SEEN OR HEARD

by don norris

For some the "morrow shall hold the sweet fruits of victory. Others, the bitter taste of defeat. Politically that is—

Saturday our steadfast, civic minded, and duty conscious citizens go to the polls and ballot for the man or men they concede to be the most fitted to care for their governmental affairs during the next elective terms in the county, districts and state.

And as is the case in most instances, those who forfeit the right of the ballot will be the most bitter after the election. Those voters who discharge their rights may not always vote for the winner, but they are consoled with the thought of having done their part.

To those who cannot vote for lack of funds with which to buy their poll tax is but a reminder that that basic liberty is not entirely free as was meant to be.

The response to the appeal for help for Mrs. Merritt has been most gratifying in all respects. One can never tell how many friends they have until they get in dire circumstances and need help as is the case of this woman. Mr. J. M. "Matt" Robinson had been among the staunchest workers for Mrs. Merritt. He personally has contacted number of people here in town.

The family of Mrs. Merritt has already expressed a number of times its profound appreciation for this heartfelt assistance by the friends and fine people in Ranger.

Everyone is election happy. The election bulleting board will be operated Saturday night.

Those of you who are eager to know the results can see them as they are available on the board.

The accent will be on county results, with state returns being noted as they are available.

Maybe after tomorrow some of the politicians will return to leading a normal but somewhat dispirited life and once again speak to those who may have been on the opposite side of the fence in political belief.

To clarify to some of you I would like to say that any opinion that may have been advanced previously or will be advanced in the future in this column is entirely a personal one and does not necessarily reflect the opinion of the newspaper.

I am probably wrong more than I am right so do not let anything I may have to say alter your opinion. As it is called (Seen or Heard) you can't believe what you see or hear either, sometimes.

Election Returns Will Be Posted In Ranger, Sat.

The City of Ranger will place the election board up on Main street near the City Hall to be used in reporting latest Eastland County election returns as they are available.

The Chamber of Commerce is going to handle the posting of results, cooperating with the Ranger Times who will furnish the results as they come in to the Times.

Available state returns will also be noted from time to time on the election board Saturday night. First returns should start coming in around 7:30 p.m.

Saturday Means Another Trades Day Program For Ranger Traders

Saturday is Trades Day in Ranger. On which day $100 dollars is given away by the merchants of Ranger to those who register for the program during the morning and afternoon.

Registration for the program starts at 9:00 a.m. and continues at 3:00 p.m. at which time all registration is halted and the drawing held immediately afterward.

All tickets are thrown away after each Saturday's drawing, therefore you must register each Saturday to be eligible for that day's $100 given away. And register

TRUMAN COMMUTES SENTENCE OF HIS WOULD-BE SLAYER

WASHINGTON, July 25 (UP)—Oscar Collazo was "dazed and stunned" by the news that President Truman—the man he tried to kill—had commuted his death sentence to life imprisonment.

Donald Clemmer, director of the District of Columbia jail, said Friday the Puerto Rican nationalist had no comment on Mr. Truman's action when notified late Thursday. Collazo, 38, had been convicted in the slaying of White House guard Leslie Coffelt in an attempt to assassinate the President Nov. 1, 1950.

"He appeared dazed and stunned for a moment," Clemmer said. "Later, he seemed a little glad." Clemmer said Collazo would be moved from the death house to a cell block. He said it would be up to James V. Bennett, director of federal prisons, to decide where Collazo would serve his life term. Collazo had been scheduled to die in the electric chair Aug. 1. Some 3,000 persons, mostly Puerto Ricans in New York, have signed a petition, requesting a pardon for Collazo. The Justice Department has said it cannot act on the petition until Collazo himself signs it.

Collazo, who has been a model prisoner, steadfastly has refused to ask Mr. Truman for mercy or to alter his convictions on Puerto Rican Nationalism. He had appeared to be undisturbed by the approaching date of his execution and spent his time teaching an older death row inmate, ex-sales Luther Weakley, how to conjugate Spanish verbs.

Collazo, who was wounded in the wild gun battle on the steps of Blair House, said he and his confederate, Grisello Torresola, had not tried to kill the President, but were staging a "demonstration" to persuade the United States to grant Puerto Rico its independence. Torresola was killed by Coffelt.

