THE HOUSE CRIME COMMITTEE LOOKS AT CRIME ACTIVITIES

AUSTIN, June 2 (UP)—The House Crime Investigating Committee took a long look at crime activities in Dallas and Orange County today but their principal interest was still focused on the Sam Maceo interests in Galveston.

At least three witnesses were scheduled to appear today, the second day of the closed meeting, which was to open at 9 a. m.

First on the list were Louis (Chicken Louie) Farrentello, of Dallas, and Felix J. Demary, of Orange County.

At 11 a. m., an enlightened Sam (Books) Serio, business manager for Maceo Enterprises, Inc., was to resume his appearance before the committee, this time with records of the Maceo interests.

Serio balked yesterday at producing records during his initial appearance before the committee but Rep. Fred V. Meridith of Terrell, the Committee Chairman, said after a conference with Serio's attorney that he "changed considerably."

Meridith said Serio agreed to bring the records after the committee's power to cite for contempt was explained to him.

Also slated to be present at today's hearing were Dallas' Police Chief Carl Hansson and a representative for Dallas' District Attorney, Henry Wade. But Meridith said neither would be essentially a witness.

Farrentello, a little-known Dallas operator, is now free on $25 bond from charges of vagrancy and gambling. He was arrested in Dallas on April 2.

Meridith said that Demary "runs a little Orange County place just this side of the Louisiana line" and believed he also had interests in Louisiana.

Meridith said Demary was ordered to bring all his business records with him.

Four witnesses, all connected with the Maceo Empire, showed up for yesterday's closed-door session but most of the questioning was aimed at Serio.

Mac Jones Gets '51 Sears Heifer

Mac Jones of the Ranger Junior 4-H Club was awarded the 1951 Sears heifer, Tuesday, May 29, according to C. V. Whitaker, assistant Eastland county agricultural agent.

The program is sponsored by the Sears-Roebuck Dairy Foundation. For a county to receive a heifer it must have an organized 4-H Dairy program.

This award is made on results of a contest. Subject of this year's contest was "Why I Choose a Dairy Demonstration."

Mac's heifer is the third one awarded in Eastland county. Other boys of the county who have received heifers under the program are Lawrence Ingram, Scranton 4-H boy, and Edwin Hattox, Gorman 4-H boy.

VAN FLEET SAYS WE ENTERED A NEW PHASE IN KOREAN WAR

By Earnest Hoberrecht
United Press Staff Correspondent
TOKYO, June 2 (UP)—United Nations forces brought their drive into North Korea to an almost complete halt today, apparently to clear the way for a new attempt to settle the war by negotiation.

Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet, commander of the 8th Army, said in Korea that the war has entered a new phase and indicated his troops would not try to push deeper into the Communist homeland.

Others answering the committee's subpoena's were Frank Maceo, cousin of Sam and Rosario Maceo, Victory Fertitta, General Manager of the plush Balinese Room, a Maceo-owned Galveston night club; and R. N. Cox, auditor for Maceo Enterprises.

Rosario Maceo, the late Sam Maceo's brother who is generally believed present ruler of the empire, failed to appear but his attorneys presented a medical certificate saying he was too ill to testify.

Although today's and yesterday's hearings were behind closed doors, Meridith said they might open the way to later public hearings looking into organized crime in Texas and its possible link with outside syndicates.

More Oil Play On Near Here

Oil activity is playing in Eastland County today with several wells spotted near Ranger. The Thompkins and Fletcher No. 1 Nancy Bell Blackwell is a wildcat located six miles Southeast of Ranger. The location is 330 feet from the North & West lines of Section 19, League 2 McLennan County School land survey, Eastland County.

They will test to Ranger Sand which is expected at 3400 feet. Strawn and Duffer sands were encountered at a normal level with a show of gas and oil in each.

The Wallace Harrison No. 1 Madding is located 330 feet East and 165 feet North of the Northwest corner of the John York Survey, abstract No. 557. It is three miles West of Ranger. The test of Strawn sand began drilling operations yesterday.

The Nathan & Hutchison No. 1 Shook & Fox is producing from the Strawn sand at 1180 feet at the rate of 50 barrels per day pumpling. The well is located in the McLennan County School Lands Survey, six miles Southeast of Ranger.

Fire Destroys The Love Home

Mrs. Jim Love, 207 Gord Street lost her home by fire Wednesday about 12:30. The house and furnishings is a total loss.

Mr. and Mrs. Love moved to Ranger about six years ago from the Chaney Community. Mrs. Love had been living by herself since the passing away of Mr. Love some six months ago. She was away from home on a short visit to Abilene when the home burned. The fire was started by an undetermined origin.

Alleged Abductor Married The Girl

FESSSENDEN, N. D., June 2 (UP)—An alleged kidnaper's attorneys revealed yesterday that he is married to the 14-year-old girl he is accused of abducting.

Defense attorneys for Milbert Lammie, 32, Eureka, S. D., made the disclosure when the prosecution attempted to bring Beverly Kutz to testify.

They said that as Lammie's wife, she couldn't testify against him. Lammie said he married the girl in Sioux City, Ia., after the kidnap charge was lodged against him. Both he and the girl testified earlier that she went voluntarily with him to South Dakota and that he did not kidnap her.

Lammie said the trip had been the girl's idea and that they intended to be married in South Dakota.

Miss Kutz' parents said they had started action to have the marriage annulled.

WOUNDED TANK CREWMAN RECEIVES AID—A medical corpsman moves in to administer first aid to a wounded tank crewman being extricated from the disabled vehicle. ## Acheson Backs United Nations Against United States In His Policy Of "Don't Fight China"

WASHINGTON, June 2 (UP)—Secretary of State Dean Acheson defended the "all for one, one for all" idea of world security today as he fought off charges that America's Allies are hamstringing the Korean operation.

