Dimmitt will have door-to-door city mail delivery if local tabulation of questionnaires are the same as results being evaluated by post officials in Amarillo and Dallas. Local unofficial voting returns indicate about 476 persons in favor of city mail delivery and about 31 against the door-to-door service. "About 700 questionnaires have been accounted for" Ernest Davis

Competition For Gun Club Champion Scheduled Sunday

Dimmitt Gun Club Championship Shoot is set for Sunday at 1 p.m. in the indoor shooting range and outdoor trap range at the southeast corner of the Castro County Fair Grounds.

Club members participating in the contest will be competing for the club championship award.

Pistol and small bore rifle competition will be conducted in the indoor range and the shotgun trap shooting will be at the outdoor trap range.

Medals and awards for the club championship shoot are furnished by the National Rifle Association of which the Dimmitt Gun Club is a member.

Each event, open only to gun club members, will have an entrance fee set at $1. Ammunition for the Sunday contest is furnished by the Dimmitt Gun Club.

Club Secretary Dr. Harold Bischoff urged that members attend and compete for the club championship awards.

local postmaster explained. These include those returned that were not answered and those returned that were ineligible for the service.

Decision of the post office department in the door-to-door delivery service depends entirely on results tabulated from the questionnaires which were sent to Amarillo officials for examination.

Official announcement of the outcome of the delivery investigation will be disclosed in two or three weeks the postmaster said.

If proposed plan of city mail delivery service is approved for Dimmitt by the officials in Amarillo and Dallas the actual door-to-door delivery will begin here before the first of the year according to post office department reports.

City delivery service would mean that mail of all classes could be delivered to residence and business firms within the city limits where the streets are paved and the area is at least 50 percent developed. In other words all homes within the city limits would be eligible for city delivery service. Increased postal rates would be made on letters mailed in Dimmitt for local delivery. Price increase on local letters would be from three cents to four cents.

Post office inspectors indicated that Dimmitt is large enough to require two mail carriers. Mail will not be delivered on Sundays and holidays unless it is of special delivery class.

about dimmitt and castro county by bascom nelson

Of the scores of special weeks that are packed into every year, perhaps none have the importance for this area as farm safety week, from July 22 to 28.

As farming becomes more and more mechanized, it is essential that farmers and their employees learn to automatically think ahead, always noting any potentially dangerous situations and being wary of them.

Accidents kill one farm resident every 47 minutes somewhere in the United States. And every 33 seconds a farm resident suffers a disabling injury.

Accidents in farm homes take about 2,600 lives each year.

We have no way of knowing how many people suffer from lesser or serious accidents in Castro County every year. But the rate is probably as high as anywhere. Every year someone receives an anhydrous ammonia burn, a tractor overturns, someone is caught in an irrigation motor drive shaft, a tractor hand falls under a shredder, someone loses a finger or two on a motor fan, or any of a score of other minor or major mishaps cause shattering experiences for a farmer and his family. Trying to be safe and practicing safety measures always won't stop all accidents, but it would cut their incidence down a lot. This is one area where "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure."

Public relations of the farming industry may be poor, but those of its antagonists are highly efficient, which some day may turn farming and everything else into a shambles. This week, on the front page of the Amarillo Daily News was a story about how there should be a reduction in the number of farmers.

This remarkable plan came from "The Research and Policy Committee of the Committee for Economic Development," described as "a private organization of 200 leading businessmen and educators interested in development of public policies designed to strengthen the nation's free society and advance its productivity and living standards." Translated this means there are 200 individuals back east who want to meddle in other people's affairs, adjusting everything to their own sense of values. However they spend a lot of money on publicity and they get it. Any time there's a problem these people have their solution and they get plenty of attention.

The story went on to say that "The CED would have the government assist and speed at least a third of the nation's farmers out of farming—through education in other skills, provision of job information and defraying costs of moving. If (the committee) said the heart of the farm problem is a need for elimination from agriculture of unneeded resources, especially human resources.

Other excerpts: "The choice before us is a leakproof control of farm production or a program, such as we are recommending here to induce excess resources (people primarily) to move rapidly out of agriculture," the CED said.

