US Warplanes Are Victorious

EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS Korea, July 10 (UP)—U. S. warplanes shot down their fifth Russian-built jet in four days over North Korea today and soldiers died in fierce ground battles while 10 men worked for a cease-fire at a conference table in Kaesong.

A B-29 Superfort gunner, Sgt. Gus V. Opler Opportunity, Wash. destroyed the enemy MIG-15 when a flight of jets struck vainly against bombers blasting the Sinanju airport.

In four days of futile challenges against Allied air might, the Communists have had five jets shot down and four damaged. No Allied losses or damage have been reported.

Sharp local battles flared along the east-central and the eastern fronts. Chinese Communist and North Korean troops launched several probing attacks and poured heavy mortar and artillery fire into United Nations positions. All attacks were repulsed.

South of Kumsong, stubborn enemy troops reeled back from one assault, regrouped and came back again. But they were thrown into retreat again.

U. N. patrols stabbed north of Yonchon, northeast of the conference site at Kaesong, and ran into heavy fire from entrenched Communists who drove them back. The only sector where there was no fighting was around Kaesong. Allied and Chinese soldiers even met face to face there without fighting. Both sides retired from the meeting without incident.

Helmet Gone But Man Survives OK

ABILENE, July 10 (UP)—Staff Sgt. Walter M. McCarty of Abilene, a fighter in Korea, is rapidly earning a reputation as a fellow with a good head on his shoulders.

When word came from Korea that the sergeant had been hit squarely on the head by a mortar shell and escaped with only minor wounds, Abilene citizens thought they were hearing the same story the second time.

On May 31, McCarty's parents were notified he had been struck on the head by a piece of shrapnel. He wrote that but for his steel helmet, "you probably wouldn't have a son."

In his latest escape, Sgt. McCarty was struck on the head by a mortar shell while standing to give orders to his platoon. His helmet was blasted to pieces by the explosion. But McCarty walked to a medic for aid. He had suffered only superficial wounds.

County Club Meeting Tonight

President A. N. Larson of the Ranger Country Club announces that there will be a meeting tonight at the clubhouse and urges all members make every possible effort to attend this meeting.

There will be a lunch in conjunction with the meeting tonight at 7 p.m.

TICKETS TO GO ON SALE

Reserve seat tickets will go on advance sale tomorrow with the ticket office opening in the lobby of the Paramount Hotel at around 2 p.m. All persons interested in advance seats are urged to make their selections early as a large crowd of people are expected to purchase advance seats.

The ticket office will be in charge of Mrs. Elsie Bergfeld. She was the former Miss Elsie Hummel of Ranger. Ticket prices are $1.50 for reserve seats and $1.20 for general admission, and $2 for a box seat. All prices include taxes.

Cotton Will Go To N. Y. Mart

MERCEDES, July 10 (UP)—After much pulling of strings in Washington and elsewhere, L. H. a Lower Rio Grande Valley secured permission to send its prize cotton stalk to New York.

The Texans had to agree, however to burn the stalk after it is displayed in the New York cotton exchange. A Mercedes bank sponsored a contest to find the Valley's best stalk. The winner was a 156-boll specimen from a field owned by Francisco Barron of Pharr.

Federal officials then informed the bank executives the stalk could not be sent East because of pink bollworm control measures, touching off the negotiations for an exception that finally ended with Washington agriculture experts giving in when they were assured the stalk would be burned after the exhibit.

Houston Boy Dies In Pool

LA PORTE, July 10 (UP)—An 11-year-old Houston boy, Lewis Roberts, died yesterday when he fell into a swimming pool at the Salesmanship Club's Bayshore Home six miles from here.

An autopsy was ordered by Justice of the Peace Calder Ewing to determine the cause of death. In a report to Ewing a doctor noted that the body had no water in his lungs, but that there were particles of food in his windpipe and throat.

Justice Ewing said the youth, the son of Mrs. Opal Roberts, apparently tumbled into five feet of water while the life guard, Miss Margaret Butler, 18, and the older boys chased a snake.

He was missed minutes later and Miss Butler and a youth dived in and found the body. Artificial respiration was administered, but young Roberts failed to respond.

Polio Cases On The Increase

FORT WORTH, July 10 (UP)—A sharp increase in polio cases at City-County Hospital the past week has resulted in a critical need for more nurses, officials said today.

Fourteen cases were admitted during the past week, and hospital officials said six additional nurses were needed in the polio ward where 24 patients are under treatment.

Truman Favored In Poll 6 to 1

NEW YORK, July 10 (UP)—American newsmen in Washington, Tokyo, Korea, and the United Nations voted by more than 6 to 1 that President Truman was right in firing Gen. Douglas MacArthur, a poll showed today.

