government's action preceded an unpublicized visit here last month by a three-bishop Lutheran delegation from the United States including Paul C. Empe, executive director of the National Lutheran churches of America, and Petrus O. Bernick, president of the Augustana Evangelical Lutheran Church of Minneapolis.

The only Lutheran church previously operating in Yugoslavia was in the croatian capital of Zagreb. Deputy foreign minister Leo Matec assured the three American bishops of government consideration of their request that the church in Vinkovci, Croatia, be reopened.

The one point on which the government remains adamant is in the case of Catholic Archbishop Stepinac, now serving the fourth year of his 16-year prison term.

After the individual prizes have been awarded, the coupons — all of them — will be placed together for the grand prize drawing.

Members were in a festive mood at the meeting but they also got down to business. And that business was to tighten down on delinquent accounts. Plans were discussed to make a listing of all delinquent accounts.

President H. S. Henderson said that Ranger needs a well organized retail merchants' association. All business men should take part in doing their share, he added.

On the business scene, Henderson, reminded the members that credit was tightening up and money was getting more scarce. This condition exists over the country but a well organized credit association can meet the situation, he said.

Members expressed their opinion that there should be at least 75 members in the Ranger association. Members voted to increase their membership drive and to increase dues. Committees were to be appointed for the improvement and enlargement of the association.

SMOKE OF KO-RED SET FIRES CLIMBS 10,000 FEET ABOVE HARD-WON CAPITAL OF KOREA

By Ernest Hoberecht United Press Staff Correspondent TOKYO, Sept. 26 (UP)—U. S. Marines and Seventh Division infantrymen rumbled deeper into flaming Seoul from both east and west today in house-to-house fighting.

Tanks and flame-throwers reinforced the foot soldiers, creeping cautiously through the crooked, honey-combed streets flushing out snipers and hidden machinegun nests both west of Namsan (South) mountain and on its northern slopes.

South of Seoul, at Chonan, a racing spearhead of the U. S. 1st Cavalry pushed to within 24 miles of a juncture with the Seoul fighters. A spokesman at Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters said that one objective of the Korean offensive to all intents and purposes had been accomplished—envelopment of six fleeing North Korean divisions caught between the hard-driving Pusan beachhead forces in the south and the Americans and South Koreans at Seoul.

Incomplete tabulations showed that the Communists had lost more than 25,000 casualties in killed, wounded or captured on all fronts in the 12 days since the landing at Seoul's port of Incheon.

United Press correspondent Robert Vermillion said that in the fighting west of Seoul's Namsan mountain the Marines had gained 1,000 yards in bloody house-to-house fighting up the main street of the capital.

Reinforced by tanks and three flame-throwers, the Marines had moved the battle line to a high bridge over the railway tracks and only a few yards from the Dayoda Hotel where American military government personnel billeted until last June 28, three days after the start of the Communist invasion.

"They left a street of ruin and death behind them," Vermillion said.

On the northern slopes of Namsan, the fighting had moved into the "gold coast" area where a large part of Seoul's prewar foreign colony lived.

In this area, U. S. Seventh Division GI's moved cautiously from corner to corner of narrow winding lanes while their tanks tried to protect them from positions along the wide gold coast road.

Enemy snipers and machine-guns occupied a temple and houses where U. S. military attaché Lt. Col. Robert E. Edwards and Dr. Arthur C. Bunce, director of the ECA mission in Korea formerly lived. The buildings were on high ground, affording ideal vantage points for the enemy gunners.

Allied planes dropped 2,160,000 pamphlets throughout Korea. They said: "The Communists have been dealt a severe defeat . . . further resistance is futile."

Houston Police Find Dead Baby In Garbage Box

HOUSTON, Sept. 26 (UP)—Police continued their investigation today in the case of a newborn boy whose body was found in a cardboard box of garbage in the University of Houston trailer village.

Three men found the body while collecting garbage on the campus. Justice of Peace Thomas M. Mace said an autopsy showed that the child had been born alive, but had probably died within an hour after birth from the lack of attention.

He said the child was premature.

End of a Chapter

By Edwin Rutt

THE STORY: Alice Pine, secretary to Muriel Halleck, who writes popular stories under the name of "Jo Palgrave," suspects Muriel's husband Brent of cruelty to her. Alice realizes Brent is not happy and tells him she loves to see him so. Brent asks "Why?" Alice replies "Because I like you." She had meant her words to sound casual, but her voice betrayed her.

