Californians Purchase Ranger's Paramount Hotel

One of Ranger's most valuable downtown properties—the Paramount Hotel, located at the corner of Main and Austin Streets—switched ownership in another major real estate transaction closed over the weekend, it was disclosed late Tuesday.

Completion of the deal which involved transfer from Robert Eddins to Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Mc-

Neil of El Cerrito, Calif., marked the second time the modern 55-room hotel has been sold since late September. On Oct. 1 Eddins, who came here from Amarillo, had purchased the property from its former owner, Eldred Thomas, of Dallas at an undisclosed price.

The McNeils took over possession and operation of the hotel, originally erected at a cost of $250,000, Sunday, it was announced.

The hotel, one of the finest in this section of the state, features wall-to-wall carpeting, gleaming ceramic tile baths and modern air-conditioning.

The new owners, who have been operating a restaurant in El Cerrito, Calif., and the Alta Motel in Tyler, will make their home in one of the apartments in the hotel. Mr. McNeil is expected to arrive in Ranger today from Tyler to join his wife and their 5-year-old twins, Patricia and Gerald.

The Tyler property, Mrs. McNeil said, has been transferred to Eddins, having been involved in the Paramount transaction.

The new owners also acquired the coffee shop, located on the ground level with entrances from Austin and Main Streets, in conjunction with the purchase of the hotel property.

The Paramount is the Ranger Greyhound bus station and is also headquarters for direct-wire Western Union telegraph service. Bus tickets are sold at the desk of the lobby of the hotel at the entrance, 220 Main Street.

Greyhound buses arrive and depart at a special reserved area on the Austin Street side of the hotel at the entrance of the Paramount Coffee Shop which is open daily from 5:30 a. m. to 10 p. m.

Total employee personnel of the Paramount Hotel and Coffee Shop is comprised of 13 with five employed as the hotel staff and eight in the coffee shop operation.

Mr. McNeil is a member of the Lions Club, the Masonic Lodge, and also is a Shriner.

He and Mrs. McNeil are members of the Methodist Church.

Hamlin Couple Killed In Auto Crash Tuesday

A Palo Pinto County auto crash Tuesday morning took the lives of Mr. and Mrs. John Morton of Hamlin.

The Morton automobile collided with a panel truck, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Willis of Fort Worth, on U. S. Highway 180 between Breckenridge and Palo Pinto, two-tenths of a mile inside Palo Pinto County, according to a report of State Highway Patrolman B. J. Davenport, who investigated the accident.

The Fort Worth couple, seriously injured, were taken to a Breckenridge hospital where they received treatment.

Funeral services for the Hamlin victims, residents of Jones County for 28 years who have been making their home on a farm two miles south of Hamlin, were to be held Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 p. m. at the First Baptist Church in Hamlin.

Mr. Morton was 69 years of age, and his wife, 65.

Fair And Clear Weather Today And Tomorrow

You needn't worry about hoisting your umbrella, donning a slicker or bothering about rubbers or galoshes.

Because—The prospect of rain is remote. At least, that's the word of the weatherman's morning report for the Eastland County area.

U. S. Weather Bureau experts say this section is going to enjoy fair weather today and Thursday with slowly rising temperatures. Today's high mercury reading, expected this afternoon, is slated to be in the lower 70s. It'll be about 30 degrees cooler tonight with the temperature due to skid down into the upper 30s or early 40s. Thursday, the weatherman says, will be warmer. High for tomorrow is expected to be around 75.

Pioneer Title Is Prize Of Saturday Contest

The championship of the Pioneer Conference and possibly a post-season bowl bid will be on the line Saturday when the league leading Arlington State College Rebels invade Stephenville for another game with their traditional rivals, the Tarleton State Ploshboys.

Trailing by half a game, Tarleton must win to clinch the title. A victory or a tie will give the crown to the Rebs.

