TANK-LED 1ST CAVALRY SMASHES ACROSS 38TH

Russ Officer Leads KoReds

By Earnest Hoberecht
United Press Staff Correspondent
TOKYO, Oct. 9 (UP)—Tank-led troops of the U. S. 1st Cavalry Division smashed nearly two and a half miles across the North Korean border today in an all-out drive to enforce Gen. Douglas MacArthur's final surrender demand.

They ran into stubborn, bloody resistance. A division spokesman said "we have had a great many casualties, both killed and wounded."

The American, with South Koreans also in their ranks, were attacking along a broken 10-mile front from Kaesong, on the main Seoul-Pyongyang Highway, eastward.

On the northeastern end of the United Nations offensive arc, the South Korean Third Division fought to within a mile of the big east coast port of Wonsan.

BUILDING-UP FOR SUNDAY PUNCH—Five UN divisions are working toward a vast enveloping movement stretching from northwest of Seoul (1) to the Red strong point of Wonsan (2) on the east coast. From west to east, UN units are U. S. 1st Cavalry Division at Kaesong, two miles south of the 38th Parallel; ROK 6th, at Hwachon, seven miles north of the line; ROK Capital Division, at Songhyon, 16 miles over the line and ROK Third, pushing past Hupkok to within a dozen miles of Wonsan. Large Communist tank convoys (shaded arrows) were moving down from the Manchurian border toward Pyongyang and Wonsan. Some Red truck columns were seen moving north and west out of Wonsan, Unconfirmed North Korean reports said UN amphibious landings had been made at Kangnung (3) and Changjon (4). (NEA Newsmap).

Omar Burleson Will Visit District Soon

Congressman Omar Burleson will leave Washington in the next day or two for Texas, going by way of Georgia, to visit Mr. Burleson's mother, Mrs. R. D. De Weese, and take her along to Texas with them.

He will arrive there the week of October 2, and on the 10th or 11th will fly from his home town of Anson to Miami, Florida, where he will take part in a discussion on international trade affecting North and South America. The program is arranged by the International Trade Mart, which is something new for the state of Florida and Miami.

The purpose of the International Trade Mart is to foster trade between the Americas, and eventually it will provide for display of goods of the United States for the inspection of South American buyers, and likewise, South American products will be brought up for display to United States buyers.

Congressman Burleson has been invited to attend and participate in the program. He will on Thursday, Oct. 12, discuss international trade. Immediately he will return to his home town of Anson, and will spend at least a month visiting around over his district, the itinerary of which has not been fixed.

Mr. Burleson is a member of a special committee of his Foreign Affairs Committee, on the Pan-American Highway. The Highway is considered vital to the hemisphere defenses, and because of intense interest during the last war.

Tentative plans have been made for the special committee, of which Congressman Mike Mansfield of Montana is Chairman, to go down through the Central American countries just before the Congress reconvenes on November 27th, and return directly to Washington in time for the special session opening.

Hard Practice Due For Game Against Unbeaten Dublin

Coach Warden will be pacing his squad through hard drills this week to get the Bulldogs ready for the Dublin game Friday.

All players were reported in fair shape by Coach Warden after their first conference victory last week, a 14-0 win over Cicco.

Dublin is undefeated this far. They have won two non-conference tilts and in district play have defeated De Leon, 20-6 and Cicco, 20-6. Last year Ranger took the measure of Dublin, 25-7. In 1948, Dublin was the only team to beat the Bulldogs and they did it in a shutout, 19-0.

Coach Warden rates Dublin a good ball club and one hard to take. Three backs are the spark plugs for the Dublin eleven. Clifford Randolph, the fullback at 185 pounds, is considered the best back on the team.

A 130-pound seatback, Bob Little, burns up the gridiron like a track star. Dublin throws its passes from the arm of Marvin Salyer, 135-pound quarterback.

One of the best linemen on the Dublin team is Charles Mote, 190-pound tackle. Guard Darwin Ellis, 160 pounds also kicks off and makes extra points. Coach Warden says Ellis seldom misses his conversion attempts.

The Ranger Junior College will be putting in hard practice this week in preparation for their first conference game against Oleian Junior College.

Fullback Jack McWhorter is still nursing a sore arm and it is still in doubt if he will play Saturday. All other players are in pretty good shape following the 8-0 defeat at the hands of Midwestern B's Indians last Thursday.

