SEEN OR HEARD

A. B. Avinger's father was in the Times office yesterday seeing about his subscription and said that his son was in the Veteran's hospital in Dallas with his leg broken up close to the hip.

It seems that his son was on a horse and it ran under a clothes line knocking him off and breaking his leg.

The elder Mr. Avinger said as far as the peanut crop was concerned there wasn't any, most of the peanut crop will be baled for hay.

Gaston Dixon said yesterday afternoon he was out of town when the rig fell and he was not quite up on the score as yet.

Mrs. Charlie Robinson called the Times this morning and said: "I think the derrick should go back up. I nearly got run over there after the derrick fell."

Mrs. Robinson mentioned that she had been in Gorman the day before and some of the Gorman people were commenting about the loss of the derrick.

Bill Harper and Billy Ferguson both think the derrick should be replaced. Billy Ferguson said, "we gotta have some place to make a U-turn."

Bill Duncan wants the derrick back up or something in its place. "The Walker just said 'yes' when he was asked if the derrick should go back."

"Yes one thousand times! Ranger would be lost without the derrick," is what Lottie Wright who lives on Cherry Street had to say.

Jack Robinson was a little skeptical, but he thinks maybe the derrick should go back in some shape or form.

After finding what the two veteran paper boys do with their earnings we thought it might be interesting to see how the new ones are doing.

Take Bill Creager for instance, he has been on his route for six months. In that period of time Bill has saved $65, not bad for just six months, besides the money he keeps out to spend personally.

Asked what he was going to do with his money and Bill replied, "find something I want and buy it."

He collects horse pictures and wants to be a county agent, at first he said he wanted to run a soda pop store then though better of that and decided to be a county agent.

Bill is ten years old and lives with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Creager at 441 West Main.

Ronnie Jumper of 108 Sue Street, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Jumper, has been working for five months and purchased himself a bicycle and a dog.

Age 12, he attends Hodges Oak Park School and plays football with the school team. He says his grades range from A to C.

Here is a boy that is really off to a start, having saved twenty dollars from his first month's earnings.

James Williams is saving to buy himself a motor scooter to deliver his paper route on.

His work doesn't cause him to neglect his grades, getting either an A or a B on his report cards at Hodges.

Clifford Estes says that he has tried to save money in the five months on the route, "but that don't do much good". He has used his money to buy clothes and parts for his bicycle and will try to get a new one.

His parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Estes of 319 Strawn Road. While is a very busy boy. He has thirteen year old Jerry Don one route now and will take an

Eastland Pilot Gets Credit For Sinking North Korean Transport

Capt. Billy M. Jones, Eastland-born air veteran of the Korean war, said here Sunday, that his blasting of a 10,000 ton North Korean transport developed into an Air Force-Navy controversy. It was soon learned, however, that the air force group was right.

Capt. Jones has been visiting his mother, Mrs. Ora B. Jones, 611 South Seaman for several days. And while in Eastland he has related accounts of several attacks and skirmishes.

Concerning the bombing of the transport the navy insisted that it could not have been a North Korean boat because it could not have passed through their blockade. It developed later that the ship did pass through the blockade.

Jones and his crew had been informed by the intelligence that six North Korean ships were in harbor, and they, as well as others wanted to make a kill. However when they got there, there was only one ship and Jones and his crew got credit for putting it out of commission.

Four A-26 twin engine attack bombers, led by Jones, set upon the transport, "My bomber", he said, set a 50-pound bomb right down the stack on the first run. Fire bombs from two other ships walked the deck and docks. We also blasted six tugs unloading the ship.

Flak from shore anti-aircraft batteries prevented Jones circling and sinking the ship. He heard later the ship finally broke in two and sank.

Jones participated in the first UN raid on Pyongyang, North Korean capital, just three days after fighting broke out in June, 1950. He was in numerous battles and attacks, in fact made 42 successful missions before his luck ran out. He describes his 43rd mission in this manner:

At an altitude of 6,500 feet, his A-26 lost its elevator on a flight from Japan to North Korea. Tailless, the bomber was hurled downward, out of control, Jones said.

Jones and his three crew members bailed out over Honshu. The pilot landed at the base of a mountain. His navigator fell into the sea, and the bombardier came down on top of a Japanese house. Jones said the gunner was found dead.

The crippled A-26, loaded with 4, 1,000 pound bombs, crashed into a Japanese farm house, Jones said. Only evidence of the crash was three gaping holes and scattered wreckage.

What's the biggest fear of Allied airmen in Korea? Jones said Chinese flak batteries. Secondly, being shot down behind enemy lines.

Jones has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Air Medal, and a Bronze Star Medal.

His mother said that he would like to play football but was injured and the doctor said no. That doesn't stop him from being interested in the game. This is his first year in the Boy Scouts since he is just twelve years old.

From what we have found out about the paper boys delivering the Ranger Times it seems that it would be hard to find a better bunch of boys anywhere.

Mrs. Joe Dennis, circulation manager, says she is very proud of her paper boys, and that they are one of the best groups that she has ever had.

Important Fire Meeting Monday Fire Chief Charlie Isbell said Saturday morning, there will be a very important fire meeting Monday evening at the fire station, at 7 o'clock.

He urged all members of the Volunteer Fire Department to attend the meeting.

Ranger College Students Send Money for Rig

(Editor's note: The following letter was sent special delivery to the publisher of the Ranger Daily Times by three persons away at college that are interested in the derrick. They have made more progress toward another derrick than we right here at home in that they have backed up their ideas with monetary contribution. There is now in the fund to replace the derrick one dollar.) Dear Mr. Dennis:

As citizens of Ranger, Texas, and members of the younger, and possibly future controlling generation of Ranger we send this letter in regards to the Oil Derrick.

