

Tuesday's Presidential Election—

Here Are Final Vote Figures

According to final vote tabulations of Tuesday's general election in Eastland County—with 26 of 26 precincts in the area now complete—Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower received a total of 4,634 votes and Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois, the unsuccessful Democratic aspirant, received 3,634.

In voting on the amendments, Eastland Countians approved passage of the first amendment to the State constitution, 2,585 to 1,904, but opposed the second by a vote of only 1,844 for the proposal and 2,549 against.

Here's a box-by-box tabulation of the final returns which will be officially canvassed in Eastland Monday by the Commissioner's Court:

ANYWAY, THIS COUPLE GOT OFF TO A CLEAN START!

Business at the Five Hundred Cleaners in Ranger was temporarily halted Friday afternoon when a couple from Dublin walked in and calmly announced that they wanted to get married.

Lonnie Cozby, owner, wasn't too surprised, though, because he had just been informed of the arrangements by the Rev. Ernest Rippeote, pastor of the Washington Street Baptist Church in Stephenville, who was to meet the couple in Ranger and tie the nuptial knot.

No one had planned on a definite place for the wedding, so the impromptu ceremony was performed behind locked doors at the cleaning plant with only the startled employees as witnesses.

The bride, Billie Jo Duncan, was attended by Miss Lamoine Compton and the bridegroom was Hal D. Stokes, all of Dublin.

GRID SPECIAL TO ARLINGTON FOR BIG TILT

As the early Sunday edition went to press shortly after noon Saturday, the Ranger Junior College-Ranger Chamber of Commerce Arlington-bound Texas & Pacific football special train was preparing to pull out of the Ranger depot with approximately 300 football fans, band members, and the Ranger Junior College Rangers grid squad aboard.

Just prior to the special's departure a big pep rally was held at the railway station beginning at 12:25.

The train was scheduled to leave Ranger at 12:45, to arrive in Ft. Worth for a 30-minute stopover at 3 p.m. and to arrive in Arlington, site of tonight's big Pioneer Conference clash between the Rangers and the Rebels of Arlington State College, at 3:50 p.m.

The Arlington Chamber of Commerce is making arrangements to transport the passengers aboard the special to the game which will get underway at 8 p.m.

The top offensive club in the Pioneer Conference will collide with the top defensive team the hard-running Rebels face Ranger.

Arlington State and Tarleton State, which faces San Angelo in the other league fracas, currently are tied for first place with two victories against no defeats.

The West Texans have followed but 39 points to their seven opponents and also feature Buddy Hamrick, the conference's No. 1 rusher.

The Rebels, who have counted 243 points and have rolled up 2,773 yards from scrimmage have the top pass practitioner in Sammy Howard and a battery of fast backs in Kenneth Vavra, Paul Wayne Ernst, Ronnie Bond and Malcolm Hammark.

Steal By The Half-dozen

LELAND, Mich. — State police were asked to hunt for thieves who did their "stealing" by the numbers" at the Sugar Loaf Mountain ski club. Officers reported they stole six of everything—six pairs of skis, six pairs of ski poles and six pairs of ski boots.

The resolution was signed by County Judge John S. Hart and Commissioners Arch Birt, H. M. Carter, T. E. Castleberry and A. M. Thurman.

Evidence brought out in the trial showed that a state audit indicated a shortage of $101,000. Walker then hired an independent firm of certified accountants, and their audit figured that the shortage was only $10,000.

Eastland County officials confirmed that since the state audit was made numerous discrepancies have cropped up on the tax roll to indicate that initial state audit was not a true reflection of the county's financial picture.

The drought is responsible for conditions that can cause trouble for livestock producers unless corrective measures are taken. Rations of pastured animals should be supplemented with vitamin A rich feeds to prevent respiratory troubles and vitamins A, E, and C to prevent the condition known as "white-muscle disease."

$17,000 Settlement Ends Walker Case

The long legal troubles of Horace Walker, Dallas attorney, with Eastland County came to an end in 90th District Court at Breckenridge Friday afternoon with the dismissal of six criminal cases and one civil suit at the plaintiffs.

Judge Floyd Jones, who had presided during the long daily and night court sessions in the Stephens County courthouse chambers during the week, brought the trial to an end with the dismissal in mid-afternoon after Walker had secured and paid the money to Eastland County representatives during a recess.

The trial had been moved to Breckenridge on a change of venue. The unusual settlement reached among the defense attorneys, state prosecutors and Eastland County authorities required approval, by telephone, from the state attorney general's office in Austin.

After the agreement was reached at 10:30 a.m. Friday and approved, Walker and his attorneys moved to Dallas to obtain the $17,000 agreed upon by all parties as an adequate settlement. He returned to Breckenridge where he presented a cashier's check for the amount to Frank Sparks, Eastland attorney and special prosecutor.

Eastland County Commissioners' Court, meeting in special session at Eastland Friday afternoon, passed the following resolution:

"There is a genuine dispute over the exact amount involved, and said sum of $17,000 appears to be a reasonable offer. The sum of $17,000 is hereby accepted in full and final satisfaction of all claims against Horace Walker and his bonding company."

PLAN TO END CHEST DRIVE WITHIN WEEK

An effort will be made by leaders and volunteer workers of Ranger's Community Chest to bring the organization's 1952 fund-raising drive to an end by next weekend, President W. C. Whittle said Saturday afternoon.

Approximately $2,368 more in contributions will be needed during the five day fund push—Monday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, he said. Tuesday (Armistice Day) is a holiday and little activity by workers is anticipated on that Nov. 11 date.

Sharing in the current campaign of the Ranger Community Chest, an all-local, all-volunteer organization and operated community enterprise, are the American Red Cross, the Salvation Army, the Child Welfare Club, Teen Canteen, USO, Community Public Library and Boy and Girl Scouts.

They'll split funds procured by volunteer workers on behalf of the Chest. This year's quota is $6,500.

Miss Marjorie Maddocks, secretary, reported Saturday at 10:30 a.m. that proceeds of the fund-raising effort totaled $4,432, $3,616 of that amount is represented by cash contributions and $816 is pledged.

Firms To Close Armistice Day

Ranger citizens are reminded that next Tuesday, Nov. 11, is a legal holiday—Armistice Day—and all business firms will be closed in observance of the occasion.

Persons having business to transact or important shopping to do are urged to attend to such requirements Monday. Most all Ranger firms will be closed for the holiday, reports Mae Belle Opler, secretary-manager of the Ranger Retail Merchants Assn.

GINGER ALE—15

BOSTON (UP)—It's expensive being a test-taker in some of Boston's night spots these days. One of them now charges $1 for a glass of ginger ale.

The dairy cow needs a six to eight weeks rest between lactation periods and a good ration during this dry period. The payoff comes with more production during the next lactation period and a better calf.

OUT OF A JOB—Policeman Louis Swee, who lost his job as personal bodyguard to President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower when a dozen secret service men took over Wednesday, is met at the airport in Chicago by his wife, right, and daughters Andra and Janice. Swee told newsmen, "The General said I did a good job. We got no bullets, no knives and no tomatoes."

Cooler Weather Is Forecast For Late Sunday

For the weekend, Eastland Countians will have more of the same weather, according to the U. S. Weather Bureau's early morning forecast today.

An infant cold wave—only slightly cooler than present temperatures—is due to move into the Eastland County area late Sunday.

Partly cloudy skies with little or no hope of rain predicted by weather experts in the memo for today, tonight and tomorrow.

The high temperature for today—near 75. For tomorrow—about the same level.

Tonight the mercury is due to range in the mid-40s.

Singers Meet At Ranger Church Sunday At 2:30

Singers from all over Eastland County are invited to attend the Second Sunday convention to be held at the First Christian Church in Ranger Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, Kenneth Mayhall, president, announced.

A large crowd of singers are expected, Mayhall said. Included will be two groups from Coleman, directed by Mrs. Patry Lee, M. and Mrs. Tom Gray of DeLeon, Rev. Hallenbeck and two quartets from Eastland, the mixed quartet, Harold Justice, Ruth Justice, Eloise and Jimmie Horn, and the girls quartette, Mary Jo Jessie, Hazel Spindle, Joy Jumper and Linda Hallenbeck.

The Gospel Airs of Eastland include Tommy Nicolas, Luther Black, Pete Rogers and Mayhall.

Of special importance to those attending the Sunday song meet will be a discussion of a proposed state convention to be held in Eastland County sometime in January.

Other officers of the Second Sunday gospel song association are E. P. Roberson, vice president, and Mrs. W. E. Herweck, secretary-treasurer.

Ducats For Variety Show On Sale

Tickets for the Band Boosters' big 1952 "Variety Show," to be presented in the Ranger high school auditorium here on Thursday evening, Nov. 13 at 7:30 p.m., are on sale by members of the Ranger High Band.

Planned as the "biggest and best" event of its kind ever presented by the Band Boosters organization, the show will feature an array of stellar Ranger talent.

