

SEEN OR HEARD

Those hardy souls who brave heat, dust, rain, early hours, and fellow golfers are qualifying today at the country club to set the pace for the matches which start in the morning.

And when we said in the morning—we meant in the morning. As the sun peeps over the horizon the first shot will be fired, marking the official opening of competition in Ranger's Seventeenth Annual Golf Tournament.

From the weather forecast and the way things are shaping up this will be among the most enjoyable of any held in years. After qualifying tonight the golfers and guests take time out for a barbecue, calcutta pool, and other entertainment arranged by the club.

Golfing is like horse racing. In that they're all trying. And there is no reasonable way of forecasting who will come out on top of each flight.

They never get too young or too old after the golf bug bites. Chief Williams will probably be among the many contestants in this tournament again this year.

"Chief" doesn't hit the ball long, but he's right down the improved part of that cow pasture with that little white pill. He takes a few more shots than do the top-notch golfers in getting around. But Chief can usually tell where his ball is going before he swings, which is remarkable in golf for anyone of any age.

You non-golfers have just as much gut there as the contestants. Saturday's opening and quarterfinal matches will be played. Sunday the semi-finals and finals. That's the cream of the crop Sunday afternoon battling out for first in their respective flight.

The two contestants in the Championship flight usually get most of the attention. That is the big match of the day. Then is decided who is to be the champ of the annual meet.

Both men usually play their best game of golf in trying for the top spot and first prize. They take advantage of every break in trying to best their opponent. That match play in a tournament is the spice of life to a golfer.

After the final swing it all over but the awarding of the prizes and the clubhouse "rehashing" of the day's play. And what they would do if it were to do all over again.

If you have nothing scheduled for the week-end, spend a few hours on the local course watching the matches.

Something that will be a must tomorrow is a poppy in your buttonhole.

The mayor has officially declared Saturday as "Poppy Day" in Ranger and you can't spend your money for a better cause than you do when you buy a poppy on "Poppy Day."

The opening of the Ranger swimming pool may be delayed a few days we learned yesterday.

The city officials have been pretty busy and have not had the opportunity to get the pool opened with the work coming up of inspecting the water tank.

The inspector's report stated that the tank was in "remarkable condition" for its age. A good paint job would do wonders for the looks both out and inside.

Things are looking up for the teen-agers this summer. The directors of the Teen Canteen are meeting and are going to plan summer operation of the project.

From what we have been told this Canteen will fill a need that has long existed in Ranger for the school kids and younger people.

There is objection to anything. But with a manager on duty and teen-agers as well educated as those in Ranger, no trouble should arise from the kind of youngsters. It will be their loss if they do cause the Canteen to be closed through arousing public opinion.

The acts of a few who are not considerate of the majority are usually the cause of public opinion against a project of this sort. The teen-agers themselves can usually take care of those problems.

Farmers Urged To Enlist In Cotton Groups

It's time to join a cotton improvement group.

This reminder comes to cotton farmers from Mr. Sam W. Martin of Production and Marketing Administration's Cotton Classing Office, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Dallas 1, Texas.

"If you belonged to an improvement group last year, get with your neighbors and bring your organization up to date," Mr. Martin said, adding, "and if you don't belong to one, join one."

He explained an application form could be obtained from the county agent, or local ginners.

Farmers who organize into improvement groups get two special benefits from USDA—free classification and market news service.

Both are provided for under the Smith-Doxey Act, which encourages farmers to grow improved varieties of cotton particularly adapted to their soil.

Mr. Martin said that as soon as all farmers in the group have planted their cotton, the application for classing and market news services should be mailed to his office. Address is 1104 South Ervay Street, Dallas 1, Texas.

Truck Driver Drops Dead In Eastland Thur.

C. C. Dunwoody, 40, of Fort Worth, died from a heart attack in the offices of Texaco warehouse in Eastland at 11 o'clock Thursday morning.

After getting his pumps going he went into the office to present his invoice. As he started to present the paper he began trembling and sat down. A moment later he plunged forward in death.

Teen-Canteen Directors To Meet, Work Out Summer Operation Plan

A meeting has been called Monday night at 7:30 of the directors of the Teen Canteen at the Canteen building to get summer operations underway on the project.

T. C. Wylie said those persons who were appointed as directors for the summertime operation of the project will meet. The public schools oversee operation of the Canteen during the school year.

Present plans are to have a manager for the summer and keep the Canteen open each week night except Monday for the younger set. The Ranger Junior Chamber of Commerce has been sponsoring this project, and the Canteen was recently added as a member of the community chest of Ranger.

The Canteen under the proposed plans, would be a place for the younger generation to spend their time under the supervision of a manager. Dancing and game facilities are slated for the project.

A definite pattern for the operation will be set at the meeting Monday night. Wylie mentioned that it was imperative that all the directors be present.

Red Cross National Aquatic Schools Set For June, August

John Kimble of Gorman, water safety chairman of the Eastland County chapter of the American Red Cross announces that the Red Cross National Aquatic schools are to be held over the entire nation this summer.

