RANGER, TEXAS, TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 1954

PRICE FIVE CENTS

35TH YEAR

The Pathfinder by Lee Harr

After talking with Ranger Junior College's affable coach Dick Henderson and assistant coach Pat Thomas and watching the college team work out yesterday, I could not help but notice the ominous spirit that prevailed though partially covered and completely in the background.

No one spoke the word "upset" but the very possible threat loomed in every nook and corner of the campus. From the very moment one set foot on the campus the blast struck. It is not blustery gust but rather one that engulfs each individual and carries him along in the path of its movement, as an integral part to relay the feeling to others.

Win, lose or draw, the Rangers certainly have their work cut out for them, after the Arlington Rebels blasted the San Angelo Rams 33-7 last Saturday. Ranger suffered a 36-7 defeat at the hands of the Rams three weeks ago.

Using these two scores as a criterion, Ranger would be a 55 point underdog to the Rebels. Up until last week, San Angelo was rated number four nationally and the Rebels still possess the number two spot.

However, it was Homecoming at Arlington and they were probably more fired up for the fracas than as for most contests, yet, they cannot be denied a well balanced team offensively as well as defensively.

Ranger High School gets a double crack at Mineral Wells this week and on home soil at that, as the two junior high teams meet tonight and the high school squads tangle Friday night in a district activity.

That fumble that was caught in midair by Baylor's Del Shofner and returned 38 yards for the winning touchdown in the TCU-Baylor game last week furnished statistics with a mild headache to say the least, the TCU Sports Service has indicated.

The big question was where to show the 38 yards in statistics? It wasn't a punt return, run from scrimmage or intercepted pass return — yet Baylor was due 38 yards credit.

They finally agreed to give Shofner a "no intercepted pass return" for the 38 yards.

A similar play developed in 1935 when TCU was playing North Dakota when a Frog end intercepted a lateral and raced for a score.

Ex-Ranger Girl Killed In New Mexico Mishap

Barbara Elizabeth McMinn, age 15, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. I. D. McMinn of Ranger, was fatally injured last Friday, in Carlsbad, New Mexico, when thrown from a car fender. She died in a Carlsbad hospital within a few hours.

Former Ranger Man Dies Sunday In Weatherford

Funeral services for William R. Clardy, 70, were conducted at 3 p.m. Monday at Cotten-Bratton Chapel in Weatherford. Mr. Clardy died Sunday morning at his Weatherford home after an illness of three months.

Carbon Air Force Sergeant Makes Official Visit

Master Sergeant Robert L. Collins, sergeant major of the 3500th USAF Recruiting Wing with headquarters at Wright-Patterson AFB, Ohio, made an official visit to the local AF Recruiting Station yesterday it was announced by S-Sgt. Grady D. Hoyle in charge of Air Force recruiting for the Eastland area.

WIND EROSION MOST ACTIVE DEPLETER OF SOIL FERTILITY IN ALL AREAS OF STATE

The land of the High Plains region originally was occupied by vegetation that over the centuries had proved best equipped to thrive under each particular soil and climatic condition. Under natural conditions soil was less exposed to wind even during prolonged droughts because the residues of the season's growth remained as a protective covering until rains, however long delayed, came to stimulate new growth.

For The Old And Young MOSLAH TEMPLE VARIETY SHOW DUE TONIGHT AT AUDITORIUM

Tonight is the big night! Tonight the Cross Timber Shrine Club will stage the Moslah Temple Variety Show at the Ranger High School Auditorium at 8:00 o'clock.

Officials of the Moslah Temple are unanimous in agreeing that this is probably the most deluxe and elaborate show possible.

Other members of this stellar cast include Nan Roy, blonde, vivacious and a singer of renown; Bill Wright and his ukulele; Rex, the performing Chihuahua dog; Bob Bohn, Accompanist of WBAP-TV fame, Cherry Maddux, Miss Magic of the Variety-Show; and Joe Felix, Boogie-woogie.

Also accompanying the group, will be a stage orchestra composed of all professional musicians and under the leadership of Ken Vaughan, conductor. The rendition of "South Rampart Street Parade" by this famous band and the fine trumpet solos by Ken Vaughan, is in itself a great treat for music lovers of the Blues.