Spoon Draws Sentence

Thomas M. Spoon, 21-year-old man who was apprehended and arrested in Ranger several weeks ago by alert officers of the Ranger Police Department, was sentenced to two-to-three years sentence in the State penitentiary at Huntsville in 104th District Court in Abilene Friday on a plea of guilty to theft of a $1,500 automobile.

The car was recovered in Ranger a few hours after having been stolen in Abilene.

Spoon, according to a report from The Abilene Reporter-News this morning, stole the auto from the J. B. Jordan used-car lot in Abilene on Oct. 1, records showed. At Ranger his car was low in gasoline. He had no money but offered to trade a spare tire for gasoline. As he was dickering with the attendant a group of officers drove up—they weren't looking for him. But he thought so. He made a speedy getaway. Officers followed in quick pursuit. The end of the trail was arrest.

Spoon's mother lives at Eastland, his father at Mineral Wells. He served a term in Gatesville Reform School, a term in the penitentiary and had a suspended sentence hanging over his head.

Ernest Wilson, attorney appointed by the court to plead his case, appeared to the court to show clemency because of the tender years of the youth.

John Willoughby 104th District attorney, presented records showing his record. Judge Owen Thomas as counseled Spoon to serve his term and conduct himself well, then come out and make a good citizen.

Then the judge sentenced him. Willoughby said Spoon crawled into the Jordan used-car lot, got into a car with keys in ignition, broke the lock on a chain enclosing the car, and drove away.

He served a two-year pen sentence from Haskell County, according to the records. In 1946 he spent a hitch at the Gatesville reformatory.

After the sentence Wilson thanked the court for the clemency shown.

Gaily Infant Rites Are Held

Gravelside services for the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Galley, 917 Pershing Street, Ranger, were held Saturday afternoon at Mount Marion Cemetery at Strawn at 2:30 p.m.

Rev. Ralph Perkins, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Ranger, officiated during the rites, and Killingsworth Funeral Home, Ranger, was in charge of arrangements.

Survivors include the parents and the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Galley of Strawn and Mr. and Mrs. Marlowe Langford of Lacasa.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Goza and little son, Berry, have been transferred to Eastland from Dallas. Mr. Goza is with Magnolia Pipe Line Co., they are at home on Patterson St.

Only 4 Arrests During Week By Ranger Police

This has been a very quiet week at the Ranger Police Department, reports W. G. Pounds, chief of police.

During the 5-day period—Monday through Friday—only arrests have been a total of four drunks, three white persons, including a woman, and one Negro.

The arrival of dawn Saturday, however, found Ranger patrolmen readying themselves for what may be a busy week end.

Recently most activity has occurred during the weekend period, reports Chief Pounds.

Texans have been buying Christmas Seals since 1909 to finance the TB control program of tuberculosis associations within the state.

Eastland Quartet Attending Plans Gospel Song Meet

The Kendrick Quartet of Eastland is in Kalls today for the big inter-city Cap Rock Singing Convention which opened there Saturday night and continues through today.

The popular music group's Sunday morning radio program was transcribed this morning.

The Kalls meet is one of the largest in the state and assembles only three times annually. The Eastland musical group was booked for the event last June.

Members of the gospel song unit include Jimmy Warren and Fern, Pierre and Shorty Kendrick. Mrs. J. H. Kendrick is pianist and J. H. Kendrick is spokesman.

Quartet members have expressed their appreciation to their many friends who have evidenced interest in their gospel singing by many postcards, letters and phone calls.

HASN'T PLAYED MUCH LATELY — President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower lines up a putt on the ninth green at National Golf course in Augusta, Ga., as his partner Ed Dudley, the club pro, stands by. The General, who was not hitting the ball as well as he expected, was overheard to say, "haven't been playing very much lately."

Bulldogs Make Bid For District Title With Win

CAME AT A GLANCE

Ranger	Cisco

2	opp. fumbles recovered	2
2	for 61 punts	6 for 181
4	for 40 penalties	1 for 15

Ranger High's 1952 Bulldogs made a bid for the District 10-AA school boy grid title at Bulldog Stadium in Ranger Friday night when they humbled their initial conference foe of the ebb-ebb-away season, the Cisco Lobos, 28-14, before a crowd of 3,000.

The Maroon & Whites, though billed as pre-game top heavy favorites, didn't seem to be able to get up much steam during the encounter which was their final home appearance of the 1952 season.

And at halftime the Bulldogs held only a 7-0 lead, having scored early in the initial count.

They showed more power in the last half, however, notching a total of three tallies in the third and fourth periods.

The Ciscoans' trailing 28-0, exploded during the last four minutes of the contest, racking up a pair of badly needed TDs which put new pep and punch in the visitors' stands which were occupied by about 300 staunch and loyal followers of Cisco's proud Gold and Black.

FUMBLES HELP LOBOES

Mistakes of reentry which Coach Warden punched after his four touchdowns lead to cashed in for touchdowns by the out-classed visiting Lobos who were able to make only 7 downs and a net of only 91 yards rushing, including all gains on passing and running plays, during the night. Ranger's net rushing—frained a bit by 21 yards lost from scrimmage—totaled 213 yards, 133 of which were accounted for by a clicking aerial attack with tosser Gerald Bagwell completing 7 of 14 pitches.

Midway in the first period, the Bulldogs took over on their own 30 after the Lobos' Bob Lloyd had laid a punt out-of-bounds at that point. Herbert Williams, Bulldog right half, picked up 3 over center, Bagwell missed on an aerial intended for End Tommy Hinds, then got loose for a 9-yard pickup and a first down through left guard, and Williams, Cantrell and Bagwell drove down to the Lobo 45 for another first, and there two passes—Bagwell to Hinds and ditto to Chico Mendosa, the other Ranger end—put the oval down on the 11. Bagwell lost a yard trying right tackle, and then he faded and shot a TD pass to Mendoza. Halfback Bill Browning booted the extra point from placement.

And that ended half-raising activity in the first half.

DOG PASSES CLICK

After the midway intermission Cisco's Lloyd kicked off to Bagwell who picked the leather up on the four and hustled up to the 33 before he was dropped. From there the charges of Coach Warden initiated a scoring drive which ended seven plays and 67 fast-paced yards. Halfback Williams knived through right tackle from the 13 for the Rangerite's second score. Browning again added the point.

Four plays later, Tackle Le Hill recovered a Lobo mishandled punt on the Lobo 24. Five runnir plays capped with a six-yard smash by Jim Cantrell, fullback, put the oval on the 1. Bagwell shot a pass to Mendoza, but it ended dropped the pitch. Then Boy back Cantrell bulled over the mid-die into pay dirt. Browning's toe again annexed the after-TD point.

On the last play of the third canto, the Rangerites took over on their own 47 after the Ciscoans' had punted.

Two plays later came their fourth and final tally. Bagwell fired a 30-yard aerial to Mendoza, then from the Lobo 30, he faded and hit Reserve End Bill Prezda with another pass good for 30 yards and a score. Bill Browning added the point.

Boredom of fans turned in a wild excitement when the battl was about four minutes from its finish.

Reserve Back Benny Robinson fumbled after Wayne Hargrave had intercepted a Lobo pass to start a drive from the Ranger 20. The miscue occurred on the 19-yard stripe with the recovery by Cisco's Center Andy Mosely. Fullback Irving Brunkenhoefer picked up a yard over right tackle, and then Quarterback Boy Gallagher, a southpaw, heaved a beauty to Left End Jim Webb, who scored. Gallagher kicked the extra point from placement.

At Your Ranger Theatres

Top Picture: Will Rogers, Jr., as his famous father, and Jane Wyman as Mrs. Rogers in Warner Bros. Technicolor drama, "The Story of Will Rogers," due Sunday at the Tower Theatre. Dramatization of the beloved humorist's fabulous career, the film boasts a large cast including Eddie Cantor, James Gleason and Carl Benton Reid. Bottom Picture: Donald Carey tries to foster an explanation upon Ann Baxter in a scene from Twentieth Century-Fox's "My Wife's Best Friend," the romantic comedy currently at the Ranger Drive-In Theatre. Sunday and Monday.

'Supreme Question Of Life' Is Subject Of First Methodist

Sunday, Nov. 9th, will find Ranger Methodists following pretty much the regular Sunday School and church schedule for all services. At 9:45 a.m. all classes of the Children's Division will assemble in their respective places with teachers and helpers in charge. At the same hour, the Adult Division will meet in the sanctuary for general assembly of songs, prayer, and a brief devotional led by M. G. Smith. Following the devotional, the adult, young people, and intermediate classes will meet in their regular places for Bible study.

Church School attendance has shown a slight increase, with 216 present on last Sunday. "This is a good sign," Dixon comments, "but is far short of what it ought to be." He urges all those who were absent last Sunday, as well as many who are not attending to present in the class of your choice. Our attendance goal is set for 225. You can help to reach this goal. Morning worship will begin with the organ prelude at 10:30. The Chancel Choir will enter at 10:35 to sing the responses and lead the congregational singing. They will sing the morning anthem, "Gloria" from "Twelfth Mass" by Messiaen. Fred Baumgardner will direct the choir. The pastor will use for his sermon subject: "The Supreme Question of Life," based on Matt. 22:42.

