

SEEN OR HEARD

The heat went up to a torrid 95 degrees here yesterday. Minimum was 71, and Saturday at 8:00 it was 80.

This is good on the swimming pool, soft drink co.'s, and other businesses specializing in hot weather sales, the air conditioning business should also be booming.

With Herbert Rapp building a drive-in, Bran Garner saying he is going to rebuild, and some other party advertising to watch for Ranger's new downtown theatre—we should be able to take a wide choice of going to the movies if they all pan out.

As is now, the Tower is our only cinema. Rapp is in hopes of completing the open air theatre soon, which will give moviegoers access to two picture houses within a short distance.

We may be wrong, but the drive-in theatre, as well as talking pictures are here to stay. At the outdoor job you can throw the kids in the back seat and be off. After you arrive they can raise all the heck they want to and bother no one but those in the car.

Sunday is Father's Day. And no one, unless it be the mother, is more deserving of recognition. You've probably read where some hot shot said some of the fathers have been slighting their kids, that might be true, but there is some good in every father.

We've been told that you are not a man until you grow a son and a wife. There may be more truth in poetry in that statement.

We hope that all fathers everywhere is recognized as is befitting him on his day.

Most fathers are contented with the fact of being one, without having a special day. But it is most befitting that they are recognized.

The Jaycees, about over their saddle soreness, will work on their rodeo arena again Monday night. Last time they went out to work they ran out of nails early in the evening. Whether that was done intentionally by some less eager member or not, is unknown. But we've been assured that everything will be on hand Monday night, and in abundance.

Getting the grounds in shape now will let them deafen your time to publishing their show later on.

Joe Dennis and O. H. Dick are out after the big brother to that 43 pounder they caught not long ago.

They went Friday afternoon. Date of return is not known. But if they catch another fish that size at any hour—that's probably when they'll start home.

T. R. Craig has been telling us a fish story about a crappie that he caught that would weigh at least two pounds.

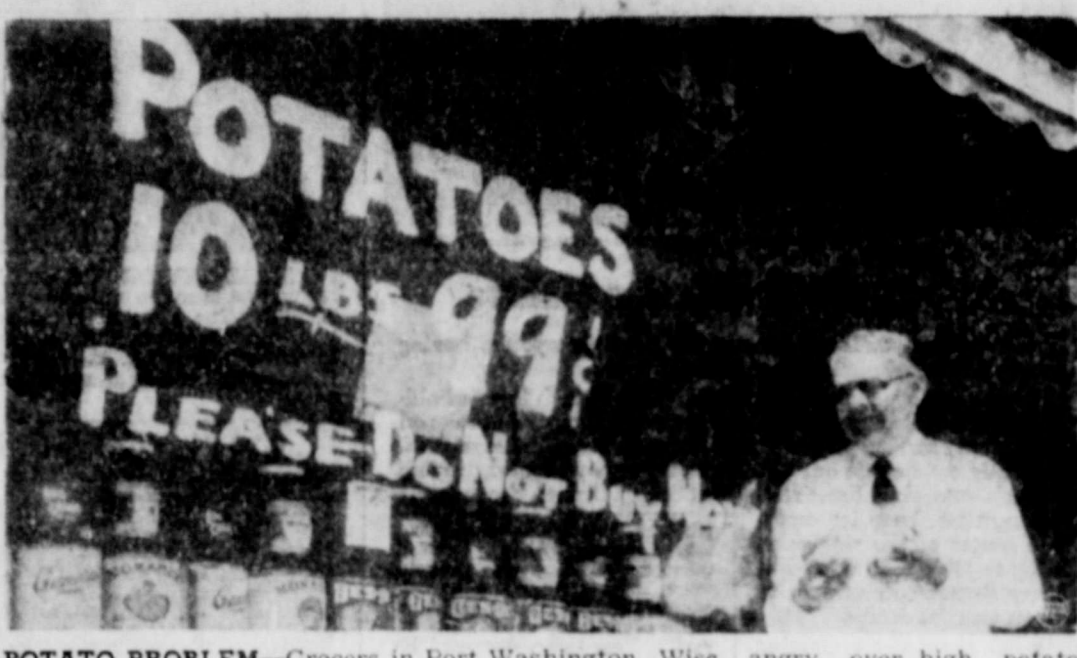

His excuse for not showing it to us is that it was late at night. He didn't weigh it either. But we'll take his fisherman's word for the size, on the surface at least.

