PRICE FIVE CENTS No. 171

The Best of Texas
The two cents had a long Man to Man talk— Then son took the car— And dad had to walk!

Tonight's the night!
The time—7 p.m.— The fire siren will wait at that hour announcing the start of the big Ranger "Mothers March"—an intensive city-wide, house-to-house campaign to raise funds for the 1953 March of Dimes.

There'll be a knock at your door. And one of your neighbors will be there to accept your contribution.

How much should you give? Well, each one of us should give at least a dollar. That means for a family of four—$4, and so on. Of course, the cost of living is high and our budgets are a pinch. But, somehow, we should dig and manage to give the March of Dimes a dollar for each member of our family.

The nation—and Eastland County—was ravaged by the worst epidemic of dreaded polio in all history in 1952. Thirteen cases, mostly children, were stricken in our own county.

Due to so few and so small contributions in the 1952 March of Dimes drive, Eastland County didn't have enough money to provide financing for the costly treatment and care of its own polio patients.

Thus, two loans were secured from the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis—one for $2,000 and another grant for $5,000. Even those sums weren't enough. The county still is plagued with bills totaling around $3,000. The battle against polio is our battle.

And—there is no guarantee that Eastland County, our own community, won't be invaded by this crippling disease during this year's play-safe. Let's be prepared.

Let's insure ourselves against the time when if it dreaded polio strikes in our home or in that of a neighbor.

Let's give—and give liberally and generously—tonight during the "Mothers March."

Be ready to respond—happy that you can help others—when you hear that knock or that door bell tonight... after 7...

The army doctor was examining a drafted. "Flat feet ever both you?" the medic asked.

Drafted: "Only once—between Ranger and Eastland."

Radio Aids In Recovery Of Stolen Auto

Ranger police officers, aided by newly installed equipment which links them with a vast police radio network, speedily recovered a stolen automobile today.

The vehicle, a 1942 model Chevrolet sedan owned by Mr. Boone, a rural resident, was stolen from the Gholson Hotel parking lot sometime Wednesday. Mr. Boone reported the loss to the Ranger Police Department late Wednesday afternoon, and a report of the theft was put on the police radio.

Last night the automobile was picked up at Colorado City. The man driving the car was arrested and charged with car theft.

Frank Tucker, Eastland County sheriff, went to Colorado City this morning to pick up the car and the driver who will be held in the county jail at Eastland on the theft charge.

Adams Body Sent To Ohio; Service Not Announced

The body of Wick Adams, 71, who was found dead in his Connelley Hotel room shortly before noon Tuesday, will be flown Wednesday to Portsmouth, Ohio, by Hamner Funeral home.

It had been previously announced that a nephew from that state would come to Eastland, and take charge of funeral arrangements, but it became impossible for him to make the trip, so the funeral home was instructed to ship the body to Portsmouth, where deceased has a number of relatives.

Mr. Adams was born in Ellis County, Ky., Feb. 6, 1882. Next of kin as recorded in V.F.W. records is a brother, J. M. Adams, of Rt. 2, Portsmouth, O.

He was a member of the United Spanish War Veterans Camp at Breckenridge, and Veterans of Foreign Wars Post in Eastland. He was a mason and a member of the Breckenridge Masonic Lodge. Also the Consistory in Dallas.

He has been a resident of Texas for a number of years, coming first to Breckenridge, and later moving to Eastland.

The Hamner-Funeral Home had

Croom Receives State License As Funeral Director

James Croom of Big Spring, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Croom of Ranger, recently passed a State Board examination and has been granted a license as a funeral director, his parents learned today.

Mr. Croom has been in the employ of the Eberly Funeral Home in Big Spring since last April.

He had received his license as an embalmer some time ago after having completed a special training course at a Dallas mortuary school.

Prior to moving to Big Spring Mr. Croom had been employed in Ranger by the Merris Funeral Home. His wife, a graduate nurse, was associated with the Ranger General Hospital while she and her husband made their home in Ranger.

Funeral Rites For J. A. Brown Set For Friday

Interment will be in Evergreen Cemetery.

Mr. Brown, who resided at 315 Alice street, Ranger, died early today in a hospital at Temple. He had been in ill health for some time prior to his passing.

His wife preceded him in death several years ago. Mr. Brown had been a resident of Ranger for a quarter of a century.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Anos Wright of Temple and Mrs. Sam Blackman of Upland, Calif.; three sons, John Brown of Graham, C. V. Brown of Bronte, and George Brown of Midland; eleven grandchildren and 22 great-grandchildren.