XXIII

Alice's voice had betrayed her. Muriel's hands came up instinctively pressed against his chest. Pressed once, and then dismayingly the strength went out of them. "You like me?" It was a swift hoarse whisper as Brent repeated Alice Pine's words. Her lips raised and parted, were close. Brent's head bent. It was a rough, hard kiss. Its very roughness brought Alice to her senses. She pushed him away, but his fingers clung to one arm. He hit into it, hurt it. "I asked you something," he said, unsteadily. "You haven't answered."

End of a Chapter

By Edwin Rutt

XXVIII MURIEL HALLECK ignored Alice determinedly and went on with her story. "I tried to cope with young Rick, but his terror of the storm put him beyond reason. You saw how he acted the day he threw that tantrum—"

Alice nodded and Muriel went on. "Finally I lost my temper. I remembered that ugly little whip. It had belonged to Brent's father, who used to raise dogs. I got it and..."

Again she paused as Alice squeezed her hand. Anyone but Muriel Halleck might have burst into tears.

"Honestly though, Alice," Muriel continued, "after the very first blow, I just tapped Rick. But that was enough to scare the poor child to death."

"Well, Brent heard the commotion and woke up in the middle of it. He came charging out of the bedroom. And, really, I thought for a moment he was going to kill me."

"He grabbed me and slung me back into our bedroom. That's how I got those awful bruises on my arm. I knew you didn't believe my story about banging into something in the night."

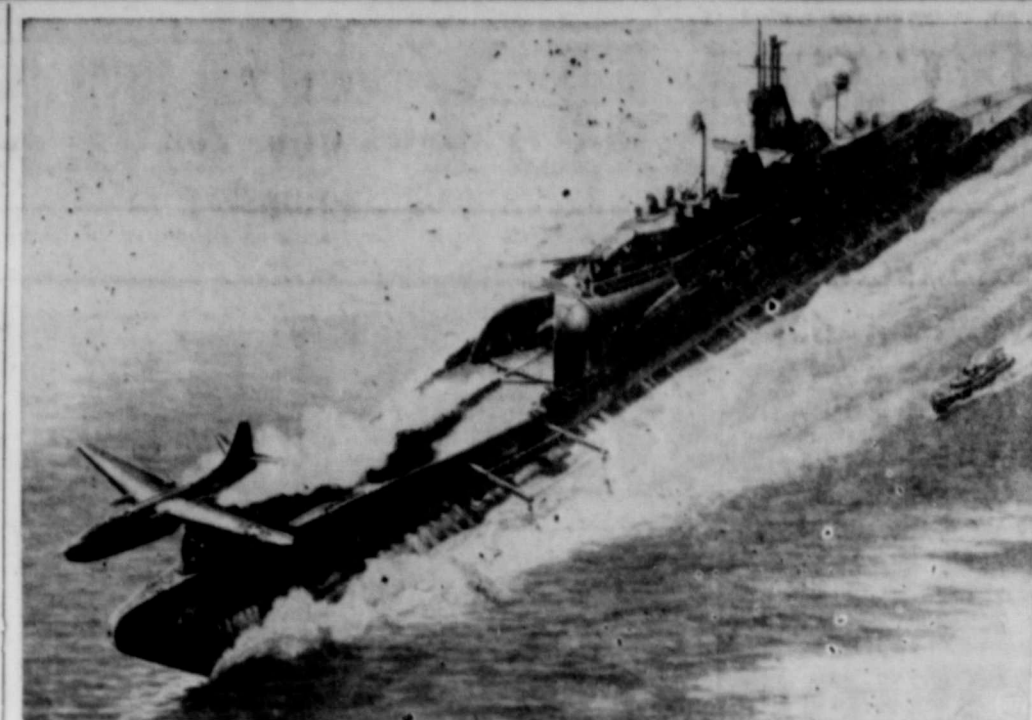

Alice nodded, realizing that she had thought the bruises were further evidence of Brent's cruelty.

"Then I heard you come," Muriel was still speaking. "Afterwards Brent came into the room and hung the whip in my closet. He said—" Muriel winced—"that I'd better keep it among my own things if I was so blasted fond of it. But until now I've let Brent take the rap. With you."

"It's all right now, Muriel," Alice said.

"How is it, but it wasn't before. Don't you see, my dear? I just couldn't go off to California letting you believe a rotten thing like that about Brent?"

