US Not Considering Bombing China

Formal War May Result From Such Action

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (UP)—President Truman said today this country is not considering asking the United Nations for permission to bomb Communist China.

Mr. Truman expressed the fear at a news conference that to take such a plan under consideration might involve actual, formally declared war with the Communist regime.

At the same time, the President said the time had not arisen to consult Congress on a declaration of war, but that he did not believe he needed Congressional permission to send additional American troops to Europe.

The President, under intensive questioning, made it clear that this country would not bomb Communist China without United Nations permission. He again expressed the hope that diplomatic negotiations might still bring an end to the fighting in Korea.

The President first was asked to discuss the deteriorating military situation in Korea, but he declined to comment.

"At what point will you have to consult Congress on the constitutional right to declare war?" he was asked.

Mr. Truman immediately labeled this a confusing question intended for that purpose.

The President said the proper action would be taken when the time comes and he hoped that time would never come.

Turning to another question on the same subject, the President said this nation was not formally at war, but carrying out an obligation taken on when this country signed the founding charter.

A reporter pointed out that the belief that this country actually is at war has been widely discussed in Capitol Hill, but Mr. Truman rejected this as a fact. He said the nation was not in a formal conflict and he hopes sincerely that we never would get into a formally declared war.

The chief executive endorsed the statement yesterday by Secretary of State Dean Acheson regarding the Russian proposal for a Big Four conference of foreign ministers. Acheson asked for clarification from Russia. Later the President said that it was all right for the Big Four to discuss things that affect each other. The big problem between them, of course, he continued, is the differences between this country and Russia.

But, he added, the UN is the proper forum and the proper place for a final settlement of all the differences of the world, far and beyond what the Big Four might do among themselves.

On other foreign affairs questions, the President said he did not now have under consideration inclusion of Spain in the mutual defense assistance program.

Whiskey Loaded Cadillac Snared By Local Police

Local police threw up a road blockade at Highway 80 and Tiffin Road early this morning and snared west bound green Cadillac carrying 14 cases of whiskey.

The officers had gotten wind of the car's approach and set the trap at about 4:15 a.m. The out-of-town driver will be turned over to the district attorney and sheriff today.

Citizens Flee Flaming Seoul For 3rd Time In Six Months

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The fall of Seoul today is history repeating itself to Jack James, United Press war correspondent who scored a two-hour world beat on the original invasion of South Korea by the Communists. In the following dispatch, James discusses the difference between the capture of the South Korean capital today and that of six months ago.)

By Jack James
TOKYO, Jan. 4 (UP)—This is six months ago all over again—but with a difference.

For the third time in half a year Seoul has changed hands. For the second time it has fallen to the Communists. The story is as distressing today as it was in June, 1950, when I covered the original capture of Seoul by the North Korean Communists, but it isn't quite the same.

Six months ago Seoul's only defenders were the South Korean troops. Taken by surprise and panicked by the Soviet-made T-34 tanks of the Korean Reds, the inadequately armed Republicans were in disorganized flight.

Yet there was good hope that the Reds could be stopped and driven back. It came from the morale-boosting roar of American planes overhead and the promise

Police Suspect Hitch Hiker Killed Family

TULSA, Okla., Jan. 4 (UP)—A child's green cap, found about 100 yards from an abandoned blood-spotted car, today deepened fears that a missing Illinois couple and their three children have been killed by a hitch-hiker.

An all-night searching party failed to find any other trace of Carl Mosser, 35-year-old attorney, Ill., farmer, and his family. Tulsa police Lt. Glen Elliott said an increased search group "of 50 to 75 men" may take hunting dogs into the wooded area today.

The Mossers left Hammond, Ill., Saturday for a visit at Albuquerque, N. M., but have not arrived at their destination and have not been traced farther than Claremore, Okla., about 28 miles northeast of here.

The car containing bloody clothing and "a lot of bullet holes" was found Tuesday on a little-traveled road in Osage County of North-eastern Oklahoma, 2 1/2 miles from downtown Tulsa. Apparently it was abandoned Monday night, the ignition key still in place.

"Anyone who lost as much blood as is on the clothing must be dead," said Osage County Deputy Sheriff Warren Smith. "We're almost certain we've got a whole family dead somewhere."