Coffelt was killed by a bullet from Torresola's gun, but Collazo was held equally guilty of murder as a member of the assassination conspiracy. Two other White House guards were wounded.

Vote, But Do It Legally, Judges Will Assist You

Tomorrow is election day, and you will be expected to do your duty. The first thing is to vote.

And remember these suggestions: Go to the polls as early as possible. Where a man and wife, or any two or more persons go to the polls together, just remember you may not be seated together while voting. Talking and aiding another is not permitted, as election judges will be present to give any needed instruction.

No electioneering in the poll's prohibited zone. Go in quietly, vote quietly and leave quietly, and as you place your ticket in the box state your name. The vote may be heavy and election officials will appreciate your cooperation.

Lion Delegate To Convention Reports Thurs.

Ranger Lion International delegate, Dr. C. W. Harris, made a report of his trip to the Lions International Convention at Mexico City to his fellow Lions Thursday. Dr. Harris also showed pictures taken by him on the south of the border trip to represent this club.

Dr. Harris told of the happenings at the convention and the many things and conditions under which his party saw or underwent at and traveling to and from the convention.

Lions Thursday heard a report. The president also made a club's venture into show business; the late sponsoring of the Sykes Singers here.

The president also made a motion that an assistant Tail Twister be elected to aid Dr. John White the regular monitor. Ronald Pruet was elected by acclamation for that position.

Announcement of the appointment of Dr. Marshall E. Jolly as secretary of the club and the retirement of Lester Crosley from that post was made. Crosley was elected to fill a vacancy on the board of directors vacated by Dr. Jolly.

One Lion, Saule Perstein, refused to pay a fine declared by Tail Twister White and was severed from the club as a result of his very beautiful tie about one inch from the knot.

Highway Boosters Barbecue Tues.

You are reminded that Tuesday night a barbecue will be sponsored by local Highway 80 Association members for the 18 officers and directors of the Central Division who will hold their business session in Ranger that night.

The officials of the association will be here from Shreveport, La., to El Paso for the night's meeting after the program at the Country Club.

Tickets are a dollar fifty and can be purchased from members of the association or at the Gholson, Paramount, or the Regal Cafe. Everyone is invited to this reception-barbecue for the officials.

The program at the County Club will be very short. A quick explanation of the work of the Highway 80 Association will be given by executive secretary L. A. Chapman.

After the barbecue the officers and directors will return to the Chamber of Commerce offices for their meeting.

Cox Campaign Closes With Abilene Rally

Jack Cox closed his campaign for Congress with a speech in Abilene with a speech at a political rally sponsored by the Jaycees. Cox, accompanied by a caravan of 100 cars, had spent the afternoon campaigning along with 200 volunteer workers.

Elating his opponent for his "Washington double-talk" Cox came out with both feet flying. "He tells you he stands for one thing and then when the roll is called he votes the opposite way or he isn't even there," said Cox. "Check the record on what he has done to labor, the farmer, the business man and on foreign affairs. How can you ever be sure where he stands on any issue?" asked Cox. Proving his accusation, Cox again pointed out that his opponent has failed to explain why he has voted for every tax increase since he has been in Washington, although he says taxes shouldn't go any higher. Cox also

Jailbird Composer Denied Freedom By Judge

MILWAUKEE, July 25—Frank Grandstaff, the jail cell composer, remained in custody Friday after losing his bid for freedom on a habeas corpus writ.

Circuit Judge Ronald Dreschler quashed the writ after studying arguments filed by the attorney's office and Shiny Uson, Grandstaff's attorney.

Grandstaff will be tried before a municipal court jury Aug. 26, on a burglary charge. He is accused of taking a piggy bank, ring and wrist watch from an apartment last May.

The 50-year-old musician, who won his freedom from a life term in a Tennessee prison after he composed a cantata honoring Big Spring, Tex., denied breaking into the apartment.

UNION BOARD MEETING TODAY APPROVE NEW CONTRACT

By Alan Adams

WASHINGTON, July 25 (UP)—The longest and most costly steel strike in the nation's history neared an end Friday, as the CIO steelworkers met to approve a White House-prompted settlement.

