

Rangers Meet San Angelo Saturday

Pioneer Conference Opener Favors Rams

by Lee Harr

PUPS GROUND AT TACK SMASHES WEATHERFORD JUNIORS 26-0

Ranger's Bulldog Pups thoroughly trounced Weatherford Junior High School to the tune of 26-0 Tuesday night at Range Stadium.

The first two running plays the Pups employed netted touchdowns runs of 57 and 38 respectively.

Seldom able to get their defensive game rolling, Weatherford was virtually held to a cold standstill during the entire game.

On the first play, Charles Wolford, right half took the handoff from his quarterback, ripped over right tackle, angled to the side-line, squirmed past the second and squirmed into the end zone for a 57 yard gallop.

Again, the Pups kicked off. This time to the Weatherford 20. Weatherford collected a 10 yard runback. A combination of two running plays for nine yards and a five yard offside penalty tauted to net a first down.

Two short jump passes failed to materialize, then Kirby Kidwell, Weatherford quarterback elected to run. The run lacked enough yardage for a first down and Ranger took control of the ball on the Weatherford 32 yard line.

Of course, these boys did not operate with the cool precision of a group of professionals but their age and experience would account for a lot of that.

Looking over the football statistics in the Pioneer conference, the Ranger JC and San Angelo tussle Saturday should be a classic.

However, I believe that I would be inclined to stick with an offensive team over a defensive squad, even though the Rams are given a slight favorite role.

Sections 1 and 2 of Article VI of the Constitution now prohibits voting by active members of the regular military establishments.

The result of this amendment, if adopted, would be to permit any member of the Armed Forces to vote, provided he was otherwise qualified, but he would be required to pay his poll tax or obtain an exemption certificate under the same rules as pertain to civilian voters.

Actually at one time there was a very good purpose for this bill. Not allowing the Texas servicemen and women to vote goes back to the days of the Texas Revolution when a faction of the Texas army attempted to take over the civilian government shortly after Texas became a Republic.

It seems to me that we badly need the change. If Tuesday night's football game is a true indication of things to come in the Ranger grid wars, I say with a very few years the high school can again look forward to contention in the state fair race.

We have just had three-fourths of an inch of moisture. Fine, we praise God for this amount, but, unless we get more rain than this, it will be worse than no rain at all.

Businessmen should leave their places of labor and journey to the Church and there pray. You may be the only person present, or there may be half a dozen.

One of the more prominent civic leaders of this city said, "My day just goes better and there is less trouble when I read my Bible each morning and have my prayers."

May the citizens of Ranger and the area accept the challenge and come to one of the Churches in the city each day and pray that God may find in our hearts the humility and dedication that will permit him to give us moisture.

Vote Intelligently (An Editorial) Voting on constitutional amendments has become common place in Texas. Voters have too often neglected their duty by not voting intelligently.

The Ranger Junior College Rangers open the Pioneer Conference flag race when they journey to San Angelo, to test the prowess of the Rams, the loop's leading defensive team.

Trying to improve their record of three wins and one loss for the season, the Rangers will go into the game leading the conference in the running department.

The winner of the Frisco will be favored as the conference team most apt to fight it out with the AFC Rebels for the circuit honors this season.

Other conference will continue their schedules against non-loop opposition. One of the games, matching the ASC Rebels against the Del Mar Vikings at Corpus Christi Saturday, will bring together the state's only undefeated junior college teams.

Oil Progress Week Oil—how much that three-lettered word has meant to Eastland County? In fact, how much it still means to the 23,542 citizens of this West Texas county.

Let us, during Oil Progress Week, stop and consider just what the oil business does mean to us. Since 1917, the year oil was first discovered in Eastland County, this area has seen a great boom, a great decline and now a gradual, but sure, return to new discoveries.

Eastland County has, as of Jan. 1 of this year, a total production of 111,923,497 barrels of oil. Annual crude production totals 1,022,745 barrels or 32,798 barrels daily, according to the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association.

Near Eastland, six miles southeast at Mangum, the Clark P. Chandler field has seen several good producers brought in. And northeast of Ranger the new Hagaman field has great prospects, with two new offsets to producers being staked this week.

White Texas production is accounting for some 42 per cent of U.S. crude oil flow (43.4 in 1953), it began the year with 62 per cent of the country's crude oil reserves—estimated at some 15-billion barrels.

