

Moore... ABOUT RANGER

By VIRGIL E. MOORE

Ranger Junior College President Price Ashton is, without doubt, a man of much learning. He is a man of serious thought, but he also has a sense of humor. Dr. Ashton brought Lions to their knees with laughter Thursday when he told of the antics of a Negro football referee. Seems as how a certain back on one of the teams had been giving the ref trouble all afternoon about his ruling on plays. Finally, when the official caught the player in the act of bumping the referee on the back of the neck, he was nudged forward. When the star back saw what had happened he jumped in the ref's direction and screamed, "Man you is a sorry referee. I ain't never smelled such sorry calling as you is doing."

The referee didn't say a word, but picked up the ball and stepped off 15 yards. Then he turned to the post, cupped his hands and asked, "How does it smell from here?"

Those of you who had the misfortune of reading Bernard Dorrity's article about Texas in a recent issue of the Esquire Magazine will be displeased to now that the editors of that misguided booklet have again allowed Dorrity the use of one of their typewriters.

Dorrity, you might remember, is the smart boy who claims to have visited Texas for some 90 hours or so and then written a pack of lies about the state. Well, now he has picked on Brooklyn. You can imagine what he has to say about the boys in the Bronx since he couldn't find a thing good to say about the best state—yes we are native Texans—in 48. It's all bad. At least the editor we glanced at was. The editor was kind enough to send us the story in advance. We can't put it on our list of recommended reading.

By the way, this is a week which should hold a lot of meaning to Ranger. It's Texas Oil Progress Week.

Oil has, for the last 50-plus years, played a key part in the growth of Texas. Ranger has played a key part in that growth and it holds a big place in the history of this state's oil progress.

Found: A coach who actually puts down the correct weight of his players.

Yep, that's how Stubby works it. Warden says he has a purpose for doing it that way. He says the boys want it that way, since they don't want to be gypped out of any weight. Stubby says he's not about to add poundage to their actual weight.

Now this might not sound unusual to you. But, believe us, it is. Most coaches, whether they admit it or not, either add to a player's weight or subtract from it. The coach who adds to it claims it makes the player feel more confident of himself, and scares the opposition. Seems to us the player still knows how much he weighs and all his opponent has to do is look at him.

The coach who subtracts from his players weights does so in order to give the opposition false belief they have an easy game coming up. Don't think that works either.

We cast our lot with Stubby. There's a lesson of honesty to be taught the boys top, you know.

Jim Lewis, new owner of the Western Auto Store, isn't exactly new around these parts. Lewis says he has lived in Ranger four times before. The first time back in 1928, we believe he said.

We are going to get off our regular pattern long enough to make one prediction. Actually it doesn't have much to do with the local situation, although it will if the prediction comes true. Anyway, here it is.

We predict, and if this comes true we sure are going to remind you of it, that the next governor of Texas will be Rep. Lloyd M. Bentsen Jr., of McAllen. Of course if Shivers runs you can

WHEREAS the progress, prosperity and national security of the United States depends upon the conservation, through their wisest and most efficient use, of our rich heritage of natural resources and

WHEREAS the two million Americans engaged in the oil business use the most up-to-date conservation practices in finding, producing, refining, transporting and marketing petroleum products and

WHEREAS the conservation of all other resources, such as topsoil, water, food, fibres, rubber and scarce strategic metals and chemicals needed by civilians and their Armed Services is made possible on a large scale through the employment of machines powered and lubricated by oil and by the growing use of plastics, synthetic rubber and other products made from petrochemicals and

WHEREAS residents of our community who are engaged in the oil business are desirous of illustrating their contributions to conservation through speeches, films and other means, which explain their activities and the activities of their competitive, progressive companies.

NOW, THEREFORE, I Calvin W. Harris, M. D., Mayor of Ranger do hereby proclaim the week of October 11th to 17th, inclusive, to be RANGER OIL PROGRESS WEEK and do call to the serious consideration of all citizens the many services and contributions which oil men who live and work among us have made and are making to the betterment of our public, social, business and private lives, as well as to the security of our beloved country.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of Ranger to be affixed.

EASTLAND COUNTY WILDCAT IS SCHEDULED NEAR RISING STAR

Eastland county oil news perked up this week with the announcement that a 1,995-foot wildcat has been scheduled three miles north of Rising Star.

Fitzhugh Petroleum Co. of Dallas will drill the well. It is 467 feet from the south and 1,228 feet from the east line of Subdivision 20, James Jett Survey.

Other county oil activity showed that Fred Birdsong, Tyler, stacked No. 1 R. A. Sone five miles north of Rising Star, 150 feet from the north lines of Section

Farm Bureau Membership Drive Starts

"Economic adjustments holds no fears to farmers with a vision," was a statement made by R. G. Arnold, guest speaker at the meeting of Farm Bureau leaders on Thursday night, Oct. 8, in Eastland.

The occasion was a barbecue supper which is an annual kickoff feature of the membership drive. Sixty Farm Bureau leaders and members attended and heard the inspirational address by the Southern Region organization specialist, who further stated that "farmers must have faith in themselves and a will to work at solving their problems."

Howard Ingram, from Nimrod, is membership chairman. He introduced his community workers and distributed membership kits to each one. The county goal this year is 425 members.

A. Z. Myrick, county president, stated that Texas has the greatest potential for a great organization, as compared to other states, if only farmers and ranchers will do their part, in getting more members during this state-wide membership drive.

Other guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Lilly of Brownwood and B. J. Gist of Abilene.

A program of piano and accordion numbers was given by Miss Marylis Stewart and Clarence Weatherby, after the supper, and preceding the speaker of the evening.

Piggly Wiggly Has Two New Managers Here

There's something new at Ranger's Piggly Wiggly Store. Pipkin's Piggly Wiggly has a named James Boggus as new store manager and Jim Evatt as market manager. Actually Boggus is not new to Ranger, but his new title is. Evatt comes here from Eastland.

