SEEN OR HEARD

The rainy freezing weather we've had the past day or so has greatly hampered driving through this section of the state although we have not been as hard hit as some areas.

Most of the bridges through here that were slick were sanded by the highway department, making them safe for drivers.

The Ranger police said yesterday afternoon that there were three overturned automobiles between here and Thubert during the night the freezing rain was falling.

All of the cars were damaged but none of the passengers were hurt seriously. One Negro woman from Midland was taken to the hospital and treated for minor injuries and then released.

We heard at the Lions Club yesterday that Ranger is about to lose a well known citizen when Allan Smith leaves here for Austin.

Bill Williams told the Lions at the meeting Thursday that Allan was going to Austin where they were opening another plant. He has been here for the company for a long period of time.

One group of business not envied in this icy foul weather are the paper boys. Come rain or shine they get their papers and head out on their routes.

Some of them are lucky and their parents take them when the weather is inclement, the other just duck their heads and start out cold or no cold. So if your paper is a little late during this bad weather it's probably because the boys are stopping to "warm up" a bit on their way around.

Chamber of Commerce office is about to get back to normal again. If you haven't paid them a visit you should go by and see the improvement in the office.

We'll bet a dollar the first thing you see is the purple doors. Dr. Calvin Harris, the president, admitted that he is the party responsible for having the doors painted purple.

Rip Galloway of course takes the brunt of the jokes about the sober color that knocks your eyes out as you go in the office.

Besides the new paint job a new conference table has been added. It is a beaut. Long and gleaming and high enough to cross your legs under; making it comfortable as well as good looking.

They added a rail at the front of the office and a swinging door will be added on the rail soon.

From the railing out to the windows the chamber is planning on putting down a tile floor. From the rail back the floor surface was painted with a green rubberized paint.

There is no comparison in the appearance now and before the remodeling job.

We have a neighbor with a different make auto than ours and naturally we're having some difficulty convincing him that ours is of a better make.

The other night we drove in and this charter that is so hard-headed came out with his head down looking meek and said: "I'd rather pay a five dollar towing fee than tell you this, but my battery is dead, would you give me a little shove?"

You can only imagine how superior we felt then. To top it all his conveyance would not start even after pushing it over half of Ranger. One thing is for sure the fun is just started.

Steelworkers Won't Strike

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., (UP)—The United Steelworkers (CIO) executive board voted to President Truman's appeal today and formally proposed postponing an industry-wide steel strike.

The board's recommendation was presented to a special union convention which was to give approval today.

The board said it was "not foregoing our right to strike" and gave the wage stabilization board 45 days in which to consider the union's contract fight with the industry.

At the end of 45 days, the 35-man board proposed that CIO President Philip Murray who also leads the union, will call a meeting of the steelworkers wage policy committee.

Jack Cox From Breckenridge Asks House Seat

Jack Cox, 26-year-old State Representative from Breckenridge, announced Thursday that he is a candidate for Congress from the 17th District.

He is seeking the post now held by Congressman Omar Burleson of Anson, who has been unopposed in the last two campaigns.

"Many important and vital issues face the people of our district to every voter," Cox said. "And it is my intention to take a positive stand on all such issues, whether domestic, national, or international, believing that our people deserve and need public servants who are not afraid to take a stand."

"I earnestly solicit the support and the votes of the people of this district, and pledge a vigorous and active campaign," he said. "I will carry this campaign to every voter so that all may know me and the things for which I stand."

World War II Vet
Cox, who graduated from Breckenridge high school and North Texas State College, is a veteran of World War II. He had never been opposed in his quest for the Texas legislative post.

At one time he was named the "outstanding young man of Stephens County" by the Breckenridge Chamber of Commerce.

Cox, after graduation from high school spent a summer as a grocery clerk, but as fall rolled around, the desire to enter college got the best of him. And that was when he packed his bag, and with only $1.50 in his pocket hitchhiked to Austin to enter the University of Texas.

His education was interrupted when he entered the Navy on Sept. 25, 1940. After training at Northwestern University, he obtained his "wings" at Pensacola, Fla., to become a commissioned officer.

Cox spent 29 months of his five years of Navy service overseas, one year of it at Pearl Harbor, receiving his discharge Sept. 25, 1945.