The collective security principle faced its most searching reexamination in Congress since the founding of the United Nations.

Acheson, called for a second day of questioning (at 10 a. m. EDT) before the Senate MacArthur Investigating Committee, found a tough debate on his hands.

Senators of both parties have challenged the security concept practiced by Britain and other UN Allies in Korea. They raised such points as failure of other nations to commit more troops to the fighting, opposition to the "hot pursuit" doctrine favored by the United States, and alleged heel-dragging on cutting off trade with Communist China.

As the inquiry shifted from military to diplomatic phases of the Korean conflict, the issue of collective security as pin-pointed by Gen. Douglas MacArthur himself became the chief topic of investigation. The general told the committee that the United States must "go it alone" if its UN Allies do not cooperate in pushing the war to a victorious conclusion.

Chairman Richard B. Russell, D., Ga., said he was gravely "disturbed" because the UN Allies met aggression by a "small power" (North Korea) with "enthusiasm, but showed a "lack of enthusiasm" in combatting aggression when launched by Communist China, a big power.

Acheson laid the groundwork for his defense in his opening testimony yesterday. MacArthur, he said, challenged the "bedrock" purpose of American Foreign Policy, keyed to joint action for defense of the free world.

The general's policy recommendations he said, would "severely weaken" Allied unity without promising early conclusion of the war.

"In relation to the total world threat," Acheson said, "our safety requires that we strengthen, not weaken, the bonds of our collective security system."

This ideal, he claimed, has been "put to the test" in Korea, "and has been sustained. The nations who believe in collective security have shown that they can stick together and fight together," he said.

"The power of our coalition to deter an attack depends in part upon the will and the mutual confidence of our partners. If we, by the measures proposed (by MacArthur), were to weaken that effect particularly in the North Atlantic area, we would be jeopardizing the security of an area which is vital to our own national security."

The question was raised if any of the UN Allies had "pressured" for MacArthur's removal because the general sought policies to carry the war home to the Chinese Reds.

"There was no pressure, representation or request of a n y sort by any of our Allies," Acheson snapped back.

Russell reminded Acheson that the Joint Chiefs of Staff had urged adoption of the "hot pursuit" doctrine under which U. S. fighter planes would be permitted to chase and destroy enemy aircraft across the Manchurian border.

Acheson said the State Department approved "hot pursuit" but encountered "strong" opposition from six UN members which thought it "unwise and undesirable." The State and Defense Departments therefore decided not to push the matter, Acheson said, and U. S. planes were ordered to turn back at the Manchurian border.

Services For Guardsmen
Worship services will be conducted by Chaplain Jasper C. Massege at the Armory for men of the 648 Armored Field Artillery Battalion Sunday morning at 8:00 a. m.

Under the new training a certain number of week-end drills are required for the Battalion with a minimum of six hours for each drill period. Sunday the group will be on duty in Ranger from 6:00 A. M. until 7:00 p. m.

The Battalion is making preparation for movement Saturday, June 9 to Camp Polk, Louisiana. The present drills are for getting the equipment ready and loaded for the movement, according to Captain R. Bruce Harris, Commanding Officer.

Joint Funeral Held
MERCED, June 2 (UP)—Joint funeral services were scheduled today for two youths drowned Tuesday while shooting birds with a BB gun.

Max Erwin Ricket, 14, and his nephew, Jimmy Lee Johnson, nine, drowned when they stepped into water over their heads while attempting to recover a hit bird that fell into the waters of Arroyo Colorado.

Neither boy could swim.

Publisher Says Thought Is Our Power Today

HOUSTON, June 2 (UP)—Former Gov. W. P. Hobby, President and Publisher of the Houston Post told the first graduating class from St. John's School last night that the world is in a desperate race between education and catastrophe.

He said there was hope that education can win out within this generation.

"There's a wonderful thrilling prospect that the race could be won—finally and securely—in your time, by your generation, with you as leaders," he said.

He told the 28 graduates that the key with which to solve today's problems is to be found in the very knowledge and imagination that created them in the first place.

"Anything is possible now—if we only act in time," he said. "Time is the only thing that cannot be replaced—the most powerful force in the world is not the Atom Bomb or the other engines of destruction, but is a thing much older than the Atom Bomb—that force is thought."

Laborer Faces Several Charges

ST. LOUIS, June 2 (UP)—Robert Ippert, 21-year-old laborer, faced a hangover and a variety of charges today after stealing a city ambulance.

Ippert told police that he had been drinking heavily last night and was walking near city hospital when he saw the ambulance in the garage.

"I just decided to take it," he said.

City police in a squad car, informed of the theft by radio, pursued Ippert to a wild, 65-mile-an-hour chase. As they left the city, deputy sheriffs from St. Louis County joined in the pursuit.

Ippert was stopped in the county after several shots fired by the police hit the gas tank of the ambulance.

He was booked on suspicion of larceny of a vehicle, speeding and other traffic charges.

Shivers Names Two Judges
AUSTIN, June 2 (UP)—District Attorney A. C. Winborn of Houston took over today as Judge of Criminal District Court number three in Harris County, while Houston Attorney W. P. Hamblen, Jr., became the new 125th District Court Judge.

His dissertation involved the study of an eighteenth century London newspaper "Mist's Journal," for which Daniel Defoe was for a time a prominent contributor.

Defoe won fame as a political journalist long before he composed "Robinson Crusoe," and it was his work as a secret agent of the government while serving on "Mist's" staff that added particular interest to Dr. Galloway's study. Materials for the dissertation were found in the Rare Books Library of the University of Texas.