Planning a trip over the week end? Remember better late than never. Take it easy.

Ban On Old Film Draws Court Suit

BALTIMORE, June 14 (UP)—The banning of the old film "Birth of a Nation" by the Maryland State Board of Motion Picture Censors is being challenged in a court suit.

The suit has been filed at Baltimore by the Washington, D. C., film distributor Harry Shull. He says that both the board and the Maryland state law under which film censorship is practiced are unconstitutional.

The movie is an old release previously shown in Maryland. But it is currently banned on the grounds that it tends to incite discrimination.

IKE SPEAKING IN DETROIT; TAFT SAYS TRUMAN WILL RUN

DETROIT, June 14 (UP)—The automobile capital gets a look at General Eisenhower today.

The general is in Detroit for two speeches, a parade, and a bid for Michigan's 46 unpledged Republican convention delegates.

Eisenhower first will lead a Flag Day parade. He'll make a speech from the steps of Detroit's City Hall Saturday morning. The big doings come Saturday night, at 8 p.m. He'll make a major political speech in Detroit's Olympia Stadium. Two television networks will carry the speech.

Eisenhower said this morning that he is throwing his prepared speeches out of the window and will speak "from the heart" in his campaign.

He told a Citizens Committee breakfast in the motor city that from here on out "all my prepared speeches are thrown out the window."

He said that he intends, instead, to take the questions which have been tossed at him during the past week and devote his speeches to telling "how I feel as a matter of conviction."

Senator Taft believes his chances of getting the GOP nomination are better than ever. The Ohio Republican told a television audience that "General Eisenhower's return has convinced a good many people I would be the stronger candidate." Taft predicts his opponent for the presidency will be Harry Truman—saying the Democrats will draft the president as "a last resort."

School Teachers Will Ask Minimum Salary Of $3,000; Legislature To Be Approached During New Session

AUSTIN, Texas, June 15, 1952—A minimum beginning salary of $3,000 instead of $2,403 for public school teachers will be asked of the next legislature by the Texas State Teachers Association.

"Texas annually must have nearly 5,000 new teachers either as replacements or to take care of the rapidly increasing enrollment," Charles H. Tennyson, executive secretary of the association, said in making the announcement here today.

"The profession must be made more attractive and Texas faces a critical situation in its schools unless that can be accomplished," Tennyson declared.

The executive secretary of the 52,000 member teacher group which was a big factor in the school system revision campaign three years ago, also recently for additional classrooms if children are to continue to get a good education.

"Despite an increase in the pay for teachers granted by the voters and legislature three years ago, the profession is not attractive to young people because the pay is less than the national average for workers," Tennyson pointed out.

The average salary for all Texas professional public school personnel is $3,185, but that of the average classroom teacher is only $2,950. The first-year teacher who holds a bachelor's degree gets $2,950.

In comparison, the average for all employed people in the United States, including laborers, is $4,390.

Tennyson presented figures to show that pay of teachers since World War II has not kept pace with that of other employed persons.

In 1939 teachers' salaries averaged $1,420 and that of all employed persons, including laborers, was $1,269. Teachers were 12 percent above the average, and all employed people in the country were 6 percent below the national group.

Since 1939, Tennyson said, the average employed person has had an increase of 167 percent in his pay, while the Texas teachers have had a 124 percent hike. If teachers' salaries had increased as others, the present average would be up by $615.

That is approximately what the

Heat With Wind Is Predicted

The hot sun isn't letting up a bit on Texas today. Afternoon temperatures are expected to range around the 100 degree mark in some parts of the state and in the mid 90's elsewhere.

Clear to partly cloudy skies prevailed over most of the state but a general rainfall isn't in prospect anywhere. Amarillo had more than one-fifth of an inch yesterday for the only precipitation reported.

ANTI-RED PRISONER POINTS OUT FANATICS OF KOJE ISLAND

A pint-sized prisoner on Kojima Island did a king-size job for American guards today.