Pups Looking Another Win Tuesday Night

The Pups of Ranger Junior High will be looking for another win Tuesday night when they meet the junior team from Cicco.

Last week, the hustling Pups knocked over Breckenridge, 7-0. The game will start at 7:20 p. m.

The conference will study problems common to junior and senior colleges in meeting the needs of students who expect to complete degree course.

Dr. Harold P. Rodes of the Office of Relations with Schools, University of California, will serve as consultant.

Aggie Power On Upswing In SWC Football; All Teams Look Like Threat In Jumbled Race

By United Press

Texas A&M's rip-snorting rushing offense which almost ground-touted Oklahoma into the dust Saturday makes a big impact on the weekly Southwest Conference statistics issued today.

With rambling Robert Smith and bounding Bill Tidwell running one-two among the individual ground gainers, the Aggies also led in team rushing and furnished the loop with its top punt returner in well-oiled-wisp Conn Lippman.

Smith resumed the individual rushing lead with a total of 332 yards in 63 plays for a 5.3 yard average, while Tidwell's 9.4 yard average in 28 carries put him in second spot at 262 yards, six steps ahead of Southern Methodist's wheelhorse, Kyle Rote.

The Aggies have bowled through three opponents for 569 yards on the ground to lead the conference by a wide margin in that department, but ranked second behind SMU—the passing leader at 887 yards—in overall offense, 1,296 to 1,070 yards.

SMU's Fred Benner topped the passers with 493 yards and four touchdowns, while three of his receivers ranked 1-2-3 in the reception section. Rusty Russell, Jr., had snagged 10 for 281 yards and three touchdowns; Ben White had caught 12 for 170 yards and two scores, and Johnny Champion had caught 12 for 167 yards on eight catches.

Rice's Vernon Glass moved into second place in the throwing end with 306 yards and four touchdowns on 17 completions out of 30. Benner had hit 34 of 59 attempts.

Lippman had averaged 21.2 yards on five punt returns to nose out Rice's Rex Proctor, who had averaged 20.5 yards on six returns, and SMU's Bill Richards who had returned five for a 19 yard average.

Larry Isbell of Baylor led a fine group of punters with a 41.1-yard average on 17 punts. Louis Schaufele of Arkansas at 39.6, Sonny Wyatt of Rice at 39.0, Jimmy Hickey of TCU and Yale Larry of A&M at 37.6 trailed Isbell.

On total offense, the leader still was Rote, who had picked up 496 yards both rushing and passing, a department in which he ranked fifth with 249 yards. Gil Bartosh of TCU was second with 442 yards, 199 on the ground and 243 on aerials.

Boy Scouts To Meet Thursday Night At 6:30

The regular meeting of Troop 12 will be held on Thursday night at 6:30 p. m. as not to conflict with the Junior high game Tuesday night.

All Scouts will come in uniform prepared for inspection, said R. A. Shoekey, Scout Master.

Legion Asks For A-Bomb Use If Reds Don't Stop

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 9 (UP)—The American Legion's National Executive Committee demands today that the administration out Secretary of State Dean Acheson from office and drop the Atom bomb on Russia if it commits further aggression.

The demands were made in the form of resolutions to be approved by the 150,000 delegates to the Legion's 32nd annual convention which opened today.

The Legionnaires were to consider the resolutions at their first general session which will be addressed by former Defense Secretary Louis Johnson, a past legion commander, and former Communist Louis Budenz.

Fired Union Official Runs Amok At Dallas

DALLAS, Oct. 9 (UP)—John Brooks, a discharged San Diego union official, babbled that "Communists and labor bosses" were after him before he ran amok in a hospital and was shot to death.

The violent series of events that ended in Brooks' death on a vacant lot across from Park and Hospital started yesterday on a bus bound from El Paso, Calif., to Dayton, O., Sheriff Bill Decker said.

As the bus left Dallas, Brooks, 26, attempted to displace driver Lester Green. After tussling with Green as his passenger, sat stunned, Brooks leaped through the door to the highway.

Decker said Brooks staggered to a construction company office and told a watchman he had been injured in a fall from an automobile. The watchman called Decker's office and two deputies were sent out to take Brooks to Parkland Hospital.

Hospital attendants said Brooks bolted from the bandage room, knocked over a man and kicked him several times and then fled from the hospital.