CLUB OFFICIALS GO ALL OUT TO MAKE TOURNAMENT TOPS

One hundred and twenty-four golfers from all over the state of Texas turned in qualifying scores for today's match play in the Ranger Country Club's Sixteenth Annual Invitational Golf Tournament prior to 6 o'clock last night.

Defending Champion Buster Reed of Dallas may meet some pretty stiff competition in today's classic. Last year's runner up C. A. DeWeese joined Jack Milner of Cisco in firing a nest 70 to qualify.

Other qualifying golfers for the Championship Flight were Bob Sikes with 73, J. Phillips 71, Buster Creigh, 75, D. Tully, 74, Jack Cameron, 78, Charles Van Geem, 76, and R. Ferguson with a 78.

D. Stovell teed off the best score of the afternoon with a 69 to place in the Championship Flight along with R. V. Cole, 72, H. Loudermilk, 76, Bob Adair, 75, S. Conner, 73 and C. L. Wilson with a 76.

Qualifiers for the first flight were Paul Mosely who shot a 76, Paul Campbell with 79, Floyd Pearson, 79, Ross Elliot, 81, K. Cole, 77, Les Strawn, 80, Burton Jones, 79, Doe Poe, 81, Wally Smith, 76, M. Hubbard, 80, G. Dameron, 79, J. A. Robinson, 81, J. St. John, 78, P. Riding, 81, Boone Yarbrough, 79, and G. Smith 81.

An expertly cooked barbeque was served on the lawn of the Country Club complete with all the trimmings. Everyone apparently enjoyed the feed and a number of persons were heard to comment that it was the best they had ever eaten.

The Country Club officials are pleased with the attitude of the golfers who apparently are enjoying the affair. The general public is invited to watch the tournament. Play offs will be held tomorrow.

The special tournament rules are:

1. Play will be in foursomes.
2. Starting times will be posted and schedules will be adhered to.
3. If one player is late, the threesome will start play and the player that is late can join his group and start his game by accepting the loss of each hole that has been played by the threesome.
4. If both players are absent from one twosome, the other twosome starts playing as scheduled. If one of other twosome comes up after play is started, he waits for his opponent when they both can join the twosome already playing, starting even and playing the balance of the holes. If 18-hole match and one player is still missing when second nine starts, the game is forfeited to one present.
5. If one player is absent from each twosome, the other two start playing and the two rules apply. If neither of the other two players show up before the second nine is started, players can consider it as their next match if so desired and mutually agreed on.

U.S.G.A. rules will govern play unless otherwise specified on score card.

Bradley Favors Atlantic Pact
PARIS, June 2 (UP) Gen. Omar Bradley indicated today that he favors the inclusion of Spain, Greece and Turkey in the Atlantic Pact.

The chairman of the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff arrived at Orly Airfield at 11 a. m. (6 p. m. EDT) from Washington on an inspection tour of western Europe's defense forces. He was met by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the Atlantic Pact commander.

Asked if he favored including Spain, Greece and Turkey in the Atlantic Pact, Bradley said:

"There ought to be as many as us as possible to work for community defense. The more of us there are together the better off we are going to be."

"I came over to see how things are going along, and if there is anything we can do back in Washington. This is a hurried trip to pick up as much information as possible in the shortest time."

Britain Wants Korean Truce
LONDON, June 2 (UP)—Britain is "in touch" with the United States, the Commonwealth countries and other interested governments on the "possibility" of a truce in Korea, authoritative quarters said today.

Gospel Singers Here
The Weatherford Gospel Singers will sing at the Macedonia Baptist Church in Ranger tomorrow at 4 p. m. The public is invited.

Jack Galloway Visits Parents In Ranger During The Week
Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Galloway had as guests this week their son, Jack Galloway and his family, Mrs. Galloway and their two daughters, Mary Margaret and Ann. Jack is associate professor of English at the Texas College of Arts and Industries and receives his Ph. D. at the commencement exercises at the University of Texas Saturday night. He graduated from Ranger Junior High School, attended Ranger Junior College, and received his A. B. degree from Rice Institute and his M. A. from the University of Texas.

For his doctor's work his major subject is English literature and his minors were English language and philosophy. Jack has been on the faculty at A&I since the summer of 1946 and completed his work on the Ph. D. during two leaves of absence—from September 1948 to August 1949, and from June 1950 to February 1951.

U.S.G.A. rules will govern play unless otherwise specified on score card.

Men with similar names have traditionally harassed sergeants but never before had a situation reached the state which now exists in the 935st Technical Service Unit Detachment No. 2 at the Red River Arsenal.

Not only are there 9361st-ser's with the same name but also with the same face. The detachment boast three sets of twins including Billy and Bobby Hooks of Ranger.

The Army tries not to break up a set of twins.

Billy and Bobby Hooks are nephews of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Lee of Ranger. They made their home with the Lees before entry into service.

Power Companies in Argentine Find U. S. Cool Toward Loans

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—First feelers for U. S. government loans to electric power companies doing business in the Argentine have been turned down cold. This is the latest and perhaps the most hopeful development in the tangled tale of high finance between the two governments.

It is recognition of the fact that, since the closing of the great Buenos Aires liberal newspaper, "La Prensa," any further extension of credit to Peron's government would meet strong opposition from Americans. U. S. Export-Import Bank, which is a government corporation, has now disbursed over $78 million of the $123 million loan to bail the Peron government out of its financial embarrassment of a year ago. This was not a direct loan to the Argentine government. Technically the loan was made to a combination of Argentine banks. But the credit was guaranteed by the Argentine government.