The two schools for this section will be held at Camp Murray, Ardmore, Okla., June 4-14, and in Denton, Texas August 10-20. These schools provide short term leadership training in skills and teaching methods for established Red Cross courses in swimming and diving, life saving and water safety, first aid accident prevention.

They are designed to meet instructor training needs of those organizations and chapters that are unable to obtain trained leadership in aquatics because of lack of facilities, unavailability of field of service, or lack of time necessary to follow regular instructor training schedule, to give further and more through instructor and leadership training for camps, recreation and park departments, youth organizations, clubs, and Red Cross Chapters; to provide an opportunity for active instructors to keep abreast of newest development in the aquatic field and obtain further leadership training.

Mr. Kimble stated that to attend these schools, men and women must be 18 years of age or older and certified by a physician as being in sound physical condition. If enrolling in the aquatic section they must be reasonably strong swimmers. Individuals should have definite plans to teach water safety, or first aid or accident prevention and thus pass their knowledge and skills on to others.

Mr. Kimble requests that any organization desiring to send a representative to either of these schools contact the local Red Cross Office in Eastland, telephone 453. It is located on the third floor of the courthouse and is open in the afternoons.

The course requires 10 full days. The enrollment fee for each school is $45.00 This includes room, meals, and instructional supplies.

The local chapter will consider paying the transportation cost and the fee if the organization is unable to do so and provided that the person they send will teach the courses of beginners, intermediate and adult classes in swimming on his return. No charge can be made to the students taking the courses under a Red Cross instructor; however, consideration of paying the instructor either by civic organization or local chapter will be given.

Pool owners have found that the paid attendance of the pool increases if swim classes are conducted. The use of the pool is usually donated. Classes are conducted during the hours that the pool is not open to the public.

Any organization interested in sending a representative to the aquatic schools should contact the Red Cross office as reservation for enrollment is limited.

Japan, Kojie Island, Germany And France Rocked By Red Riots

Big Three Sends Warning Note To East Germans

The French government is cracking down on the Communist party, the government promises to meet force with force.

Interior Minister Charles Brune has accused the French Communist Party of plotting to seize power. In a radio address to the nation, Brune promised to put down any violence arising from strike and demonstrations called by the Communists to protest the arrest of their number one leader, Jacques Duclos.

The Communist leader is in prison on a charge of acting against the internal security of France in the demonstrations against Gen. Matthew Ridgway. If convicted, he could get from one year in jail to indefinite solitary confinement.

The Western Allies are about out of patience with Communist retaliation tactics in another vital European spot, Germany.

The western Big Three demanded today that the Russians stop interfering with West Berlin's highway, railroad and telephone communications.

East German Reds have barricaded at least six roads running between free and Soviet sectors of Germany. They've also disrupted rail and communications lines in their protests against the two treaties with the West which Germany signed in Paris this week.

Adding to the tension is a report that the Russians are holding extensive military maneuvers near the West Berlin boundary.

Today the United States, British and French high commissioners sent similar notes to the Soviet control commissioner. The notes said the right of free access to the Western Allies to highways and other means of communication with western Germany is "beyond challenge."

The western Big Three also charged the Russians with making "false and insulting allegations" against the western powers.

Potatoes High ... And Scarce

WASHINGTON, May 30 (UP)—No matter how you look at them, potato prices are high.

An Agriculture Department farm price report yesterday showed that during the month ended May 15 farmers got an average of $2.64 for a bushel of spud. This was up 33¢ from their price on month ago and more than double one year earlier.

The nationwide average was also 91 cents above the current market's national parity price of $1.73 a bushel.

Local price ceilings are set to reflect the "fair price" parity level.

Agriculture Department officials doubted that current black market prices, which are keeping price ceiling enforcement officers busy, are included in the national average of farmers returns.

One spokesman said that "ordinarily" all prices ought to show up in the farm price report. But he added:

"We are inclined to think farmers wouldn't report any black market gains."

Musical Program And Missionary Heard By Lions

Nick Crawford had the program at the Lions Club meeting yesterday at noon. He brought young Tommy and Alex Brasher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Brasher, to the club to sing for the Lions.

Also on the program was a short talk by Reverend Milford Howick missionary from Nigeria, Africa.

The two Brasher boys dueted in a solo, with one of them turning shy at the moment. Mrs. Brasher accompanied them on the piano.

Reverend Howell related to the Lions the three important phrases of an African man's life, Birth, marriage, and death were the celebration through custom. The phrases, and each of them is a Lions were also told of the danger confronting the world from communism and what Christians must do to combat this threat. He also stated that Africa was not like the pictures we get in the movies and through books.

Lion President T. Thomas announced that the District 2E convention and also the state convention would be held at Brownwood, beginning June 8 and ending June 10. Club delegates will be picked next week.

Plans Revealed For Eisenhower Museum, Kansas

LOS ANGELES, May 30 (UP)—An architect has unveiled sketches of the museum that will be built to honor General Dwight Eisenhower in his home town.

Welton Becket says the museum will be a one-story building, containing a 500-seat auditorium, and showcases for the hundreds of souvenirs of Eisenhower's military career.

The cornerstone of the museum will be laid in Abilene, Kansas, next Wednesday, and the general will be on hand for the ceremony.