The union's 176-man wage-policy committee was scheduled to meet at noon CST, to put its formal stamp of approval on the agreement reached at the White House late Thursday between CIO President Philip Murray and U. S. Steel President Benjamin Fairless to end the 54-day-old strike. Fairless had represented the "big six" steel firms.

A reliable source said Fairless accepted Murray's invitation to attend the committee meeting and answer any question the members might have about the new contract.

As soon as the committee acted, Murray was expected to issue an immediate return-to-work call to 600,000 workers in the basic steel industry. The workers have been on strike since June 2, when they walked out minutes after the Supreme Court ruled President Truman's seizure of the industry was unconstitutional.

Volunteers Are Out Of Sorts With Collie Pup

JOPLIN, Mo., July 25 (UP)—Disgruntled volunteer workers were convinced Friday that no love is so steadfast as that of a pooch for his bone.

The workers spent more than a week, not to mention $5,500, pumping 15 million gallons of water out of an old abandoned mine shaft in the belief the inky hole would yield a human body.

The search project began after somebody spotted a shaggy Collie dog guarding the opening of the mine shaft. When the dog kept its lonely vigil day after day, residents became convinced it was waiting for its master who had disappeared into the water-filled hole.

Nearly 2,000 sensation-hungry spectators crowded around the shaft Thursday when volunteers made the perilous descent and came up with a bone.

The "faithful" animal didn't even get the bone he had waited for 25 days.

The searchers said they would probably give it to Mrs. Don Ruggles of Spring City Mo., the first person who asked for it.

Several people said she could have the Collie, too.

Radio Men Never See TV

LONDON, July 25—Sir Alexander Cadogan, who was appointed chairman of the British Broadcasting Corp.'s governors Thursday, confessed Friday he never has seen a television program.

For the steelworkers and for the nation, the walkout caused almost incalculable loss. The steelworkers lost more than $480 million in wages. The industry suffered a production loss of more than 17 million tons—a loss which forced cutback and shutdowns in the nation's industries and threatened to wreck the mobilization program.

Put even when the steelworkers stream back to their jobs, the effects of the strike will linger. It will take the industry a week or more to get back to pre-strike production because of the need to build up slowly the furnace fires which have been banked during the strike.

Defense officials began mapping plans to channel critically-needed steel into military production when output is resumed. On the civilian front, Defense Production Administrator Henry H. Fowler quickly ordered the major steel companies to reserve all tin plate for food canners and not to ship any stocks except as directed. The move was aimed at preventing a multi-million dollar loss of perishable foods now ready for canning.

The agreement provides for an average 16-cent hourly wage increase retroactive to March 1. The industry had proposed the most be paid back only to March 16. Prior to the strike the steelworkers averaged $1.88 per hour.

The pact also calls for a modified six paid holidays and increases in differentials and other "fringe" benefits amounting to about five cents an hour. The total package settlement was about five cents below the 32 1/2 cents recommended by the wage stabilization board.

Another basic issue was an "escape" clause that would permit workers to withdraw from the union. The steelworkers sought to eliminate this clause, but the agreement provides for a 15-day "escape" period at the end of each contract.

Other contract improvements include six paid holidays and increases in differentials and other "fringe" benefits amounting to about five cents an hour. The total package settlement was about five cents below the 32 1/2 cents recommended by the wage stabilization board.

Immediately after the agreement, Acting Defense Mobilization John R. Steelman announced that the steel industry will get a price increase averaging slightly more than $5.20 a ton. The industry was entitled to only $2.84 under the Casperhart Amendment to the economic controls law.

Democrats Will Choose Nominee From Eleven Before Convention

CHICAGO, July 25 (UP)—Eleven candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination were placed before the Democratic convention in a grueling 15 hour and 43 minute session that began at 12:10 p.m. ed Thursday and ground on until 1:53 a.m. Friday.

Last to be placed in nomination was Vice President Alben W. Barkley, who had asked his supporters not to do it.

