New Remedy Found Here

Just discovered—a new cure for Devil's Grippe. One of the Ranger Bulldogs has just undergone a remarkable recovery.

Charles Massegee has been out of action the past week and in bed with the virus infection. It was doubtful that he would play against Brady tonight.

Someone was sure wrong—this morning about twenty minutes before school was to start, a large group of visiting doctors entered the Massegee home. One of them said "we're coming in," another told Charles "where's your shirt."

About ten minutes later the "patient" and the "doctors" departed the Massegee home with an entirely recuperated patient.

Wealthy Widow Sues Ex-Lover

NEWTON, MASS., Sept. 28 (UP)—A tall, handsome insurance salesman was bound over to the Grand Jury on larceny and extortion charges today after a wealthy divorcee testified that he "framed" her by having their picture taken while lying nude in bed.

Mrs. Naomi Elizabeth King, 34, daughter of the former president of the Philip Morris Tobacco Co., revealed intimate details of her brief love affair with Herbert Hahn, 31, who she called her "cloud o' hain."

Hahn blushed as Mrs. King, mother of two children, accused him of stealing $75,000 in cash, securities and properties after the photograph was taken.

She said in district court that Hahn drove her home one night and then followed her upstairs to her bedroom.

"He began to make love to me," she said. "I told him I didn't."

Reds Lash Out At UN Troops All Along Sixty Mile Front

8th ARMY HEADQUARTERS, KOREA, Sept. 28. (UP)—Thousands of Communist troops hit the United Nations line along a 60-mile front across Korea today in the biggest series of Red attacks in recent weeks.

The Chinese and Korean Reds struck in company to battalion strength all the way from the previously quiet west-central front above Seoul to "Punchbowl Valley" north of Inje in the eastern mountains.

Initial enemy thrusts were repulsed, but fighting still raged in some sectors at mid-morning. The Reds appeared to have been goaded into counterattacks by the relentless "killer attacks" of the 8th Army.

TEXAS DEMOCRATS WANT NO PART OF REPUBLICAN PLAN

AUSTIN, Sept. 28 (UP)—Texas Democrats aren't necessarily in sympathy with all of the current administration's policies but at the same time they don't want any truck with Republicans in an effort to change those policies.

That was the overriding impression left yesterday when some 60 members of the party's state executive committee met in the windy city of Snyder.

The committee passed a resolution rejecting the "Mundt Plan," a proposal by Sen. Karl Mundt, R., S. D., for a coalition of Southern Democrats and northern Republicans to bring about the administration's defeat.

The quickly-passed resolution rejecting Mundt's proposal left little doubt the state's Democrats would not seek or agree to such a coalition.

But most other resolutions passed by the group either directly or indirectly took a slap at the present fair deal administration of President Truman.

The recently announced order permitting government department heads to classify information according to military standards drew the sharpest criticism.

The committee passed a resolution calling on the government to avoid any "tendency" to "restrict the free flow of news."

"Recent history has shown how dictatorship thrives under censorship and other restrictions designed to halt the full, free flow of news," the resolution read.

The other resolution further pushed for action on measures to revert ownership of the Tideland back to the states.

One of the resolutions urged immediate action by the Senate on a bill granting Texas title to the oil-rich lands. The other resolution commended Texas' successful efforts in winning approval of such a measure in the lower house.

The only approach to debate and wrangling among committee members followed a talk by Dean

Abner McCall of the Baylor Law School who discussed the controversial new election code.

But the wrangling was quickly halted by committee chairman J. E. Wheat of Woodville who informed the group there would be time for debate "later."

Gov. Allan Shivers, titular head of the party in the state, was successful in his efforts to smother other controversial matters before they could be brought before the committee, including a resolution by Secretary of State John Ben Shepperd aimed at tightening the effect of the party's loyalty oath.

Before being entertained at the Diamond "M" Ranch of millionaire oilman C. T. McLaughlin last night, the committee chose four new members.

These were Mrs. Ruth McDuffie, Garrison; Mrs. Clayton Ward, Jackson; Mrs. A. J. Martin, Denison and Lawrence Hagy, Amarillo.

New Braunfels was selected as the site of the next meeting but no date was set.