The game, last of the regular season for both teams, will be a continuation of the oldest junior college series in the Southwest. It started in 1917, and in 35 years of rivalry, the records show 11 victories for Tarleton and 10 for ASC. There have been five ties.

Season records mean nothing when these A&M system teams play. Last year the Rebs, boasting a considerable statistical superiority, were tied 20-20 on their home field by the underdog Ploshboys.

This year the figures again favor the Rebs who lead the conference in total offense. In nine games they have totaled 2,019 yards running, 1,013 yards passing, and scored 256 points as compared with the Ploshboy's record in eight games of 749 yards running, 801 yards passing, and a total score of 137 points.

But once again the Rebel margin in statistics probably will not mean much. The Ploshboys are generally conceded to have taken

Plymouth Contest Is Announced By Ranger Dealer

The beautiful new 1953 Plymouth goes on display Thursday at the Clarke Motor Company in Ranger.

Residents in Ranger and the surrounding area are cordially invited to visit the Clarke showroom, 321 Main Street, and see this glamorous new leader in the low-priced field—to marvel at its many new features and its luxurious styling.

In addition, visitors who drop in to see the new '53 Plymouth will be eligible to enter the big $25,000 "Meet the New Plymouth Contest." It's a chance to win one of those new models—or one of hundreds of spot cash awards. Entry blanks for the contest are available at Clarke Motor Company. The contest closes Nov. 24.

The 1953 Plymouth is the most completely new Plymouth to be presented to the public in the quarter-century since the original model rolled off the assembly line.

Plymouth Motor Corporation executives predict motorists will be delighted with the new, streamlined exterior, the luxuriously tailored harmonizing interiors, the increased horsepower and the scores of engineering innovations in the 1953 line which goes on display in dealers' showrooms Nov. 20.

"This year Plymouth is introducing a new concept of automobile design in the low priced field," President John P. Mansfield declared in describing the 1953 models. "Superb styling is complemented with radical engineering developments to produce the truly balanced car for easier, safer and more comfortable driving."

Rummage Sale Next Saturday

A rummage sale is scheduled for Saturday at the old Marston Building on Main Street in downtown Ranger. It was announced today.

The event will be sponsored by the Women's Fellowship of the First Christian Church of Ranger.

Special Chest Meeting Called

Final plans for the windup of Ranger's 1952 Community Chest fund-raising campaign, now in its fourth week, are slated for mapping during a special meeting of officers and key members of the volunteer solicitations committee to be held Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the offices of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce, W. C. Whittle, president of the organization, announced late Tuesday.

Miss Marjorie Maddocks, secretary, said that she was notifying team captains of the solicitations committee of the special called session. Officers of the local chest organization also are being urged to attend the meeting.

With the city's intensive fund-raising campaign, yet $14,224 short of the $6,800 quota, President Whittle said that Thursday's session would be devoted to reviewing progress of the drive thus far and making final plans to bring the civic and charity financial push to a close "at the earliest possible time."

Though most Rangerites and families in the surrounding vicinity have been contacted by volunteer solicitors during the 24 days the campaign has been in progress, many still have not yet been called upon by the several dozen workers engaged in the big fund drive staged annually to finance the important activities of eight beneficiary agencies.

Sloganed "Give Once For All" the campaign got under way back on Oct. 21—nearly a month ago. At the start of the campaign to raise the $6,800 goal established by the officers and directorship of the Ranger Community Chest, leaders were hopeful that the drive might be successfully completed in a short time—possibly two weeks.

Thus with double that time having elapsed officers and directors Tuesday decided to call a meeting to determine strategy for bringing the drive to a close as quickly as possible.

Scheduled to share in the proceeds of the current campaign are the American Red Cross, the Salvation Army, the United Service Organization, Boy and Girl Scouts, Teen Canteen and Community Public Library.