At the last minute Rep. William J. Green Jr., of Pennsylvania, bowed to a "personal request" from President Truman and abandoned plans to offer the President's name. Puerto Rican delegate said they also wanted to nominate Mr. Truman but would refrain at his request.

Had Formally Withdrawn Sen. Tom C. Hennings of Missouri put the 74-year-old Barkley's name in nomination just before midnight without consent of the "Veep" and despite the fact the vice president had withdrawn formally from the race.

Hennings' proposal to make Barkley the party's standard bearer against Republican candidate Dwight D. Eisenhower touched off the last of a series of demonstrations that had rocked convention hall through the marathon session.

It was a madhouse session that left delegates harassed, harried and worn. Tempers frayed and voices cracked as the traditional "man who" nominating speeches dragged on, interrupted repeatedly by squabbles over seating of southern delegations and other side issues.

Chairman Sam Rayburn called a halt to the nominations at 1:15 a.m. and after all states and territories had a chance to nominate. Eleven names had been offered the convention, at least four of them "serious" contenders.

Longest Shouts for Russell

Resides Barkley the nominees in order were Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia, Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, Sen. Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma, Sen. J. William Fulbright of Arkansas, Averell Harriman, Oscar R. Ewing, Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois, Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan, Gov. Paul A. Denver of Massachusetts, and Sen. Herbert H. Humphrey of Minnesota.

Russell got the longest demonstration—30 minutes, a full 10 minutes over the 20-minute limit which Chairman Sam Rayburn sought in vain to enforce. The Kefauver display went 29 minutes. Stevenson's name was good for 26 minutes of the same insanity.

Harriman got 19 minutes, and was good for more, but Rayburn cut it off to announce settlement of the steel strike.

NOMINATES KEFAUVER—Gov. Gordon Browning of Tennessee, who delivered the nominating speech for Kefauver, happily reaches over from the rostrum to touch one of the many state standards carried past the speakers platform during noisy demonstration on convention floor. (NEA Telephoto).

HOLLYWOOD UP—Lauritz Melchior is so far gone that he is willing to spend some $10,000 just to keep a date with the latest little lady to draw his attention.

He is slaving away in front of the cameras in "The Stars Are Singing" at Paramount to raise part of the cash. Also, he will devote most of the proceeds from his next concert tour toward outfitting himself for the appointment—half way around the world.

The girl is expensive and hard to get but she has Melchior palytating with excitement. Money is no object.

called attention to the fact that his opponent's record shows that every tax increase has directly hit the working man. He went on to say that another example in this same tax stand is the fact that his opponent has voted against every tax decrease, even voting against an extra exemption for the old people and the blind. "But Congress recently voted themselves exempt from income tax on their living expenses in Washington, but they didn't lower your taxes any," he explained.

"You won't have to wait for an election year to hear from me either," said Cox. "I feel it my duty to report to you through your newspapers and radios at least once a month."

Cox carried his challenge to his opponent's record on over to the farmer and his problems. He pointed out that his opponent was absent from Congress when the all important cotton acreage allotments were set causing many West Texas farmers to fail to get the cotton acreage they needed.

As a final statement in his campaign, Cox said, "The finest people I have ever met are in this District. I believe I'm going to win, but win or lose, I will never be able to fully express my deep appreciation for all of the help and splendid support you have given me."

Anti-American Demonstrations Flare in Iran

TEHRAN, Iran, July 24 (UP)—Communist mobs beat up a U. S. Army officer and stoned an American economic aid office Thursday as anti-Americanism mounted throughout Iran.

U. S. Ambassador Loy Henderson promptly ordered all American Point Four economic assistance offices throughout Iran closed and instructed American citizens to remain indoors for their own safety.

Communist and nationalist leaders whipped up sentiment against Americans by charging the U. S. supported discredited, deposed Premier Ahmed Qavam and by assailing the American judge's vote against Iran at the World Court hearing on the Anglo-Iranian oil dispute.

The American Army officer beaten by a Communist mob was a member of the military mission sent here to help train Iranian army troops. His name was withheld. While raining blows on the hapless officer, the crowd shouted: "Out with U. S. advisers!"