One of the deputies, D. P. Hughes, gave chase and Brooks knocked him down with a large stick. Hughes tried to get up, but Brooks struck him with a rock and picked up several more stones. Hughes then shot Brooks once in the throat, killing him outright.

Decker said he would order a grand jury investigation of the incidents leading to the shooting.

While Brooks was being x-rayed at Parkland, he mumbled that Communists and labor leaders were trying to capture him, the sheriff added.

42 Ranger Hi Students See State Fair Sat.

Forty-two Ranger High students boarded a bus Saturday for a trip to Dallas and the State Fair.

Besides seeing all the sights on the midway, the boys entered the grass judging event at the Fair. Others making the trip were: Mr. King, who drove the bus, and Harry F. Deal. Mr. Dudley left earlier by car with some of his students, to be at the fair by 8 a.m.

Leaflets Contain Surrender Terms To North Korea

TOKYO, Oct. 9 (UP)—Allied planes scattered millions of leaflets containing Gen. Douglas MacArthur's "last" surrender ultimatum to North Korea over the Communist homeland today.

It also was broadcast repeatedly by both the Seoul and Tokyo radios.

Here is the text of the ultimatum:

"Premier, government of North Korea:

"This is to inform you of the action taken by the United Nations General Assembly on Oct. 8, 1950, in adopting the resolution appended hereto.

"In order that the decisions of the UN may be carried out with a minimum of further loss of life and destruction of property, I, as UN commander in chief, for the last time, call upon you and the forces under your command, in whatever part of Korea situated, forthwith to lay down your arms and cease hostilities—and I call upon all North Koreans to cooperate fully with the UN in establishing a unified, independent, democratic government of Korea, assured that they will be treated justly and that the UN will act to relieve and rehabilitate all parts of a unified Korea.

"Unless an immediate response is made by you in the name of the North Korean government, I shall at once proceed to take such military action as may be necessary to enforce the decree of the UN.

"Signed: Douglas MacArthur, General of the Army, U. S. Army, Commander-in-Chief."

Shapely Madam Turns Bad For 'Sake Of Baby'

HOUSTON, Tex., Oct. 9 (UP)—Shapely Toni Middleton, re-hired "madam" of a rookie cop's call girl service, lamented today she first turned to prostitution for "the sake of my baby."

That was when she attended a school near the University of Notre Dame at South Bend, Miss Middleton said.

"I worked my way through school until I graduated," she said. "But my baby died, and I didn't care what happened to me."

Miss Middleton's role in the lucrative business Houston traffic officer Windal Satterfield operated when he wasn't tooting a whistle was revealed late last week because of "love."

"She wanted to retire from the service to spend more time with Waterfield," Capt. J. R. Davidson, chief of the police morals squad said.

"He went out to find a replacement for her. He found her, but the woman wanted to operate as an independent. Satterfield got tough with her and she complained to us. That broke the case."

Stripped of his badge, Satterfield admitted his call girl service grossed more than $2,000 per week during the month it operated. He was charged on two counts of "procuring" and released on bond.

But Satterfield charged that Houston prostitutes "pay $40 weekly to police to be allowed to work here."

BOYCE HOUSE SAYS

In the days of national prohibition, it was said that "some Corn likker" was so powerful, it would make a rabbit spit in a bulldog's eye.
A mouse got hold of some of that potent moonshine and, after one swig, he yelled, "Bring on that durned old cat."
Two men had just met. One said, "I'm Irish—and proud of it." The other said, "I'm Scotch—and fond of it."

Reds Suffer Major Loss In Austria Strike

VIENNA, Austria, Oct. 9 (UP)—Collapse of the Austrian general strike last week gave the Communists their greatest setback in central Europe since the war, Chancellor Leopold Figl said today.
"Even the Communists admitted the 100 per cent miscarriage of their plans by the strike committee's 400-to-3 decision to return to work," he said in an interview.

