Yellow Jackets Sting Bulldogs 19-7; Defense Smothers Ranger Attack

The Pathfinder

by Lee Harr

Today, Breckenridge sits atop the district standings in 3A-1 football but officials of the district have rather pointedly indicated that this would not be the case this time next year, or as a matter of fact, for many years to come, when the district executive committee voted Breckenridge out of the conference this week.

Now, Breckenridge is only one step behind the man without a country — seems that nobody wants them in their conference. It's not because they are a bunch of ruffians or unprincipled sportsmen, but a composite of lesser faults.

Teams in the 2A-9 realized that Breckenridge's school enrollment furnishes too much talent annually for this conference to compete against. Breckenridge also desires to go into some district whose potential is equal of their own.

Yet there seems to be some motivation behind 3A-1's recent move in voting them out.

In blotting them off the 3A-1 schedule, the executive committee complained that Lubbock's new Southside entrance into the district would constitute a nine-game conference schedule. Now, you might ask, why wasn't Breckenridge permitted to remain in the district and Southside left to find its own conference?

Probably a look into one of the population charts would throw a little more light on the subject.

For instance, Breckenridge is hardly a "little nothing" compared to some of the conference towns as Vernon, Big Spring and Plainview. Maybe we should look a little closer into the 1950 population statistics (the last available.) We'll list the cities as they stand in the 3A-1 district and note the population of each individual contender.

Breckenridge, 6,610; Big Spring, 17,286; Vernon, 12,651; Levelland, 8,264; Snyder, 12,010; Sweetwater, 13,619; Plainview, 14,044; and Lamesa, 10,704.

It's true that the various districts are not governed by the size of the towns but rather by the size of the schools, however with the wide margins allowed in 3A, it is only natural to believe that towns of larger size have greater athletic potentials.

So with Breckenridge, leading for a district, where most of the other conference cities could practically match their citizenry person-to-person and have that many left over, the question is, or was, that of face saving operation which made Breckenridge a victim of circumstances.

We can certainly appreciate the situation of the remaining and larger schools, where this comparatively small city each Friday night, thoroughly trims ones of their high flying opponents and leaves the coaching staff, with their reddened faces, to face the "bosses" Monday morning.

If you can't believe this ask the coaches of either Big Spring or Levelland or Lamesa, they'll tell you right quick, "it ain't healthy."

Thumbnail Sketch On Visiting Coach

Leland Willis, head coach at Henderson, assumed command of his first college football team this year at the age of 28.

A graduate from Howard Payne, he came to Henderson after coaching at Fairfield, Texas where he won three consecutive district basketball titles, a football district championship and was runner-up the next year.

Stephenville added teeth to the claim that this is the linesman's year last night as they trounced the Ranger Bulldogs in Ranger Stadium 19-7 in a 9-AA conference tilt and the Bulldogs last home game of the season.

The Yellowjackets forward wall never allowed the Bulldogs ground attack any sustained drives and acted as an iron clad wedge on offense.

Ranger was forced to go through the air in the fourth period to gain their only score of the game. The score came on a 20 yard toss from Quarterback Scott Forney to Jerry Wharton who was practically between the goal posts in the end zone.

Lonnie Leatherman, Stephenville's slippery and cool efficient quarterback provided the scoring punch in the first and second periods that alone was enough to beat the domestic Bulldogs. However, Leatherman's teammate, Don Cleveland added an insurance tally in the third stanza on a 9-yard scoring cruise.

The contest was never as close as the score might indicate as the Yellowjackets had chalked up their 19 points before Ranger was able to muster a scoring punch in the final frame and a blocked punt in the fourth stanza threatened on the Ranger eight-yard line.

The Bulldogs showed no semblance of the spark that fired them to a 21-21 tie with Mineral Wells last Friday night. Their ground attack bogged as if the field was a mire, and their TCU spread, employed only sparsely, provided the night's only excitement for Ranger fans.

Stephenville scored the first time they had the ball offensively after Ranger received the opening kickoff, failed for first down, and punted to the Jacket 34-yard line.