After getting out of the Navy he entered North Texas State and obtained his degree in government. He had announced as a candidate for the House of Representatives in January before he graduated the following June.

Since that time he has not stopped. Some intimates refer to him as a "human dynamo", with a service station and an automobile agency.

He is a Breckenridge auto dealer and is president of Texas Service Stations Association, serving about 2000 service stations in the state.

Cox teaches a senior high group at the First Christian church; is a member of the Retail Merchants Association; board of directors of the Breckenridge Lions club; Elks club; American Legion, and Veterans of Foreign Wars.

At Austin Cox was one of the first at his side in the legislative hall. Besides his important seat in the appropriations committee he served on the oil and gas and common carrier committees.

His wife, the former Joyce Smyrl, is his chief critic and counsel. They have two children, Jack, Jr., 7, and Callan Sue, 5.

Lions Here Talk On Aggregate Industry At Meeting Thursday

Bill Williams, vice-president and general manager of the American Aggregate Company here, was the speaker at the Thursday noon meeting of the Lions Club. A new member, C. F. Briggs who is director of the Ranger High School Band, was voted in by the members present.

In his talk to the Lions Williams told them of the origin of the aggregate industry in the United States. He said a blacksmith in St. Louis first discovered it when he observed that the shale in coal did not burn, but expanded under the intense heat. From that start the industry was born in the United States.

The Lions were also told that right now there are only five plants such as the one here in Texas.

Iron and Zinc oxide, aluminum and a large quantity of silicon is

TEXAS BUSINESS KEPT EVEN COURSE IN '51, BANK SAYS

DALLAS, Jan. 4 (UP)—The year 1951 brought "a more satisfactory degree of stabilization" than anticipated in Texas, said the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas in a year-end business review today.

"The year opened on a very strong note of inflation," the review said. "Businesses and consumers sought to acquire merchandise which it was felt might later be in short supply."

"New orders to manufacturers were at a very high level; prices pointed sharply upward; the demand for bank loans continued strong—and net personal savings were at a rate of less than four per cent of disposable income. These factors caused concern regarding the actual and potential inflation, the review said.

But when merchandise shortages failed to show, buyers developed caution, and businessmen guarded against over-heavy stocks. The effect of government controls was felt during the year, the review said. The federal reserve banking system regained some control over the availability of bank reserves, and a firmer money market resulted.

The review credited the voluntary credit restraint program, price and wage control, materials control and the expansion of basic industries, increased income taxes and other measures with helping stem the inflation potential.

The 1952 outlook, the review said, must be based on the assumption that "the present degree of tension will continue internationally—that no appreciable improvement will occur in relation between Russia and the Communist bloc—and the western Democracies."

It also must be assumed, said the review, that a cease-fire in Korea would not change the defense program to any great extent.

On this basis, the federal reserve economists forecast a full demand for the nation's labor force.

the general chemical nature of the shale used in the production of the lightweight building material. These chemicals are the main factors causing the expansion under heat.

Mr. Williams presented pictures of a house that had been constructed of the material made at his plant and invited the Lions to question him about the product.

Numerous questions were asked about the product and how it is fitting into the building industry. Williams said there are many uses for the material now and possibilities for many more are opening up all the time.

President Pat Thomas thanked Mr. Williams and Mr. Allan Smith of the company for constructing them the bases for their safety signs they have situated near the Ranger schools.

A special program was announced by the program chairman for next week. All Lions were urged to attend.

Treasury Agents Crackdown On Tax Evading Racketeers

Telephone Co. Announces New District Mgr.

John A. Cornell, Abilene manager of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, has been promoted to District Manager for Ranger and 14 other exchanges in this vicinity, J. H. Chowning, division commercial superintendent, has announced.

Cornell replaces C. A. Deuschle, District Manager here for the past two years, who is being transferred to Amarillo as Camp Telephone Manager for Southwestern Bell's facilities at the Amarillo Army Air Force Base. The change is effective immediately.

Mr. McNally will continue as Manager of the company here. Cornell began his telephone career in 1941 as a cable splicer in the company's Plant Department, and later went to Waco as a representative in the company's business office there.

During the war, he served in the U. S. Navy aboard a submarine, participating in many undersea patrols and assisting in the rescue of American flyers shot down at sea during the intensive B-29 raids on Japan. He holds the Asiatic-Pacific theatre ribbon and the Philippine Liberation medal.