First Christians Name Board Members, Congregation Leaders

"Things to Tie to" will be the title of the sermon to be delivered Sunday morning at 11:00 a.m. in the Ranger First Christian church by the pastor, Rev. A. Lynn Robbins. In keeping with the presentation of the worship services in the church, announcements should be made here of the decisions of the new Official Board of the church at their recent meeting.

Large Crowds Due Sunday At First Baptist

The Sunday services at the First Baptist Church begin with the Sunday School at 9:45 and the worship service at 10:30. A great crowd is expected for the morning services both Sunday School and the worship hour. The Sunday School department of the church has just closed a week of intensive training and will be ready for the increased attendance.

These men are given the responsibility of caring for the spiritual welfare of the congregation. Rev. Robbins has chosen for his theme at the 7:00 p.m. Evening service the following subject: "Our Real Family." Last week the attendance at this service was down considerably and the pastor is urging that the congregation make plans now to be present at the service Sunday night. The Christian Youth Fellowship will meet at the church at 6:30 p.m.; and the Church School will assemble Sunday morning at 11:00 a.m.

SEPTEMBER slid into October. Laurie French wakened early and she would go to her window and look out at the misty freshness of the morning in the park across from the apartment...

he had kissed her? The box of bittersweet from Steve arrived and Laurie put the bright orange and red berries in a blue bowl and set it on the window sill in her room.

the portrait that's to make... is the Portrait You'll Be Proud to Show!

We thoroughly enjoy making photographs of babies... capturing all that frisky personality in portraits for the years!

Summer Dream By Irene Ernhart

LOUIS FRENCH did not seem surprised at his daughter's abrupt decision to return home on once. "I hate to see you cut your visit short, Laurie, but I'm grateful you came. I don't suppose there'll ever be another summer like this, with just us two together."

"No," Laurie answered. "There won't ever be another summer like this." But she wasn't thinking of her father. She was thinking of Steve, who was fond of her, but not in love with her.

All the way up to Capitol City her thoughts flew in dismal circles. How could Steve have kissed her that way if he didn't love her? And if he did love her how could he let her go like this, knowing he would never see her again?

"What do you mean?" he asked. "I wish there was more time so that I could make you see—" Steve said. "I'm going to miss you, Laurie." He kissed her a quick, awkward, impersonal kiss.

ALL the way back to New York she kept going over the summer, day by day, and always she kept coming back to those words of Steve's. "Our marriage would be wonderful for a while, but then it would start going to pieces."

Mark and her mother met the plane in New York. Bruno had wired them. They knew the moment they saw Laurie that something was wrong.

Mark put his arms around her and kissed her. "You look wonderful, Laurie," he said heartily. "Have a nice summer?"

Steve had never before known how being in love with someone could hurt. She had never dreamed that she could ever be so confused and miserable.

Between rehearsals for their top-rated television show, "I Love Lucy," Desi Arnaz and Lucille Ball blithely cruise the waters around Balboa Beach, Cal. Boating is one of their favorite year-around pastimes.

"Yes, Mark, just lovely." "I don't think she looks wonderful at all, Mark," Emmy said when they were in the car and driving toward the apartment. "I don't know how we'll ever get your skin in shape by October, Laurie. And what has happened to your hair? You look positively unkempt."

"Don't badger her, Emmy. She looks fine to me," Mark interrupted. He changed the subject, for which Laurie was grateful. It had started to rain and the windshield wipers made little clacking noises above the murmur of Mark's voice as he talked to her mother in the front seat.

Looking at herself in the mirrored foyer of the apartment house they waited for the elevator, Laurie saw that she was very pale. She did look different somehow. Older? Wiser? Or just sadder?

SHE waited until Mark had fixed them each a drink before she told them she had decided not to marry Fletcher. She knew it would precipitate a scene. And it did. She did not tell them she was pregnant. "It's all Louise's doing. I knew it was a mistake for Laurie to go out there this summer. He's responsible for it. He did it to hurt me! He waited all these years!"

"Nonsense, Emmy. Louise couldn't hold a grudge 10 minutes and you know it," Mark put in. "Dad had nothing to do with it. Steve and I were drinking and I gulped her drink."

She was glad when she could escape and go to her own room. She went in and shut the door and went to the window and stood looking out. The rain had stopped now. "I think maybe it has," Laurie said.

National Issues Be Discussed By House Members

PORT WORTH — Twelve members of the House of Representatives have accepted invitations to discuss national political issues with people of the state in the second annual Texas Congressional Forum here Nov. 21, its sponsors announced Saturday.
This program, described as a modern version of the old-time Town Hall meeting, drew nearly 1,000 persons from more than 60 counties when it was inaugurated last year. Its sponsors are the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, the East Texas Chamber of Commerce, and the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce. The public is invited.

Representatives who have announced they will sit on the panel to answer the voters' questions are Omar Burleson, Anson; Jack B. Brooks, Beaumont; Martin Dies, congressman-at-large, Orange; John Dewey, Athens; O. C. Fisher, San Angelo; Brady Gentry, Tyler; Frank Ikard, Wichita Falls; Wingate Lucas, Grapevine; W. R. Poage, Waco; Ken Regan, Midland; Olin E. Teague, College Station; and J. Frank Wilson, Dallas.
Ed Gossett of Dallas, former congressman, will be the moderator. R. B. Anderson of Vernon will deliver the keynote address to preface the question-and-answer session. Herl E. Gouffroy, president of the Fort Worth Chamber, will preside.
The program will begin at 2 p.m. in the Texas hotel ballroom.

Christian Science

God has given man dominion over all the earth, and this heritage affords protection from evil. The Christian Science Lesson-Sermon titled "Adam and Fallen Man" to be read on Sunday brings this out.
Paul saw that Adam's mistake could not doom mankind, for Christ Jesus came to show us the way out of misery. The Golden Text is taken from Paul's letter to the Romans in which he says, "If by one man's offence death reigned by one; much more they which receive abundance of grace and of the gift of righteousness shall reign in life by one, Jesus Christ" (5:17).

Mary Baker Eddy, the author of the Christian Science textbook, asserts that only one of the records of creation in Genesis can be true, and says, "Popular theology takes up the history of man as if he began materially right, but immediately fell into spiritual sin; whereas revealed Religion proclaims the Science of Mind and its foundations as being in accordance with the first chapter of the Old Testament, when God, Mind, spoke and it was done" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, p. 557).

Orchids to Ann Dorris for the outstanding work she has done with the High School Band.
The twins, Dick and Ross Hodges, were at the game accompanied by their wives. Didn't see the younger Hodges twins though.
Mrs. W. P. Watkins looking exceptionally nice dressed in gray ensemble with black accessories.
Mr. and Mrs. Felton Brasler, chatting with an acquaintance.
Saw young Miss Ann Robinson at the game wearing a "beanie".
Cookie Kirkpatrick came prepared for the cold weather. She was wearing a white pullover.
Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Stiles having a little trouble finding the right seats.
Among the best dressed at the game was Mrs. Charles Hummel who chose a gray suit and green hat.
Mr. Homer Packwood opening the F&B Snack Shop door for Pop Ricker.
Mrs. John Tibbels going to Crawley & Tibbels Hardware.
Mrs. Buck Wallace driving her Ford to town.
Mrs. Tex Hargraves was seen on the streets.

What's the Use of an Abstract—

... if it doesn't cure the title? is another puzzling question to some abstractors, but we have never worried much about this one. Neither does the doctor's prescription cure human ills in all cases, but it may help. The abstract never was designed to cure anybody's title, but the better type of abstract will reveal the condition of the title and place it in position where it may be perfected, if necessary, by the examining attorney.

The educational exhibit, which has been viewed by more than 6,000,000 people, is next scheduled for appearances in Portland and Denver.

A-M Specialist Offers Hints On Tulip Bulbs

Now through December 15th is bulb planting time in Texas. Sodie Hatfield, assistant improvement specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at College Station, says October is considered the best month for planting most bulbs which can exist in cold weather.
Most bulbs grow best in fertile soil which is moist but well drained. The specialist says most bulbs will grow better in full sun, however many of them grow in the shade.
Prepare the soil by fertilizing with 5-10-5 for the sandy or light soil, and 16-20-0 for black land and potash-rich soils in West Texas. The specialist recommends one-half cup to each 25 square feet of soil. Add a tablespoon of bone meal and a cup of sand one or two inches beneath each bulb when placed in the soil.

The depth of planting depends on the size of the bulb. A large narcissus bulb may be planted seven to nine inches deep. Tulips are usually planted about seven inches, and bulbs of Dutch iris are smaller and planted four or five inches deep. Grape-hyacinth is still smaller and planted two to four inches deep. Iris which grow from rhizomes, are planted almost on top of the ground barely covered with soil. The crocus is planted only three inches deep. Place illis which root at the base of the bulb five inches deep in the soil.