IF--RANGER BEATS INDIANS, CATS TOP WINTERS, BI-LOOP TILT WILL BE PLAYED HERE

If the Ranger High Bulldogs triumph over the Comanche High Indians and win the 1952 District 10-AA championship they'll face either Ballinger or Winters in a bi-district battle a week hence—on Thursday, Nov. 27, Thanksgiving Day.

Site of the bi-district contest will be determined by the opponent.

Current favorites of a trio of three top-running 9-AA clubs are the Winters Blizzards and the Ballinger Bears. The Blizzards in a non-conference contest on Oct. 3, were defeated by Ranger 13-7. Put it definitely was recorded as an upset victory at that early-in-the-season period.

In the event Winters grabs the 1952 9-AA title (they will clinch the crown if they win their Friday night tilt with Ballinger) the bi-district game (should Ranger also win their district championship) will be played at Winters.

If Ballinger is victorious in the neighboring loop, the Bulldogs would be hosts to the Bearcats at Bulldog Stadium in Ranger on Turkey Day.

But—If Ballinger defeats Winters and Brady beats Coleman Friday night, it'll be a tie for the title between Brady and Ballinger with the former probably getting the nod to represent the 9-AA loop by virtue of its 14-13 victory scored over Ballinger earlier in the season.

In simpler fashion, a Bearcat triumph over Winters and a Coleman win over Brady will give Ballinger undisputed possession of the 1952 9-AA title.

Ballinger has a season record of seven wins, two losses. Winters has won four, lost four and tied one. And Brady has won six and lost three. In 9-AA play, Ballinger is second in standing with a two win, one lost record. Winters is current king with a two-victory, one tie record; and Brady is tied for second place with Pallingler with a two win, one lost record.

Only 31 Shopping Days 'Til Xmas

Day by day time grows shorter. As November dwindles, there are fewer shopping days between now and the No. 1 holiday of the year—Christmas.

Today, according to a check of the calendar, only 31 more shopping days remain before Dec. 25. Families in Eastland County are urged by area merchants to be "early birds," to do their shopping early in order to be assured best selections of a wide array of fine merchandise for Christmas gift-giving.

RJC Favorites Are Elected By Student Body

Favorites for the 1952-53 year recently were elected by the student body of Ranger Junior College, it was announced today.

Pictures of the favorites will be featured in the 1953 Ranger, the RJC yearbook which will be issued next spring.

Here are the 1952-53 favorites:

Best Personality—Pollie Ricks of Brady and Charlie Erazil of Jacksonville.

Beauty and the Beast—Natalie Tolle of Breckenridge and Kenneth Burton of Albany.

Best All-Around—Florence Ashcraft of Ranger and Charles Blanton of Newcastle.

Mr. Ranger Junior College—David Sullivan.

Others to appear in the yearbook section devoted to favorites will include:

Gayla Carter of Ranger, 1952 Homecoming Queen.

Cookie Kirkpatrick of Ranger, 1952 Football Sweetheart.

Joyce Cude of Brady, Band Sweetheart.

Yet to be selected by the RJC student body are the Basketball Sweetheart and the Ranch Day Favorites who will be chosen at a later date.

Miss Jeri Willis Is Ranger FFA 1952 Sweetheart

Miss Jeri Willis, 17-year-old Ranger High School senior, is the 1952 Sweetheart of the Ranger chapter of the Future Farmers of America.

Miss Willis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Willis of Anson, makes her home with Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Ewing of Ranger.

The attractive high school coed was elected by the members of the Ranger FFA chapter during a recently concluded contest.

Miss Willis will be awarded an FFA sweetheart jacket in the near future, it was announced Tuesday.

In addition, she will compete for the coveted title of district FFA sweetheart. She will represent the Ranger chapter of Future Farmers of America in all activities during the current 1952-53 year.

The contest began in mid-October with eight candidates vying for the chapter sweetheart title. Final two weeks four finalists were in the race with Miss Willis emerging winner.

