

33RD YEAR

RANGER, TEXAS, WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 12, 1951

PRICE FIVE CENTS No. 165

SEEN OR HEARD

Virge Johnson said he had been cruising around town defining in his mind the location of the eight areas that will be covered by his team captains in the cleaning operation Monday and he had seen some of the people getting their excess trash ready to go right now.

This is something Ranger has needed for quite sometime. And in view of polio breaking out in such large numbers, Ranger will be one step ahead when they get their town cleaned up.

What is needed most for the drive is a bunch of Indians to load the trucks. If the people turn out and help clean their town up this will go off just fine. In the past most of the work has been hired due to no one volunteering. If you must hire the work done it is not a community project.

We feel sure that this drive, under such capable hands, will do more to help Ranger than anything that has been done in many years past.

Congressman Omar Burleson paid the Ranger Times a visit this morning, greeting everyone with a very pleasant good morning.

Boliva-America Differ On Tin Price Per Pound

LA PAZ, Bolivia, Dec. 12 (UP)—The Bolivian government may bring a dispute with the United States over the price of tin before the Organization of American States.

The Reconstruction Finance Corporation, which buys all tin for the U.S., has refused to pay more than $1.12 a pound while Bolivia is asking $1.50 for its tin. Bolivia derives 70 percent of revenues from tin exports.

Government To Hire New Nurses

"The Civil Service Commission announces an examination for filling vacancies in the position of Nurse at entrance salaries, ranging from $3410 to $4205 per annum. Employment will be with various Federal agencies in the State of Texas. Application forms and additional information may be secured from the post office or from the Regional Director, Fourteenth U. S. Civil Service Region, 210 South Harwood Street, Dallas 1, Texas."

Clayton Rand Says

COUNTRY'S BEST CROP

Equally as interesting as the pure bred animals at the International Live Stock Exposition at Chicago were the 1,500 4-H Club boys and girls in attendance.

Oklahoma's team of three repeated its 1950 performance in the Junior judging contest by winning first honors. They were Bill Carmichael, 18, and Dick Bonfy, 17, of Ponca City, and Roy Hine, 18, of Elman, Indiana 4-H lads won second place. Howard Brown 17, Chickasha, Okla., was awarded the junior championship for his steer, a black Aberdeen-Angus.

The Mississippi State College team and Oklahoma A&M College team shared honors in collegiate livestock and crop judging contests. The five-man Mississippi team won the top livestock award for the second time in three years. The crop-judging trophy went to Oklahoma.

It's fortunate for the country that the anti-child labor laws don't apply to 4-H Club members. America's leadership comes from its farms, where boys and girls are taught that if they are big enough they are old enough.

If the 11,967 animals on exhibit had been pitched, the 3 1/2 million pounds of meat would have lasted Chicago 2 1/2 days. It takes 10,000 cattle, 226,000 calves 247,000 sheep and lambs and 950,000 hogs to feed Chicago for one year. Were it not for the boys and girls on the nation's farms, Chicago would go hungry.

Ranger Junior College Holds Annual Football Banquet Monday

The Ranger Junior College Rangers were honored Monday evening, December 10, at the annual football banquet and fall formal in the Student Union Building.

Decorations were purple and white and silver and gold. The banquet was served by candlelight on tables for four, each with a white cloth, purple candles trimmed with gold, with silver melletoe at the base of the white candle holders.

Dr. G. C. Boswell, president of Ranger Junior College, was toastmaster for the important program entitled "Football — the Final Game."

Invocation—Mr. R. L. Willis Toast to the Rangers—Wanda Clem, Football Sweetheart of 1951

Response to Toast — Earl Keller.

Revis Services To Be Thursday

Funeral services have been set for 2:00 o'clock Thursday afternoon for James Daniel Revis, 78, Ranger, who died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Lloyd Odum of 622 Oaklawn Drive, Fort Worth, shortly after twelve o'clock noon, December 11.

Mr. Revis was born December 20, 1872, and had lived in Ranger for the past thirty years.

He is survived by three daughters: Mrs. Lloyd Odum of Fort Worth, Mrs. Paul Kearns of Rolla, Iowa, and Mrs. C. M. Cox of Bakersfield, Calif.; and two sons, J. H. of Bakersfield, Calif., and Roy P. of Pine Bluff, Ark.

Six grandchildren and one great grandchild also survive.

