34TH YEAR

RANGER, TEXAS, THURSDAY, AUGUST 7, 1952

PRICE FIVE CENTS No. 48

SEEN OR HEARD

The Ranger Police Department has gained and lost one policeman in the past few days.

Joe Faircloth, ex-deputy to the sheriff and past candidate for commissioner, was hired and went to work for the department Saturday.

That same morning Jerry Fisher was relieved of his duties with the department. Fisher had been a member of the department only a short time when he was removed from the force.

Fisher came to Ranger from the Breckenridge fire department; where the newspaper there (the Breckenridge American) said he was among the members of the fire department who quit in disagreement over working hours.

Now we are reading about a newly produced machine that will speed up the harvesting of the peanut. The new goosher implement will lift two rows of peanuts, turn them into a single compact windrow and at the same time invert the nuts toward the sun for quick drying.

It is said that as much as two acres of peanuts per hour can be dug and windrowed with the new machine. This is certainly better than plowing, shaking, and piling them by hand, as was done in the past.

Unless it rains a lot in a hurry there will be little market for any peanut digger and windrower in this area in 1952.

Optimism is high at Ranger Junior College for the coming 1952 fall semester.

Estimates are that the day school enrollment may reach the 300 mark.

There is also a feeling that a wealth of material will be adorning the football field this year.

Both of which will be welcome.

The college and the high school teams are going to have to put their noses to the grindstone this year even more so than they have done in the past.

The college will be seeking a Pioneer Conference title, and the high school a continued clean slate of district wind.

As disappointing as it may be when it comes, Ranger fans may as well get ready for the high school top drop district one of these days.

This will probably not be the year, but no team can keep winning their district year after year and not lose one sometime.

It will not be the coaches fault or the team when it happens, as both have shown they will do their darnest all the time.

It will sure be a sad day in Ranger when that happens.

The college is a sophomore. The chips will be down, the new worn off, and fans looking for results when game time comes.

Any teams first year in a conference is tough. And we feel sure that the college is going to do better this year than last in football.

Still no word from any of the readers knowing the date of the Comanche County REA annual meeting. If you knew the date call 224 and inform us.

Looks as if the ballot in the August primary will be a short one. For Ranger you will have three offices to be voted on, that of county clerk, county treasurer, and local constable.

That probably accounts for the absence of heated campaigning.

We are always being hopped out about having something wrong or in contradiction to someone else's opinion. In case of being wrong and it is brought to our attention we admit the same.

In the case of differences of opinion we still differ.

Although we may not tell you anything you don't already know, we give some of the people something to talk about.

GREEKS SHELL ISLAND SEIZED BY BULGARIAN REDS JULY 23

*ATHENS, Greece, Aug. 7 (UP)—The Greek army shelled disputed Gamma Island in the Evros river Thursday in an attempt to drive off Bulgarian Reds who seized it July 23.

Press reports said Greek mortars started fires which shrouded the island in smoke.

A Greek general staff communique issued at 11 a.m., 3 a.m. est said the bombardment began an hour and a half earlier after a radio warning and in the presence of United Nations observers.

"So far, there has been no reaction," the communique said.

In Naples, Italy, an official spokesman said the southern European Atlantic pact headquarters of U.S. Adm. Robert B. Carney was "closely following" developments in the dispute over Gamma. Greece is a member of the Atlantic Pact and comes within Carney's command.

Saw One Bulgarian

Athenian newspapers said Greek observers saw one Bulgarian on the eight-acre island at 4:30 a.m., but waited until dawn to be sure. The presence of Bulgarians on the island was established after daybreak and reported to the general staff.

Athens itself was calm, but authorities issued a precautionary alert to gendarmery and army units.

Gamma Island lies in the Evros river, which for 10 miles forms the frontier between Bulgaria and Greece. The island always has been considered Greek, but Bulgarian troops landed there July 23 and seized control after killing two Greek gendarmes and wounding three.

Had Complained to UN
The Greek government complained to the UN against the incident and the organization's Balkan commission went to the scene.