Boggus has been in Ranger for the past two years. Before he moved here he lived in Eastland "most of his life." Boggus has 11 years experience in the grocery trade.

Evatt, or as he says, "Just call me Jim," has "more than 30" years experience in the meat cutting field. He has lived in Eastland for the past 12 years.

Both men expressed the desire to "continue Piggly Wiggly top-rate service to the public."

V. L. Jones To Represent Local Dairymen

V. L. Jones of Ranger has been elected as Eastland County's delegate to the West Texas District of the American Dairy Association of Texas. Jones will represent dairy farmers of this area.

Six other counties in the District have also chosen delegates. They are: Brown County, Joe Shelton Jr., and W. D. Godfrey of Brownwood; George Hughes, Blanket; Coleman—J. H. Martin, Trickham; Comanche—W. M. Durham, Comanche; A. Z. Myrick, Cisco; J. M. Sparks, Desdemona;

Erath—Joe Hancock, Jr., and A. F. McInroe, Stephenville; Harold Parks, Linglieville; Rannels—J. K. Webb, Miles; J. R. Harris, Winters; Taylor—Ray Crowell, Abilene. Palo Pinto is the only county which has not chosen delegates.

Assisting in providing information to dairy farmers, the Agricultural Extension Service county agents in the area are the following: J. M. Cooper, Eastland; J. H. Rother, Brownwood; C. M. Huckabee, Coleman; W. K. Frey, Comanche; Tom Atkins, Stephenville; R. E. Lindsey, Palo Pinto; J. A. Barton, Ballinger; and H. C. Stanley, Jr., Abilene.

The State ADA has made much headway in the last 12 months in interesting both plants and dairymen in participating in the penny set-aside program. Participating dairymen have doubled, from 9,000 in 1952 to 18,000 this year.

The purpose of the program is to expand the market for milk and dairy foods, thus increasing the wealth of a dairy community and increasing the business of the dairymen.

Farmers To Vote On Cotton Quotas

Eastland county cotton growers will join other farmers in the nation Dec. 15 in voting on rigid marketing quotas that would require them to cut next year's crop about a third below this year's.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson has proclaimed the controls and ordered them submitted to farmers for approval. At least two thirds of those voting must approve.

The proposed reduction, which he described as "severe" was made necessary, the secretary said, because this year's 15,596,000-bale crop had created a top-heavy surplus of 17,910,448 acres compared with about 24,500,000 acres planted this year. Proposals were being advanced in Capitol Hill to raise the allotment to at least 21,000,000 acres.

Benson, to carry out the quotas, announced a 1954 planting allotment of 17,910,448 acres compared with about 24,500,000 acres planted this year. Proposals were being advanced in Capitol Hill to raise the allotment to at least 21,000,000 acres.

White was fined $100 and cost on recommendation of the Liquor Control Board. The fine was the minimum.

Coach Boone Yarborough's Pups had a surprisingly easy time with their traditional Eastland rivals. The Pups rolled up a 20-0 lead before Eastland capitalized on a fumble to score late in the final stanza of the game. The Pups will be seeking their second win of the season to night.

Ratliff Named Veep; Dixon Is Treasurer

J. F. Killingsworth, hardware and furniture dealer and funeral director, will head the Ranger Chamber of Commerce as its president during the next fiscal year as a result of the annual election of officers held Thursday, Oct. 8.

James W. Ratliff was elected vice president, Gaston Dixon was re-elected as treasurer and R. V. Galloway was re-elected as secretary-manager. The chamber's fiscal year ends Sept. 30th.

Retiring president Chas. J. Owen was given a rising vote of thanks for his untiring work and accomplishments and expressed his appreciation to the directors and membership for their splendid cooperation during his administration.

Killingsworth expressed his appreciation of the honor of being elected president and asked the cooperation of the directors and members in carrying out their assignments and stated that a successful Chamber of Commerce program could be out if everyone did his part.

Morris Newsham reported that turkey raisers around Ranger were making a profit of from $1.50 to $2 per head on their turkeys this year and that they were bringing a better price here this year than other places in this section and that we had a competitive market.

James W. Ratliff reported that Weaver Aishman had recently put in a 3,000 capacity broiler house and had also installed a poultry picking plant on his farm in the city limits of Ranger.

Manager Galloway read a written report of the Chamber's activities for September which included several trips to contact industries in regard to locating in Ranger.

Highpoint of the week's activities will be a speech before the Rotary and Lions Clubs, at a combined meeting Wednesday noon by Dr. Frank Conzelman, widely known geologist and speaker.

Mayor C. W. Harris has issued a proclamation that this is Oil Progress Week.

Dr. Conzelman holds a bachelor of science degree, a master of science degree and a doctor of philosophy. He studied at New York University, Columbia, Harvard and the University of Missouri.

He has served as a geologist for Gulf Oil Corp. in New Mexico, Kansas, Oklahoma and Nebraska, and Texas.

Dr. Conzelman was in the army for four and a half years. He moved to Abilene in 1945.

Fair Weather With Little Change Forecast

More fair weather with little or no change in the next three days is the prediction of the U.S. Weather Bureau.

The forecast calls for clear skies, without much change in temperature today, Wednesday and Thursday. Wednesday maximum temperatures will range in the low 80s. Lows will fall in the mid 50s.

Kidnaper Is In W. Texas?

He hasn't been seen here yet, but almost every other place in West Texas has him spotted.

The subject in question is Tom Marsh, 37, wanted in the Kansas City kidnaping of Bobby Greenleaf.

West Texas law enforcement officers had their hands full after Marsh was reported sought. Eastland county sheriff Frank Tucker's office was one of the few not to receive reports that the suspect had been spotted. Road blocks were set up near Brownwood at one time when Marsh was said seen in that vicinity.