On the first play Brunkenhoefer cut over right tackle then switched left down the center to get loose on a 33-yard touchdown jaunt. Gallacher's kick for the point was perfect.

Ranger Officer Is Commended In Army Award

Captain Norman E. Davenport, formerly of Ranger, last week received a Certificate of Achievement from Brigadier General Loyd M. Haynes, Commanding General of Camp Pickett, Va.

Davenport was commended for "establishing and implementing procedures which permitted efficient operation of 284 vehicles, of various types in operations involving 2,845 officers and 6,239 enlisted men." The procedures cited were in support of summer training of 14 organizations from July to September of this year. The citation concluded that Captain Davenport "reflected great credit upon himself and the military service."

Presently assigned as Operations Officer of the 16th Transportation Truck Battalion, stationed at Camp Pickett, Capt. Davenport recently returned from Korea where he was assigned to the 31st Field Artillery Battalion, 7th Infantry Division. He participated in the Inchon landing and received the Unit Meritorious Award as Company Commander of the 377th F.A. Bn.

During World War II, Capt. Davenport served with the 271st F.A. Bn. and the 1st Cavalry Division. He wears the Bronze Star, the Korean Presidential Citation, the Philippine Presidential Citation, the Asiatic-Pacific ribbon

With scores of families in the Ranger and surrounding area yet to be contacted, the two-week-old fund-raising effort of the Ranger Community Chest was $2,683 short of its $6,300 quota, President W. C. Whittle announced today at noon.

Combined cash and pledges early this morning according to a report from Miss Marjorie Maddocks, chest secretary, totaled $4,217. Of this figure cash contributions—including $75 in pledges converted into long green Thursday—aggregated $3,445. Latest pledge total: $772.

Chest leaders continued to urge volunteer workers to get reports in immediately in order that final drive plans may be mapped.

The solicitors are asked to present their reports at once to Miss Maddocks.

Proceeds from the current effort will be split among eight civic and charity groups to finance their vital activities in Ranger and the surrounding area during the coming year.

The beneficiaries include the Community Public Library, the Teen Canteen, Boy and Girl Scouts and the Child Welfare Club, all purely local organizations, and three other important national charities which are affiliated with the Community Chest and which render vital service to Ranger and its immediate vicinity—the American Red Cross, the United Service Organization, and the Salvation Army.

"Give Once for All" appeals President Whittle, "and let's get our quota filled now!"

Chest leaders are very anxious to complete the fund-raising campaign as soon as possible, Whittle said.

Memorial poppies, which will be worn to honor the war dead of Poppy Day are being fashioned by Thomas E. Shelby, Boling, Tex.; J. Mack Prescott, San Marcos, Tex.; and Fred C. Fulton, Cleveland, Miss., pictured from left to right. These veterans are among the number of veterans fashioning the poppy destined for families of veterans described as a flower of hope for disabled veterans and their families.

Auxiliary units of Eastland County posts of the American Legion will sell the poppies Saturday—tomorrow—Nov. 8. Contributions made on Poppy Day are the main source of support for the extensive activities for the welfare of disabled veterans and needy children of veterans that are carried out constantly by the Auxiliary.

The coins which people drop into the contribution boxes go to give comfort and cheer to disabled veterans in the ten VA and three contract bed hospitals in Texas. They make possible aid to families of veterans left destitute when the veterans are forced to undergo hospital treatment. Poppy Day contributions also work throughout the year for the welfare of children of veterans found in need, helping to keep homes together and to give these children a fair start in life.

The Double-Barrel Cross which appears yearly on the Christmas Seal was adopted as the international anti-TB emblem 50 years ago.

Whether there is water in the test well on the Northwest corner of the Courthouse square in Eastland, will likely be known today. Drillers encountered a very weak water sand at about 32 feet, it wasn't enough to do any good, so drilling was resumed. The hole is now 105 feet deep and no water as yet.

It is thought now that if a good supply of fresh water is not found that the hole will be abandoned at 120 feet, and the rig will be skidded to the Northeast corner of the Courtyard, and another test made. King Motor Co. in Eastland, has a good well, just across the street, and it is thought chances for water at the new location are very good.

Ex-Sheriff Williams, witness in Breck trial, bemoans $2 pay

The former sheriff of Eastland County was working in Breckenridge this week without much pay, The Breckenridge American reported late Thursday.

J. B. Williams of Gorman, a witness in the Horace Walker trial, was waiting in the district clerk's room Wednesday night.

"How much do I get for this trip up here?" he asked Lavada Evans, deputy.

"You get three cents a mile for coming up here and three cents a mile for going back, plus $2 a day," Miss Evans answered. "And we figure Gorman 49 miles."

"Well, that'll be at least a little more than four dollars a day."

Miss Evans corrected him. "I'm sorry, but the law doesn't provide the travel expense for more than one day, even if you carried the entire county by only a little more than 1,000 votes—in Tuesday's election. The Cisco boxes—county precincts Nos. 5 and 6—went for the GOP general 1,279 to 529 for Gov. Stevenson.

The Republican candidate also won an overwhelming majority of votes in Eastland's two boxes—1,973 to 619.

The county's third major population area—Ranger—went Democratic by a substantial margin with the city's two boxes giving Gov. Stevenson 831 votes to Eisenhower's lesser 682.

Another sizeable county community—Rising Star—also went Democratic with Stevenson receiving 345 votes to Ike's 252.

In the rural areas Pioneer voted Democratic, 55 to 33; Carbon favored Stevenson, 126 to 121; Okra went for Adlai, 37 to 21; Cook balloters were Demo, 12 to 8, and Sahanno voters cast 17 votes for the Democrat and 12 for Eisenhower.

Tuesday's record vote, County Clerk Love said, is unequalled in modern times. Prior heavy balloting, he reported, occurred during the oil boom era back in 1918, 1919 and 1920.

Tuesday's all-out balloting also topped last summer's election figures. A countywide 7,250-vote total was registered during the first primary election.

Song Meet Set For Sunday At Eastland Church

Singers from all over Eastland County are invited to attend the Second Sunday convention to be held at the First Christian Church in Eastland Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Kenneth Mayhall, president, announced today.

Of especial importance to those attending the Sunday song meet will be a discussion of a proposed state convention to be held in Eastland County sometime in January.

Other officers of the Second Sunday gospel song association are E. P. Robinson, vice president, and Mrs. W. E. Herweck, secretary-treasurer.

300 May Ride Grid Special

A gigantic pep rally will precede the departure of a hoisterous band of about 300 football fans who will leave Ranger Saturday at 12:45 noon aboard a special T&P train for Arlington and the Pioneer Conference grid scrap between the Ranger Junior College Rangers and the Arlington State College Rebels.

The game is slated for 8 p.m. at Arlington.

The RJC pep rally will be held at the Ranger depot beginning at 12:45 noon and will continue until departure time 29 minutes later.

The special train will arrive in Fort Worth at 3 and following a 30-minute stopover in that city for a switch in train cars, it'll chug into Arlington at 3:50 p.m., well in advance of game time that night.

The Arlington Chamber of Commerce has made arrangements to furnish transportation for 100 scores of Ranger fan followers who'll be aboard the special.

Tickets are still available for reservations aboard the train which will consist of half a dozen or more coaches and may be secured at the T&P depot.

The round-trip doesn't sell for $3.16.

The rail junkie is a joint project of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce and the board of regents of Ranger Junior College.

Slated to ride the train, in addition to many fans, are the Ranger High School band, the RJC band, and the Rangers football team.

The Rebels are slight favorites to win Saturday night's Pioneer Conference thriller, but Coach Boone Yarbrough, highly pleased over the grid special, is confident that his Purple & White charges will make a highly creditable showing against the ABC machine.

Special Day For Ranger At Stock Show

Ranger has been invited to have a special day at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, R. V. Galloway, secretary-manager of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce, announced today.

The letter received by the chamber was written by W. R. Watt, president-manager of the Fort Worth exposition. The invitation says:

Out here at the Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum we are busy with plans for the 1952 Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show. The '52 show was, in many ways, a record-breaker. This was made possible only through your splendid cooperation.

"We hope to present a still better show, Jan. 20 through Feb. 5, and to do this we need your help. Your city is invited to have a special 'day'. Name a Cowgirl Sweetheart, bring the band and a whoopingly enthusiastic caravan of citizens displaying badges and banners to publicize your city and your own rodeo, fair or other civic enterprise. You will all enjoy the trip and the publicity department will do its best to give advance publicity to your plans.

"The Stock Show is yours serving the livestock industry of the Southwest since 1896. We are counting on you and are awaiting your reply."

Olden Drops Two To Santo Quints

Santo took a couple from the Olden Hornets Thursday night, when they invaded the Olden High Gym with a bunch of good ball bawls.

The "B" game came to a fast finish with the Hornets trailing with a final score of Santo 54, and Olden 29.