It sharply criticized present educational policies placing emphasis on vocational agricultural training. It said that in many states where farming is the dominant industry vocational education tends to perpetuate the farm problem by "holding out extra-ordinary opportunities to train for farming as a vocation."

If the "Committee for Economic Development" had its way, every third farmer in the county could expect the government gendarmes at his door any day, ready to pack him and his family off to the big city where he would be deposited at the end of the line of people seeking jobs in a smoky factory that is already full up and anticipating a lay-off.

By rigidly staying away from any form of central economic organization and by ignoring public relations, the farming industry is getting its lumps everywhere now from people with an axe to grind. So long as there's no one to grind back it may be that someday that government agent with the moving van will be knocking on your door.

Raymond Wilson, County Judge signed a proclamation Monday for the official observance of Farm Safety Week July 22-28.

President Kennedy and Governor Daniel previously designated that week on national and state levels as a period to call attention to worthwhile safety practices that can reduce disabling injuries and death occurring on the farm.

According to County Agent Charles Hottel farm people are faced with many accident hazards. These farm accidents are sometimes responsible for needless suffering and incapacity and can greatly effect the economic well-being and progress of our agricultural population in our county, state and nation.

Hottel said that a vigorous farm accident-prevention education program will be conducted during this week by the Tex. Farm and Ranch Safety Council, The Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Castro County Farm Bureau, the Grain Sorghum Producers Association and the Young Farmers Organization with the theme "Family Safety—At Work and Play."

"I, Raymond Wilson, County Judge of Castro County, do hereby designate the week of July 22-28 1962, as Farm Safety Week and urge all farm families, persons, and organizations allied with agriculture to join in a strong concerted effort to reduce the number of farm, home and highway accidents.

Holly Sugar Beet Refinery To be Established in Area

Holly Sugar Corporation, Colorado Springs, Colorado, and the Texas Sugar Beet Growers Association, Hereford, both have filed application with the United States Department of Agriculture, requesting that sugar beet acreage reserves established pursuant to provisions of the new Sugar Act be distributed to new farms and growers in tri-state, Texas area, and a portion of eastern New Mexico, which would make possible erection of a new sugar beet processing facility near here on a site the rights to which already have been acquired, and which facility is planned to be in operation by the Holly Sugar Corporation not later than the fall of 1965 and possibly by the fall of 1964. This action was prompted by the new national Sugar Act signed into law by President Kennedy July 13.

Early History of Church of Christ Reviewed

(Ed. Note: This is another in a series of articles concerning histories of Dimmitt churches, written as a master's degree thesis by D. C. Lawrence, minister of the Ralls Church of Christ and formerly of Dimmitt. This installment concerns the Bedford Street Church of Christ in Dimmitt.)

During the early twenties, the congregation declined in fervor and numbers. Lots were purchased in 1922 upon which to erect a building, but when the Norwood family and others moved away, the interest began to lag. Because of a lack of vigorous leadership and regular preaching, the church ceased meeting regularly after 1924.

The arrival of Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Gregory in Dimmitt in January of 1925 proved to be important to the Church of Christ. Unable to find a congregation with which to worship, the Gregorys, with unflagging zeal, contacted delinquent members in the community. Within a short time, seven members were meeting regularly in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John "Tator" Roberson. Subsequently, they met in the High School, and then the Court House. Evidencing increasing interest, the small band soon secured the services of an evangelist from Olton, Texas, who preached twice a month.

During the next few years, the revived church moved ahead. The arrival of the T.W. Malone family and Mrs. Ola Murphy gave new impetus to the work. In September 1927, the congregation launched a successful building program which was completed in January of 1928.

Ground was broken for the new building in October, 1927. The building was forty by sixty feet, with a forty by forty foot basement, a cement baptistry, two dressing rooms, two cloak rooms, and all modern conveniences. When stuccoed, the new structure, with its furnishings, cost approximately $10,000.00. The new edifice, which with the Presbyterian building gave Dimmitt two houses of worship, was dedicated in February, 1928.