Cisco Voters To Decide Power Question

Cisco property owners go to the polls today to decide whether or not the City of Cisco will issue $300,000 in revenue bonds to purchase the two gas distribution systems there.

Polls opened this morning at 8 a.m. and will close at 7 p.m. City Hall is the only polling place.

Approximately 1,000 are expected to cast their ballots in the important election.

The two companies now operating systems in the city are Lone Star Gas Co. and the Cisco Gas Co.

Cub Scout Pack Formed In Ranger

Ranger now has a Cub Scout pack. The troop was organized at a meeting held last week at the Cub Scout Hut. Named as new Cub Scout Master was H. O. Woods, Jr.

Twelve cubs joined the pack. John Morris, scout field executive, presided over the meeting. Many mothers and fathers of the youths attended the meeting. Gaston Dixon, one of the organizers of the pack, said.

Louie Thomas agreed to serve as assistant scout master. A business meeting took up most of the time at the meet, but the cubs found time to play several games.

The next meeting of the pack was set for Oct. 20.

Big Question On Cattle Price Supports — How Will It Work?

By Omar Burleson

There is considerable interest and a great deal of discussion about the matter of support prices on cattle. It certainly is understandable that many livestock raisers would favor such a program since they must buy feed which has increased price on it.

The big question arises as to how controls on cattle will be applied. It is practically a foregone conclusion now that when supports are provided for any commodity, controls must be provided. Otherwise, there is no way in the world to estimate how much it may cost the Government. Without such controls it could conceivably wreck the entire farm program.

There is no justice in imposing a double and a continuing penalty upon the unfortunate people who have been the victims of two to three years of drought. The Congress had no intention that you should suffer. In 1952 we carefully wrote into the cotton law the provision that allotment should not be based on County and State history alone, but that this history with adjustments for unusual weather conditions. This was intended to give the Agriculture Department the authority to make the needed adjustments. But apparently they are not planning to exercise it.

Church Fires Blamed On Texas Smokers

Smoke was blamed today by Acting State Fire Marshal Eugene Sanders for fires that burned five Texas churches last year. Careless smoking habits ranked third in the cause of 85 major church fires in the state in 1952, Sanders' report said. Defective heating systems were blamed for 18 fires and defective wiring and other misuse of electricity caused another 12.

Church Fires Blamed On Texas Smokers

Lighting started three church fires, the cause of seven were unknown and the rest resulted from miscellaneous causes. "I am convinced that the State Committee should accept responsibility and make such adjustments in their own County figures before reporting them to the State PMA Committee. Cotton allotments are going to be made in a few weeks. If Texas does not get this credit which the law intended to get, we are going to be hurt for years to come. There is no further legislative action to take. Congress has acted. It has made relief possible. You can now be helped if you will use your own County Committee to certify cotton history with adjustments for unusual weather conditions."

ALTHOUGH this week-old fawn is too young to really "watch the birdie", he's getting his first lesson at close quarters in one of the caretaker's cabins at Jasper Park Lodge, Canadian Rockies, on how to be a proper deer model.

Miss Sara Beth King and her roommate at Southwestern University, Ann Reeves of Cleburne, spent the week-end here in the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. King. Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Kuykendall attended the Oklahoma - Texas football game and the State Fair in Dallas Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Adams and Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Adams, Jr., visited Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Smith in Dallas Sunday and attended the Fair. Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Hatton and granddaughter, Marcia Ann, spent last week vacationing in Hot Springs, Ark.