When we first heard of nature's destruction of the old, yet beautiful landmark, it came as disappointing news. To think that the old "U" turn was gone and might not be replaced. Many hours of our youth were spent in circling this old monument to Ranger and to the oil boom that made Ranger.

When returning home from vacations and college life to Ranger, the Oil Derrick was always the first thing we saw (and the first thing we looked for.)

In our joint opinions there is no doubt whatsoever as to the necessity of reconstructing the most picturesque landmark in the world. Ranger was made by oil and has progressed by oil. The derrick was a memory of that glorious boom—that wealthy progress.

In reconstructing the derrick (which we of Ranger MUST do) it should be reconstructed in the same dimensions as before if not in greater proportions. The derrick has always seemed a living part of Ranger. How can some people feel that it should not be reconstructed or that it should be replaced in smaller, degrading dimensions? Rather than to have a smaller derrick there we would prefer nothing. A small derrick could not possibly uphold the true tradition and custom of the site of one of the world's largest oil booms.

People from far and wide know of the rustic landmark which has made Ranger proud for years. To represent our statement we give this example: If the Statue of Liberty were destroyed would the people of the United States hesitate to reconstruct it as before? Of course not, and a smaller statue would not be thought of. And the idea of a different location! May the person who made this statement hide his face from Ranger patriots.

Is the Oil Derrick now just to be a legend for us to tell our children of? Some say the missing derrick makes Ranger look cleaner. If vacancy or a ghost-town resemblance can be called cleanliness this is so. In the past we have never heard comments as to the derrick marring Ranger's beauty. It has always been very much a part of the beauty that Ranger can claim as a small town.

In closing this letter of request from three members of the youth of Ranger we would like to send a meager bit ($1.00) to go towards a new derrick. If some gracious person (with money) doesn't see the need for donating a new derrick we are sure that the citizens of Ranger can do it themselves. When and if a new derrick goes up we will be proud to know that we had something to do with it.

Hopefully and sincerely, Billy Jack Perrin, Jack Waddington, Tony Lewis, Students at North Texas State College, Denton, Texas.

Mrs. Rosenberg Tells Troops Pay Raise Slated SENDAI, Japan, Oct. 27 (UP)—Mrs. Anna Rosenberg, assistant Secretary of Defense, told American troops today she thinks the next Congress will give them a 10 per cent pay boost, retroactive to Nov. 1.

"It will be the first order of business before Congress in January," she told soldiers of the 40th Division. "There is every reason to believe it will pass."

Mrs. Rosenberg said all U. S. servicemen ordered to duty since the beginning of the Korean War are entitled to all the benefits of the G. I. Bill of Rights and added, "You are going to get them."

After a brief talk from a speaker" stand on the parade ground, Mrs. Rosenberg went down among the troops to answer questions. She instructed the "brass" to remain behind.

Air Battles Rage Over North Korea

UN Offers to Give Islands For War Truce

PANMUNJOM, Korea, Oct. 27 (UP)—The United Nations offered today to withdraw from certain islands off the Communist-held Korean coast in an effort to gain the Reds' acceptance of a proposed line close to the present battle-front.

UN negotiators also offered to make "minor refinements" in their proposed cease-fire line but refused to bargain over a major withdrawal.

The Communists held out for a truce line further south in accord with their proposal Friday. But Communist newsmen who normally reflect the official Red position predicted a heavy period of horse-trading.

Actually the two proposed lines are not too far apart. There was rising but guarded optimism that a cease-fire line could be established, paving the way to the end of the war, now in its 17th month.

UN officers made it clear at the armistice subcommittee session that they could not agree to any major withdrawal from the line they proposed Thursday. This line would run along the present battle-front except for a trade of 209 square miles at each end of it.

They said the proposal by no means represented a "bargaining position," that is, an attempt to ask for more than they expected to get.

"The UN proposal is realistic," a spokesman said. "There is no substantial fat in it that can be trimmed off. Only minor refinements can be accepted."

He did not identify islands. They were presumed to be small islands close to Wonsan harbor sized by South Korean Marines under cover of U. S. warships.

Much of the meeting was devoted to the location of the battle-line as of the previous midnight. The Communists agreed with UN maps for most of the front but doubted there had been any contact north of Kumsong on the central sector.

District Court Closes; Jurors Need Not Appear

Petit jurors subpoenaed for service in the 31st District Court for next week have been dismissed for the entire term. The case set for Monday has been settled and all other cases have been continued until the next term of court.

Mary Ann Elder FFA Sweetheart

Bill Harper, reporter for the Ranger Future Farmers of America, announced Miss Mary Ann Elder was the new sweetheart of the chapter.

The election of Miss Elder concluded a four week's race starting with eight candidates and eliminating all but one from each class for the final race.

Mary Ann will be given a sweet heart jacket by the chapter and will represent them at the district meeting and banquet.

Revolt Planners Face Court Trial

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Oct. 27 (UP)—The government has called for federal action against 47 opposition politicians as "accomplices, instigators and apologists" of the abortive revolt last month against President Juan D. Peron's regime.

Among those named in the court writ submitted last night are Ricardo Balbin and Arturo Frondizi, the radical party's candidates for president and vice president in the Nov. 11 elections.

Highway Chairman Will Address the WTCC Meeting

AT WTCC CONVENTION — E. H. Thornton, Jr., chairman of the Texas Highway Commission, will address the 34th annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, scheduled at Amarillo, November 14, 15 and 16. The 41-year-old Galveston attorney is expected to give some "straight talking" to West Texans about what it is going to cost them to maintain and improve their highway system.

Officers Elected For District FFA

The district FFA chapter met in Strawn October 28, in the Strawn high school building to elect district officers. Each chapter in the district had their delegates at the meeting.

