NOTICE TO LOCAL NIMRODS

—Just because this happens to be open season on deer, and there will be four live ones right in the city limits of Ranger, gives you no authority to take a pot shot at Santa's four animals.

Other than violating the law you might get mobbed by the kids if you tried to take home the bacon from the parade.

You sure have to give those Volunteer Firemen credit for getting the job done.

The turnout for the cleanup yesterday was rather discouraging, but they went right ahead with the civic minded volunteers and aid they were given and made a good job of their cleanup.

If you folks haven't been taking in these basketball games of the high school and college, let it be known that you are missing some exciting games (with the exception of the stall by Arlington in the RJC Tournament).

Both schools have some outstanding athletes on their round ball squads and really get in there and hustle.

The Ranger Junior College has met some fine teams this year, defeating most of them. The one's they lost could have gone either way from our way of thinking.

The Ranger High School boys have yet to be defeated. They came through the Dublin Tournament and brought home the bacon in the form of a trophy.

As far as the local press is concerned RJC is the champ of their tournament, that last game was a mistake on the part of Arlington.

The Arlington coach admitted that they couldn't beat the Rangers in a fast moving game. So they just kept the ball away from them.

If any of you kids want to write Santa Claus do so now and we will have your letters in time to put them in the Christmas edition of the Times.

If you can't write, put mom or pop to work, you can sure tell what you want the little man to drop in your stocking Christmas morn.

You people sure could help us out if you would call and tell us whether you are going out to town for Christmas, expecting guests, or just staying at home, so we could let everyone know what we're doing over the holidays.

It would be interesting to be able to glance at the paper and see what your friends are doing, so why not give us a ring at 224 and tell us your plans!

Don't forget Santa and his reindeer will be here in the morning at 10 o'clock.

NLRB Keeps Hands Off Music Tiff

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18 (UP)—The National Labor Relations Board sounded a sour note today for a determined tuba player who lost a chance to get back his job with the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra.

The ruling was out of tune for Clarence O. Karella, who was fired nearly three years ago by Conductor Eugene Ormandy because he was "not fitting into the brass section."

The NLRB voted unanimously not to take jurisdiction over his case because it was "too remote"—especially since the board had not stepped into the field of artistic merit previously.

Upper States Blanketed By Snow Storms

By United Press
A vast snow storm swept the country from the Rocky Mountains to the Atlantic Coast today and the "coldest weather of the season" was right behind it.

Weather forecasters predicted that the prewinter cold wave would get increasingly worse with no sign of a letup in the freezing, snowy weather that already has cost 163 lives.

The broad belt of snow stretched from Wyoming and Montana across the Great Plains states, the Great Lakes and eastward into New England.

Northwestern New York State was blanketed with snow reaching a depth of four feet at Watertown. Some drifts were 10 feet deep.

Two men died from over exertion in Niagara County while shoveling snow.

In New England, forecasters anticipated three "White Christmas" snowstorms in a row—one today, another Thursday and still another during the week-end. Forecasters predicted an accumulation of four to 10 inches.

Chicago had more snow which fell on top of last week's 10-inch layer.

Chicago weather forecasters said the snowy weather had held back a Canadian cold wave poised across the border.

They predicted a general snowfall of about five inches, "maybe more" tomorrow and then a "cold wave" would enter the United States.

"It will be the coldest weather of the season by far," a forecaster said.

Chief Reminds Drivers Of New Uniform Law

Chief of Police W. G. Pounds asked that it be brought to the attention of the people of Ranger the text of the new Uniform Act covering starting a motor vehicle from a stopped or stationary position.

In Article VI, Section 67-1 it states "STARTING PARKED VEHICLE—No person shall start a vehicle which is stopped, standing or parked unless and until such movement can be made with safety."

The chief said this also pertains to moving an automobile away from the curb. In other words you must be absolutely sure that you will not interfere with traffic, coming or going, when you start your car from a stopped position.

Chief Pounds is asking that all motorists use the utmost caution in their driving in Ranger and elsewhere especially during the Christmas and New Year's holidays.

The Texas Department of Public Safety has estimated that 222 persons will die in Texas over the Christmas holidays and the chief is hopeful that you will take precautions and not be one of the 222.

Tax Investigators Subpenae "Mystery Witness" To Appear

By Rex Chaney
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Dec. 18 (UP)—House investigators have subpoenaed Henry W. (The Dutchman) Grunewald to testify Thursday about an alleged $500,000 tax shakedown attempt against ex-Capone attorney Abraham Teitelbaum, it was learned today.