Two New Tests Scheduled For Eastland County

Woman Will Put Money In Bank

CHICAGO, Sept. 28 (UP)—Mrs. Cora Andrews, 47, said today she's going to deposit her $29,924 in a bank. She's found mattresses aren't reliable.

She used to keep her savings tucked neatly away in the bed, until her 16-year-old nephew found $33,000 there and headed west with it.

The FBI caught James W. Miller last February in Texas dressed up in a $500 cowboy suit. The money—what was left of it—was returned to Mrs. Miller yesterday and she promised "this will go into a bank."

Milton Chinneth said during the first tussle she broke his glasses. The second time she hit him over the head with the heel of her shoe. The third time she stabbed him with a steak knife, he said.

"That's three strikes," said Judge Peter J. Meakins. "Divorce granted."

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 28 (UP)—A Seattle bartender was granted a divorce yesterday because he said his wife beat him up.

BETTER PASSING AND BALL HANDLING SHOWN BY RANGERS

The Rangers went ahead in the won and lost figures last night with their defeat of the Allen Academy Ramblers by a score of 19 to 6.

The biggest visible improvement in the Rangers play from up in the press box was the pass attack. Quarterback Buddy Hamrick's passing had improved remarkably over that shown in the game with Midwestern last week. The Rangers did not complete many of the attempted passes, but the passes thrown by Hamrick were right in the hands of their intended receivers, where they were either knocked down by the Ramblers or were dropped by the receivers.

All comments about the game were about the improvement in the ball handling department over that shown earlier in the season. The Rangers were holding onto the ball last night much better than they have in other games.

The Rangers made their first score early in the first period when Caddo Sanders took an Allen Academy punt on his own 32 yard line and returned it to the Allen 22. On the next three plays from scrimmage, Sanders carried the ball twice for a gain of 11 yards, Chapman took it the third time for 2, and then Sanders took the ball around end behind very good blocking from the Allen 15 yard line for the score. Harry Weldon attempted to kick the extra point, but failed to place the ball between the goal posts.

The next Ranger score came in the third quarter on a pass and run play that covered 45 yards. Hamrick passed to Sanders on the ten yard mark and Sanders took the pass on over the score.

In the last quarter Kenneth Burns scored from the Allen Academy 21, after Ranger took over the ball after the Ramblers punted out-of-bounds there. Burns went straight up the middle, spinning away from one Rambler on the seven yard line, using his blockers all the way to get the tally.

Ranger made their only point after a score in the game when Harry Weldon placed the ball high and true for the point.

A pass interference ruled against the Ramblers allowed the Rangers to make their only score of the game in the fourth period. The interference penalty put the ball on the Rangers four yard line, giving the Ramblers a gain of 18 yards from the 22. Moran went

Wichita Falls Housewife Go On Milk Strike

WICHITA FALLS, Sept. 28 (UP)—A group of Wichita Falls housewives today stocked their shelves with evaporated and powdered milk and ready for a long siege, if necessary, against the city's distributors of fresh milk.

Led by Mrs. James Halt, president of the Milk Consumers Association, the group last night voted unanimously to start a buy-ers strike today, protesting recent hikes in retail milk prices.

The action came nearly two weeks after some 50 housewives formed the association to seek lower prices.

Retail milk prices in Wichita Falls have jumped three cents per quart in the past four months, pasteurized milk now selling for 26 cents and homogenized, 27 cents.

Junior Class Will Have A Cake Walk

The Junior Class of the Ranger high school will hold a cake walk Saturday night, September 29, at 6:30 p.m., in front of the Gholson Hotel.

The proceeds will go to finance the activities of the Junior class. The public is invited to be on hand for the occasion.

War Declared On Skunks

BISMARCK, N. D., Sept. 28 (UP)—North Dakota officials asked hunters to include skunks among their quarry as the Up-land game season began today.

Skunks, always unpopular, have been blamed for an outbreak of rabies in the Dakotas this year.

More Money For Indian Tribe

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (UP)—President Truman asked Congress yesterday for a supplemental appropriation of $385,000 for the Bureau of Indian Affairs to meet treaty obligations with the Choctaw Indian Nation in Oklahoma.

Business And Civic Persons At RJC Rally

A large crowd was on hand for the pep rally at the Ranger Junior College Thursday before the game.

A number of Ranger civic organizations were well represented at the rally. The Lions Club was very much in evidence at the gathering.