Candidates in this year's contest: Freshmen—Janice Carter and Shirley Wymer. Sophomores—Katherine Richardson and Marilyn Sloan. Juniors—Mary Jo Still and Joyce Dempsey. Seniors—Jeri Willis and Billie Maye Norman.

Pepsters Pack Punch At Roaring Rallies

Ranger High's pep-laden cheer leaders are busier than ever these days as they lead RHS students and hundreds of local and area followers of the 1952 Bulldogs in enthusiastic daily sessions to help pep-up the Maroon & White schoolboy grid powerhouse in its contest of the District 10-AA title.

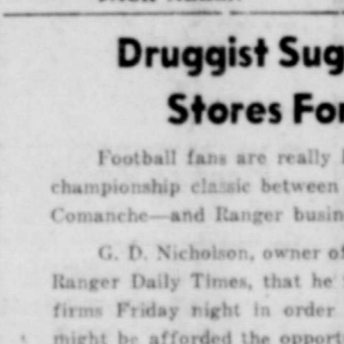

The high schoolers, in their tenth start of the year, battle the Comanche High Indians at Comanche Friday night and a victory over the host enemy will give Coaches Warden's and Ailly charges undisputed ownership of the coveted District 10-AA championship.

Practice sessions are held every morning and at noon.

A big downtown pep rally is being held daily at 11:30 a. m. in front of the Gholsen Hotel on Main Street in downtown Ranger. Adult talent is assisting the RHS cheer leaders with business men and civic leaders delivering spirited pep talks to the growing number of fans in the daily assemblage.

BEVERLY CRAWLEY

One of the largest entourage of fan followers in recent years is due to stream from Ranger late Friday and will pour into the Comanche stadium for the Bulldog-Indian championship classic. It is very possible, school officials said Wednesday morning, that the Friday fan caravan may be larger even than the crowd of an estimated 500 or more who trickled to Stephenville last Friday night to witness the Ranger High eleven's thrilling upset of the Stephenville High Yellow Jackets.

In order to keep team spirit at a winning pitch, daily pep rallies are being staged this week, under the leadership of the three comely misses and the two peppery male yell leaders who are directors-in-chief of the important RHS school spirit department.

Practice sessions are held every morning and at noon.

SUE EWING

The series of pep rallies will be climaxed Thursday night with a gigantic gathering at the Gholsen Hotel site at 7:30 p. m. Then the week's cheering activities will be wound up with a big pep session to be staged in the Ranger high school auditorium Friday morning at 11:30 a. m. All Bulldog fans are invited to attend this rally, the final pep event to be staged prior to the opening kickoff of the crucial Bulldog-Indian battle Friday night.

Ranger High's cheer leaders include Misses Beverly Crawley, Jeri Willis and Sue Ewing and Jack Allen and J. D. Harper.

Druggist Suggests Closing Stores For Friday Tilt

Football fans are really hepped-up for the Friday night championship classic between Ranger and Comanche over at Comanche—and Ranger business men are no exception.

G. D. Nicholson, owner of the Texas Drug Store, told the Ranger Daily Times, that he favors a closing of all business firms Friday night in order that merchants and employees might be afforded the opportunity to make the trip to Comanche and witness the Bulldogs' final bid for the 1952 District 10AAA title.

"Practically everyone will be gone, anyway," he said, "and there'll hardly be enough business to justify remaining open after 6 p. m."

Local business was at a standstill last Friday night when hundreds of residents traveled to Stephenville to see the Yellow Jacket - Bulldog contest there, the drug firm owner pointed out.

Lodge Meeting Is Announced

A special meeting of the Ranger Masonic Lodge has been called for Thursday evening, 7 o'clock, at the lodge hall, it was announced this morning.

An Entered Apprentice, and a Fellowcraft Degree will be awarded during the called session, a lodge officer said.

Visitors are welcome.