She was born Feb. 26, 1939 in Long Island, New York and moved from Ranger approximately six years ago.

She is survived by her grandparents of Ranger; her parents, a sister, Margaret and two brothers, Robert and Carl, of Carlsbad.

Funeral services were held at 3 p.m. Sunday in Carlsbad and the body was brought to Ranger Monday. Brief services were held at 2:30 this afternoon at the home of the grandparents. Rev. Ralph Perkins, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Ranger officiated.

Interment was in the Evergreen Cemetery, with Killingsworth Funeral Home in charge. Pallbearers were Richard Soindie, Travis Buchanan, Jerry Bradford, Gene Bagwell, Jerry Cantrell and Paul Hinds.

Funerals collected from sale of the poppies will go to veterans in hospitals, their wives and children.

All together, the Auxiliary wishes to sell their complete supply of 1,000 of the poppies.

The idea of the poppy as a memorial flower for World War dead sprang up as naturally as the little wild flower itself grows in the fields of France and Flanders.

Principal speaker of the night will be Don Reid, managing director of the Iowa Press Association, and a noted Iowa newsmen. A reception will be held for Reid Thursday afternoon at the Texas Electric Conference Room in Eastland, when area newspapermen will be given an opportunity to meet the honoree.

Other speakers include President Thomas and Ashton R. Collins, originator of the advertising character, Reddy Kilowatt. Thomas will discuss the growth and development of the company and of the electric industry.

Frank N. Sayre, district manager of Texas Electric, will preside.

The maintenance of an adequate vegetative cover should be the primary goal of all wind erosion control efforts. Lack of protective cover is the cause of wind erosion. The best remedy is to treat the cause. Mechanically measures are temporary and should be used only in emergency to treat the effects of blowing. The following emergency measures have been successfully used in the Southern Great Plains and elsewhere.

Emergency tillage should start immediately when fields show indications that they will blow severely.

On fine textured soils (hardlands) the land may be lifted or chiseled in strips the width of whatever sized implement is used and one to five rods apart. The idea is to bring up cloddy material.

Poppy Sale Saturday Honors War II Dead

"Wear a Poppy . . . America's silent tribute to her heroes."

With this slogan, the Auxiliary of the Ranger Carl Barn American Legion Post will join other auxiliaries all over the nation Saturday in selling Poppies — the small red flower that has become the symbol of American soldiers who have died in war.

All during the day Saturday, members of the Auxiliary will be selling on the streets. Headquarters for the operation will be in the Gholson Hotel.

The Auxiliary's poppy program begins in the summer or fall when the manufacture of the poppies in government hospitals and in special workshops maintained by the Auxiliary.

Through the following winter and spring months the disabled men are given profitable employment shaping the little red flowers. The program comes to a climax in May when, on the Saturday before Memorial Day in most communities, the sale of the poppies takes place on the streets.

'Ghosts' Content With Carnival Over Halloween

The "ghosts and goblins" that roamed the streets of Ranger Saturday were perfectly content in just scaring the wits out of people and avoiding any unjust destruction that causes persons in some locales to wait in dismay for October 31 each year.

"Pop" Pounds, police chief reported that with the exception of trash dumped in a yard or two because of "trick — no treat," the Halloween scene was relatively quiet this year.

The carnival in the recreation building provided entertainment for most of the "spooky" night. Several hundred children, with a few less parents crowded into the building to take a part in the various booths and attended the scheduled program which included a concert by the high school band and a one-act comedy "Don't Tell a Soul."

Of West Texas Ranchers White's Speech To Highlight Meeting

Commissioner of Agriculture, John C. White, will discuss the controversial problem of providing an adequate and workable program of providing relief to drought stricken farmers and ranchers in the Eastland High School Auditorium at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, Nov. 9. White has been in close contact with the program of 1953 as it developed in Washington and was in charge of the "Hay" program at the same time.

The occasion will be the annual meeting of the Central Texas Livestock Growers Association. He has recently returned from the National Capital where plans were discussed for a more suitable relief program during the immediate emergency. The present hay program will come in for much discussion.