Ranger Woman's Quilt In Auction Sale Tuesday

Another beautiful handmade quilt, the handwork of a talented Ranger woman, Mrs. Maggie Masters, will be auctioned off—for benefit of the 1953 March of Dimes drive—next Tuesday afternoon during the big weekly livestock sale at the Sig Faircloth Auction Barn on U. S. Highway 80 near Eastland, it was announced today.

Mrs. Masters donated a similar quilt to the March of Dimes a year ago and it brought the very tidy sum of $500 for the polio fund.

Attention, All Firemen!

Ranger volunteer firemen are reminded that the fire siren will sound at 7 p.m. and probably several other times between 7 and 8 p.m. tonight for the Mothers March for the 1953 March of Dimes.

City Manager Lester Crossley requests the reminder in order that RVFD members will not become alarmed when they hear the siren which usually signals the call to rush to a local fire.

Residents Urged To Be Home, Have Porch Lights On—And Liberal Contributions Ready

Approximately 75 Ranger mothers will participate in a city-wide "Mothers March" tonight beginning at 7 o'clock to raise funds for the 1953 March of Dimes.

Ranger residents are urged to:

- (1) Please be at home between 7 and 8 p.m.
- (2) To leave their porch lights burning.
- (3) To have their contributions ready to give the neighbor who calls at the home.

Tanger's quota in the 1953 fund-raising effort is $3,900—based on a quota set at $1 per capita. Lem Rushing, prominent Ranger business man and civic worker, is chairman of the city's March of Dimes campaign.

Ranger, Strawn, Brownwood Quints Win Gorman Tournament Openers

Six games were unrecited Wednesday as the first round of the four-day Indian Trail Basketball Tournament got underway at Gorman.

Winners in boys play were Ranger, Strawn and Brownwood. In girls competition Rising Star, DeLeon and Comanche posted victories.

Ranger beat Gorman 39-27. Strawn nudged DeLeon, 29-2; and Brownwood B walloped Desdemona 43-27.

Rising Star's girls defeated Gorman 43-31; DeLeon nipped Carbon 38-31; and Comanche rolled over Desdemona 44-27.

Other boys games today include: Mineral Wells and Goldthwaite at 5 p.m.; Ranger and Strawn in a second-round contest at 6:15 p.m.; and Breckenridge and Dublin at 8:45 p.m.

Girls games scheduled are: DeLeon and Comanche in a second round affair at 1:45 p.m.; Carbon and Desdemona in a consolation tilt at 3 p.m.; and Goldthwaite and Rising Star in another second round game.

Judge Orders No Bond In Torch Murder Case

Donald Hawkins Brown, 24-year-old ex-bus driver charged with the brutal gun-torch slaying of Joe Campbell, Dallas insurance company collector and son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Campbell of Ranger, was denied bond during a day-long hearing Wednesday in the court of Criminal District Judge Henry King in Dallas.

Judge King rendered a decision ordering that Brown continue in custody without bond till Wednesday after a long hearing in which the state's witnesses hammered out a strong chain of circumstantial evidence linking the slender, red-headed Brown with the bizarre slaying of the young finance company collector on New Year's Eve.

Obviously, the hearing was to determine if there was enough evidence to warrant holding Brown without bond. The law says this is justified only if it seems likely that the death penalty will result from a trial.

Actually, however, the hearing mainly was an effort by defense attorneys to lay bare as much of the state's case as possible. Lawyers for both sides did some weary footwork, like prize fighters in the first round, saving their Sunday punches for later, but probing for the opposition's strong and weak points.

By day's end Defense Lawyers Harvey Lindsay and Joe McLe-more had uncovered these glaring points in the case presented by Prosecutors James K. Allen, Henry Wade and Ray Stokes:

1. Campbell's boss, A. E. Russ Jr., testified that he had given Campbell the delinquent Brown car note account about 1 p.m. on Dec. 31 for collection.
2. Doris Gross, 14, sister of Brown's wife, testified that Campbell had come looking for Brown at about 2 p.m., and that she told him where the Browns were living—an apartment at 3802 Kilbu, near a Coca-Cola plant. A friend of hers, Myra Parker, 14, also remembered the incident, but not the exact time.
3. Fire Lt. W. M. Morgan said he found Campbell's body, partly burned, about a block and a half away from Brown's home, on Genter Street, in his flaming car. The car was burning inside, but not outside, he said, and there was a strong odor of gasoline. Campbell's body was still bleeding from the head. This was at 9:50 p.m.
4. James Savage, a medical student who assisted with an autopsy a few short hours later, testified that he found two .25 caliber automatic pistol bullets and the copper jacket from a third bullet in Campbell's head and neck. One entered from the left ear and pierced the brain; another was found in the neck, just between the skull and first vertebra, and the jacket of the third was found in Campbell's mouth, where a slug had ripped out two molars and torn his tongue.
5. Dr. Morton F. Mason, Parkland Hospital pathologist and toxicologist, said he had examined a sample identified as Campbell's blood and found it to be type O. A few days later, he said, he typed some blood on a pair of busman's trousers, given him by Detective C. V. Sanders, and also found it to be type O. On cross-examination, he said about 45 per cent of all white persons have that blood type.

Here is a list of the volunteer workers who will knock on doors and ring doorbells beginning at 7 p.m. for the worthy March of Dimes cause:

Mmes. Granville Jones, C. B. Puet, Bob Allen, L. D. Tankersley, Charles T. Bott, Ted Bott, E. B. Black, Joe Collins, F. P. Brasher, W. G. McComas, C. W. Garments remaining after the sale will be shipped overseas to the needy in Korea, Mrs. Harris said.

15 Ranger Service Stations To Give 2c Gallon To Dimes Drive During Gasoline Sales Friday

Two cents from every gallon of gasoline sold by fifteen Ranger service stations Friday—tomorrow—will go to the 1953 March of Dimes fund.

Lem Rushing, chairman of the city's big polio fund-raising campaign, announced at noon today that the operators of the local service stations had agreed to donate the two-cent-per-gallon from all gasoline sales Friday.

"We urge all Ranger motorists to drive in to one of these stations and fill up during the day Friday," Chairman Rushing said. "They'll be helping the March of Dimes drive."

Rushing expressed appreciation for the "generous support" of the service station operators.

Here is a list of the stations which will contribute the two cents-per-gallon donations to the MOD drive:

- Lee Cantrell & Sons Service Station.
- Maxie Law's Premier Service Station.
- Charles N. Tarrant's Humble Service Station.

These parts, Sam also learned about clothes in college. He took a course in clothing, learned all about fabrics, color combinations, etc.

Running a close second to the cookery hobby, though, is watching football games.

Sam is one of four sons of Mrs. S. H. Aills and the late Mr. Aills of Nacogdoches where the RHS mentor was born and reared. His late father was an auditor for the Southern Pacific Railway. Sam first saw the light of day on Aug. 17, 1916.

His hefty, coupled with a sharp mental savvy, launched him on an outstanding athletic career which started in Nacogdoches High School where he lettered for a year in football and basketball, three years in baseball and four years in track. He graduated from NHS back in 1935.

Then to Centenary College, Shreveport, where he became a Gentlemen for four years, all of which were spent footballing and basketballing. He quarterbacked the Gentlemen for two years, specializing in blocking off a 1-b single wing, and spent a two-year stint in the line.

He turned professional after he received his Centenary Sheepskin and joined the squad of the New York Giants football team. He played as a blocking back in 1939 and 1940. In 1940 he held down a guard spot and his stellar play in that line position won him the coveted rating of "All-National League Guard" at the end of the season.

Crafty Cage Coach Stars In Kitchen

Dapper Sam Aills, member of the Ranger High School coaching staff, is a big guy. He's 6 feet 2 inches tall and tips the scales at 280—dripping.

And he's not paunchy or flabby. He's in shape.

In short, out of his dapper attire and into drabber garb of the less formal, he's typically an outdoorsman in appearance.

And so—quite naturally—you'd guess his hobbies to pertain to the wide open spaces—hunting and fishing, for example.

But not Samuel. He's different. He likes to put on an apron. And putter around in the kitchen. Yep. You'll have to hang onto your hats. Sam Aills' hobby is cooking!

And—don't drop your fedoras—he does all the cooking for the Aills family of Sam and Martha Ann and Craig makes three who make their home in a comfortable apartment in the Gholson Hotel.

The RHS mentor, who assists Head Coach O. C. (Stubby) Ward during football season and is top mentor during the winter cage campaign, got interested in the culinary art during his collegiate career. He studied it. Now he practices it.