Services will be in the First Christian Church of Ranger with the Reverend A. Lynn Robbins officiating. Interment will be in the Evergreen cemetery.

Killingsworth Funeral Home of Ranger will be in charge of funeral arrangements.

Brownie Scouts Meeting Set For Thursday

All Brownie Scouts are urged to meet Thursday afternoon at 4 p.m. at Mrs. Rayfield's home at 410 Mesquite Street.

Plans for a Christmas party and a trip to your new little house will be made.

The Brownies were also requested to bring their dollar for registration to the meeting Thursday afternoon.

Government Starts Crack Down In Revenue Bureau

CLEAN-UP CAMPAIGN TO AID COMMUNITY LIFE IN RANGER

Fire Chief Charlie Isabell said this morning that this community clean-up of the members of the Volunteer Fire Department is a good opportunity for the people to find and correct those fire hazards.

In cleaning out all the trash in town for the clean-up campaign Isabell said to be sure and not forget those rags and newspapers piled up in closets, attics, and other places where fires may start.

Volunteer Fire Chief Virge Johnson made the rounds of all the schools in Ranger telling them of the drive and asking that the pupils do their part to make the drive a success.

Virge said if you can get the merchants, Volunteer Firemen, local oil companies, citizens and the school students to pitch in and help there is no doubt that the drive will be a success.

Chief Johnson also said Dr. G. C. Boswell of Ranger Junior College had promised the full cooperation of resources at the disposal of the college.

Gestures of cooperation such as the ones being made by Dr. Boswell.

Three Long Term Prisoners Taken After Short Break

HUNTSVILLE, Dec. 12 (UP)—Three long-term convicts escaped from the Eastham Prison Farm in Crockett County late yesterday, but their freedom was short lived.

Prison authorities said today the three were recaptured with the aid of bloodhounds some two hours after they fled the prison farm on horses.

They were surrounded by guards and caught in the woods along the Trinity River about six miles from the farm.

Prison General Manager O. B. Ellis said the three fled on the horses shortly after returning from the field.

They abandoned the horses about four miles from the prison farm. Bloodhounds were put on their trail and tracked the fugitives to the river where they were captured. They offered no resistance.

John Henley, 41, serving a 55-year sentence for robbery and assault, burglary and theft from Harris County; Luther Frazier, 36, under a life sentence as a habitual criminal from Lubbock, and W. J. Cates, 35, serving a 50-year sentence for rape, burglary and theft from Haskell and Haskell counties.

Another subcommittee a seven-point UN compromise proposal on policing an armistice.

The UN offered the Reds three major concessions—neutral instead of joint UN-Communist observer teams to check for armistice violations, withdrawal of UN forces from coastal islands north of the cease-fire line, and the right to repair war damage to existing airfields.

Chinese Maj. Gen. Hsieh Fang said the concessions were not sufficient. He objected to Allied demands for continuation of the American troops rotation program, neutral air reconnaissance over all Korea during a truce, and a ban on new airport construction.

Both subcommittees will meet again at 11 a.m. tomorrow (9 p.m. today EST).

Rear Admiral R. E. Libby, Chief UN delegate on the prisoner of war subcommittee, bitterly accused the Reds at Wednesday's session of refusing to follow "civilized rules of warfare" in handling the question.

He charged that the Communists were flouting the Geneva Convention by holding out the number and names of UN prisoners, refusing to disclose the location of prison camps, and barring international Red Cross representatives from the camps.

The Reds thereupon offered a modified five-point program for a prisoner exchange, but it still demanded that the UN agree to release all war prisoners before the Reds even disclose the number of UN prisoners in Communist camps.

The program provided that: 1. All prisoners on both sides be released.

2. Both sides release prisoners in groups, giving priority to the sick and wounded in the shortest possible time after an armistice.

3. Prisoner repatriation be made at Panmunjom.

4. Both sides designate an equal number of members to form an organization to work under the military armistice commission in handling the prisoner exchange.

5. The Communists hand over prisoner of war information only after all four above points have been accepted by the UN.

It was believed the Allies would agree to Panmunjom as the transfer site.

Ground Action Light In Korea

8th ARMY HEADQUARTERS, KOREA, Dec. 12 (UP)—United Nations and Communist infantrymen sparred lightly along the 145 mile Korean front today at the half-way mark in a 30-day "cease-fire."

An 8th Army communique reported only scattered "light to moderate" action for the 15th straight day. It said the ground actions involved at most only a Communist company.