This meeting is another of the public services offered by this Association to all livestock raisers. The meeting is strictly educational and everyone interested in livestock is invited to attend, a spokesman said.

How to make more money from ranching is a current subject discussed wherever and whenever ranchers meet. This problem will be discussed by Walter Pflueger (Continued on Page Five)

Voter Apathy Apparent As Ballots Get Marked

AMENDMENTS MAIN ISSUE IN ELECTION

Eastland County voters apparently have that apathy that President Eisenhower spoke of in a pre-election speech, for they were turning out in small numbers to vote in the November general election this morning.

The main issue centered around 11 proposed constitutional amendments. There is only token Republican opposition on the ballot, it appears.

One write-in campaign is being staged. That attempt was made by Tom High, who seeks to win the constable's race, from Porter Woods, who was unopposed during the Democratic primary. High ran several newspaper ads and made a spirited bid. Woods has made no open race.

Mrs. Simer Is Buried Sunday In Eastland

Funeral services for Mrs. Ida Sidney Simer of Olden were held Sunday afternoon at the Eastland Church of Christ with Leslie R. Mickey, minister of the Vernon Church of Christ in charge of services.

A quartet from Abilene Christian College sang the hymns, which were selected by the family, as favorite songs of Mrs. Simer. Mrs. Simer passed away Thursday night in Yaleta at the residence of her daughter, Miss Clara Simer. She had been ill since 1951 when she suffered a stroke July 3. She never fully recovered from the illness, although she was fully conscious and able to be carried to the car for pleasure trips. She spent her summers in Olden and her winters in Yaleta. Mrs. Simer was critically ill for a month.

Mrs. Simer was born in Indian Gap, Comanche County March 14, 1878. She was the oldest daughter of William Jasper Kelly and Harriet Dally Kelly. She spent most of her life in Erath and Eastland counties.

She married George W. Simer in 1897 near Thurber. Mr. Simer died in 1933. Mrs. Simer had long been a member and active worker in the Church of Christ.

Survivors include three daughters, Clara R. Simer of Yaleta, Laura Vernon Simer of Wichita Falls and Mrs. McKinley Howell of Plainview.

Pallbearers were close longtime friends of the family and included M. S. Holt, E. A. White, Marvin Johnson, John Hart, John Floyd Yielding and Oscar Norwood.

Five Dismissed From J.C. Football Squad

Five members of the Ranger Junior College football were dismissed for disciplinary reasons recently as the Rangers prepare themselves to make battle with the nation number 2 junior college—the Arlington State Rebels.

The dismissals have caused a switch in five positions on the Ranger squad. Those dismissed were Raymond Gilstrap, left end and one of the team's captains; Cecil Gilstrap, center; Jack Parrott, halfback; Pat Hughes, halfback and Charles Smith, tackle.

Clarence Reed, a Colorado City guard was forced to withdraw from school because of illness in his family.

Kenneth Richardson has been switched from left halfback to fill Raymond Gilstrap's vacancy. Charles Wooten was transferred from center to guard, Calvin Tucker was swapped from tackle to guard and Tommie Woods was transplanted at right half from the quarterback position.

Coch Dick Henderson stated that the change in the team personnel would not weaken but instead strengthen the unit for future contests and he indicated that

New Social Security Act Is Outlined

Many farmers in and around Ranger have begun to show a keen interest in the new social security law as it will affect them in 1955 and later. R. R. Tuley Jr., district manager of the Abilene office of the Social Security Administration said today.

"In visits to Eastland County, representatives of the Abilene office are having numerous questions and inquiries from 11-employed farm operators about what they need to do now and later, and what it will mean to them and to their families in the way of future retirement of survivor monthly benefit checks," Tuley stated.

"In general," he reports, "self-employed farm, ranch and cotton-gin operators, who earn as much as $400 net profit in 1955 and in 1956 will become fully insured in April, 1956. Those then 65 years of age or older, or survivors of those who die insured after that date will be due monthly checks subject to the retirement or earnings test contained in the Amendments."

