

SEEN OR HEARD

Coach Boone Yarbrough has informed us that the college will have a return scrimmage with Cisco Junior College here tonight under the lights on the local field.

Saturday afternoon the "Rangers" bumped heads with the neighboring college and Yarbrough said they made a good showing for their first scrimmage, although they had looked better at times in intra-squad scrimmages.

A local boy, Jimmy Cole, is in there busting his heart for the opportunity to lead the Rangers this year as the man under our "T" formation.

Jimmy is an ex-Bulldog, leaving RHS only last year where he was the field general for the district champs. Indications and reports have assured us that at least Cole will see a lot of action for the college this year.

Probable starting time will be dark-thirty, whenever it gets dark enough to turn the lights on. That is the main thought in mind for the scrimmage—to get some experience under the lamps.

Both teams are going to run a six man line defensively tonight to acustom them to this type of defense. The head bumping will probably last an hour or an hour and a half for the two college teams.

This will be the last time the two groups will meet as they are not playing each other this year.

George Beighley, the mad insurance salesman (ex-insurance salesman now) comes in bellowing out his "howdeedoes" and tidings of the day—raising the roof approximately six inches.

Asked why he was retiring from and what was wrong with the insurance business George said he was too kindhearted and "couldn't make no money at it."

He tells us that he will doff his dress clothes for the working togs of a mechanic at Clarke Motor Co.

Some four drivers failed to take heed of the warning that the police were cracking down on reckless driving and were snared by the longer arm of the law and fined.

City Manager Lester Crossley said this was not going to be just a campaign, it would be a matter of fact that reckless driving would be stopped.

They haven't paid off that one hundred dollar reward they were offering to solve the mystery of the swimming pool yet, but they will still make the offer good to anyone that can give any information leading to the arrest and conviction thereof.

Water consumption has not dropped too much during the cool nights we've been having lately. Local users are still draining over nine hundred thousand gallons per day through the city mains and from the lake.

Things looked normal to see the school buses and teachers cars lined up around the high school building for the first day of school.

It will take a few days for the dread of returning to wear off the faces and attitudes of the scholars and then everything will be normal for the next nine months.

The college is registering for the last day and will begin class work Wednesday morning for another year. At two o'clock Monday 100 students had enrolled for the term.

There will probably be as many as more than there were last year when about 160 were enrolled.

The local police are insuring the safety of the students as they leave the high school during the lunch hour this year. An officer is stationed on or near the school as they come and go from the building.

Joe Faircloth was there on the first day and said that everything went off smoothly. The only traffic violations were by grown-up drivers and not the teenagers.

Meteorologists now believe that after the sub-zero cold of moderately high altitudes is passed, a temperature inversion zone is encountered (at from 55 to 400 miles) where temperatures may rise from minus 25 degrees Fahrenheit to 4,000 degrees.

19 MIGs Fall Before UN Planes

By Robert Udick
SEOUL, Korea, Sept. 9 (UP)—United Nations jet planes destroyed or damaged 19 Communist MIG-15 fighters Tuesday when 150 of the Russian-built jets tried in vain to stop an Allied air assault on a North Korean military academy.

Allied F-86 Sabrejets knocked down seven MIGs and damaged 11 more, while an F-84 Thunderjet fighter-bomber accounted for a 12th damage claim.

The Sabre-MIG duels came while Thunderjets from two fighter-bomber wings roared over the military academy at Sakchu deep in northwest Korea, only 39 miles from the Chinese Communist base at Antung, Manchuria.

Tuesday's claim of 19 MIGs gave Allied pilots their best day of MIG-hunting in September and brought the enemy jet toll for the month to 29 destroyed, one probably destroyed and 29 damaged.

As soon as the Allied fighter-bombers began dropping high explosives on the military school, the MIGs flew across the Yalu river from their base at Antung. Immediately they ran into a ring of Sabrejets screening the slower fighter-bombers.

"It was a beautiful day up there for MIG fighting," said Maj. Richard Ayersman of Sacramento, Calif.

One of the destroyed MIGs were credited to Canadian exchange pilot Lt. Ernest A. Glover of Leaside, Toronto. It was his second MIG kill in two days.

Other UN warplanes hurled bombs, rockets and flaming jet-liner wings.

The Sept. 8 trial date had been set by agreement of attorneys several months ago. The new trial date will be determined by the presiding judge after he has had an opportunity to study his October docket, Mr. Sparks indicated.