In the "A" game Coach Weaver got what he was looking for—stiff competition for his boys, with Santo playing a neat floor game, with plenty of "know how" around the basket. They took the long end of the count, Santo 49 and Olden 33. High point honors for Santo went to Edwards with 11 points.

Betty Lambert Is Honor Student

Miss Betty Allen Lambert of Eastland has been named a member of Alpha Chi at East Texas State college. Alpha Chi is the national scholastic organization.

To be eligible for membership, a student must have at least an 88 average in grades and must rank in the upper ten per cent of the junior or senior class.

Mrs. Lambert is a senior elementary education major. She is a past president of Toanowee social club for women.

Janey Spencer Honored, T.C.U.

Miss Janey Spencer of Eastland, has been elected secretary-treasurer of the Inter-Club Council of Texas Christian University. Miss Spencer is a junior at the university.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Spencer of Eastland and is an education major. She is a member of the Leti and Froette clubs at the university.

Deadline Near For Overseas Mailing To GIs

The deadline for mailing packages and greetings for delivery to servicemen overseas by Christmas is Nov. 15, postmasters of Eastland County postoffices reminded patrons today.

The postal heads said that it is best to send both parcel post and Christmas cards by air mail. They said overseas parcels are limited to two pounds.

Other points to remember in mailing overseas packages follow:

1. Address should be easy to read and it should include the recipient's full name, serial number, branch of service, organization, and correct A.P.O.
2. Include sender's name and address inside all packages.
3. All parcels should be securely wrapped and tied with strong cord. Use heavy corrugated cartons for added protection.
4. Some foods may be sent overseas. But don't mail perishable items. Valuable overseas gifts should be registered or insured.

Boosters' Variety Show' Is Planned For November 13

The annual variety show of the Ranger High Band Boosters will be presented in the high school auditorium on Thursday, Nov. 13, at 7:30 p.m., it was announced this morning.

The 1952 show, planned to be the "biggest and best presented," will feature a large array of stellar talent, according to A. G. Koenig, president of the group.

Tickets for the '52 affair, he said, are scheduled to go on sale tonight during the Cisco-Ranger football game at Bulldog Stadium.

City Hotel Has Only One Guest On Roll Today

Early Friday morning a 35-year-old man, wearing a lead shirt but his identity unknown, staggered down the T&P Railway track in mid-Ranger drunker than Who-Shot-John.

When he saw Police Chief V. G. Powers white up in an RFD patrol car, he froze and raised his hands above his head.

The Ranger Chief walked up to the inebriated gent, got a strong whiff of alcohol, and asked: "What's wrong with you?"

"Ray, boy, boy, am I drunk?" the guy answered. And a few minutes later he was led into one of the air-conditioned (in winter) rooms of the very private and secluded hotel which is operated jointly by the City of Ranger and the Ranger Police Department.

His bill will amount to exactly $15.76 when he finally sobers up sometime this afternoon.

And that's the only arrest reported in these days by the local pendarms who report that peace and quiet currently reigns on the police front.

Rummage Sale Here Saturday

A large stock of clothing items will be offered during the rummage sale to be staged in the Old Quality Grocery Store quarters in the Marston Building, in downtown Ranger, Saturday.

The all-day event is being held under sponsorship of the women of the First Christian Church of Ranger.

Final Rites For Thomas Russell Are Held Today

Funeral services for Thomas R. Russell, 77-year-old former Ranger resident, were held at the Russell home in Colorado City this morning at 10 a.m.

Mr. Russell died in a Colorado City hospital Wednesday afternoon.

Another funeral service for the ex-Eastland citizen was held in Haskell this afternoon with interment following in the Haskell Cemetery.

Mr. Russell, born in Wise County, Texas, came to Ranger in 1918 from Haskell and was a partner in the old Jones, Cox & Company hardware firm, predecessors of the present Killingsworth Furniture & Hardware. He sold his interest in the business to the late J. Thomas Killingsworth prior to moving to Colorado City in 1924.

He was engaged in the hardware business in Colorado City for several years and later became an agent for the Fort Worth Star-Telegram. He retired from business activity four years ago.

Survivors include his wife and a son, Wayne Russell, both of Colorado City.

Rotarians Plan Attendance At District Meet

Morris Newsbain, president of the Ranger Rotary Club, and Ted St. Clair, also a member of the group, will attend the district conference of Rotary International to be held in Fort Worth next Monday and Tuesday.

A group of elementary students of Mrs. Harris appeared before the Ranger Rotarians and offered a musical program during the civic group's noon luncheon at the Goshen Hotel Wednesday.

One visitor was present for the session—Mr. Fry of Cisco—who was a guest of James Battiff.

President Newsbain urged all local Rotarians to attend the district conference in Fort Worth.

Walker Trial Is In Third Day

The Horace Walker trial, now under way in Breckenridge, went into its third day of testimony and procedure when court opened at 9 a.m. today.

The prosecution rested its case last night at 7:30 p.m.—the second night session—and jurors spent their second night together.

Walker is charged with felony embezzlement of tax money from Eastland County and the jurors are required to remain together until the case is completed, not expected before Saturday at the earliest.

Defense attorneys Thursday presented a motion for the court to instruct the jury to return a verdict of not guilty, but were overruled by 9th District Judge Floyd Jones.

Sixty witnesses were present in court Thursday morning, but only 11 have been called so far. Only five or six spectators were present.

The 11 witnesses are all former or present officials of Eastland County. This is one of four cases pending against Walker and all growing out of Walker's employment by Eastland County as a special collector of delinquent taxes.

Involved in this case is $200. The prosecution charges that Walker collected $475 from Lucille Manuill of Cisco but turned it to the tax collector's office only $275.

The defense has attempted to show that the $200 went for the cost of collecting that money as well as other costs.

For the last two days a truck load of evidence has been sitting at the backdoor of the courthouse, and the participants in the trial have spent most of the two days examining documents and contracts in the case.

The trial began Wednesday. A

Charles Veale Is President Of Elementary 4-H

Charles Veale, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Veale of Route 2, Ranger was elected President of the Hodges-Oak Park 4-H Club at the monthly meeting held at the Hodges Oak Park school November 4.

Other officers elected were Vice-President Jimmy Swinney, 11, son of John C. Swinney, 712 Sixth Street, and Secretary Vernon Sorger, 12, son of Mrs. Mae Sorger, 821 Spring Road.

Before the election, the 35 members filled out enrollment cards and entered their projects for the coming year's activities. There will be six swine projects, four cattle projects, eight home gardens, thirteen farm flocks and two rabbits under the management of 4-H Club boys. Several boys who live in town where it is difficult to have a farm project have promised to improve their yards in order to be eligible for admission to the 4-H Club.

Not To Be Fooled

MILWAUKEE—Drunk drivers who chew chlorophyll chewing gum to kill alcoholic breath may fool police officers in some cities but not here, Police Chief John Polcyn said "we have 20 other tests besides the 'nose test' and the drivers have to pass them all."

Eastland Vote Sets Record

Fair And Mild Is Forecast For Today, Saturday

Eastland County weather still is in the bone-dry rut.

The weatherman's forecast for today and Saturday offered no encouragement for badly needed moisture.

The forecast this morning calls for fair and mild weather for the two days with daytime high temperatures in the upper 70s. Tonight the mercury is expected to dip into the upper 40s.

In the meantime reports indicate that Texas and area drought conditions, aided only slightly by light drizzles Tuesday night, continue to be extremely serious.

Fall and winter feed prospects along some row crops continue to deteriorate, and the drought situation now is causing concern over much of the nation and is being likened to former disaster years.

The economic condition of many farmers and ranchmen in Eastland County and the West Texas area is critical—with rainfall abnormally low for the third straight year.

Eastland County voters—who flocked to the area's 26 voting precincts in throngs totaling more than 8,000 strong—set a new balloting record in Tuesday's general election, Virgil Love, Eastland County clerk, reported Thursday.

An official canvass of the ballots cast in the presidential election in the county's 26 precincts will be officially canvassed at the regular session of the Eastland County Commissioner's court when it convenes in the county seat capital next Monday. Following the check by the county governing body, the results of Tuesday's balloting then will be forwarded to the secretary of state at Austin.

TUDOR SMALLEST

Smallest precinct vote was in the Tudor box where a total of only 12 ballots were cast. Ten of his voters supported Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower with only two votes for Democrat Gov. Stevenson.

Flargest box in the county—precinct 2, Cisco—reported a total of 1,559 ballots cast during Tuesday's record-setting voting. The box was overwhelmingly pro-Eisenhower—1014 to 545.

Cisco led the county in total vote with 2,032 ballots cast in the two boxes in that city. Ciscoans gave Eisenhower an overwhelming 750-vote majority—he carried the entire county by only a little more than 1,000 votes—in Tuesday's election. The Cisco boxes—county precincts Nos. 5 and 6—went for the GOP general 1,279 to 529 for Gov. Stevenson.

The Republican candidate also won an overwhelming majority of votes in Eastland's two boxes—1,973 to 619.

The county's third major population area—Ranger—went Democratic by a substantial margin with the city's two boxes giving Gov. Stevenson 831 votes to Eisenhower's lesser 682.