These crude oil reserves, plus another 3.2 billion barrels of liquid hydrocarbons to be extracted from natural gas, are a foundation block in the state's economy, its property values and business prospects, for many years to come.

White Texas is the state's top crude oil production area. The region produces 32.8 per cent of the state total, followed by the upper (Continued On Page Two)

Be it ordained by the City Commission of the City of Ranger:

That there shall be submitted to the qualified voters of the City of Ranger at a special election to be held in the City of Ranger on December 4, 1954, the following proposed amendment to the present charter of said City of Ranger:

2. That all parts of the existing City Charter of the City of Ranger in conflict herewith, and especially Sections 2, 8, and 9, all of Article V, as the same now exist, are hereby repealed and said Sections 2, 8, and 9 of Article V, as the same herein read, be substituted therefore.

Approximately 60 per cent of all employed Americans now have a daily coffee break on the job, a nationwide survey reveals, an increase of about 10 per cent in the past four years.

Fifth of A Series

Confederate Pension Fund Is Involved In Fourth Amendment

(Editor's Note: This is the fifth in a series of 11 articles giving both sides of the question on the proposed constitutional amendment voters will vote on Nov. 2.)

The fourth proposed amendment voters will vote yes or no on during the Nov. 2 general election concerns the Confederate Pension Fund.

This amendment would transfer the idle surplus of the Confederate Pension Fund to a new State Building Fund to be administered by a newly created State Building Commission. This Commission would be composed of the Governor, the Attorney General and the Chairman of the Board of Control. The Legislature could provide by law some other State official in lieu of the Chairman of the Board of Control, to be confirmed by the Senate.

Each year, the Comptroller of Public Accounts would certify the amount required to pay Confederate pensions the ensuing year. The State Treasurer then would transfer any excess in the Confederate Pension Fund to the State Building Fund.

The amendment would provide that the State Building Fund could be expended by the Commission upon appropriation by the Legislature, and then would specify that the first major structure would be for the use of the Supreme Court and other courts and state agencies as would be provided by law. The second structure would be a state office building. It would further provide that the Commission could expend not more than 6 per cent of the moneys available annually for erecting memorials to Texans who served in the Texas Revolutionary forces or in the Confederate forces. The memorials could be erected within or without the boundaries of this state.

The present 2c per $100 valuation ad valorem tax levied by the Constitution for Confederate pensions would not be changed by this amendment.

cash rather than to increase the State debt by issuing bonds to construct courts and office buildings.

This amendment would not increase the tax burden. There is nearly $6,000,000 idle in the Confederate Pension Fund, with about $1,250,000 increase yearly. Approximately $500,000 provides for those on the pension roll.

AGAINST

There is only one surviving veteran who receives $200 per month with 444 widows of veterans who receive $100 per month and 21 widows living in the Confederate Women's Home who receives $25 per month. The Tax should be reduced or eliminated entirely. The principal in the fund and accruing interest should be ample to provide for the fast diminishing number of pensioners.

This amendment provides for construction but not maintenance of certain proposed State buildings. The cost of maintenance and administration of the fund would add immeasurably to our already great state government expense.

Texas Ranks 7th In Federal Tax Over 69 Million

Texas ranked seventh among states of the Union in its grand total for the fiscal year 1954 of Federal taxes collected by the Internal Revenue Service, Regional Commissioner B. Frank White said today. The Texas tax total was $2,193,724,847, and represented the combined collection activities of both the Dallas and Austin district offices.

The Texas tax total was part of the $69,900,000,000 collected nationally during the fiscal year, Commissioner White reported. The first six states, in the order of their collection standing, were: New York, Michigan, Illinois, California, Pennsylvania, and Ohio.

Other high ranking states following Texas were: Massachusetts, New Jersey, North Carolina, Wisconsin, Indiana, Minnesota, Kentucky, and Delaware.

The regional total recorded for the five states comprising the Dallas region was $3,633,033,278.

In rounded figures the Texas corporation and income and profits tax total was 620 million dollars. Withheld income taxes and old age insurance accounted for 760 million dollars. The state recorded a high 588 million dollars in the individual income tax not withheld category.