The Ranger delegates, were Byron Galley and Reddy Carter, president and vice-president of the Ranger chapter.

The delegates elected as their president Bud Masie of Garford; vice president, Roddy Carter of Ranger; second vice-president, Buster Graham of Eastland; third vice president Marvin Turner of Strawn; secretary, Buddy Aaron of Eastland; treasurer, James Marsden of Santo; reporter Byron Galley of Ranger; Sentinel, Wilbur Atkins of Strawn; Parliamentarian, Buck Caislow of Gordon; and Bobby Tucker of Carbon was elected to complete the district governing body for the forthcoming year.

The towns represented were Garford, Mineral Wells, Santo, Strawn, Ranger, Eastland, Carbon, Gordon, Gorman, and Hockley.

LIMA, Peru—Police picked up an eight-year-old run away boy yesterday. He said his name was Harry Truman and he was looking for brightly colored fish in a nearby lagoon.

PALERMO, Sicily—The 7,850-ton Danish freighter Danford burst into flames outside Palermo Harbor today and sent an SOS for help.

Harbor authorities said the vessel was carrying munitions to Communist China, but this was denied by its Danish owners in Copenhagen.

Shrine Circus at Fort Worth Bigger and Better This Year

FORT WORTH, Oct. 27 —It's bigger and better than ever this year—the annual Shrine Circus coming to Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum November 16 to 25.

R. L. Carnrike, general chairman of the Moshah Temple 1951 Circus, has announced that the cast has been enlarged to include some of the top aerialist stars in the circus business.

The 1951 acts will include America's finest wild animal act, Professor George J. Keller. He will bring his African lions, tigers, leopards, jaguars, pumas, and a rare black panther without the aid of a gun, chair or whip.

Other acts will include Josephine Barosini in an outstanding high wire act—Miss Barosini is the only woman in the world who walks to the high wire from the ground; the Aerial Histrories who, from a swaying perch on top of a 132-foot pole execute acts of balance as the pole sways from side to side; the Loyal Reptenly Troupe, the world's original riding act, perform with beautiful girls and fine horses;

Reds Throw Jets In Large Numbers Against UN Bombers

By Earnest Hoherecht United Press Staff Correspondent TOKYO, Oct. 27 (UP)—United Nations planes damaged at least eight Communist jet fighters today in a series of Korean air battles which raged as far south as Chinnampo, only 50 miles from the 38th Parallel.

The Reds threw 105 Russian MIG-15 jets against 128 UN jets and B-29 bombers in a vain attempt to break up Allied raids on the Communists' already badly damaged railway links between North Korea and Manchuria.

One B-29 was damaged, but landed safely at an Allied base in Korea.

It was the seventh straight day of dogfights over North Korea and boosted the week's toll of MIGs to 11 destroyed, five probably shot down and 26 damaged.

On the ground, UN troops captured a key hill mass on the southeast approaches to Kumsong, former Communist central front base 29 miles north of the 38th Parallel.

A tank-infantry patrol simultaneously raided Kumsong, now a no-man's-land, and another patrol stabbed one mile north of the city. Fanatically existing Reds destroyed two UN tanks and damaged three others in a similar raiding force Friday.

Other 8th Army units turned back Communist probing attacks northwest of Yonchon on the western front and northwest of Yangju on the eastern front. Those in the east were launched by up to 800 Reds.

The first show of the season fell in the east coast mountains. Five separate air battles were reported over northwest Korea during the day.

The first was touched off by eight B-29s which dropped 1,000-pound bombs on a 1,930-foot temporary bridge near Sinaju on the main railway between Manchuria and Pyongyang, the North Korean capital.

The Communist jets tried to break through a screen of 32 American Thunderjets to get at the bombers. A few slipped through and damaged at least one B-29, but the F-84s damaged eight of them and sent the remainder scurrying back to Manchuria.

Fighter-bomber rail-cutting raids touched off four more air battles. Thirty-two American Sabrejets damaged one MIG in the first, 16 Australian Meteor jets damaged another MIG in the second, and 32 Thunderjets got still another in the third.

Then eight MIGs pounced on eight American Shooting Star jets and chased the slower American planes all the way to Chinnampo, west coast port 25 miles southwest of Pyongyang and 60 miles above the 38th Parallel. Neither side scored any hits, however.

The towns represented were Garford, Mineral Wells, Santo, Strawn, Ranger, Eastland, Carbon, Gordon, Gorman, and Hockley.

THE WEATHER

A massive, wet cold front which dropped temperatures as much as 24 degrees, pushed the Red River into Texas today.

It created unsettled weather conditions and thunderstorms in the Gainesville, Sherman and Bonham area, its entry point. At Bonham, 2.40 inches of rain fell by 6:30 a.m., the heaviest since June 2. Rain was still falling there at mid-morning.

A second front, too, was due to arrive tomorrow the U. S. Weather Bureau said.

As the big front passed Lubbock, the temperatures tumbled to 44 degrees. Just ahead of the air mass, Abilene had a mild 65—24 degrees higher.

At mid-morning, the front's advance was on a line from Sherman south of Abilene, into the Pecos Valley and northward across eastern New Mexico.

Behind it, Dalhart had the early morning low temperature, a wintry 36 degrees. Far down on the coast, Galveston had the high reading, 73.

Amarillo, Wichita Falls and Dalhart also got some needed moisture, 72, 57 and 37-inch, respectively. Childress received .24 inch for the past 24 hours ending at 6:30 a.m., and .10-inch or less fell at Texarkana, College Station, Waco, Fort Worth, Dallas, Lubbock, Austin, Del Rio and Tyler.

The outlook was for continued cloudy to partly cloudy skies, scattered showers and cooler temperatures.