Architect Becket says the museum is being sponsored by the National Foundation to Honor General Eisenhower and the United States Armed Forces, Incorporated, an organization of Kansas.

Church Partly Blamed In Evils Of Men By Leader

TULSA, Okla., May 30 (UP)—A New York Methodist Church leader says in Tulsa that the church is partly responsible for three evils threatening mankind today. Dr. J. A. Engle told the East Oklahoma Methodist Conference that the threats to the world are poverty, injustice and war.

Engle recently returned from a six-month tour of 28 foreign countries. He is secretary of the cultivation and education division of the Methodist church.

Two Americans Injured During Tokyo Rioting

Communist-led riots broke out today in Tokyo, where Gen. Clark issued his Memorial Day statement, and scores of other Japanese cities.

Two American newsmen are listed among the injured. A correspondent for the Associated Press, William Bernard, has been burned slightly by a so-called Molotov Cocktail, an incendiary bomb made from a beer bottle.

A photographer for Life magazine, John Dille, is reported to have been hit in the face during rioting at Kobe.

The disorders are continuing. They were touched off by the Reds on the pretext of honoring a Japanese unionist killed in fighting between police and a mob three years ago today.

Police have arrested at least 20 rioters. And at least two of the demonstrators have been killed.

New violence has broken out on rebuilt Kojie Island, off South Korea. This time, four Communist prisoners have been killed and three others wounded.

The latest outbreak of die-hard Communist started when a work detail of Reds stopped to pass a message to prisoners in another compound, a breach of the rules. The guards' order to keep moving was ignored. The Reds charged Allied guards, who opened fire, killing two Communists on the spot and fatally wounding two others.

The incident adds more fuel to a frantic propaganda fire blazing in Communist centers. The official Communist newspaper at Moscow, Pravda, has run a full page list of charges against the Allies. It accuses the UN forces of being worse than the Nazis, and of waging germ and chemical warfare, an old Red charge.

The Communist negotiators at the Panmunjom truce talks also are repeating the Red charge. They claim that the Allies are preparing for what they call the "mass slaughter of Communist prisoners."

United Nations officials say the uproar is part of a master-plan aimed at discrediting the fact that thousands and thousands of Red prisoners don't want to go back to their Communist masters.

Island Governor Appeals To West Coast AFL Sailors

SAN FRANCISCO, May 30 (UP)—Governor Owen Long of Hawaii has asked striking A.F. of L. Sailors and shipowners of the West Coast to let two relief ships sail for the islands to avert possible food and drug shortages.

Long's plea was made in cablegrams and letters sent to headquarters of the A.F. of L. Sailors Union of the Pacific and the Matson navigation company in San Francisco.

The Hawaii civil defense agency and stocks of food and drug items are sufficient for only two or three weeks at the most. The sailors union has warned the strike may be protracted.

They appear to be little hope that the strike would be settled over the holiday weekend. The sailors called a "stop-work" meeting last Friday and formally turned it into a strike Monday night.

So far, the dispute has idled 28 ships along the Pacific coast, seven in Los Angeles, nine in San Francisco, three in Portland and nine in Seattle. However, ships carrying military cargo are exempted these ships outnumber the number of strikebound vessels.

Truman Causes Wreaths To Be On Memorials

WASHINGTON, May 30 (UP)—President Truman has had wreaths placed on the capital district's four memorials, the tomb of the Unknown Soldier, the Memorial for the Spanish War, and the two memorials for the Civil War.

Veterans organizations and other groups are holding parades, wreath-laying ceremonies, and other special observances today.

Gen. Mark Clark, the new United Nations commander in the Far East, has a Memorial Day message for Americans.

Clark says the day honors those Americans who sacrificed their lives in the same noble cause, the defense of American ideals, international justice, freedom and humanity.

Because this Memorial Day opens a long holiday weekend, automobile clubs urge motorists to go easy and live longer.

Willing is leaving with me." "So?" Zimmer looked at the little man obliquely. "Tell me," Basil was used to dealing with untidy minds. "No birds." The little man spoke slowly now. "That was the thing that frightened me. And I was frightened. I might as well admit it. I don't scare easily, but—Dr. Willing, you never heard a bird sing there, day or night." His eyelids drooped. "Some black coffee!" suggested Basil. "No, thanks."

"What is your real name?" "I have credentials." His hand fumbled in his breast pocket. His hand fell away, empty. "My mind is foggy." Again he lifted his glass. This time it did not reach his lips. It crashed to the floor as his hand dropped limply. He slumped forward in his chair, head on the table, one arm dangling. Basil was on his feet, feeling for a pulse. The waiter came. "Too much to drink?" "I don't know. Have you a private room? And call an ambulance. There's no time to lose." Basil helped carry the man into the manager's office. After the waiter switched on a desk lamp and called the ambulance, Basil had him bring dry mustard, strong coffee and warm water. Basil was using artificial respiration 20 minutes later when the intern arrived. Basil lifted the little man's eyelids, felt his pulse again. "Try strychnine." The little man's eyelids fluttered. He fell sideways against the arm of the chair. His lips parted in one long sigh. "And no—bird—sang."