Allied units repulsed a probing attack against an advanced position east southeast of Kumsong on the central front in an 80-minute engagement. An enemy company was contacted on the western front.

Intermittent snow flurries fell along the battlefield as UN planes took off to continue their attacks.

The air was resumed Monday for the first time in three days with two Red Mig-15 jet fighters claimed "probably destroyed" and two others damaged in brushes with F-86 Sabrejets.

A 5th Air Force spokesman spiked reports that two "Communist 'mystery planes'" were sighted over North Korea Sunday. He said "as far as the 5th Air Force knows" the two unidentified "enemy" jet planes were probably American F-80 shooting stars that were difficult to identify because of poor visibility.

Church Group Charges Law Is Not Upheld

GALVESTON, Dec. 12 (UP)—Two Galveston County officials refused to comment today on a resolution passed by the La Marque Ministerial Alliance blasting them for "inept handling" of a slot machine case.

Sheriff Frank Biaggne, target of the blast, said he had no dealings with the group. Justice of the Peace G. F. Reddell, criticized for his decision in the case, said he had not received the group's letter and would not comment until he did.

The pastors' association in the Galveston suburbs resolved yesterday that it would look for a "worthy person for the office of sheriff of Galveston county who would root out evil and corruption."

Reddell ruled last week that 320 dismantled slot machines seized by Texas Rangers at Dickson Nov. 9 did not come under the state anti-gambling law and should be restored to their owners.

The association, composed of all ministers in La Marque, accused the judge of "reluctance and failure to render a verdict according to statute."

Reddell has set a hearing on a motion Dec. 17 for a retrial of the case as asked by county prosecutors.

Brass To View Service Game

COLUMBIA, S. C., Dec. 12 (UP)—Navy Secretary Dan A. Kimball and Air Force Chief of Staff Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg will attend the armed forces championship game here Saturday between Carswell Air Force Base of Fort Worth, Tex., and Fort Jackson, S. C., both undefeated.

Easy Catch

AMARILLO, Dec. 12 (UP)—Guy (Tiny) Tyler of Quintague, was still in jail here today.

In fact, he's been there since Saturday, but police tried for two days to find him before they thought of looking in the city jail.

Morris Belew of Fort Worth started the search by complaining that a man he met in a bar Saturday night robbed him of $21, a top coat and a suit coat. Officers searched high and low for Tyler until they found he had been jailed for drunkenness later that same night.

The 27-year-old prisoner was charged with armed robbery and held in lieu of $2,000 bond.

"ANGRY PRESIDENT" CAUSES COAST TO COAST INDICTMENTS

Internal Revenue Collector was indicted on charges of bribe taking. And the bureau itself did a little cracking down on delinquent taxpayers under the pressure from top-level officials in Washington.

There were these other developments: 1. Internal Revenue Commissioner John B. Dunlap said the crackdown on tax-evading racketeers has more than doubled the number of tax fraud cases sent to the Justice Department for prosecution since the drive was started last spring.

2. Attorney General J. Howard McGrath announced he has sent a top FBI agent to San Francisco to investigate tax scandals there, and soon will name a "special assistant" to relieve U. S. Attorney Chauncey Tramotoio of all tax cases. He said he felt it "inadvisable" to allow Tramotoio to "handle tax cases" because of the dispute between Tramotoio and assistant U. S. Attorney Charles O'Gara about giving a grand jury evidence of alleged corruption in the San Francisco Internal Revenue Office.

3. The Internal Revenue Bureau disclosed that 113 officials and employees have been ousted this year for "disciplinary reasons." This total does not include at least five tax collectors who have resigned or been fired. A spokesman said not all of the dismissals were connected with the tax scandals.

4. Dunlap said he will push future prosecutions of tax fraud cases regardless of the defendant's health.

The San Francisco indictment named James G. Smyth, former collector for northern California who was fired by the president, and two former aides, John Boland and Paul Doyle.

They were specifically accused of backdating tax returns.

The New York indictment was returned against Andrew J. Kelly, 36, and accused him of taking a $1,000 bribe to settle a butcher's $7,000 tax assessment for only $310.

In Detroit, an indictment was returned against Theodore Hurwitz, ousted head of the U. S. Customs Office there, on charges that he conspired to defraud the government on a shipment of imported Canadian plywood.

At Wichita, Kan., tax liens totaling $60,348 were filed against Larry Knohl, Long Beach, N. Y., president of the Bean Oil Company, Inc., and his wife, Rena.