"Farm employees who are paid as much as $100 by one employer in 1955 or any later calendar year will also begin to earn social security rights. The test of being insured depends on what we call 'quarters' of coverage. A farm employee gets one such 'quarter coverage' for each $100 in taxable wages, up to four in each year. The self-employed person receives his farm 'quarters of coverage' for each year that he reports as much as $400 in net profit. No one is insured until he has at least 6 quarters of coverage, and the requirement rises through the future years to a maximum need for 40 such credits."

To help local area farm families learn full details about how the 1954 amendments to the S-S act affect them, a booklet, "Facts for Farm Families," has been prepared. It may be secured free by writing and requesting it. The Address is 508 Post Office Building, Abilene. Include your name and address.

GAS APPLIANCE SALES

(THOUSANDS OF DOMESTIC UNITS)

SOURCE: AMERICAN GAS ASSOCIATION

SINCE 1946, nearly 19 million gas ranges and more than 14 million automatic gas water heaters were bought, according to Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association. Thus two out of every five homes in the United States are equipped with postwar model gas ranges, and one in three have gas water heaters made during this eight-year period.

During October, the county home demonstration agent, Minnie Mae Billingsley, met with the nine home demonstration clubs in the county to present a demonstration on "Floor Coverings." The demonstration was presented in the form of an illustrated lecture by using samples of floor coverings and pictures for illustrations.

Twelve girl 4-H Clubs have been organized in the county for 1954-55. The agent acted as leader for five of these clubs in order to train the assistant, Miss Julia LaFaye Mason. The remainder of the clubs were led by the assistant. High school girl clubs have been organized at Cisco and Rising Star. Plans had previously been made for a county wide club for high school girls, but lack of interest caused this to be dropped. The demonstrations to be carried in the 4-H Clubs this time are bedroom improvement and clothing.

Two leader training meetings have been held in the office. The agent presented one on "Selecting and Arranging Furniture." Seven of the nine clubs were represented at this meeting. The assistant agent presented her 4-H adult leader training meeting on "Scarf Tricks."

During October there was only one out of the county trip. This consisted of taking 34 4-H'ers to the State Fair in Dallas. Fourteen girls were among this group. The girls toured the Women's Building and also attended the State 4-H Dress Revue.

In addition to these things 31 homes have been visited in the county, 30 people have been helped through office calls, 25 have been helped by telephone, 75 bulletins have been distributed, and approximately 500 letters have been written. Approximately 677 people were contacted through club meetings.

Both agents join in saying, "We feel that by helping others, we are also helping ourselves. Each month we hope that our record will be at least this good, and we are striving to make it even better. Visitors are always welcome in our office. We hope that you will feel free to call upon us at any time, and if you have problems we will certainly try to help you find the solution."

Attorney General Addresses Cattlemen's Meeting Thursday

FORT WORTH — John Ben Shepperd, Texas' aggressive young Attorney General, will address the Texas Beef Council's giant barbecue in Fort Worth on Nov. 4, kicking off Beef Week in Texas.

Plans have been made to serve up to 1,000 Texas cattlemen and their guests, converging on "Cowtown" from all parts of the state. Roy Parks, Midland rancher and Texas Beef Council president, will preside as host for the occasion, with Billy Bob Watts, general manager of the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show serving as chairman for the event.

Jay Taylor of Amarillo, president of the American National Cattlemen's Association, will introduce Mr. Shepperd.

According to an aide, Mr. Shepperd plans to trace the history of the cattle industry in Texas, and pay tribute to cattlemen's independence and refusal of Federal price supports of beef. A beef-eater himself, the Attorney General said he agrees with Governor Shivers that Texans should eat beef at least once every day.

Home Demonstration Agents Busy During October, Report Reveals

By Minnie Mae Billingsley
The different meetings, office calls, telephone calls, home visits, reports, and office work have left both the assistant and the county home demonstration agent with very little free time.

WOMEN AND WHEELS Your New Car Upholstery Can Be Cleaned Easily

If Junior and his muddy-pawed puppy race through the car and Junior drops his melting chocolate bar on the seat as he goes, don't fret too much about it. There are methods to clean both mud and chocolate off the upholstery.

The most important point to remember is to clean spots and stains as soon as they occur. Don't let them set, or they'll be harder to remove.

Here is some advice on the care of your automobile interior, and some tips on stain removal.