Dr. G. C. Boswell started the rally off with a short welcome to the visitors that were among the crowd. Other Ranger citizens welcoming the students to Ranger and wishing the football team on to victory were Rev. Garland Lavender, Rev. Ralph Perkins, Bill Bullock, and President of the Ranger School Board, John Bates.

The rally was held on the campus of the college, between the administration and cafeteria buildings. The Ranger Junior College band gave forth with music for the occasion.

Coach Boone Yarborough spoke to the crowd telling them of the importance of the support of the fans to any ball club. The coach also said that he believes that he has a good ball club this year and that they are ready for any and all games.

The Ranger's cheerleaders led the group in a number of cheers and the band played the school song. The students and visitors left after singing the school song and giving one final rousing yell for the team.

Two Sailors Die In Collision

CHICAGO, Sept. 28 (UP)—Two young sailors were killed today when their auto crashed into a gasoline trailer truck.

They were identified as Robert L. Block, 20, Franklin, Neb., and Charles H. Knipping, 19, Fort Laval, Tex. Both were attached to the Glenview, Ill., Naval Air Station.

Sheriff's police said Block, who was driving, apparently ignored a stop sign at a suburban crossing. The truck did not explode and the driver, Arthur H. Van Eps, 25, Menominee Falls, Wis., was uninjured.

U. S. Chamber of Commerce Hits Red Tape In Air Force Book

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (UP)—The Chamber of Commerce of the United States took a swing at government red tape and economy today with the story of how the Air Force needed a four-page contract to order a 50-cent booklet.

A chamber press release related that the contract included 20 clauses of fine print covering things like non-discrimination in employment, patent infringements assignment of claims and the eight-hour law of 1912.

There also was a four-page set of "additional general provisions" dealing with such subjects as contract termination, patent indemnity, notice to the government of labor disputes, and the loading, bracing and blocking of freight cars.

Still another page outlined provisions for "a 10 per cent variation in quantity."

The mimeographed order was

Rebels Believed To Be Against Eva Peron Holding Public Job

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 28 (By Telephone To New York) (UP)—President Juan D. Peron today proclaimed a state of internal war throughout Argentina.

There were reports that the army had revolted, and the Argentine state radio said "every military man who has rebelled will be shot."

(This dispatch came from Buenos Aires by telephone. The New York headquarters of the U. P. interrupted William F. Horsey, its South America news manager who was dictating his dispatch, and asked him: "is this a civil war?" he replied: "No, it is more like a glorified state of siege." Shortly before 11 a. m. EDT the telephone operator in Buenos Aires broke in on Horsey and said, "you have one minute more." At the end of the minute the telephone connection was broken.)

(In Washington both the State Department and the Argentine embassy said they had no immediate information on the reported revolt in Argentina.)

All airplane flights in and out of the nation have been halted. Government offices are closing.

Peron was at the presidential palace. A crowd of about 3,000 gathered in front of the palace and the street was jammed with cars of officials. The palace guard is being strengthened.

The General Federation of Workers, the labor organization which strongly supports the Peron regime, has ordered a nation-wide general strike which will affect everything except public services and hospitals.

Jose Espejo, secretary of the labor organization, announced at 11:10 a. m. (10:00 a. m. EDT): "We have had sufficient patience until now but the traitors have sought their own punishment. From this moment every worker is converted into a soldier of the justicialist (Peronist) cause. They will pass over our bodies before they can fulfill their sinister designs."

(Sources outside of Argentina interpreted today's trouble as part of the army's opposition to President Peron's wife, Eva. Madame Peron was asked recently by the labor organization to run for vice president on the same ticket with her husband in the Argentine national election in November. After considering the labor organization's request for some time, Madame Peron announced she would not be a candidate. It was generally believed she withdrew because of the strong opposition of the Argentine Army to having a woman in public office.)

Almost all Buenos Aires stores, with the exception of grocery establishments, are closing.

Espejo, who apparently has assumed the leadership of the faction supporting Peron, said in an announcement over the government radio:

All workers, with all urgency, and without exception should concentrate immediately in the Plaza De Mayo, (the center of the government buildings) as exponents of the unanimous opinion of the Argentine people who feel the flame of patriotism burning in their breasts. We cannot permit our conquest to be swept away because they (the rebels) have for their objective their own ambition and the delivery (betrayal) of our sovereignty and our country.