Evangelist O.M. Reynolds, who delivered the dedicatory address, also began his twelfth revival meeting in Castro County, and the seventh in Dimmitt. Great crowds braved inclement weather to attend the dedication ceremonies.

The Castro County News announced simultaneously, that the Baptists and Methodists had laid foundations for their new buildings, making Dimmitt truly a city of Churches.

EARLY YEARS

With a new building and a well-attended revival meeting in progress, the future looked very bright for the Church of Christ. Nevertheless, progress was not without great effort. Members had sacrificed and worked arduously in order to have a building of their own. During 1928 many members brought no new clothes so they might be able to contribute more to the work of the Lord. Even with the new building, everything was not easy—the building boasted a baptistry, but it had to be filled by hauling barrels of water when someone was baptized.

The Church of Christ, together with all the other churches of Dimmitt, experienced great difficulty during the depression years of the early thirties. Many members did not have sufficient money to pay their taxes. Most were farmers and lived off the land. However, the Church was bolstered by the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Davis and their son Ulys. Subsequently, Davis was chosen to assist in the leadership of the church as an elder, and his son was selected to serve as a deacon. Another member who proved of great assistance in a financial way during the depression was Mrs. Grant. She carried the notes for the church when they could get no one else.

The announcement that a "boy preacher" would speak the following Sunday at the Church of Christ aroused more than usual interest in Dimmitt. The young minister, Paul A. Thompson of Colorado City, Texas, was only sixteen years of age, and was a brother of Mrs. V.A. Murphy, a member of the Dimmitt Church of Christ. The community responded favorably, and provided a "full-house" for both services.

Brother O. M. Reynolds began his final meeting, his eleventh in Dimmitt, and his fourteenth in the County, on Friday night, May 30, 1930. As has been noted, Reynolds was well known and appreciated in the area. He held the distinction of conducting more meetings in Dimmitt and Castro County than any other evangelist of the Church of Christ. This last meeting was well-attended throughout and high successful from the standpoint of visible results. Nine persons were baptized, and eleven confessed their sins and were identified with the congregation.

The Church was formally organized for the first time in 1932, when A. O. Gregory, J. W. Davis, and J. Williams were appointed to serve as elders. Jack Gregory and Roy Smith were selected to serve as deacons.

Health Column

The human body constantly produces heat and so must constantly love it to be compatible with life. Evaporation of sweat cools the body and this process is aided by circulating air. Also, physical exercise increases the amount of heat produced and in turn must be lost.

During the sweltering heat of Texas summers, most of us can do something to get some relief—take a cool shower, wear light clothes, find a shady spot or sit in front of the air conditioner.

But babies are not so self sufficient. They are dependent upon mother to help them beat the heat.

With these facts in mind, mother can do a lot to make baby comfortable in hot weather—and she'll have a healthier baby if she does.

Baby should be placed in the coolest spot possible. The crib or playpen should be placed in a good circulation spot—in the middle of the room or near a window or door. If outdoors, place the baby in the shade.

Placing an electric fan in the room increases the circulation of air around him. This can be done whenever the temperature exceeds 84 degrees and there is little or no breeze. But be sure the fan is out of reach of inquisitive hands.

If an air conditioner is used, it should be set about 78 degrees and adjusted so that the cold air does not blow directly on the baby.

When shopping on hot days, never leave the baby in the car. Temperatures rise to dangerous levels inside a car parked in the sun in a very short time.

Clothing is important. In temperatures below 80 degrees the clothing may be worn, but with temperatures between 80 and 92 degrees, just a diaper is sufficient. But when the heat goes over the 92 mark, baby should wear a cotton shirt to absorb perspiration.

The more active the baby, the less clothing is needed at the same air temperature. It helps to change the position of a small baby occasionally.

Plenty of liquids should be offered the baby on hot days—at room temperature—and don't worry if the baby seems to lose his appetite a little.

Most babies love a bath. Several a day will help to keep him cool. If the temperature is over 90 degrees, partially drying the baby will have an additional cooling effect.

A bath before napping will help the baby to fall asleep easier.

Senator YARBOROUGH'S REPORT

Dear Fellow Texan:

We hear over and over how federal income tax funds are spent—and some claim that we in Texas get very little back for the income taxes and other taxes collected by the federal government.