Adrian W. Dewind, chief counsel of the House Ways and Means subcommittee which has unearthed widespread tax scandals, confirmed that the capital's top mystery man was under subpoena "returnable Thursday."

Dewind refused further comment, but it was learned that Grunewald, now in Georgetown hospital here under treatment for a stomach ailment, would be questioned in closed session.

Grunewald refused to give even his name when subcommittee members visited him in the hospital last week. His attorney, William P. Maloney, said in New York last night that Grunewald "will obey the subpoena of the committee if he is physically able." Maloney previously had said that Grunewald would testify only at a public session.

The White House remained silent on President Truman's plans to clean up corruption in government. An announcement was expected at any time that Federal

CLEANUP CAMPAIGN NETS 65 LOADS OF TRASH YESTERDAY

The trash pickup sponsored by the Ranger Volunteer Fire Department netted 65 loads of trash delivered to the dump grounds by the workers yesterday.

Some reports have been coming of piles of refuse that were missed in the cleanup. If you have trash missed by the drive call the City of Ranger and they will haul the trash off as they stated prior to the drive.

"Brownie" King of the King's Cafe played Santa Claus to the Ranger Volunteer Fire Department and gave them ten dollars to award as prize money for the largest piles of trash picked up yesterday.

R. C. Everett won the first prize of five dollars, J. W. Weaver took the three dollars, and Dorris Jacobs hauled in the two dollar prize for the largest piles of trash in the contest.

Volunteer Fire Chief Virgo Johnson led the volunteers and other workers that made the fine showing under the circumstances yesterday.

The team captains for the eight divisions were Jack Mace, J. W. White, L. T. Rushing, H. A. Shockey, D. A. Fawcett, T. C. Weaver, "Jelley" Weaver, and Bill Ewing, all of the Volunteer Fire Department.

Mr. Earl Blackwell was present as a representative of the county commissioner to aid the Volunteer Firemen in the drive.

The City of Ranger sent A. F. Stephens, W. W. Jones, Walter Mace, and Con Hazard to aid in the pickup.

T. N. Young Passes Away

Mr. N. T. Young, who lived south of Ranger on the Dead-end highway, passed away in a local hospital this morning.

Funeral arrangements are pending and Morris Funeral Home of Ranger will be in charge of the arrangements upon their completion.

He is survived by five sons: Lewis, Sam, and Noah, all of Gorman; Eshram of Farrell; and Alfred of Dallas. Two daughters: Mrs. John Ash of Gorman and Mrs. Norman Box of Ranger; and a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Dewitt Young of Ranger.

Company was represented by Joe Fraley and a truck; the Ranger Peanut Company had two trucks and drivers on hand; and James Raliff of Raliff's Feed Store sent a truck and a driver; Buck Wallace and a helper manned a truck in the campaign; Pat Thomas and Dr. Marshall Jolly each donated money to hire labor for the work; Coach O. C. Warden gave the drive a much needed boost when he brought 12 high school boys to work; and Allen Full worked all evening as a representative of the Ranger Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Chief Virgo Johnson said this morning that he wished to thank each and every person or organization that aided in making the cleanup campaign it was on behalf of the members of the Volunteer Fire Department.

General Dean Is Said To Be Alive And Red Prisoner

PANMUNJOM, Korea, Dec. 18 (UP)—Maj. Gen. William F. Dean, last seen "fighting like a tiger" against Communist tanks in the battlesmoke around Taejon, July 20, 1950, is alive in a Communist prison camp, a Communist newsmen said today.

"Big Bill" Dean, 52, commander of the U. S. 24th Division was awarded the first Congressional Medal of Honor of the Korean war after he disappeared while fighting with a forward bazooka unit at Taejon. His last words to a command post before he disappeared were:

"I just got me a tank." Alan Winnington, correspondent for the London Daily Worker, said today Dean's name was on a list of allied war prisoners held by the Communist which was handed U. N. truce negotiators here.

Dean officially was listed as missing in action and probably wounded, July 22, 1950.

The tall, tough, red-haired general was seen directing stragglers and helping wounded to safety just before a Communist knock-out drive overran the forward anti-tank position where he was fighting.

Dean had knocked out a tank singlehanded a little before he was captured. After a 75-MM recoilless rifle had failed to hit a Communist tank in four tries, Dean crawled forward and lobbed a hand grenade into an open hatch.