Other low temperatures included Austin 72, Big Spring 63, Brownsville 70, Dallas 72, El Paso 52, Houston 69, San Antonio 72, Waco 71, Beaumont 67, Corpus Christi 72, Texarkana 61, Wichita Falls and Lukin 67.

Corduroy Keeps the Secret In New Maternity Styles

BY GAILE DUGAS, NEA Woman's Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Corduroy, that warm and wonderful fabric, appears for winter in maternity dresses that combine a great deal of style with much practicality. Nothing about these fashions hints of maternity. With slight alterations, they can continue on in a wardrobe after the blessed event.

Narrow-wale corduroy is paired (left) with jersey in a two-tone dress by Stork Styles. A cummerbund provides for concealment. A beige jersey top has a dark green corduroy bib inset and overlaid by a jersey collar. Sleeves are widely cuffed in the corduroy. Skirt is straight with the necessary fullness centered at the waistline.

A navy corduroy jumper dress (right) in the narrow-wale has a pale green chiffon ascot tucked in at the neckline. Lapels are deep and rounded; sleeves are the merest caps. Standaway scalloped pockets have self-button trim. An adjustable belt that's self-covered and an elastic expansion underneath keep the skirt. Skirt has a gentle fullness.

NO SURVIVORS BY WILL HENRY

Copyright 1950 by Will Henry. Used by arrangement with the publishers, Random House, Inc. DISTRIBUTED BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: John Clayton, a former civilian scout, is captured and adopted by the Sioux chief Crazy Horse. Clayton lives with North Star, an Indian holy woman, but makes this love seem hopeless. The old enemy of Clayton's named Stameroy Kidnaped North Star, and Clayton sets out in pursuit. He overtook Stameroy and 30 Crow warriors who hastened to the kidnapping, and North Star near a sleeping guard just before dawn in a camp on the trail.

XVIII THE next instant my knife was buried hilt-deep in living flesh. I struck once only, for I felt the powerful body stiffen and convulse with that all-over contracting spasm peculiar to the paralyzing shock of a lethal heart wound.

I cut Star free of her bonds and we fled. It was still dark as we stole away, but morning was here minutes behind us. Out of earshot of the camp we began to run for the hills, and I panted hoarsely. "You are all right, Star? Not injured?"

"Not with wounds, Cetan." The sound of her low voice thrilled me but her words struck my heart. To Star I started out, "You have said I shall bring you the heart of a great enemy."

No answer save a silent upturn of tear-stained face. Still no word, this time not even a glance. But I felt the tear as it splashed hot on my naked arm. "His heart is yours. I shall bring it to you when I bring my own."

We reached the shelter of the hillside rocks in safety, the last few hundred yards being made in full daylight. There we lay quietly for several seconds, Star, tight-held in my arms, not moving or speaking, our hearts pounding in rapid union. After an ageless minute thus, we drew apart for our first real look at one another.

I can imagine what my face looked like with its accumulation of beard and mud-cake. Star's was in little better repair, dirt- and "Where did they all come from?" I wondered aloud, thinking of the 50-odd Sioux I had counted in the track of Crazy Horse's band. "Many Kills," she answered, indicating the south line of Sioux. Peering intently I made out a lone horseman sitting slightly in advance of his fellows. It was the old chief from the valley. Apparently his forces had joined those of Crazy Horse sometime during the night.

Below us the Crows had made their decision. I watched, fascinated, for the plains Indian is the world's finest natural cavalryman and I, something of an expert in that line, was professionally intrigued by their tactical position.

THEIR maneuver was a classic of its kind. They began by forming a closed phalanx of three columns of ten, riding slowly down upon the southern Sioux. The three-width presented forward. Behind them the northern Sioux closed in at a following pace, keeping their spread line. Here was none of the whooping and yelling popularly associated with Indian battles. Here were 30 men trying to outsmart 80 and not attempting to bring it off by out-whooping them.

The myth of the Indian's "blood-curdling" vocal efforts in attack comes from his use of this psychological weapon upon the whites. Here it works. But where a high-screaming war whoop may serve to unnerv a white settler, a Crow knows a Sioux and a Sioux knows a Crow, and both know nobody ever got killed by a war whoop.

Below, old Many Kills showed hesitation, then shouted for his line to pull in and bunch to receive the Crow assault. Exactly, I imagined from my field view, what the Crow leader wanted. For the minute the Sioux bunched, the Crow horsemen split, and not in two or three sections, but 20. Every man for himself. The old scatter-and-ride-through, which until that moment I had believed we Confederates practiced better than any cavalry. But the way the Crows pulled it off put us to shame. They bombarded out of that tight phalanx like quail from a berry bush.

Bernice Hatton, William Gildner Exchange Vows Saturday Morning

Miss Mary Bernice Hatton and Mr. William Edward Gildner were united in marriage in a double ring ceremony at 10:00 a.m., Saturday, October 27 at the Mission San Carlos Borromeo in Carmel, California.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Hatton of Ranger and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Gildner of Bloomington, Illinois.

The bride's only attendant was Mrs. Dick Vestal of Pacific Grove, California and formerly of Fort Worth, Texas, Mrs. John J. Wren of Kansas City, Missouri was best man.

The bride wore a floor length gown of white chantilly lace and net fashioned with a lace covered fitted bodice and eton jacket, with lace cascading on full net skirt and matching net mits. Her sheer veil of imported illusion fell from a soft halo encrusted with pearls. She carried a bridal bouquet of orange blossoms topped with an orchid.

The bride's attendant wore a floor length gown of pink net with fitted bodice and full skirt and matching headress. She carried a bouquet of rubrum lilies.

A wedding breakfast was held immediately following the ceremony at Pine Inn in Carmel.

The bridegroom is now serving in the United States Army at Fort Ord. He attended Illinois Wesleyan University and is a graduate of DePauw University and is a member of Sigma Chi fraternity. Before entering the service, he was employed by a Casualty Insurance Company in Fort Worth.