Actually, none of this money is going directly to the Argentine. All of it will eventually go to American banks, exporters and manufacturers who extended too much credit to the Argentine, then found they were unable to collect dollars for goods delivered. Good old Uncle Sam came along with a loan to save their shirts. Just how many of these creditors there will be is still not known. They divide roughly into three classes:

First are 10 big banks, mostly in New York. They were all paid off in January for a total of nearly $32 million. Biggest beneficiaries were National City Bank of New York and First National Bank of Boston, which got $6 million apiece. Chase National of New York got a total of $8 million, but through five different accounts. The Bank of London and South America, New York branch, got approximately $6 million in two accounts. Agency of the Royal Bank of Canada got $2.5 million. Central Hanover Bank and Trust got $2 million.

SECOND class of creditor which will be paid off by the Export-Import Bank includes some 2000 bills for collection. Banks will again be principal beneficiaries here.

Finally there are an unknown number of open accounts of U. S. firms that shipped goods to the Argentine and never got paid for them. There are some big items in this category, including $5 million due International General Electric, and $4 million due Ford Motors. Many of these accounts are small.

Whether all of the $123 million will be required to pay off these long overdue accounts is still unknown. Argentine officials believe it won't all be needed. They have made a few passes at having any balances left over used as additional credit to buy tractors and such things. But Ex-Im Bank officials haven't committed themselves on that one, not being too happy about this deal, even in its present form.

LOANS to the private power companies still operating in the Argentine are a different matter. The Argentine constitution provides for expropriation of all public utilities. The formerly British-owned Argentine railway system has thus been taken over by Peron's government. So has the formerly American-owned International Telephone & Telegraph system.

Eventually it is believed the power companies financed by foreign capital will be similarly taken over. Principal reason this hasn't been done before is that the Argentine government doesn't have the money.

Since the Peron government is not a member of the International Bank, the Argentine can't borrow development loans here. There are two principal foreign power companies operating in the Argentine. Biggest is "CHADE"—Compania Hispano-Americana de Electricidad.

In the provinces, the principal operating company is an American and Foreign Power subsidiary of the Electric Bond and Share holding company.

Both these companies would naturally like to save themselves from the dreaded but apparently eventual Peron expropriation.

Handmacher Has Adopted Pro Ladies' Golfers' Assn.

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Alvin Handmacher felt that industry should contribute something toward sports.

So a year ago he adopted the Ladies' Professional Golfers' Association of America.

And Britain gets its first Ladies' Open—the Weather-vane International Cup Matches at Sunningdale, July 13-14.

Headed by the incomparable Babe Didrickson Zaharias and Patty Berg, six of the first seven in the Weather-vane Transcontinental Championship are, to fly to England to compete against the pick of British amateurs. Previous commitments prevent Louise Suggs from making the flight.

The proceeds of the inaugural British Ladies' Open go to charity, but members of the Weather-vane team have six other dates in England and France, where they will shoot for prize money.

HANDMACHER, a pleasant, reddish-haired man of 45, is paying all expenses as a reward for the players' participation in the Weather-vane Transcontinental.

Handmacher, who describes himself as a left-handed hacker, took a survey, found more women turning to golf than any other game. This appealed, because he is one of the nation's biggest manufacturers of women's suits and coats.

Tournament Director Fred Corcoran of the Ladies' P. G. A. couldn't believe his ears when approached by Handmacher. A real national championship, with 36 holes each at Pebble Beach on California's Monterey Peninsula, Chicago, Cleveland and New York.

This year the show went to Dallas, Pebble Beach, Indianapolis and New York.

There were 40 amateur prizes, 10 in each city.

One way or another, it costs Alvin Handmacher $100,000 a year to indulge in his hobby.

"Aren't Prices Terrible?"

PLUG 'N TRIGGER

By RONNIE LUSTER

United Press Guest Columnist
For sheer fishing enjoyment, probably nothing can compare with a jump to beautiful and fabulous acapulco on the West Coast of Mexico.

Located a little more than 1,000 miles south of Laredo over an all-paved highway, Acapulco offers spectacular scenery and even more superlative fishing.

The water can vouch for the authenticity of these statements, for he has recently spent several enjoyable days probing the waters around the Mexican resort with a wide assortment of gear.

Whether you drive or fly, the almost breathtaking beauty of Acapulco will take you by surprise as you clear the last mountain range overlooking the blue Pacific and the bay of Acapulco.

Normally, Acapulco is among Mexico's more expensive vacation spots. But, during the summer months the wealthy vacationers usually trek elsewhere and seasonal rates bring the price down.

But, it doesn't affect the fishing. Boats are more plentiful, too. The lovely waters provide a home for multitudes of game fish, ranging in size from one foot to eleven feet—and any size in between you care to choose.

There's a fish to fit almost any size rod or reel, from the smallest casting rod to a 14-ounce tip and size 12-0 reel. It is a virtual anglers' paradise and gives every indication of remaining so for many years to come.

Retired Carlos Barnard of the El Mirador Hotel—who might well be called "Mr. Acapulco"—saw to it that the full treatment was made available.

This good sportsman knows the Acapulco waters like the average man knows his own home.

Just a description was of the beautiful sailfish, which are as fast as that area are as goggle fish in private lakes in the state.

It is not unusual to have as many as seven or eight of these jumpers on your line in a short day's fishing. Landing them is something you've never seen.

It is not unusual to have as many as seven or eight of these jumpers on your line in a short day's fishing. Landing them is something you've never seen.

The way these fellows perform on a hook provides a show unequalled by any other fish. They leap, somersault, or even tailwalk circles around a boat in an effort to scale loose. Anything under nine feet is considered small.

THE STORY: An artist known only as "Terese, General Delivery, Cedarbrook, N. Y.," has saved the exclusive gown shop of "Jean Paul" from financial disaster. Paul Paniera becomes a figure in the fashion world, when suddenly the son of sketches from Terese steps. His partner, the model Jean Roland, sends a decoy envelope to Terese, and trails Midge, the farm girl who calls for it, to the Summit Veterans' Hospital, where Jean discovers that Terese is a veteran named Tim Reese, who has been crippled since Normandy. Tim had started to design as a means of obtaining money for an operation to make him walk. He had used the name Terese ("Terese") to avoid ridicule from his buddies. But the operation had not been successful and Tim, discouraged, had given up his calling.