Red mobs demonstrated outside American economic assistance offices throughout Iran. In Tehran, demonstrators shouted:

"Throw the Americans out! We don't want them to spread their germ warfare here!"

At Isfahan, 200 miles south of Tehran, a Communist mob stoned the American Point Four office and smashed doors and windows before armed police dispersed them. Martial law was imposed in Isfahan.

Thursday was observed as a day of national mourning throughout the country for some 25 or more nationalist demonstrators killed by army troops last Monday while crowds stormed the parliament building clamoring for the ouster of then Premier Qavam.

Convention Bulletins

By H. D. Quigg
CONVENTION HALL, July 25 (UP)—The 31st Democratic national convention finally struck a note of harmony early Friday. The delegates were unanimous on one thing: Utter confusion.

At one point during the weary minutes shortly before 2 a. m., the roll-call clerk called out: "District of Columbia."

The chairman of that delegation arose and spoke into the mike.

"For what purpose does the chairman call the name of the District of Columbia?"

"Well," answered Chairman Sam Rayburn, and there was tender patience in his voice, "we started calling the roll early Thursday for the purpose of giving any state in the union, or the District of Columbia, an opportunity to put in nomination a candidate for the presidential nomination."

The D. of C. said oh, well, in that case it had nobody to nominate.

A couple of tired state delegates voted "no" on a motion to table, that is kill, an adjournment motion, when actually they meant to vote "yes" because they did not actually want to adjourn at that time. Voting "yes" when you mean to signify "no I don't want to go home" is a bit confusing when it's 2 a. m. and you've had only four hours sleep the previous night.

Anyhow, on the next go-round the two states had to switch their vote completely.

Adding to the confusion was a sign in the hoopla presidential demonstration for Gov. Paul A. Dever of Massachusetts. It said: "We want Dever to continue building Massachusetts."

Modern communication is a wonderful thing. Gov. Forrest Smith, chairman of the Missouri delegation, was downtown when he heard on the radio that Missouri had cast 8 1/2 yes votes and 9 no votes on the motion to seat

Egypt's "Strong Man" Takes Over Government

CAIRO, Egypt, July 25 (UP)—Egypt's new army "strong man" arrested five high interior ministry and police officials Friday on charge of plotting against him and seized control of Alexandria, King Farouk's summer capital.

Maj. Gen. Mohammed Naguib Bey moved swiftly to remove all possible opposition to his three-day-old military coup and to the government headed by Premier Aly Maher Pasha he obliged Farouk to accept.

A simultaneous announcement said Farouk had signed a decree appointing Naguib commander-in-chief of the Egyptian armed forces.

the Virginia delegation.

With a police escort screaming in front of him, he rushed to the convention hall.

After he got to his seat, Missouri changed its vote to 34 yes.

ces. He previously had been army commandant in Cairo.

No reason was announced at once for the army's occupation of key points in Alexandria, but Naguib said in a communique he had arrested the five interior ministry and police officials because they were conspiring against public security.

He said the arrests were necessary to guarantee the security of the army coup.

Farouk and his court moved to Alexandria from Cairo two months ago.

Maher, sworn in by Farouk with his all-independent cabinet in Alexandria Thursday night, announced that the government would move back to Cairo at once to maintain close contact with the army.

Of Importance To You

This is a brief statement about a very important matter—the 76th Representative District, comprising Eastland, Callahan and Shackelford Counties.

The office of State Representative, as you doubtless know, is one of the lowest paid, but one of the most important in our state. The kind of state government we will have for the next two years will be determined, in a large measure, by the kind and character of men the people of Texas elect to the Legislature in the approaching primaries.

The Legislature runs Texas. It not only makes our laws, but levies our taxes and spends the money. It is within the power of the Legislature—thru good or bad legislation—to make or break any business or industry. The Texas Legislature has grown until it is now a billion dollar institution.

We are convinced that Mr. L. R. Pearson is the best qualified man for this important office. He served us ably and efficiently in three sessions of the Legislature. He has demonstrated that he is content to do well the job at hand, without trying to build himself up to a better paying office. He is experienced, capable, sound, energetic. He knows his way around in the Legislature, and gets things done. Also, he knows the value of the tax dollar. He does not favor spending the state into hopeless debt, and is pledged against any new or additional taxes. Also, he is pledged against creating any new boards or commissions. He has sponsored some of the most beneficial legislation the state has had in the last six years.