Peggy Hatton, Roy Lindsey Weds Oct. 14

Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Hatton announce the marriage of their daughter Peggy to Roy Lindsey of Sheppard Field Air Base in Wichita Falls, son of Mrs. J. C. Craver, October 14 at Rock Wall in Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey are graduates of the Ranger high school and since graduation she has been employed by the Bell Telephone Company in Dallas.

Young Designs for Holiday Parties

These youthful clothes for holiday parties have just the right touch of sophistication. Strapless dress (left) with smooth-fitting bodice is rayon taffeta, has a crushed cuff of the fabric accented by black velvet ribbon. It has its own crinoline. Shepherd check (center) in novelty rayon taffeta is for informal parties, has scoop neckline, is worn over crinoline petticoat. Ruffled sleevelets are worn high on the upper arm. All designs are in junior sizes.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Fashions in junior sizes are now fairly sophisticated. But it's sophistication with a difference and that difference is a fresh youthfulness. In the designs of Emily Wilkens this important touch is quite apparent.

The Emily Wilkens designs for holiday party wear are completely young. But their combination of youthfulness and sophistication is blended in such a way that no mature woman happening to wear a junior size would think of fitting herself into one of them.

Starting with a rayon taffeta in silver and aqua stripes on a white ground, this designer makes of it a party dress of simplicity and a certain elegance. A crushed cuff of the fabric tops the bodice and is accented with twists of black velvet ribbon. The bodice itself is sleekly fitted for contrast to the full and bouffant skirt that stands out over its own crinoline.

A shepherd check in rayon taffeta is cut with neckline that's widely scooped and small, crushed sleeves. Black patent belt is shaped to point up a tiny waist; the shiny black buttons down the front shine with rhinestones. An iridescent corded stripe taffeta in aqua-and-black has strapless top and fitted bodice. Small ruffled sleevelets, attached to the bodice by narrow elastic bands, are worn high on the upper arms. The full skirt is belled out over a stiff crinoline.

Wedding Party Feted At Dinner

Members of the wedding party for the Eubank-Shaeffer wedding and other guests were entertained at a rehearsal dinner Friday night at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. F. P. Brasher Sr.

Mrs. W. M. Brown Sr. and Mrs. H. G. Adams Sr. were cohostesses with Mrs. Brasher.

Guests were seated at the dining room table and table for four. The dining table was covered with a Madeira linen dinner cloth and the centerpiece of white carnations and white pompons in a silver bowl was placed on a reflector in the center of the table.

Two single silver candle holders, holding white candles, were on either side of the centerpiece.

The tables for four were covered with embroidered rice linen luncheon cloths. Each table had a single white candle surrounded by white pompons and lacelet set in a styrofoam base covered with white satin.

A flower arrangement on the fireplace mantle carried out the theme of the table decorations.

Guests at the dinner were Miss Frances Ann Eubank, bride to be and Stanley J. Shaeffer, bridegroom-to-be, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Eubank, Pfc. John E. Eubank of Madison, Wis.; Dr. and Mrs. E. J. Shaeffer of Altadena, Calif., parents of the bridegroom-to-be.

New Action Is Taken to Quell Riots in Cairo

CAIRO, Egypt, Oct. 27 (UP)—Authorities clamped a new state of emergency on Cairo today to combat threatened demonstrations against Winston Churchill.

A general public outcry arose over Churchill's election as British Prime Minister yesterday. The election was regarded as a severe blow against Egypt's efforts to oust the British from the Suez Canal Zone and the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan.

The independent weekly Akhbar El Yom said if Churchill used force in Egypt, he would ignite World War III and "dig a grave for himself and his country in Egypt."

(London announced that British troops shot and killed an Egyptian truckdriver in the Suez Canal Zone Thursday when he attempted to force a Briton off the road.)

The Egyptian press declared unanimously that Churchill's return to power will not frighten Egypt into compromising their national demands.

AFL Builders May Back GOP in Next Presidential Race

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27 (UP)—The AFL Building and Trades department has assailed the Democratic administration's "terrible labor record" and suggested that a vote for Republicans next year might be in order.

Its position was outlined in the monthly bulletin of the Building Trades Department, which represents 8,000,000 of the AFL's 8,000,000 members.

The union's president is Richard F. Gray and its secretary-treasurer is Joseph D. Keenan, who, until recently, headed the AFL's political league which went down the line for Democratic candidates in 1950.

The bulletin said the Taft-Hartley law—which may have hurt the building trades perhaps more than any other labor group—was not repealed "simply because the present administration did not want the law repealed."

It said President Truman asked for civil rights legislation at the same time that he sought repeal of the labor law. Neither request was "seriously pushed," it said, and "it appears that administration leaders knew beforehand that neither law would be acted upon."

The bulletin said the administration's "two-sided labor policy" also has been illustrated by the fact the administration led the labor department to "emasculate" and the Federal Housing Authority has failed to require payment of "prevailing wages" on

WOMAN PASSENGER GETS BRUSH OFF

Boston (UP)—When a train arrived at South Station from the west, an elderly woman passenger refused to get off.

A railroad police lieutenant James Shaughnessy, went aboard to find out why.

"I paid good money for my roomette on this train," the woman explained, "and I planned to occupy it while visiting Boston."

Shaughnessy finally persuaded her to try a hotel.

The greatest altitude at which men can live without wearing an oxygen mask varies considerably depending upon one's physical condition and the length of his stay at the high altitude, but above 15,000-20,000 feet the oxygen in the air is not sufficient to maintain life.

Three Top-Ranked Teams Favored in Games Saturday

NEW YORK, Oct. 27 (UP)—Tennessee, Michigan State and Illinois—the nation's three top-ranked teams—face easy pickings (they hope) today on a college football program highlighted by an Ivy League meeting of the unbeaten between Cornell and Princeton.