"The moment for decision has arrived. We workers must show that nothing avails against our unbreakable will and that of the people, who will defend their conquest and their freedom with their lives.

"Justicialism gave them liberty and dignity. The anti-country (Anti-Peron) forces would like to return us to slavery and scorn. But we say with all the force of our spirit that they shall not pass.

"Comrades of the people! To the Plaza De Mayo is the watchword!

"The workers have never said nor will they say 'death.' We shall always say, long live the country! Long live justicialism! Long live Eva Peron! Long live Peron! Long live the Argentine working class!"

Methodist Men Hear Ferguson At Meeting

Sixty-five men heard the lay message of Jim Ferguson, executive vice president of the First National Bank at Strawn Tuesday night at the regular monthly meeting of the Methodist Men's Club in the basement of the First Methodist church.

Ferguson stressed the importance of laymen taking a more active part in the church program and the audience was attentive and appreciative of his remarks.

In the attendance contest the Reds conceded victory to the Blues even though the contest doesn't close until the October meeting. The Blues had 49 present and the Reds 16.

The ladies of the Stella Stafford Circle of the WSCS served a bountiful meal of turkey and dressing. Fred Baumgardner, head of the music department of the Ranger Junior College delivered three vocal solos, accompanied by Mrs. Baumgardner at the piano, which drew heavy applause from the group.

Local Student Accepted In Choral Group

Betty Garrison, junior student at McMurry College from Ranger has been accepted as a member of the Chanters, mixed choral group, according to Dr. Richard C. von Ende, director.

Approximately 45 students have been chosen to serve with the Chanters this year. Tentative plans for the group call for two major tours through the state, plus performances for civic organizations and high schools, both locally and throughout the area.

Betty is the daughter of Mrs. G. V. Hamner.

Mrs. King said she later paid Hahn $7,500 to settle an alienation of affections suit brought against her by Hahn's wife. She also paid him for the return of the negative of the picture, she said, but never received it. Her testimony was spiced by the introduction of valentines they exchanged before the picture-taking episode. One, which she said Hahn sent her, read: "Don't want love, 'Don't want your romance,' 'Just want to scare you out of your pants.' A post card written from Rockport while she was visiting there with Hahn also was introduced. It read: "I have found the needle in the haystack and what fun I have had rolling in that haystack." Famous Texas Chapel Will Be Sold

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 28 (UP)—The 138-year-old "Chapel of Miracles," familiar tourist landmark, was threatened with sale as a common commercial enterprise today as a result of a squabble among its nine owners. The chapel, built to house the widely known crucifix, "Our Lord of Miracles," was placed in receivership yesterday by District Judge Delos Finch. He then ordered it put up for auction at the end of 90 days. The order to dispose of the old mission came as the result of a suit filed by eight heirs of Clemente and Candelaria Rodriguez against the ninth heir, Mrs. Manuela Rodriguez. The eight charged that since Candelaria Rodriguez' death, in 1946, Mrs. Rodriguez has operated the chapel as a commercial enterprise, charging admissions and selling souvenirs from which she reaped all the profits. Throughout its 138 years, the mission has belonged to members of the Rodriguez family. Legend has it the adobe and log structure was built in 1813 as a place to exhibit the "Our Lord of Miracles" crucifix, a wooden cross which was the only item to survive a fire which destroyed another mission. good catch. Mrs. Charles Harris entertained with an afternoon hospital benefit party last Tuesday. Those present were Mrs. Charles Brockman, John Nix, Curt Thompson, Raymond Beck and the hostess.

An early-day Rodriguez family kept the cross at their home for several months but erected the "Chapel of Miracles" when the parade of "Miracle Seekers" frequently overflowed their house. Countless stories have developed since then about blind and otherwise infirm persons who have been magically healed upon entering the chapel. The signatures of visitors fill scores of ledgers. Since Mrs. Manuel Rodriguez became administratrix of the estate, the chapel has been renovated and its adobe walls covered with concrete and plaster. Finch yesterday named Raymond Raymond Galindo, Jr., a San Antonio real estate man, as receiver and ordered him to operate the mission as it has been operated since 1946. He placed a tentative value of $15,000 on the mission. Proceeds from the auction, 90 days hence, will be split among the disputing heirs. Two young boys snatched her