Life Span In U. S. Reaches New High

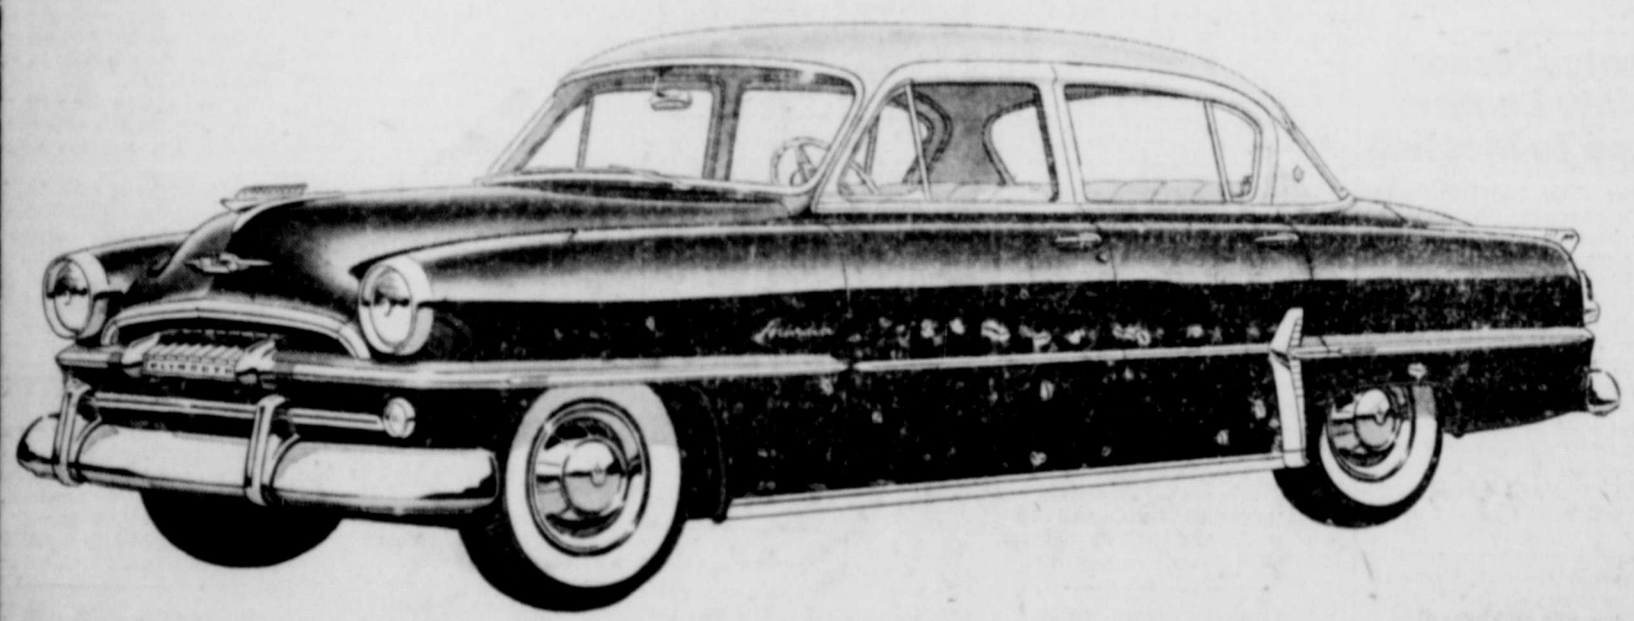

The average length of life of America's wage-earners and their families reached a new high of 68.5 years in 1952, it is reported by the statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company. Experience among the Metropolitan's industrial policyholders shows that 1952 registered the ninth year of consecutive rise in longevity. The gain in average lifetime amounts to five years since 1911, to 10 years since 1902, and to 22 years since 1911-1912. In 1879-1889 the average lifetime was only 34 years—less than half that for 1952. Comparing longevity in 1952 with that of 1946, the first post-war year, brings out some noteworthy improvements, especially among female policyholders. Whereas the increase in expectation of life for white males at age 5 amounted to 1.3 years, the corresponding gain for white females came to 2.3 years. "The record for gains in longevity among our wage-earning families, when compared with that for the general population, is particularly impressive," the statisticians concluded. "In 1911-1912, the average lifetime for industrial policyholders was about six and one-half years less than that for the general population; currently the two are on a par. It is significant of our American way of life that the health status of the wage-earning segment of our population has now caught up with the general average for the country."

ATTEND THE CHURCH OF YOUR CHOICE EACH SUNDAY

Dinner Honoring Bill Bullocks Is Well Attended

The membership of the First Baptist Church did themselves proud with the "last day" for the Bullocks. Scores of families brought their dinners and all ate together at 12:30 in the lower auditorium.

Many gifts had been brought and Mrs. J. B. Houghton presented gifts to Mrs. Bullock Mrs. T. J. Anderson made the presentation from the W.M.S., and A. E. Howton presented the Brotherhood gift. After the gracious presentations Bill responded with expressions of thanks and sang for the group, "Joe" in particular.

The evening service was given over to a wonderful song service and the pastor and many members told of the wonderful work that "Bill and Christine" have done these past 26 months. Each of the Bullocks had many nice things to say about their fellowship with the church. The pastor brought a closing message and the membership greeted the additions to the church and extended farewells to the Bullocks.

The Sunday school with an attendance of 358 and Training Union with 163 made both the Bullocks and the church most gracious for the day well given to the Lord.

The Bullocks will leave Wednesday morning for Klamath Falls, Ore., where Mr. Bullock will serve as Music and Educational Director for the First Baptist Church of that city.

Gasoline
for Sunday driving... or Natural Gas to cook next Sunday's roast?

Most people think only of gasolines, lubricants, and fuel oils when the petroleum industry is mentioned. The fact is, practically all oil producers are also natural gas producers. So today the driller of a wildcat, or exploratory well, calls his venture successful if the well discovers either oil or gas.

If it is an oil well, then he has helped to supply the country's increasing needs for oil and oil products; if it is a gas well, he has discovered additional supplies of an efficient, economical fuel for household and industrial use.

The petroleum industry's development and conservation of the country's natural gas resources is a practical demonstration of the progress to which Oil Progress Week invites attention.

Beginning with the location of the well, advanced geological and geophysical studies of underground formations aid in the selection of likely oil or gas producing areas, but still the odds against a wildcat well producing either gas or oil are eight to one.

If a natural gas field is discovered, reservoir engineers immediately begin their studies to determine the best producing methods to conserve the underground energy and to obtain the maximum production for the longest possible time.

If the gas that is discovered is "wet," it is processed in gasoline plants which remove the liquid parts and send them to refineries for further processing into motor fuels and aviation gasolines, or to petrochemical plants to be converted into a long list of useful chemical products, among which are the plastics and synthetic fabrics with which you are so familiar. "Dry" gas, the residue from gasoline plants, and sometimes produced direct from the gas field, is the natural gas that burns in literally millions of homes throughout America and under the boilers of thousands of American industries.