Reports Have China Commies In North Tibet

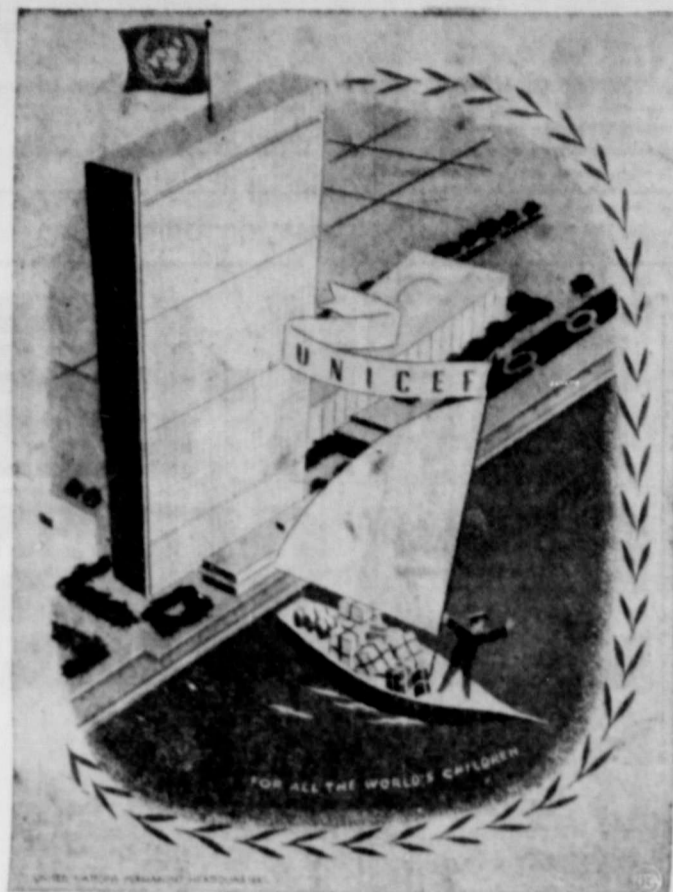

HONG KONG, Oct. 9 (UP)—An official Communist report said today Chinese Communist troops have entered Northern Tibet.
The Communist news agency distributed a report by Wang Chen, Chinese Communist party secretary for the Far West Province of Sinkiang. Summarizing events in that area for the past year, Wang wrote.

"People's troops cooperating with friendly multi-national armies brought liberation to the whole province (of Sinkiang) and also entered northern Tibet."
Chinese Communist troops have been reported massed on Tibet's northern and eastern borders for many months and there have been roundabout reports from Formosa and Pakistan of a penetration of the frontier.

But this was the first official Communist acknowledgement that troops of Red China have invaded the mysterious mountain kingdom ruled for centuries by hermit priests.
Wang gave no further details of the action and did not indicate whether it occurred recently or some time ago.

Ever since they came to power, the Chinese Communist leaders have been calling for the "liberation" of Tibet and Formosa. In a recent speech, however, Communist Premier and Foreign Minister Chow En-Lai expressed hope that Tibet's future status will be settled by peaceful means.

The long-vanished Nashua (N. H.) Watch Co. made its first watches in America by machinery. The process revolutionized the watchmaking industry.

UN CHRISTMAS CARD—This is the 1950 Christmas card whose sale is sponsored by the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund. In 1950 UNICEF gave aid in 60 countries and helped to provide eight million children with a daily supplementary meal and four million children with clothing or shoes. In addition the UN agency supplied penicillin, vaccines, medical equipment and supplies for maternal and child health. Cards sell at 10 cents each and the profit will augment UNICEF aid, which is given solely on the basis of need without regard to race, creed or politics.

Anti-American Propaganda By Reds Becomes Louder In Europe As Loss Of Commies Grows Larger In Korea

By Harry Ferguson
Editor
United Press Foreign News
The closer we move toward final victory in Korea, the louder becomes the anti-American propaganda. There seems to be a world wide campaign on to try to discredit this nation in advance of our military success.

The present situation, according to the Communist press and radio, is as follows:
1. America has almost all the gold in the world but it is buried in vaults in Wall Street. Occasionally we use some of it to bribe the leaders of western European nations to make war-like motions against Russia by rearming.

2. The great mass of Americans are starving and roaming the streets homeless because capitalism is about to collapse and the Wall Street people won't buy their fellow citizens a crust of bread.

The Moscow magazine Krokodil carries a picture of a typical Wall Street villain. He is fat, wears striped trousers, a top hat and smokes a long cigar. He is the man who tells President Truman when to hand some of the gold to the leaders of democratic nations in Europe.

While this goes on, the rest of America is in bad shape. The Romanian Communist magazine "Science and Culture" says 500,000 families in New York City live in shanties and 260,000 walk the streets all night because they have no homes. Throughout the country, 8,000,000 "houses are completely uninhabitable. On the road to California, especially on the main highway, one can see shanties made out of remnants of rotten planks and rusty tin with holes stuffed with rags or corn leaves instead of windows."