We will need his ability and good judgment in the 53rd Legislature which convenes in January.

Bob Mathias In Try For Second Decathlon Medal

By Leo H. Petersen

HELSINKI, July 25 (UP)—The United States' towering basketball squad shared the Olympic spotlight Friday with broad-backed, sager-athlete Bob Mathias of Tulare, Calif., as competition opened in basketball and the decathlon.

The heavily-favored U. S. quintet, with scorching Clyde Lovellette of Kansas and Bob Kurland of the Phillips Oilers almost certain to command both backboards, met Hungary in its opening game. The basketball tournament will consume nine days and includes two elimination rounds, a semi-final and a final.

Russia, still leading in the unofficial point total with 327 points to the U.S.'s 221, was seeded among the first four teams in the cage competition. But the Russians are entered in a different group and will not encounter the U. S. squad in the opening round.

Coach Warren Womble said the U.S. team "was in fine shape" with only Dan Pippin of the Caterpillar Diesels possibly sidelined with a pulled leg muscle.

Mr. Fletcher of Kermit was a recent visitor in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Turman Ryan.

Women in Olden served cake and ice cream to the workers on the gym Tuesday night.

Word was received last week that three children of Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Rouch of Lincoln, Neb., have polo.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Warren and family of Midland, are spending their vacation with his mother, Mrs. Myrtle Warren.

Mrs. Essie Bishop of Eastland, visited her sister-in-law, Mrs. Nettie Fox, Wednesday.

Word was received this week that Rev. and Mrs. Clifford Nelson of Eldorado, have adopted an infant girl. She has been named Sylvia Ann.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Anderson of Kermit are visiting friends and relatives here for a few days.

Bobby Warren left this week for San Francisco, Calif., where he

Meanwhile, the brilliant Mathias—spectacular decathlon champion of the 1948 games at London—began his quest of a second decathlon gold medal—a feat previously accomplished only by the famous Jim Bausch of the U.S.

Mathias, who won his 1948 gold medal under dramatic circumstances, faced competition Friday in the 100-meter dash, broad jump, shotput, high jump and 400-meter run. In 1948, the Stanford University football star—called America's greatest all-around athlete since Jim Thorpe—compiled a total of 7,139 points in the decathlon.

Friday's competition also was to include the first and second rounds of the epee team competition, water polo, Greco-Roman style wrestling, the modern pentathlon, the final event of the cross-country run, yachting, a soccer match between Denmark and Yugoslavia and the bantamweight and featherweight competition in weight-lifting.

Farm Labor Situation Serious

The farm labor situation throughout the country is becoming more acute and serious, according to C. R. Schoby, President of the American Dairy Association. Mr. Schoby, an Iowa dairy farmer, says growing shortages of dairy farm workers and the heavy investment a dairy farm demands today leads him to wonder if the question "how much does a quart of milk cost" may turn into "where can we get a quart of milk?"

Actor Voices Opinion Demos Not For Movies

By ALINE MOSBY

HOLLYWOOD, July 25—Academy-award winner Broderick Crawford said Friday the politicians should have hired a movie director for their conventions because as TV stars they flailed. Voters got their first chance to see their representatives in action or their television sets. The result, the broad-shouldered actor shouldered, should make the politicians "wish they were digging ditches instead of being party men."

PUBLIC LAND GRANTS EASE PAYMENT STATE TAXPAYERS

AUSTIN, Texas, July—Thanks and land grants, a special tax has been levied in support of the University of Texas, a doctoral dissertation by Edith Helene Parker points out.

Further, "appropriations from the general revenue have been probably less than a fourth of what would have been necessary for a university of equal grade and standing," Dr. Parker declares.

Now historian for the U. S. Defense Department in Washington, D. C., Dr. Parker recently received a Doctor of Philosophy degree from the University. She wrote on "History of Land Grants for Education in Texas," including all types of public education.