Both Oklahoma and Louisiana recorded fiscal year collections of over one-half billion dollars, with Arkansas and New Mexico, the other two regional states, making up the balance of the region's grand total.

BETTI'S BUDGET of HELPFUL HINTS

Bake a few apples in your range while you're doing the dinner dishes. Next morning, place an apple in the middle of a cereal bowl, pour candy-coated puffed wheat around it, and your youngsters will have a delightful, nutritious, "round-the-apple" breakfast.

When the weather turns cool, we suggest heating canned tomato juice just to a boil. Add a teaspoon of butter to each serving and stir until the butter melts. Serve either in bullion cups or small glasses. Don't forget a slice of lemon for flavor.

Lamps are "inside windows," so keep shades clean. Paper or parquettized shades cannot be submerged in water for cleaning. Paper shades should be dusted off only. However, if the paper is of good quality, it may be cleaned with a damp, sudsy cloth, then wiped with a cloth dampened in clear water and quickly wiped entirely dry. Silk and rayon shades can be cleaned by careful washing in warm sudsy water if the trimmings are stitched to the frame, not glued.

This brisk weather calls for a warm, as well as an energizing snack for the youth bound for football practice. We suggest serving the boy hot packaged pudding when he stops by the house to drop his books. Make chocolate pudding according to directions on the mix package. As you take it from the range, drop in 8 to 12 whole marshmallows or peppermint patties. They'll melt beautifully over the pudding and the boy will have a dressed-up snack, both warming and filling, to speed him on his way.

If you are fatigued don't eat a lot. Try, for example, a hot bowl of soup with toasted croutons. Fatigue gives you an abnormal appetite, so go easy.

One-half cup of coarsely chopped pecans, when added to dumplings, provides a fresh variation for an old favorite.

World's Largest Safety Event To Be Held In Chicago October 18

CHICAGO — What makes a heel at the wheel? Is he a heel to begin with? Or does an automobile change some drivers from nice guys to jerks? The answers to those questions will be sought at the 42nd annual National Safety Congress, where members of the Cincinnati Psychological Association will take the auto driver apart to see what makes him tick.

Concern with the psychology of the motorist is just one of more than 200 sessions which will jam-pack the five day annual convention of the National Safety Council opening Monday, Oct. 18 in Chicago.

As the nation's No. 1 accident killer, traffic mishaps will receive heavy emphasis. But industrial, home, farm and school safety will

Ford Engineers Tell How Gas Can Be Saved

Gasoline mileage is largely a matter of a light foot and good driving practices, according to Ford Motor Company's Engineering Staff.

For example, they advise that a light foot on the accelerator when pulling away from stop lights really pays off. "Jackrabbit" starts use up to 15 per cent more gasoline than does partial - throttle acceleration.

The automobile driver should use the choke as little as possible, and should release the choke as soon as the car's engine operates smoothly.

Tests by the Engineering Research Department, Ford Engineering Staff, at Dearborn, Mich., show that at 40 miles an hour, gasoline mileage averages 20 miles per gallon when the choke is out 15 per cent. It drops sharply to only nine miles when the choke is extended 40 per cent.

Warming up the engine on cold mornings is good practice, Ford engineers say. During the first five miles of driving, "cold-started" cars consume 30 per cent more fuel than "hot-started" ones.

During long trips, tests show, the best drivers maintain a steady, middle-range speed. Ford tests reveal a 12 per cent gas economy when highway speed is reduced from 60 down to 50 miles an hour.

A driver should anticipate stops and use some of the car's wind and rolling resistance in bringing it to a halt. If he waits until the last second to jam on his brakes, he not only wears out tires and brake linings, but also uses twice the fuel he would in breaking gently and letting the car drift to a stop.

Mechanical maintenance also will add to mileage. Ford engineers advise keeping the air cleaner free from dirt and the exhaust system free of obstructions. They say a dirty air cleaner can cause loss of 1 1/2 miles per gallon and a partially-plugged muffler or tail pipe can reduce mileage five per cent.

Good rules also are to avoid long periods of engine idling and to keep proper air pressure in tires. Extended idling is a gas-waster; under-inflated tires are a drag on the engine and cause substantial power and fuel losses.

Ford research men recall a classic example of non-economical driving habits, involving a woman motorist who complained of poor gasoline mileage.