In 1945, Cornell was discharged with the rank of Seaman 1st Class and returned to telephone work at Waco. He later served at Tyler, Fort Worth, and Plainview and in April of this year was named Manager at Abilene, his position until the present promotion.

Mr. and Mrs. Cornell have two children, a daughter 10, and a three-year-old son. They will move to Mineral Wells as soon as arrangements can be made.

March Of Dimes Drive Begins In Eastland County

The Eastland County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis set $7861.34 to assist a total of eight polio patients last year, it was revealed today by Joe Collins, Chapter Chairman.

Making public the 1951 financial report of Mrs. Ida Plummer, Chapter Chairman, Mrs. Plummer declared that services made possible through funds raised in the 1951 March of Dimes underlined the need for a successful 1952 drive.

The record of what has been done makes us all eager to continue and to expand this work as needed, he said. Unfortunately, even if we had no cases of infantile paralysis in our county in 1952, there remains much to be done for patients stricken in 1951 or before. Of the eight patients aided in 1951, one was an old case, seven new ones. The toll of polio continues on into the next year or years.

The report showed that $7861.34 was expended for hospitalization of polio patients whose families could not afford full cost of care themselves.

The Eastland County March of Dimes last year raised $3779.04 of which 50 per cent retained for local services and 50 per cent sent to national headquarters for its scientific research and professional education program, as well as emergency aid to Chapters. The national office supplements local funds when high incidence wipes out local resources. During the year $3250.00 was received in emergency aid by the Chapter, Mr. Collins said, and the Chapter bills 1952 with $1323.00 in unpaid bills.

Korean Veteran Joins Fourth Army Command
FORT HOOD, Jan. 4 (UP)—Brig. Gen. Numa A. Watson, Korean combat veteran, will be the new chief of staff of the Fourth Army, Lt. Gen. Le Roy Lutes, commander, has announced.

Gen. Watson, native of Salem, N. J., was assigned here after service with the 24th Infantry Division in Korea. He succeeds Brig. Gen. Francis T. Dodd, who has been assigned to the Far East Command.

Cold Wave Moves Eastward; Dixie Has Heat Wave

By United Press
Snow and crop-damaging cold hit the Pacific Coast today as emergency crews dynamited the ice-jammed Kankakee River in Illinois and the deep south enjoyed June in January.

All of California was gripped in a cold wave which caused some crop damage when temperatures dipped down to as low as 6 above zero. More than four inches of snow fell in the Pacific Northwest. More snow was in store for the area today.

Forecasters said a band of freezing rain and sleet, extending from the Texas Panhandle north through Missouri, would continue its east-bound journey and should reach the Great Lakes region later today.

The same mass of air slowly pushed down into Dixie where record high temperatures were recorded for the past two days. Rain was expected over the entire area within 24 hours, ending the hot spell.

Snow plow crews finally broke through the clogged roads of Colorado last night to reach the mountain town of Silverton. The community had been cut off from the outside world since a series of snowstorms Sunday.

Supplies of fresh milk and fuel were low, the crews reported. The city's 1,800 residents had been using dry and powdered milk. Existing coal supplies were shared with those who ran low.

There was a sharp drop in temperatures at the sleet and rain front moved south. Balmey temperatures prevailed in the area not yet hit by the cold mass. Miami had 81 yesterday and New Orleans 72. But Lake Charles, La., a short distance to the north, reported 59.

Casual Bandit Gets $5000 In Bank Holdup

SAVANNAH, GA., Jan. 4 (UP)—FBI agents sought a "casual" bandit today who held up a bank cashier for $5,000 without so much as arousing the suspicions of the cashier's secretary who was seated a few feet away.

Agents found the gunman's abandoned car and $8,550 of his loot yesterday shortly after the hold-up. They identified the holdup man as Joseph M. Kennedy, 29, but would not disclose how his identity was established.

The FBI said Kennedy walked into the southside branch of the Citizens and Southern National Bank here and sat down until cashier J. Eugene Whittington entered his office.

Whittington said Kennedy showed him a pistol under a newspaper and instructed him to write a check for $5,000. Whittington sent his secretary out to cash the check.