IX

TIM REESE mused a moment before he gave Jean Roland an answer. "I guess the best way to answer that is to finish the story. At the end of summer, when I had earned enough money, I went to Boston for the operation. That was when I stopped sending sketches to Jean Paul. Well, I just got back. As you can see, the operation didn't work."

"But you haven't lost interest in living, have you?" Jean was groping for the right attack.

"Not altogether. But it's kind of hard to stand up and cheer when a pair of nurses have to lift you in and out of bed. And sitting here, the way I am, looking at a woman as beautiful as you doesn't make me break out all over with happiness. I'm afraid I'm not what could be called a hero. I am going to ride with the tide from now on."

Jean was worried. She saw Jean Paul—luxury, acclaim—vanishing before her eyes. She drew on her resources, became subtle, soft. She who had been modeling the cool sophisticated now began to model the seductress.

"You'd never give a thought to me, I suppose? And why I came out here today?"

She stood a step or two away from the wheel chair and her eyes, looking down at Tim grew soft and friendly.

"I'm giving a lot of thought to you right now." He laughed quietly. "Though I must say there's more than thought involved when a man, even a man in a wheel chair, looks at you."

SHE moved closer, grew intimate. "This may sound silly—but if I've got anywhere, it's because of you. It's your creations that I'm known for."

He blinked in disbelief. "You don't mean to tell me that you and Jean Paul depend that much on me, do you?"

"Oh, no! The firm doesn't but I do." His sudden statement of the truth threw her off balance but she recovered quickly. "I'm not the firm, I'm a model."

He glanced at the mink coat, was amused. "For an employee, you seem to be doing all right."

"I can wear anything they have." She smiled her best smile, purred. "I had to impress you, didn't I?"

He didn't even question the idea that the clothes she wore were more than she could afford and therefore not her own. Tim Reese at the moment was not questioning anything because he was so wrapped up in what he saw before his wheel chair. He had completely lost himself in her eyes. He drew a deep breath. "Holy mackerel, but you're beautiful," he mumbled.

She sensed triumph. "You will design for me, won't you?" Her voice was softer, more intimate than before.

He hesitated a moment. "Who is this Paul somebody-or-other who signs the checks?"

"He's the proprietor. Paul Paniera." She shrugged, was very offhand. "He pays the bills."

"I see." He mused. "He uses only his first name for the firm. Where does the Jean come from? You?"

"Uh-huh." She was even more offhand. "Mr. Paniera thinks I'm good luck."

"I'll bet you are. You didn't give him your last name, too, did you?"

"You mean—?" She laughed at the preposterousness of the idea. "Of all the ridiculous things! Married to Mr. Paniera? You ought to see him!" She was too beautiful for him to hear the hypocrisy in her laughter. "You really have an imagination, haven't you?"

Then, abruptly, to get control of the conversation again, she stood up, slipped off her fur coat and posed before him. "Remember this creation?"

She wore a subtly casual morning dress or beige wool with a pair of small brown carved-wood clips, and modeled it as only she could.

"Uh-huh, but I never remember it being as wonderful as that." He spoke in a voice hushed with admiration. "You make me feel like a genius."

"YOU ARE a genius!" She continued to model the dress.

HIS eyes were bright. It's the first time I've ever seen any of my stuff on anybody."

She slipped her mink over her shoulders, stood before him. He voice was soft again, subtle. "I need you, really."

"I can't believe that I can believe you need anybody." He looked up at her and now there was something he pleading on his face. "Maybe if I could see you in some of the things I sketch—"

It could be a triangle! Lizabeth Scott, left, Jane Greer and Dennis O'Keefe are co-starred and are component parts of a love triangle in RKO's "The Company She Keeps." This story deals interestingly with the problems of a parolee, portrayed by Miss Greer, her situation complicated by reason of the fact that she has captured the man to whom her parole officer, Miss Scott, was engaged. ## Joint VBS Parade By 3 Churches

Vacation Bible School got under way Friday afternoon in the First Methodist, Second Baptist, and First Baptist Churches. The success of the parade goes to the Fire and Police departments, Chief Founde, assisted by Ed Freeman and Gene Shuck led the parade in the patrol car. They were followed by the "Big Red Fire Engine" driven by Johnny Isbell with firemen Lem Rushing and Bill Ewing assisting. Many of the boys and girls rode the fire engine.

Approximately 250 children were in the parade. Every section of the city was visited by this enthusiastic group of boys and girls who will be in V.B.S. in one of these churches on Monday at 8:30. The Second Baptist will begin their program at 2:30 in the afternoon.

Boys and girls from any denomination may attend either of these schools. There is no charge for the two weeks of intensive "no text-book Vacation School". The pastors of these churches urge that the parents cooperate and otherwise assist in making this the greatest Vacation Bible School year in the history of Ranger. There are some 125 workers in these churches who are giving their time and scores of folks who are picking up the children who do not have transportation to and from the school.

Mrs. C. E. May, Sr., has as her guest over the week-end, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hay and son Joe Black of Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Flewelling, formerly of Ranger and now of Austin, were here to visit old friends Friday.

Slogan Adopted By 1st Church

"Saving the Sinner for the Saviour" is the slogan adopted by the First Baptist Church, for the next three months. All the services on Sunday, June 3, will be in keeping with the new slogan. One of the large attendances is expected for Sunday School at 9:45 and then a large congregation is expected to hear the morning message by the pastor in the comfortable-air-conditioned auditorium.