Then under heavy fire he crawled back and organized bazooka teams which knocked out three more tanks. Then the unit was overrun and cut off.

Dean's interpreter, wounded in the shoulder in the fighting, said he last saw Dean "fighting like a tiger."

Library To Close Over Holidays

The announcement has been made that the library will be closed December 21 until January 7 for the observance of the Christmas holidays and to take the annual inventory.

All outstanding books must be in the library by Friday afternoon in order for a complete inventory to be taken.

Mrs. J. R. McLaughlin reported that the library had the biggest month in November since it opened. There were 707 books loaned during that month.

Father Kills His Wife, Son Then Attempts Suicide

OCALA, Fla., Dec. 18 (UP)—James Nelson, 37, killed his wife and his eight-year-old spastic son, then shot himself in a fit of rage over her divorce suit, Sheriff Don McLeod said today.

Nelson, a truck driver, was reported in critical condition at Monroe Memorial Hospital from a .45 caliber pistol bullet wound in the head and another near the heart.

SANTA AND HIS REINDEER TO BE HERE TOMORROW MORNING

Santa Claus and his four reindeer, Donner, Blitzen, Dancer, and Prancer will be here in the morning at 10:00 o'clock.

You've been hearing so much of the Santa and the four reindeer that the Retail Merchants Association is bringing to Ranger as part of their Christmas program for 1951, now you will be able to see them.

Santa said he will be very busy that morning, yet he will find time to talk to the children as he and his reindeer go gliding up Main Street.

The sleigh used by Santa and pulled by the four reindeer is the only one like it in existence. It has a special type wheel permitting use on city streets.

Each of the reindeer will be wearing bright red harness on which their names are imprinted in brass nameplates. This will aid the children and the adults in picking out the names as they parade down the street Wednesday morning.

Especially the children can't afford to miss this bit of the Christmas story that will be enacted right before your eyes as Santa comes down the Main Street of Ranger pulled by the four prancing reindeer. Make it a point to be with the rest of the folks in this area when Santa comes to Ranger.

C-47 Crash Near Houston Will Be Probed Today

HOUSTON, Dec. 18 (UP)—Ellington Air Force Base officials said an investigating board would be called today to investigate the engine failure which forced a C-47 transport plane to crash-land just short of a Houston residential area.

Seven men parachuted safely from the twin-engine transport yesterday while its pilot and copilot stayed aboard to nurse the big plane toward Municipal field. None of the crew was seriously injured.

The transport hit with its wheels up four blocks short of the landing strip, then bounced and skidded several hundred yards, coming to a stop only a block from a highway and two blocks short of the residential section.

The plane was enroute from its base at Robbins Field, Macon, Ga., when the crash occurred.

Lt. Col. R. M. Bain, the pilot, ordered his passengers to jump when he had to feather his left engine and began to lose power on the right. He and Capt. R. E. Pitman, the co-pilot, tried to reach the airport.

"I couldn't hold the plane up," Bain said. The left engine was sheered off and the right jerked loose from the wing when the plane hit.

The worst injury suffered by any of the passengers or crew was a sprained ankle. Marine Pfc. William L. Barton, 26, of Monroe, La., stationed at Camp Lejeune, N. C., was treated for the sprain at Ellington AFB hospital and discharged. The eight others were examined and treated for minor bruises.

The seven who parachuted landed in the congested housing area. Cpl. James Fernandez of Fort Jumbur, who was making his first jump, said he almost alighted on a church steeple.

Others who bailed out were Capt. Henry R. Lambert, 29, of Savannah, Ga.; the navigator, Pfc. Jerry L. Willey, 21, of Lost Hills, Calif.; T-Sgt. Henry C. Dunarsky, Robbins Field; T-Sgt. James Alford, 27, of Manchester, Ga., a Marine on leave from Korea, and Pvt. Donald Pahl, 22.

'Communist Account Of POW's Fall Short Of Expectations

By Arnold Dibble
United Press Staff Correspondent
PANMUNJOM, Korea, Dec. 18 (UP)—The Communists gave the United Nations today the names of 2,198 U. S. war prisoners—all they hold out of 12,795 Americans missing in the Korean war.

"The big problem is the exchange of prisoners, not the exchange of names," he said. "It is unfortunately only the first step."

The U. N. command warned, moreover, that the Communist lists "probably include errors, omissions and possibly fictitious additions."