The secretary returned with the money and Kennedy forced Whittington to walk with him outside the bank to his parked car. They drove for about 10 blocks and the youth put Whittington out and sped away.

Poll Tax Payments Are Falling Off In This County; Only 1732 Receipts Been Issued To Date

It's going to take a miracle to pull the "poll tax depression" out of the hole, if we are to judge from former years. Today they are a drag on the market, and unless people begin fortifying themselves for the oncoming elections, most people will not vote.

To date only 1,732 poll tax receipts have been issued in Eastland county. This number includes exemptions and army receipts.

In 1950, another state and county election year, 3,442 poll tax payers left their dollar and six bits with the county tax collector, and this was considered a bad year. Back in 1948 when everybody and his dog wanted to vote for Truman, no less than

Fifty Million In Back Taxes Collected; 11,816 Cases Probed

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (UP)—Treasury agents have tapped 5,600 small-time racketeers for almost $50,000,000 in unpaid taxes since last August and now are closing in on some of the nation's most notorious hoodlums, it was disclosed today.

A top official of the Internal Revenue Bureau said the drive against racketeering tax-dodging, coupled with enforcement of the new stamp tax on gamblers, may well break the back of organized gambling.

Simultaneously with the highly-publicized cleanup of the bureau itself, Internal Revenue Commissioner John B. Dunlap has assigned 2,300 agents to the racket squad under James J. Guthrie to dig into the tax records of every known or suspected racketeer in the country.

Guthrie indicated the back taxes and penalties already collected may turn out to be chicken feed compared with the sums his agents hope to recover from the underworld big shots now coming under investigation. Guthrie said the Bureau has a file of 30,000 unfinished racketeering cases, of which 11,816 are under active investigation.

The Bureau doesn't talk about cases under investigation. But Guthrie left no doubt that the list includes such reputed gamblers and underworld kingpins as Frank Costello, Frank Erickson, Joe Adonis, and Ernest (Checkers) Smaldone, the Colorado gambling boss, and score of others who paraded before the Senate Crime Committee last year.

Also on the T-men's trouble list is Harry Gross, the Brooklyn bookie who wrecked the corruption trial of 18 New York City policemen last fall by refusing to testify against them.

Gross, now serving a long jail term, will have to explain whether he paid taxes on the $20,000,000-a-year business he is said to have handled. The Bureau also is interested in the tax returns of coin machines. He was sentenced to three years in jail and a $10,000 fine, and was forced to pay the treasury $955,151 in back taxes and penalties.

One of the biggest hauls in the drive thus far was obtained in the case of Louis E. Weicher, San Francisco, said to be one of the country's chief distributors of coin machines. He was sentenced to three years in jail and a $10,000 fine, and was forced to pay the treasury $955,151 in back taxes and penalties.

With government revenue under the new tax bill running to about $70,000,000,000 a year, the president may ask Congress for another tax hike to pay defense spending on a pay-as-we-go basis. But the legislators are in no mood to make the tax burden any heavier. Sen. Eugene D. Millikin (R-Colo.) said today there is "not a chance" Congress will raise taxes again.

Universal Military Training may produce the first pitched battle of the session. Congress has set up the framework for post-emergency UMT, but it still must enact legislation to get it started.

Mrs. Grigg Dies New Year Day

Mrs. Bonnie LaVada Grigg, 45, passed away at 4:45 p.m. January 1st, following a severe heart attack. Prior to her death, she appeared to be in the best of health, and her death came as a surprise. Funeral services were conducted at Okra, with Rev. Agnew, Baptist minister in charge.

Following the funeral service the body was brought to Eastland and laid to rest in the Eastland cemetery.

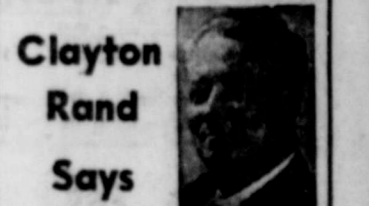

Other than her husband, H. C. Grigg, and a daughter, Bobby Gene Acker and one grandchild, she leaves a host of other friends and relatives to mourn her untimely death.

Certainly, single women seeking mates should be optimistic. According to the Census Bureau a girl has a much better chance in every 100 females over 14 years old 60 years ago. As of last April only 19 out of every 100 women were unmarried. And about 26 out of every 100 males over 14 were bachelors last spring. In 18-90, 25 percent were single.