According to the poll conducted by the Saturday Review of Literature, most reporters said they backed Mr. Truman because MacArthur evidently did not agree with American policies and the Constitutional Right of the President to remove a military man must be preserved.

Nearly all criticized the manner in which the president fired MacArthur, however.

The magazine said that more than 350 correspondents from newspapers wire services, magazines and radio networks were questioned in the poll conducted by Elmo Roper and Louise Harris.

Valley Ginning Sharply Off Now

HARLINGEN, July 10 (UP)—Cotton ginning in the Lower Rio Grande Valley is off sharply compared with a year ago.

Carl Wabel, chief of the State Agriculture Department's Harlingen office, said gins had turned out 1,988 bales thus far this season, compared with about 36,000 at this time a year ago.

He said the pace would pick up sharply within this week as the harvest approached its peak, and he expected 135 batteries to be operating on 24-hour schedules by the weekend.

Drunks Facing New Hazard

GRAHAM, July 10 (UP)—Next time anyone decides to dispose of an empty beer can or beer or liquor bottle in Graham, he'd better be careful how it's done, or it might cost him up to $100.

The City Council has passed an ordinance to halt what was termed a growing practice in the promiscuous disposal of such containers. Conviction under the misdemeanor offense provides for a fine up to $100.

Monument Will Honor The Dead

HOUSTON, July 10 (UP)—Monsanto Chemical Corporation will complete its $38,000,000 expansion program at Texas City by the middle of next year.

That date was predicted by H. K. Eckert, plant manager, in an address before the San Jacinto Chapter, Texas Society of Professional Engineers last night.

Eckert said the enlarged plant will be a monument to the 144 employees of the company who lost their lives in the Texas City explosion of four years ago.

Times Carriers Steal The Show At Safety Parade

More than fifty contestants gayly down Main Street Saturday morning in the Bike Safety Parade sponsored by Montgomery Ward and Company to show the citizens of Ranger that they intend to make it the safest in the United States for bicycle riding.

Several hundred people lined the streets to see sons, daughters, brothers and sisters ride bikes decorated to rival any floats that have ever traveled the same parade route. They also saw Don Deffebach awarded the first prize for the best and most original bike decoration. Don received $20 in merchandise and the congratulations of all the judges which included Chief Pounds, Mayor Crawley, and Brann Garner.

The other prize winners in the contest were:

2nd—James Croom, 3rd Patsy Norris, 4th Bill Creager, and Ronnie Jumper, 5th Duke Dixon, 6th, Leona Chick, 7th Norma Ann Mace, 8th Ray Dunn. All of the winners were given soft drinks and free show tickets after the contest.

The first place winner, Don Deffebach, 4th Bill Creager and Ronnie Jumper, and 5th Duke Dixon are carriers for the Ranger Daily Times and use their bikes in their work.

Another colorful float was ridden by Fred Green, but he was missed in the selection by riding on the wrong side of the stand. Had he not been disqualified it was felt that he would have been a sure selection for a prize.

Medal Winner Is Promoted

WASHINGTON, July 10 (UP)—Sgt. Stanley T. Adams, winner of the Medal of Honor for bravery in Korea, has been commissioned a Second Lieutenant in the Army Infantry.

Col. Ned D. Moore, who commanded the 19th Infantry Regiment at the time of Adams' heroism, pinned the gold bars of a Second Lieutenant on Adams at a Pentagon ceremony yesterday.

A native of Olathe, Kans., the 29-year-old Adams received the Medal of Honor from President Truman last Thursday. Adams now has his home at Kansas City, Mo.

Red Truck Still Loyal

SOMEWHERE IN KOREA, July 10 (UP)—A Russian-made truck, captured by American infantrymen, is still loyal to Communism.

The GI's patched it up with parts from other vehicles and turned it over to the company cooks as a food carrier.

"Every time we go somewhere, it just quits," said M-Sgt. Carlos A. Causey of Vernon, Tex. "It is sabotaging our transportation."

Sheriff Gets Back Diamond

FORT WORTH, July 10 (UP)—A three-carat rare diamond Shrine ring insured for $1,200 and owned by Fort Worth Sheriff Sully Montgomery has been recovered from a Dallas pawn shop where a Negro got $2 for it.

The ring and $225 in cash were stolen from the sheriff's wife who was the victim of a Negro purse snatcher here June 25.

Woman Asserts She Was Attacked On A Wild Trip To The Beach

HOUSTON, July 10 (UP)—A 34-year-old married woman told the Harris County Sheriff's Department today that she was held by a Texas University Student while a young soldier raped her twice last night on Galveston's West Beach.