Certainly, there is a lot of waste in the vast spending of the federal government; certainly, there is a need for more efficiency in this growing government which serves a growing America.

We not only have a right, we have a grave responsibility to keep a critical eye on where the money goes. But we do not often hear the other side of this important story: the good services that are performed by your government. And for all of its cumbersome size, the national government does manage to do a creditable job in many areas and you do get something for your money, a whole lot in some fields.

In the year ending June 30, 1961—the last date for which totals are available, the federal government collected a total of $3,110,000,000 in revenue from the state of Texas. Well, fellow Texan, at least half of that amount—or $1,555,000,000 went for national defense—for military preparedness at home and around the world, on Freedom's Front everywhere.

This means that Texas paid that year about $1,555,000,000 in federal taxes which was not for defense and for which we could expect a return on our money, not having anything to do with the cost of national defense. Of course, all of our realize that national defense must be financed. This is the money that safeguards our freedom. I challenge any critic of the federal government to put a price tag on freedom.

I have asked the Library of Congress, which is considered to be one of the nation's most impartial and most reliable sources, to find out the total expenditures of federal monies in Texas for the year ending June 30, 1961. My purpose was to see what Texas gets back for taxes, not designated for defense spending. And I learned that—excluding the money that goes for national defense—Texas comes out ahead.

The Library of Congress showed that on 95 federal aid programs in Texas including federal civilian payrolls, payments to veterans, old age and disability payments, roads and all other non-defense federal spending programs in Texas, the total of federal monies spent in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1961 was $1,851,000,000. To be more specific, Texas came out over $296 million ahead in one year.

How could we do it? You can't get more out of the meal barrel than you put in it. The whole nation does not, but Texas does.

The reason that Texas got back more than a dollar for each non-defense dollar sent to Uncle Sam in taxes is not one of which we should boast. The reason Texas did not pay more in the federal revenue collections is that our state ranks 32nd among the states in annual per capita income. In 31 other states the average person earns more than the average person earns in Texas.

With better education, we should raise our average earning capacity in Texas. But right now, with Texas in the bottom half of the states in average per person yearly income, the richer income states pay more to the federal government than they get back, and Texas gets back more than it pays since we must exclude necessary defense costs in any consideration of return on tax money. These are the true facts, fellow Texans.

That "safe driver insurance plan" with its penalty points for traffic law violations and accidents goes out the window August 1.

State Board of Insurance bowed to legislators' demands that it be greatly modified. But Board members felt it would be better to scrap the whole thing, and try to work out some other plan for later adoption.

Most Texans will find that the abandonment of the merit rating plan will cost them money. This despite the fact that insured Texas car-owners taken as a whole will pay $10,000,000 less for car insurance in the coming year than they did this year.

However—two-thirds of the car owners—those who have been getting 20 per cent discounts because they have had no accidents or reported traffic convictions—will pay the full rates in the year ahead. The other one-third—those who have been paying as much as 100 per cent extra because of bad driving records—will save substantially. They will pay the same rates as everyone else.

One factor in the decision to drop the plan was concern by members of the Board—and the insurance. Board member felt that to increase the penalties, which would have been necessary to maintain 20 per cent discount for the "safe drivers" would drive even more people into un-insurance. This would have made the safe driving insurance plan even more out of balance statistically.

Because auto insurance rates are set by counties, and by types of cars and the age groups of drivers, it is not possible to say just what effect the rates will have. Local insurance agents soon will have the information.

"TAIN'T TRUE"—Railroad Commission Chairman William J. Murray Jr. surprised Capitol newsmen this week by issuing a denial of rumors about the East Texas Oil Field scandal before he even was asked about them.

He introduced, and then denied, a rumor that the Railroad Commission has provided the major oil companies with damageable evidence against independent operators through inclination tests, but said Attorney General Will Wilson has "changed the rules" by accepting contributions for directional tests from the big oil firms, and providing information for them.