"Nearly one-third of the public domain of Texas has been devoted to the cause of education," Dr. Parker relates. "If there were to be a catastrophe of such proportions as to destroy the funds and plants of the Texas public system of education (in 1950), the people of the state would have to raise three-quarters of a billion dollars to replace what has been in so large a measure attributable to the gift of free lands."

Land granted the University of Texas constitutes the largest land endowment for an institution of education in the U. S., and, "in all probability, in the world," Dr. Parker states.

"An evaluation of what the University has meant to the state of Texas is beyond the scope of this study," she says. "Though the teaching, research and service program of the University, the progress of the state has been closely allied to the institution of its creation. The free school system of the state, from the elementary grades through the high school and state junior colleges, is complete in the University."

"Higher education is admittedly not entirely free but the low tuition cost, arrangements for self-support of students and facilities for low-cost living have placed a university education within reach of any Texan with the ambition to have it," Dr. Parker added.

The dissertation explains the University's Permanent Fund may not be spent, and that income is shared with Texas A & M College.

Football Comes To Texas Next Month In Style

FORT WORTH, July—Wide-open football comes to Texas Aug. 8.

It's the potent Split-T formation as coached by Maryland's Jim Tatum versus the ever-threatening spread formation of TCU's Dutch Meyer.

And the masters of the two formations will be at the helm directing two all-star high school squads in the annual all-star football game of the Texas School Coaches Association Annual School, Aug. 4-8.

The game first time ever scheduled for Fort Worth—is the climax of the annual school sponsored by the coaches association. It will be played at 8 p.m. Friday Aug. 8 on the plush carpet of TCU's Amon Carter Stadium.

Careful screening by two committees have aligned all stars from Class A to Class 4-AAAA teams into two squads—the South and North All-Stars.

Looking as a new high in scoring, the annual game will see the Meyer spread used for the first time although Meyer has coached the all-stars before. The 1951 season was the first time for Meyer to use the spread through an entire game and it brought a Southwest Conference Championship.

Meyer will coach the South All-Stars with the aid of his chief assistant, Othol (Abe) Martin, the Frog backfield and offense coach.

Tatum, to be assisted in coaching the North All-Stars by Jack Hennemier, his assistant at University of Maryland, brings the intricate Split-T to the all star game for a fourth time. Although this is Tatum's first time as an instructor at the school and as coach of one of the all star teams, the Split-T in three previous attempts has not won a single time.

Tatum had an undefeated record at Maryland in 1951 and went on to upset Tennessee in the Sugar Bowl. He isn't a stranger to the Southwest. His 1946 Oklahoma eleven, winner of the Gator Bowl that year, appeared in Texas.

In the 17-year history of the all-star game the North eleven holds an 8-7 edge in victories with two games resulting in ties.

In addition to the coaching duties of the four coaches, they will hold daily clinics on their styles of play, using the all star players as demonstrators.

And in the lecture hall during the week long clinic more detailed information on blackboards with charts of plays will be explained to the more than 1,200 coaches who will register for the Fort Worth school.

Tickets for the all star game are on sale at the Central Ticket Office in Hotel Texas' lobby and through the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce at $1.80 for west side reserved seats, $1.20 for general admission in the east stands, and 60 cents for students, high school and under.

To assure easy-walking distance of the stadium, the Fort Worth Committee on arrangements has provided for close parking of automobiles with the stadium's upper parking lot on the west side at $1 a car and 50 cents for the lower parking lot.

Another feature of the annual school will be the All-Star Basketball game between the North and South All Stars scheduled for 8 p.m. Thursday night Aug. 7 at Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum.

There will be seats available for more than 8,000 for this classic with glass backboards providing a view for all spectators in every seat in the huge coliseum. Tickets for this feature are 80 cents for adults and 40 cents for high school students and under.

Vadel Paterson, head basketball coach of University of Utah will coach the North Squad and Hank Iba, Oklahoma A & M basketball coach who will be making his third appearance at the school, will tutor South Squad.

Public School Teachers Are Getting Scarce

AUSTIN, Texas, July—Industry, inflation and the Armed Forces draft really are putting the squeeze on public school administrators looking for teachers, a University of Texas professor reports.

