SEEN OR HEARD

don norris

We didn't make it to either RJC or the Bulldogs initial day of fall training but, we are sure that everything went alright without our presence. We know this to be true because Monroe Myers said he'd be there to see that everything went according to our thinking.

We'll be there for sure this afternoon to see these outfits battling each other brains out for another season. Old man weather gave them a break with the "norther" that blew in here and nearly blew Fort Worth out here.

Other than Myers, we imagine that "Dago" Varner, Raymond Lingie, J. O. Syle, and the other members of the Monday morning coaches association were there handling the finer details of the practice with the coaches.

Ain't this cold weather wunnerful! Air conditioners were shut down for the first time in many moons as the temperature dropped from the hundred mark down to that fit for human living.

All that was lacking was rain, and that stopped at Ft. Worth and then went on down to Brownwood, missing Ranger by a big margin.

Someone here isn't holding their mouth right, or isn't paying the preacher to make us miss all these chances of getting moisture.

We're heard a "humor" (not quite a rumor) that the soft drink bottling plant in Eastland may be caused to shut down due to the shortage of water.

Should that happen it could be a blow to their economy. The plant might just up and move to a town with more adequate water, rather than wait on a rain and the new water supply that is being built.

Should there have been any doubt in the minds of the people of this area as to the need of additional water this dry spell and the situation in Eastland would have done all that was necessary to change their minds.

Eastlanders have been ultra-conservative all summer, but still could not make their water supply carry them through the drought.

Should it not rain within a reasonable time, Ranger may find itself in the same position.

The local Quarterback club will hold its first recent meeting at the Chamber of Commerce office Wednesday night to get the ball rolling for the coming football season.

All good exponents of local sports are urged to attend and help plan the future of Ranger's two football teams and how they might be supported.

Meeting time for the quarterbacks is 7:00 p.m. at the Chamber of Commerce, the president, Price Crawley has announced.

The Bulldogs being the underdog this year and RJC being in the always tough Pioneer Conference need all the support they can get to get through the season on the top of the heap in '52.

Crawley said he expected ALL football backers to be at the meeting Wednesday to get things rolling.

We were among the three from Ranger at the battle of the cow pasture in Eastland over the Lab or Day tournament at the Lake side Country Club.

Jimmy Phillips, my father, E. L. Norris, and myself were the only three entered from Ranger. Phillips and I fell by the wayside, but the elder Mr. Norris upheld Ranger glory by winning the second flight.

Phillips lost to Chuck Van Geem who went on to win the tournament. Glenn Miller of Eastland taught us the art of hitting the little white pill at the Eastland dust bowl.

The parent was in the same flight as we, therefore things are going to be pretty rough for us when the subject of golf comes up for awhile.

The greens at Eastland were in pretty good shape, but there is absolutely no turf on the fairways. West Texas was not in the running with the continual dust storm that blows across the Eastland course.

At time the greens were no visible from fifty yards out. If it doesn't rain pretty soon they won't have any fairway left to grow grass on at Eastland.

In respect to our own tournament this year, Ranger should have been better represented at Eastland in the number of contestants. Eastland sent thirty-five golfers to Ranger's own tourney.

HOLIDAY TRAGEDY—As the long Labor Day holiday began, this Greyhound bus, bound for Philadelphia to Pittsburgh, was sideswiped by a steel-laden tractor-trailer, near Bedford, Pa. At least ten passengers were injured, four of them seriously, in this, one of the first major highway accidents of the long week-end.

Cold Front Leaves Sub-Freezing Temperatures In Colorado-Wyo.

By United Press

A cold front which barged across the Southwest into heat-sickened Texas erupted Monday night into a 100-mile-per-hour windstorm at Fort Worth.

But the cool air mass from the northwest may have broken the area's weeks-long heat wave and drought. And it gave a hint of autumn.

Behind the front was the first general snow of the season in the high Colorado-Wyoming mountains and Big Piney, Wyo., recorded freezing temperatures Monday—26 degrees. Denver had a high of 59 and the hottest temperature in

Cordell Hull Is Improved, Still On Critical List

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2 (UP)—Former Secretary of State Cordell Hull, gravely ill in the Bethesda, Md., naval hospital, was reported "slightly improved" Monday.

A hospital spokesman said, however, that the 80-year-old Hull remained on the critical list despite the slight improvement. Hull is suffering from cerebral thrombosis.