Despite the marriages that go on the rocks, matrimony is still our most popular institution. And it isn't difficult, girls, for two people to be happy, if they don't get mad at the same time and don't expect each other to like the same things.

It's an awful experience to marry a lovely lady, and find out when it's too late, as did my father, that she ate sugar on her sliced tomatoes.

NEWS FROM CHEANEY

Mrs. Bill Tucker

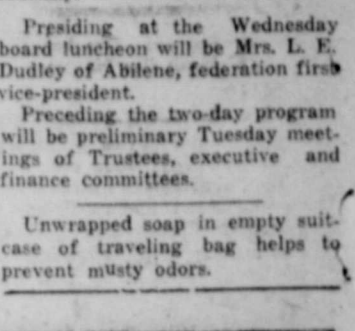

We have sent in the news items for 51 weeks in 1951—so maybe we are to be excused for missing out Christmas week. To tell the truth, the week got away in a hurry, so here we are again. My, I never ate so much fruit cake and candy—good homemade fudge and divinity—in my life! Betty Tucker and I made seven different kinds of candy and every bit turned out just right and was real tasty. The Christmas spirit prevailed in this neighborhood for the shut-in family of Tuckers. Mrs. Ben Freeman presented them with a luscious cake a few days before Christmas, along with canned fruit. Mrs. Sanford Lemley placed a big fruit cake under the Christmas tree which was brought to them by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Blackwell and girls. We like to think that we dressed it up real pretty. Mrs. Strickler also brought gifts of two kinds of cake. Mr. and Mrs. Ben Howard of Ranger brought a box assortment of nuts, candy, and fruit. All this with the nice cards, letters and gift packages helped to make the holiday season cheerful. Mr. and Mrs. Lum Love and Charlotte of Lubbock spent the Christmas week-end with their mother, Mrs. Jesse Blackwell and Mrs. Ann Love. Alton Perrin of Midland was home for Christmas with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Perrin. Mrs. Lillie Hogsten and daughters from California spent two weeks prior to Christmas visiting her mother, Mrs. Sarah Wilson and brothers, Ira and Aubrey Wilson and their families and with her sister, Mrs. Lois Melton. Another sister, Mrs. Omie Underwood from Fort Worth, came for Christmas Day. All the Will Underwood boys, Milton and Morris from Ft. Worth, Alton and Choc from Cheaney, together with their families were home for the Christmas dinner. The L. Rogers children, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Rogers and children Douglas, David and Dwight, and Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Galloway, had their dinner together on Sunday, December 22, with Mrs. Rogers and Billy Joe. All the D. C. Weekes' children ate Christmas eve dinner together. The Melva Loves, Ronnie and Joey, Mr. and Mrs. Dee Rodgers, Dan, Jan and Leon and also the J. D. Rogers family. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Love, Betty Jean and Junior visited Christmas day in Ranger with his nephew W. E. Walton and family, and Miss Minnie Walton of Brownwood. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bankston and F. D. Smiek of Oklahoma spent Saturday and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Lemley.

Sunday guest in the Electra Hattox home were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Richberg, Ronnie Richberg and family, Mrs. Odean Jacob and family, Mrs. Eva Wright and Frankie Stacey and Mrs. Alma Craig of Gorman. Mr. and Mrs. Cicero Rodgers are now at home near Cheaney. They reside on the place recently sold by Sam Yancey, who, with his family, are now living in Ranger. Mr. and Mrs. Pink Haley and children were Christmas visitors in the home of her mother, Mrs. Matt Davis, Junior and Fay. The Fred Rodgers family had Christmas dinner in Carbon with her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Nick Duggan. Mr. and Mrs. John Love were Christmas visitors in the Fred Macey home with their mother, Mrs. M. A. Rose, in Eastland. We made a short call in the S. T. Gregg home on Vitalious in Ranger recently. Mr. Gregg was not feeling up to par. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Butler visited in Weatherford with their daughter, Mrs. Goldie Compton and family. Drilling is still being continued on the Henry Perrin well—we surmise that no oil has been found yet. Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Blackwell and children and Mrs. Maggie Lemley of Ranger were recent visitors at the Cheaney Church of Christ. Mr. and Mrs. Billy Tucker spent New Years day with the parental Bill Tucker and Fred Joiner families. They returned to Jal, New Mexico on Wednesday. Harlis Logan of Kermit spent Christmas visiting Raymond Hattox. R. D. Hag, as reported Sunday, is still unable to return home from a Fort Worth hospital, following injuries in a car wreck. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Revel were recent Fort Worth visitors. The Ben Freemans and Matley Deans were Christmas visitors in Comanche with their brother Dick Weeks and family. We are deeply appreciative to Mr. Ray Crawley of Ranger for gasoline to get home on New Year's evening. He is indeed the good samaritan. It is things we can do for each other that are most of value and keeps the neighborly spirit glowing. Mr. and Mrs. Chris Tucker and family of Arlington visited the John Tuckers on Friday. They were enroute home from a Christmas visit in West Texas and Hobbs, New Mexico. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Brown and children also spent Christmas in Hobbs with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Tucker and grandmother, Mrs. Joe Tucker and family.