Muriel's head came up and she

Leon Soil Conservation District Buys 30 New Combination Drills

Announcement has been made of the recent purchase of 30 new combination grain-legume fertilizer drills by the Upper Leon Soil Conservation District Supervisors for the purpose of assisting farm and ranch cooperators in solving one of their biggest conservation problems—that of planting winter and summer cover crops, to prevent wind and water erosion.

In 1941, when the district was organized, no such drills were owned, or available, within the entire area. Neither were there any combines nor other conservation machinery, such as chisel plows, stalk cutters, sweep plows, and tandem discs, either owned, or carried in stock by local dealers, according to the report.

With the distribution of these 30 drills in special localities, together with those already available in the more advanced conservation areas, it is estimated that a drill is now available to each four or five farmers in the district.

Decision to purchase this machinery and make distribution through neighbor conservation groups was made after consultation with representative farmers of the district.

Drills were purchased with state funds appropriated as a loan to soil conservation districts, by the last session of the legislature under House Bill 97. Each drill placed is under an equipment usage plan agreement, between the Board of Supervisors and local individual farmers or ranchers.

Each is being placed in a location where no combination grain and fertilizer drills are now available to farm and ranch operators of the soil conservation district, and where from 500 to 600 acres are to be drilled each season. They were purchased with the expectation by the board that each will repay state funds from a usara fee of 50 cents per acre to the district, for each acre drilled with the machine.

Baytown Officers Face Indictments

HOUSTON, Sept. 26 (UP)—Baytown humane officer Elmo Anderson entered a plea of innocent in Federal District Court yesterday on an indictment charging him with depriving a Negro of his civil rights.

Baytown police Sgt. Cleve Dickens, who was indicted along with Anderson, underwent a major operation last week and could not appear for his arraignment.

Smoke Of Korea

Twenty-fourth division tankers freed three GI's from a Communist jail when they captured Yangdong on the Taegu-Seoul highway and pushed on toward isolated Taejon.

The tankers broke down the jail door and gave the liberated prisoners C rations, chewing gum and big slugs of whisky.

"When those GI's walked into that jail, I cried," said Pvt. James E. Martin of San Andrea, Calif.

Free-wheeling American columns slicing out of the old Pusan beachhead virtually had cut off the entire southwestern third of South Korea on a line from Taegu, northeastern hinge of the old beachhead line, to Seoul.

Six North Korean divisions were trapped back of this line, with a strength estimated on Sept. 15 at 48,000 men. However, air and ground attacks had cut them up badly since that date and, with their loss of tons of ammunition and equipment, their effectiveness was doubtful.

Social Security Representative Will Call Here

E. Glenn McNatt, Field Representative of the Abilene office of the Social Security Administration, will be at the Retail Merchants Association office in Ranger at 3:30 p. m. on Wednesday. Persons wishing assistance with retirement claims or death claims under the Social Security Act, or needing information about their social security accounts, should call at that time for necessary help and information.

McNatt stated that all persons receiving Old-Age and Survivors Insurance payments sent out in the early part of October will be the first ones to include these increases.

It is not necessary for any action to be taken in order for the increased amount to be received, McNatt requested persons now receiving payments not to contact the Social Security Administration about the increase. It is expected that all checks will be increased with the payment due early in October, 1950.

Abortion Charges Brought Against Houston Woman

HOUSTON, Tex., Sept. 26 (UP)—The first of six indictments pending against Diana Banti on charges of murder by abortion and criminal abortion will be set for trial either the first or second week in November, District Attorney A. C. Winborn said today.

Mrs. Banti is under one charge of murder by abortion and five charges of criminal abortion. The charges were filed last April after an investigation of a so-called "murder mill" operated by a midwife.

The investigation was set off when Mrs. Eleanor Little, 22, died at Mrs. Banti's home after an operation on April 11. The murder charge, however, was filed in the death of Mrs. Ramona Garcia Gellegos, 27, in 1948.

Fraley Says

Sees Confusion Among Experts On Tomorrow's Heavyweight Bout

By Oscar Fraley
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK, Sept. 26 (UP)—Confusion reigns today among the boxing experts as to the outcome of tomorrow's Joe Louis-Ezzard Charles battle for the heavyweight title but Fearless Fraley can report that according to the stars the sun is not ready to set on the Brown Bomber.

Reverberation and perplexity have surrounded this latest fight of the century. Nobody is willing to venture whether old Joe will be able to climb out of his wheel chair unaided or whether Ezzard will dash show up.