Cornell and Princeton, both undefeated in four games, were rated even for their battle at Princeton, N. J., as the staid old Ivy League gets one of its rare opportunities to present the game of the day.

The Tigers, seeking their 17th straight victory over three seasons, will pit the offensive threat or versatile Dick Kazmaier against the depth-laden backfield strength of Cornell, led by quarterback Rocco Calva.

Tennessee, ranked first nationally, was a prohibitive choice to make Tennessee Tech its fifth straight victim at Knoxville; Michigan State, ranked second, was favored by 21 points over Pittsburgh in an inter-sectional clash at East Lansing, Mich.; and third-ranked Illinois was a 13-point pick over Indiana in a Big Ten game at Bloomington, Ind.

Among the other remaining undefeated teams, Northwestern and Stanford were listed as underdogs, while Baylor was even-money in its Southwest Conference game against Texas A&M. Wisconsin was favored by seven over Northwestern in the Big Ten and Washington by six over Stanford in the Pacific Coast Conference.

Maryland, Georgia Tech, and Cincinnati were favored to preserve their unbeaten records. Maryland met Louisiana State; Georgia Tech played Vanderbilt; and Cincinnati met Texas Western.

In other inter-sectional games, fifth-ranked Southern California was favored by 14 over Texas Christian; Georgia was 21 over Boston College, and Arkansas 14 over Santa Clara.

Michigan, the Big Ten leader, was favored by 14 over Minnesota, and Ohio State was 13 over Iowa, while Purdue was a 14-point underdog against Notre Dame in a non-conference game. Oklahoma was a 15-point kick over Colorado in the Big Seven's top game, while Kansas was 20 over Kansas State, and Nebraska and Missouri were rated even. Texas was favored over Rice.

In major games played last night, Don Babers completed 26 out of 48 passes, throwing for

Upset Epidemic Hits Texas High School Football

By United Press
The upset epidemic which rocked collegiate football last week struck at the Texas schoolboy ranks last night, leaving seven perfect record clubs in its wake and rattling a couple more with ties.

Biggest name to topple was Odessa, generally rated the No. 1 team in the Class 4-A ranks, as the Pampa Harvesters rolled up a two touchdown lead in the first half and held on grimly in the rain to win a district game, 14-7. Odessa was unbeaten, but had been tied. Pampa's record remained intact.

But the Broncos had plenty of company. Gladwater, one of Class 3-A's high-rated outfits, fell before once-beaten Longview 13-6 in another district contest.

And, Arlington, considered the prime class 2-A favorite, was brushed aside by once-beaten Terrell 24-14.

Only other casualty in Class 2-A was Center, which was tied 13-13 by once-beaten Jacksonville in still another tie encounter.

In Class A, four teams dropped out as Abilene Wylie remained among the select group with a 6-0 win over previously unbeaten Roscoe 25-14, Premont bowled over Mathis 49-19 and Pearsall upset Carrizo Springs 20-14.

In addition, Elkhart, which had been tied, had to be content with a scoreless draw with Rusk.

Meanwhile, the state's other powers rolled on. Lubbock blasted San Angelo 40-6, Corpus Christi Ray beat Austin 20-0 and Houston Lamar stopped Houston Davis 40-7 to remain unbeaten in 4-A.

Stephenville stopped Cleburne 40-21, Grand Prairie nosed out Irving 20-13 and Palestine nipped Lufkin 26-21 to keep clean records in Class 3-A, where Temple's once-beaten Wildcats still reign supreme with a 46-14 win over Corsicana.

two touchdowns and running for another, as he led Oklahoma A&M to a 20-7 victory over Detroit; Frank Smith and Johnny Mclear led Miami to a 20-7 triumph over Mississippi and San Francisco remained undefeated by trimming San Diego Navy, 26-7.

Kentucky Players Admit More Fixes

NEW YORK, Oct. 27 (UP)—Three former Kentucky basketball stars, indicted for shaving the points in a game against Loyola of Chicago in 1949, also received "bonuses" for going over the point-spread in three other games that season.

District Attorney Frank Hogan of New York disclosed yesterday that All Americans Alex Groza and Ralph Beard and team mate Dale Barnstable received $100 each for "extra efforts to go over the point-spreads" in 1949 games against DePaul at Chicago, Vanderbilt at Nashville, Tenn., and St. John's at New York.

The three players and five accused bribers were indicted yesterday for fixing the outcome of Kentucky's game against Loyola in the 1949 National Invitation Tournament. The indictments charged Groza received $1,000 and Beard and Barnstable $500 each. The eight accused men were released on bail.

Hogan also revealed that gamblers had approached the players with bribe offers to "dump" six other games during the 1948-49 season. The games were against Tulane and St. Louis University in the 1948 Sugar Bowl Tournament at New Orleans, and against Bradley at Owensboro, Ky.; Notre Dame at Louisville, Ky.; Bowling Green at Cleveland, and Xavier at Cincinnati, O.

Hogan said there was evidence that the gamblers and players dickered over fixing those games, but the deals never were made.

The fixers indicted were the English brothers, Anthony and Nick; Saul Feinberg, Marvin Mansberg and Nate Brown. All but Brown allegedly were involved in the Bradley-Bowling Green fix of 1949.

Stamford, Anson, La Vega, Lampasas, Gonzalez and Cuero remained unbeaten-untied with wins last night while La Marque and La Porte were idle. Unbeaten but tied beside Center were Shamrock, Dumas, Brownfield, Lockhart, Bay City and Pittsburgh, all of which saw action last night except Brownfield.