Willis Stark, attorney for the condemned man, said he held no hope of staying off the execution.

Harry Riskin, companion of Kletke in the murder, pleaded guilty and is serving a life term in the penitentiary.

The warden said Kletke, who has appeared calm and joked with newsmen about losing weight in death row, had a chill yesterday afternoon.

"He's not taking it so good now," Burford said. "He's been crying quite a bit."

Kletke was moved early today from the dimly-lit death row cell, which he has occupied for two years, to the death chamber cell—only a few short steps from the electric chair.

During the day, he was given any food he asked for. A barber shaved his head and he was given a new suit of black with the left leg ripped to the knee to make better contact for the electrode and its 2,300-volt charge.

Prison officials said the chair had been checked and was "all ready."

and communications were established. Today Seoul was on fire. In terms of people, however, the new gains can mean little to the Communists.

Six months ago some residents fled Seoul but most of the people stayed behind. Communists came out of hiding and began propagandizing the populace. Residents were afraid, but waited for their new masters like their forefathers did in two previous invasions from the north—by the Mongols of Genghis Khan and later by the conquering Manchus.

This time the Communists entered a ghost city. The people had fled them as from a plague—they had got their political education the hard way, during the Communist occupation.

And all over South Korea frightened refugees—even the aged, the crippled, and homeless tons—are fleeing south. An entire population is on the move.

They are fleeing into an area largely ruined by fighting months ago, where shelter is slight and food scanty. The Korean government, bankrupted by war and economic chaos, operating from temporary quarters in Pusan, cannot begin to care for them. The UN will have to do what it can.

The people of South Korea now hate and fear Communism so much they are leaving empty cities and villages to the Reds. Many of them will die for their faith in the United Nations.

And, in spite of this second reversal, they seem to believe that the UN forces in the end will return their country to them.

Young Murderer Breaking Down As Death Nears

McALESTER, Okla., Jan. 4 (UP)—Max Kletke, young Michigan hitchhiker murderer who dies in the electric chair tonight, "is about to break down," Warden Clarence P. Burford said today.

Kletke, 25, Lansing, Mich., will be executed at McAlester Penitentiary at 10 p.m. for the fatal shooting of Carl Beach, retired New York engineer who had picked up Kletke and a companion near Indianapolis in November, 1948.

Plans for this year's March of Dimes campaign and a membership drive were discussed at the Lions Club breakfast meeting this morning.

Increasing membership in the organization will tie in with the founding of the international club during the month of January. Only tentative plans have been taken up thus far concerning the 1951 March of Dimes drive.

Members present at the meeting were Wilson Guest, president; Les Crossley, secretary; R. V. Gallo-way, Saul Perlestein, Dr. W. P. Watkins, Pete Brushy, Pat Thomas, Lloyd Bruce, Joe Graham and Nick Crawford.

THE WEATHER

By United Press

Clear skies and temperatures generally in the 60s have replaced the last chill remnants of the cold front which heaved into Texas early this week, the weatherman predicted.

Fair and warmer weather was expected in both East and West Texas this afternoon, tonight and Friday. The weather bureau said the front which brought freezing temperatures to the state earlier had passed into central Alabama today.

Overnight, Dalhart reported the state's low minimum of 17 degrees. Other sub-freezing readings included Amarillo 28, Big Spring 29, El Paso 23, Ozona 20, Lubbock 25, Wichita Falls 26, Midland 24, Junction 23 and Marfa 20. Corpus Christi, with 53 degrees had the early morning high minimum.

During the past 24 hours, up to 6:30 a.m., Houston reported .13 inch rain, Beaumont .43, Palestine .04 and Galveston .26. No further precipitation was expected during the next 24 hours.

French May Bow To Russia

PARIS, Jan. 4 (UP)—The French government probably would make sweeping concessions to Russia to bring her into a Big Four meeting, officials said today.

KOREANS FLEE FROM SEOUL—Residents of the capital city of South Korea climb aboard trains at Seoul to flee southward before the advancing Communist forces. Chinese Reds in overwhelming strength ripped through U. S. 8th Army lines to within 7 miles of the city, at last reports. (NEA Telephoto).