Hull was admitted to the hospital Friday night after suffering a stroke. He suffered another more severe attack after his admittance and was placed on the critical list at noon Sunday.

Hull was secretary of state under President Franklin D. Roosevelt from March, 1933 until his resignation in November, 1944. Since his resignation, he had been living quietly in retirement at the Wardman Park hotel here.

Army Kills Photo Marilyn Monroe As Being Too "Sexy"

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 2 (UP)—Sexy screen star Marilyn Monroe said Tuesday she was "really very hurt" because the U. S. Army rejected a picture of her posing in a low cut dress with her service-women.

The Army had asked the shapeless actress to pose Monday with a WAC, a WAVE, and a WAF and a WAF as part of its "glamor" drive to recruit more women into the armed service.

Miss Moore, in Atlantic City as grand marshal of the 1952 Miss America beauty pageant, consented. She was wearing a white summer dress with red polka dots. It was cut square in front and exposed about half of her bosom.

The 22-year-old blonde actress, who once posed nude for a calendar portrait because she needed rent money, stood in the middle of the group as the picture was snapped from a balcony above her.

About three hours after the United Press had transmitted the photo to newspapers on the "UP" telephone network, an embarrassed Army official requested the picture "killed."

A spokesman here who saw a print of the picture said it might have any fairway left to grow grass on at Eastland.

"I am very surprised and very hurt," Miss Monroe said. "People were looking at me all day long, and I thought they were admiring my grand marshal's badge."

Spotter Plane Led Fighter-Bombers Blast Red Lines

SEOUL, Korea, Sept. 2 (UP)

Unarmed Mosquito light planes flew through low clouds and Communist machinegun fire Tuesday to lead swift United Nations fighter-bombers in bullet and bomb attacks on Red front line positions.

The slow-moving spotter planes zoomed low over Communist trenches and gun positions in defiance of Red small arms and automatic weapons fire. They showed Thunderjets, Shooting Stars and Mustangs where to drop their bombs bullets and napalm jellied gasoline.

Thanks to the spotters, UN fighter-bombers destroyed two artillery pieces on the west front; seven gun positions, two big guns and 11 front line bunkers on the eastern front; and harassed the enemy in the center.

Get Red Tank

Northwest of Chorwon, fighter-bombers destroyed one Communist tank, the first Red armor-clad to be knocked out since July 12.

American F-86 Sabrejets sighted four Communist MIG-15 jets over northwest Korea, but the Russian-built planes scurried across the Yalu river without offering to fight.

South Korean pilots in F-51 Mustangs attacked an advance supply dump north of Kumson, destroying eight buildings.

On the ground, a Communist platoon probed Old Baldy hill west of Chorwon under cover of a heavy mortar barrage. Unidentified fighters knocked the Reds back after a brief fight.

Navy Plastered Refinery

Small Communist refineries attacked Allied advance positions east of Bunker hill on the eastern front, but the Allied troops repulsed the enemy.

Tuesday's air attacks came a few hours after a night attack on Sinchang on the east coast of Korea that touched off a series of fires and explosions.

Earlier it was announced that U. S. carrier planes destroyed 20 large processing buildings in their bid to shut Monday on a Communist oil refinery at Aoji, only eight miles from the Soviet Siberian frontier.

Rising Star Lad To Leave Korea

Sgt. J. W. Starkey Jr., Rising Star, has received orders to return to the United States from Korea, where he has been serving with a unit of the X Corps.

The X Corps, fighting in mountainous terrain, controls in combat a number of units of division strength or less which are assigned to it. It has its own command post troops, who augment the fighting forces.

A labor non-commissioned officer with Headquarters and Service Company of the 116th Engineer Combat Battalion, Starkey entered the Army in September 1950. He has been awarded the Korean Service Ribbon and the United Nations Service Ribbon.

He attended John Tarleton College, Stephenville.

Private First Class Offield entered the Army in April 1951. He formerly attended Arlington State College at Arlington, Texas. His parents reside at Ranger.

Van Geem Wins Golf Tourney Championship

The Eastland County Golf Tournament has come and gone, and new winners are still busy telling "how they did it."

Attendance was as good or better than last year, and enthusiasm continues to grow. While a few out-of-county players were entered most of the players were from Ranger and Eastland.