Friday Meeting To Attack New Version of Bible

The new revised version of the Holy Bible will be under fire in Ranger Friday night during a special interdenominational meeting to be held at the Ranger High School auditorium at 7:30 p.m.

A group of Eastland County clergymen are sponsoring the meeting, the purpose of which is "to examine the new revised version of the Holy Bible."

The session will mark the first local opposition to the new edition of the Holy Bible since it was formally introduced last fall.

Numerous attacks upon the new version, however, have been since reported in various sections of the United States. Some irate clergymen, in addition to issuing hot verbal blasts regarding the new edition, also have burned copies of the new translation in their pulpits.

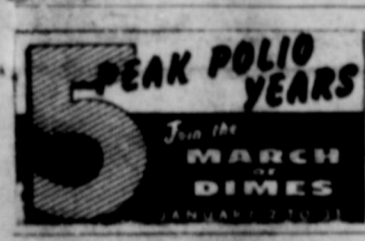

It was understood that most Eastland County clergymen, representing most all religious faiths, have accepted the new version.

During the Friday night meeting, sponsors announce, three topics will be thoroughly discussed by speakers:

- First—"Where Did We Get the Bible?"
- Second—"The Men Behind the Revised Version and a Selection of Quotations from their Libraries."
- (A spokesman told a reporter of this newspaper that the translators of the new version of the Holy Bible were "not morally fit" on the basis of their past records and writings. These points, he said, will be proved during the Friday night mass meeting.)
- Third—"Internal Evidence Concerning the Virgin Birth and the Deity of Christ."

The general public is cordially invited to attend the meeting.

New Auto Tags On Sale Feb. 2

Webb Requests Early Purchases To Avoid Rush

Brand new 1953 license plates for approximately 9,000 Eastland County vehicles have been received and are scheduled to go on sale at the office of the Eax Assessor and Collector in Eastland next Monday morning, Feb. 2, it was announced today.

The new tags, black numerals on a yellow background and the same size as those of recent years, also will be dispensed to vehicle owners from sub-stations at Gorman, Rising Star, Cleo and Ranger, Stanley Webb, Eastland County tax collector and assessor said.

The county's prefix letters for this year, Webb reports, are "CN" and "CM" for all passenger plates. Eastland County numerals will begin with CN16 to CN 199 and continue from CM450 to CM9999.

Deadline for purchase of the new plates is April 1. Tax Assessor and Collector Webb warned, as he urged Eastland Counpmans to get their 1953 tags as early as possible.

"There are 9,000 vehicles to be registered during the two months period allowed," Webb pointed out, "and we're asking owners to register their cars, pickups and trucks as early as possible in order to relieve the 'usual last minute rush'."

And auto inspection certificate for 1953 will not be required for purchase of the new licenses, Webb said.

However, it is required by laws of the State of Texas that owners bring their certificates of title and last year's registration receipts with them when making application for the new '53 tags.

The tax assessor and collector also said that persons ordering tags by mail should enclose an additional 20 cents to cover the cost of postage.

Even Warmer Weather Is Due For Tomorrow

Eastland County's unbelievably mild weather will be even warmer Friday, according to the latest forecast of the U. S. Weather Bureau early this morning.

The weatherman predicted that this afternoon's high temperature will be registered in the balmy lower 70s.

But for Friday, the mercury is due to soar even higher—it'll be 3 to 10 degrees warmer—and the day's high has been forecast for the warm upper 70s or bottom 80s.

Tonight's low also will be mild—and far above freezing. The Weather Bureau forecast a low in the mid-50s for Thursday night.

Clear to partly cloudy skies were scheduled for the day.

The West Texas forecast: Generally fair Thursday and Friday, a little warmer Thursday.

Grand Jurors Get Summons For Court Duty

Twelve grand jurors of the Eastland County February term of District Court will be chosen from the group listed below:

W. J. Foxworth, Holland Nix, George Ruppert and H. L. Thompson, all of Cleo; Clark Crowmover and Dixon Boggs, Rising Star; P. C. Burns, Okra; Ira Underwood, Gorman; Ford Reed, Desdemona; Wilson Guest, Ranger; Tom Poe, Carbon; A. J. Blevins, Frank Crowell, L. D. Harris, R. N. Wilson and T. L. Page, all of Eastland.