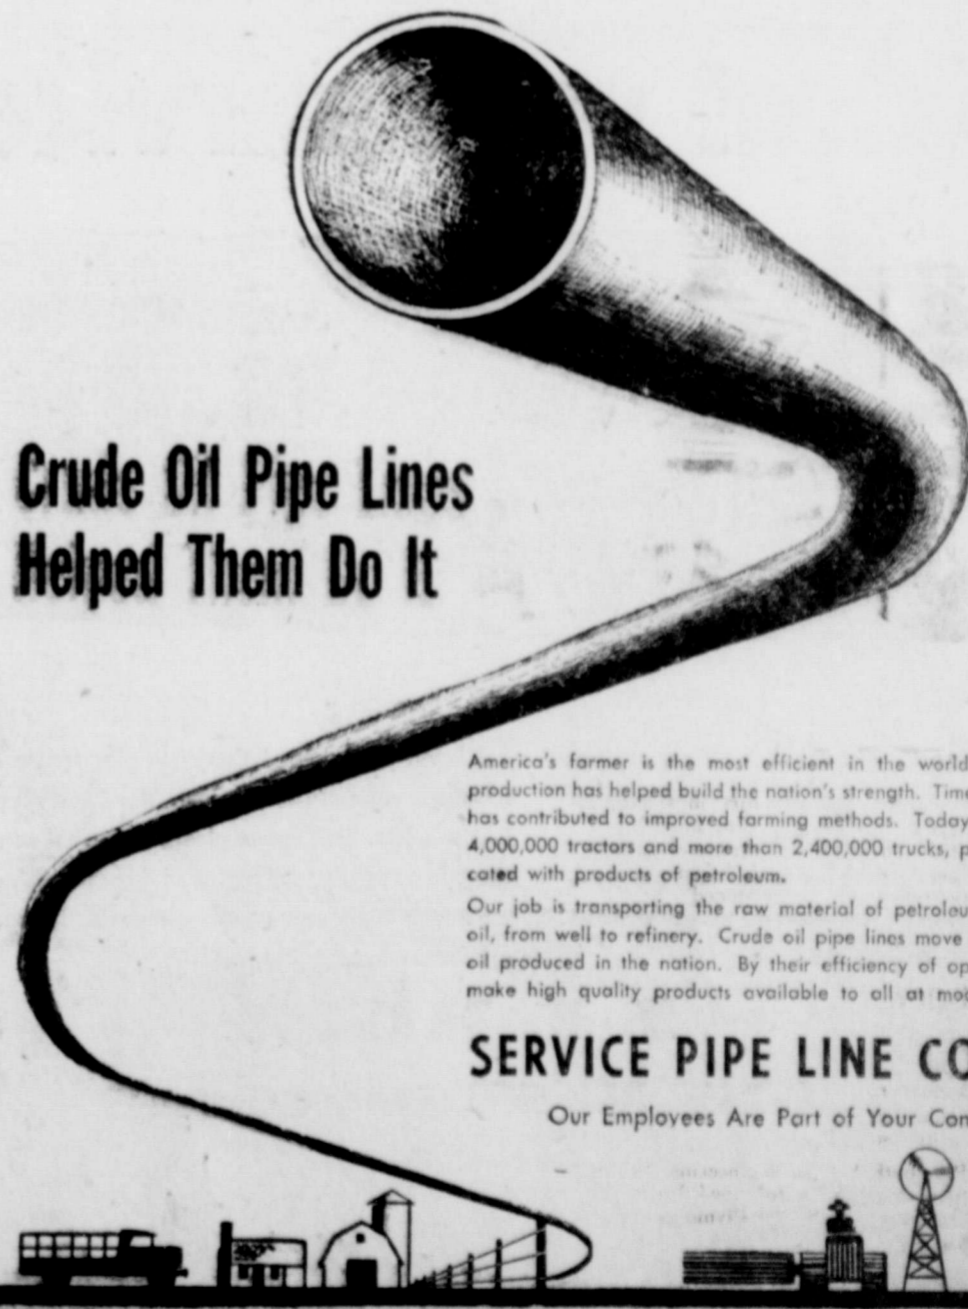

So, whether a wildcat well discovers oil for gasoline or natural gas for the kitchen stove, it adds to the available energy resources of the most highly mechanized nation on earth; it supplies products essential for today's and tomorrow's high living standards; it gives additional strength to measures for National defense.

Daffodils by Any Name Are Longest Lived Bulbs

Daffodil Types Differ Chiefly in Size of Trumpet.

Years of spring flowering may be expected of the bulbs planted in the fall which have three names—daffodil, jonquil, narcissus. Call them by either name and you will be correct for all practical and poetic purposes. The poets seem to prefer the first two, and the botanists use the last.

The flowers inspire the poets, because they are true heralds of spring, blossoming soon after the ground thaws, the first large blossoms in the garden. Of all fall bulbs they are probably the easiest for the amateurs to grow. They bloom each spring for many years without replanting, and with small attention. Many types multiply until they crowd, when they should be lifted, divided and replanted over a larger area.

The principal difference between the types is in the size of the trumpets, which vary from the large trumpet varieties, which when well grown rise two feet high with flowers six inches across and trumpets three inches long, to the poetic type whose trumpets are mere cups, usually of bright red.

Hybrid varieties between these extremes have trumpets of varying sizes. While large trumpets are so far limited in color to white and yellow, there are medium trumpet varieties which have red and orange trumpets, combined with white or yellow petals, in vivid contrast.

Daffodils by Any Name Are Longest Lived Bulbs

Daffodil Types Differ Chiefly in Size of Trumpet.

Years of spring flowering may be expected of the bulbs planted in the fall which have three names—daffodils, jonquils, narcissi. Call them by either name and you will be correct for all practical and poetic purposes. The poets seem to prefer the first two, and the botanists use the last.

The flowers inspire the poets, because they are true heralds of spring, blossoming soon after the ground thaws, the first large blossoms in the garden. Of all fall bulbs they are probably the easiest for the amateurs to grow. They bloom each spring for many years without replanting, and with small attention. Many types multiply until they crowd, when they should be lifted, divided and replanted over a larger area.

The principal difference between the types is in the size of the trumpets, which vary from the large trumpet varieties, which when well grown rise two feet high with flowers six inches across and trumpets three inches long, to the poetic type whose trumpets are mere cups, usually of bright red.

Hybrid varieties between these extremes have trumpets of varying sizes. While large trumpets are so far limited in color to white and yellow, there are medium trumpet varieties which have red and orange trumpets, combined with white or yellow petals, in vivid contrast.

Breeders have long sought to produce "pink daffodils," and a few varieties have been introduced which have trumpets faintly suffused with pink when grown in greenhouses, or in shady places outdoors. But this color fades quickly in the sun.

Daffodils thrive in woods, where they can be naturalized and grow with little attention. They like to nestle at the feet of shrubs, or under trees, where they blossom before the leaves come out in locations which then are in the sun, but later will be shaded. They are seldom lifted oftener than once in three years. But never plant them where their foliage will be cut off before it turns yellow, which indicates that a new bulb has been formed and has matured.