J. R. Jordan, 79, Called By Death

Judge John Britton Jordan, 79, long time resident of Monahans, and veteran school man, died at his home at 12:30 noon, Thursday. He was sick only a few hours.

Funeral services were held at the Church of Christ at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon, and interment was in Memorial Cemetery at Lubbock.

J. H. Jeebles, Minister of the Church of Christ, officiated, and Furr Funeral home was in charge of arrangements.

He was born Dec. 1, 1872, near Quitman, Texas. He was a member of the Church of Christ since boyhood. He received his education in Texas, and attended State Teachers College at Canyon and the Texas University, coming to Monahans on August 27, 1927. Judge Jordan would have lived here for a quarter of a century had he lived six days longer. He came to Monahans as Superintendent of Schools and served in that capacity from 1927 to 1929. From 1929 to 1931 he served as superintendent of Schools in Wickliffe. He retired from the teaching profession in 1938 after spending 44 years in the classroom in schools of Texas.

After leaving the field of education, Judge Jordan engaged in the real estate and insurance business, and in 1938 was elected to the office of Justice of the Peace for Ward County, Justice Precinct No. 2. He has held that office ever since and was unopposed for reelection for another term.

He is survived by his wife, a son, Bruce; a daughter, Mrs. Geo. Paylor, both of Monahans; two sisters, Mrs. Ruth Weaver and Mrs. Amanda Rogers, and a brother, J. N. Jordan, all of Eastland. Three grandchildren, Jo Anna and Johnny Jordan and Patricia Ann Paylor, all of Monahans.

Underworld Waits Chance To Reopen Organized Crime

NEW YORK, Sept. 2 (UP)—Professional gamblers and racketeers who ducked for cover a year ago in the wake of the Senate Crime investigation are ready and anxious to get back into business, the American Bar Association warned Tuesday.

The association's crime commission issued a report indicating most gamblers have decided to stay in business, with or without the blessings of a Federal tax stamp which tips off local authorities about their activities.

A study of the crime situation throughout the country was made by the commission for presentation to the bar association's annual convention in San Francisco Sept. 15-19. Questionnaires were filled out by U. S. attorneys, state attorneys general, police chiefs, mayors, newspaper editors and bar association presidents.

The commission found that despite the crime investigation by the Kefauver committee, which prompted many clean-up campaigns at a local level, organized crime is still a serious national problem.

Major findings in the survey were:

1. Organized crime has been in a lull, but it is only temporary.

2. Narcotics present an "extremely serious" crime problem.

3. Professional gamblers have become active again despite the federal tax stamp law.

4. Leaders of organized crime are keeping their power by investing in legitimate businesses.

5. Public indignation after the Senate hearings reduced crime in some areas, but the public has not remained interested enough to bring about a permanent reduction in organized crime.

6. Underworld leaders are moving more carefully because of a set-up in investigations and prosecutions on federal, state and local levels.

At Carswell By Base Officials $10 Million Damage Estimated

New Highway Is Causing Worry

Contract for the new highway between Eastland and Ranger should be let during this month. Most all problems have been ironed out, so far as the new highway is concerned, though the closing of the old road, after completion of the new one is bringing on considerable discussion.

The drive-in theatre between Olden and Ranger will receive attention of the Commissioners, and in all probability a spur driveway between the main highway and the theatre will be constructed.

Some changes may be made at Olden as the new highway causes several blocks to the south. Just how this problem will be handled is not known, though Commissioners are trying to work out plans that will make for the least inconvenience possible.

One Person Killed

At least nine others injured when the storm hit several communities surrounding Fort Worth.

It swirled down on the Casno Park Amusement Center at suburban Indian Oaks, toppling a ferris wheel and demolishing a skating rink. The ferris wheel operator had ordered all customers off just before the storm broke and the skating rink was closed for the day.

Constable Paul Maddar, who surveyed most of the storm-hit area outside Carswell AFB, estimated damage at more than $250,000. At least 10 business houses were demolished along the Jacksboro highway, he said, and two houses were blown over.

A Carswell weather technician described the storm as a "thunderstorm wind."

Wind Not Officially Gauged

Base weather instruments, were out of operation, either from wind damage or power failure, and the wind was not officially gauged. But gusts were unofficially estimated at 100 miles per hour.