Meanwhile, attorneys in the case argued in the Court of Civil Appeals in Eastland on Friday an attempt by Walker's counsel to overrule a decision of Judge Geo. Davenport on a motion for change of venue to hear a civil suit, Judge Davenport had denied a motion to move the suit, in which the state and county seek recovery of more than $100,000 in funds allegedly collected and not turned in by Walker. Walker's attorneys appealed to the higher court, which is expected to reach a decision in the next few weeks.

It was learned unofficially that U. S. Attorney Frank Potter of the Federal Court has asked for permission from Washington to dismiss a federal indictment against Walker. Last spring, Walker offered a motion to quash the indictment. At that time, Potter asked for a postponement for time to study the motion, indicating that it would be dismissed if he felt that a conviction might be unlikely.

H. C. Wilkerson's fine Rambouillet sheep made news this past week far and wide in Texas when they were the center of a feature story in the farm magazine the Ft. Worth Star-Telegram.

The quality and quick-witted animals Wilkerson raises in Stephens County are well known in this section of the state by virtue of their being prize winners wherever they are shown.

In the Jaycee Tri-County Livestock show ever Rambouillet ram shown was from his herd that he had sold to 4-H and FFA Club boys in this area. A week later at the Eastland County show Wilkerson's stock was the only one shown again.

Wilkerson told how he started with grade animals and his improvement has brought the herd to 115 of the best sheep to be found. He selects his best rams and registers them. The ones he doesn't sell for herd improvement or to club boys he sells commercially.

The fine animals average about 15 pounds shearing a head annually. The Texas average was about 8 pounds per head last year. In addition to his sheep, cattle, and hog raising he finds time to be Tax Collector-Assessor for the public and junior college school district in Ranger.

Texas Demos United In Opposition To Stevenson

Convention At Amarillo Split On How Much To Support GOP

By O. E. Lloyd
AMARILLO, Sept. 9 (UP)—Rebellious Texas Democrats opened their state convention Tuesday united in opposition to Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson, but split on how far they would go in support of Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Gov. Allan Shivers, fighting mad at Stevenson because of the Democratic presidential nominee's opposition to state ownership of the tidelands, was scheduled to make the keynote speech. The role allows him to land the political blow in any convention fight.

But the governor already had made clear his stand and was expected to recommend that the name of Stevenson be left on the Democratic ticket, because of moral and legal obligations.

Sources close to the state party chieftain predicted, however, that Shivers also would remind disgruntled Texas Democrats they were free to vote as they chose for the State Light's insurance of 1948, promised a floor fight aimed at putting the name of Eisenhower on the Democratic ticket in Texas.

Attorney General Price Daniel, Democratic nominee for the U. S. Senate and a leader in the fight against Stevenson, said he had come to the conclusion there was no legal way the convention could certify a Democratic ticket carrying the names of both Stevenson and Eisenhower.

Daniel, who arrived late Monday night from Colorado Springs, Colo., where he had been vacationing, said it would take an act of the legislature to make such a ballot possible.

Sources close to the attorney general revealed that Daniel told Shivers two weeks ago an immediate call of a special session of the legislature was the only answer to the legal problem.

Daniel said he would make no recommendations to the convention. However, he said that if the convention should urge a special legislative session to change present election laws, he would heartily endorse such action.

Ultra-conservative Democrats, centered in the Houston, Dallas, San Antonio and Longview delegations, forecast a floor fight over substituting the name of Eisenhower for that of Stevenson on the Democratic ticket.

Die-hard conservative Democrats, many of them prominent in the State Light's insurance of 1948, promised a floor fight aimed at putting the name of Eisenhower on the Democratic ticket in Texas.

EIGHT STATES VOTE IN FINAL PRIMARIES BEFORE NOVEMBER

By United Press
Voters marked their ballots Tuesday in eight state primaries that will nearly complete the nomination of candidates for the November general elections.

The polls opened in Wisconsin, Minnesota, Arizona, Colorado, New Hampshire, Utah, Vermont and Washington. National interest centered on the fate of Sen. Joseph McCarthy-R- Wis., who is seeking re-nomination.

Massachusetts and Rhode Island, the last states to nominate candidates for the November election, will pick their congressional candidates later this month.

Traditionally Republican Maine swept GOP candidates to victory in its first-in-the-nation state election Monday. But the margin of victory was far short of the mark set in 1948 when U. S. Sen. Margaret Chase Smith received 71.4 per cent of the vote.

McCarthy Needs Votes
A State Liquor Commission scandal was blamed for the slip in Republican strength in Maine. Gov. Frederick G. Payne won election to the U. S. Senate by a comfortable 2 to 1 margin over Democrat Roger Dube.

McCarthy's strength with the Wisconsin Republican organization was expected to help him to victory over his opponent, Leonard Schmitt of Merrill, Wis.