He is a prisoner only four feet tall, had been condemned to death by a "kangaroo court." He made a dash for freedom. He scrambled through barbed wire to escape from rebellious Communist prisoners. His back was ripped by wire thorns, but he made it.

The little anti-Communist agreed to point out the ringleaders in the company of guards ordered the prisoners to line up. They refused.

Tear gas shells were fired into the compound. That did it. The prisoners came out meekly. They squatted in rows and held their hands behind their heads. The little prisoner went up and down the line, pointing out the 15 men who condemned him to death.

He also named about 85 other fanatic Communists. After this dramatic show-down, another 273 prisoners stepped out of line, announced they were anti-Communists, and were taken away to separate stockades.

Meantime, Allied fighter-bombers have destroyed a Communist airfield near the North Korean capital of Pyongyang even before the Reds could finish rebuilding it.

A Fifth Air Force spokesman says 150 fighter-bombers, already loaded for other missions, headed for the field "within minutes" after getting a hurry-up call.

Freak Weather Covers Nation

Too much and too little are the complaints against the weatherman today.

It's so dry in the great plains that a highway has exploded. It's so wet in the Michigan-Illinois area that a dam has broken.

The weather bureau says the temperature will stay around 100 degrees in Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado and South Dakota. The ministerial association at Aberdeen, South Dakota, has scheduled weekend prayer sessions for rain. And agriculture experts warn that late crops may fail to grow at all unless the drought ends soon. At La Junta, Colorado, the residents are praying that there will be no fires. The city's reservoirs are nearly empty.

At Dawson, Nebraska, the heat baked a section of a highway like a cake. The road swelled, then burst, tossing four-foot slabs of concrete across the roadway.

But along the Illinois, Michigan Canal, residents are ready to evacuate their homes. A break at an industrial dam on Big Run Creek has sent all waterways in the area to dangerously high levels. Violent winds and severe thunderstorms are adding to the danger. And more storms are expected.

At St. Petersburg, Florida, a giant water spout hit a bayside community, leaving a trail of sunken boats and wrecked homes. Winds estimated at 100-miles-an-hour drove the 600-foot water spout across the area. Damage is estimated from $5,000 to $5,000 dollars. But one is reported injured.

W. H. McKenzie Baptist Leader Dies Saturday

Funeral services will be held in Waxahachie Sunday for Doctor Walter H. McKenzie, 66-year-old executive secretary of the United Texas Drys and prominent Baptist leader, he died Friday at his home in Waxahachie.

He was a minister and past chairman of the executive board of the Baptist General Conference. Doctor McKenzie formerly held pastorates at Nocona, Chico, Goodnight, Burk Burnett, Dallas, Waxahachie, Grand Prairie and Austin.

Moscow Makes Diplomatic Corps Changes

The Russians announce a general shakeup in their world diplomatic lineup, and international observers everywhere wonder what's up.

It's a shuffle involving the top four posts in the Communist diplomatic organization, Washington, London, Peking and Berlin.

Russia's number two diplomat, Andrei Gromyko, has been nominated and accepted as ambassador to London.

Some observers think Gromyko's appointment forecasts a new, milder, approach to east-west differences.

What would seem to be another part of the same pattern is the new Russian ambassador to the United States, the Kremlin's former representative in London, Georgi Zarubin. And the former Red Ambassador in Washington, Alexander Panyushkin, becomes the Russian ambassador to Communist China.

The former ambassador to Red Berlin, Gregory Pashkin, has been recalled to Moscow, and appointed a deputy foreign minister.

Past Democratic Revolt Leader Reverses Stand

JACKSON, Miss., June 14 (UP)—The man who touched off the southern revolt of the Democratic Party in 1948 did an about-face today.

Governor Hugh White of Mississippi announced that he will stay in the party and "fight it out" this year.

In April, White pulled a bill through the Mississippi state legislature authorizing a second bolt by the Mississippi Party.

But today he denied such intention after disclosure of a pledge empowering the state's delegates to walk out of the national convention at Chicago next month.

White told a news conference, "I'm going to stay in there and fight it out."

He added: "I'm a Democrat and I will always be a Democrat."