Womens Clubs To Study Finances, Taxes At Forum

WORTHAM, (SPL)—Forums on "The Financial Facts of Life" and the "Housewife Withholding Tax" will be top program events for the Texas Federation of Womens Clubs board of directors meeting in August January 8-9. Mrs. Van Hook Stubbs of Wortham, president, has called this first meeting of her administration at federation headquarters to lay work plans for the next two years. Tuesday night's opening forum will call attention of the 1300 member clubs to a new subject added to federation fields of work—that of economic security. "With 7 out of 10 women outliving their husbands, it's common sense for clubs to study this field," Mrs. Stubbs emphasized. The resulting discussion on "ABC's of Handling Money" will be led by three prominent Dallas businessmen. J. Ralph Wood is president of Southwestern Life Insurance Company; E. O. Cart right, partner of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner, and Beane; and Robert R. Ferguson, trust officer of the Republic National Bank. Marshall's embattled housewives will send a representative trio to hold Wednesday's public affairs program. Their talks will summarize their opposition to the withholding provision of the Social Security Act. Mrs. Carolyn Abney, Mrs. Dorothy Martin and Mrs. Cleste Clemmens will charge it is unconstitutional to force citizens to work as tax collectors without pay. Club leaders from all over Texas will be told that the right to present their case in court is all Marshall housewives ask.

Mrs. W. L. Womack, Tyler, and Mrs. Wade Odum, Wortham, will appear on the opening dinner program. Mrs. E. N. Smith, Marshall, will moderate the finance forum. She will be assisted by Miss Nanine Simmons, Mexia, and Mrs. J. W. Walker, Plainsview. Mrs. James A. Allen, Gess, presides at the public affairs forum, assisted by Mrs. Kirk Hall, Dallas, and Mrs. Fred Brooch, Jr., Munday. Presiding at the Wednesday board luncheon will be Mrs. L. E. Dudley of Abilene, federation first vice-president. Preceding the two-day program will be preliminary Tuesday meetings of Trustees, executive and finance committees. Looking Back on 1951—... the inventory shows that the scales weighed out a good portion of the better things for us to enjoy. While the mistakes we made stick out like a sore finger and our failures almost overwhelm us, yet these discouragements are small indeed when compared to the unhappiness and tragic experiences of some who happen to live in other countries. We are glad we live in Eastland County where we have had the opportunity to serve a host of loyal customers for more than a quarter century. NO SURVIVORS BY WILL HENRY. Copyright 1950 by Will Henry. Distributed by NEA Service, Inc. XXXIII DOWN on the ridge I had picked up another Colt from the dozens lying around on the ground, so had both hands full. I shot my way through them, headed for the only white man standing short of Custer's hillside—Sergeant Butler. He was still horsed, still firing. He had two Colts, also, and the way he snapped and rolled them was sheer magic. We made a second of respite as we came together, for no Indian here well-directed belly-fry on the intimate basis we'd been pouring it to them—say from about pony-lengths. Butler gestured upward Custer, said, laconically, "Let's go." We made it up to Custer who still had sufficient organization to give us enough of a covering volley to knock the Redskins off our tails. We had left the ridge with about 78 men, arrived on the hill with 85. The retreat took five minutes. It was now 4:15. Custer had 115 survivors left. The general was a sight to stir the heart and pride of any soldier. His shoulder and chest were soaked with the blood which still ran from a deep head wound. His left arm was in a torn-scarf sling, shattered by a large-caliber ball. He sat on the hot, bare ground, his bare back to a small boulder. The Gray French colors and the red and silver regimentals of the Seventh, with his big, red "7" on the lower half of the pennant, flanked him. On the ground to his right hand lay a stack of loaded carbines. Two Colts were strapped around his waist. In all that winter of bare-headed, baked-waisted, shot-torn men, he alone held to dress; hat, gaiters, blouse, sash. No history book could possibly gild the truth of his appearance there and then. His mind was as clear as a piece of glass. He knew me at once and so words were exchanged. "Where are they?"