The evening services will return to their regular schedule 7:00, when Training Union will meet in the various departments. Then at 8:00 in the evening song service will begin and the evening message by the pastor. The evening message will carry the theme, "The four foundations in a Christian Home." Everyone is invited to hear these messages.

The ordinance of Baptism will be observed at the close of the evening service. "You are always welcome at the First Baptist Church."

The New Chapter For Methodist

Rev. Garland Lavender reports that on last Sunday, Methodists of Ranger closed a glorious chapter for their church, the old conference year ended. There were 4 additions to the church which brought the total for the year to 113. Of this number, 75 were received by baptism and vows. All connectional and local financial obligations were met in full. The parsonage family will attend the Central Texas Annual Conference at Waco beginning Wednesday morning, June 14 and closing with the reading of appointments on Sunday afternoon June 10 at 2:30. The list of appointments will be broadcast over KCLW, 990 on your dial, Hamilton Station.

This morning, the Methodist will begin writing "The New Chapter," which the pastor will use for his sermon topic. This message will be based on II Timothy 1:12—"I know Whom I have Believed." It would be a fine thing indeed for all our people to assemble together for holy worship in this first Lord's Day of our new conference year, says Rev. Lavender.

The general assembly for the Adult Department of our Church School will convene at 9:45, after which the various classes will meet in their respective places. Miss Mildred Balch will begin the morning worship promptly at 10:50 with the organ prelude. The Chancel Choir, with our young people taking the places left vacant by the college personnel, will enter the sanctuary at 10:55. The choir will sing for their Hymn Anthem: "Peace! be Still!" Regular evening service will be held at 7:45, with the pastor bringing the message, using for a subject, "When God came back." A 20 minute song service will precede the message. Everyone is cordially invited to attend services at the Methodist Church.

Sermon Subject 2nd Baptist Church Sunday

The sermon subjects for the services of the Second Baptist Church Sunday will be: "Witnessing Christian" at 11:00 a.m. and "Churches Dead or Alive" (Revelation 3:1-6) at 8:00 p.m. The evening services are back on the regular schedule. Training Union School meets at 7:00 and the preaching service at 8:00 p.m. Vacation Bible School will meet at 2:30 Monday through Friday.

Dr. T. Walton To Speak Mon. Nite

One of the highlights of the year for the Mens Brotherhood of the First Baptist church will be held Monday evening June 4, at 7:30 in the fellowship room when a delicious meal will be served by "Chief Allen Smith" to a large group of men who will be present to hear Dr. Truett Walton of Harlin-Simmons recall pleasant memories of the "long-ago," and re-visit acquaintances of the "good old days."

The men's brotherhood under the leadership of Felton Brasher and his corps of officers have been bringing fine programs each month this year and Monday night is expected to be the best according to the "Old timers" who recall the half dozen years ago when Dr. Walton was associated with the Junior College and took one of the largest men's Bible classes in the history of the church.

This was a "home-coming" for the men of the church who were members of the class taught by Dr. Walton while in Ranger. At these men he cordially invited to attend this program.

Dr. Walton home of the popular "West Home" after dinner speakers in the action and always brings an inspirational address that is full with humor, good news, and "common-sense." The time is 7:30.

The T.E.L. Class of the First Baptist Church met at the church Thursday afternoon at 1:30 for their regular monthly business and social meeting.

The meeting was opened with a song "In the Garden" at Mrs. Lena McDonough gave the opening prayer. The Minutes were read by the secretary Mrs. Corn Preslar and Mrs. D. A. Fawcett gave the song "Forgive" as a solo.

A devotional based on the thirty-third Psalm was given by Mrs. Shoffner with the entire group repeating the psalm in unison. The meeting was closed with prayer.

Refreshments of ice cream, cake and iced drinks, were served to Miss D. A. Fawcett, daughter Regina, Cooper, Preslar, Walker, McDonough, Roselee Lee, Shoffner, and Ida Hunt.

Mrs. Kate Cooper, and Mr. Roselee Lee served as hostesses. Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Jackson of Harlingen, Texas are visiting Mrs. Jackson's mother, Mrs. Ida Hunt over the week end.

Schedule For VBS At 1st Church

The First Baptist Church is proud of her part in the simultaneous Vacation Bible school that is being conducted in the city during the next two weeks.

A cordial invitation is hereby extended to all children, whose church is not participating in the V.B.S., to attend our school according to the pastor.

For the first time a well planned program has been set up for the three year old children for V.B.S. under the capable leadership of Mrs. Alvis Wood and some eleven other women of the church.

The school begins each morning at 8:30 and until 9:05 a joint worship service is carried out in the main auditorium. Then from 9:05 until 11:30, a series of periods for Bible, note book, songs, mission stories, Bible stories, Character stories, refreshments at recreation period and a hand craft class will be the order of service. The hand work will be something useful and the children will be permitted to take this and all other work home with them at the close of the commencement program June 15.

We are asking the parents to cooperate with us in this two weeks work in order that the school can function as it ought and at the same time the children receive all that has been planned for them.

Our school is graded into the following departments: Nursery under 3; Nursery 3; Beginners 4, 5; Primary 6, 7, 8; Juniors 9-12; and Intermediates 13-16. Children needing transportation will please call the church office.

"Some day I'm going to own a Roadmaster"

ONE thing that interests us mightily is the fact that so many people are stepping up, when they buy automobiles.

We've been looking at surveys, and it seems that just about everyone wants a better car than the one he's now driving.

So we know how you feel, and we'd like to help you make your dreams come true.

We'd like you to discover how fine a fine car can be.

We'd like you to stretch out in the room of a ROADMASTER—feel the luxury of its double-depth cushions—stroke the fine texture of its fabrics.