Greek Foreign Minister Sophocles Venizelos two days ago demanded the Bulgarians evacuate the island. As of Wednesday, Greek and Bulgarian troops were reported lined up on opposite sides of the river.

The Greek bombardment of the island came as a surprise. Only Tuesday night, the Greek general staff issued a communique saying "No Bulgarian troops have appeared on the island of Gamma." It also denied reports Bulgarian troops had occupied other islands in the Evros.

Carrier Based Jet Explosion Kills 8 Men

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (UP)—The Navy announced Thursday that a jet fighter exploded aboard the aircraft carrier Boxer off the Korean coast Wednesday, killing eight men.

The plane exploded in the carrier's hangar deck, setting off a fire in the below-deck space used for storing planes. Twelve planes were destroyed before the fire was extinguished.

A Navy spokesman said eight men were burned to death in the flames and that other seamen, trapped by the fire, had to jump overboard. All the men were recovered from the water by small boats and helicopters, the spokesman said.

The accident occurred 60 miles off Wonsan, in North Korea, where the Boxer is staging carrier strikes at Communist positions. The spokesman said the Boxer continued on its mission after the accident.

The Navy said the names of the casualties would not be released until next of kin have been notified.

Texas Tabbed "Doubtful" Politically

AUSTIN, Aug. 7 (UP)—Texas has been tabbed a doubtful state in the November elections by Gov. Allan Shivers who said Democratic presidential candidate Adlai Stevenson's tideland stand would have "wide influence" on Texas voters.

Shivers, speaking at a news conference Tuesday, said appearances in Texas by Stevenson and Republican candidate Dwight D. Eisenhower might also affect Texas voting.

"Certainly Texas can't be written off for either party," said Shivers.

The Texas governor said he hoped to go to Springfield, Ill., for a meeting with Stevenson next week. He said he would let Stevenson decide the exact date.

Shivers had said earlier, if Stevenson's views were not satisfactory he might "go fishing" at his general election.

Eisenhower has scheduled a personal tour of the state, Stevenson has not indicated whether he will campaign in Texas. When Shivers was asked if he was going to ask Stevenson to come to Texas, he said, "I'm not handling it myself."

Shivers said he believed Stevenson was sincerely interested in the tideland problem. He said the Illinois governor's invitation for a conference pointed out that he would like to have more information and be happy to discuss it.

ANADARKO, Okla., Aug. 7 (UP)—Wrinkled Indian chieftains in horseshoe wagons and modern warriors driving 1952 automobiles are streaming into Anadarko southwest Oklahoma city this week as the American Indian Exposition prepares for its 26th annual performance.

More than 2,000 redmen have gathered at the "Indian village" east of here where they will live during most of August as their forefathers did.

Chicago Hammer Slayer Warns Cops And Asked To Be Caught

CHICAGO, Aug. 7 (UP)—Police patrol cars cruised through the narrow streets of Chicago's north side Thursday searching for a hammer killer who threatened to kill again and begged, "stop me, for God's sake, before it's too late."

The dragnet was thrown out after a man wearing a "light" suit confronted two women at a streetcar stop and told them, "I have killed a man with a hammer and I know how to take care of myself."

The killer had police scurrying all over the city Wednesday night and early Thursday when he made five phantom telephone calls to headquarters and threatened to invade two swank hotels in his quest for blood.

Relief Expected For Drouth Hit Southern Farms

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (UP)—Administration officials expected President Truman to release federal emergency funds Thursday to speed shipments of livestock feed to drouth-stricken southern farms.

Tennessee Gov. Gordon Browning and Kentucky Gov. Lawrence W. Wetherby have requested the aid for their states—two of the hardest hit by the drouth.

Burned up pastures and scorched hay crops have put a premium in feed and threaten ruinous livestock losses.

The plan is for the federal government to underwrite part of the cost of shipping feed from the wellstocked midwest to the drouth areas. The railroads Wednesday turned down requests for reduced freight rates on hay moving south.

Agriculture Department spokesman said the program probably would not be on an "outright giveaway" basis as was the case with the "Operation Haylift" which the government undertook to feed cattle stranded by Kansas and Missouri floods last year.