Earlier today there were reports that southern advocates of state's rights plan to hold a protest meeting at Chicago following the democratic convention if the party does not name a presidential nominee and adopt a platform acceptable to the south.

And a Democratic committee woman from Mississippi says she has photostatic copies of a pledge which would require states rights delegates from Mississippi to join similar forces from other Dixie states in such a meeting.

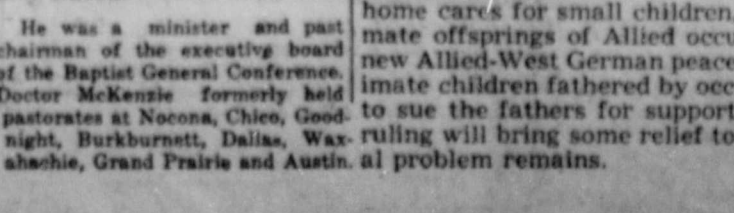

Houston Driver Is Charged With Hit-Run Murder

A hit-and-run driver has struck and killed one man in Houston and critically injured another.

Sixty-five-year-old Caleb Ed Starr was killed as he walked along the shoulder of the road with his young son. After the car struck Starr, it bounced across the road and hit a 49-year-old Negro, Gus Leavigne, as he was fixing a flat.

Houston police later arrested 35-year-old Milton McAllister. A car handle knocked off McAllister's vehicle when it struck Starr fit a missing handle on his convertible door. McAllister is charged with murder by auto and police say he has been arrested on several previous occasions for reckless driving.

Alias Basil Willing

By Helen McCloy

THE STORY: Jack Duggan, a private detective, died of poison possibly by murder. Basil Willing had followed Duggan to the home of Dr. Zimmer, a psychiatrist, and had seen Duggan give an envelope to Basil. The next morning Miss Katherine Shaw, a blind woman, was apparently had mistaken Basil for the father at Dr. Zimmer's house. He found dead in her bed, Basil and Inspector Foyle go to the Shaw home to question Basil. The dead woman's nephew, and her secretary, Charlotte Dean, who also were at Dr. Zimmer's dinner party.

FOYLE sighed. "Somehow we must establish the relationship between Duggan and Miss Shaw. Who attended to her correspondence after she went blind?"

"I wrote personal letters at her dictation and read her letters received. Her lawyer attended to business matters. He had power of attorney."

"I'm afraid I'll have to ask permission to go through her papers." "You'll have to ask her nephew, Brinsley, who is also her heir. I'll call him."

When Charlotte had left the room, Foyle looked at Basil quickly. "One of those cases where we may never find any evidence."

"Autopsy?" "What will we find? Codeine. So what? She could have taken it herself. She could have saved up pills for an overdose."

Basil walked over to the window and stood looking out at the sunny street. "Duggan's murder seems to have been an afterthought—a clumsy improvisation under stress. Miss Shaw's murder was carefully planned—if it was murder."

BRINSLEY SHAW was thin and lightly boned with a boxer's dancing step. The hair brushed so close to the small erect head was a smooth and shining silver. Briefly, the inspector repeated what he had told Charlotte Dean.

"You really think there may be some reference to this Detective Jack Duggan in Aunt Kay's correspondence?" Brinsley asked.

"There's a possibility." Brinsley pursed his lips. "You'll have to see her lawyer about her safe-deposit box, but Miss Dean can show you the papers in her desk."

CHARLOTTE took them to the desk. In the drawers were bundles of letters, tied with violet ribbon, and a checkbook.

"I'll look at that first," said Foyle.

"Surely I should remember if I made out a check to Jack Duggan?"

"Would you?" Foyle paused at a page where three stubs were all dated March 21. The first payee was described as "forist", the second, as "Brinsley Shaw", the third as "J. D." The forist had received $21.50; Brinsley, $500.00; "J. D." $400.00.

"How did you sign checks?" "Katherine Shaw per C. D. That was arranged with the bank when Miss Shaw went blind."

"Now your memory has been jogged, do you recall anything about this particular check to J. D.?"

"Yes, I do." Her tone was faintly defiant. "Last month Miss Shaw did ask me to draw a check and put only the initials of the payee on the stub. I had quite forgotten that the initials were J. D."