Murray also refuted rumors that some crooked-hole operators were under his protection. He admitted that he has friends among those under investigation, but stated he'd granted no favors: "I swear that I have treated them alike—dependents and majors—and will continue to do so," he added. He further stated that he has not accepted money for campaign expenses in any of the political races he's run since his 1947 appointment to the commission.

Regarding a year-long delay in investigating illegal well deviation in East Texas, Murray moaned, State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert advised the Texas Board of Education that the Available School Fund's income for the 1962-63 school year should be $197,058,604. The revenue is reaped from ad valorem taxes, poll taxes, interest on securities the school fund owns, motor fuel taxes, omnibus taxes and other revenue.

Board deducted $8,737,536 to finance cost of purchasing and handling textbooks, and divided the balance between Texas' 2,387,234 children of school age.

So, the public schools will get $78.50 per child next year; $2 less for each than they were allotted in 1961.

While the 21-member board was on the subject of money, it passed a $459,877,843 education budget for 1963, and offered State Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar a $4,000 annual raise through federal funds.

Edgar "declined the honor," saying he felt his three assistants are more entitled to supplements since they are directly concerned with administering federal programs.

So, raises from $11,000 to $13,500 were voted for L. R. Graham, Assistant commissioner of administration; Lee J. Wilborn, assistant commissioner for instruction, and M.A. Browning, assistant commissioner for vocational education.

Then the board agreed to ask the 58th Legislature to raise Edgar's salary of $18,500 a year to $24,000 when it convenes in January.

BUSINESS BETTER THAN EVER
The seasonally-adjusted index of Texas business activity rose to a new all-time high of 137.1 per cent in May, reported Dr. Francis B. May, statistician for the University of Texas' Bureau of Business Research.

High score reflects a seven per cent increase over April this year and a 12 per cent increase over May, 1961, according to Dr. May. He considers the sharp rise a potent reminder that the recovery from the 1960 recession has not yet spent its force.

Gov. Price Daniel has made the following appointments to state boards: Kenneth Nelson of Diboll to the Board of Registration; Mrs. Mary Moody Northern of Galveston to the State Historical Survey Committee; L.E. Tennison of Clifton; Walter Flack of San Antonio, and R.H. Taylor of Houston, to the Accountancy Board; Wayne Thode of Austin, Talbot Rain of Dallas, Zeb Rike of McAllen and Crawford Kerr and Edwin W. Carroll of El Paso to the Commission on Uniform State Laws.

Eight Wrecks Occur in County During June
Highway Patrol investigated 8 rural accidents in Castro County during the month of June according to Sergeant W.E. Wells, Patrol Supervisor of this area. These wrecks accounted for seven persons injured and an estimated property damage of $5,345.00. Rural traffic accident summary of Castro County from January through June of 1962 shows a total of 31 crashes. As a result of these crashes there were 2 persons killed and 19 persons injured. Estimated property damage amounted to $18,200.00. This compares with the first six months of 1961's total of 32 rural crashes killing no persons, injuring 15 persons and causing an estimated property damage of $18,605.00 in a statewide comparison the total number of traffic fatalities are practically the same as they were this time last year.

Current SLOW DOWN AND LIVE summer campaign has played an important role during the last several years in acquainting motorists, especially vacationists, with the danger of speed and the ever-present hazards of the highways during the crowded summer months. Many vacationists from either states will be in Texas for the first time this summer. Some of them will be unfamiliar with the roads and road signs. Many of them have only a smattering of knowledge of traffic laws of their own state, and little or no information about those of other states where they will travel. Commercial drivers and motorists who travel the highways day after day have little difficulty in distinguishing the stranger, even before seeing his license tag. Unless motorists show courtesy and consideration to the vacationing driver and try to help him, they may discover that their own speed will cause an accident involving the tourist who may suddenly slow down to make an unexpected turn or to get his bearings. Those who live and drive in Texas must remember that we would be just as bewildered in another state as this motorist is in our own state. It is under such circumstances that we must do some thinking for him, we must drive defensively. Sgt. Wells said the out-of-state traveler, however, is not so much a threat to our safety as the native selfish motorist who drives dangerously and discourteously with no regard for traffic laws, signs or signals. Throughout prior years accident statistics prove that more accidents occur in the last six months of the year than in the first six months. With this thought in mind the veteran patrol supervisor cautioned all motorists to exercise due care while traveling on the streets and highways. "Drive unto others as you would have them drive unto you," he said. The Sergeant stated that this Golden Rule is a Challenge for the motorists of Texas to reverse the trend shown in prior years for the last six months of the year. Mr. and Mrs. Billie Graham and children are in southern California this week.

unit in the area under consideration."