"In order to spare families and relatives of missing servicemen undue anxiety," an official statement said, "the U. N. command re-emphasizes the fact that these lists have not been verified."

"Every effort humanly possible will be made immediately to check the lists and the respective armed services in the U. S. will notify the next-of-kin immediately upon verification."

"The adjutant general of the Army in Washington estimates that notification could be made within 48 hours after receipt of U. S. prisoner lists for any number up to 4,000 names."

There was general disappointment in the UN camp at the brevity of the communist list. It had been hoped that at least 6,000 American would be listed.

But far greater was the gap between the 7,000 South Koreans reported in Communist camps and the 70,000 who have been listed as missing in action by the South Korean government.

However, the UN command acknowledged that South Korean records were inaccurate and possibly contained duplication. More over, the 8th Army's Chief War Crimes investigator has estimated that at least 7,000 South Korean troops had died in Communist atrocities.

For a solid week, the Reds had steadfastly refused to turn over the data on allied prisoners unless the UN delegation would accept their terms for an exchange of prisoners.

But hardly had the subcommittee convened at 11 a. m. Tuesday when North Korea, Gen. Lee Sang Cho notified U. S. Rear Admiral R. E. Libby that he was prepared to exchange lists.

After the exchange, the subcommittee members agreed tentatively to meet again at 11 a. m. Wednesday (9 p. m. today EST), but actual arrangements were left to liaison officers. It was agreed that sufficient time should be given both sides to study the lists.

General Nuokis said that General Lee seemed strangely subdued in yielding to allied demands after his bombastic statements of recent days.

The Communist about-face revived hopes for an early armistice, but even the prisoner subcommittee still has several obstacles to overcome.

Biggest remaining snag to an agreement on an exchange of prisoners is the Communist demand for release of all prisoners. This would give the Reds back 132,474 Chinese and North Korean troops in exchange for only 11,559 allied troops.

The U. N. command has proposed a man-for-man exchange which would leave more than 120,000 Red prisoners in allied hands. However, the U. N. has indicated it is willing to work out some compromise.

Ranger Day At Stock Show Is January 27th

FORT WORTH, Dec. 18—The "finest response ever" considering that the opening day is more than a month away, is the phrase in which President-Manager W. H. Witt describes the number of acceptance from cities to have a special day at the Southwest Exposition and Pat Stock Show, Jan. 25 through Feb. 3.

Arkansas will have a "day," Manager Clyde E. Byrd of the Arkansas Livestock Show, writes, Miss Nancy Elwood, queen of the 1951 Arkansas exposition, it to be that state's Cowgirl Sweetheart, Scott D. Hamilton Little, Rock Chamber of Commerce manager, is cooperating in arrangements for the day.

Newest acceptances also include: Ranger—Manager R. V. Gallo-way of the Chamber of Commerce advises that Allen Full, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, will be in charge, the day being Sunday, Jan. 27, afternoon rodeo;

Jun.-Sun.—Manager Pete W. Jacoby of the Chamber of Commerce writes that a large delegation will attend the night rodeo, Feb. 1, bringing the high school band (Clayton Dodd, director) and, as Cowgirl Sweetheart, Miss Laverne Johnston;

Texasarkana — L. E. Gilliland, manager of the Four States Fair and Chamber of Commerce, has ordered a block of tickets for Jan. 28.

Cities whose acceptances had been previously announced are Snyder, Denison, Jackboro, McKinney, Sherman, Coleman, Waco, Wichita Falls, Stamford, Denton, and Graham. Any city may have a special day by writing to Stock Show officials.

EFFECTIVE FLATTERY
I met with the Indian Hotel Association in annual convention at Fort Wayne, and decided that the best victuals served are those dished out by innkeepers to each other.

In keeping is one of the oldest businesses in existence, and the United States leads the world in hotel comforts. Many of the improvements in homes, from modern plumbing to inner springs and hot running water, were popularized by innkeepers who pioneered in these conveniences.

I heard a speaker remind hotel managers of the strides they had made in luxurious living. "Think of the comforts," he said, "enjoyed by one of your guests today compared to the kind of accommodation, provided in the time of Cleopatra and Mark Anthony, Henry VIII, or Queen Elizabeth."

The costs of innkeeping have risen so high that few hotels now can make any money without housing and feeding conventions.