Armistice Team Returns To Camp From Peace Talk

MAYBE GHOST USES PHONE

HOUSTON, July 10 (UP)—Mrs. Pat N. Hinson, a pretty mother of three, wished today that her "ghost service" would end.

In the past five weeks, she told police, she has had delivered to her house everything from a case of liquor to drug articles. Besides she receives calls between 2 and 4 a.m. from a person who never says a word.

"It started about five weeks ago," she said. "The first thing to arrive was a case of liquor delivered COD to my apartment."

"Since then I have been plagued with deliveries I didn't order and services I have not asked for."

Only yesterday, eight pickup men for cleaning establishments, who she had not called. Came to the apartment. Two others came on Saturday, plus a half of case of liquor she did not order.

Drug stores have recently delivered two orders she said she did not place. An upholstery repairman came out one day and countless taxicabs have made dry runs.

To top it all, six television repairs in two days came out to fix various kinds of television sets which Mrs. Hinson did not have.

"Some of the people who have been coming out have been getting mad," Mrs. Hinson said, "and I don't blame them. It's a waste of their time and money."

She said the calls were obviously being made by a woman posing as herself.

Maverick Puts Hat In The Ring

LAREDO, July 10 (UP)—Maurry Maverick, ex-congressman from San Antonio, is considering making the race for Texas' new congress-at-large position next year.

Maverick told Laredo newsmen he had not decided definitely but said if he does campaign it will be on a platform of full military preparedness as the best means to avert war.

The new at-large congressional seat, to be filled for the first time at the 1952 elections, is the result of Texas' population gains from 1940 to 1950.

Miss Texas To Be Chosen Soon

NEW BRAUNFELS, July 10 (UP)—The 1951 Miss Texas contest will be held at New Braunfels Park Aug. 3, 4 and 5, to select the state's entry in the Miss America pageant to be held later at Atlantic City.

Miss Margaret Sue Sommers, representing Austin, was crowned Miss Texas at the 1950 contest here.

RJC Night Class Is Very Active

Ranger Junior College regularly conducts a night class at the college three night each week as well as the regular day classes. At the present there are 52 students enrolled at night.

They offer six different subjects equivalent to nineteen semester hours. Dewey Cox is the instructor for typing and financial mathematics. Mr. Coody, high school principal, teaches government and sociology, and Mrs. Mammie Ruth Hamrick teaches English and education. All of these courses run from 7 until 10 p.m., Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

The night students receive the same instruction as the students attending the day school. The night classes enjoy all the privileges accorded the day students and all work is transferable to higher colleges toward a degree.

By offering these classes at night Dr. Boswell is allowing them to make work in the day to support their families to attend college and further their education.

The college book store is opened each night for the students and they are able to purchase their supplies needed for the work.

The next classes begin July 16, which will be the second semester of the summer session. For many ex-servicemen this will be the last opportunity for them to enroll. Anyone desiring to enroll is asked to do so this week by contacting Mr. Cox at the registrar's office. Mr. Cox can be found at the college all day and most nights.

Rita And Aly's Attorney Meet

HOLLYWOOD, July 10 (UP)—Rita Hayworth will meet today with her attorney and the lawyer of her husband, Prince Alyn Khan, to discuss details of her impending divorce.

Rita insisted yesterday that there was no chance of a reconciliation with the prince although the two attorneys hinted when they arrived in New York from France this weekend that they might try to patch things up between the former movie star and her Moslem husband.

Britain's plastics industry increased its production from 39,000 tons in 1939 to 146,000 tons last year. A productive capacity of 340,000 is planned by the end of 1952.

TALKS DO NOT INCLUDE ANY POLITICAL OR ECONOMIC JAB

By Ernest Hoberecht
United Press Staff Correspondent

IMJIN RIVER PEACE CAMP, Korea, July 10 (UP)—The United Nations Armistice Team returned tonight from an initial four hour cease-fire meeting with the Communists which began with a blunt warning to the Reds that only a guaranteed armistice can stop the Korean War.

The UN five-man team headed by U. S. Admiral Charles Turner Joy sat at the conference table in Kaesong with five Communist delegates for 1½ hours this morning and another 2½ hours this afternoon. First day's talks ended at 6:30 p.m. (4:30 a.m. EDT) and the UN team was back at this advance base 27 minutes later.

When the talks opened, Joy firmly ruled out any political or economic arguments. His tough statement in effect drove home the point that the Allies are not suing for peace and are not defeated but came to the conference on an equal basis.

The delegates came back smiling to the peace camp tonight. But they would not talk before an official briefing by a member of the team scheduled to be held within a few hours.