Tarleton State Homecoming Is Set Nov. 21-22

A two-day homecoming celebration at Tarleton State College at Stephenville has been set for Nov. 21-22. A huge bonfire and pep rally on the Tarleton campus Friday night, Nov. 21, will kick off activities. Saturday's program calls for a parade, football game, ex-students dinner, and dance. Clubs on the campus will honor their ex-members with a Sunday morning breakfast. The parade line, to form at 10 a.m., will include the college band, cadet corps, high school bands, the National Guard, boy scouts, girl scouts, decorated cars and floats.

The Tarleton State-Arlington State football game has been scheduled for 2 p.m. In half-time ceremonies a Tarleton co-ed will be crowned homecoming queen. After the game in traditional ceremony, the silver bangle will be awarded the winning team. Miss May Jones, homecoming chairman and secretary of the ex-students association, will register ex-students in the college recreation hall Saturday morning. They will be the guests of the Tarleton Student Council at a dance Saturday night, and Col. Earl Rudder, former Plovoy star and head coach, will address the ex-students at a dinner in the college dining hall at 6:30 p.m. Saturday.

Water Parley At Austin On November 20-21

The University of Texas at Austin will be the scene November 20-21 of a conference on legal aspects of the state's growing water problems. Sponsors are the university's Law School and an advisory committee composed of Chairman Arthur P. Duggan, Jr., Littlefield; W. O. Fortenberry, New Deal; W. S. Gideon, Austin; J. Evette Halley, Canyon; John D. McCall, Dallas; John A. Mohley, Corpus Christi; R. Richard Roberts, Houston; and W. P. White, Baytown.

DRY AS A BONE (OF CONTENTION)—When the prolonged summer drought brought a prediction from Price Stabilizer Ellis Arnall that prices are about to "get out of hand," Secretary of Agriculture Charles Brannan declared it wasn't true. Making it a three-way intra-Administration controversy, Commerce Secretary Charles Sawyer said his department has no widespread price increases. Highlights of the survey's findings are shown in Newswrap above. Some of Arnall's supporters feel that the survey tends to support the Price Stabilizer's contentions.

The conference will center on the need for revision of surface water laws, Law School Dean W. Page Keeton said. Approximately a fourth of the meeting time, however, will be devoted to ground water discussions, although Texas ground water laws are considered fairly satisfactory. Conference speakers will present basic scientific and legal facts in lay language about Texas water problems. Those making arrangements decided that it was not the province of the conference to provide proposed statutes for legislative consideration, but rather to give the state's citizens the facts of Texas water problems so they can make their wishes known when new laws or law revisions are considered, Dean Keeton explained. The program, still tentative, calls for two days of speeches, with a question and answer period held at the end of the last address each day. Approximately half the speeches will deal with scientific facts about state water problems, the other talks presenting legal facts. A conference banquet is planned Thursday evening, Nov. 20. An outbreak of typhus in Naples during 1943-44 was stopped by spraying with DDT to kill disease-carrying lice. It was the first time in history, says the National Geographic Society, that such an epidemic was thus halted.

By the time those fresh vegetables are on your dinner plate, as much as 40% of the all important B vitamin will be destroyed, according to the American Medical Association's Handbook of Nutrition. Heat, air and water destroy these necessary energy-building elements. There's no way of cooking food, without destroying much of its nutritive value. Even less energy builders are in restaurant food, from which vitamins may be steamed away for hours before it is eaten. Animals would die quickly if they had to survive on the foods most people eat every day, according to Dr. Robert R. Williams, one of the world's greatest nutrition authorities. Government surveys show vitamin starvation occurs in all income groups. There are few today who suffer from obvious malnutrition, but hidden hunger is reflected in lack of energy, fatigue, restlessness, a tired feeling and similar symptoms. It's necessary to eat as many raw foods as can be squeezed into the menu, and little water should be used in double boilers and pressure cookers. With all these precautions, much of the B vitamins will still be destroyed. So for most people, a daily vitamin supplement has become a good idea. Speaking of vitamin supplements Dr. Williams says "Many scientists use them and feel they benefit from them." Most generally indicated, however, is an all-purpose vitamin which, as in the case of the Rybital formula for example, contains 22 vitamins and minerals in sufficient high doses to meet the needs of the average person.

DOWN THE DRAIN GOES YOUR ENERGY

STEVE, Laurie and her father had gone fishing. Louis French had left his daughter and Steve to fish up the river beside an old log. Steve sat with his hat tilted over his face and his head resting against the enormous trunk of an old sycamore tree. "You know, Steve," Laurie said thoughtfully, "there's more to you than any man I've ever known. You're so different somehow." "I'll miss you, Laurie," Steve said. "You'll be leaving before long now I suppose." She looked at him, reclining against the tree-trunk, probably half asleep under that old hat and neither knowing or caring what turn the conversation took. "You won't miss me," she said tonelessly. "Yes I will, Laurie," he insisted. "There's more to you than I ever dreamed. This summer has been wonderful. It's going to be downright boring without you around." "You didn't mean those things you said that night, did you?" "What things?" "About my being a spoiled brat, and that I should go back to my own kind. What did you mean by 'my own kind'?" "Oh I don't know, Laurie. I've thought about that night a lot of times since, and I'm sorry I talked to you that way. If it's not too late, I apologize." He tilted his hat back and grinned at her. "Do you remember the way you kissed me?" Steve's grin faded. He got up suddenly and went over and began to reel in the line of his fishing pole. "Yes," he said after a moment. "I remember that too." "Oh, Steve!" she cried. He turned around to look at her. She had picked up a stick and was marking in the soft mud sand. He stared at the three words, "LAURIE LOVES STEVE."

DOWN THE DRAIN GOES YOUR ENERGY

Summer Dream

LAURIE overheard her father the next day telling Mrs. Jenner that she had better save the fable scraps to feed to Steve's hunting dog Cass. "Has Steve gone?" Laurie asked. Her father smiled as he went back to his trawling before he answered. "Decided all of a sudden he'd take a canoe trip down the river to Cairo. Been threatened to do it for three or four summers now, but I don't know what came over him to make him jump into it so sudden like." "How long will he be gone?" It was silly to feel so desolate at the thought of Steve's being gone. "A week, maybe longer." She walked the length of the garden, staring with unseeing eyes at the rose hedges. The turf was like velvet and the smell of the roses like nectar. She came back to where her father was. "Steve was furious with me last night," she admitted, "but it wasn't my fault." "Of course it wasn't your fault that you fell asleep. Steve knew that. But the thing he was thinking of, Laurie, was that if Mrs. Jenner or someone had happened to see you leaving his house at that hour of the morning, it wouldn't have looked very good. He was thinking of you. And himself. He's well liked and respected here in Ridgeville, and you know how small towns are. Well, I don't suppose you do." "He was probably afraid of what Evelyn Crane might think," Steve said. "My dear child," her father said. He stood up, brushing the dirt from his hands and looking at her keenly. "You sound like a jealous woman." "I'm not jealous." "Considering the fact that you've engaged you seem singularly interested in Steve's relationship with Evelyn Crane." "I'm not. But he had no right to

Steve returned at the end of the week, more bronzed than ever, and he seemed so glad to see Laurie as she was to see him. He came up for dinner the first night he was home and told all about the trip. Later he and Laurie sat on the front porch as though they had never spoken angry words to each other. He told her about the book he was writing. "Evelyn's typing each chapter as I get it finished. She thinks it sounds good. Of course, she doesn't know a great deal about the Civil War. She teaches home economics, you know." THE next day Laurie rummaged in her father's library for books about the Civil War. It became important all at once that she know something about it. Steve was interested in fly-tying too, and she found a book on that subject and tried to understand it. She was falling in love with Steve Wyson. It should have been obvious to her from the beginning, but it hadn't been. It was so different from any other time she had thought herself in love. It wasn't kisses and moonlight and words. It was just a confused, terrifying, painful longing every time she thought of Steve or was with him. This time it was real and sure and forever. And part of her confusion and pain lay in the fact that Steve behaved only friendly. Nothing more. The weeks went by swiftly. Too swiftly, Laurie's father had been some of his roses in a flower show at Capitol City and brought home some blue ribbons. Steve's bird dog Cass had puppies. Evelyn Crane and Johnny came out to Steve's and Laurie and her father went down to join them for a swim and a winner roast on the big sandbar by the swimming hole. And then one day something happened that changed everything. (To Be Continued) they're an ingrained part of you. You've never had to do without anything." It was fantastic that she and Steve should be standing here saying these things to each other when all she wanted was for him to hold her, to feel his lips against hers, his arms about her. "You'd better go back to New York, Laurie." He said it bravely. "You said once you didn't want to make a mistake like you might have done. Don't you realize you would be exactly the same sort of a mistake?" It came over her like thunder. He really wanted her to go back to New York. He didn't really love her. She had thrown herself at him, and he felt terribly, terribly sorry for her because he was the sort of a person who would. He was good and kind and tender and he hated to hurt her. "You see, Laurie," Steve went on, gently now. "Once you're back in New York this will all seem like a dream to you—a summer dream." "No." The word fell like a wounded bird between them. The sun went under a cloud and the world seemed dark. "THIS is something you'll get over, Laurie. It's a crazy unreasonable thing. You know it as well as I do." He took his forefinger and tipped up her chin and got out his handkerchief and dabbed at his blinking eyes. "Crazy or unreasonable, maybe, she thought, but she wouldn't ever get over it. "If you thought anything at all of me, Steve, you couldn't send me away." He was patient with her, as he would have been with one of his pupils in school. "Our marriage would be wonderful for a while, but then it would start going to pieces." After a long, long silence she gave him a wavy smile. So she'd made a fool of herself. She'd better pull herself together now. "Okay. If that's really the way you feel about it." She reached out the toe of a small yellow sandal and scratched out the words she had written in the sand. NEWS FROM CHEANEY

Mrs. Bill Tucker
The first word that greeted us as we stepped from the bus Saturday morning upon our return from the National Home Demonstration Council Convention in Raleigh, N.C., last week was "Where is the Cheney News this week?" I'll confess, Mrs. Quinn, that we left home for a few days and didn't gather any news. Now we are trying to catch up.