Agriculture Secretary Charles F. Brannan indicated the President would act on the emergency Thursday.

Brannan said he expected some announcement would come before he went to the White House for an afternoon appointment with Mr. Truman.

Brannan said that while the dry spell has been disastrous to southern farmers, he does not think it will have any "real impact" on food prices or the nation's food supply.

He said that the chief crops damaged have been tobacco and cotton.

Damage to southern corn crops, he said, is negligible in the national picture when viewed alongside the "excellent condition" of the corn belt crop. The South produces only about 12 per cent of the country's corn.

Mexican Cattle Due To Begin Arriving Soon

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (UP)—Mexico is expected to ship about 500,000 head of cattle into this country during the first 12 months after the opening of the border on Sept. 1, Agriculture Department experts said Thursday.

But they said a shift in Mexican cattle operations and restrictions imposed by the Mexican government will cause a change in the type of cattle coming in, and will reduce the volume after the first year.

The lifting of the embargo in effect since a 1946 epidemic of foot-and-mouth disease in Mexico is contingent on no further outbreaks south of the border.

Agriculture officials just returned from Mexico report that about 350,000 head of yearling steers; about 200,000 head of three and four-year old steers are available for export when the border opens.

Previously the bulk of the 400,000 to 500,000 cattle imported annually were calves from 10 to 12 months old. They went as stocker and feeder cattle into Texas and other southern pastures.

The backlog of steers available will cause heaviest movement in the fall months this year, the report said. But it said the number of cattle and calves available during the second and third years after the border opening "will be less than normal."

Officials said the 19 packing plants that have sprung up in northern Mexico during the past six years have become "an integral part" of the Mexican livestock industry and will probably continue to take "an appreciable number" of Mexican cattle. This would boost meat imports to this country.

Recent Showers Leave Little Moisture Here

The recent rains has been scattered, heavier in some places than in others. And had done very little good other than dropping temperatures slightly.

Experts Working To Identify The Remaining Dead

WACO, Tex., Aug. 7 (UP)—A suit for $400,000 was on file against Southwestern Greyhound Lines Thursday as identification of victims burned in a flaming two-bus crash Monday stalled.

The crash, south of Waco, claimed at least 25 lives, and investigators said Thursday, the toll may climb before identification of the remaining bodies is completed. Experts have identified 18 of the victims.

The suit filed in 74th district court at Waco, was brought by the four children of Hailia Zamoudia and his wife, Lenor. Both were killed in the accident.

Each of the four children sought $50,000 actual and $50,000 exemplary damages. The suit alleged the bus carrying the Zamoudias was traveling at a high and dangerous rate of speed.

Mrs. Zamoudia's body has been identified. That of her husband was among ten charred and dismembered corpses still not identified by fingerprints, dental work and other clues.

Zamoudia and six other persons are also known to have been definitely placed aboard the ill-fated buses by testimony of relatives and friends. However, the remaining corpses are so badly mutilated, their bodies are unrecognizable and unidentifiable among the ten.

Three other bodies are completely unidentified. Authorities said there is no way of learning who they are. Buses do not carry passenger lists and no relatives or friends have offered clues to the identity of the remains.

The two latest victims identified were M. Sgt. John Papke, of Fort Hood, Tex., reported as being the son of a Chicago Sun-Times employe, and M. B. Herrington, 24, of Waco, driver of the north-bound bus. B. C. Malone, driver of the south-bound bus has not been identified.

Two others identified Thursday were Mrs. Estelle Whitebeck, 55, of San Antonio and Oscar G. Peterson, 63, of San Antonio.

UN Sabrejets Down Four MIGs

By Robert UDICK
SEOUL, Korea, Aug. 7—Swift American Sabrejets knocked four Communist MIG-15 jet planes out of the skies and damaged five others Thursday in high altitude air duels over North Korea.

On the ground, hard-fighting South Korean infantrymen pushed Chinese troops off vital "Capitol Hill" on the central front. It was the sixth time the height has changed hands since Tuesday.