I. B. Lipson, Chicago attorney, addressed a gathering of hotel executives on the effectiveness of flattery in the business of innkeeping.

The students of a Greek philosopher had discussed flattery in to the night. Reporting to the philosopher in the morning, they said, "Master, we voted unanimously that every citizen of Athens is susceptible to flattery, except one, and you are that one." The pleased philosopher smiled, and said nothing.

E. M. Pritchard Given Promotion

E. M. Pritchard, Senior Resident Engineer for the State Highway Department, with offices in Eastland, has been promoted to Assistant District Engineer, effective January 1st. The district offices are located in Brownwood.

The Brownwood district is composed of Brown, Coleman, Mills, San Saba, McCullough, Stevens, Comanche, Lampasas and Eastland, and Mr. Pritchard's promotion would suggest that he has been signally honored by officials of the department.

The changes were made following the resignation of District Engineer, Leo Ehlinger of Brownwood, the oldest employe on Texas state payrolls in number of years served. Robt. J. Milligan, at this time Assistant District Engineer, will succeed Mr. Ehlinger, and Mr. Pritchard will take over the duties formerly cared for by Mr. Milligan.

A new resident engineer will be chosen for Eastland, though his name is not available at this time.

Eastland Masons To Commemorate 75th Anniversary Of Lodge On Thursday Night Of This Week

EASTLAND, Tex. (Special) — On Thursday night Dec. 20th, Eastland Lodge No. 467 A.F. & A.M. will celebrate its Seventy-Fifth Anniversary with a program and refreshments for its members and all Masons and their families and friends.

The first Masonic Lodge in Eastland County was organized in 1873 and was known as Alameda Lodge No. 467. It met in the upper floor of the old Schrick school house that stood at Mansker's Lake. J. S. Bedford was the worshipful master and J. E. Gould secretary. The first candidate to be initiated and made a Mason was James C. Calhoun, whose name is familiar to all persons acquainted with early Eastland county history.

In 1876 the name of the Lodge was changed and a charter granted in the name of Eastland Lodge No. 467, with the same principal officers as the old Alameda Lodge.

The history of Eastland Lodge No. 467 is fraught with moves and fires. After moving to Eastland the lodge rooms were located in the upper story of the present Corner Drug Store, but upon completion of the Eastland County Court House the meeting place was changed to the grand jury room of that building until a fire destroyed the building in 1886. The next home of the Lodge was in the old Dowdala building on the north side of the square, hardly was the Lodge settled and new furnishings installed when this building and all the lodge furnishings were lost in flames. After this catastrophe the lodge moved into temporary quarters in a small building located about where Mrs. Houlter Dress Shop now stands. From where it again moved into the upper story of the Corner Drug Store. Having bought that part of the property this was their home until the present Temple was completed in 1920 and a permanent home was established. The upper floor of the Corner Drug Store property having been sold to the ground floor owner.

The oldest worshipful master of the Eastland Lodge, still living in Eastland is Earl Conner Sr. He having served the lodge in this capacity for the years 1907-08 and again in 1925-26.

The present officers of the Lodge are: W. M. Jessop Worshipful Master, H. H. Hardeman Senior Warden, Aubrey Van Hoy Junior Warden, Leonard Huckaby Senior Deacon, Wayne Jackson Junior Deacon, L. J. Lambert Tiler, H. P. Pentecost Secretary.

Hartford Cops Go On Official Drunk

HARTFORD, Conn., Dec. 18 (UP) — Three Hartford policemen were recovering today from a round of drinks they had yesterday all in the line of duty.

They were testing the effectiveness of an "alcometer," which registers the percentage of alcohol in the blood. The machine is used to determine whether motorists are guilty of drunken driving.

Police Lt. D. Richard Florino was served two glasses of beer, Capt. Joseph P. McDonald received four glasses, and Deputy Police Chief Peter A. Anderson got eight ounces of whiskey.

A Yale psychologist found that the lieutenant was still sober, the captain was a borderline case, and the chief—well, he was glad it was only a test.

Henry Van Gessm Senior Steward, D. A. Collins Junior Steward.

A worthwhile program has been planned and it is hoped that all members, their families and friends will be present.

New York Times Names New Chief

NEW YORK, Dec. 18 (UP) — Turner Catledge was named managing editor of the New York Times today to succeed the late Edwin L. James who died Dec. 3.

Arthur Hays Sulzberger, publisher of the newspaper, announced James' successor.