"To whom did you make out this check?" "I honestly don't remember. I haven't thought of it since."

Foyle looked at Charlotte speculatively. "If I wrote a check for $400, I'd remember who it was made out to, even if the money wasn't mine."

Charlotte colored, but held her head high. "Miss Shaw frequently drew $400."

"Now, really, this is rather silly!" put in Brinsley. "We can get the payee's name from one of the canceled checks that came with Aunt Kay's March statement from the bank."

Charlotte's hands were shaking as she took a manila envelope from the desk and gave it to Foyle. He rifled through the packet of checks, then glanced at the statement itself. "No withdrawal of $400 in the debit column, and no canceled check made out to any name with initials 'J. D.'"

"Then it hasn't been cashed or deposited yet," said Charlotte faintly. "It will come with the April statement."

"Or it may never be cashed," added Foyle.

"Then where is it?" gasped Charlotte.

Foyle frowned. "It's not in Duggan's apartment. His murderer seems to have taken some trouble to destroy evidence proving that Miss Shaw employed Duggan."

A half-smile lifted one corner of Brinsley Shaw's mouth. "I didn't know the old girl had it in her! Hiring a private detective and not telling anyone about it—not even the invaluable Miss Dean. Or did she tell you?" The sudden look he best upon Charlotte was shrewd and penetrating.

"No, Mr. Shaw. She did not," Charlotte was angry.

FOYLE laid the checkbook aside. "When you call in a private detective there has to be some reason for your not calling the regular police. But I doubt if a woman like Miss Shaw would hire a private detective to investigate someone she loved whom she suspected of scandal or petty crime."

"That's what I've been telling you all along!" exploded Brinsley. "None the less these check stubs convince me that she did hire a private detective." Foyle went on imperturbably. "I can think of only one reason why such a woman would do so."

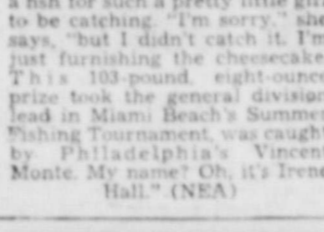

Brinsley eyed the inspector uneasily. "And that is?"

"Murder. An attempt to kill you can change the habits of a lifetime. Even then she preferred a private detective to the regular police."

Two Desserts with One Making

Here's an idea you'll want to try the next time you're having guests for luncheon, dinner, or buffet supper.

What you do is make a big, round, deep 10-inch layer of old-fashioned burnt sugar cake on company day. Simply put cake on a big, pretty serving plate with ivy leaves under cake for garnish. Carefully cut a circle out of the center; remove center, leaving a 3-inch outer ring. Frost ring with Creamy Orange Frosting. At serving time, heap ice cream into center of the ring cake, bring to table with a bowl of Party Butterscotch Sauce to spoon over ice cream.

What about the remaining center piece? Spread it, too, with the same frosting, cover and put away for dessert for the family the next day. When ready to serve, decorate the little cake with halves of seeded grapes or maraschino cherries. Serve with bowls of sugared sliced peaches or other fruits in season.

If you'd like to make your own cake plate for the little cake, turn a stemmed goblet upside-down, attach a small plate to bottom of goblet with bits of molding clay. Be sure both goblet and plate are dry.

Old Fashioned Burnt Sugar Cake
 1/2 cup C and H cane brown sugar
 1/2 cup boiling water
 1 1/2 cups C and H cane granulated sugar
 2 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
 3 teaspoons baking powder
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 1/2 cup shortening
 2 eggs
 1 cup cold water
 1 teaspoon vanilla flavoring

First, make this burnt sugar syrup: Melt 1/2 cup brown sugar in heavy frying pan over low heat, stirring constantly. When sugar is dark and burnt in appearance, remove from heat, and at edge of pan slowly stir in 1/2 cup boiling water. Return burnt sugar to heat and boil gently, about 5 minutes, until thickened. Cool.