The above-named men have been ordered to appear for service next Monday morning Feb. 2, at 9:30 a.m.

RVFD Members Raise $190 For March of Dimes

Members of the Ranger Volunteer Fire Department, through generous efforts, have collected a total of $190 for the 1953 March of Dimes. Lem Rushing, Ranger city MOD chairman and member of the RVFD organization, reported late Wednesday.

Of this amount, $108 was raised through sponsorship of a dance recently. Haty's Rhythm Five, musical group composed of five Ranger men, donated their talents providing the music for the dance.

"We hope to gather up $10 more today," Rushing said, "and thus we'll turn over an even $200 for the March of Dimes cause."

Condition of Jerry Belknap 'Critical'

The condition of Jerry Belknap, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Belknap of Ranger, who is in the Baylor Hospital, Dallas, remained critical early Thursday morning.

The Ranger boy, suffering with a serious head injury incurred in an accident four years ago, was rushed to the Dallas hospital early Tuesday morning.

The Peacock Path

THE STORY: Ames Warburton, one of the partners of Marston Cravath in a stock brokerage, is believed by Jim Oriskany, private detective, to be the victim of murder. Oriskany is called to investigate several suspicious attempts on Cravath's life. Oriskany is pulling on a playboy friend of Cravath's, Sally, to get to the bottom of the case. Cravath's estate includes another partner, Jack Dumont, and his wife, Holly; Duke Miden, Cravath's secretary, and Mrs. Eve Wheeler, a wealthy widow. Cravath wants Warburton's death to remain on record as an accident until there is proof of murder.

ON the way to the house we came upon the tennis courts. There were two of them, grass courts and beautifully kept. Jack Dumont, in slacks and nothing at all above the waist, was serving as we approached. His tanned well-made body glistened with perspiration. Facing him across the net was a figure professional-looking in visored cap, white shorts and ankle socks. Dumont was pulling no punches with her. He tossed a ball into the air and banged it over with a speed and precision to please Pancho Gonzalez.

She cracked it right back, a neatly-placed shot that caught the corner of the court. Dumont, this strong legs bounding, managed to get his racket on it. But the lady murdered the return. Dumont, far out of position, never had a chance. Marney Cravath grinned. "Sweet player, isn't she?" "She was, indeed, a sweet player. And it took me a minute or two to get accustomed to the fact that she was the languorous Eve Wheeler.

"This surprises me," I said. Cravath nodded. "Eve's a surprising woman. She's very capable at quite a number of things. You wouldn't think so, though, from the way she drapes herself around." Cravath waved a hand, indicating the players. "I told everybody

Aills entered the U. S. Navy in 1942 as a chief specialist in physical education. This was too mild for the big guy, so he transferred into a gunnery branch and served on the destroyer Ford for eight months as a chief boatwain. He was commissioned as an ensign in 1943. Later, after attending a naval training school at Tucson, Ariz., Aills won a new rank—lieutenant, i.g. He served for 13 months as and with well-manicured lawns, lined both sides of the road. "This is Lookaway Point," Sally contributed. And added, irreverently, "How's your head?" "Still there," I told her. "In spite of you."

WE were coming to a dead end. I saw the round white tower of a little lighthouse at the tip of the Point. Just before it the road fanned out into a kind of semicircle. There was ample room to park. "Now," I said, "this urgent business."

"What do you want to know from me, Jim?" She spoke as one cutting through preliminaries. "Routine stuff," I said. "What I'm getting at is: anything you can give me about the backgrounds of your guests?" "Who do you want first?" "It doesn't matter. Make it Eve Wheeler."

The sudden tiny frown that flitted to her forehead and flitted away as swiftly was unmistakable. "Eve," Sally said patiently, "is Adrian S. Wheeler's widow." "Well, I did know of Adrian S. Wheeler. He'd been a tycoon to confound tycoons. Old chiefly, but with fingers in many another profitable pie."

"To hear Uncle Marney and Uncle Jack tell it, she was the slinkiest promiscuous of the golden twenties. According to my uncles, she committed regularly to all the universities east of the Mississippi. In demand she was."

"I'm not surprised," I said. "It's a hearsay, of course," Sally's eyes clouded, "but Eve had a very glamorous time when she was quite young. Then things got rugged for awhile."

"She's been married three times," Sally told me. "First, a long time ago, to some boy from Princeton. I don't remember his name and I don't know the exact details. Rumor is that, after they'd been married about a year, he and Eve and a whole party went up to some ski lodge in the Adirondacks. Some time during that week-end this guy shot himself, dead."