Catledge was born in Ackerman, Miss., where he started his newspaper career on the Neshoba Democrat, a hand-set weekly. He later was on the staffs of the Memphis Commercial Appeal and the Baltimore Sun before joining the Times in July, 1929. From 1941 to 1943 he was with the Chicago Sun and became its editor-in-chief before returning to the Times.

Japanese Strike For The First Time In History

TOKYO, Dec. 18 (UP) — Police broke up today a solid line of pickets armed with bamboo poles who kept Christmas shoppers from three Tokyo department stores for seven hours.

Dorothy Dix Will Be Buried Today

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 18 (UP) — Dorothy Dix, who lent a willing ear to the heartaches of a nation for half a century, will be buried here today in Metairie Cemetery at 2 o'clock.

The beloved columnist, whose real name was Mrs. Elizabeth Meriwether Gilmer, died Sunday at the age of 90 in Touros Infirmary. She had been confined for 20 months by a heart ailment.

Her will provides that the name of Dorothy Dix is not to be used for any newspaper column after her death. The work of advising the thousands who confided in her had been done largely by others since she became ill in 1949.

Some 400 police and reservists descended on pickets blocking the entrances to the eight-story Mitsukoshi department store, largest and most elaborate in Japan, and its two branches. After minor scuffles in which six demonstrators were arrested, the pickets gave way and customers once more entered the stores.

Dean's Wife Is Elected Over Glad News

BERKELEY, Calif., Dec. 18 (UP) — Mrs. Mildred Dean, wife of Maj. Gen. William F. Dean, said today she was "very happy" that her husband has been reported a prisoner of war of the Communists, but that she would "await further developments before turning handsprings."

"I think it's fine that they finally came out and admitted it," she said. "But I just want to wait."

She indicated that like her 71-year-old mother-in-law, her hopes had been raised too many times, only to be dashed to the ground.

But Dean's son, Cadet William F. Dean, Jr., said at West Point he had never given up hope for his famous father.

"I knew he was all right," young Dean said. "And not so long ago we received word from a missionary that he was safe and there have been a lot of letters assuring us he was alive."

The younger Dean, a third-classman at the U. S. Military Academy, said he received the news that his father was a prisoner "about 3 a.m." and "I could not go back to sleep."

Dean's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Dean, choked with emotion when she was told the news.

"It's wonderful," she said. "That he is alive."

"I've been praying these many months for his safety. Oh, thank God."

Seeing Is Believing

JACKSON, Mich., Dec. 18 (UP) — Municipal Judge M. Groves

Hatch has served too man on the bench to believe eye that meets the eye.

When Mrs. Florence came before him on a bad charge, her family appealed leniency on the grounds that she was an expectant mother—which she appeared to be.

After ordering an examination of the woman, the judge was told the facts of life. Mrs. Coombe "alibi" was only stuffing padding to the best advantage in the lining of her coat.

The Fellow Who Sees Flying Saucers—

... may be somewhat like the one who buys real estate without an abstract—he sees and believes but he never knows! Land looks fine, so do the improvements, but how about title? The title itself is invisible, but there is an easy way find out about it. Land and its possessions are one thing, title is quite another. Yes, brother, when you buy real estate without an abstract you may be seeing things it could be flying saucers!

Enrollment Limits For 1952 Football Conferences Revised

Changes are being made in the enrollment requirements for football conferences for the 1952 season. In keeping with the State Executive Committee's new policy of using a sliding enrollment scale the automatic membership level of all conferences except Six-Man is being raised.

The sliding scale has been authorized to prevent districts from being over-crowded and to maintain an orderly state play-off for each conference. It is believed that this system will make unnecessary any major reclassification such as occurred the past year.

The new membership limits of the conferences for next year will be, Conference 4-A, 1,000 and up, instead of 850 and up; Conference 3-A, 500 to 1,000, instead of 450 to 850; Conference AA, 225 to 500, instead of 200 to 450; Conference A, 125 to 225, instead of 115 to 200; Conference B, 124 and under. High schools with less than 100 enrollment may enter Six-Man football, just as was the case this year.

Enrollment as based on average membership for the last four years for the 1950-51 school year, as found in the Superintendent's Annual Report; is the basis used for classifying schools for the 1952 football season.

Desdemona Wins Ball Tournament

In giving results for various High School Basketball games during recent tournaments, Desdemona's teams was overlooked. Desdemona won first place trophy and Olden the consolation. In the girls' games Lingleville took first honors with consolation going to Gorman.