It struck hardest along the Carswell flight line and ramp, where the B-56 Superbombers were parked. The sky giants are too big to be housed in the hangars and are stacked on the flight line when not in the air.

The office of Maj. Gen. Saul E. Anderson, commander of the Eighth Air Force who surveyed the field after the storm, said one B-56 was demolished, six received major damage and "a number" were damaged to an extent yet undetermined. Anderson estimated that 25 per cent of the B-56s were damaged.

The person killed was Mrs. W. C. Conner, wife of Fort Worth's Tarrant county Republican chairman. The high wind blew the roof of a construction company off and smashed it against her automobile.

Next Move In Oil Crisis Up To Iranians

LONDON, Sept. 2 (UP)—A British government spokesman said Tuesday that the next move in the Anglo-Iranian oil dispute is up to Iran.

He said the U. S. and Britain were in consultation on the situation, but would take no further action until they receive a written reply from Iranian Premier Mohammed Mossadegh to their joint proposals of last Saturday.

Mossadegh verbally rejected the settlement offer made jointly by British Prime Minister Winston Churchill and President Truman, but delayed a formal reply until the Iranian parliament has voted upon it. The Iranian parliament will meet next week.

"It is now entirely up to Mossadegh to modify his original hasty rejection of the western proposals," the British spokesman said. "He could save the situation by leaving some loopholes in his forthcoming reply."

President Truman and Churchill had offered to give Iran $10 million in immediate American aid, and the British boycott on exports to Iran and arrange for disposition of oil already stored in Iran if Iran would agree to let the World Court rule on compensation for seized properties in Britain's Anglo-Iranian Oil Co.

Weekly Meetings Announced For First Baptists

The Monthly Planning Meeting for the Sunday School of the First Baptist Church will be held Wednesday evening at 6:30 p.m. A covered dish supper and fellowship period will precede the business meeting. The Intermediate Department will be the host department for the evening and will serve the meal that is brought by the workers.

Mr. Wilson Guest, Sunday School superintendent, urges all the departmental superintendents that have been elected for the new year to be present for a conference with the nominating committee during the departmental meetings. He further urges that all officers and teachers of the various classes be present for the planning that needs to be done in preparation for promotion Sunday, Sept. 28th. The theme for September is "Prepare" and carries with it the thought "Planning precedes Progress."

Bill Pullock, educational director, explained the value of the Wednesday evening meeting of the officers and teachers in a threefold manner; one, it helps the churches have a maximum number of people in Sunday school for Bible study, because they have been prepared for it; two, it prepares the Sunday school worker for the highest type service; three, it helps the teachers to find avenues for putting into practice the truths discovered in the lessons. It helps them to discover ways and activities in which their classes may put the lessons to practice.

The Training Union departments of the First Baptist Church held their regular monthly planning meetings last night at the church. All departments were represented. Before the departments went to separate meeting places for plan making and business meetings they met in one group for announcements and emphasis on special projects and objectives for the month of Sept. Mrs. Corvis Beck brought a devotional to the group on the theme "Be Thou Faithful Unto Death", taking her text from Revelations 2:10.

After the departments met they returned for reports. One of the highlights of the evening was the report from the workers of the Elementary department that all three of the departments could make application for Standard Training Union departments: The Nursery, Beginner, and Primary departments will apply to the State Training Union Department for Standard Recognition. This is one of the very few standard Elementary departments in the state.

Walter Arterburn, Training Union director, brought the closing thoughts of the theme "Anchored in Christ." After the benediction the group enjoyed watermelon furnished by two of the Adult Training Unions.

The Men's Brotherhood of the First Baptist Church will meet tonight for regular meeting and planning in addition to the election of officers for the coming year which begins Oct. 1. Lem Rushing, president, urges all men to be present for the meeting and reminds them that a good program has been arranged.

G. B. Rush, program chairman, announced part of the program in stating that Dr. Treadwell from Eastland would be on hand with his musical saw to honor the men with several numbers. In addition to the music there will be a mind reader present for the evening. You have been reading a great deal about the Maharajah in "Little Orphan Annie" and the men will be honored with the Maharajah's presence this evening. He will answer questions that have been written on paper and burned in front of the audience. This will be a good opportunity for you to be present and learn some of the things of the future.