Truck convoys which had gone to Kaesong with supplies at dawn today, returned here at 6 p.m. (4 a.m. EDT). All crew members were ordered not to talk but one sergeant said:

"I can say this—we worked like hell today."

A U. N. communique said Joy told the Communist delegation at the start of the Kaesong talks that fighting will continue unless the war is settled on a just military basis guaranteeing against a reopening of the conflict.

He told the Reds the U. N. team would discuss only military matters outside Kaesong.

Meanwhile, U. S. Supreme Commander Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway declared:

"The great issues hang on this conference. But there is no forecasting the result until we have some facts on what happened."

Ridgway made a surprise visit to the front lines after seeing the U. N. emissaries off for Kaesong. He said he did not know if he will be in Korea until the cease-fire talks end but "I will be in the place where I am needed most."

The talks were being held in the northern suburb of Kaesong, in the center of a 10-mile wide neutral zone. A 15 by 18 foot room in a once-palatial mansion is being used for the conference.

The communique, the first on the armistice talks, implied that the U. N. did not consider either Formosa or the recognition of Red China as a seat in the United Nations as topics for discussion.

UN hopes for the just armistice Joy demanded were pinned on a staff of 63 persons, including the five negotiators, seven aides and a full complement of translators, secretaries and advisors.

The five-man team left this tent camp on the Imjin River at 9:48 a. m. (7:48 p.m. Monday EDT). Five helicopters carried the negotiators and their immediate staff on the 16 minute hop to Kaesong. One hour later the first conference session began.

At the first meeting, the communists rejected a U. N. proposal for a 10-mile buffer zone in the negotiation area embracing Kumsong, Kaesong and Munsan. The Communists said they would not fire on Allies in that area but refused to establish any definite corridor.

The Communists did accept an offer for immunity along the highway from Kaesong to the North Korean capital at Pyongyang, for protection of their truck convoys.

The Communists said they felt no need for a definite neutral corridor around Kaesong because they felt they could rely on United Nations forces not to attack in the area. They said their troops in the zone had been ordered not to take any military action against Allied forces.

(In Hong Kong, the Chinese Communist organ, Ta Kung Pao, said the Red negotiators at Kaesong will demand that all UN troops withdraw to south of the 38th Parallel and that a demilitarized zone be set up along the line. It said success of the talks hinges on this.)

INFORMS UN HEADQUARTERS—Col. Andrew J. Kinney, USAF (C) Atlanta, Ga., transmits (by radio) to UN Hq. in Korea, on progress being made in preliminary conference. With Kinney are Lt. Col. Lee Soo Young, ROK Army (L) and Col. J. C. Murray, USMC, (R) Alexandria, Va. Communist soldier (L, background) holds what appears to be a Tommy gun. (NEA Telephoto).

KILLER'S PACE

BY JULIUS LONG

COPYRIGHT 1951 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Star Williams fails to show up in criminal court to make his final argument in behalf of the defendant in the Bidault case and, while the court waits, I find him at the Strand Hotel in company with the famous lady musician Sonya Sareeta who holds a small automatic pistol in her hand. My name is John Marshall and I work for Williams.

EVEN with specially built-up shoes Star Williams barely made it over five-one. His head loomed disproportionately large on his small body. The exaggeration was increased by his wealth of brown hair, graying at the temples. His enemies had accused him of dyeing his hair gray to lend him his exceptionally distinguished appearance. Other enemies accused him of dyeing the rest of his hair brown, discrediting him with such age as to place him under the shadow of senility.

The truth was that nobody, excepting Star Williams himself, knew his age. He had been big time so long that most people regarded him as much older than he could have been. Yet the texture of his skin was almost boyish; there were many ridiculous conjectures to the other extreme. The date of his admittance to the bar was known, but a story that he had practiced many years in another state left room for more guesses as to his true age and experience.

"What's up, Jim?" Star asked in all innocence. "I'm sure that only something special would make you barge in on a lady like this. What's your trouble?"

"I've nearly gone crazy trying to find you!" I screamed. "Right this minute Judge Wanamaker is probably giving the Bidault case to the jury! Your shilly-shallying has cost you the Bidault case and ruined you!"

Madam Sonya Sareeta stiffened and eyed me with an unfriendly frown. She looked as if she might be considering picking up the little automatic pistol again. It was a popular 25 caliber model the type women admire so much. I wondered if Sonya Sareeta always packed a rod and why she happened to have this one in her hand when I had walked in. Maybe the clerk downstairs had warned her that she was about to be visited by a madman.

Star spoke sharply. "I assure you that I have not been shilly-shallying. I might add that I have not even been dilly-dallying. The time I have spent with Madam Sareeta has been most profitable. I suggest that you yourself catch her act at La Jolla Club."