Some of them are delightfully fragrant. They are ideal cut flowers, as is shown by the quantities of daffodils forced and sold by florists each winter. The trumpet varieties are easily grown as house plants, provided only that the atmosphere is not too dry, in which case buds often blast.

The sooner daffodils are planted in the fall, the better; it gives them more time to make roots and become established in the new location before the freeze-up. They need this time, because they blossom so early in the spring, they have little time to grow then, after the ground thaws out.

PETROLEUM INDUSTRY STILL POTENT FACTOR IN STATE'S SOUND ECONOMIC STANDING

An annual check-up of the Texas petroleum industry shows that the forces within its operations continue as a potent factor in the state's economic health and the 50-years-plus age of the industry here has not dimmed its vision for new frontiers.

These are conclusions which can be drawn from a special Oil Progress Week report issued by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association, the state's largest organization of oil and gas producers.

The first increase in crude oil prices since 1947 came in June, averaging about 25 cents per barrel. With production at the billion-barrel mark, this increase will mean something like an additional $145 million for the state's economy over the 1952 figure.

Overall significance of oil industry operations is reflected in 1952 statistics. Outstripping farm and ranch cash crop income by 23 per cent, the $2.6 billion sale of crude oil generated a large share of the money which flowed into Texans' pockets and bank accounts.

Latest figures show that Texas has more than 143,000 producing oil wells in some 3,684 fields scattered over the state. Its gas wells numbered almost 10,000.

Production of both oil and gas come from reserves which account for 55 per cent of those known to exist in the United States. At the start of 1953, Texas had some 18 billion barrels of crude oil reserves and its reserves of natural gas are estimated at 195.7 trillion cubic feet.

So widespread and complex are the economic effects of oil and gas development that no precise measurement can be made of the distribution of "oil" money.

One large beneficiary group, however, includes the land and royalty owners who share in the production of oil and gas for a total of some $450 million a year. Money received for lease rentals, but estimates are high because the amounts under lease are guessed to be in excess of 60 million acres, with prices ranging from 25 cents to $50 dollars an acre, depending on "how hot the play is." These payments took on additional significance in a year of drought and regional crop failure.

The supply of equipment for the oil country is a gigantic business in Texas, but no sales figures are available. It is significant, however, that headquarters for many of the nation's largest tool manufacturing and sales organizations are located in Texas. The same is true of many large well servicing organizations and geophysical exploration firms.

Closely wedded to the trends of Texas petroleum industry is the financial side of the state government and the whole educational system. From production taxes alone, the state derived some $137 million in revenue last year. Additional tax levies on the industry, such as those from state property taxes, taxes on services, etc., brought the total to $158 million, or 35 per cent of the total taxes collected by the state. A look at collections from all Texas industry, business, and property, however, shows the oil and gas producers accounting for 68 per cent.

Public education has no stronger financial backer than the petroleum industry. Last year 46 cents out of every dollar of state aid to the free public schools came from the oil and gas producers. Even in the state-supported colleges, oil and gas tax money accounted for 45 per cent of all the appropriations from the General Revenue Fund.

"Henry—did you remember to get our tickets for the Prison Rodeo?"

The shift of Texas populations to industrial-type economy is stimulated by rising oil company payrolls. Estimates based on Texas Employment Commission figures show that probably more than 220,000 Texas breadwinners are directly employed in activities bracketed by the search for oil and product delivery at the service station driveway. About 170,000 of these are engaged in drilling, production, transportation and refining. The industry's payroll is estimated at about $900 million a year. Oil rates are at the top in Texas pay scales.

Geared to the billion-barrel-a-year pattern of oil production in Texas are two other large industries—drilling and refining.

The processing of two-thirds of the state's crude oil production has made refining Texas' largest manufacturing industry. With investments in equipment averaging some $38,000 per worker, refining is a key factor in the Texas industrial scene, particularly along the Gulf Coast port cities. Recently added to the refining complex is a new industry—born of prodigious availability of oil, natural gas, and refinery by-products—now called petrochemicals.

Mouse Top Performer At Fair

Philbert, the smartest mouse this side of Hollywood, will be the star performer in the Telephone Exhibit at the Texas State Fair in Dallas, and one of the hits of the exposition, predicts Manager W. H. McAnally of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company here.

The educated electronic mouse will make his first public appearance in the Southwest at the Fair. He can find his way through a large variety of complicated mazes to a piece of "cheese" at the end, and then remember and retrace his path through the winding passage.

Philbert is carved from wood, has copper whiskers, and is activated by telephone relays, or switches, the same as are used to furnish telephone service, McAnally said. The antics of the little rodent are comical when he is searching his way through the maze, but he is strictly business when he goes over the path the second time from memory without any hesitation and without veering to the right or left.

Rivaling the long-memoried mouse in interest at the exhibit will be a demonstration of the transistor, which has been called the most important electronic discovery since the invention of the vacuum tube, according to the manager. An invention of telephone scientists, the tiny transistor is expected to replace vacuum tubes in many communication jobs.

This little gadget, about the size of a .22 calibre cartridge, may make wireless telephones and even perhaps "Dick Tracy" wrist radios possible. One of the transistor-powered devices shown at the exhibit will be a short-wave radio transmitter about the size of two packages of king-size cigarettes.

RHS BULLDOGS SMASH BANGS DRAGONS 49-14 TO MARK UP THIRD DISTRICT 7-A VICTORY

Ranger's sensational Bulldogs, staked by the pounding running of Charles Masegee and fierce blocking, smashed the hapless Bangs Dragons 49-14 Friday night with Coach O. C. Warden using reserves during most of the game. It was the third District 7-A victory in a row for the Wardenmen.