OTHER STAINS Candy, fruit, ice-cream or beverage stains can usually be removed with very hot water.

BLOOD OR NAUSEA Blood or nausea should be sponged as quickly as possible with clear cold water, followed by a washing with lukewarm water. Follow with cleaner.

BRUSH THOROUGHLY Fabrics should first be brushed thoroughly to remove embedded dirt and dust. Nylon, leather and synthetic leather upholstery can be sponged off with semi-dry suds made from a pure soap.

GREASE AND OIL Grease and oil can best be removed with fabric cleaner or spot remover, using a dull knife first to scrape off excess quantities.

LIPSTICK, CHEWING GUM, TAR, GREASE AND OIL can best be removed with fabric cleaner or spot remover, using a dull knife first to scrape off excess quantities.

On chocolate stains use lukewarm water. Follow with cleaner.

For upholstery of wool, broadcloth or rayon composition, your dealer's dry cleaning fluid should be used. This usually contains carbon tetrachloride, and evaporates rapidly. Do not pour the fluid on the seat, but dampen a cloth with it and use a slight stroking motion on the fabric. Carpets can be cleaned with the same fluid.

BETTI'S BUDGET OF HELPFUL HINTS

How to iron a man's shirt beautifully is something dear to the heart of every woman in love. Right sleeve, yoke, left sleeve, back... now the front, and finish with the collar and cuffs. That's the proper order to attack a shirt-ironing problem — but there is one added trick that will do wonders to make this specialized ironing extra easy. It's a simple matter of adding to each quart of hot starch, one small section of a blue wax ironing aid — and remember, in this case, hot water means rapidly boiling. This makes the difference between success and failure in starch making.

For holiday zip, at no extra work, try this molded fruit salad or dessert. Substitute 1 cup of ginger-ale for the 1 cup of cold water called for in the directions on your fruit-flavored gelatin package. Ginger-ale adds a peppy touch to your receipt.

To clean table silver easily, use plain whitening, which you can buy in any paint store. Just mix the powder with enough warm water to make a past, rub, rinse in hot water, and wipe dry. Polish with a soft clean rag. This method is efficient, very inexpensive and safe to use on all your precious heirloom silver.

Summer shortcake in the winter? Sure. Now that you can turn to frozen fruits when fresh berries and peaches are out of season. It's the perfect dessert for a fish dinner and works in perfectly with your plan to use frozen fish sticks, after you've been shopping all day. Use the ice-box packaged biscuits to save time, and put them in the oven to bake at the same time the fish sticks go in. Set the control at 450 degrees and the biscuits will be ready to fix for dessert the moment the fish sticks are hot enough to serve.

Fashion experts who are in the know say that hair styles are definitely going to be longer this winter. So better start now allowing yours to grow to a more feminine length.

Another fashion-wise tip — Remember that it's only for "after-five" that glamour clothes truly look glamorous.

WINTER PERSONALITY

Wednesday Nite Services Set, First Baptist

Wednesday evening at 6:30 the Junior Department of the Sunday school of the First Baptist Church will serve the covered dish supper to the Officers, Teachers, members, and visitors of the church. Each family is to bring the necessary amount of food for their family. The sharing and fellowship makes these monthly affairs one of the highlights of the entire program.

After discussing the program for the month of November, the various departments will meet and have their plans presented and the lesson reviewed. The growth in Sunday school attendance is largely attributed to the planning and visitation sponsored by the entire department.

The laymen will have the "Hour of Inspiration" and Mr. G. B. Bush will bring the message of the evening.

The Choir under the leadership of Lee Russell will meet at 8:20 p.m. There has been an increase in attendance in choir practice and the music has been a growing inspiration in the worship services. The musicians are doing a splendid job with their singing and special numbers.

Survey Shows American Men Are Not As Healthy As Europeans

NEW YORK, N.Y. — Men beyond middle age in the United States have a generally less favorable health record, as reflected in prevailing mortality, than their contemporaries in the countries of Western Europe and the English-speaking countries elsewhere, according to the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company's statisticians. A study of 19 countries shows that the United States has one of the best mortality records for children, but that its position becomes less, and less favorable with advance in age. At ages 55 to 59 only three of the countries have a higher death rate among males than the United States.