Seoul Pull-Out Loses Face For UN In Far East

TOKYO, Jan. 4 (UP)—The failure of United Nations forces to defend Seoul in an all-out fight will be a severe blow to UN prestige in the Far East, veteran Far East observers said today.

To many important Japanese, and likely to many other important Asiatic leaders, the news of Seoul's abandonment without an all-out fight was a shock.

Seoul served as a symbol of South Korea and its government and many observers believed that a defense would be made there— for political if not for military reasons.

Before the Chinese Communists started their all-out drive toward the South Korean capital all indications, including numerous statements by South Korean President Syngman Rhee, were that the city would be defended to the last.

People in the Far East place considerable importance on symbolic matters and the abandonment of the South Korean capital in all indications, including numerous statements by South Korean President Syngman Rhee, were that the city would be defended to the last.

These observers said the people of the Orient will be asking why the people of Seoul were led to believe they were relatively safe when "withdrawal according to plan" was contemplated.

They said Far Easterners also would raise questions about why the United Nations does not order the bombing of Chinese cities and why more UN troops aren't sent to Korea.

The Far Easterners can not see any wisdom in a "Europe First" policy.

Suit Claims Man Abandoned In Flaming Plane

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 4 (UP)—Operators of an aerial ambulance service were sued for $300,000 today for the death of a helpless patient who allegedly was abandoned in a flaming plane as the crew fled to safety.

The dead man was identified in the superior court suit as wealthy oil man Lev N. Prichard Jr., 42, of San Antonio, Tex. The action was filed by his widow, Helen, 38, and son, Lev III, 13.

They charged that Prichard was strapped to a plane bed while being returned from Van Nuys, Calif., last July 14 after being stricken with pneumonia.

A fuel line on the plane sprung a leak, they said, and the gas was ignited by an over-heated engine. The plane, in flames, made an emergency landing at Hachita, N.M.

There its crew and a male nurse fled the aircraft, leaving Prichard, still strapped to the bed, to die helplessly in the blaze, the suit charged.

US Biggest Laugh Was Pres. Letters

NEW YORK, Jan. 4 (U.P.)—President Truman's "attempts to prove himself a man of letters" provided a source for the nation's biggest laughs in 1950, a poll of gigglers conducted by the National Laugh Foundation disclosed today.

The next source of gag material, the writers said, was the New York police shake-up, followed by the Ava Gardner-Frank Sinatra romance.

ALL 8TH ARMY SUCCESSFULLY WITHDRAWN TO NEW POSITION

By Earnest Hoberecht
TOKYO, Friday, Jan. 5 (UP)—Chinese Communist forces occupied the smoldering ghost city of Seoul and smashed to the banks of the Han River Thursday. They were hammering hard on the heels of United Nations troops retreating southward.

An Allied task force off Inchon began the sea evacuation of civilians and the senior naval commander there said he was ready to take off any troops trapped by the onrushing Chinese.

But U. S. 8th Army headquarters announced that all its forces have been successfully withdrawn to "their next defense positions" after completing the evacuation of Seoul.

16 Volunteers Leave This Week For Air Forces

Sixteen volunteers for duty in the United States Air Force have signed up at the local recruiting office this week, Sgt. Charles H. Brannon, recruiting officer, has announced.

Rex Farley, Billy Tabor and Dean McDaniel, all of Cisco are slated to leave for induction Thursday and James McCowan and Russell Johnson of Cisco are to leave Sunday.

All of the recruits will be sworn in at Lackland Air Base in San Antonio where they will receive their basic training.

From Lackland, the boys will be sent to various technical schools in the Air Force. All are air corps volunteers.

A group of 12 volunteers for Air Corps duty left Eastland last week for induction.

Curiosity Nabs Man Under 'Goo Eyes' Law

HOUSTON, Tex., Jan. 4 (UP)—An attorney, charged under an old ordinance with making "goo-goo eyes" at an attractive housewife, explained ruefully today it was "just normal curiosity" that caused him to take the second look at his accuser.

Edwin P. Lea, 28-year-old attorney, admitted charges brought by Mrs. D. S. Rogers, 22, that he violated the city's "goo-goo eyes" ordinance on the night of Dec. 30.