Our newest citizen is the baby son of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. (Jack) Blackwell, who has not, at this reporting, been named. He weighed 6 and one-half pounds.

Mr. and Mrs. Pen Freeman were in San Antonio this past week to bring home his mother, Mrs. J. H. Freeman who has been visiting relatives there. The Freemans returned Sunday night.

Pvt. Clinton Strickler writes his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Strickler from Camp Edwards near Boston.

Pvt. Arnold Ainsworth from Camp Folk, La. spent a three-day pass here with his brother, Mon-rose, and family and in Ranger with his father, John Ainsworth.

Bob Revel, who has been employed in Kansas spent the week end here with Mrs. Revel and daughter and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Revel.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Underwood from Fort Worth spent the past week with the Will Underwoods and other relatives. Also here for an indefinite stay are the Dave Moreheads from Snyder who expect to establish themselves here. Mrs. Morehead is the former Nadine Underwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Junior Hart are expected to return to Eastland county upon his release from prison in Alaska. Mr. Hart and sons returned to base in Florida to be with him until his release.

Those attending the F. B. annual county convention Monday night were Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Freeman, Mr. and Mrs. John Love, Mrs. Bill Tucker and Theibert Jones.

Noticed Wilson Gunst, Nick Crawford, Pat Thomas and Dr. W. P. Watkins walking on the street together. Not far behind them, saw Drs. Calvin Harris and John White. Among those in Betty's Flower Shop to get a carnation or a rose were Rex Hol-lung and his girl friend from Ranger Junior College. They drove off with Ross Nail, also from RIC.

Mrs. Iva Mae Hooks driving to work wearing a black dress with rose colored short jacket. Mrs. Clyde Boyd and Frances Goswick crossing the street going to work. Saw Mrs. Max Starr leave the

OBESEITY INCREASING NATIONAL PROBLEM, EXPERTS DECLARE

Overweight not only shortens life but it may also handicap the individual socially, economically and psychologically, according to statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. The adverse effects of overweight on health begin to be evident in the earlier years of life, but they show up more and more as the individual moves along in life.

The fat girl is often the wall-flower and is usually less popular as a "date." As she gets older her chances for marriage are less than for her thinner rivals.

Fat persons of both sexes are handicapped in finding jobs, either through self-consciousness or because employers prefer applicants of normal weight.

Even the overweight adult may not be the jolly individual he is usually pictured. His weight is sometimes a reflection of his feeling of inadequacy and an inclination to obtain pleasure from eating rather than normal social intercourse.

Severe as the personality handicaps may be, the major penalty of overweight is its effect on health. The list of diseases brought on or made worse by overweight is a long one.

Overweights suffer more frequently and earlier from the major chronic conditions than do persons of normal weight. An example is hypertension, or high blood pressure. A study of Metropolitan home office employees showed that at ages 55 to 64, the percentage with high blood pressure was 26 for persons of heavy build, 15 for the medium and 9 for the light build. At ages 45 to 54 the percentages were 45, 31, and 29.

Diabetes is the most striking penalty of overweight. A study of thousands of diabetic patients at the George F. Baker Clinic showed that among those whose disease began at ages past 40, 45 percent previously had been overweight in some degree, and 50 percent had been markedly overweight.

The common adage about gull-

An Intelligent Woman Can Be Beautiful, Too

A woman does not have to have beautiful features provided that she has an "inner glow," claims John Robert Powers, the man who made "Power's model" synonymous with glamour. "Inner glow," says Powers in a recent interview, is the difference between a girl with beautiful features and a girl with beauty.

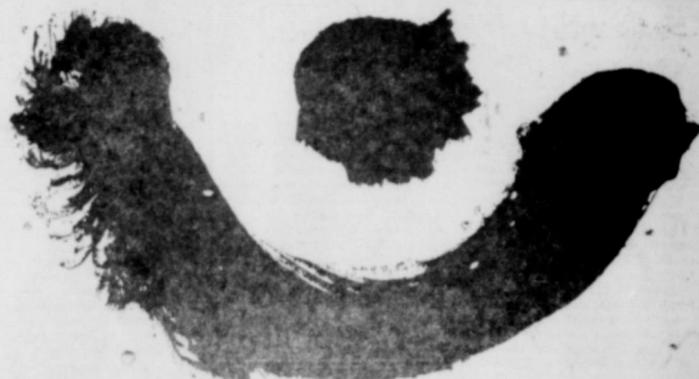

Asked who would notice the "inner glow" if the outer facade was unattractive, Powers replied, "But why should it be? If a woman has 'inner glow' she is intelligent. If she is intelligent, she will not have the slightest difficulty in acquiring outer beauty." Following are some of Powers' suggestions:

by physicians and health educators to this aspect of the problem, and new methods, such as group therapy, are being developed and tested which aim at helping overweights obtain insight into the underlying cause of their condition. Once this is accomplished, the chances are better for obtaining the patients cooperation in sustained efforts to bring and keep his weight down.

tips on how you can be "intelligently beautiful."
First, stop treating your body as if you thought it unattractive. Take your head out of your shoulders, your shoulders out of your waist, your waist out of your hips; stand tall. Back up to a wall in sight of a full-length mirror. When you've attained the proper posture you'll find that your hand will just barely fit between the small of your back and the wall—your hips are tucked under, your head is straight and high, and you look all of one piece.

Next, try the model's stance, that "twist" that puts curve and perspective to work in showing the body to its best advantage. Drop your weight onto the ball of your right foot, pointing that foot slightly to the right side; relax your left knee and tuck your left heel into the instep of your right foot, at about a 45-degree angle so the forward (left) foot points straight ahead. Now—turn your hips to the right until they present their slimmest angle. Turn your shoulders toward the front, not full but enough to play up the curve of the breast. Tilt the top of your head back just a little so that your neck is not accor-dioned.

Local Boy Is Member Of Fraternity

Jack Waddington, son of Mrs. L. S. Waddington of Ranger, is a member of the Falcon Fraternity, a local social organization at North Texas State College.

National fraternities have only recently been permitted to install chapters on the North Texas Campus.

Kappa Sigma is one of the nation's strongest and oldest college fraternal organizations.

Waddington is a senior student, majoring in English and education. He is also a member of Sigma Tau Delta, a national English honorary society. He is twenty years old and attended Ranger High School and Ranger Junior College where he was active in school organizations and activities.

Waddington, along with approximately 40 of his fraternity brothers, will be installed as members of Kappa Sigma on November 9.

Dorcas Class Meeting In Byas Home

Members of the Dorcas Class of the First Baptist Church met in the home of Mrs. J. F. Byas Thursday afternoon for a social. Mrs. E. J. Taylor, president, presided at the meeting and Mrs. W. W. Mitchell led the invocation.

Mrs. O. L. Robinson gave an interesting and inspirational devotional on "Women of Destiny." The closing prayer was led by Mrs. Lillie Applegate. It was announced that the next meeting would be held in the home of Miss Ethel Adams, December 5.

The hostess served refreshments of sandwiches, pumpkin pie and coffee to the following guests: Mmes. J. M. Robinson, Applegate, Minnie L. Shirley, Joe Bussey, W. W. Mitchell, P. C. Long, O. L. Robinson, Hugh Dawley, W. P. Fowell, Taylor, Ethel Adams and Byas.

Stephens College Concert Chorus To Give Program

Members of the 200-voice Stephens College Concert Chorus will present a 30-minute program on Sunday, November 16 over the Mutual network.

This is the fourth consecutive year that the chorus has been heard over a national network. Miss Margaret Colby is director of the group and Miss Marilyn Hanna is accompanist.

The program, which will originate on the Stephens Campus, will include songs by Bach, Schutz, Elgar and Beethoven. The Chorus will also sing a group of folk songs; "Summer Evening," a Finnish folk song; and Two Dutch Carols.