Ranger's starting eleven scored almost at will against the over-scheduled Dragons. On the first play from scrimmage the Dogs' Masegee raced through a gaping hole in the left side of the line and went 45 yards for the initial score. The TD came just seconds deep in the game and was set up by a pass interception by end Tommy Hinds on the Bangs 45. Hinds, by the way, was a demon all night as the Dogs intercepted seven of the Dragons' passes. Masegee's tally came on the third play of the game. The visitors lost six yards on the first play and then had a pass intercepted on the second. Billy Browning converted.

The second Ranger score came when the game was just little over two minutes deep and was again set up by Hinds' interception of a Bobby Prince pass. The Dragons ran three plays before Hinds brought in the pass on the visitor's 46. Quarterback Scott Forney, on first down, passed to end Chico Mendoza, and the shift end, added again by sparking downfield blocking, went over. Masegee's try for point was good and the score read 14-0.

With the clock showing the game still less than four minutes deep, the Bulldogs struck for paydirt again. For the third time it was a Bangs' pass play which backfired that set up the score. Masegee pulled in one of Prince's passes and romped 40 yards for the score. Browning's kick was good to make the score read 21-0.

Dragons Score
A sparkling play from the double-wing formation gave the Dragons their first score. Ronald Hallford, who with James Segrest kept the visitors in the game, took a pitch out from Peewee Eason after Eason took a handoff from Prince and passed to his right end, Rooby Bauer, in the end zone from 21 yards out. Hallford then converted and the score was 21-7.

Just before the first quarter ended Masegee raced 47 yards for another score, but the ball was pushed back to the Bangs 25 by a clipping penalty. From there Browning took it to the 20, Jim Littlefield carried to the 15 and then Masegee raced over. Masegee then kicked the extra point to make the scoreboard read Ranger 28, Bangs 7.

The Dogs scored only once in the second quarter. Benny Robinson powered his way over from the line for the score to climax a 60 yard sustained drive. Browning's kick was good to make it 35-7.

In the final stanza Browning's understudy, Johnny Sweeney, who ran the Dog team smoothly much of the time, went over on a quarterback sneak from the one. The play was set up by Littlefield's 46 yard scamper around right end. Browning came in to successfully kick the extra point.

Bangs got some sort of revenge by scoring the final TD of the game. Hallford, a good sophomore back, took a pitch-out and raced over from the three after the Dragons found the middle of the line hard to crash. Segrest's 35 yard sprint from the Bangs 25 and a 15 yard penalty, put the Dragons in scoring position.

The victory came easily for the Ranger eleven. Coach Warden fought to keep the score down. Probably if he had let his starters in even half of the game the score would have been doubled. Bangs was strictly outclassed and would have been better off if the game had never been scheduled.

It must be said, to the credit of the Bangs coach, that the Dragons were in good condition. The visitors suffered no serious injuries.

Tri-captains for the Bulldogs were Mendoza, Masegee and Bobby Justice.

Cisco Junior College Falls To Blinn JC

Cisco Junior College fell before the Pflug Junior College Buccaneers of Brenham, 13-6, in a Texas Junior College conference game played in Cisco Thursday night.

The Cisco Wranglers scored first on the first play of the second quarter as Johnny White climaxed a 70-yard drive with a dash for the goal from 10 yards out. Blinn's Tommy Carter evened things up late in the third period when he rambled across from the seven-yard line and kicked the conversion to put the Bucs ahead.

Late in the final quarter Buccaneer Gayle McGinty added insurance when he plunged across from the Wrangler five. Carter missed the conversion try. Standouts in the Blinn line were Bob Tinsley, and Tommy Cuba, guards and notables for Cisco were End Pud Miller and Tackle Wayne Adams.

Honors For Jimmie Stewart

Jimmie Stewart (center) hero of countless screen thrillers was honored by the school children and citizens of Dawson Creek, B. C., at Jasper Park Lodge in the Canadian Rockies where Stewart is making a motion picture. The screen star was presented with a replica of famous "Mile Post Zero" of the Alaska Highway made by the school children of the far-north town by William H. Hobbs, (right) vice president of the Canadian National Railways and given a certificate of office and badge as honorary "Marshal of Dawson Creek" by Robert Sommerville, general manager of C.N.R. hotels, in behalf of the citizens of Dawson Creek.

RANGER PUPS BEAT EASTLAND DOGIES 20-7 IN GRID OPENER

The Ranger Junior High Pups handed the Eastland Junior High Dogies their first loss of the season Thursday night, 20-7, in a game played in Ranger.

The game, the first of the year for the Pups, broke Eastland's two game win streak.

Freddy Cooper, 105-pound left half for Ranger, scored the first touchdown of the game when he went over from the one-yard line to climax a 65-yard drive. He took the Pups on plays after the opening kick to score. David Wharton ran over the extra point to put Ranger ahead 7-0.

An Eastland fumble set up the second Ranger score. Robert Veal, left guard, jumped on the Dogie fumble on the Eastland 36. The score came when quarterback Richard Spindle pitched out to 2 for 60 punts 1 for 25 Wharton who raced over for the tally. The Pups ran over the extra point.

The final Ranger score started at mid-field. Wharton's 42-yard scamper to paydirt made it 20-0. Cooper failed in his attempt to run over the extra point.

The Dogies struck paydirt when Ranger fumbled on their own 38. Phillip Rodriguez raced 44 yards for the score. Rodriguez ran over the extra point.

Junior College Heads Study J. C. Athletics

Members of the four Texas junior college athletic conferences discussed possibilities of uniform eligibility rules and considered the possible organization of a state championship program at Texas A&M College.

Paul A. Canyus, president, Texas Jun. College Association, served as moderator during a panel discussion, "Junior College Athletics," dealing with several vital conference members.

Panel members were J. E. Mares, president, Kilgore College, Big Six Conference; Orval Firtle, president, Henderson County Junior College, Texas Junior College Conference; Andrew Edgington, resident Schreiner Institute, Pioneer Conference; J. D. Moore, president, Victoria College, South Texas Junior College Conference; and J. R. McLemore, president, Paris Junior College. McLemore spoke on compliance of Texas conference with rules of the National Junior College Athletic Association.