You saved my life today. I'm not forgetting that. But this is an order. If you're afraid—" "Yes, Captain, I'm afraid. Also I'm using my head, not losing my hair. And you're suffering shock. Better go lie down someplace." "He's right," young Wanda broke in, earnestly. "It would be murder to send a man out now. And he wouldn't get to the fort before Carrington started looking for us." The obviousness of this made Fetterman furious. "I believe I'm senior here, Wanda. Any question of that?" "None at all, Captain. Just giving my opinion." "Here they come!" yelled a trooper. And come they did, wave after wave, with about 50 to the wave, each group dashing a little closer before breaking and washing back, the last bunch breaching our wagon line, 15 or 20 of them riding their squealing ponies into our midst. Had the others followed in, another massacre would have been official. Of those who got into the wagon circle, one rode his way out, perhaps living to boast of his exploit, but I take leave to doubt it. I might have known more of his fate but for the fact that he rode me down going out. I woke up in Fort Phil Kearney, not much the worse for all the excitement, save a respectable scalp-wound which mercifully spared me the jolting details of the ride back in one of Carrington's mule drawn ambulances. As soon as I could I went to see Carrington. "Colonel, I want to resign," I told him. "Now, Clayton, slow down. I know Fetterman and you had a little fuss, but—" "He's a fool," I interrupted. "He also requests your discharge, which I refused. Now, Clayton, I want you to stay on. I'll back you up when you're right." "Sure, Colonel. It's fair. But that's neither here nor there." "Well, what's eating you, man?" "Colonel, it's Ed Geary's opinion, and mine through him, that the whiskey running that goes on out here has more than a little to do with the hostile outbreaks. Not with the attitudes of the big chiefs like Red Cloud and Crazy Horse, you understand. But you know that for every raid led by one of their rank, there's a dozen wagon-train burnings and settler-scalpings with which they have nothing to do and which are, in fact, expressly against their orders." "Well, what of it?" The Colonel's question showed impatience. "You know an Indian will do anything when he's drunk. We can't help that."

"I THINK you can," I disagreed, "and I'm willing to help you. Back in Kansas City I had a little back-up against the man who was running the operations. I know this man, I know he's out here operating, and I want to go after him. If you'll give me 30 days and a few men, I can—" "Out of the question, absolutely. I'm sorry." "It has to be, Colonel. I'll ride my trail the way I read its signs, anyway." "Well I regret your attitude. Though perhaps it's just as well. You've been listening to Geary too hard. He's half Cheyenne. I think you've 'gone Injun,' on us, Clayton, and when a scout gets soft on Indians his usefulness to the Army is questionable. If there's anything else I can do for you, Clayton—" I started to say there wasn't when I remembered a forgotten voice. "Colonel, my compliments. Should our paths cross again..." I turned to Carrington. "There is something you could do, General. I'd like to know where General Custer is now." (To Be Continued)

Twenty Charged With Intimacies With Young Girl

KENDALLVILLE, Ind., Sept. 28 (UP)—Thirteen men were to be arraigned today on charges of having sexual intercourse during the past two years with a 16-year-old girl. Authorities said the girl, whose name was not revealed, confessed intimacies with "at least 20 men in the area," but couldn't recall who the rest were. "All the men were friends and neighborhood acquaintances," Sheriff Charles F. Haase said. "They usually just picked her up in a car and took her riding." The meetings were not arranged beforehand, Haase said, and usually arose "on the spur of the moment." He said the men would park on lonely country roads and hold sex-drinking parties with the girl. The practices were discovered after the girl was arrested recently in a parked stolen car with a man, Haase said. The couple were engaged in a sexual intimacy when the arrest occurred, he said. "Of course she admitted it and later on she admitted other intimacies," he said. The 13 men, three of them married and with children, were to be arraigned before Noble Circuit Judge Kenneth L. King on charges of contributing to the delinquency of a minor. Their names were not revealed. The girl was committed to a juvenile detention home at Wabash, Ind. Haase said the girl, whose mother is dead, quit school last year and had been living with her step father. ATTEND THE CHURCH OF YOUR CHOICE EVERY SUNDAY

NEWS FROM CHEANEY

By Mrs. Bill Tucker
The Salem Home Demonstration Club members met Friday afternoon, September 21, in a joint meeting with Cheaney Home Demonstration Club as invited guests.