Rangerite Is Victim In Hold-Up

A native of Ranger and a World War II bodyguard to Gen. Mack Clark was robbed of about $35 at the Loper Conoco Service Station, 3301 South First St. in Abilene, shortly after 9 p. m. Sunday by an armed bandit, according to Jim Ewol of the Abilene Reporter-News.

Garland D. Wheat, 31-year-old motor sergeant attached to the Army Recruiting Service at Abilene, told police a neatly dressed man, about 26, took bills and silver and escaped with an accomplice, waiting outside in a car.

Wheat is the son of Mrs. Mary Wheat of Ranger. He also has two brothers who are Ranger residents—Lee Wheat and Finis Wheat. He was working at the station as a substitute attendant, the Reporter-News said.

Pontiac sedan, was stolen. Owner of the car L. O. Tatum, of 1510 Malador, Abilene, had been to police headquarters to report the car missing only a few minutes before Wheat phoned in, reporting the robbery.

All area police departments were alerted. Roads leading from Abilene were blocked by units of the Texas Highway Patrol, but a police report at midnight said the getaway car had not been sighted.

Wheat related the robbery to two newsmen at police headquarters.

The men, described as being in their early 20s, rode up in the car, stopping in the driveway nearest the station's office. Wheat walked out, went around to the driver's side. The driver asked for a dollar's worth of gasoline.

Wheat said as he was running the gasoline into the tank a h e driver's companion got out of the car and walked into the station, holding some bills in one hand.

"I thought he was going to pay me for the gasoline," said Wheat. Wheat soon finished and then went into the station, not bothering to speak to the driver again.

The man, dressed in casual clothes, asked for a package of cigarets, and Wheat obliged.

"He handed me the two bills. I opened the cash register, and he said, something like 'I'll take over here.'"

Wheat looked up to see the man holding on him a .44 or .45 revolver.

Wheat replied: "Sure, I'll not resist you."

The gunman then plucked the bills from the cash drawer and scooped up silver—quarters and half dollars—not bothering to take smaller silver. He shoved the money into his coat pockets, constantly keeping a watch on Wheat.

"He didn't say another word. I could have gotten the drop on him, but he got me off guard. And too, maybe his buddy would have come in," said Wheat.

Wheat said he ran to the telephone as the two men were leaving and dialed the operator. He told her to dial police, but the operator said he would have to dial information for the number.

"I kinda got my wits, so I looked up the number in the directory. By that time they were long gone, headed east to town," he said.

The station's owner, John H. Loper, left Saturday on a hunting trip, leaving Wheat in charge.

Revival Opens At Nazarene Church Tonight

The Rev. Joe Norton of Hamlin is the evangelist for the revival meeting which opens tonight—Wednesday, November 19—at the Church of the Nazarene in Ranger.

Rev. Norton, in addition to offering inspirational messages during the nightly meetings, also will offer flannelgraph lessons for the children.

Services are scheduled to begin at 7:15 p.m.

The revival will continue through Sunday, Nov. 30, announces Rev. C. D. Buchanan, new pastor of the Nazarene church.

Rev. Buchanan and his family moved to Ranger Monday from Chillicothe.

Texas A Danger Spot In Case Of An Atomic War

Sprawling Texas is famous for having at least a little of everything, a word which includes lots of industry and military installations.

Practically the only blight on this picture is that an atomic war, lots of industry and military installations mean that there would be lots of danger for Texas.

That's one of the major reasons that civil defense officials have been saying that now is the time to get a sound civilian protection system organized.

William L. McGill, state coordinator of civil defense, this week released figures on industry and military installations to back up his and other civil defense officials' pleas for preparedness now.

The figures were prepared by the Texas Employment Commission, and they indicate that this state would be a priority target in an atomic war.

As far as industry and non-farm employment in general are concerned, McGill noted, Texas ranks among the top states in the nation.