The United States is not only on the skids economically, but our cultural life has hit an all-time low. Americans care so little for the classics, according to the Bucharest newspaper, Universul, that they have abridged Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet." Only one sentence is contained in the new edition: "Two young people loved each other and in the end they committed suicide."

The newspaper adds that in place of good books Americans are devoting all their time to a new toy called "Jimmy."
"It consists of a prettily-painted square tin box at the bottom of which is a little button," the paper says. "When the button is pressed, the lid flies off and a Negro appears hanging on the gallows."

Persistence Wins
WINCHESTER, Mass. (UP)—Persistence paid off for residents of this Boston suburb. In 1834 their ancestor began a campaign to eliminate a railroad grade crossing in the town's business district. Now after a 116-year campaign, the state has agreed to abolish the crossing by building a $2,000,000 bridge.

Pres. May Play Big Role In Nov. Elections

By Merriman Smith
United Press White House Reporter
WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (UP)—President Truman today waded into a stack of unfinished business which must be cleaned up before he can decide how big a role to play in the November elections.

Mr. Truman returned tanned and rested from a week-long Chesapeake Bay cruise Saturday afternoon. His lieutenants said this week should be a busy one indeed.

The chief executive and his aides insisted there are no plans at present for active campaigning in the congressional elections. But their repeated statements definitely hinged on the words "at present."

The war in Korea cancelled Mr. Truman's proposed "whistle stop" tour in the 1948 manner, but a less ambitious presidential campaign swing into several nearby states in the four weeks before election day still is possible.

Senate Democrats are facing tough re-election battles in New York, Pennsylvania, Connecticut and Illinois and Mr. Truman might well decide to pitch in personally. A trip to Illinois also would give him a chance to lambast "Mr. Republican" — Sen. Robert A. Taft — at close quarters while passing through Ohio.
Even if Mr. Truman should find it impossible to leave town, Democratic leaders expect him to fire some ammunition for party candidates by radio from Washington.

The FORMER MISS FREY

By Edwin Rutt
Copyright 1950 by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Although Cornelius Frey never forgave his daughter Edie for sleeping with former hunting Peter Frey, he still has one big fault that she alone of his four children, "has brains enough" to carry on his prosperous advertising business, which he wishes to transfer to her. He admonishes her to hang onto the stock, because it will take care of them all. Edie, Jeffrey, Myron and Jenn. Edie is to have 25 per cent of the stock, Jeff 25 per cent and Myron 25. Jenn is taken care of through a trust fund. Of the group, only Jeff shows any resentment of Edie. He apparently believes that, as eldest son, the business should be in his charge. Edie has told Jenn that Peter Frey will have to come to New York for a while. Peter now is in Bermuda.

VIII

JENN FREY drew up her knees on the chaise and clasped her hands around them. "I wonder how Peter will like your asking him to come to New York? He's very temperamental, isn't he?"

"His bark's worse than his bite," Edie said offhandedly. "Now if you've got all of the questions off your chest, what about that crack of Jeff's? About your running around with an older man?"

Jenn colored slightly. "Oh, Edie. Don't you be stupid, too. Jeff's just a nosy old woman."

"Far be it from me to butt in," Edie said carefully. "But, after all, I'm your sister. I'd naturally take an interest."

"Well, I've nothing to hide," Jenn said, a little defensively. "It's Hamilton Grieve, if you've got to know."

Edie started. Hamilton Grieve had been at least 30, a hanger-on on the social fringe, before she herself had come out.

"He is a bit ancient, isn't he?" she said, trying to sound casual. "So what? He's got a lot more on the ball than these college infants. He isn't," Jenn hesitated, seeking the right word, "well, callow."

"No," Edie agreed. "Ham wouldn't be callow. Only I should think you'd feel like his daughter. What about that good-looking boy who was so nice to you at the funeral?"

"Tommy Melbourne?" Jenn's voice was shrill with derision. "He's got the mind of a narwhal."

"And the shoulders of one, too."

"Well, he did play football at Yale," Jenn's boredom was just a shade too obvious. "But he doesn't know from nothing."

Jenn got up and came over to her. She put a bare warm arm around Edie's shoulders.

"Don't worry about me, Edie," she said. "I know what I'm doing."