The nominating committee composed of Morris Jefferies, Hugh Smith, Lloyd Clem, and the president, will have a report to make to the group this evening about the officers for the coming year. Marshall Jolly, membership vice-president, says that it is a meeting you will not want to miss because of the program and entertainment that has been arranged. Refreshments will be served following the meeting.

Miss Daniel Gives Demonstration On Making Good Nutritious Cakes

"Sponge cakes are a problem in egg cookery rather than in cake baking," stated Mildred Daniel, County Home Demonstration Agent, at a demonstration in Eastland, Friday morning.

Food leaders from the various Home Demonstration Clubs in Eastland County met in the Christian Church Annex to watch a demonstration on the preparation and serving of sponge cakes. Each leader will then give the demonstration to her club at a meeting in September. The work done by the food leaders is important because it serves as a link to fill in the space between programs provided by the agent.

A legend of where we got our idea of cakes was told by the agent as an introduction to her demonstration. The introduction was followed by a discussion on the nutrients provided in the sponge cakes. A large per cent of our daily requirement of certain minerals and vitamins is provided in one ordinary slice of sponge cake. This is true because of the quantity of eggs used in the preparation.

Sponge cakes may be served plain or may be frosted. In her demonstration, the agent used a simple lemon frosting made with confectioners' sugar. She pointed out the fact that when a frosting is used it should be of a flavor that will blend with the cake. Since the sponge cake is a simple or light desert, it may be served with a heavy meal.

To close the demonstration, Miss Daniel pointed out these rules to be remembered in preparing sponge cakes: Use accurate measurements, use eggs at room temperature, sufficient beating of egg yolks and sugar is important factor in making a good sponge cake, egg whites should be beaten stiff but not dry, cook at correct temperature, and use good quality ingredients.

member was served a slice of sponge cake and was given the opportunity to ask any questions about the procedure that she felt the need for.

Present for the demonstration were: Rising Star, Mrs. B. H. Hairren, Mrs. Clarence Stroebel, Mrs. Henry Scott, Mrs. C. M. Harris; Okra, Miss Wilona Childers, Mrs. Gene Hill; Cisco, Mrs. A. J. Woolsey, Mrs. W. C. Clements; Mrs. D. Ball, Mrs. A. A. Hansen; Desdemona, Mrs. George Moore, J. E. Heeter; Ranger, Mrs. John Love. Two visitors were also present.

Signers At Japan Surrender Today Are Reported

EDITOR'S NOTE—Seven years ago Tuesday, Japan surrendered aboard the battleship Missouri in Tokyo Bay. Earnest Hobercht, United Press general manager for Asia, was one of the first Allied correspondents to land in Japan after the war, arriving two days before Gen. Douglas MacArthur. He covered the surrender ceremony and in this dispatch reviews what happened to the Japanese who played roles in that drama.

By Earnest Hobercht

TOKYO, Sept. 2 (UP)—Seven years ago Tuesday a group of sad-faced Japanese bowed before Gen. Douglas MacArthur and signed a surrender document aboard the battleship Missouri in Tokyo bay. What became of those men who appeared before the victorious Allies to admit their nation's total defeat and complete surrender. Some are still around. Some are in important positions.

From atop one of the Missouri's gun turrets, I watched the surrender ceremony and since then have watched and reported the activities of these Japanese military and political figures.

Put On Criminal List
Foreign Minister Mamoru Shigemitsu headed the surrender delegation. Gen. Yoshijiro Umezu represented the Japanese Imperial army and Adm. Sadatoshi Tomioka was there for the navy. A foreign office aide, Katsuo Okazaki, was also present.

That was seven years ago. This is a report on the same men today.

Shigemitsu—At the insistence of the Russians, he was put on the

Truman Begins Whistle-Stops In Campaigning

By Dayton Moore
ABOARD PRESIDENT TRAIN Sept. 2 (UP)—President Truman hit full stride Tuesday in his campaign for the 1952 Democratic presidential ticket with a schedule of six whistle-stop pep talks, one in Ohio and five in West Virginia.

Mr. Truman resumed his first stumping tour of the campaign after a major Labor Day address in Milwaukee in which he blasted Dwight D. Eisenhower as a "captive candidate," charged that the Republicans want to "turn back the clock," and slapped at the recent Supreme Court invalidation of the steel plant seizure as "a modern Dred Scott opinion."