"La Jolla Club!" It was too much. Star picking up with a night club magician. "For crying out loud, Star, call Wanamaker and tell him you're coming right over! If you don't you're ruined!"

STAR smiled thinly and deprecatingly. "Jim, when you've been around criminal courts as long as I have, you'll know that no judge will ever let a jury have a case without the defense argument unless he's waited a darn sight longer than Wanamaker has."

"But his deadline was 9:30! It's past that now!"

Star shrugged. "He's an old

Rose's silly defense . . . wouldn't fool a 10-year-old, not to mention a jury of 12 adult men and women.

wind-bag. He knows I'd make a monkey out of him if he didn't wait till I got there."

I groaned. "And it cost me a hundred bucks of my own money to find you!"

Star eyed me interestedly. "And to whom were you so foolish as to pay such a sum to ascertain my whereabouts?"

"Pete, the louse! How'd he find out you were here?"

Star chuckled in appreciation of Pete's knavery. "Why that mercenary barkeep! I sent over for a bottle a while ago!"

"Add you couldn't even tell Kitty or me where you were hiding out?"

Star eyed me with lifted brows. "Hiding? Hiding out? I assure you that I hide from no man! Least of all, Andy Tanner, the dashing D.A. of River County!"

"You might have had the decency to tell me what you were up to! You owe me for the hundred I unnecessarily spent!"

"Unnecessarily is right, Jim. That's why I can't refund it to you. I'm not responsible for your irresponsible expenditures!"

I fumed. "You'll pay me that century or get yourself a new slave! Well, are you going to stand here and yack-yack all day while Wanamaker runs up his blood-pressure?"

Star yawned and turned to Madam Sareeta. "Well, thank you, but a lovely and instructive evening. I look forward to renewing our acquaintance."

Madam Sonya Sareeta acknowledged this with a smile. "The pleasure was all mine, Star. Any time."

WE left. I kept telling myself: "If he hasn't the sense to care, why should I go into a fit?" But it was no use. I'd been with Star long enough to go crazy from the suspense.

But Pete had been right. This Bidault case was a sure loser, whether Star showed up in court. All the evidence was in. Andy Tanner had given his opening argument. There was only the defense argument and rebuttal to reach the jury. Nothing Star could say or do could influence that jury—of that I was sure. Rose Bidault would go to the electric chair.

The jury would never recommend mercy for a girl who had cold-bloodedly shot and killed her husband, even though the husband had been crowding 60 and been possessed of a couple of million dollars accumulated from many seamy business deals. The old boy hadn't deserved such a fate, especially from a scheming tart like Rose Bidault. The evidence had been simply overwhelming—Rose's silly defense that Barnett (Barney) Bidault had been accidentally shot when she had dropped her pearl-handled automatic pistol wouldn't fool a 10-year-old, not to mention a jury of 12 adult men and women.

ANDY TANNER had done a good job with his half-dozen expert witnesses. They were nationally known ballistics experts, and even Star Williams had been unable to get around their unanimous testimony that the particular model of automatic pistol was incapable of firing an accidental shot when dropped to the floor. Even if you tossed such a gun off the Empire State Building, they testified, its patented safety device would prevent it from going off.

Tanner, beefy-jawed and well-paunched, had sat back in his chair with a sly smile all through the defense, and in his opening argument to the jury he had dwelt upon his unassailable expert witness and Star's complete failure to answer the challenge of their testimony.

It did look bad. The sad part of the whole thing was that Rose Bidault had given her silly story of accidental shooting to the police before conferring with Star Williams, who knew as well as the experts that her precious little automatic pistol was incapable of being accidentally fired when dropped.

gued privately, at his request, with district attorney Stewart Heenan, who later quoted him as saying he had been "putting on an act" about his insanity.

Heenan said McCune apologized for causing him "all this trouble."

As sentence was pronounced, the former Waco man swayed on his feet and his eyes shifted about the courtroom.

McCune, who severed his sex organ last Feb. 15 while being held under the death sentence in the county jail, was asked if he had anything to say before sentence was pronounced.

"I got this to say to everyone," he said. "Goodbye, I'll see you after death."

During the hearing, McCune started courtroom spectators with two outbursts. At one point, he threw up his handcuffed hands and shouted something unintelligible. A few minutes later, he lunged at a table where defense and prosecuting attorneys sat, but was restrained by deputies.

Movie Stars Buy Royalties

BOWIE, July 10 (UP)—Oil activities in Montague County have become a star-studded production, a check of royalty ownership records showed today.