Next, make the cake: Cream shortening, and gradually cream in 1 1/2 cups granulated sugar until light and fluffy. Stir in eggs, one at a time, beating well each time. Measure and sift flour with baking powder and salt, then gradually add to creamed mixture, alternating with the cold water, and beating well after each addition. Stir in 3 table-poons of the burnt sugar syrup and 1 teaspoon vanilla. Pour into well-greased 10-inch cake pan at least 1 1/2 inches deep. Bake at 375° for about 45 minutes, or until well done. Serves 6 to 8.

Creamy Orange Frosting
 2 cups sifted C and H cane powdered sugar
 2 tablespoons softened butter
 1 egg yolk
 1 beaten egg white
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 1 to 2 tablespoons grated orange peel
 1/2 teaspoon grated lemon peel
 Orange juice

Cream butter, then stir in egg yolk and salt. Gradually cream in sifted powdered sugar and grated fruit peels, using only enough orange juice to make a spreading consistency. Fold in stiffly beaten egg white.

Party Butterscotch Sauce
 1/2 cup butter
 2 cups C and H cane brown sugar, firmly packed
 1 cup boiling water
 1 teaspoon salt
 1/2 pint whipping cream, whipped (optional)

Place butter and sugar in wide saucepan. Cook slowly over low direct heat, stirring constantly until mixture is well blended and melted, or about 5 minutes. Very carefully and slowly stir in boiling water at edge of pan. Add salt. Gently boil over medium heat until mixture is thickened, like molasses, about 15 minutes, stirring often to keep from burning or sticking to bottom of pan. Cool. When really cold, beat with rotary beater until sauce is lovely light, creamy, brown color. Keep in covered jar in refrigerator until needed. Makes about 2 cups sauce.

For a fluffier, richer sauce, fold in 1/2 pint of whipped cream when ready to use. This is a creamy sauce that doesn't harden or string, yet has a lovely butterscotch flavor.

Reverend J. W. Douglas, pastor of the Ft. Worth Polytechnic Church of the Nazarene will be the evangelist at the local Nazarene Church in a revival starting Monday night June 16. The Revival will continue throughout the week.

In addition to being a strong gospel preacher and a good evangelist it has been stated that Douglas is a very successful pastor. He is in his sixth year at Ft. Worth, having built the church from the ground up. From a vacant lot covered with weeds to a beautiful sanctuary and a nice Sunday School annex in the six-year record. The church is said to be a strong one with a growing congregation. Previous to this pastorate he served the Nazarene Church in Bowie and Seagraves, Texas.

The music will be under the direction of T. J. Spindle and R. R. Needham. The church and the pastor, Leroy Land, have extended to all a hearty welcome to attend each evening at 7:45 p.m.

Local Preachers To Preach At Huntsville Sun.

The Rev. Ralph E. Perkins and Rev. Jimmy Houghton have been invited to hold religious services within the walls of Huntsville Prison on Sunday morning, June 15. Services will be held in the main building and in several outlying areas and in the women's ward.

Rev. Perkins states that "this is a most unusual opportunity for outside preachers, and we are thrilled with this chance to witness for our Lord." J. R. Houghton, Sr., will accompany the preachers to Huntsville. The outstanding record made by Rev. Houghton during the past 13 months has been an inspiration to all Christian thinking people and to those who are anxious to see a man have a new chance in life. Several hundred men in Huntsville have requested Jim's return and to give his testimony and to preach to them, states

Rev. Perkins. "Jim has been a ministerial student in Hardin-Simmons University for the past year and has an enviable record as a great soul winner and a spiritual power on the campus. Through several revivals, youth meetings, regular Sunday services, and special talks to civic organizations, Jim has spoken to several thousands of people this past year. One of the highlights of the year to Jim was when his church voted him permission to baptize his own father. Approximately 100 people have been converted under his preaching and near 1000 made rededications states Rev. Perkins.

Rev. Houghton will bring the message in the main building assisted by Rev. Perkins, and the reverse order will be followed when the services are held for the women.

It will be remembered that Rev. Perkins spearheaded a movement, assisted by his church, the Ranger Ministerial Alliance, civic organizations and many scores of Ranger citizens that enabled Jim to have this opportunity of proving what the power of God can do in the heart of a man who outstretches himself completely to the Masters will.