Miss Betty Lou Hagaman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Hagaman, is a member of the concert chorus.

What's the Use of an Abstract—

... if it doesn't cure the title? is another puzzling question to some abstracters, but we have never worried much about this one! Neither does the doctor's prescription cure human ills in all cases, but it may help. The abstract never was designed to cure anybody's ills, but the better type of abstract will reveal the condition of the title and place it in position where it may be perfected, if necessary, by the examining attorney.

Thanksgiving Service To Be November 23

The joint Thanksgiving service for Ranger churches will be held November 23 at 8:30 p.m. in the First Methodist Church according to the Rev. Ralph E. Perkins, president of the Ranger Ministerial Alliance. The Rev. James Ward, pastor of the Second Baptist Church, will deliver the message.

The complete program will be announced within the next few days and the ministers will meet at 7:00 a.m. Monday morning at the Regal cafe to discuss final plans. Mr. Perkins stated that all the pastors in Ranger, who wish to make this a finer and cleaner city in which to live, are welcome to attend the meetings and joint services.

"The Ministerial Alliance is for the purpose of strengthening the Christian fellowship among the ministers and churches of Ranger without trying to destroy the personal rights of religious liberty and the right to worship God according to the dictates of their own consciences," Mr. Perkins added.

1920 Club Meets Thursday

Mrs. C. B. Pruet presided at the meeting of the 1920 Club when members met Thursday afternoon, November 6 at the Community Club House. The program "Happiness Through Helping Others," was a continuation of the course of study for the year "The Achievement of Happiness." Mrs. Sannie Eberstein, leader, told of the Austrian people and how they achieved happiness from the beauty of the land and how it was reflected in their art and music.

Mrs. G. D. Nicholson gave a brief description of Austria and the highlights of its history. Mrs. H. L. Coady discussed the Aid to Austria project which has been adopted by the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs. The 1920 Club has had a part in sending clothes and toys to the Austrian orphanages.

Those present were Mmes. Coady, L. A. Fabian, Ross Hodges, J. F. Killingsworth, M. L. King, A. N. Larson, Garland Lavender, J. S. McDowell, Nicholson, Perlinette, C. B. Pruet, Lynn Robbins, G. B. Rush, W. W. Smith, B. A. Tunnell and H. X. Wallace.

Laymen's Week Scheduled At First Baptist

Dr. Marshall E. Jolly, president of the Brotherhood of the First Baptist Church has announced that Laymen's Week at the church has been set for November 16-23. The evening service on the 16th will have the men of the church as directors including the leadership places in the Training Union. A full choir of men under the direction of a laymen will furnish the music.

Jimmy Jackson, said to be an outstanding laymen from Greenville and a member of the state executive board, will launch "Laymen's Week." On Monday evening November 17, a Mexican dinner will be served to 125 men in the lower auditorium after which a program will be presented.

On the following Wednesday night, the men will again fill all the spots of the mid-week service including officers and teachers meeting and choir practice. The week will be conducted on the next Sunday with a "Lay Pastor" in the pulpit at the 11:00 a.m. service.

Young School Has Festivities

Students at Young School went all out last week to entertain their parents during the Halloween festivities. Pupils in the sixth grade and their parents had a turkey roast Thursday night at Wilcox Park and members of the fifth grade were complimented at a party in the home of Mrs. D. A. Weems.

Room mothers of the fourth grade served refreshments in the room and second and third grade students entertained their mothers with a musical program followed by refreshments. The first grade youngsters entertained their mothers and then served a refreshment plate.

Mrs. Ralph E. Perkins and daughters, Pati and Kaye are in Abilene today to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Newman. Mrs. Perkins was accompanied by Mrs. W. W. Jowers and son, Carroll.

Two world wars reduced Germany from a great European empire to a western European country smaller in size than France. After World War I it lost territory to Poland, Denmark, and France, and was forced to give up possessions in Africa and the Pacific. Germany was chopped up still more after World War II.

Lamps Aid Winter Sun in Growing Window Garden

Winter gardening methods have been greatly improved by research in the effectiveness of artificial light on plant growth. It is possible for any one to have flowering plants in the house, even though a sunny window is not available.

By using a photographic light meter, which nearly all amateur photographers now possess, you can check the light from your best window to see whether the daylight is adequate for the plants you wish to grow.

An intensity of 50 foot candles for twelve hours a day is sufficient to develop the flowers of bulbs, such as tulips, daffodils, Paper White narcissi, lily of the valley, and anemones. To measure the light that falls on the place where your plants can be kept, lay two sheets of white paper flat, one above the other. Hold a Weston light meter six inches above the paper, being careful not to cast a shadow. Multiply the meter reading by four and you will have approximately the foot-candles of light available to your plants.

The bulbs take less light than other flowering pot plants, which need about 500 foot candles each 12 hours, and should not be attempted except in a south window, which enjoys direct sunlight or a light east, west or north window which receives the full reflected light of the sky.

Temperature is important in growing indoor flowers, next to light. There is more trouble from high temperatures than from low. Here windows which do not face south enjoy an advantage. Plants can be kept close to the glass, where the temperature is more stable, and usually much cooler than in the center of the room. An ideal temperature for flowering plants would be 60 degrees, with humidity of 60-70 but most of the subjects which amateurs grow are tolerant of a considerable range. When the average temperature rises much higher than 70 degrees during the day and 65 at night, soft growth, with weak stems, is likely. Never allow plants to stand on a radiator, or near one. Humidity may be increased by keeping saucers or pans of water near the plants.

Watering is the third important factor affecting plants. The old fashioned method of soaking the soil with water, then allowing it to dry out, is still the best one. As the soil dries, air enters, ensuring the roots necessary oxygen. When methods of automatic watering are used, there may be danger of keeping the soil saturated, so that air is excluded.

If a large pan can be provided holding two or three inches of sand, pots can stand on this sand, and if water is kept standing just below the bottom of the pot, moisture will be taken up by the pot as needed. Another way is to insert in the pot, through the drainage hole at the bottom, a wick of fibre glass, or a piece of clothes line. If the top of the wick is imbedded in the soil, and the bottom drops into a pan of water, the soil will be kept moist without saturation. To arrange either of these devices requires some ingenuity, but it can be done at small expense.

Larry Parks Making Good After Admitting He Was A Communist

HOLLYWOOD — Larry Parks, who courted theatrical ruin by admitting he once was a Communist, is working hard to rebuild his career, and he thinks his troubles may turn out to be a valuable experience.

The soft-spoken actor was one of the top young stars in Hollywood when he walked into a congressional hearing last year and confessed that he belonged to the Communist party from 1941 to 1945.

When he walked out, he didn't even have a job. A lot of people in filmland expected him and his actress-wife Betty Garrett to drop out of sight after the roof caved in on them, but Parks, who re-created the life of the late Al Jolson on the screen, never lost faith that audiences would forgive his mistake.

Went On Summer Tour And now he's convinced that he was right.

He jacked up his courage and went out to face the public in vaudeville and summer stock with his wife. Their act was a hit, and recently they played at a swank hotel-casino in Las Vegas. "I was scared to death, but it was wonderful," Parks said. "The piece was sold out every night, which always makes an actor very happy."

Next on the Parks' agenda is a play "Anonymous Lover," in which they will co-star. They're putting up their own money to produce the show, which will open in Rochester, N.Y., next month.

Broadened His Scope Parks said that being dropped by his studio and forced to turn to the stage has broadened his scope as a performer.

"I'm so pleased that I've been forced to do things I never would have done if I'd stayed in pictures. From a professional standpoint, I feel that I've made a lot of progress. I'm doing the kind of things I always wanted to do but otherwise never would have done."

No audience has tried to throw Parks' past back in his face, which makes his future look much brighter than it did a year ago. But he's keeping his fingers crossed. "Who knows what the future holds," he said.

Hunters Urged To Check Fire

The Executive Secretary of the Game and Fish Commission in Austin said cooperation of hunters and outdoorsmen generally is needed to avert a catastrophe to woods and forest from fire.

He said the woods and fields in most of the state have been reduced to extreme inflammability by the prolonged drought. He added that some fires already have caused great property loss as well as tragic loss to wildlife.

The Executive Secretary quoted a letter from the Texas Forest Service to emphasize his appeal. The letter, signed by D. A. Anderson, head of the Forestry & Education Department, said in part:

"Of increasing importance are the fires attributed to hunters. The fires charged to hunters are no doubt caused through negligence but nonetheless they are increasing our fire problem.

"... I felt that you could possibly assist us immeasurably by calling attention to hunters to the condition which presently prevails in the East Texas area and asking them to take every possible precaution in preventing fires. Not only are the forest resources at stake, but the wildlife as well.

"I assure you that any help you can give will be sincerely appreciated. It is urgent of course that action be taken as soon as our problem is now critical."

The executive secretary suggested that Texans in the field can prove their understanding of the peril to conservation by not only preventing fires but by offering to help control any fires they may encounter.