Seventy-six Sabres clashed with 120 MIGs in seven air battles, several of them taking place near Sinaju, only a few miles south of the Yalu river boundary between North Korea and Manchuria.

Thirteen MIGs shot down or damaged Thursday brought the toll of enemy jets for August to 41. During the day, allied fighter-bombers and artillery kept up a nerve-shattering series of attacks on the Chinese to keep them from counter-attacking the UN defenders on Capitol Hill.

Allied planes made 10 separate air attacks against the beleaguered Red defenders.

Earlier Thursday, the Communists had won control and had driven on to the UN's main line. However, they were driven back.

The attack that brought the Reds temporary possession of the hill was preceded by a 24-hour mortar and artillery barrage, during which the Reds fired 9,000 shells. It was one of the heaviest barrages of the Korean war.

The attack cost the Reds 192 casualties.

More Jet Fuel Needed

MAN'S ABILITY TO MAKE RAIN MAY SOLVE DROUTH THREAT

By DELÓS SMITH
NEW YORK.—The good news for drouth stricken areas of the East and South is that many prominent authorities say man definitely can produce rain from the sky provided he has a cloud of the right kind to work with.

The bad news is that any man messing around with the weather in areas criss-crossed with city and farm interests, had better watch his step or he will find himself under a steady rain of law suits. Present drouth areas of the East and South are urban and rural, freely intermixed. As the result, only one rain-making project has been publicized and that one has 500,000 insurance against suits.

But in the mountain and desert states of the west, where towns are far apart and anyway rain help everyone, professional rain-makers are numerous. The best available statistics how they have contracted to produce rain if and when they can cover more than one third of the area west of the Mississippi.

Few Rainmaker in East
East of the Mississippi, the professional rain-makers are very few in numbers and are disinclined to advertise their prowess, in contrast to their western brethren. One, the Wallace E. Howell Associates, now is preparing to produce rain in the parched Connecticut river valley. Tobacco farmers are paying the fee and also the premium on the insurance.

Dr. Howell was employed by New York City in 1950 when its reservoirs were threatening to run dry. It rained more than the normal amount that summer and he is named along with the city in 114 pending suits asking $1,250,000 in damages. The plaintiffs are farmers who didn't need so much rain and resort keepers whose business always is hurt by rain.

What is needed before professional rain-makers can progress are court precedents establishing degrees of responsibility and a national law or uniform state laws that will permit drouth areas to save themselves by rain-making if they can, even if adjacent areas get so much rain it hurts certain kinds of business.

The freshest objective ward on rainmaking comes from Dr. Bernard Vonnegut who—with two other scientists of General Electric Co., Dr. Irving Langmuir, a Noble Prize winner, and Dr. Vincent J. Schaffer—conducted pioneer experiments beginning in 1945 although the first experiments of the kind were conducted in Holland in 1930.

Accomplishments Are Recorded
Writing in the year book of the American Technion Society, he described the series of experiments, both in the laboratory and in the field, which demonstrated conclusively that men can make it rain provided he has a super-cooled cloud, and not necessarily a large one.

Such a cloud produces rain naturally when its conditions are right. It is made up of many tiny droplets of water. These condense into larger drops which break up an unstable situation.

But many super-cooled clouds contain no particles and the scientific problem of rain-making was to provide them by "seeding" the cloud.

First, it was with solid carbon dioxide, or dry ice. Later silver iodide was proven even more practical because it could be sent into the atmosphere from the ground in clouds of its own to deal with whatever super-cooled clouds it encountered.

But much scientific work remains to be done before man thoroughly understands nature's processes. Still, progress has been made. Vonnegut remarked: "In spite of the apparent hopelessness of man's 'doing anything about the weather,' it is beginning to appear that by more subtle methods he may some day exercise a considerable measure of control over its course."

More Heat In Southwest Is Due Thursday

By United Press
The Southwest, staggered by successive days of boilerroom heat, was due for another baking treatment Thursday.

Texas ran off with hot-spot honors Wednesday. There were nine stations in the state reporting 105-degree heat. The maximum recorded in the state was a sapping 108-degrees at red hot Fort Worth in North Central Texas. Dallas has 106.