J. Paul Stevens To Preach For Methodist Today

In the absence of the pastor who, with his family, are attending Annual Conference at Waco this week, the Rev. J. Paul Stevens of Denton, will fill the pulpit at the Methodist Church at the morning hour. Rev. Mr. Stevens is an ordained Presbyterian Minister who is serving his denomination as Field Director of the Board of Christian Education of the Presbyterian Church U.S.A. in the Synod of Texas with Headquarters in Denton.

The Church School will meet as usual at 9:45 a.m. with our new Superintendent, Frank Deaton, in charge. After a brief devotional, the adult classes will meet in their respective places. The Children's Division will be meeting in the basement of the church under the direction of capable teachers and workers. Mr. Deaton insists that the telephone committees be on the job, especially during the summer months, since there is a general tendency to "let down" at this time of the year.

The morning service will begin promptly at 10:30 with the organ prelude and the Chancel Choir singing the responses. Mr. R. L. Willis will preside at the service of worship. The Rev. Mr. Stevens will preach on the subject: "Jesus Christ and Your Life," based on Matt. 27: 11-26. The Choir will sing the anthem: "Seek Ye the Lord," by Roberts. Fred Baumgardner will direct the choir and congregational singing.

There will be no evening service at the Church. This will give our people an opportunity to visit other church services in the city at the evening hour. We invite our friends in Ranger who do not

Older People in Model Town Find Rest, Peace

About 50 members of the older generation have achieved the independence they seek in a unique colony at Millville, N. J. Opened 15 years ago this month, Roosevelt Park Colony for the Aged provides them with homes of their own. The story of this unusual residential "city within a city" is told in the current issue of PEOPLE TODAY in an interesting article called "Old Folks' Town."

The idea came to Mrs. Riffie Morrison, a county welfare worker, when she saw old age Assistance clients forced into meager quarters or institutions—or into relatives' home. One client, an old lady who built herself a 3-room home on meager funds, seemed to have a happy solution. Mrs. Morrison went into action, convinced the city of Millville to donate the land and the W.F.A. to provide funds for building 14 homes and a community house. Rent: $6-$10 a month.

The rest of the 33 homes were built by people who occupy them. They received tax-free plots of land, pay only expenses and maintain the property. A $5,000 limit of building costs prevented too great disparity in appearance of the homes. When an owner dies, the house reverts to the community for rental.

Outsiders who expect to find the old folks doddering around on crutches instead of a picture of activity—gardening, carpentry, sewing sessions, pinocle games, At the Thursday night socials, neighborhood town parties, entertainment or the group engages in a songfest.

Says Mrs. Morrison to PEOPLE TODAY: "I would be interested in seeing such colonies established in every state. But they find it's real work and give up." She is reluctant to discuss all the "outstanding citizen" citations bestowed her, but isn't too bashful to admit that "we need $10,000 to enlarge the community house."

Those now in the community range in age from 65 to 95; incomes range from $45 monthly for a widow to $200 tops for a couple. The colony has received no public funds since the W.P.A. grant.

Gardeners Must Fight Insects

Get ready to fight insects if you expect to grow a garden, warns Capper's Farmer.

The right insecticide, proper timing applications and thorough treatment of plants are the key parts of a successful control program, says Gordon T. Mickle, Colorado entomologist, in the nationally-circulated farm magazine. Much better control is obtained when insecticides are used against the younger stages or at the first appearance of insects. This early application not only protects plants but also prevents the pests from multiplying. It's necessary to get complete coverage because many bugs and worms feed on the lower parts of plants or on the undersides of leaves.

DDT and related insecticides leave a deposit on the plant that lasts for several days. Such a poisonous residue is objectionable on such vegetables as lettuce, spinach and others used for greens. Use rotenone, pyrethrum or cryolite on these plants.

The aphid is one of the most common pests. It attacks cabbage, cucumbers, potatoes, melons, peas and many other garden plants. For control, use 2 tablespoons of 40 per cent nicotine sulfate mixed with 1 pound of hydrated lime and applied as a dust. If you prefer a spray, mix 1 tablespoon of the Black Leaf 40 and tablespoon of soap flakes in a gallon of water. Mexican bean beetles are stopped by a 1 per cent rotenone dust or a spray made by dissolving 2 tablespoons of cryolite in each gallon of water. One pound of either calcium arsenate or cryolite in each gallon of water. One pound of either calcium arsenate

Veteran Texan Recalls Game

AUSTIN, June—George Howard Waker of Lufkin who is an active hunter and fisherman at 90, is the subject of an article—TENACIOUS TEXAN—in the forthcoming issue of Texas Game & Fish magazine.