"Our specialists in factory construction and operation, agriculture and other fields have made detailed studies of all aspects of the proposed project, and their findings are the basis upon which we have taken the initial steps announced today."

Witherspoon said that his organization, supported by farm and business people throughout the area which would be served by a new beet sugar processing facility, has spent many months working for establishment of such a plant in the Hereford area.

"We have worked toward the end that new legislation would provide for new areas without processing facilities to be assured sufficient acreage to attract a new plant; and we have sought to interest a processing company with the necessary know-how to construct and operate such a proposed factory. We are extremely encouraged and pleased by the preliminary steps now taken."

Holly sugar Corporation is one of the nation's two largest beet sugar companies, currently operating 10 factories—five in California, two in Montana, two in Wyoming, and one in Colorado.

Shoup said that a beet sugar processing facility in this area would provide a needed cash crop for farmers here, provide livestock feed (sugar beet by-products remaining after the sugar has been extracted include beet pulp and molasses which are high nutrient value feeds) and would stimulate the general economy of the entire area served and adjoining areas in Texas and New Mexico.

Air Conditioning experts agree... WATER cooling is BEST!

Youngsters learn mighty early about the cooling effect of water when the weather's hot. And air conditioning engineers know that water cooling is far more efficient than air cooling. The reason is simple . . . 85° water can absorb more heat from your home than 100° air.

That's why ARKLA-SERVEL Sun Valley's GAS air conditioners are WATER cooled! Water cooling, plus Sun Valley's "no moving parts" principle, gives you two big advantages unavailable with other air conditioners. One, a Sun Valley gives you CONSTANT EFFICIENCY, while air cooled units lose as much as 15% efficiency. Two, Sun Valley operating COSTS REMAIN CONSTANT, while air cooled equipment operating costs rise as much as 23%.

Walter Rogers' WASHINGTON NEWSLETTER

Immediately after World War II there came into being a program called the Marshall Plan. It was so named because it was proposed by George Catlett Marshall, who has served as Supreme Commander during World War II and was subsequently appointed Secretary of State. The plan was designed primarily to provide aid and assistance to those nations in Western Europe that has been prostrated by the toll of war in both the natural resources and the manpower. Its purpose was to prevent these weak and sick nations from falling prey to Communist domination, or to other political philosophy contrary to democratic principles and to the will of the majority of the people. Few have challenged the accepted fact that the Marshall Plan had a basic soundness of purpose and, as implemented, provided the nucleus of economic stability to Western Europe. Many felt that when the primary purposes had been accomplished, the program should be terminated. Undoubtedly, there must have been great controversy as to when and to what extent these purposes had been accomplished, or if they were ever accomplished. The program was not only not terminated, but, like "Topsy", just grew. It grew in Western Europe by leaps and bounds, it spread into every other area of the globe and even behind the Iron and Bamboo Curtains. In fact, it expanded in so many directions and in such proportions, that I seriously doubt there is any one or any group who could provide an accurate accounting of how much has been spent or how it has been spent. The debate produced a number of calculations as to the number of countries that have been recipients, the several amounts that have been received by those countries, and the overall totals that have been expended. One particular total reflected since World War II the American taxpayer has been called upon to furnish to foreign countries the sum of $84,090,800,000. Of this amount, it is estimated that more than $2 billion went to Yugoslavia, an admitted Communist country, although of a different hue of red. Another $509 million went to Poland, an admitted Communist satellite.