We'd like you to know the proud levelness of its ride—and its gentle obedience to your hand on the wheel.

We'd like to show you the many extras this custom-built Buick provides — at no extra charge when we come to make out a bill of sale.

But above all, we'd like you to experience two thrills found exclusively in ROADMASTERS.

One is the smooth might of its Fireball Engine. The other is the supreme simplicity of Dynaflo Drive, which is, incidentally, one of the many features included in the price.

We try to hold down our enthusiasm in talking about this masterful beauty.

We might claim — you'll find more room — more comfort — more luxury — a smoother ride — more conveniences — more thrill in a ROADMASTER than in any other car in the fine-car field.

But why spoil the thrill of discovery? Come find out for yourself how completely a 1951 ROADMASTER fulfills the dreams of the car you hope sometime to own.

And let us whisper something to you: The cost of making this step to ROADMASTER ownership is less than most people believe.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

... in the field of many values is the abstract of title. Years ago when the records were few there was not so much need for an abstract in many cases. But today we have about 700 volumes of 600 pages each. ## Death by Violence

By Darrell F. Holmes, Jr.

Chapter 13

The editor of the Daily Blade Herald looked at Charlie Flood, his star reporter since the death of Scoop Williams.

"You know what I want, Charlie boy?"
"Gotta be chief," drawled the young reporter.
"But no playing cops and robbers sonny."
"Okay chief."

Flood left the office and caught a cab to the police department. He looked up Dawson and drew him into conversation.

"Look Dawson," he said "The public wants to know what is being done? This crime wave has people afraid to even go out of their home for a show at night. If you're big enough... why don't you call in some help?"
"I know what I'm doing. I've been in this business longer than you have, been living and I don't care."

"Easy copper... If you have any sense in that head of yours, you know that any reporter could get any cops job if the paper would back him and my paper is mad enough over Scoop's death to back me to the limit. Unless you play ball, I'll crucify you at the front page until you are either pounding a beat so far back in the sticks that they can't find you... or you get that little tin badge rammed down your ugly throat. Now lets have a story!"

Hate it as he may, the veteran officer knew that this youthful reporter who looked about 24 could ruin him. He chased his tone and talked more caustic.

"Well, Flood, it's this way... the Ranger has been called in along with the FBI and I don't want that printed. Scoop played along with us on stories until we had cracked the case. That was we got more cases cracked and he got better stories."

"Well, I'm doing this and I say that I'm printing and anything else that I say well feel like I never did like you flat heads and will take no orders from you. Now goodbye until I return."

Flood turned and walked out of the station. The inspector mopped his brow with a handkerchief and remarked to the officer beside him.

"Wow, there's one fella that I don't like. Well as it goes—"
"Huh?"
"Some good and some bad."
"What do you mean when you said some good—"
"Just that some good and some bad. Look you don't ask me fool questions like that. Get hell out there and break this case and don't get killed!"

"Don't let that reporter get you mixed up. He ain't going to last long."
"See I pay you for service!!! Get hell out there and break this case!"

Saw Day had learned a lot. He knew the whole workment of the organization. He had learned that Chicago and New York gangsters were taking over and having a gang war with the small boys. He was about ready to move in late Rep. John Keen. Richards, 56, sometimes differs with the administration on foreign affairs. He held a reporter's hat not for making orders from the State Department.

of the boy from the murder department did a job. He agreed. The man he was to drive was an Italian fellow from New Jersey. He was around 5'10 and would weigh about 220 pounds. He carried a long bowie knife in a leather case. He was to kill a waitress who knew too much. Day wondered if it was Kitty.

He gave the car through several blocks of town and suddenly swerved into an alley. The thug looked hard at him and reached for his knife.

"Get in hell are you going in here?"
"I thought we were being followed."
"Sure, we are being followed—by our own boys. But they're lost or thanks to you. Suppose we get in trouble? Now we ain't got no cover."

"Well, heck, you-all ought to call me these things. How was I to know what was going on? I'm sorry."
"You oughta be fellow. Now I can't pull the job tonight until we go back and find them."

Day backed out of the alley. He was thinking fast and weighing several angles. He could take the guy in and make him talk while the other officers rounded up the gang. If he waited they might get wise and escape. Heck, maybe they were wise now. Following him like that. He didn't know. He had to play it immediately.

Day rammed his hand into his pocket and saw the thugs hand slide to his own gun. Day came out with a pack of gum and offered it to the thug. Now he knew they were watching him. He acted too fast for the thug. When he put the gum back, he pulled out his gun.

"All right, lay yore hands on the dash and don't try any tricks or I'll blow you to kingdom come."
"Are you a cop?"
"I'm a Texas Ranger. You thugs didn't think you could play around Texas and not run into us did you?"
The thug was silent. Then spoke.
"You ain't got nothing on me."

Come! Let us also go to the House of the Lord! Back to the Sanctuary where men meet the living God! Never before have women and men and children so filled the churches of our land. More than half of our population have signed on the dotted line. They have committed their lives to the keeping and guidance of the Great Leader. They belong to the Church. Why?

People go to church for many reasons, to be sure. Some go because it has become one of the good habits they learned from Godly and honored parents. Some of us go because we must have help for the difficult tasks we have undertaken. Other men have knelt at the altars of religion to have their strength renewed. The hour of worship has been like a warm bath of the spirit, from which we rise refreshed and relaxed and ready for whatever duty lies ahead.

The ideal reason for going to church is to become a part of that Life which is greater than our own. We really belong to the Whole of things and we are our best selves only when our single person is caught up into divine fellowship. We find that we live and move lost and frustrated until we become one with the Cosmic Life... until we find ourselves in our God. Let us go into the Church.

WSCS Will Not Meet Monday

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church will not meet Monday. Two meetings were held in one last week, and therefore there will be no meeting this week.