my troopers, little Autie Reed, and my other brother." (It was a hard day for the Custer family. Boston Custer was the second of two brothers—the other was Tom—with the general. Autie Reed was Custer's nephew, Calhoun, his brother-in-law.) "I mounted and started on down then. Too late. Every foot of ground on all sides of me was covered with hostiles. A charge would have been murder by then. My hesitation over those four incredibly brave Indians finished me. Had I charged at first sight of the village I could have cut it in two, relieved Reno, joined Benteen on the other side, swept back through and broken them up for good. That speech wasn't made any the less remarkable for the conditions under which it was delivered. During it, the officers and enlisted personnel had been pressed back by the Sioux fire until we were the center of a tight, sweating, jam-packed huddle of desperate men. It isn't to be thought Custer and I just sat there and watched his command being chewed up while Cooke was taking his statement. The whole time we were firing carbines from the loaded pile by his side. Officers were rushing up for orders, ridersless horses raced and reared everywhere, men fell, noiselessly or shrieking with pain. We fought as he talked. Just as suddenly as he had given his statement he forgot it. "Tom! His brother, Captain Tom Custer, ranking officer left alive, hurried up. "Are you all right, General?" "Certainly. Listen. Tell Lieutenant Smith we're going out of here on our feet." "George, we can't do it. The Sioux are coming at us again any second. Can't you see them massing?" "Tom, we're going out. Right now. Tell Smith." "A' right. Which way do we go?" "Benteen and Reno are coming in over there, from the north. Maybe 30 minutes out. We're going to meet them." We had five horses left. (To Be Continued)

W. M. Hancock, Zephyr, Texas, Supervisor of the Brown-Mills Soil Conservation District, looks over some of the cattle that he is wintering on native pasture. To supplement the grass the cattle are given a little home-grown grain. The cattle are staying in very good condition.—Soil Conservation Service Photo.

Interior Grass Is Choking Out Better Grasses

W. M. Hancock, Zephyr, Texas, a supervisor of the Brown-Mills Soil Conservation District, has been doing some experimenting on his farm. With the assistance of the technical staff of the Soil Conservation Service he has worked out definite stocking rates and grazing schedules on several of his pastures. He reports his results this way: "The pounds of beef that have been produced from the range that has been properly stocked and managed proves that proper stocking and deferment, at the proper time, is essential to high production. Where a planned system was not followed I found the cattle kept the better grazed down and permitted the inferior grasses to get stronger and eventually take over."

Brush eradication is another practice that Mr. Hancock has proved will pay dividends. With brush pushing and strict grazing control he has succeeded in changing his pasture from heavy brush with scattered clumps of inferior grasses to a pasture that is predominantly Little bluestem, Indiangrass and Sidecut grama. The brush was pushed in the summer of 1947 (with PMA assistance). The pasture was stocked with goats until April 1948. In order to give the better grasses a chance to make a good growth and reseed the pasture was deferred from April to November 1948. In November the pasture was restocked with both goats and cattle and they remained on the pasture until May 1, 1949. The stock was held off the pasture until October 15, 1949. In 1950 all of the goats were taken off this pasture and started on the brush in another pasture.

Fathers - Sons To Meet Monday

The Men of the First Baptist Church are going all out Monday night when they invite their sons (or some one else's son if they do not have a son) to be their guests for a "Special Supper" at 7 o'clock.

This is a good way to start the new year off right, said Albert Koenig, who is activities chairman. There will be a program and plenty of food. The meeting will be in the East wing of the fellowship hall that will be completed on Friday.