Lynn Brodick, Kansas Internal Revenue collector, said the liens were filed at the request of Henry L. Hoffman, acting collector of internal revenue for New York's first district in Brooklyn.

Knohl figured recently in the hearings by the House Committee investigating tax cases and he was questioned about a $5,600 commission received by Gaudin in a deal involving an airplane purchased by Knohl.

Brodick said other liens would be filed against Knohl's oil holdings in four Kansas counties. They are to insure the payment of back taxes the government says Knohl owes.

Jurors Fail To Agree In R. D. Townsend Trial

In the case styled State of Texas vs. R. D. Townsend, tried in 91st District Court in Eastland, Monday and Tuesday, the jury failed to agree upon a verdict, and was dismissed Tuesday afternoon, by Judge Davenport.

The defendant was charged with negligent homicide, and according to testimony Townsend was driving a truck which crashed into a boy and bicycle, resulting in the boy's death. The accident occurred west of Eastland.

The case went to the jury shortly before noon Tuesday and around mid-afternoon announced they were hopelessly deadlocked, with the result they were dismissed and the case will await a new trial. Jurors were instructed to be in Court early today when other criminal cases will be completed.

Jurors Fail To Agree In R. D. Townsend Trial

Following the jury trial two defendant in the above mentioned case, who entered a plea of guilty of "possession of liquor charge" and was fined $100 and costs. Emory Watson charged with the sale of liquor also entered a plea of guilty and was fined $100 and costs.

Jurors Fail To Agree In R. D. Townsend Trial

Numerous other cases are expected to be heard during the week.

The "R" Association of Ranger Junior College, made up of lettermen from the college that have earned an "R" in any of the sports RJC competes in, held an election of officers yesterday.

This is the second year of organization for the association and at the present there are only 16 eligible members. An initiation for the 28 candidates for letters of the football team this year, and the ones that will letter later on in basketball, track, and the other sports has been planned for sometime in March.

Chad Rollins was elected president of the Association yesterday, Harry Weldon, vice-president; Tommy Wilson, secretary-treasurer; Earl Keller, sergeant-at-arms; Neal Percy, student council representative; and Dale Hatley was elected reporter.

SLIDING past me, Custer pulled the flap, bellowing out to the sleeping camp. "Guard! Get a guard detail up here. On the double!" Within seconds a sleepy sergeant and four privates stumbled up.

"Bates," Custer ordered the sergeant, "send a man to round up the officers. I want every officer outside this tent in five minutes. And I want the camp ready to move in 10."

"Yes, sir!" stammered Bates, bug-eyed. "Do you want any more guard here, sir?"

"No. Get that man on his way. Come on, jump to it. The rest of you men stand guard on this tent. I've got a hostile Sioux runner inside. He's going to talk! If I call out, come in fast."

Custer dropped the flap and turned to me. "Let's have your story before the others get here."

"All right, General. First I'll tell you what you're heading into, then who I am."

"Twenty-five miles west you've got 10,000 Sioux and Cheyenne in camp on the Little Big Horn. Between three and four thousand warriors. Lots of modern rifles. They mean to wipe you out."

"They know Gibbon and Terry are down below and that you apparently intend to swing in and hit them before your support can come up. That's what you're doing, isn't it, General?" Without giving him time to answer, I went on. "Well, if you do, you're finished."

I could see his color mounting. His interruption was in tones of anger. "Who did you say you were?"

"Col. John B. Clayton, Fourth Cavalry, Second Division, Confederate Army. I did you a favor at Appomattox."

"The devil you say!" His gaze narrowed. "A favor? Not that I believe your crazy tale but just what kind of a favor was it, now?"

"A private of mine tried to shoot you. I knocked his rifle aside. You were coming over to our lines with our truce officer. You were Third Cavalry, then, with Sheridan. Remember? You said, 'Colonel, my compliments. You have doubtless saved my life. Should our paths cross again, I shall remember you.' Well, General, they've crossed again and I'm asking you to remember me."

"I remember all right. Every detail. Except one. You. What I want to know right now is who you really are and where you got all this information. You're no more Colonel Clayton than you're General Lee. Clayton was a high-born gentleman, a white man. You are as red as a Sioux can get. Don't forget I know your people. You speak like an educated Indian. There's no hiding that guttural."

IT was true. Ten years of living, eating and breathing Sioux were coming up in my face like a red finger of accusation. I knew he was right. I did grunt and bark my words.