The 22-year-old housewife said she and Jo Ann Avery, 16, were driving home from a movie when they noticed an auto following them. She said the car circled the block and came back when she stopped at her apartment house.

"The driver stopped and just stared. I asked him what he wanted and he said 'what have you got?'"

Mrs. Rogers said she wrote down the auto license number as the man drove off.

Lea, however, had a different explanation.

"I was cruising around in my car trying to make contact with an amateur radio operator," he said, "when these girls drove past me slowly and kept staring at me. I was so curious so I followed them."

"When they turned in at the apartment house, I drove on toward home. Then my curiosity got the better of me and I went back. That was a mistake."

800 Dangerous Convicts Shifted To New Prison

HUNTSVILLE, Tex., Jan. 4 (UP)—Completion of the transfer of 800 of the most dangerous convicts in the Texas Prison System to the new individual cell block building at Ramsey Prison Farm near Angleton was disclosed today by O. B. Ellis, general manager of the prison system.

At the same time, Ellis disclosed the transfer of four wardens and the appointment of two others in the most significant shakeup of prison personnel since he became manager in 1948.

During the period in which the large mass transfer of felons took place, nine hardened criminals escaped from Ramsey prison farm Sunday. Six of the nine, however, have been captured.

"I am greatly relieved that the inmates have been safely transferred," Ellis said. "You can understand the hazards involved in moving that many inmates in caged trucks, a few at a time."

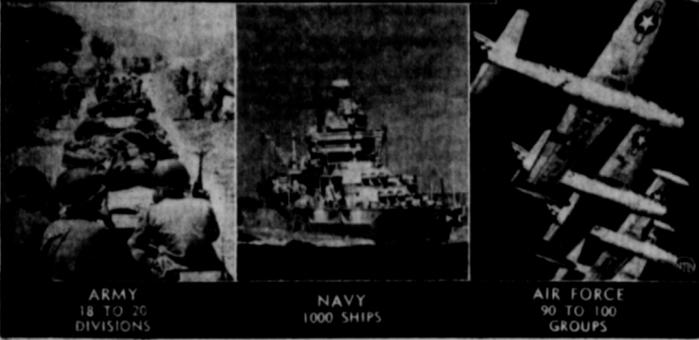

In announcing the warden changes, Ellis said that all were pleased with their new assignments.

Warden Joe Batson of Darrington Prison Farm will head the new isolation unit at Huntsville; Warden R. E. Miller will go from Central Prison Farm to replace Batson; Warden L. J. Christian will go from Ramsey to Central, and Warden C. L. McAdams will go from Retrieve to Ramsey.

Assistant Warden Z. E. Harrelson of Retrieve is being promoted to warden, and Ben Dillard, formerly employed in the main penitentiary here, replaces R. O. Stricklin as warden of Goree Farm where the women inmates are confined.

Texas Sports Writers Announce Selection Of AA All-State Team

BY UNITE PRESS
Three players from teams which did not get outside their own districts won places on the 1950 class AA All-State high school football team announced today by the Texas Sports writers association after a poll of some 800 sports writers, coaches and scouts.
And, for the first time in many years the two finalists failed to dominate the selections with no team placing more than one player on the mythical honor first eleven.
The non-winning teams which placed stars on the official team were Port Neches, Corsicana and Palestine. All had good teams, but were only runnersup in their own sectors.
Repeating state champion Wichita Falls placed only Fleet Edward Beach, its 156-pound snapping back, as indicative of the team play which featured the Coyotes surge upward from Mediocrity to championship caliber in the last half of the season.
Runnersup Austin, also a repeater in the finals, managed to get only Dick Van Fleet, a tackle, on the starting eleven. The Ma-rooms placed one man on the second team, while Wichita Falls placed two.