"I hope you do, dear," Edie said. "Because frankly, I'm not going to have time to worry about you."

And that was a lie, she knew. She was worrying already. Hamilton Grieve had been trying to make an advantageous marriage for years and years.

JEFFREY FREY's function at Frey & Company was to contact the account of Loman & Smith, makers of Morn-Glo Soap. It so happened that, when they arrived at the agency on the following morning, he found an urgent message from his client. The Morn-Glo advertising manager wished to see him immediately. Without even removing his hat, Jeff dashed away.

Edie was secretly pleased. It gave her a chance to talk with Reagan alone. They would get farther, she thought, without Jeff fuming and fussing at the conference.

Her first impression of Dan Reagan was almost frightening. The man affected her with a sense of vast power. His shoulders were incredibly broad, his neck short and thick. He had a large not too homely face, liberally freckled, that ended in a slab of a jaw. Reddish hair and the lightest, most penetrating blue eyes that Edie had ever seen. It was the eyes that softened the rock-like aspect Reagan presented. A little twinkling kept sliding in and out of them, constantly relieving the hard blue glitter. He looks, Edie thought, like a mastodon with a sense of humor.

"Well, Mr. Reagan," she said, by way of opening the discussion, "this is a strange situation, isn't it?"

"Yes," The twinkle was out of Reagan's eyes now. They stared at Edie like blue searchlights. He seemed to be taking in every detail of her tall trim figure, the little black hat and dotted veil, the smartly cut black crepe dress touched with white, the black suede shoes open at the toes. "It is indeed," he added.

"You know all about—about everything?" asked Edie.

"Yes. Your father told me what he had in mind."

Edie felt that he was waiting for her to play to him. She said, "And how do you think you're going to like it, Mr. Reagan?"

He looked her straight in the face. "I haven't made up my mind, yet."

THERE was an awkward pause. Edie grew a little desperate. He was giving her no help, just sitting there staring at her with his challenging blue eyes.

Her mouth firmed. Dan Reagan must not see that he had her slightly ill-at-ease. "Keep control," Old Cornelius had said. "If you don't, you're licked."

"Look here, Mr. Reagan," she said, in a steady voice. "I'm going to lay my cards on the table. I need you and I need you badly. At the same time, I understand your position. You were Father's right-hand man and you didn't mind being that. I suppose. But now things are different. You may have to take orders from a woman. And you may not like it."

"And if I don't?" Reagan's strong hard jaw was jutting out. His eyes were like blue fire.

"In that case," Edie nerved herself to it. "you'll just have to get out, that's all. There can't be two bosses."

Series Hero Goes Back To Winter Exercise

By Milton Richman
 United Press Sports Writer
 NEW YORK, Oct. 9 (U.P.)—World Series hero Gerry Coleman, whose head has been in the clouds the past few days, goes back into his San Francisco collar soon for a weary winter of bicep building and deep knee bends.

The 26-year-old, raven-haired New York Yankee second baseman drove in three vital runs during the series, scored two others himself and turned in a defensive performance that drew repeated applause.

He labored long and hard enough to earn a rest. Instead, his work has just begun.

"It'll be the same deal 'til next winter," he explained, emitting a long, tired sigh.

"I'll be doing those pushups—20 in the morning and 20 at night—and any other exercise which I feel will help me.

"Some people think I'm nuts for exercising all winter but I think they're wrong. I'm not a big fellow physically. . . I weigh only 16 pounds stripped. . . and I believe I build up a strong reserve which helps keep me in the lineup during the season."

Coleman, who batted .387 during the regular campaign and one point lower during the series, also will go back to his off-season habit of swinging a three-pound leaded bat. That takes place in the cellar, too.

"Swinging that bat strengthens my forearms and wrists," he declared. "I know it did last year."

Coleman, of the slyph-like 28 inch and fairly broad, square-cut shoulders, was especially happy over his series' work against the Philadelphia Phillies since it marked the first time his coach, Mrs. Gerry Coleman, Sr., ever saw him play professionally.

Cotton Bowl To Hold Top Grid Games Of Week

By Ed Fite
 United Press Sports Writer
 The biggest week end in South-west Conference football history shaped up today for Dallas' outsize Cotton Bowl stadium next Saturday with four of the nation's undefeated teams paired off in a day-night grid double-header.

Between 135,000 and 150,000 fans are expected to watch the dual contests matching Oklahoma and Texas in their 45th meeting in the afternoon and Southern Methodist and Oklahoma A & M in the nocturnal encore.