The tournament was played in Desdemona on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week.

Platoon System Wins Endorsement

Texas high school coaches like the platoon system for football. A majority of them made this quite clear in answering a questionnaire sent out last month by the Interscholastic League. The poll was taken by submitting questions to 870 coaches of League teams.

The 468 replies received to date are tabulated below: To the question, "Do you favor the present rules governing 'Substitution' as handled under the 1951 NCAA Football rules?", 345 answered yes, 123 answered no. There was apparently a little confusion in answering the next items, for when those who voted no to the first question were asked if they desired a more liberal system, 103 said yes, 65 said no, for a total considerably above the total of those who did not like the present rules. The same discrepancy showed up when the same group were asked if they desired a more restrictive system, and 28 said yes, 117 said no.

Those who answered yes to the question on substitution rules were asked, "Do you desire 'free substitution' as employed in professional football?", and 130 replied yes, 149 said no.

mer Burleson, Congressman For 17th District Speaks At Eastland

EASTLAND, Tex. (Special)

A joint meeting of Lion and Rotary Clubs was held at the Methodist church, Monday at noon. Attendance was exceptionally good, and the program was greatly appreciated. Following the usual informal opening, the Lions Club chairman has visiting Lions and Rotarians introduced. The meeting was then turned over to Rotary leader who asked George Lane to introduce the speaker the day.

George performed this task in usual dry-witted style. After well chosen wise-cracks he presented our Congressman, a Burleson, who gave the a number of well chosen gan by stating that we in a complicated day and that most people do just what to do. Recent friend in this area pre- ted him with a sack of pecans, eh he said, he has not opened. must wait and see just how ay pecans he is to be allowed. Many of the cracks were directed in the direction of Administration Democrats, and the local group seems to enjoy them very much. One man asked him what he speaker thought of certain cts in Washington on the part public servants. Another came right to the point and asked him what he thought of Truman. Mr. Burleson said he felt this was a leading question, another said it was the 364 question, but after some seconds of "squirring" the Congressman admitted that he Truman would not be a date to succeed himself.

rid conditions have changed the last decade, and in all ability we will never see what ally term the "good old again, he said. Modern im- nations have changed a living conditions, and we must of necessity adjust ourselves to the new order.

America is the world's free na- tion, though we are greatly de- pendent on others to make present living possible. We do not have the steel and other metals that need. Not less than 34 per cent our autos are made from im- ported metals. We are the great- and strongest nation on earth and we have to remain strong for our own welfare. Nations in op- position to our way of life do not appreciate right and wrong, but only "might." They have nothing to lose, and if, when they are crushed they will not suffer. "Just pass their hair on the outside of their heads and forget yesterday." They have no moral concept, what ever.

They do appreciate armed might, and to get this might we have been compelled to spend multiplied billions. The congressman admitted there has been a day when certain departments, notably the armed force heads had been given too much freedom in spending. They were told to go out and prepare and then send the bill. This has caused grave concern, but America has learned her lesson. In the future buying is going to continue but it is to be kept in due bounds, and squandering isn't going to be done on a large scale.

We are now enjoying "Controlled-inflation" and a lot of people are looking for the final answer. The speaker said the worst is yet to come. Everything is too high, he said, but when taxes go higher than 25 per cent of a man's in- come it is confiscation.

The United States, with all its blunders, has always put emphasis on the preservation of life, and if we get into another war we are preparing to give our fighting groups the very best in equipment. In Caesar's day it cost the govern- ment only 75c to end the career of one enemy. During World War I it took $25,000 to silence a soldier for keeps, and today we are paying $75,000 for the same job.

When departments demand money now, they are forced to justify their claims.

Mr. Burleson spoke in the highest terms when he spoke of Gen- eral Eisenhower. It seems that Ike is putting the squeeze on some European nations, supposedly our friends, and states that America's portion of finance in Western Europe may be cut some several billions of dollars. This is the one thing that we have been asking for.

"The Congressman didn't try to do any 'cray-fishing' but frank- ly admitted he voted for numerous money bills, feeling that under existing conditions, they were right. But in the future you may expect the Congress to get a kind of preview of the item in question before they approve it.

The one thing that has crippled our efforts is the constant jockeying for power but certain European groups.

Today we must have a global view before making important decisions. What is good for America must not wreck havoc on others, but at the same time America must see to it that her needs and safety plans are curtailed.