Many people have asked: 'Why foreign aid?' Without exception, the general answer has always been: "To fight Communism". Many have asked: "If it is for the purpose of fighting Communism, why give it to Communist countries?" The general answer to this question has been: "It is one of the means of fighting Communists. These answers do not satisfy me, and I don't believe they satisfy many others. In the first place, all of us are against Communism, or any other ideology that would destroy our way of life. In the second place, the people who are paying these bills are entitled to specific instances of effectiveness instead of tripe generalities. I think the record will reflect clearly of effectiveness instead of tripe generalities. I think the record will reflect clearly that our effective blows against Communism have been through our Defense Department (department in which the American taxpayer has spent $555 billion in the past 15 years), and not through the foreign aid program.

Another question seems to be as to why foreign aid is continued, even though it is admitted that if the matter was submitted to a referendum of the people in the United States, it would undoubtedly be defeated substantially. Many have asked me where this program gets its major support. They are usually astounded when I give them the answer. The fact is that the foreign aid program from an economic standpoint amounts to a giant subsidy to both business and labor. It is generally conceded that four of every five dollars spent in the foreign aid program remains in this country. This means that the taxpayers are picking up the tab for goods, wares, and merchandise manufactured in this country, sold to the Government under the foreign aid program, and delivered free of charge to foreign countries. It explains why the foreign aid program has been the support of most of the big business organizations, as well as the big labor unions. It has provided the means by which the countries of Western Europe have been able not only to stabilize their economy, but to expand it to the point that they are presently in serious competition with our world markets. It can also serve as the explanation of why we can do such a big export business, yet cannot seem to stop the outflow of gold. The reason is that we are giving the money to foreign nations with which to buy their products, a case of trying to lift yourself by your own bootstrap.

In opposing this program, I have been completely out of step with both political parties. But unless information which has not yet been made available can be produced to justify this program, my opposition to both the authorization and the appropriation will be continued. We enjoyed a visit this week with Mr. Garry John Huntingford of Australia, who was on his way home home after spending the past year in Dimmitt as Foreign Exchange Student.

Loan Repayment Due CCC by July 31

U.S. Department of Agriculture announced June 26 that Commodity Credit Corporation will take title to 1961 crop loan cotton on which loans have not been repaid at the close of business July 31 according to Charlie Hill ASC Manager.

Last year's crop loan cotton is being acquired by CCC at loan maturity now so producers will have sufficient time to redeem the cotton and so merchants will be able to obtain any additional cotton they may need from the loan maturity date. Hill said that producers and purchasers of loan equities can repay loans until close of business July 31. Hill emphasized that repayment must be received by CCC or the local bank before July 31.

Water Conservation Bulletin Available
Texas Water Commission has just issued a Bulletin which adds to the available knowledge of the Southern High Plains water resources.

Bulletin 6207, "Water-Level Measurements Through 1962 in Selected

Observation Wells, Southern High Plains, Texas," gives ground water-level measurements in observation wells in 25 Southern High Plains counties which include the most extensive irrigated farming development in the State. Bulletin may be obtained without cost from the Texas Water Commission, P.O. Box 2311, Capitol Station, Austin.

Yearly water-level measurement on 1,150 observation wells for the entire period of record, and maps showing their location in the 25 counties are contained in the publication. Some of the annual measurements date back as far as the 1930's. These well measurements thoroughly document the major declines of water levels in the areas of heavy irrigation pumpage, such as in parts of Lubbock, Hale, and Floyd Counties.

Declines extended into the 1961-62 period for most of the wells, though in most cases these were small. Average drop in level this year for all wells measured was 0.62 feet.

Personnel from the Texas Water Commission were assisted by the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1, the U.S. Geological Survey, and the Ground Water Conservation District No. 3 South of the Canadian River in making the 1962 field measurements of observation wells.

Systematic measurement of water levels in observation wells is useful as an index in maintaining a current inventory of available water supplies and in making qualitative predictions of the future availability of those supplies.

Counties covered by the publication are Armstrong, Bailey, Briscoe, Carson, Castro, Cochran, Crosby, Dawson, Deaf Smith, Donley, Floyd, Gaines, Gray, Hale, Hockley, Lamb, Lubbock, Lynn, Oldham, Parmer, Randall, Roberts, Swisher, Terry, and Yoakum.