These intersectional clashes steal the thunder from another ambitious conference card which also will see the second title game of the young season being played at Fayetteville, Ark., between the home town Arkansas Razorbacks and Baylor.

Conference teams, already victors in nine of 12 major intersectional clashes, will seek to add four more victories this week, including the twin contests at the State Fair of Texas.

Texas A & M meets Virginia Military Institute under the lights at College Station and Rice travels east to meet Pittsburgh.

Texas Christian, a jump ahead of the field in the title race by virtue of a 13-6 win over Arkansas last week, entertains Texas Tech at Fort Worth in another night game.

Last week's results, highlighted by the Aggies' "near victory" over Oklahoma, a 34-28 thriller the Sooners pulled out of the fire in the final seconds, strengthened indications that the race for the title being defended by Rice would be a wide-open scrap.

A & M nearly upset the Sooners' 22-game victory streak virtually without a passing attack, but displayed plenty of fundamental ground power. If coach Harry Stielor can develop an aerial game, it would not be inconceivable for the cadets to take the title.

Rice loomed increasingly as a major threat to succeed itself with a perfect offensive blend that buried touted Louisiana State 35-20; SMU continued its impressive

Hooks 21-0. Linden lost to Clarksville 24-0. Llano upset Lampasas 24-9. Gonzales romped over Seguin 50-14 and Freer stopped Falfurrias 7-0.

New Braunfels climbed back into the point-a-minute class with a 79-0 crusher over Yoakum to run its season total to 244 points in five games.

Breckenridge retained the only unscathed goal line in the state as the two Class A teams which previously were also unscathed on had their troubles. Crowell lost that distinction in its tie with Electra, while Haskell had plenty of trouble even winning 20-19 over Stamford.

Bellville stopped Giddings 7-6 and Bay City eked by West Columbia by the same score.

Phillips, Mesquite, Hooks, Linden, Lampasas, Seguin and Falfurrias fell from the unbeaten but tied ranks.

Memphis lost to Shamrock 18-14. Monahans defeated Wink 39-7. Vidor lost to Nederland 38-0. Robstown was nipped by Sinton 21-20 and Karnes City defeated Floresville 39-13.

Hunters Average Seven Birds In 1950 Season

AUSTIN, Oct. 9.—Texas sportsmen participating in the 1950 whitewing hunt in the Lower Rio Grande Valley bagged an average of 7.1 birds during the three-day open season, according to the Executive Secretary of the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission.

Excellent cooperation on the part of hunters in collecting whitewing information enabled Game Department technicians to add much valuable information to their knowledge of this species. Few violations were reported and the Executive Secretary commended hunters for their cooperation.

The combined efforts of hunters and Game Department personnel on the ground and in the air produced data showing that 8,848 cars bearing 28,721 hunters were concentrated in the hunting area.

The Executive Secretary said that out of an estimated population of 900,000 whitewings, gunners bagged a total of 203,440 birds during the seven hour and 30 minutes of shooting time. During 1949 hunters bagged an average of 7.6 birds or a total of 14,925 more than the number killed in 1948. Unfavorable weather conditions were responsible for the lower bags in 1950.

The overall crippling loss was 49,687 or enough birds to supply an average bag for 6,977 additional hunters. High winds were believed responsible for this increase over the 33,956 whitewings lost in 1949.

Draft Director Endorses New Exempt Proposal

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (UP)—Draft Director Lewis B. Hershey today endorsed the "general principles" of a new proposal for exempting exceptional students and some scientists and professional men from military service.

Hershey, who has been at odds with some high government officials over deferment policies, told newsmen he would go along generally with the deferment recommendations of six scientific advisory committees.

The committees proposed that deferment standards for college students be based on aptitude and scholastic records. They also suggested exempting scientists, professional men and some other specialists who have completed their training and are working in essential jobs.

Hershey meanwhile, was getting ready to register some 4,450 doctors and dentists who were educated at government expense during World War II but served less than 21 months, President Truman yesterday set Oct. 16 for the draft registration date.

A second registration, sometime before Jan. 30, will catch the remainder of the doctors and dentists under 30. Only those already on reserve lists will not be required to register, but they are subject to military calls at any time.

Under the proposed draft deferment plan, local boards would exempt students who have good scholastic records and who make a score of 120 on the Army general classification test or its equivalent. In addition these students would have to be certified by their schools as showing "promise of definite progress in higher education."