Tuesday the President scheduled talks from the rear platform of his special train at Cincinnati, Ohio, and at Parkersburg, Clarksburg, Grafton, Keyser and Martinsburg, W. Va.

An Enthusiastic Audience
Mr. Truman delivered his first major address of the 1952 campaign before an enthusiastic audience of 11,500 at a union Labor Day rally at Milwaukee arena Monday night.

Mr. Truman said the Republicans "are still the party of the special interests, still the errand boys of the big lobbies, still the ones who want to exploit labor and the farmers and the consumers."

"The only things different about them this year," he added, "is that they are trying to hide

Class "A" war criminal list at the last minute, just before the Tokyo trial start. America was opposed to trying him and the chief international prosecutor has said since that it was a mistake. Shigemitsu was released from prison on parole in November, 1950. He now heads the Progressive party, one of the largest opposition groups. He believes Japan's future course should follow a line of co-operation with the US and the Democratic nations. He is strongly anti-Russian.

One Died In Jail
Umezu—Classified as a major war criminal and tried along with Gen. Hideki Tojo and other Class "A" suspects, he was sentenced to life imprisonment. He died in jail.

Tomioka—He drew the plans for the attack on Pearl Harbor and after the war was over said it would have been better to have attacked Navy yard installations instead of the US ships. He has been writing a history of the Pacific fighting. Tomioka hopes the Americans will forget about Pearl Harbor and the Japanese about Hiroshima.

Okazaki—He is Japan's foreign minister now. A member of the Liberal party headed by Premier Shigeru Yoshida, he has been rising steadily in politics. Some observers believe he may have his eye on the premiership. He has supported pro-American and pro-Democratic measures, favored the US-Japan mutual defense pact and worked with Yoshida to align Japan with the democratic powers against communism.

Mineworkers Go Back To Pits After Mourning

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 2 (UP)—The 475,000 members of the United Mine Workers of America were scheduled to return to their jobs in the nation's hard and soft coal pits Tuesday amid an air of pessimism.

The miners have been idle since Aug. 23 due to a 10-day shutdown ordered by UMW President John L. Lewis in memory of industry workers who lost their lives during a seven-month period.

Meanwhile, Lewis has notified the government that current negotiations with the mine operators have not produced a settlement over his undisclosed demands for a new contract.

The union's contract with northern mine owners runs out Sept. 21, while agreements with southern operators and the hard coal firms will expire Sept. 30. Unless a settlement is reached in the next three weeks it appeared certain the mines would again be closed under the union policy of "no contract, no work."

The 10-day "memorial" shutdown cut the nation's above-ground supply of coal from 84 to 74 days, or a loss of about one million tons. This strengthened Lewis position in his negotiations with the operators, but observers feel that a coal strike would have to last 30 to 40 days to cause serious concern in other industries.

The mines were reported to be in good condition for Tuesday's re-opening as full maintenance crews have manned the ventilation and pumping systems during the shutdown.

Although Lewis has remained silent as far as making public his demands, labor observers feel the UMW chief won't be satisfied with less than the 16-cent-an-hour wage boost granted the United Steelworkers recently.

behind a new face—their lonely, captive candidate.

Says GOP Covers Record
President Truman charged that the Republicans are "trying to cover up their record" on progressive legislation in Congress by "campaigning on the idea that it is time for a change."

"They don't want to admit that any good has been accomplished," he said. "And they are going to turn back the clock if they ever get a chance."

"One day I will tell you all about the background of the modern Dred Scott opinion the justices put out," he promised.

The President referred to a decision handed down by the high tribunal shortly before the Civil War. The court ruled that Dred Scott, a Negro who claimed freedom because his master had taken him to live in the free state of Illinois, was still legally a slave. The decision caused great bitterness in the North.

Mavericks Will Start Practice This Afternoon

Eastland Mavericks started off with a bang, when they gathered for their first meeting Monday morning, and Coach Hooker seems to be mightily well pleased with the showing.

No less than 40 boys were on hand, and while their first game is only a few days in advance, as they meet Cisco at Cisco on Friday, Sept. 12, it is possible for the Coach to whip up a pretty fair team in the meantime.

Most of the boys might be considered "oldsters" for they have had some experience, though some of the new timber may be transformed into real players at a very early date. At least it appears that the Mavericks will enter the season on about the same status as their opponents.

The boys will begin actual train-