However, at every age period females in this country compared more favorably with those of the other countries than did our males. Even at ages 55 to 59 American women held a middle position among the countries.

Aside from high death rates from accidents in the United States, it is difficult to explain the poor mortality record among American males at the older ages, according to the statisticians.

One suggested possibility is that the low mortality at the younger ages is due in part to advances in medical care which prolong the life of many persons with physical impairments. Consequently, the proportion of impaired lives surviving to the older ages may be greater in the United States than in other countries, with a corresponding unfavorable influence upon mortality.

"There may also be other and even more important factors at work," the statisticians comment. "It may well be that our poor international standing at the older ages is related to the high proportion of overweight people in our population."

During the 20-year period from 1930 to 1950 all of the countries under study experienced reductions in mortality. The largest declines — approximately one third — were recorded in France and Italy, both of which had relatively high death rates around 1930; and the smallest reductions — about one eighth — occurred in Australia and New Zealand, countries with traditionally low mortality.

ger, President, Texas Sheep & Goat Raisers Association. Mr. Pfleger is owner-operator of extensive farming and ranching interests in West Texas. He has been very successful and is well versed with the problem of farming and ranching during periods of drought and declining prices. It is a problem many livestock raisers will be anxious to hear discussed.

How to produce an animal whose meat cuts will be more acceptable to the modern housewife, through a more streamlined program of breeding will be presented by Robert J. Morrish, Livestock Division, Armour & Co., Chicago. The housewife is the principle purchaser of meat in the United States today. The livestock industry, to be successful must produce meat that will satisfy its best customer, and at the same time produce a carcass that will return the most dollars to the producer.

A large crowd is expected to attend this meeting. It is free and everyone interested in livestock is invited.

Wind Erosion—

ial to make a rough surface. Where some moisture is received on loose ash soil, small shovels may be used to throw up a moist ribbon which will harden into a clod upon drying.

Where there is insufficient cover on sandy land, small furrows spaced five to six feet apart crosswise to the prevailing wind may be effective for a short period of time. If a second operation is necessary, cultivate crosswise to give a checkerboard effect.

Listing of sandy land may be effective for a short time after it is performed. The first listing should be shallow. Successive listings as necessary should be performed. The first listing should be shallow. Successive listings as necessary should be performed at progressively deeper depths either splitting the middle or working the old furrows.

For sandy "blow-out" spots, knolls or small sandy fields that cannot be treated with a tillage implement a snow fence may be placed in position to the windward side running at right angles to the prevailing winds. If "blow-out" spots are large, two or more fences may be used, placing them not more than 40 feet apart.

A mulch of straw, hay, stalks or manure will often hold some spots. It may be necessary to anchor the vegetal matter by going over it with a suitable implement such as a weighted single disk with the disks set straight.

After emergency treatment when sufficient moisture is available at the proper season of the year cover should be established as quickly as possible. Sorghum or sudan grass are suitable for this purpose. If the crop is harvested it should be cut high leaving a good stubble for the control of wind erosion next year. Tillage should not be performed until time to plant the next crop.

Emergency tillage should be used only on soils which have insufficient cover to prevent blowing. It should be done in such a manner that any existing stubble will not be destroyed as long as it has any effectiveness.

Dog Poisoning Starts Again In Eastland

Dog owners were given the "poison warning" again over the week-end in Eastland following the death of at least a half dozen of "man's best friends."

All of the poison cases reported were in the Chastain Addition. Strychnine, a deadly poison, was believed to have been the cause of all deaths. Pet owners were warned to pen up their animals and be on the watchout for small amounts of strychnine or phosphorus in meat or grease.

Last spring, dog owners all over the community cooperated in having their animals vaccinated and licensed after a large number were poisoned. Poisoning stopped then, but has apparently started up once more.

Under Article 1873 it is a misdemeanor to willfully poison any dog of another, with intent to injure the owner. A fine of not more than $200 is prescribed by law.

It costs a lot of money to keep a cow. A lot of that money is lost if she fails to settle or drops small, weak calves that die or develop into "tail-enders."