Questions considered by the group included eligibility of players, including high school players, transfers from other junior colleges and from four-year colleges, third year boys; possibility of setting up state championship playoffs, and the number of scholarships a school may give athletes.

RANGER JC FALLS BEFORE POWERFUL SAN ANGELO 20 TO 0; FACE BLINN NEXT

Ranger fell before mighty San Angelo Junior College, the only undefeated Junior College in the state, Saturday night 20-0 in the season's first Pioneer Conference grid game. The loss was the third of the season for the Rangers against a win and a tie.

The Rangers could muster but one scoring threat against the powerful San Angelo eleven. Late in the second quarter EJC recovered a Ram fumble and drove to the San Angelo 5 before they lost the ball on downs.

Quarterback Gene Henderson scored San Angelo's first touchdown in the second period on a 40-yard run. In the third quarter fullback John Blocker intercepted a Ranger pass and went 15 yards for another tally. Jerry Hopkins plunged over from the five-yard line in the fourth quarter for the third Ram touchdown. Henderson converted twice for the victors.

In other Pioneer conference games Arlington State beat Navarro 27-7 to gain prestige. The Navarro crew held Ranger to a 20-20 tie last week. TCU's freshmen beat Tarleton State 40-9 while Schreiner had an open date. This week's action will pit Blinn Junior College against the Rangers at Ranger; Tarleton State at Kilgore; Schreiner against Navarro.

If you drive on Rough Roads—

READ THIS ABOUT THE GREAT GULF TIRE

This Gulf Tire can stand up to rough roads and take real punishment. Here's why: The Gulf Tire has a considerably stronger carcass. It's built with a new-type cord and has more cord per inch in every ply. Then vulcanizing welds all plies together. They work as a unit to resist bruises. And they're interlocked around high-tensile steel wire beads.

Stop in— See it for Yourself!

- Less chance of blowouts and carcass failures with this tire because a double breaker strip cushions shocks.
- The tire lasts longer—wears more evenly, edge to edge, for its flatter tread design spreads the wear over a wider contact area.
- The 7 zigzag ribs of the Gulf Tire fight skids. Their flex-wiping action breaks up water film on wet roads.
- The 7 ribs mean there's a "riding bar" down the center of the tire. Right at the point of greatest pressure, the load rides on rubber, not on a groove!
- At high speeds, the tire runs cooler (and safer) because of a special ingredient in the rubber.
- Sidewall shields protect tire against curbstone bruising.
- Warranty accompanies every Gulf Tire—is honored by Gulf Dealers everywhere!

Tarleton State Sets Homecoming

The annual Fall homecoming at Tarleton State College in Stephenville has been set for Nov. 7.

The day-long activities will include a parade, a football game, and a reception dinner, and dance for ex-students.

Plans call for a three-mile long parade to form at 10 a.m. Twenty-five high school bands have been asked to march. Others to participate will include the Tarleton cadet corps and co-education band and colorful floats entered by Stephenville merchants and ex-students from other towns.

Highlight of the afternoon will be the football game between San Angelo Junior College and Tarleton. Kick-off time has been set for 2 p.m., but the Homecoming Queen will be crowned in pre-game events at Memorial Field. The reception, dinner, and dance for ex-students will follow the game. Honor guests at the dinner will be former Tarleton professors of military science and tactics. Among these will be S. F. Davis, now serving as head of Tarleton's chemistry department. He served as the first military instructor at the school.

The late Prof. William H. Hobbs, University of Michigan geologist and explorer, is contained in a fossil, Antonio Jeno, discovered in America in 1924, more than 100 years before Christopher Columbus sighted outlying islands.

Army advance sales at Fort Hood, Tex., are turning back to the government an average of $10,000 a month. Items are sold as salvage when the cost of repair would be more than the bill for a new item.

WRITTEN FARM RENTAL AGREEMENTS ADVISABLE

At the time of year, landlord and tenant alike are thinking about farm rental arrangements for 1953. While many operate from year to year on the basis of verbal agreements regulated largely by local customs, written leases are better and may save disagreements and hard feelings between the parties.

Farming is a business and should be conducted in a business-like manner for best success. Rental contracts involve a full year's work by the tenant and possibly thousands of dollars for both parties. A few dollars spent on a properly drawn agreement is good business economy.

A farm lease is not a simple paper. Printed lease forms often turn out to be traps if not understood, or if not properly executed. A farmer-tenant contract is intricate and of such importance to both parties concerned that any carelessness is risky.

Fixing of cash rent or designating the length of term are relatively simple. Yet, even in these matters, ambiguity or incompleteness can cause bitter disputes and expensive lawsuits.

FROM HERE TO ETERNITY

A locally drawn property description may have consequences entirely unintended by either landlord or tenant. Where rent is to be based on acreage, an accurate description is doubly important.

In addition, there are legal rules to substitute for some omissions in written leases. For example, the tenant who holds over beyond the term may automatically renew the contract if the lease is silent on the subject. It is as important to know the rules of omissions as to know the rules of interpretation of the language used.

There are many matters which should be covered by a properly drawn lease. For instance, if a tenant is to farm on a share basis, he should be taken to define what expenses are to be paid by the parties as well as what share are to be taken out. A lease should cover such things as who is to make repairs, what land is to be cropped, whether the land is to be cut timber, whether loss of a building by fire or other causes frees the tenant, or whether the landlord must accept a sub-tenant.

One great cause of difficulty with leases is blind faith on the part of the persons involved that all differences of opinion can be worked out. Poor memories as to verbal agreements can cause disputes between persons even though they are both honest and generous.

Many of the possibilities that should be covered by a properly drawn lease will not occur to inexperienced persons. The renting of land deserves a written contract, and it is a contract too important to be entrusted to anyone other than a lawyer.