Semifinalists Highland Park and Baytown, Quarterfinalists Breckenridge and Port Arthur and Bi-District losers Texarkana and Harlingen, gained the other places on the team.
Represented on the second team besides the finalists were Highland Park, with two men; Breckenridge, Odessa, Kerrville, Abilene, Corsicana and Lubbock.
No honorable mentions were selected this year by the committee, headed by Jinx Tucker, of the Waco News-Tribune and Times-Herald.
First team: Ed Bernet, Highland Park, end; Paul Parkinson, Baytown, end; Jerry Fitzpatrick, Harlingen, tackle; Dick Van Fleet, Austin, tackle; Don Miller, Port Neches, guard; Sam Walker, Breckenridge, guard; Doyle Nix, Texarkana, center; Duane Nutt, Corsicana, Jerry Hall, Palestine, back; Frank Eldom, Port Arthur, back; Edward Beach, Wichita Falls, back.
Second team: David Buchanan, Breckenridge, end; Weldon Holley, Odessa, end; Layton Goldman, Kerrville, tackle; Al Oppel, Highland Park, tackle; Marvin Tate, Abilene, guard; Carney Huddleston, Austin, guard; Billy Harris, Wichita Falls, center; Malcolm Bowers, Highland Park, back; James Self, Wichita Falls, back; Raborn Mathews, Corsicana, back; Mac Taylor, Lubbock, back.

13 Lucky Guys
by FRANK R. ADAMS
COPY, 1950 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Sgt. Eddie Eng-Army's squad is wiped out in action and the men realize they are dead when they find them selves missing in Westwego, the home town of all but Joe. The only living creature who can see them is Eddie's dog Duke. But they can see and Eddie sees the sweetest girl he'd ever seen—Margie Lou, who drives a bus. Maybe that's why Eddie has gone to the bus terminal alone.

XVII
EDDIE watched a dozen motor coaches come in, load and depart. But Old Ironsides did not show up. Maybe it had been in a wreck, or sold down the river to become a school bus. He would be disappointed if anything had happened to it. He felt almost as if he owned the old crate.

Under the instrument panel was where he had always hidden that lucky coin, so he would never give it to a passenger by mistake when making change. It was about the size of a quarter and had a square hole in the middle—a Chinese coin, somebody had told him. Every day, when he first sat down in the driver's seat, he hooked it on a bent nail way under where no one would see it. He always put it back in his pocket when he was relieved. All but once—on that last trip when he had been so excited about leaving for the Army that he'd forgotten the darned thing.
Eddie had just about given up hope when an old rattling, snorting monster came lumbering around the corner under the passenger landing shed and stopped at the door of the waiting room.
"Boatworks bus!" shouted the starter. "Leaving right away."
It was Eddie's bus. And Eddie's girl was driving it. Perhaps it was stretching the truth a little for Eddie to call Margie Lou his girl, but she was the nearest thing to it that he had ever had. She was the first person toward whom he had felt a protective tenderness.

to get aboard grouped behind him patiently.
Margie Lou's advice to Max Lengel did not have the effect she intended. Max got the idea she admired the prowess of the husky bus loader. He couldn't bear to have one of his women friends admire anyone else.
So when the man shoved him Max shoved back hard enough to push him off the step. Unluckily for Max the starter had a grip on his coat lapels and dragged Max right with him when he fell.
They rolled around on the concrete platform for a while, neither side scoring a touchdown. When they finally got to their feet the majority of the waiting passengers had climbed aboard and now there wasn't room for an emaciated sardine to squeeze in anywhere.
"Take it away!" shouted the starter with what breath he had left.
Max made a tentative attempt to get a foothold somewhere on the bus but the folding door blocked him off. He compromised. "See you later, baby," he yelled at Margie Lou. "I'll bring you this big palooka's teeth to wear for a bracelet and some of his hair for—" It was about here that the starter hit Max for luck. The argument continued.

EDDIE had both an itching desire to get his hands on the wheel and an unfamiliar feeling of awe and tenderness toward the girl who was handling it. He did some back-seat driving, but Margie Lou naturally got no benefit from his muttered advice. Then, on a stretch of unobstructed highway Eddie squatted down and peered under the instrument panel.
Contrary to his expectations, there was the coin with the hole in it, hooked over the crooked nail.
With a murmured thanks to Lady Luck, he reached for it. Nothing doing. He'd forgotten he couldn't pick up anything.
While he was absorbed in his baffled indignation, Margie Lou took her right hand off the wheel, reached forward under the instrument panel. When her hand came out the coin lay in the palm.