While heat was giving Texas another sock on the chin, heavy rains in Missouri were credited with throwing a temporary block on the drouth. Joplin reported 1.48 inches of rainfall.

In New Mexico, thermometers registered 102 at Colon and Carlsbad. It was 99 at La Junta, Colo., and 99 at Douglas and Casper, Wyo. Some 100-degree marks were recorded in Oklahoma, and Kansas had a high of 96 at Hutchinson.

A freak wind and rain storm slammed into a fishing camp at Eagle Lake, near Fort Worth, destroying a boat house and ripping away the roof of a home. Several boat docks were wrecked by wind at Lake Worth.

Weather bureau forecasters in Kansas reported that July was the warmest in six years. A drouth continues there, with no relieving rain in sight.

Rain in the mountains of the Southwest was light. Only 22 inches were registered at Clayton, N.M., and 10 inches at Pueblo, Colo.

Scattered showers and thunderstorms are in store for some of the Southwest Thursday according to weather bureau meteorologists, but any relief from the local disturbances will be slight.

Hot Texas temperatures were 107 at Mineral Wells and Wichita Falls, Junction City and Waco, Laredo, Childress and Custer 105.

Meteorologists said the heat wave was caused by a weak pressure distribution over the nation and lack of movement of air.

"Down here in the Southwest," said the weather bureau forecaster, "that means we're going to have the same circulation, the same hot air hanging on."

But Judge, I

OAKLAND, Calif., Aug. 7 (UP)—Harry Short, charged with burglarizing a tavern, told the judge he saw nothing unusual in his carrying a wrecking bar, a screwdriver, a hacksaw and three blades, and a three-cornered file.

"I have a wooden leg and I need those things to keep it in good walking order," he said. The judge sentenced him to nine months in jail.

Youngster Survives 7200 Volt Jar From Power Line
DAYTON, Ohio, Aug. 7 (UP)—Hospital officials said Thursday they expect Ronnie Hansell, 7 to survive a jolt of electricity that was four times as strong as the current used in electrocuting murderers.

The boy touched a power line to weather bureau meteorologists, but any relief from the local disturbances will be slight.

During the week-long school, selected firemen from Texas and out-of-state cities are given intensive practice and instruction in fighting almost every known type of fire.

Special equipment available to every city and town is used in fighting fires of the type for which it was designed and every fireman learns about that equipment by using it.

This year about $30,000 worth of combustible materials will be used so that techniques for fighting such fires may be shown. Several commercial fuel and equipment companies will furnish the bulk of such materials along with specialized equipment for different types of fire-fighting.

Co-sponsored by the Texas Engineering Extension Service and the State Firemen's Fire Marshals Association of Texas, the annual school is highly regarded by professional fire-fighters.

Cooperation in holding the school is given by the Trade and Industrial Education divisions of the Texas Education Agency, the State Fire Insurance Department at Austin and the Fire Prevention and Engineering Bureau at Dallas.

No estimate of the property and lives saved by firemen who were taught the best fire-fighting methods by the school is available. However, money savings along through reduced fire premiums to participating cities has already amounted to more than $1,800,000 according to H. R. Bryton, director of the school.

A three per cent credit on the key rate for fire insurance to cities which participate in the school is allowed by the State Fire Insurance Department at Austin.

Instructors for the courses in the school are hand-picked men with extensive experience in fighting special types of fires, but they spend very little time lecturing.

Most of the teaching is done right in the field while the firemen students handle the equip-

Judge Decides Fate Of 14 Reds Sometime Today

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 7 (UP)—Federal Judge William C. Mathes said he will rule Thursday on a motion for a directed verdict of acquittal of 14 California Communists convicted of conspiring to teach and advocate the violent overthrow of the government.

If he should refuse to reverse the jury's verdict, Mathes indicated he will pronounce sentence Thursday. Defense attorneys at the same time plan to move for a new trial if their plea for a directed acquittal is denied.