Canadian, Dimmitt, Abernathy, Iran, Wink, Eldorado, Eden, Newcastle, Whitney, Farmersville, Hughes Springs, Hawkins, Goldring and Honda won to stay unbeaten and untied in Class A, while Wilmer-Hunchins and Taft kept pace with Elkhart among hit 'n miss

By DON NORRIS

In District 2A-10 play last night Cisco defeated the up and coming Comanche Indians by 20 to 6 and the Dublin team squeaked by Eastland in a 6 to 2 tie.

That sets Ranger and Dublin in the spotlight, with Ranger idle last night it gives Dublin the district lead with two conference wins.

Dublin had to rally in the fourth quarter to get by the Mavericks last night at Dublin.

Ranger will take another shot at conference play in Eastland next Friday night after a weeks layoff. The Bulldogs have one win over Cisco to their credit now.

Ranger Junior College goes to Stephenville tonight to try the Tarleton Plowboys in their second conference game. The Rangers deserve the support of the fans here for the remarkable showing they have made against bigger opponents.

Look for an upset tonight when the Rangers defeat the Plowboys by a couple of tallies.

NTSC Golfers Dominate The Mexican Tourney

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 27 (UP)—Texas dominated the Mexican Amateur Golf Tournament here today as defending champion Joe Conrad of North Texas State College and two of his teammates headed down the quarter-final stretch.

Conrad defeated another NTSC player, Don January, 2 and 1, yesterday to remain in the running.

Frank Stranahan, twice winner of the British Amateur Championship, easily beat Oklahoma tist Chris Gers, 3 and 2. U. S. Amateur champion Billy Maxwell, another Denton team member, also pulled through, winning 3 and 2 from Ed Hall of Brownville, Tex.

Buster Reed of NTSC defeated Armando Rivero of Mexico City, 2 and 1. Only one Mexican 20-year-old, Gabriel Belmont, stayed in the tourney play. He was victorious over Billy Erfuth of Dallas, 1 up.

Walker Cupper Dale Morey of Dallas fainted from heat exhaustion on the 14th hole in his match with Alex Cumming of Mexico City, but recovered and won 3 and 2.

Dick Perk of Indianapolis defeated Raleigh Selby of Houston 2 and 1, and Norman Lewis, another Houston player, former Mexican champion, beat Carlos Belmont 3 and 2.

Rev. R. L. Lemons of Tyler to Conduct Services in Revival

The All Texas Methodist Revival will begin in the local church Sunday morning, Oct. 28 at 10:30 a.m. The Chancel Choir will sing for an anthem Fred Waring's arrangement of "How Firm a Foundation."

The Rev. R. L. Lemons, pastor of the St. Paul's Methodist church in Tyler, will do the preaching. The local pastor will direct the congregational singing. The revival services will continue through Sunday, Nov. 4, with the last day being set aside as membership day.

A simultaneous revival in every Methodist church in Texas, planned by the General Board of Evangelism is being realized in this gigantic effort. The project has been followed according to plan in that the first part of the All Texas Methodist Revival was conducted some two weeks ago in the southern part of the State with ministers from this section going there, and the ministers from that section coming to the northern area of the state.

Rev. R. L. Lemons

Youth Rally In Eastland

In conjunction with the preaching emphasis there will be much planning and preparation in visitation evangelism. In this field of service, the laymen of the church will shoulder the major responsibility. On Sunday afternoon at 2:30 in the church sanctuary, those who have been chosen for this special task will meet for a service of consecration, a careful study on how to visit effectively, the choice of visiting partners, etc. The visitation program will continue through next Thursday night with the two groups alternating.

The Methodist church extends a cordial invitation to the public to attend the revival.

In preparation for the part that the Youth of the district will take in the All-Texas Methodist revival, a youth rally was held in the First Methodist church of Eastland Saturday night at 7:30 p.m. The young people from all over the Cisco District assembled for singing, fun and fellowship.

Rev. Edward Summers, pastor of Glenwood Methodist church in Tyler brought the inspirational message. A combined choir of youth from various churches sang "Beautiful Saviour" as a special number.

The revivals will get underway Sunday morning in every Methodist church in this section of the country.

Martha Dorcas Class Luncheon

The Martha Dorcas Class of the First Methodist Church met Thursday at 12:30 p.m. for a covered dish luncheon in the home of Mrs. Charles Ashcraft with Meses, P. M. Williams, Ige Anderson, C. C. Coalson and Mrs. C. W. Alworth as co-hostesses.

Rev. Garland Lavender read the scripture lesson and the group joined in prayer for the revivals.

Mrs. Dee Anderson, president of the class presided, over the business meeting.

Those attending were Meses, H. G. Ramsey, J. S. McDowell, H. O. Woods, F. C. Williamson, George Williams, E. P. Mills, J. Way Harman, W. M. Eyles, J. P. Killingsworth, W. C. Harris, L. E. Wolfe, J. K. Morris, Ray Campbell, R. L. Willis, R. B. Patterson, J. L. Turner, G. O. Strong, E. H. Mills, R. S. Balch, Laura Melton, and Mrs. S. B. Baker.

Rev. and Mrs. Lavender and Nancy were guests.

Services At First Baptist

Sunday morning worship at the First Baptist Church will begin at 9:45 when the various departments of the Sunday school will have their worship services by departments.

At 10:55 the general service will begin in the main auditorium. Special music has been arranged for and there will be reports from the messengers who attended the state convention in Houston this past week.

The pastor will follow the general theme, "Christ for the World Now," as Christ for the world is the only hope for mankind's survival.

Training Union will meet by departments at 6:30 and at 7:30 the worship in the auditorium will begin with congregational singing and scripture. The pastor will speak on the theme, "Christ the Center of Christianity." It is the general opinion of Christian leaders of the world that too many religions—Christianism so-called, are using other forms, practices, and individuals as the center of worship, instead of the "Matchless Son of God". Reports from the B.S.U. convention will be given at the evening service. A general invitation is extended to each family to come worship with us in the First Baptist Church, stated the pastor. You are always welcome.