BIG CROPS of husky calves are a must, if a fellow is going to make money ranching. This is especially true when the price of cattle is off.

Your range needs help. It takes more than grass alone to give your cows what they need to grow and drop the kind of calves that will bring top prices next fall.

PURINA RANGE CHECKERS have proved their worth in research tests and on thousands of ranches. This favorite range supplement has what it takes. Cattle love Checkers, do well on them. Cows stay up in good shape at calving time, have lots of milk for the calves, too.

More and more Southern cattlemen are planning their breeding program so that calves come in the late fall. These calves are ready to eat early grass—hit the early market, which is usually best.

WILDLIFE HEAD SAYS HUNTERS KNOWLEDGE OF AMMO VITAL

College Station, Oct.—(Spl.)—How much do you know about the shell you put into your shotgun? Can you use it efficiently?

At least a little knowledge of ammunition and its effect is essential to good game management, according to Dr. W. B. Davis, head of the Department of Wildlife Management, at Texas A. and M. College.

"The average sportsman never sees the shot in his shotgun shell. Nor does he give them much thought as long as they do the job for which they are intended," Dr. Davis says.

"Little does he realize that each of the tiny pellets that go whizzing down the bore of his gun every time he pulls the trigger is a precision instrument in itself, manufactured under the most advanced techniques and with great care."

More than thirty separate operations are required in converting a hunk of carefully inspected, tempered lead into perfectly round pellets designed for killing.

During this process the molten lead flows into perforated shot pans with holes of the proper size for the shot being produced. Drippings from these holes plummet nine stories in free fall, and land in a tank of water.

Then they inspect themselves by rolling down glass-topped inclines and leaving a gap to another incline. Those not perfectly round and of the right weight cannot leap the gap, and so go back for re-processing.

However, not even the best of shot-gun loads can do the job without help from the hunter, Dr. Davis says.

"Know your gun and the proper shot for the type of game you are hunting," he warns. "Shooting at game beyond your range, or using shot too small to do the job is a waste of ammunition and of wild life. Even at great range, one or two pellets may hit your target; not enough to knock it down immediately, but still to kill it later, where you will not recover it. The too-small shot has roughly the same effect, he says.

On the other hand, if you shoot when your target is too close, or when your shotload consists of too-large pellets for the game, only an edge-shot can save you something of that game. A full load will mutilate it badly.

"So know your game, your gun and your ammunition," Dr. Davis says. "Remember that game laws exist for your own good. Shoot only what you can use, and good hunting!"

NEWS FROM CHEANEY

Mrs. Bill Tucker

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Ferrell entertained with a covered dish luncheon Thursday, Oct. 28 in their home, honoring Mrs. Emma Green on her 85th birthday. Mrs. Green is an aunt of Mrs. Ferrell, and makes her home with Mr. and Mrs. John Walton near Cheaney. A host of friends called during the lunch hour and in the afternoon, wishing her many more happy years.

Red Cross First Aid instructor, A. L. Sinder of Cisco, demonstrated artificial respiration to Cheaney Home Demonstration club members and their husbands on Wednesday night, Oct. 2 at their regular meeting in the Gene Ferrell home. Mr. Sanders of Cisco accompanied Mr. Sinder and showed a mechanical inhalator which is always in readiness for use by the Cisco Fire Department.

When we think of persons who have been resuscitated from drowning, shock or overdose of sedatives, even if it takes from 1 to 8 hours, by using artificial respiration, the importance of such a method can be readily seen. It should be a must in home and community training. Couples attending the Wednesday night demonstration were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Reid, Mr. and Mrs. Thelbert Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Tucker and the Ferrells.

Mr. and Mrs. John Love and Loresta were in Stephenville Wednesday night for the Centennial program.

Mrs. Guy Stoker, of Snyder, came to Ranger on Friday where she joined Mrs. Bill Tucker, boarding the bus for Washington, D. C. where they will attend the National Home Demonstration Council meeting Oct. 31 through Nov. 4 at Hotel Statler. More than an inch of rain was registered here in our gauge and small grain, which has been planted, is thriving. Possibly the rain will damage cotton to some extent, but peanut harvesting will be delayed for a few days. Just hope no frost falls for awhile yet.