"You're clever," Custer went on, "but not clever enough. When you talk you make signs constantly with your hands, Indian style. Your tongue is crooked but your hands are straight. You're on Oglala by your hair. Bad Face, isn't it? Come on, now, what's your Indian name?"

"Cetan Mani. Walking Hawk." The one with the big tongue. Always there with the right answer. Colonel Clayton, indeed. His voice was brittle as first-frost ice. "All right. What's become of Colonel Clayton? How did the Sioux pick him up? How did they get all this detail you've been giving me, out of him?"

"General, I don't see how any man would give up the detail I've given you. I mean, exact words you spoke 11 years ago, precise details of your bearing. Now I'll give you more. If you persist in refusing to let your intelligence stand over your apparent eagerness to lick the whole Sioux Nation with 600 men, the blood of this command will be on your uniform so long as military history is taught."

"That's enough," he broke in, blue eyes snapping mad. "I don't know what the Indian game is, sending you here, but—"

"The name of the truce officer was Peyton, Colonel Green Peyton. You took the surrender from General J. B. Gordon, Fitzhugh Lee, Pendleton and Longstreet were active on your front."

I don't think he even heard the names. The man appeared obsessed.

"Sergeant Bates."

"Yes, sir." The sergeant's face thrust in at the flap.

"Have the officers come in."

"Yes, sir."

Bates withdrew and Custer's command filed in, a good-looking group of officers for the most part though several appeared to be well within the grip of "Indian nerves."

I REPEATED my story, and these men listened. Several nodded as I went along. At the finish there were some of the same questions and challenges the general had made but the average feeling was by no means what Custer's was. These men were thinking and they were worried. Some of them quite clearly, believing my story or not, were ready to accept its burden: that they were vastly outnumbered, in great danger.

Reno phrased it well. "General, it seems to me this man's identity, the details of his story, are unimportant. We can check them later. What he says about the Sioux strength is what counts. I can see no logical reason why they would want us to know that. We've been satisfied they want a fight. Why should they try to scare us off at the last moment? I don't like it."

Custer broke in impatiently. "I've told you what I think. They're trying to stampede us into an ambush or keep us squatting here for one."

Disarmament Plan Blasted By Vishinski

PARIS, Dec. 12 (UP)—Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinski blasted any remaining hope for an early Big Four disarmament agreement.

He delivered the coup de grace in the United Nations General Assembly's 60-member political committee by:

- 1—Rejecting the West's Baruch Plan for international control and regulation of armaments and the atomic bomb as "utopian" and charged that even the U. S. would not accept it.
 - 2—Accusing the U. S., Britain and France of full blame for the "mad armaments race."
 - 3—Charging that the West's proposal for disarmament by progressive states is only a "cunning mechanism" devised to postpone indefinitely the outlawing of the atomic bomb.
 - 4—Insisting that the essential first step in any disarmament program is adoption of the Soviet proposal for outlawing the atomic bomb.
- It was the fourth time in a month that Vishinski has rejected the West's disarmament program. But he no longer said, as he did on the first occasion, that he had laughed all night at the proposals because they were so "ludicrous."
- The speech came only a day after the Big Four powers announced they had agreed to resume disarmament talks in a new UN disarmament commission three years after the collapse of their last effort.

North Pole Now Has Real Pole

FAIRBANKS, ALASKA, Dec. 12 (UP)—A nine-foot candy-striped barber pole was planted in the Polar Ice Cap at the top of the world today, making the North Pole at last an actual pole.

An Alaskan Airlines DC-4 brought reality to what millions of children have believed about the North Pole at exactly 12:58 a.m. Alaskan time (5:58 a.m. EST) when the shaft was dropped along with thousands of letters to Santa Claus.

Chief pilot Larry Flyheart reported the drop by radio.

The flight began from the Navy Field at Point Barrow at 6:29 p.m. Alaska time (11:29 p.m. EST) yesterday and was expected to end here at about 9:50 a.m. Alaska time (2:50 p.m. EST) today.

With the pole left standing upright in Santa Claus' backyard, Flyheart turned the plane around to head back to Fairbanks. He reported he expected to fly back about 8,000 feet to stay above an overcast at 6,000 feet.

Eight crewmen were aboard the plane when it took off from Point Barrow. But North Pole Nellie, the gal who helped make the flight possible, wasn't aboard. The Navy said she couldn't be a long when the plane made its refueling stop at Point Barrow.