To cut through this miff miasma, old Fearless hid himself off to a rendezvous with Madame Pandora, a lady who makes with the cards and the horoscopes. This female who is on friendly terms with the future scored a 24-hour scoop by announcing:

"Joe Louis—winner and champion."
That came after quite a polka with the pasteboards and an involved bit of star gazing, mathematics and the rival signs of Taurus the Bull (Old Joe) vs. Cancer the Crab (Young Ezzard).

Madame Pandora dispensed with the turban and the crystal ball. She got right down to business by whipping out a deck of mystery cards, offering a shuffle to prove it was on the level and then ordering a three-way cut. Came then selection of the King of Spades to represent Marse Joe and the Jack of Spades to represent Ezzard. Then the cards began to fall.

Madame seemed quite interested.

"The king (Louis) has the better cards," she proclaimed. "They show worries—and trouble. But the jack (Charles) has the card of disappointment."
All I saw was that Louis had a full house and Charles had three of a kind, and if it was show down I'd take the hand with the black king. So, just to be certain, I asked for a new shuffle and invited Madame to deal again.

The lady went through the same routine and Charles lost again.

"Here's a card that means a doctor and another which means a sickbed," she said, pointing to the cards surrounding the black jack.

Well, he wouldn't be the first guy Louis' treated that way. This time Louis had all the happy cards again, one standing for good luck and another for happiness. All I saw was that he had three aces while Ezzard had a pair of kings and a Joker.

Unable to beat the cards, and where have I heard that before, Old Fearless asked the lady to hop over to the horoscopes. There, again, it came out for Old Joe with a "lucky number" of eight. Under the heading of incidental intelligence, I have a private word for Louis. According to the stars, Joe, "You can invest money in various enterprises without demanding miracles." I suppose that's hardly news to you. The stars also say that "when others are about ready to count you out, you make a forceful comeback."

Just don't get hit on the jaw, Joe, and you'll win. All of which may help to clear up the confusion over this impending bit of fistcuffs. It was an ordeal, invading a modern voodoo den occupied solely by members of the opposite sex. The ladies looked at me as if I was a cross between Jack the Ripper and a peeping Thomas. But Old Fearless was imperturbable. Cool, confident and undisturbed, I grasped the door handle—and walked smack into a closet.

With the Louis-Charles issue settled, the confusion was all mine!

Casey Stengel Credits Yanks With 'Hustle' In Stretch Drive For Seventeenth Championship Title

By Carl Lundquist
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK, Sept. 26 (UP)—Boss Casey Stengel says it is "hustle with capital letters" that makes the defending world champion Yankees click and watching them define the word it was easy to see today why they're about to win their 17th American League pennant in 25 seasons.

The way Stengel figures it that New York has 10 more games to play—six in the remaining days of the regular season and four in the world series because "we play 'em all to win and don't even think about what the other fellow is doing."

And as the New Yorkers swept their 12th double header of the year yesterday, 8 to 3 and 7 to 4 from the Washington Senators there was that Stengel hustle all the way. They went three and one-half games ahead of idle Detroit and with only six more to go they could clinch the pennant by any combination of four victories and Tiger defeats.

They could even clinch a pennant tie today. If they won another double header from Washington and if Detroit dropped a double header to the St. Louis Browns, the Tigers would be mathematically knocked out of the race and the Red Sox, who are idle, could only tie for the flag if they won their remaining games and the Yankees lost all of theirs.

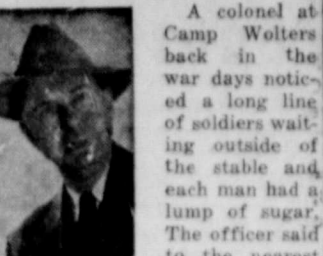

Allie Reynolds won his 15th game yesterday and rookie Whitey Ford won his ninth straight with yesterday's Star — Old Joe Dimaggio of the Yankees, who boosted his average above .300 for the first time this year, getting five hits to hit the .304 mark in 8 to 3 and 7 to 4 wins over Washington.

BOYCE HOUSE SAYS

A colonel at Camp Wolters back in the war days noticed a long line of soldiers waiting outside of the stable and each man had a lump of sugar. The officer said to the nearest private, "I suppose the horse you're giving all this sugar to is the pet of the regiment."

"No, sir," replied the private, "he's the one that kicked the sergeant."