But the leather-lunged Schmitt, who conducted 10 "talkathons"—hours-long question and answer radio programs—during the campaign, has attracted widespread public interest.

McCarthy said he was "badly" in need of votes.

Tuesday's primaries will select a total of 32 nominees for House seats and six nominees for Senate seats.

Cheaper Hay Available In Eastland County; Orders To Be Placed With P.M.A.; Small Deposit Be Requested

Cheaper hay is to be made available for farmers and stockmen in this county, according to a statement made Monday by Emmet Powell of the P.M.A.

Right now some stock growers are saying $60.00 per ton for ordinary hay, and this is working a hardship that can't be overcome. Through P.M.A. good hay will be shipped into this county at about half that price. Good alfalfa, clover, sudan and the like may be purchased at from about $25 to $36.

Mr. Powell placed an order for 15 cars today. It will take from a week to 10 days to get it here. It will be handled in the county through feed stores, Mr. Powell said. Wilson Feed Store in Eastland, Tip Top Feed in Ranger, Thornton's, Cisco, and Golden Oaks Store in German.

However, orders are to be placed at the P.M.A. office in Eastland. A deposit of $5 per ton is required, with the balance payable at time of delivery. Buyers are urged to hold their orders down to a 30-day supply, in order to make it possible for greater distribution. Additional orders may be placed at a later date.

The average price for first class hay will be about $36 per ton delivered.

Former Dallas Sheriff's Cafe Damaged By Fire

DALLAS, Sept. 9 (UP)—Former Dallas County Sheriff Steve Guthrie, now a restaurant man, counted $1,500 damage Tuesday to one of his eating establishments from a fire apparently caused by a defective neon sign.

The fire late Monday was the second mishap to a Guthrie restaurant. Earlier this year, one of his places was mysteriously bombed.

Gambler Costello May Be Deported

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9 (UP)—The government's denaturalization action against gambler Frank Costello is aimed at sending the underworld boss back to his Italian homeland, informed sources said Tuesday.

They reported that government attorneys are studying methods to deport the gambling kingpin if the attempt to take away his citizenship is successful.

Attorney General James P. McGranery announced Monday that denaturalization proceedings will be instituted against Costello at once, based on charges he made false statements when applying for citizenship in 1925.

McGranery said that when Costello applied for naturalization he failed to reveal that he had been convicted in 1915 under the alias of "Frank Severio" for carrying a concealed weapon and had served a one-year jail sentence.

Firemen Quell Two Grass Fires; Issue Warnings

The Ranger fire department was called to Spring Road at 3:05 p. m. Monday to extinguish a grass fire and then made another run this morning at 9:25 a. m. to Haag Street to another grass fire that had gotten out of control.

A spokesman for the fire department has issued a warning to all Ranger residents concerning the burning of grass and garbage. He stated that due to the extremely dry weather and lack of water, a fire of any kind could cause extensive damage. He asks that extreme caution be exercised when burning rubbish.

Parents Neglect Dental Care For Younger Children

AUSTIN—One-half of all children between three and nine have never been to a dentist, according to surveys, and the State Department of Health tags that as one reason why there are some 284 million cavities in the teeth of American kids between those ages.

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, recommends these four rules as a method of getting children into sound dental health habits:

1. A well-balanced diet with consumption of sweets kept to a minimum. Sugar in excessive quantities produces the destructive mouth acids that cause dental decay.

2. Proper tooth brushing, beginning at an early age. This means brushing the teeth within ten minutes after eating.

3. Early detection and care of dental defects. This will prevent large troubles later. Neglect may produce serious dental problems which will continue throughout life.

4. Either access to drinking water from a community water system containing the proper amount of fluorides for tooth decay prevention, or application of sodium fluoride to the teeth at periodic intervals. Children who drink fluoridated water from birth have from one-half to two-thirds less tooth decay than those who drink fluoride-free water.

Americans as a whole are highly susceptible to tooth decay by virtue of their diet, the state health officer points out. As a matter of fact, dental authorities say, this country has often been called "a nation of dental cripples."

They urge all parents to realize that so-called "baby teeth" are vital to good dental health in adulthood.

Red Chinese Would "Try" Gen. Boatner

MUNSAN, Korea, Sept. 9 (UP)—Communist China threatened Tuesday to try the "notorious butcher" Maj. Gen. Haydon L. Boatner before an "international tribunal" as a war criminal.

Radio Peiping said the former commander of the Koje Island prison camps who crushed Red defiance on the island last June "has admitted that the Americans are treating Korean and Chinese prisoners with medieval barbarity."

Peiping said Boatner "revealed this in San Antonio, Tex." but was extremely vague as to what Boatner said.