He is a native Texan and remembers the early days when game was so abundant that there were no seasons or bag limits. He bagged his 96th deer last fall and estimated that:

"All the ducks I have killed couldn't be pulled by a team of horses."

The article states: "Uncle George, as he is known by everyone around Lufkin was particularly sharp at hunting wild turkeys. His popular box call is considered one of the deadliest

"Uncle George still stays close to nature and spends an occasional night camping out on the Neches river with his fishing partner, his grandson, David Walker, 20.

The elder Howard likes to regale the present generation with descriptions of how he "made 67 crops all between the plow handles" and that he never bought a sack of livestock feed in his life.

He doubts that game ever will be restored to the status when antelope populated the ranges like "waving grass" but he thinks present restoration work will be effective and that there will always be something to hunt.

Young Pair Work Hard But Feel They're Bound To Get Somewhere

TUPELO, Miss (UP)—We're doing it because we want to live rather than exist, these two say.

That is the answer given by one of Tupelo's busiest young couples when their fantastically long and complicated work schedule is reviewed.

To begin with, Ralph Knight is taking 17 semester hours of pre-medical work at Itawamba Junior College has five afternoon labs a week, is taking night classes in addition, plays in two orchestras, baby sits, and cleans house on Saturdays.

Meanwhile, his wife, Dot, is secretary to Ruff Motors, keeps house, raises a six-year-old son, takes typing and accounting in night school and is studying medicine on her own.

"After all," she said, "if my husband is going to be a doctor, I should know as much about it as possible. If I'm going to support the family more or less during the next few years while he goes to medical school, I want to be prepared as much as possible."

It was a long struggle for the Knights, because they had so far to go. "We've still got a long way ahead of us," he added, "but we're going, all the same."

Neither had yet finished high school when Ralph went into the Army during World War II. "After I got out of the Army, I decided I wanted to be a doctor," Ralph said. "We both set about finding a way."

As far as the Knights are concerned, the way was hard work. Dot went to work and Ralph entered Itawamba high school to finish up two years ago. He hopes to be graduated from Itawamba Junior College in June with scholastic honors, counting the night courses he is taking. Then he hopes to enter medical school.

The couple is making its own way through Ralph's schooling for the present, saving his GI benefits until he enters medical school. A lot of his extra cash comes from playing in two dance orchestras every Saturday night.

Ralph says he figures his schedule leaves him 42 hours a week to sleep. He goes to bed at 1 a. m. and is up at 6 a. m. "I'm getting fat on it though," he said.

"No, we don't have any time for much else. We don't even have time to read magazines, except medical journals."

"It seems sometimes that we never even get around to speaking to each other," Dot said. "He always has his nose buried in a book, even when he's shaving. He's going to be a doctor someday though."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICE

The protecting power bestowed on one by his heavenly Father, divine Love, enables him to defend himself daily against temptation and bodily suffering. This demonstrable truth is pointed up in the Lecture-Sermon titled: "God the Preserver of Man" to be read in all Churches of Christ Scientist, on Sunday, June 15. The Golden Text proclaims: "He that dwelleth in the secret place of the most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty" (Psalms 91-1).

One of the citations to be heard from the Bible is: "Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I go unto my Father" (John 14:12).

This unending healing truth taught by the Master is available to all here and now, as explained in the following correlative passage from the Christian Science

Quality Refreshment Costs So Little

When you raise a frosty bottle of Coca-Cola to your lips, you can be sure it is always delicious—always refreshing. You know you can trust its quality.

You may find you are paying a penny more for each bottle now and a few cents more for each carton. Due to rising costs, we have been forced to raise our wholesale price.

Even so, the cost of quality in Coca-Cola is remarkably low. At work, at play, at home—where else can you get so much refreshment for so little than in ice-cold Coca-Cola?