When the next medals are given out I'd like to recommend one for the first person who combines all holidays into one 24 hour period. The Texas Longhorns and Texas Christian Horned Frogs jumped to the front of the Southwest Conference basketball race today following upset victories in opening games.
Forward Joe Ed Falk collected on a charity toss with one second to play to give the Steers a 59 to 58 win over the Baylor Bears at Austin. TCU renewed its old jinx over Southern Methodist for a 57 to 46 victory in the only other game played last night.
Tonight, Texas A&M entertains the Rice Owls in the only game on the schedule.
SMU's Ponies, who had racked up five straight victories before last night's contest, led only in the first minute of play, by 20 count.
The towering Frogs quickly grabbed the lead and boasted a 26 to 17 lead by halftime. In the second half, TCU never allowed the Ponies a sporting chance at closing the gap.
Forward Harvey Frome of TCU scored 16 points for the top individual performance, while center Paul Mitchell and guard Fred Freeman each sank 12 points to

Slim Blonde Fashion Model Does 'Strong Girl' Stunts As Sideline

LONDON (U.P.)—Girls have you ever yearned literally to twist ment around your little finger—to be strong as well as beautiful?
Meet Jean Rhodes, the "mighty mannequin," a green-eyed blonde with all the curves in the strongest girl in the world.
By day Jean is a model for leading fashion houses. By night she slinks onto the stage and wows a startled Music Hall audience by twisting steel bars around her neck and snapping six-inch spikes with her delicate hands.
Between acts she paints delicate pastel water colors.
Say's It's Easy
"Everyone expects me to be a beefy, muscle-bound freak," Jean said platively. Then, absentmindedly, she tore a twine-thick telephone directory into quarters.
Jean believes any girl can pull her strong act "if you have a normal constitution and put your mind to it."
She eats little but often. She skips breakfast, nibbles sparingly during the day and treats herself with a "big meal" after her act—generally a poached egg on toast.
"Most people eat too much, anyhow. It makes them weak," she said.
She believes in getting up late, taking a short walk if it's sunny and possible a swim if the water is warm enough. Aside from that she said she is lazy and proud of it.
With Circus Act
Jean provided the sex appeal for a circus strong-man act for two years before she said it looked so easy twisting bars she might as well try it herself. That was eight years ago and at 26 she's going strong.
"I'm a feminine person, really," she said wistfully. Her measurements: five feet seven; bust, 36; waist, 22; hips, 36.
You might think all this he-man stuff would frighten away boy friends.
"I get lots of proposals," she said. "Some try the line that I'm much too feminine to do that sort of thing and need someone to look after me. The other approach is that it's refreshing to see a gal drop the usual weak, helpless woman act."
Jean is still single.
"I'm looking for a real strong man who can twist bigger bars than I can," she explained. "After all I want a man who's not afraid to boss me around."

46 Escape Plane Crash
CHICAGO, Jan. 4 (U.P.)—A non-scheduled C-46 airliner crashed and burned when it failed on a take-off today but 46 passengers and three crew members escaped before flames destroyed the ship.
Late 18th-century English gentlemen wore a high hat as a "crash helmet" to protect them from the clubs of thugs who roamed the streets. The formal has as we know it today, developed from that oldtime headgear.

Veterans' Day Slated Jan. 31 At Stock Show

FORT WORTH—Veteran's Day at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show will be Wednesday, January 31 and one group of 1,500 ex-servicemen already is assembled.

They are taking veterans' agricultural education in a nine-county region. The visit will be considered a field trip, such as the veterans frequently take to see the practical application of subjects studied in class.

They will attend the judging and will do judging themselves, with the instructor checking the student's finding with those of the official judges. Some of the veterans will attend the stock show several days.

Fred Wadley of Arlington is regional supervisor, the area consisting of Tarrant, Dallas, Hood, Johnson, Ellis, Parker, Wise, Palo Pinto and Jack counties. County agricultural supervisors and co-ordinators will accompany the veterans.

Buttons on the back of men's formal clothes are an 18th-century heritage. Gentlemen on horseback used them to fasten back coat tails.

Attack On Ref Brings Ban To Whitesboro HS

AUSTIN, Tex., Jan. 4 (UP)—Whitesboro High School has been banned from football competition in 1951 as the result of an attack on a referee at a Nov. 2 game.

trict 15-B, to which Whitesboro belongs.