Peiping quoted "this monstrous American" as saying in San Antonio that he used "red hot poker" on prisoners. It said he was responsible for "massacres" on Koje Island.

Texas Highways Get Punishment

AUSTIN, Sept. 9.—Texas Highways take a pounding from 81 million miles a day of automobile and truck traffic, according to recent studies of the State Highway Department.

Of that amount, 47 million miles a day are driven over roads financed entirely with state funds. Federal and county funds are used in financing a portion of the remaining roads.

According to the Texas Good Roads Association, 56 per cent of the state maintained system now is more than ten years old. It has passed the half-way mark of the 20-year life expectancy for such highways. This accounts for the large amount of current revenue that must be used on maintenance instead of new construction on the state's system.

Oil Surveys Speeded By New System

TULSA, Okla. — Oil surveying has been speeded up almost 100 per cent through an improved technique for logging well characteristics, it was reported here today.

The new system accelerates measurement of radioactivity in substrate rock—a basic test in oil exploratory work (all rock has known radioactive characteristics). This usually involves two separately conducted time-consuming tests, one to show type and depth of substrate rock, the other to determine presence of liquid.

The new technique, developed by engineers from Wells Survey, Inc., and industrial engineers from Minneapolis - Honeywell, involves the application of an electronic recording instrument and a new subsurface device. The system simultaneously logs curves for both radioactive tests cutting exploratory time in half. Engineers explain that previously it took from 7 to 20 hours to log a 12,000-foot well. The new system can do the job more accurately in something like 3 to 10 hours. Furthermore, there are considerable savings in labor costs as crew standby time is minimized.

After some seven months of field tests, Wells reports that their engineers have been averaging two holes in about the same time it formerly took to log one.

Record Seeking Swimmer Nears 300 Mile Goal

NEW MADRID, Mo., Sept. 9 (UP) — Antonio Abertondo of Argentina stroked toward a new world's distance swimming record Tuesday, coming within a half day and 60 miles of his goal at 4 a.m. est.

A passing towboat reported to the Marine radio station at St. Louis that the stocky, light-hearted Argentine was four miles up the Mississippi river from New Madrid and still going strong at that hour.

The radio on the yacht Buccaneer accompanying Abertondo was out of commission, but it was reported that he still maintained a phenomenal 60-stroke-a-minute pace.

New Madrid is 250 river miles south of St. Louis, where he started his attempt at a 300-mile record. To go 300 miles, Abertondo would have to swim past Caruthersville, Mo., 42 miles downstream from here.

At 4 a.m. he had been in the water 69 1-2 hours.

He has until 1:24 a.m. Wednesday to complete the 60 miles downstream to Caruthersville to surpass John Sigmund's record of 89 hours 52 minutes in swimming 292 miles down the Mississippi.

Abertondo plunged into the river at 6:30 a.m. Saturday in St. Louis. Sigmund, a St. Louis butcher, set the existing record in 1940 on the same 300-mile stretch, but fatigue forced him to stop eight miles from his goal.

The Argentine showed little signs of fatigue as he passed Hickman, Ky.

The largest artificial lake in the world is Lake Mead, created by the Hoover Dam in Arizona-Nevada. It is 115 miles long, storing more than 31,000,000 acre feet of water.

Six classes are listed — spot news, feature, sports, pictorial, birds and animals, portraits and personalities. Prizes for each class are $25, $15, and $10.

The public will vote on their favorite picture, and the winner in this special class will receive a plaque and $50 award.

All entries must be at the museum by Sept. 20.

Seven Crewmen Lost Tanker Die Of Thirst

NORFOLK, Va., Sept. 9 (UP) — Burning thirst and the ordeal of clinging for two days to a life boat in stormy seas killed seven crewmen from the tanker Foundation Star, a survivor said Tuesday.

Pedro Machado, one of 21 survivors from the gale-broken tanker, said the seven men died of exhaustion and effects of drinking sea water in the last hours before rescue.

"Thank God I'm here," the wiry, dark-haired quartermaster told his rescuers. "The waves so high... and the first... it was awful."

Machado, a Honduran, and Gusto Materosa, a Greek, were plucked from their swamped life boat by the Navy attack transport USS Hollis and brought to the U. S. Marine hospital here for emergency treatment.

With them the Hollis also found two bodies, bringing to three the known dead of the disaster off the Carolina coast early Saturday in the wake of hurricane "Baker."

The Norwegian freighter Emu was putting into New York with 19 others, 18 taken from a second life boat and one rescued from the Panamanian tanker after it was broken amidship. Another taken from the vessel had died afterward of exposure.