He came to Ranger in August, 1947, as line coach and head basketball mentor, and we all know the rest. He's established himself as a very likeable and highly substantial citizen and endeared himself to schoolboy athletes and RHS fans alike.

He and Head Coach O. C. (Stubby) Warden have been friends for a long time. Since back in 1935, to be exact, when they met while working in the oil fields. Later they bumped into each other on two other occasions—in 1942 at Norfolk and in 1947 at El Paso.

Since 1947 they've collaborated to make a terrific coaching combination. Aills and his wife, the former Martha Ann Mitchell of Oiden, were wed here at the First Baptist Church on Nov. 22, 1950. The RHS mentor's stepson, Craig

This American farmer knows how much his farm tractor means to him in keeping his farm plant in operation. The purchase of three or more $100 U. S. Defense Bonds a year will take care of the annual depreciation on most farm tractors. This means the farmer will have money on hand to buy a new tractor when he needs it. His money is not only earning interest, but is safe and accessible in case of farm or family emergencies. Start a farm machinery replacement plan. Invest in safe, dependable U. S. Defense Bonds.

Buick Unveils New Sports Car

THIS single-seat sports convertible of futuristic design is the Buick Wildcat which will be unveiled at the General Motors' Motorama of 1953 at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York City this week. The experimental model has a fiberglass body and is powered by Buick's new 188-horsepower V-8 engine with the new Twin Turbine Dynaflo. The interior is trimmed in brilliant green leather. A special feature of the car is the "roto-static" front wheel discs which remain stationary while the wheels revolve about them. The Wildcat, designed by the General Motors Styling Section, was built to test the use of fiberglass in automobile bodies.

Armed Forces Now Save On Perishable Foods

Headquarters of the Quartermaster Market Center System, which supplies perishable food to all the armed forces, says it is saving the taxpayers "hundreds of thousands of dollars annually."

Despite a rise of nearly 13 per cent in the cost of food as reported by the Bureau of Labor Statistics for the two years following the outbreak of war in Korea, the QMCS says it is supplying the armed forces at an increase of less than 10 per cent.

The organization said it currently is buying more than $1,000,000,000 (1) worth of perishable food annually for the Army, Navy, Air Force, Coast Guard, Marine Corps and National Guard. It is effecting big savings through car-load purchases, and by buying at the peak of the harvest season in various areas.

The system consists of 10 market centers strategically placed throughout the country, with field buying offices numbering between 18 and 23.

Bates of Ranger, county chairman for the 1953 March of Dimes, urges liberal contributions to this year's campaign which is scheduled to end next Saturday, Jan. 31.

The Eastland County Chairman recently reported that the county polio unit was in debt approximately $10,400 as a result of the ravaging polio epidemic of last year.

Thirteen cases of polio were reported in the county area during 1952, and most of the victims were children. Many of the polio patients, Mrs. Bates said, are continuing to receive care and treatment financed by the annual March of Dimes campaign. Slogan of the 1953 MOD drive is "You can help, too!"

Many School Children Have Bad Teeth

More than half of the children in this country have as many as six cavities in their teeth before they begin school.

That's the estimate of Texas dental authorities and state health officials as they announced February 2 as the date for the fifth annual observance of Children's Dental Health Day.

The day has been set aside in an attempt to call public attention to these startling facts:

Ninety-eight percent of all 15-year-old boys have one or more teeth missing, decayed or filled. Over 284 million cavities are afflicting the teeth of American children, with teeth decaying six times faster than they are being filled.

One-half of the children between the ages of three and nine have never in their lives had dental treatment.

"One of the biggest hurdles to be overcome," State Health Officer Geo. W. Cox says, "is the seemingly widespread attitude that baby teeth are insignificant."

He believes the attitude stems from the fact that baby teeth are only temporary, with most people thinking there is no need for concern until the child gets his permanent set.

But dental scientists say that the care given baby teeth has a direct and vital bearing on the condition of permanent teeth, Dr. Cox points out.

The Texas State Department of Health and the State Dental Society are sponsoring the state observance of the day.

They are appealing to all parents to pay attention to the plight of youngster's teeth. And they make this prediction:

"The children will be grateful... especially when they are no longer children."