Courthouse records show such familiar screen names as Humphrey Bogart, Joseph Cotten, Screen Writer F. Hugh Herbert, Director Mervyn LeRoy, Carmen Miranda, David Niven, Dick Powell, Gene Raymond, Barbara Stanwyck, Robert Taylor, Cornell Wilde, and a number of others.

They're hopeful of following in the steps of other movie investors in Texas oil, like Bing Crosby and Bob Hope, who "struck it rich" in West Texas Canyon Reef Production with their partner, W. A. Monerief, Fort Worth oil operator.

Montague County's Hollywood cast is buying royalty in oil operations of Bolin Oil Co., near Spanish Fort, in the northern part of the county.

Numerous strata of oil have been discovered in Montague's rapidly growing oil industry.

The Bolin Oil Co., only recently announced the start of a new wildcat, the No. 1 Wild Laird, in the R. F. Millard survey.

H. O. Grace of Wichita Falls has spudded in the No. 1 L. I. Gist et al in the William Donoho survey, five miles north of Nocona.

AFTER TAXES—Newschart above shows that Americans spent almost half as much last year on alcoholic beverages as they laid out for shoes and clothing, according to Commerce Department figures. The $8,760,000,000 tab for 1950 was $210,000,000 more than in 1949. The report did not give volume sales for liquor, wines and beer, but showed there was an increase for the first time since 1947's all-time high. Other figures on Newschart compare amounts spent on other items of daily living with the eight-billion-dollar liquor bill.

HOW YOU CAN MAKE AMERICA STRONG — II

WORK LIKE YOUR LIFE DEPENDED ON IT — IT DOES!

Let's stop talking about this crisis, and do something. All the words in the world aren't going to make us strong enough to defend ourselves from attack.

Work will.

Plain, unadorned, dull, routine work.

We are the people who have got to provide the things needed to protect our freedom. Not necessarily working in a defense plant, either. Some of us will be making defense materials, but most of us must remain at our jobs.

And we must work hard at those jobs.

We don't have to wait for a go-ahead from the government.

We can start today. Work harder, work better, produce more. The more we put out, the more we produce. Multiply that a few million times, and America has more goods, more products, more wealth, to foot our freedom bill.

It's going to be a big bill.

American brawn and brains can pay it.

Let's get going.

CONTROL YOUR COTTON INSECTS MECHANICALLY

Make your part of the 16,000,000 bales and save your money too.

Mechanized Insect Control with the Nisbet Bug Catcher is more effective, far less expensive and much better because you can afford to use it frequently.

Insect control to be effective and to make cotton must be done frequently, regardless of the method used.

Mechanically, you control your insects for DIMES instead of DOLLARS.

Farmers controlling insects with Nisbet Bug Catchers are picking more cotton per acre than ever before from the same farm.

After-dinner conversation... BARRY SULLIVAN, BETTE DAVIS and WALTER SANDE, in scene from RKO's "PAYMENT ON DEMAND."

160,000 Due U. S. On "Gifts"

SPOKANE, Wash., July 10 (UP)—Virginia Hill, who admits that her underworld "friends" supported her with gifts of thousands of dollars, wondered today how to raise $160,000 to get her home out of the government's clutches.

"I ain't got the money," said the redhead who left an Alabama farm to become a close friend of the nation's top gangsters.

The Treasury Department seized her $35,000 house and most of her personal effects Saturday as security against $160,000 in taxes the revenue wants to collect from her.

A Federal Agent moved into the house while she flew back here Saturday from a mysterious trip to El Paso, Tex., on the Mexican border, skirmishing with reporters all along the route.

Miss Hill was forced to move to a motel until the tax claim is settled.

Miss Hill said she'll fight the government lien against her possessions. The government claims she paid no taxes from 1940 to 1947. That, she said, was because she had no income but lived on "gifts" from several persons in the gambling underworld.

"If they want $160,000, I don't know where they are going to get it," she said. "I ain't got no money, anyway."

"If the government thinks I owe them money, they must be counting in gifts of jewelry and parties back in the '40's."

"I went to those parties with men who paid for them. I didn't pay for them. And I didn't pay for the jewelry."

"But I filed returns from 1940 to 1947. Ever since then, I stayed away from all those people."

Rollers Used To Save Energy

COLLEGE STATION, July 10 (UP)—If you are the type housewife who runs with her tongue hanging out while serving a number of guests at the family table, it's time you became wise to the use of rollers and casters. Florence Low, Extension home management specialist, says that many a vigorous job can be made easier by putting household equipment on wheels, rollers, or casters.

For example, she suggests a rolling tray-table to carry meals from the kitchen to the dining table. It may also be used in laundry work, house cleaning, food preservation, and even for outdoor work such as gardening or painting.