Nellie, whose real name is Audrey Vance held out hope till the last minute that the Navy would reverse its stand.

"Naturally, I'm disappointed I couldn't go," she said, "but it's a real thrill to see something you've worked on so hard begin to work out."

Search Continues For Drowned Boys

POTTSBORO, Dec. 12 (UP)—The search for the bodies of three West Texas youths who continue here today but Joe E. Wilson, reservoir manager, cautioned it might be "a slow process" because of the large area involved.

Some 18 men in small boats dragged the lake all day yesterday but failed to find any trace of the three, Jerry Herrod and Robert Reed of Odessa and Harry Kirkin of Abilene. They were drowned Saturday when their boat was overturned by a strong wind. One youth survived and another has been recovered.

Jaycee Float Brings Frowns

TEMPLE CITY, CALIF., Dec. 12 (UP)—The Temple City Junior Chamber of Commerce got the brush-off today from the White House on its plans to enter a float in the Rose Parade showing President Truman playing the piano surrounded by home freezers and milk cans.

The Junior Chamber telegraphed the president earlier this week asking if he would object to having such a float entered in the annual Pasadena, Calif., parade on New Year's Day.

Presidential press secretary Joseph Short replied that it was "suggested that most people viewing a float such as proposed in your wire would consider it in very bad taste."

Henry Shatford, chairman of the Junior Chamber's Float Committee, said the junior chamber has discarded the idea for its float and was working on a new plan.

3 Texans Get Jail Sentence In Alabama Court

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Dec. 12 (UP)—Three Texas desperados began serving two-year prison terms today following their sentencing for the attempted burglary of a rental office safe here April 3.

George W. (Jettie) Bass, Nick Casco and Tommy Pate, all of Dallas, withdrew their pleas of innocent and pleaded guilty yesterday after two days of post-pleas and legal arguments.

Police, alerted by a tipster, set up a machinegun trap at the scene of the burglary. Bass was critically wounded and Casco was seized the next day when he sought medical aid for his wounds. Pate was arrested later in Dallas.

Teasers Boost Lottery Sales

TOKYO, Dec. 12 (UP)—Five strip-teasers clad in Christmas costumes of tinsel and string have boosted the sale of lottery tickets at a local department store.

The burlesque queens wore as little as the very liberal Japanese law allows—two quarter-sized pieces of tinsel for bras and a very abbreviated loincloth held in place by almost invisible strings. And of course, smiles and goose pimples.

Operation Santa Claus Underway

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12 (UP)—The Army, Navy and Air Force joined again today in "Operation Santa Claus" so that 63 disabled veterans of World War II and the Korean War can be home for Christmas.

The veterans, patients in nine service hospitals throughout the country, are being flown home for the holidays by the Military Air Transport Service to points as distant as Alaska and Puerto Rico.

"Operation Santa Claus" has been a going concern since it was set up by three services in 1946. Each year, a number of hospitalized veterans—paraplegics, multiple and amputees and blind veterans—are flown home for Christmas by Mats on its regularly scheduled flights, where possible.

Twelve of this year's group have been drawn from Brooks General Hospital, San Antonio.

ALL over the country, from kindergarten to high school age, American children are promoting the Youth Crusade for Freedom.

Here's the recipe for an unusual cake Wendy Shadwell's mother made for her and her group. Wendy, a Camp Fire Girl, lives in Staten Island, N. Y., and her group is 100 per cent enrolled in the Youth Crusade for Freedom.

Youth Crusade for Freedom Cake

One cup shortening, 2 cups sugar, 4 eggs, 3 cups sifted all-purpose flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1/4 teaspoon baking soda, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 1/2 teaspoons nutmeg, 1 cup apple juice, 1 cup chopped walnut meat, apple juice filling, 1/2 cup moist packed coconut, Confectioner's Sugar Frosting.

Cream together shortening and sugar. Add eggs, one at a time, beating after each. Sift together flour, baking powder, baking soda, salt and nutmeg. Add alternately with apple juice to cream mixture. Add nut meats. Pour into 2 greased 9-inch deep layer pans. Bake in moderately hot oven, 375 degrees F., 35-40 minutes. Cool 5 minutes.

Remove from layer pans. Cool on wire rack. Spread filling between layers. Sprinkle with coconut. Spread frosting (reserving 1/2 cup for decorating), on top and sides of cake; place pattern of bell in center.