One great leader, Solomon, asked for wisdom, and received it, and was thereby successful in operating and caring for a great nation. After all, our power may lay in the hands of the Creator, and our victory may rest in His power rather than in might.

Yet we must exert every effort in helping ourselves. We must have materials and minerals from all over the world, and to do this we must be in position to go get them when needed.

We must restore confidence, and to this end the Congress is now working.

His remarks were well received and cheering during the speech, would indicate that many citizens

Airline Strike Delays Christmas Travel In U. S.

NEW YORK, Dec. 17 (UP)—Hundreds of overseas passengers and Korean Army veterans going home for Christmas were delayed today by a sudden weekend strike of PanAmerican World Airways ground and service personnel.

About 5,800 mechanics, stewards, and commissary employes struck at midnight Saturday—24 hours ahead of their announced strike deadline—catching the air line with a heavy Sunday schedule.

The strikers—members of the CIO Transport Workers Union—picketed Pan-American bases at New York, Miami, Brownsville, Texas; San Juan, Puerto Rico; San Francisco, Seattle and Honolulu as supervisory personnel pitched in to keep the flights operating.

Five flights from New York to Europe and South America were cancelled yesterday and others were delayed as much as 24 hours. But company officials said flights were being pushed up today to take care of the jam of passengers caused by yesterday's cancelled schedules.

The walkout by Union members followed breakdown of contract negotiations. The union is asking a $40 monthly increase for flight stewards and stewardesses and an 18-cent hourly increase for port stewards and mechanics.

The strike started a few hours after the national mediation board asked the union to postpone its scheduled midnight Sunday walk-out pending a meeting with federal mediators tomorrow in Washington.

Union officials said they had not received the telegram request until "after the strike began," but said they would send representatives to the Washington meeting tomorrow although the strike would continue.

Four Killed When B-29 Crashes And Burns Near Shreveport, La.

SHREVEPORT, La., Dec. 15 (UP)

Four men were killed when a B-29 bomber crashed and burned near here, but fast work by rescue crews who pulled victims from the flaming wreckage was credited today with saving nine other crewmen.

Ambulance and crash trucks sped to the crashed Superfortress within three minutes after the big bomber roared out of a low-lying fog, clipped a house, snipped through electric power lines and smashed into U. S. Highway 80 near Barksdale Air Force Base last night.

An unidentified man and his wife were slightly injured when the bomber sheered off the top of their house about 200 yards from the highway.

Wreckage was scattered over wet, soggy ground, and part of the highway from Shreveport to Memphis, Tenn., was torn up. Power lines were down and a broken gas main set afire. Thick fog hung over the twisted aircraft.

The impact of the crash threw four to five feet of dirt over the highway. One taxi driver had to swerve his cab into a ditch to get out of the path of the doomed plane.

The plane crashed at 11:28 p. m. (CST) on the outskirts of Bossier City, just across the Red River from Shreveport.

Capt. William L. Joplin, public information officer at Barksdale, said no one at the field knew the plane was in trouble until it crashed.

Only one man was killed instantly. Three other victims died a few minutes after they reached the hospital.

Officials had not yet determined the cause of the accident, but it was expected that an investigation would begin early today.

Three of the survivors were injured seriously, officers said. The other six suffered cuts and bruises. Names of the dead and injured were withheld until relatives could be notified.

One man was missing for almost three hours after the accident. He appeared later, however, and was hurt only slightly. "Apparently he either was knocked unconscious and thrown clear of the wreck, or walked away from it and then fainted," Joplin said.

Names of the dead and injured were withheld pending notification of relatives.

Joplin said the plane was completely destroyed by the fire. He said it was en route from Travis Air Force Base at Sacramento, Calif., but was not based there.

Two Youngsters Robbed Of Money For Yule Presents

UPPER DARBY, Pa., Dec. 18 (UP)

Two young brothers, "befriended" by a youth who struck up a conversation on a street, were led to an isolated spot last night and robbed of their $12 savings with which they planned to buy Christmas presents for their widowed mother.

John Boyle, 13, and Joseph, 11, told police they were accosted by three youths after they were led to the spot by another youth named "Tony" they had met while window shopping in a business district.

The strange boy led them to the other youths on the pretext of going to his Aunt's house to see if he could accompany them shopping.

The Boyle boys said the three youths held them while "Tony" went through their pockets and took all their money, except 50-cents for carfare home.