Mrs. Low says that a rolling table in the laundry is more convenient than a wall counter because it can be located wherever needed. It may be by the washer for sorting clothes, near the sink for sprinkling, or beside the ironing board to hold the clothes before and after ironing.

Army Mules Go Over The Hill

SOMEWHERE IN KOREA, July 10 (UP)—Six insulted Army mules have gone over the hill.

American tankmen borrowed them from South Korean troops for a polo contest. They behaved like bucking broncos during the match.

"Later that evening, they became glum and sad," said M-Sgt. Ernest Kaiser (931 W. Wildwood Dr.) San Antonio, Tex. "The following morning they were gone."

Dewey Visits 10th Corps

WITH 10TH CORPS, Korea, July 10 (UP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, of New York, was greeted here today by Sgt. Lew Jenkins, former lightweight champion of the world now back on active duty as a platoon sergeant.

Dewey, flying in helicopters and light aircraft, twice was within earshot of Allied artillery fire during the day.

The governor discussed some of Jenkin's 1940-41 fights in New York with the former champ.

Two Texans At N. Y. Convention

NEW YORK, July 10 (UP)—The Shrine Records Association meeting in conjunction with the Annual National Shrine Convention, elected two Texans among its officers for the coming year.

H. Ward Collier, of Moslah Temple, Fort Worth, was elected third vice president. Albert Ellis of Mascot Temple, Wichita Falls, was elected secretary-treasurer.

Merle L. Davis Dies Monday

Merle LeRoy Davis, 68, longtime Eastland resident, died at his home in the Norwood Addition Monday.

Davis was born January 7, 1883 and had lived in the Norwood Addition for some 30 years. He had been in ill health for some time.

Services will be held at 3 p.m. Wednesday at the Hamner Funeral Chapel.

Survivors include two sons, Fred and Ralph. His wife died about three weeks ago.

Pasture Control Vital To State

Improvement and maintenance of established pastures and recovery of the state's range land from nonforage growths are more closely associated in Texas than in other states because both are basic to problems in animal grazing. In order to identify and delimit the duties in these related fields at the A&M College Extension Service is served both by a pasture and a range specialist.

Working mainly within areas of permanent or converted grazing lands, the pasture specialist through demonstrational teaching, tours and other proved methods during 1950 sought to place pastures among farm cash crops. Among effective means to this end he encouraged the use of quality fertilizers, especially when seeding, and field trials of adapted varieties of grass. In connection with the latter, the specialist acted on behalf of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station in distributing sprigs of coastal bermuda grass to more than 300 farmers in 21 counties.

During the year more than 70 pasture tours, instigated largely by county agricultural agents and other organizations identified with agriculture, were made with average attendance of about 50 persons. Fully one third of the formal tours were followed by night meetings for discussion of pasture problems and showing of appropriate colored slides.

"This is my Property— . . . and I can prove it" was an announcement displayed on a signboard placed in front of a farm home which all motorists could see as they passed that way. As we read the words we wondered why it was necessary to have such a notice anyway. If this man really owned the place and could prove it, he had a good title, probably a title policy, both based on an abstract. No other proof or notice would be necessary.

Amos 'N Andy Make TV Debut

HOLLYWOOD, July 10 (UP)—The man who helped put Amos 'N Andy on television said today it took 2 1/2 years and $50,000 to do it—even with President Truman and Gen. Dwight Eisenhower helping out as talent scouts.

"It was a heartbreaking, discouraging job," sighed James Fonda, associate producer for the TV series. "There were many times when I felt like giving up."

"After J. Freeman Gosden and Charles Correll spent 23 years building up those characters we had to make them look and sound like people imagined them."

And for almost three years Fonda and Gosden and Correll looked. They scoured New York and Chicago and Baltimore and Hollywood and Tulsa and Washington.

They even told the President of the United States about their troubles. He suggested they look through the southern universities.

Gen. Eisenhower thought he had just the man to play the "Kingfish"—an orderly who was with him in Europe during the war.

"We finally found him—through the War Department," Fonda said. "But he wasn't quite right for the role."

The trio even went through a period of testing big-name actors. Candidates included Jack Oakie, Cab Calloway and Marvin Miller. That didn't work either.

"We talked to almost 800 actors during the search," Fonda said. "And finally we heard about a man named Alvin Childress who sounded like a good 'Amos.' But by the time we got his address he'd left town."

"Then we got a line on a good 'Andy' but we couldn't find him anywhere."

Somebody heard he was running an art shop in Tulsa and we tracked him down. His name was Spencer Williams and he sent us a record and a picture—in a rented derby.