Mrs. Ira Wilson was hostess and 10 women were present for the demonstration on "Fabrics and their Uses," by assistant Home Demonstration Agent Evelyn Bigby.

The September Council report was given during the short business period presided over by Miss Alene Fonville.

Plans were begun for a program to be in observance of United Nations day on October 24.

"Know your wraps and wools" is a good practice to carry out in buying materials for the needs of home and family, says Evelyn Bigby as she demonstrated the differences in thread count, vat dyed, blocked designs, woven-in designs, and other characteristics on store counters everywhere.

Recreation was lead by Mrs. Bill Tucker. Delicious cherry-nut cake and punch was served to the following Misses: Evelyn Bigby, Alene Fonville, and Mmes. Emma Ferrell, Maud Dean, Lena Jones, Sophie Freeman, Euria Tucker, Agnes Rodgers, Florence Yancey, Othell Wilson, and club reporter Mrs. Bill Tucker.

The next meeting will be in the home of Alene Fonville, October 6th.

Persons on the sick list this week are: Mrs. Zelia Perrin who has had medical treatment several times the past week. Roy Jean Ainsworth was brought home ill, from school, on Thursday. Mrs. John Love has had quite a case of virus infection this past week. Resuming her work too soon caused a relapse. Mrs. Salata Brown has a badly mangled finger, due to getting mixer up in the electric mixer, shattering a bone.

Mrs. J. W. Case entered Ranger Hospital Sunday afternoon and underwent major surgery on Monday morning. Mrs. E. A. Highsmith has also had a virus complaint the past week. Mrs. Jessie Lemley and Mrs. Bill Tucker have both had to endure a case of toothache.

Mr. and Mrs. Choc Underwood have moved to themselves and are at home on the Motes place, vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Gallo-way, Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. Pug Howard and Young son Tommy Wayne of Fort Worth, recently visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Howard.

Visitors in the ohn Fonville home the past week were members of Mrs. Fonville's family Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moore and their Parents of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Richberg and others of the family gathered at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Electro Hattox, and helped celebrate her birthday, Sunday, September 23, as a surprise.

A brother Ronnie Richberg, his family, a sister, Mrs. Odean Jacob and family were numbered among those enjoying the noon lunch.

More than half the population of Delaware lives in the Wilmington area.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Case arrived Sunday evening from Carlsbad, New Mexico, to be at the bedside of his mother who is hospitalized in the Ranger General Hospital.

Mrs. Mary Joe Tucker of Hobbs New Mexico is visiting in the John Tucker home this week.

Disc Jockey Was Wrong

SOUTH ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 28 (UP)—Disc jockey Don Dody of station WCOW agreed today that a joker was a spot and asked people to stop telephoning him to tell him so.

Dody, a skeptical person, had heard recording star Tex Ritter say in a record that there were 365 spots on a deck of cards. He counted them himself, and came up with 364 spots on 52, and said so on the air yesterday.

At last estimate, 400 persons in three states had telephoned to tell him that there were 365 if he counted the joker.

"Kick-Off" For Brotherhood

Plans are nearing completion for the monthly brotherhood meeting at the First Baptist Church. The meeting will be next Monday evening at 7 p.m. in the basement of the church.

Wilson Guest, attendance vice-president, is encouraging all members of the brotherhood to be present for the meeting. Tony Lewis, program chairman has made arrangements for a fine program which will include the installation of the new officers. Felton Brasher, retiring president of the organization, has made plans for a western type banquet and asks that all men wear some item of western apparel but no ties.

The activities committee headed by Allan Smith, has made plans for a western type menu to keep in line with the rest of the program all of which will carry out a western theme. This meeting is in effect a prelude or "kick-off" for the fall brotherhood program. These above mentioned officers of the organization urge all members to come out and send the new officers off in a great way.

Narcotics Among Teenagers Is Revealed In Book

BALTIMORE, Sept. 28 (UP)—Narcotics addiction among American teenagers is one of Russia's most "effective methods for the defeat and humiliation of the United States," according to Dr. Robert V. Seliger of the National Committee on Alcohol Hygiene, Inc. Seliger said today in a pamphlet titled "The 'Dope' on Dope" that solving the problem of the 50,000 to 300,000 youthful addicts in this country is up to parents and the teenagers themselves.