Men who plan to bring their sons should contact Albert Koenig, Dr. Marshall Jolly, or the church office and report the number attending from the family. This must be done before nine o'clock Monday morning. Group captains in contacting their members will keep a record of those who will attend. The Brotherhood, has through the years, been interested in boys and their programs, and has sponsored both the Boy Scouts and Junior Royal Ambassadors, states a representative.

Bible Study Week January 7

"The Doctrine of the New Testament Church" will be the theme for a full week of Bible study at the Second Baptist Church every night next week, January 7 through the 11th. The studies will be led by the pastor, Rev. Jasper Masseege and will begin at 7:00 p.m.

The study will seek to discover the Bible answer to a number of timely and important questions: (1) Who founded the church? (2) When did the church begin? (3) Who are qualified to be members? (4) What are the ordinances to be observed? (5) What is the supreme task of the church? (6) Who are the officers of the church? (7) What is the authority of the church? (8) Should all denominations unite into "one church"?

Those interested in the viewpoint of these studies are cordially invited to attend. Bring your Bible and notebook if you desire. You do not have to agree with the views presented, but by all means share these studies.

A safety film, "We Drivers" a motion and sound picture by G.M.A.C. will be presented between sessions of the Bible study at the Second Baptist Church Monday night, January 7. The film will be presented at 8:00 o'clock. If you can not come earlier, come at that time.

Program Given On Bible Day

The 1920 Club met Thursday, January 3, in the Community Club House. The meeting was opened by the group reciting together the pledge of allegiance.

This being designated as Bible Day, the program was on prayer. Mrs. M. H. Hagaman, as leader, reminded the group that the first week in January has been designated as a Universal Week of Prayer. She pointed out the greatest prayers in the Old Testament and compared them to the prayers in the New Testament.

Mrs. Garland Lavender gave an introduction to "The Lord's Prayer", and likened it unto a house with each part representing different rooms.

Mrs. G. C. Boswell discussed the meaning of each verse of the "Lord's Prayer" and brought out how it can be applied in our lives.

In closing the program Mrs. Fred D. Baumgardner sang "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Mrs. Baumgardner. A short business meeting was held after the program.

Happy Hour Club To Meet

The Happy Hour club will meet Tuesday, January 8, for a covered dish luncheon in the home of Mrs. Bette Craver on Blackwell Road.

All members are urged to come and bring a gift for a secret pal.

HEALTH TALKS

Benign is the desired verdict when someone has had a growth removed from the body to find out whether it is cancer or not. Benign means innocent or not endangering life or health; malignant is the opposite term which is applied to cancer.

Beriberi means extreme weakness, one of the outstanding symptoms of beriberi disease. Widespread in the Orient, beriberi also occurs among heavy rice-eaters in this country and was prevalent among the Japanese prisoners of war. It is a deficiency disease, meaning the lack of some ingredient essential to the proper functioning of the body. In the case of beriberi, the deficient ingredient is thiamine, vitamin B-1. Burning, tingling and numbness of the hands and feet are often symptoms of beriberi. It may cause swelling of the body, paralysis, and heart trouble, all accompanied by an extreme weakness.

Besozar is a word that has come through many languages and means hairball. Its presence in so many different tongues is due to the many myths connected with the hairballs of animals, which were supposed to have magic powers to protect against any persons. The eating of unripe persimmons may cause a hairball in man's stomach, sometimes large enough to create an obstruction.

Bilateral means relating to two sides. Some diseases affect only one side of the body (unilateral) while others affect both sides of the body. In some cases the unilateral or bilateral symptoms will be of great aid in the diagnosis of the disease. A headache, for instance, is usually from a different cause if it is felt equally on both sides of the head than if it is felt on only one.

HELP YOUR COWS PRODUCE A BIG CALF CROP SUPPLEMENT RANGE WITH Purina RANGE CHECKERS

While a cow is carrying her calf, nutritional needs are high... much higher than can be normally supplied by grass alone. For this reason, thousands of well-known ranchers supplement with Purina Range Checkers. Checkers supply vitamins, minerals, carbohydrates and a variety of protein.

For big results... a big calf crop and lots of milk... feed Purina Range Checkers. The VARIETY in Range Checkers makes a difference, all right!