"Last year, employers usually had a choice of candidates for English and social-studies teaching positions," Dr. Hob Gray, Teacher Placement Service director, says. "This year, teachers in those fields have their pick of four or five jobs. Science teachers are much more in demand."

Dr. Gray cited one instance where a science instructor was hired by industry at double the salaries both he and his wife were making as teachers.

Only at the college level is the supply of teachers greater than the demand, and that appears to be a temporary situation, he added.

Waves Will Be Ten Years Old On July Thirty

NEW ORLEANS, La., July 21—Ten years of service in the Navy will be marked by the Waves on July 30.

Some 900 Waves on active duty in the continental United States, Japan, Hawaii, Norway, Germany, France, Alaska and England will salute the occasion with informal observances.

Captain Joy Bright Hancock, USN Director of the Waves, will follow Navy tradition by using a sword to cut a ten-candle cake at the Navy Receiving Station, Washington, D. C.

The annual reunion to be held in Washington July 26-27 will be attended by more than 1200 women, including former Waves, and women of the Regular Navy and Naval Reserve.

Waves (Women Appointed for Voluntary Emergency Service) became a part of the Navy on July 30, 1942, when Congress authorized the commissioning and enlistment of women in the U. S. Naval Reserve.

More than 59,000 Waves were on duty in 960 continental shore activities and performed 450 different kinds of jobs during World War II. Over 4900 were assigned to duty in Hawaii.

Today 28 of the Navy's 62 enlisted ratings are open to WAVES. Their duty is limited only by restrictions on serving in aircraft on combat missions, on ships other than hospital ships and transports, and in billets classified as "heavy duty."

Timely Tips To Win At Showing Given By Tech

LUBBOCK, July—You can't expect an animal to make a good appearance in the show ring when it didn't sleep the night before.

Dean W. L. Stangel, head of the Agriculture Division at Texas Tech and livestock superintendent of the State Fair of Texas, says to keep animals on their toes in the show ring, exhibitors should be sure they make their livestock comfortable at all times prior to entering the show circle.

In a short course for beef cattle herdsmen at Tech, Dean Stangel said the basic item for each animal is a bed containing two bales of straw, without jumps. "The herdsmen should keep the straw worked up, so the animal will always lie down on a cushion," the dean suggested, and new straw should be ready to replace any scattered by the animal. Wet straw should be replaced, too, he said. And, if possible, the animal should be tied outside at night.

Dean Stangel made the suggestion that the exhibitor's best animal be placed on the aisle so the on-looker will be certain to see the exhibitor's top stock and get a good first impression. He also recommends an attractive showbox that never blocks the spectator's view of the animals.

Dean Stangel emphasizes tidiness, especially in equipment, aisles, and animals. The herdsmen should also be neat, he added.

Our children's future is uncertain. Because our country's future is uncertain. Perhaps we have let them down. Can it be that self-government interests us no more... that the priceless gift of personal freedom can find no takers? Can it be that we know not—and care not—who represents us at the meeting place? Have we traded personal opportunity and integrity for security... for a handout at the back door? And robbed our children in the process? To be strong as a nation, morally and spiritually, is a primary duty we owe our children. Before it is too late... before the chance is gone forever... America must be made strong again. With informed, skillful, courageous leadership. Next election, no matter what kind, let's get up and put on our hats and go to the polling place and vote! Know the issues and the candidates. Vote to fill every office with an able man. Let's go back to the old-fashioned habit of taking a part in our democratic government. Our youngsters need votes... to stay free!

Methodists To Sponsor Camp Movement

Youth from the Methodist Churches of the Cisco District are looking forward to a great week of camp in just ten more days, according to announcement made today by Rev. J. Morris Bailey, local Methodist pastor and associate director of the Cisco, Waxahachie, and Weatherford districts intermediate camp. "About fifteen or twenty boys and girls from Eastland will attend this camp which opens August 4," he said.

A total of two hundred youth and adult leaders will attend this camp for the three districts. The theme for the camp is "Living Together as Christians." A week at camp is built around some challenging theme and all experiences of study, fellowship, association, recreation, worship, eating, refreshments, friendships, give expression to that theme. There is an adult leader for every eight or ten youth.