Nurse's Patients Given Verses

HARTFORD, Conn. — Mrs. Mary Barrett, a special duty nurse who believes that verse has a medicinal value. That's why she's likely to greet a patient thusly: "Even though my hair ain't curly, I must get O'Hurley up early."

The O'Hurley in this case is one of her patients. That's the way she greets all of the folks under her care — by reciting a "personal" poem of her own.

When she isn't talking in verse, she's writing it. Her patients say Mrs. Barrett is better than medicine.

Mrs. Newnam requests all women volunteers participating in tonight's "Mothers' March" to turn in their collections at the City Hall following completion of their canvasses.

Bread Truck Is Home On Wheels

CLEVELAND, O. — Spare time $200 and an old bread truck were the ingredients of Ridley Watts, Jr.'s recipe for happiness.

Watts calls his creations a "land yacht." Since he came here from Short Hills, N.J., it has been attracting much attention. It is equipped with running water facilities, a studio couch, a hammock, and cooking paraphernalia. Watts said it is superior to a trailer because it will go many places where you couldn't pull a trailer.

Watts bought the truck for $95 and spent about $200 for equipment. "I've been offered $1,000 for it," he added.

Although clay tile now is widely in use for public buildings, it was not until the late 12th and early 13th centuries that the material first had widespread use for floors, principally in churches.

One of them grabbed me for speaking!"

One of the wittiest characters this newsstand has ever met is Brann Garner, the showman extraordinaire who formerly operated the Arcadia Theatre here and who owns a string of movie houses over in Breckenridge.

A few months ago some of the area press gentry were in a bull session and also present happened to be a patron who spends a considerable number of shekels for newspaper advertising—chubby Brann Garner.

The rotund showman, a former newspaperman himself, had a few brief and nostalgic comments to offer regarding his back-in-the-past career as a Fourth Estater.

"One time up came an old bag . . . called me . . . talked about the society page.

"I wrote the truth . . . told them that the girl wasn't pretty, she wasn't accomplished, she did a four-year course in Stephens College in seven years, due to her old man's money they finally let her out.

"I said the fellow . . . the promising young man—is from one of our lowest families . . . a very promising young man . . . has promised to pay everybody as soon as he got some of his wife's money . . . and you can find him down at the pool hall any time . . ."

A roar of laughter interrupted him. One of the newsmen present asked: "Did you really run that?"

"Sure did!" retorted Brann. "And I quit running newspapers, 'cause I got tired of getting beat up every Friday morning!"

SHOW CALL means hot food at the front in Korea as well as in war areas. Virtually all U.S. soldiers in Korea now are receiving two hot meals a day.

'Hostesses' On Milan Streetcars

MILAN — Publicity-conscious Milanese industrialists have invented a new stunt—the street car "hostess."

It began when a dozen pretty girls wearing blue uniforms similar to those of airline hostesses appeared one day aboard municipal streetcars and buses offering free ride tickets to all passengers. On their caps was the golden emblem of a well known shoe manufacturer.

The free ticket service lasted one hour in the morning, one in the afternoon and one at night. Milanese liked the idea and the shoe company has announced that the number of hostesses will be increased.

Milena Lovati, a dark-haired 20 year old hostess, said streetcar passengers were stunned at first when she paid for their fare, but everybody seemed to like the idea.

"Only one gentleman," she added, "refused the free ticket, arguing that he was a free citizen and had a full right to buy his own ticket."

"Bones" luck was so good that night 12 years ago that a pitch club of eight Mountain View Men was organized to see if someone couldn't beat his score as champion of that first all-night session. Shipmates Aboard The "Desi-Lu"

Here, minus makeup and the hectic atmosphere of their enormously successful TV show, are Lary and Desi Arnaz, relaxing aboard their boat, the Desi-Lu. One of video's handsomest and funniest couples, they panic 20,000,000 fans each week with their "I Love Lucy" shenanigans. Their personal life, which closely parallels the comings of the Ricardo family they portray on TV, includes a ranch house near Los Angeles, their 11-year-old daughter, Lucie Arnaz, and another dice with the stock on January 19th. A stoppage over story in the January issue of Cosmopolitan magazine traces the Arnaz' skyrocketing career since the former Cuban acrobatic-band leader met the ex-show girl, soul-jerk and dress model. Explaining the lovely Lucy's switch from movie screen roles to blackhead teeth, heavy pants and screwball banter, the article quotes her as saying, "I don't know why, but I just love it when they laugh."