Sprinkle with nutmeg; remove

TOMORROW'S MENU

Hottest Game Of Season Played Tuesday Night

EASTLAND, Tex. (Special)—Basketball at it's best is what they gave fans at the high school gym Tuesday night when Eastland tackled the Baird quint. According to witnesses it was one of the best games ever played in Eastland, with a score of 44 to 55 in favor of Eastland.

The game was close from beginning to end and even one minute before the end you could not tell who was to win, or maybe the game would result in a tie. Both teams had 44 points, Baird has the ball, with less than a minute to go. Then Stephens went into action, caused Baird to fumble the ball and he gathered it up out-of-bounds, and threw a long goal, thus winning the game with only seconds to go.

At this juncture seats were empty, high tension reigned, and fans were screaming.

High point winner for the evening was Chatham of Baird with 22 points to his credit. He was formation quarterback on Baird's football team and greatly aided in leading his team into district finals the past season. He was described by an official as being the best basketball player he had seen this year.

Capt. Haines led Eastland for high point with 16 points, trailed by Hanson 11, Stephens 7, Williamson 5, Herring 6 and Geo. Harris 4.

All players were at their best and the game was an exceptional one. The only thing needed was a larger crowd of fans.

Girls Take Game From Baird Team

EASTLAND, Tex. (Special)—With a score of 33 to 17 Eastland basketball girls Tuesday evening Local players admit that Baird has a real team, but they just failed to get enough points to win.

Forwards were Langlitz with 15 points, Beck 4, Thompson 4, Tankersley 3 and Robinson 2. Guards were White, Stuard, McFatter, with Robinson guard part of the time.

Langlitz played her usual game under the basket, though her opponents made considerable headway in mastering her trick.

The girls will play the Carbon quint at Cisco Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock for their first game in the Cisco tournament.

IOCC Chairman Post May Be Heated Race

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Dec. 12 (UP)—A heated contest appeared possible today for the chairmanship of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission, succeeding Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas.

Gov. Sid McMath of Arkansas apparently had the inside track for the post as today's annual commission election approached.

But Jeff Robinson of Kansas, chairman of the nominating committee, revealed there has been some lobbying for opposition during the IOCC meeting here.

Normally, the name of only one man is placed in nomination for the chairmanship, although there have been a few contests in the past.

Earl Foster of Oklahoma City, executive secretary of the IOCC, said it is not always the custom to give the new chairmanship to the host governor, although the practice sometimes has been followed in the past.

Skip Feed Bag If You Wish To Live Long, Happy Life, Says Physician; Fatties Die Early

NEW YORK, N. Y. — New evidence that overweight shortens life has been provided through a study of mortality among more than 50,000 men and women who were limited to substandard life insurance because of obesity, according to Dr. Louis I. Dublin, second vice president and statistician of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

Mortality for the overweight group was about 50 per cent that of person accepted for standard insurance. The experience under study was that of 25,998 men and 24,901 women who were insured during the period of 1925 through 1934, and were traced to the anniversary of their insurance in 1950. Those in the group were limited to substantial insurance solely because they were overweight; they were considered first class risks in all other respects.

"Mortality in each sex increased with the degree of overweight," Dr. Dublin reports. "Men with marked obesity had a mortality 79 per cent above standard risks, compared with an excess of 42 per cent for those moderately obese. Among females the excess amounted to 61 per cent and 42 per cent for the marked and moderately obese, respectively."

The excess mortality of the overweight people was accounted for by very high death rates from various diseases, particularly the degenerative conditions. It was most marked for the diseases of the heart and blood vessels, and for diabetes, cirrhosis of the liver, gall stones, and appendicitis.

The mortality for cancer and from pneumonia was about the same as the standard, and that for tuberculosis was considerably lower in the overweight group than for the standard experience.

Stripper Found Not Guilty By Justice Jury

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 12 (UP)—Stateside stripper Lili St. Cyr staged her original bubble-bath dance at Ciro's nightclub last night with the blessing of a justice court jury, and the swank cafe announced her act would be held over for another week.

The beautiful blonde dancer went into her act wearing the abbreviated G-string and strategically placed rhinestones that were exhibits "A" and "B" in the county's case against her for lewd exposure. She performed only a few hours after a jury found her innocent of the charge.

The act was the one that got Lili pinched at Ciro's Oct. 19 for wearing too much of her anatomy, and a well-filled audience of movie-land notables was properly appreciative.