The TIL said Denison assistant coach Truman Wright was knocked unconscious at a game between Whitesboro and Denison High School's "B" team. Wright was serving as referee.

The league said the incident occurred after the Denison team scored a touchdown in the closing seconds of the game to tie the score at 13-13. Wright and two other officials were hit by a surging crowd of Whitesboro fans, the TIL said, but only Wright was injured.

Denison was not penalized "since it was shown that adequate protection by police was on hand at the game, and that only the suddenness of the attack prevented officers from acting."

The suspension from football will not affect any other interscholastic activities of Whitesboro, the league said.

Amman, capital of the Hashemite Kingdom of the Jordan, is a fast growing city. Known as Philadelphia to the ancients, it was but a mud-walled village two decades ago, notes the National Geographic Society. By 1945 it counted 60,000 inhabitants, and today boasts more than 150,000.

Do You Know 3 Major Kinds Of Heart Disease?

AUSTIN, Jan. 4.—What do you know about your heart? Do you know that the three major kinds of heart disease are: Rheumatic heart disease, high blood pressure, and coronary heart disease?

One of childhood's most dangerous foes is rheumatic fever, declares Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. A child is most likely to develop rheumatic fever when he is less than ten years of age. However, the disease is not confined to children.

"In World War II, about 40,000 men in the American forces developed attacks of rheumatic fever." This disease may damage the heart valves and muscle. Any child who has rheumatic fever should have the best medical care, plenty of rest, a special diet, and be free from anxiety or worry. Just because a person has rheumatic fever, is no sign he will have rheumatic heart trouble. But it's important to keep in close check with the family physician.

Coronary heart disease strikes those from middle age groups and up, more than other form of heart trouble. And, it strikes men more often than women. Moderation in daily living is very important, for if a person worries too much, works too hard, exercises too frequently and hard, and eats too much his heart is overworked. Yes, one of the best checks against overburdening the heart is... moderation in all things—and plenty of rest.

High blood pressure is another, important cause of death. Naturally, the heart has to work harder to pump the blood, when blood pressure is high. An overworked heart needs the care of a physician.

Sometimes symptoms of heart trouble aren't so noticeable; that is why a regular physical examination is so important. Heart disease caused by syphilis, congenital heart disease, and heart trouble resulting from an overactive thyroid gland, are a few other forms of heart disease. Stop and think about it for a moment. Do you give your heart enough rest?

Female Detective Natural For Job Of Snooping

By Elizabeth Toomey
NEW YORK, Jan. 4 (UP)—Only two women have graduated so far from the New York Institute of Criminology, but they prove what assistant dean Emma Predicker has been saying all along.

Women are natural in the field of private investigation.

For reasons best known to other women, feminine investigators do a more thorough job of snooping, Miss Predicker says.

"With their suspicious minds and natural curiosity, they work out very well," she added. Miss Predicker teaches both men and women the finer points of shadowing and writing up reports describing the scene of the crime.

You can't go right from the 13-weeks course to your own detective agency, since a man or woman needs three years of experience before getting licensed as a private investigator.

"But there are many more requests now for people to serve in factories, screening war workers and just generally protecting plant security," the vivacious shadowing expert said.

Policemen around the area have become accustomed to seeing the slim, well-dressed instructor start off an eager group of students on complicated shadowing assignments up and down Broadway.

"Women are especially valuable for shadowing other women," she explained. "Maybe the subject under suspicion is staying at a woman's hotel, or she goes into a lingerie department to shop. A woman can fit into the surroundings much less conspicuously."

One handy thing about this field for women is that no particular age, size or type excels. Different jobs call for different types of women.

"If you want somebody to get acquainted with a man in a nightclub, for instance, you'd want a sophisticated, good looking girl," Miss Predicker said. "But sometimes you want a chubby, plain girl to take a job in a lunch counter or to hire out as a maid."

"I can remember one case where we had to find a mature woman who would fit into the surroundings of a swanky resort hotel," said the assistant dean, who started her career in the investigation field as a secretary to former police commissioner James S. Bolan.

There's only one taboo. You can't be the flighty type.

"We must have people with mature minds. What they look like isn't so important," Miss Predicker said firmly.