SERMON TOPICS FOR FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH TO CONTINUE ON "WE BELIEVE" THEME

Rev. A. Lynn Robbins, pastor of the local First Christian church announces that the sermon topics for the Sunday services will continue on the "We believe" theme. At the morning worship and communion hour at 11:00 a.m., his topic will be: "I believe that Christ will judge the Quick and the Dead." During the last several years, some Bible scholars have been attempting to discredit the doctrine of Scriptural judgment and this has caused a good deal of confusion among church members. The local pastor will attempt to demonstrate how the Christian teaching of a judgment actually enhances the worth of Christian living and adds strength and confidence to the church member.

The Evening Worship Hour at the First Christian church is now set at 8:00 p.m. and will continue at that time during the summer months. Tonight the sermon topic will be: "I believe in The Holy Spirit." There is great need today for an intelligent approach to the existence and worship of the Holy Spirit, within the realms of Christendom and not to rely on purely emotional display as a proof of "having the Spirit." We extend a cordial invitation to the entire community to share in these services at the First Christian church, a small friendly church serving your community with a progressive Christian Gospel.

Rev. Robbins to teach in Christian Youth Fellowship camp this week.

Rev. A. Lynn Robbins has been invited to teach two classes: "Approach to the Alcohol Problem" and "The Teachings of Jesus" at the annual Christian Youth Fellowship Conference to be held at Lake Brownwood this week. This conference is held in the Christian church owned by Lake Brownwood Christian Camp and will include high school age young people from Districts 14 and 4 of the Texas Christian Missionary Society.

MAC'S AIDE QUILTS — Maj. Gen. Charles A. Willoughby, above, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's intelligence chief, will leave Tokyo soon to return to the U. S. for retirement. Willoughby is expected to testify before at least two congressional committees to defend his intelligence work in the Far East.

Mr. K. H. Henson was called from Ranger to the bedside of his son, Newton Henson who is ill in the Pasadena Hospital near Houston.

The Rev. Ralph E. Perkins attended the 17th District Training Union elimination contests in Abilene Thursday evening when two contestants were chosen to represent this district in the state contests in Dallas June 2 where the winners will be selected to represent Texas at the Ridgcrest Encampment in July. Mr. Perkins is president of the 17th District Training Union Department.

The state Training Union Convention will be held in Waco November 22-24. At this time there will be all the contests that accompany Training Union Work.

Rev. Ralph E. Perkins brought the inspirational address for the Sunday School department of the First Baptist Church in Breckenridge Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Myers, Phyllis and Terry, will leave today for a vacation trip through Arkansas and Mr. Myers will visit his mother and sister in New York.

Good And Bad News Split The Headlines For The Week....

By Harry Ferguson
United Press Foreign News Editor
Balance sheet for the week between good and bad news in the hot and cold wars:

Good News

1. Round No. 2 of the Chinese Communist offensive in Korea has ended in the biggest United Nations victory of the war. All lost ground has been recovered and the UN troops have made a successful counter attack. The victory was won with unexpectedly small casualties for the Allies and extremely heavy ones for the enemy. The Chinese Reds have not been destroyed but the edge of their offensive power has been blunted badly.

2. Communism has suffered its second political defeat of the year able to poll only about one-third of the votes cast in provincial council elections. Next to Russia, Italy has the largest Communist party in Europe. Earlier this year there was a bad split in the Italian Communist party when some of its leaders broke away on the issue of too much interference from Moscow in Italy's internal affairs.

3. After about three months of fruitless negotiation in Paris, the Western Powers have called for a showdown on whether the foreign ministers of Russia, France, Britain and the United States can get together to discuss ways of ending the cold war. The three western powers handed a note to the Russians asking them, in effect, to say yes or no on whether there should be a meeting of the Big Four foreign ministers.

Bad News

1. The Communists are on the offensive again in Indo-China where the French are attempting to hold the line. This is an attack designed to gain control of the rice growing sections so the Reds can harvest the crop. If it were not for Korea, Indo-China would be the No. 1 danger spot in the world. The Chinese Reds would be pouring troops and equipment into Indo-China in an attempt to open up the conquest of neighboring nations.

2. The Korean war isn't over despite the bad beating the Communists have taken in the past three weeks. Gen. Matthew Ridgway supreme commander in Tokyo, said this week that the enemy still had the ability to assemble five armies and strike at the United Nations force again. He indicated they could launch another offensive without using the air power and tanks which they are known to possess.

3. The government of Iran stiffened its controversy with Britain over the seizure of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Co. Most doors that could lead to a negotiated settlement are rapidly being closed by the Iranians. A vast source of fuel that is vital to our European Allies and the Army which Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower is assembling is likely to be cut off shortly unless London and Washington can bring about a diplomatic miracle.

Repair Center in S. A.

FORT WORTH, June 2 (UP)—A B-36 repair center will go into operation at Kelly Air Force Base at San Antonio this week end, it was announced yesterday at Carswell Air Base, home of the giant 10-engine bombers.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICE

Christian Science announces all evil as unreal in its explanation of the Lesson-Sermon titled "Ancient and Modern Necromancy, Alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced" to be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, June 3.

The Golden Rule for the week is from the sixteenth chapter of Romans: "I would have you wise unto that which is good, and simple concerning evil... And the God of peace shall bruise Satan under your feet shortly." Further emphasizing the theme is this command from Jeremiah, "Is this thing commanded I them saying, Obey my voice, and I will be your God, and ye shall be my people; and walk ye in all the ways that I have commanded you, that it may be well unto you."

The Lesson-Sermon will also include this statement from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, "The Christian Scientist wisely shapes his course, and is honest and consistent in following the leadings of the divine Mind. He must prove, through living as well as healing and teaching, that