Senators Probe Deeper Into Crime Combines

NEW YORK, Oct. 9 (UP)—A group of crime-prying senators took aim on the New York underworld today while housecleaning police officials planted new bombshells under their graft-ridden fence.

Sen. Estes Kefauver, D., Tenn., brought his Senate Crime Investigating Committee from Chicago for hearings beginning Wednesday to pry the lid off what he described as the New York link between crime and underworld combine sin.

Meanwhile, Police Commissioner Thomas F. Murphy, sweeping a new broom through his 19,000-man force, promised more demolitions and shakeups in the scandal surrounding a Grand Jury disclosure that $20,000,000-a-year bookie ring paid key policemen $1,000,000 annually to stay in business.

The Kefauver committee completed a series of hearings in Chicago last week which uncovered "strong evidence" of a national linkup of syndicate rackets, a national political protection. The committee questioned a long list of Chicago mobsters, including members of the old Al Capone gang and the heirs to its prohibition days rackets.

The committee departed Chicago last night leaving the underworld and public officials alike in a state of "jitters."

Movie Fems' Modesty Brings Rush For Pins

By Virginia McPherson (UP) Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 9 (UP)—A lady jeweler reported today she is cleaning up on Hollywood's sudden yen for modesty with her diamond-studded "cleavage pins."

"Orders are pouring in," says Joan Joseph, the town's biggest supplier of jewels to the stars and studios. "I'm having a terrible time keeping up with all the girls who want to cover up."

Mrs. Joseph, a dark-eyed 33, took over the business two years ago when her husband died in a plane crash. This "cleavage pin" gimmick happened along, and she'll always be grateful to Lana Turner for the way her bankbook's swelling.

"Lana wore the first one," Mrs. J. explained. "Seems there was too much of Turner for the period gowns she was wearing in a movie. The Johnston office didn't like it. They told the studio to do something—quick!"

MGM was in a ticklish predicament. There wasn't time to make the dresses over.

So they put in a frantic call for Joan. "That was the beginning of what is turning into a very profitable line of jewelry," Mrs. Joseph said. "Now lots of stars want them. I got a call from Jane Russell the other day. Now I know I'm in."

Buffalo Port Cashes In ALBANY, N. Y. (UP)—The state commerce department says Buffalo is the greatest fresh water port in the world in value of tonnage. It has $600,000,000 annual trade on its 37 miles of waterfront.

It Takes Many Years—... to build up an abstract plant to the point where it is considered safe to offer title information to the public for sale. The public generally does not realize this, but some do. If an abstract comes from a plant with adequate facilities, an established reputation and sufficient financial responsibility to protect the customer, it should be safe. The best title attorneys steadfastly refuse to render an opinion on an abstract which they believe to be sub-standard, and they should.

Ft. Worth Offers $96,058 Awards In Stock Show

Livestock awards offered by the 1951 Southwestern Exposition and Fair Stock Show in Fort Worth are $96,058, the largest in the 55 years history of the Southwest's oldest and greatest stock show.

This is almost $10,000 more than the premiums offered by the 1950 exposition.

Dates of the show are Jan 26 through Feb. 4, with a colorful Western parade through the business district on the opening day, rodeo and horse show performance that night in the magnificent Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum, with afternoon and night performances each day thereafter.

A substantial part of the increase in premiums is represented by the $6,000 offered in the carload and pen division of bulls. This division last year was highly successful both from the standpoint of the number and quality of animals displayed and in the purchases by commercial livestock raisers desiring herd sires.

In fact, so successful was the bull division that construction now in progress will increase the space by approximately 100 per cent. Short horns are being added for 1951. Last year the carload and pen divisions was confined to Herefords (including Polled) and Aberdeen-Angus.

Another impressive increase in premiums is in the swine division where awards offered amount to $10,070.

America Fore INSURANCE GROUP

Here's a "week" with some sense

Lots of so-called "weeks" are a little silly, but there's a lot of good sense to FIRE PREVENTION WEEK.

This is a week to concentrate on cleaning up the trash and rubbish in basements and attics and elsewhere around the premises — trash which often causes fires. It's a week to examine electrical wiring, etc., which may breed fires.

Most big fires are started in some absurd little way — so don't neglect to attend to the "silly" little things that may burn down your property some day.