What's the Use of an Abstract—

... if it doesn't cure the title? Is another puzzling question to some abstractors, but we have never worried much about this one. Neither does the doctor's prescription cure human ills in all cases, but it may help. The abstract never was designed to cure anybody's title, but the better type of abstract will reveal the condition of the title and place it in position where it may be perfected, if necessary, by the examining attorney.

Built with features usually reserved "for big trucks only" — that's why GMC's last longer!

THERE'S extra value in a GMC pickup, stake or panel truck because there's extra quality in the way it's built—a long list of heavy-duty features that are usually reserved by other manufacturers for their "big trucks only."

First, there's the sturdy, truck-built valve-in-head engine—protected against wear and breakdown by the same features you find in the big 200-H.P. GMC's: Tocco-Hardened crankshaft, airplane-type main and rod bearings, full-floating piston pins and rifle-drilled connecting rods carrying full-pressure lubrication all the way to the piston pins.

There's extra stopping power in a GMC's burly brakes, extra strength in its deep truck frame—extra comfort in a GMC's longer "pillow-action" springs, extra ease in a GMC's recirculating ball-bearing steering.

They're features usually reserved for "big trucks only"—yours in a GMC at no extra cost. You won't find a better truck on the market!

STEVE WYSONG chatted a few minutes, then stood up, picked up his hat and topcoat from the divan. He turned to Emmy. "It was fine meeting you, Mrs. Carr." He shook hands with Mark and Fletcher, then turned to Laurie. The line of his jaw tightened and he spoke awkwardly. "Glad I had a chance to see you, Laurie, if only for a few minutes. Louis said to tell you hello."

"You're not leaving town already?"

Steve nodded. "Got to get back to the classroom." He managed a grin. "That's where I belong, teaching history to a bunch of kids."

"But, Steve, why don't you stay and at least try to see another publisher about your book?" Panic swept through her. He couldn't go away. They had so many things to talk about. She'd missed him so and here he was now. Steve, don't go. She didn't think she could bear to let him go away again.

Mark was showing him to the door and then there was the sound of the door closing and Mark came back.

There was a long silence in the room. No one looked at anyone else, and Mark busied himself mixing more drinks.

Finally Emmy said, "So that was the reason you came back from Indiana looking like the world had fallen apart." Her unbelieving laughter rippled. "Oh, Laurie, how could you let yourself get involved with someone like that?"

No one said anything for a few moments, and then Fletcher muttered, "I've got to be running along, Laurie, if you'll excuse me." He leaned and kissed her cheek and patted her shoulder. "I thought he seemed a very nice sort of a chap, darling," he whispered.

After Fletcher was gone, Mark turned to Laurie and said, "Your mother's big mistake was not in marrying your father. It was in giving him up. She had promised to love, honor and cherish—cling to him, and live his life, but when it came right down to doing it, she was too much of a coward. She refused to meet him even half way."

"You can see for yourself, Laurie," her mother cried, "knowing Louis and knowing me, just how impossible it would have been. I couldn't have stood it there in Ridgeville, among all those horrid provincial people. I had to leave him!"

"But you have regretted it ever since!" Mark put in softly. "You've wished a thousand times that you had stayed with Louis in spite of everything. You've never really been happy with me."

"Oh, Mark, yes, there've been times. What are you saying?"

But Emmy knew what her husband was saying. Her eyes admitted it and now she walked toward him, her glance fell. Even before Mark spoke, Emmy's question had been answered.

MARK'S voice was calm but insistent. "You don't have to pretend any longer, my dear. I've known it for years and years. Let's face it. You're young and young people do impulsive things. But let's not let Laurie ruin her life. If she loves Steve, then his world is the place for her. Besides, she is Louis's child more than she is yours. She's like Louis in many ways, Emmy, and there's no use in your trying any longer to make her over into your own image."

"Mark, you're being sentimental and old-fashioned." There was, however, a suggestion of a tremor in Emmy's voice. She stared at Mark, who returned her gaze for a long silent moment. Finally, Emmy turned to her daughter. There were tears in her eyes now. "I guess he's right, Laurie. I think you'd better go and find Steve, if you're really in love with him."