Investigation showed that her first act each time she entered her automobile, was to pull out the choke—so she could hang her purple on it!

More than 300,000 soldiers currently are enrolled in the United States Armed Forces Institute.

Trees And Shrubs Should Be Planted Early In The Fall

In the fall months, with a full summer of growth behind them under ideal conditions in nurseries, trees and shrubs are at their peak physical condition, according to the Texas Association of Nurserymen. When planted in the fall they are able to take greater advantage of late winter and very early spring growth and they will produce their full complement of spring and summer foliage and flowers.

Family Fares Are Announced By Bus Firm

Reduced fares for family travel on Continental Trailways Bus System will be placed in effect November 1, company officials announced this week.

The plan, similar to those in effect on railroads and airlines, reduces the cost for a wife or husband and children between the ages of 5 and 22 to exactly half rate. Children under five ride free as usual.

However, the half rate travel is more flexible than previous plans in that while the passengers must originate their trips on Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday, a round trip return ride may be made on any day of the week within the normal limits of round trip tickets.

The effective date of the plan in the Southeastern states or those east of Memphis, Jackson and New Orleans, will be December 1, according to G. G. Rountree, traffic director of Continental Southern Lines.

Especially For The Men: Glazed Smoked Pork Butt

Especially for the men in the family, here's an idea for a good, old-time supper. Serve smoked pork butt — but give it extra-special treatment by studding it closely with even rows of whole cloves and baking it with a thick glaze which combines applesauce, brown sugar, spices and coke.

GLAZED SMOKED PORK BUTT
2 boned smoked pork butts (1-1 1/2 pounds each)
Whole cloves
1 cup applesauce
2-3 cup brown sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1-4 teaspoon nutmeg
1-2 cup coke

Simmer pork in water to cover 45 minutes. Cool in cooking water. Drain. Stud top surfaces with even rows of whole cloves. Mix together applesauce, brown sugar, spices and coke. Spread thickly over tops and sides of meat. Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees, 1 hour. Makes 12 hearty slices or enough for 8 hungry people. Serve hot or cold with caraway-seeded sauerkraut and baked yams.

The nation's far-flung network of aircraft spotters do tripple duty — they not only guard against a sneak air attack, but have often spotted fires and would-be burglars from their high towers.

Plants generally do most of their growing in the spring and early summer and become dormant in the fall even when, like evergreens, they still have full foliage. Deciduous trees and shrubs of course shed their foliage and renew it the following season. But whether evergreens or deciduous, fall planting is desirable and often preferred by many nurserymen. There are only a few plants that are better planted in the spring and your nurseryman will advise with respect to them.

The fall months offer cool days when the home owner usually is not crowded with other chores, and has time to fill out his foundation planting with new shrubs, or to establish a rose garden. He can plant a space for an outdoor living room or put in a windbreak, or plant a hedge and trees for more privacy. Most home fruits, both the large fruits, and the small fruits like raspberries and strawberries may be planted in the fall. Late summer and very early fall are excellent times to study what you need in the way of plants to make your home grounds more livable and enjoyable. The summer days are not long past and you know better what you would have liked in order to improve your outdoor living and the appearance of the property. Good landscaping and planting offers a more respectable look both to the home property and the neighborhood. If well done, it will far more than pay for itself by increasing the resale value of the property approximately 20 per cent, in addition to providing better living.

calves on the ground are like MONEY IN THE BANK

It costs a lot of money to keep a cow. A lot of that money is lost if she fails to settle or drops small, weak calves that die or develop into "tail-enders."

BIG CROPS of husky calves are a must, if a fellow is going to make money ranching. This is especially true when the price of cattle is off.

Your range needs help. It takes more than grass alone to give your cows what they need to grow and drop the kind of calves that will bring top prices next fall.

PURINA RANGE CHECKERS have proved their worth in research tests and on thousands of ranches. This favorite range supplement has what it takes. Cattle love Checkers, do well on them. Cows stay up in good shape at calving time, have lots of milk for the calves, too.

More and more Southern cattlemen are planning their breeding program so that calves come in the late fall. These calves are ready to eat early grass—hit the early market, which is usually best.

Feed for big calf crops the Purina Way. Purina Range Checkers can help you keep your operation on the profit side of the ledger.