The much-married man was telling about plans for the summer vacation: "My wife wanted to go to the seashore and I wanted to go to the mountains, so we compromised on the seashore."

Founder Of SMU Dies In Dallas

DALLAS, Sept. 26 (UP)—Dr. James Kilgore, who helped found Southern Methodist University almost 40 years ago, died in a Dallas hospital yesterday at the age of 85.

Kilgore was a native of Dewitt County. He was ordained to the ministry in 1890 after receiving three degrees from Southwestern University, where he later became a trustee.

The churchman was a member of the 20-member Methodist commission which chose Dallas as the home of SMU in 1911. Kilgore was a member of the original SMU faculty and served until his retirement from active classroom work 15 years ago.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 3 p.m., with Dr. Umphrey Lee, president of SMU, officiating.

AUSTIN, Sept. 26—Gov. Allan Shivers told Texans, in a weekly broadcast last night, that employment of physically handicapped citizens will enlarge the state's manpower and productive potential.

Shivers, who made his broadcast from Austin after rain prevented a scheduled flight to Lufkin, said he will designate the week of Oct. 1-7 as "national employ the physically handicapped week" in Texas.

He said "It isn't just a matter of feeling sorry for these people and trying to help them get a job—it's a matter of realizing that a physically handicapped worker, when properly placed, can match or improve upon the performance of an unhandicapped worker."

Your Health

AUSTIN, (Special)—Venereal infections, notably syphilis and gonorrhea, will probably increase sharply in cities and towns near military centers in the near future, State Health Officer Geo. W. Cox has predicted.

He urged all cities, especially those in which greater number of military personnel were expected, to intensify their efforts to control venereal diseases.

Experience during World War II, the health officer said, indicates that unless civilians become as concerned about the venereal disease problem as are military and public health authorities, there will "most certainly" be a great increase in venereal disease infections among men in uniform and in the civilian population as well.

"That doesn't mean all soldiers are destined for VD infection," Dr. Cox declared. "It means simply that vice conditions, poorly supervised recreational facilities, and an indifferent attitude on the part of the public are inevitable around military posts and all contribute to higher VD rates."

"These young men were only recently civilians," he pointed out. "They worked or went to school in communities no different than yours or mine."

He urged that they be provided with wholesome recreational facilities while "in your town it will help make their lives in uniform a little less drab and monotonous." The State Department of Health has been working for years in close cooperation with the military in controlling VD and other diseases affecting men in uniform.

"It's a very important part of the civil defense program," he said. "Disease can incapacitate a man as effectively as a bullet."

sponsors as the world's first submarine theatre, was scheduled to open today on the San Marcos river.

The theatre, built by the sponsors of Florida's Marine Studios, will feature surface and underwater events.

DALLAS, Tex., Sept. 26—A 38-year-old Dallas negro, Amos Tyson, has been given prison sentences totaling 210 years.

He pleaded guilty yesterday on four charges of robbery and two of assault to murder. Judge Henry

King assessed four 45-year sentences on the robbery indictments and 15-year terms on the other charges.

The sentences will run concurrently, however, meaning that Tyson's maximum time behind bars will be 45 years.

AUSTIN, Sept. 26 Gov. Allan Shivers yesterday designated the week Oct. 1-8, as Texas Newspaper Week and urged citizens to recognize "the great significance of the newspaper in our daily lives."

Lions Group To Start Drive For Members

AUSTIN, A membership development campaign for the Texas Lions League for Crippled Children will be launched here Thursday, Sept. 28 at 4:30 p.m. with a state-wide broadcast over the Lone Star Chain.

Governor Allan Shivers and International Lions President Herb Pety of Carrozo Springs will be the principal speakers. There will be other Lions club dignitaries on hand for the occasion, including Jack Welch, Brownsville attorney, who is President of the League.

Lions club presidents in Texas have been urged to notify their club members to hear this official launching of a program which is being sponsored by the state's 35,000 Lions. Goal for the campaign is $500,000.

The Texas Lions League for Crippled Children is a state-wide non-profit organization, representing the state's 621 Lions clubs. It was created for the purpose of establishing and maintaining a rehabilitation camp at Legion, near Kerrville, for the state's crippled children. It will be open to crippled children from the ages of 7 to 16. There will be no admission fee, all costs and expenses to be borne by the League.

This will be the first camp of its kind in the state of Texas, and present plans call for its opening during the summer of 1951.