Laurie shook her head. "What you both seem to overlook," she said, "is the fact that Steve doesn't want me."

PLYMOUTH—

Height of the new Plymouth has been reduced for improved appearance. Yet engineers have designed even more room into the car's interior and luggage compartment. The 1953 model has more headroom, greater legroom and more hip and shoulder space than ever before.

Interior styling of the 1953 Plymouth is entirely new. Box type seat trim gives both front and rear seat backs a smart appearance. Cushions are divided into thirds. The triple division adds a new style note with its more pleasing proportions.

Upholstery, interior molding and trim are available in a wide variety of harmonizing hues to blend with the buyer's choice of exterior body colors. Sparkling chrome hardware and bright plastic accessories set off the luxurious tailoring.

A clever innovation on all two-door models is the front seat which is divided, not in the traditional manner at the center but at one-third of its width to permit easier entrance and exit for rear seat passengers from the curb side. Two can sit comfortably on the wider portion of the front seat while the remainder is tilted forward for easy back seat access.

Rear fender appearance is improved through relocation of the gasoline filler pipe at the left corner of the rear sill, which also provides for easier fueling.

For increased driving comfort and economy, Plymouth Automatic Overdrive may be added to the famous Synchro Silent Transmission at moderate extra cost. The overdrive increases fuel and oil economy, lengthens engine life, and as a highway cruising "fourth speed" gear, adds measurably to driving and riding comfort.

The overdrive unit reduces gasoline consumption by cutting down engine speed by 30 per cent while the car's road speed is undiminished. As a highway cruising gear, engineers estimate it saves up to ten per cent on gasoline. An additional gear ratio in each of the other two forward speeds is also provided by the unit. Overdrive is especially useful for traffic driving in second gear.

Plymouth's prime objective for 1953 was a car that was easier to park, easier to handle and easier to ride in. A trial ride quickly proves that this objective was attained.

Moving the engine forward more than two inches gave more body room. Relocation of wheel housing gave more hip room.

The axle was moved closer to the front end of the rear spring, almost eliminating rear wheel hop when accelerating on uneven roads or in sand.

All of these features combine to give the 1953 Plymouth owner an automobile that is unequalled in its price class for riding and driving enjoyment, performance, beauty and economy.

Quality Eggs Bring Raiser Better Prices

If you can demand—and get—10 cents and more a dozen above grade A price for your eggs, you are using methods of poultry farm management that could benefit others.

Evan Alex, a Clay county, Kansas, poultry man, is a user of money-making methods in the management of his poultry farm, according to a report.

His eggs sell rapidly when displayed in grocery stores. The way they stand up in the frying pan and their mild taste bring customers back for more.

Alex's success is the result of his collection of ideas from Midwest poultry farms and his careful management. Sometimes the ideas don't conform to standard practices.

His two 120 by 300 foot buildings run north and south with windows on east and west sides. That permits more natural lighting than the usual single south exposure. Double doors at both ends, overhead fans, ten 14-inch flues with dampers and windows provide ventilation and dryness in all weather.

To discourage early laying, he vaccinated his selected White Leghorn pullets for both Newcastle and fowl pox as the birds neared maturity. Three or four weeks later they were vaccinated for trachetis. When 7 months old they were brought to the laying house, healthy and heavy.

In three weeks, production jumped from 44 to 441 eggs in one pen of 532 birds. Several days later they produced 466 eggs—87 percent. Pullet eggs a real source and blowouts negligible. No cullings was done prior to February, but laying rate ranged between 73 and 78 percent. Fresh water with chill removed and hand feeding of a 20 percent breeder mash and whole oats maintained high production. Pipes leading to drinking cups are warmed electrically in winter.

Alex interests buyers by mailing pictures of his eggs, handling equipment and laying house with a letter describing his product.