The program on Monday night will include plans for the revival and plans for the month of Nov. Rev. Paul Stephens, East Cisco Baptist church, will bring the message to the group.

Walter Arterburn, Training Union director, has asked that all workers of the Training Union Department be present for the covered dish supper. He further states that he desires for all workers to be present with their covered dish and ready to begin promptly at 6:30 p.m. in order that all the business may be taken care of.

'Conventionette' To Be Presented

The W.M.U. of the First Baptist church will have presented to them at 3 Monday afternoon a "Conventionette". This program will embrace in convention form the state W.M.U. convention as was presented in Houston this week. According to Mrs. J. L. Clem president of the local W.M.U. the various circles and their presidents will have parts on the program, as well as those who attended the convention.

This type of a program, according to Mrs. Perkins, will give all the ladies of the church an opportunity to learn the many wonderful things that went on at the convention.

The revivals will begin in the Methodist church Sunday morning.

After the luncheon a social hour was enjoyed by everyone.

Mrs. Dee Anderson, president of the class presided, over the business meeting.

Those attending were Meses, H. G. Ramsey, J. S. McDowell, H. O. Woods, F. C. Williamson, George Williams, E. P. Mills, J. Way Harman, W. M. Eyles, J. P. Killingsworth, W. C. Harris, L. E. Wolfe, J. K. Morris, Ray Campbell, R. L. Willis, R. B. Patterson, J. L. Turner, G. O. Strong, E. H. Mills, R. S. Balch, Laura Melton, and Mrs. S. B. Baker.

Rev. and Mrs. Lavender and Nancy were guests.

Rev. Paul Stephens
T.U. Meeting Monday 6:30

The Training Union Department of the First Baptist church will have its monthly planning meeting Monday evening at 6:30 in the basement of the church. The emphasis will be placed upon the Training Union Revival which begins Nov. 4 when Miss Edna Lang, state approved Training Union worker will lead the group.

The program on Monday night will include plans for the revival and plans for the month of Nov. Rev. Paul Stephens, East Cisco Baptist church, will bring the message to the group.

Walter Arterburn, Training Union director, has asked that all workers of the Training Union Department be present for the covered dish supper. He further states that he desires for all workers to be present with their covered dish and ready to begin promptly at 6:30 p.m. in order that all the business may be taken care of.

Sermon Subject For 2nd Baptist

"Christ for the World Now" will be theme for the morning message at the Second Baptist church to be delivered by the pastor, Rev. Jasper C. Masseege.

Rev. Masseege attended the Texas Baptist Convention at Houston the past week. He reports that the convention reached a high spirit of evangelistic concern at the closing session Thursday night when many persons accepted the invitation to give their lives to the Lord for their own salvation and for obedience to Him. Rev. Masseege will give further reports and observations concerning highlights of the convention at the services Sunday.

BUCKING THE LINE OF SCRIMMAGE
... if we may borrow from football parlance, is the sort of exercise that toughens fibre and prepares the participant for heavy duty ahead. As in sports, so it is with those who attain success in life. The weak falter while the strong survive. Getting the job done is bucking the line, a sure demand of the public in business life. Some call it success, but we like to think of it as a lot of hard work. In a nutshell, that's it!

New Government

Buckingham Palace this afternoon.

Among those who went to see Churchill were Anthony Eden, the party's deputy leader and almost certain choice for Foreign Secretary; Sir David Maxwell-Fyfe, likely Labor Minister, and Oliver Lyttelton, possibly the next Chancellor of the Exchequer or Production Minister.

A British move for a Truman-Stalin-Churchill conference was believed just around the corner.

The opposition labor party at the same time found itself hopelessly divided in a struggle for power between moderate Socialist Clement R. Attlee, who resigned last night after six years as Prime Minister, and American-baiting Aneurin Bevan.

The Daily Herald, organ of the Labor Party, shattered the election honeymoon of the two factions today.

It charged that Bevan's resignation from the Labor government to lead the party's rebellious left wing had wrecked Socialist chances for victory.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICE

Man's mind shall continue to learn the spiritual facts of being until here or hereafter they arrive at the absolute understanding demonstration of the perfection of the sons of God, says the Lesson-Sermon titled "Probation after Death" to be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, October 28. That this conclusion is reached individually when it is understood is considered in the Golden Text: "The hour is coming and now is, when the dead shall hear the voices of the Son of God; and they that hear shall live (John 5:25).

This citation from Jeremiah further illustrates the point: "I the Lord search the heart, I try the reins, even to give every man according to his ways, and according to the fruit of his doings." And that death is of no particular benefit or help to man in attaining this perfection is clearly seen in the correlative citation from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Keys to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "If the change called death destroyed the belief in sin, sickness, and death, happiness would be won at the moment of dissolution, and be forever permanent; but this is not so. Perfection is gained only by perfection" (p. 290).

Hydroelectricity is a electricity generated by water power. A hydroelectric plant can be installed where there is a considerable fall of water, as at Niagara Falls.

Eva Peron Favors Egyptian Fight

Buenos Aires, Argentina
Oct. 27 (AP)—Eva Peron, wife of President Juan D. Peron, expressed her admiration today for the Arab world's fight "for justice and freedom."

The statement came in a special preface she has written for an Arabic translation of her autobiography "The Reason for My Life."

Mrs. Peron said she wished to send the Arab peoples "my voice of encouragement hope and faith, telling them through this book of love and indignation: The night is over and the dawn is near."

Egyptian Ambassador Assan Moharran Bey thanked the Argentine people in a message last night for their support of his nation in its current dispute with Britain.