Attorneys representing the 14 "second string" Reds asked for the acquittal Wednesday. A ruling by Mathes during the lengthy trial said that he would hear the arguments on the motion after the jury returned its decision.

The jury announced its decision Tuesday after five days of deliberation. Under federal law the judge has power to vacate a jury's verdict and declare the defendants innocent.

In asking for the acquittal, American Civil Liberties Union Attorney A. L. Wirin contended that "no evidence whatever was offered by the government against any of the defendants showing either conspiracy or advocacy of forcible overthrow of the government."

Mathes then took the motion under submission.

The 14 Communists were convicted and fined the first time in 1949. This year most of the bigger blazes to be staged will be held in a 26-acre plot just north of the main campus at Texas A & M. Brayton said that a new water line, complete with seven fire plugs, has been laid to the area, in preparation.

Registration for the school will be held Sunday, August 24, with firemen selecting one of four major courses of training. Registrants will be quartered in dormitories on the campus and fed in the college mess-halls.

victed after a trial which lasted six months. It was the longest trial in the history of the local federal court.

The maximum penalty for violation of the Smith Act, of which the Reds were found guilty, is five years imprisonment or $10,000 fines or both.

Chief defendant in the group was William Schneiderman, acting head of the American Communist party since conviction of 11 top Communist leaders in New York in 1949. The other 13 "second string" Reds have been called the "cream" of the California party.

Farm Leases Need Revision In Many Cases

COLLEGE STATION, August —Tenant operations are still an important part of Texas agriculture. Some 30 per cent for all Texas farms are operated by tenants. Like most other farming practices, says C. H. Bates, farm management specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, many leasing arrangements are out-of-date.

He points out that lease arrangements set up for cash-crop systems of farming do not fit the situations brought about by the shifts to livestock production. Therefore, new rental agreements are needed between the tenants and landlords that clearly define the part each is to play in this livestock-crop system of farming.

During the past several years farm management specialists from the southern states, cooperating with those from the U. S. Department of Agriculture, have been studying the existing rental arrangements and seeking possible solutions to tenure problems. The economists have found that both tenants and landlords improve their lot when leases are used that really cover present day farming and livestock production. The use of up-to-date leasing arrangements meant more income to both tenants and landowners as well as better soil maintenance and improvement programs.

The latest findings of the cooperating economists are reported in the publication "Rental Arrangements for Progressive Farming" which is available at your local county agent's office. Other material on the subject of rental agreements, prepared by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and Extension Service, are also available.

Bates says the specialists, through studies and actual experience, have come to the conclusion that a good rental agreement should always be written. It should cover more than a single year or contain an automatic renewal clause. It should specify how the expenses, upkeep and labor as well

Thanks Folks, We Got Elected—

... and it is a nice tribute to be favored with the confidence and good-will of one's neighbors and friends. Getting elected, you well know, may apply to business as well as politics. I doubt if we could get very far in a political race, but when it comes to making quality abstracts a host of customers far and near have for more than a quarter century favored us with a vote of confidence, and still do. And for that we are deeply appreciative!

BBC Warns Listeners To Not Use Medicine

LONDON, Aug. 7 (UP)—The BBC broadcast a series of urgent bulletins Thursday.

The announcer warned that listeners should not—absolutely not—use the recipe for gnat-bite medicine which was broadcast Wednesday on a "hints for housewives" program.

Mrs. Pat Washington, conductor of the program, had given the formula as one part carbonic acid to three parts vinegar. Doctors immediately called the broadcasting station to advise that such a potion would be "highly dangerous" to skin.

Mrs. Washington had neglected to say that six parts water should be added to the mixture.

Stevenson's Dog Makes Non-Political Move

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 7 (UP)—A three-year-old boy had some new toys Thursday, gift of Democratic presidential candidate Adlai Stevenson.

John Bierman got in an argument with the Illinois governor's dog, "King Arthur." The dog's teeth connected with John's face, and the wound required seven stitches.

Stevenson's sister visited the boy Wednesday and presented him with an aluminum chair, a toy tractor and a "puzzling duck" which the governor hopes will make amends for the unpolitical conduct of his dog.