"The minute we heard his voice and saw him in that hat we said: 'He's it!'"

By this time they'd caught up with Childress and signed him to be Amos. But they still needed their Kingfish.

"I had found a man named Tim Moore in Chicago," Fonda said. But his voice didn't record quite right. He photographed perfectly, though.

"So I kept him in the back of

Knockout Was Predicted Today

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 10 (UP)—Rocky Graziano, former middle-weight champion, predicted today that he would knock out veteran Cecil Hudson before the fifth round of their 10-round bout tonight.

"Hudson's plenty good, but I think I can stop him before the fifth round," the hard-punching Brooklyn boxer said.

Graziano's views were echoed by experts on the eve of Kansas City's second big boxing show at Municipal Auditorium within a month.

But Hudson, a easy negro from San Jose, Calif., thought more highly of his chances. He said he'd been knocked out only once in his 104 professional fights—by Irish Bob Murphy in his last bout.

ROOSTER GOES FOR A DUCK—It certainly must have been hot in Aintown, Pa., if it forced this rooster into the swimming pool of the Max Hess home to cool off. Playing with the duck-minded rooster is little Jean Hess, 7, who got him as an Easter present three months ago.

Special Officer Killed By Shot

LAREDO, July 10 (UP)—Special policeman Jose Mendoza was shot to death early today in Nuevo Laredo, Mexico and a search was under way in both border cities for a 21-year-old U. S. citizen whose residence was not established.

Mendoza, a tavern watchman, was shot six times with a .32 automatic revolver.

Unique Races At Picnic Thursday

The Auxiliary to the Veteran's of Foreign Wars of the Ralph McKinley Post will have a picnic at 7:30 Thursday evening at the Willows.

There will be many things of interest at this picnic. To add to the amusement there will be a race between the fat women. Each contestant must weigh over 200 pounds to be eligible to enter. A loving cup will be given to the winner. There will also be a prize for the fattest man and woman and another for the skinniest man and woman. There will be a nice prize for the member of the Auxiliary who gets the most people to come to the picnic.

Many other games of interest will be participated in and unique prizes given. Herbert Rapp, of the Tower Theatre, Kirk Wheat of the Wheat Wrecking Yard and Brann Garner of the Arcadia Theatre will help furnish the prizes along with members of the Auxiliary.

Everyone is invited to come—just bring along a well filled basket of goodies—and have an evening of old-timey fun and fellowship.

EVIL FOR WEEVILS—Astride his converted tractor, E. E. Perry, of Henderson, Tex., demonstrates his "dream" invention that he says will exterminate boll weevils. Perry, a 30-acre tenant farmer, says the idea for the complicated machine (circled in photo) came to him in a dream. The tank is filled with an insecticide made to his own formula. This flows down through twin tunnels past the tractor's hot exhaust pipes. The heat vaporizes the liquid which is then sprayed through nozzles onto the rows of cotton.

Red Trustee Won't Talk

NEW YORK, July 10 (UP)—A Civil Rights Congress Bail Fund Trustee refused in Federal Court today to say whether he had seen four American Communist Politburo Members since they became fugitives.

Federal Judge Sulvester J. Ryan told the Trustee, W. Alphonse and Mrs. C. C. Putnam.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Raines and Glenda are visiting in Odessa.

Rev. Jasper Massagee is attending the Baptist General Encampment in Leaders. He will be conducting a class each morning in the "Junior Manual" for Training Union members and workers.

Hunton, that he intended to hold him in Contempt of Court unless he answered questions.

Hunton refused, under questioning by Ryan and U.S. Attorney Irvine H. Saypol, to answer 35 questions relating to the bail fund. The fund posted $80,000 bail in 1949 for the four top Communist, who failed to appear last Monday to go to jail for conspiring to teach the violent overthrow of the government.

Hunton declined to answer on the ground that the answers might tend to incriminate him. He claimed privilege under the fifth amendment to the constitution.

Hunton told him that he felt the refusal to answer was designed to "thwart the purposes of this inquiry." The court was attempting to learn the names of persons who have lent money to the fund on the ground that knowledge of the names might lead to disclosure of the whereabouts of the fugitives.

Another bail fund trustee, Millionaire Frederick Vanderbilt Field, was sentenced to 90 days in prison Friday on a contempt citation because he refused to disclose the names. Field, who spent the weekend in jail was expected to be freed on $10,000 bail late today.

It was disclosed earlier that the U. S. Attorney's office had rejected Lloyds of London of $10,000 bail for Field.

The first celebration of the Declaration of Independence was not held on July 4. It was held on July 8, 1776—four days after Congress officially adopted the historic document.