Leatherman, punching holes in the Ranger defense, picked up 21 yards on left and right end keepers, tossed an incomplete pass, then trotted to the Ranger 20-yard marker on another right end keeper. After three more efforts, the stylish "man-under" bounded over the goal from the one-yard line. David Cleveland kicked the extra point. The Jackets consumed the 66 yards in only nine plays.

On Stephenville's second series of offensive downs, Leatherman exhibited his magnificent form probably to a greater extent than at any other time during the game. Although the play did not net the Jackets any yardage. Immediately after the first quarter ended, Leatherman dropped some 20 yards behind the line of scrimmage on an attempted pass. Five Bulldogs swarmed in and the lanky quarterback broke loose from each one individually and blasted his way back to the line of scrimmage. However, Stephenville lost the ball on down.

A pass interception set the stage for the Yellowjackets next score. It was the combination of Cleveland and Leatherman alternating on ball flogging chores that consumed 59 yards in nine plays with Leatherman again scoring from one yard out.

Stephenville scored the first time they had the ball offensively after Ranger received the opening kickoff, failed for first down,

On the third play after the half time intermission, Cleveland stunned the Bulldogs with a left tackle blast, scooting past the line of scrimmage and out ran the secondary for 93 yards. The Jackets interference was so precise on this maneuver that Ranger seemed not to have a line on the side where the play developed.

With one third of the fourth period gone, Forney uncorked an aerial circus that chewed up 49 yards on only four pass plays, only one of which was incomplete. His first aerial was good for 14 yards to Wharton, the second went for 20 yards to Tommy Sutton, then a pass, too long, was missed by Dennis Robinson. Forney's next effort was the touchdown pass to Wharton in the end zone. Forney kicked the extra tally. Ranger had two of their most beautifully executed plays nullified by penalties.

Wharton got the night's best run on a 21 yard scamper down the left sideline to the Stephenville nine in the second period only to have it called back on an offside penalty and Robinson pulled in a 36 yard aerial in the fourth stanza that seemed impossible to catch and it too was blotted with an offside penalty.

Experienced Gov't Guaranteed Under Charter Amendment

"With the impending growth of the City of Ranger a new system of electing the mayor and commissioners is sought in the election that will be held on Dec. 4 to amend the City Charter." Attorney Dewey Cox, author of the amendment announced today.

Simply, the city wishes to avoid situations that have occurred in the past when a completely new and unexperienced group of officials acquire the city's leadership through election.

If the amendment passes in December, an election of city officials would be held each year on a staggered basis.

For instance, in April of 1955, voters would elect, for a two year term, a mayor and commissioners of places two and four which presently are the water and street commissioners. Commissioners of places one and three, which presently are police and finance commissioners, will serve only one year for the first term and two years thereafter.

The effect is to have an annual election. One year the mayor and two commissioners will be elected and the following year only two commissioners would be chosen.

Present city officials indicate that the expense involved in an annual election would be very nominal, especially in comparison to the benefits that the city would receive in that an unexperienced city government would never be chosen in one single election.

All eligible voters within the corporate city limits will be eligible to participate in the election.

Market Report Available For Livestock Sales

Livestock auction ring sales in Eastland County are a feature of a new state-wide market report now issued by the Texas Department of Agriculture at Austin.

Agriculture Commissioner John C. White selected 16 auction sales in eight West Texas cities for the experimental news project. Data from the sales will be distributed by radio and newspapers. Daily bulletins are available to interested persons.

West Texas points covered in the report are: Lubbock, San Angelo, Abilene, Eastland, Brownwood, Wichita Falls, Vernon and Goldthwaite. Reports will include sale information on cattle, hogs, sheep and goats.

This new service resulted from a demand by the livestock trade for a more complete coverage of stock movement in auction rings. Previously, only marketing data from such major points as Fort Worth, San Antonio, Amarillo and Houston was collected by marketing agencies for state distribution.

Mail bulletins are available to those persons who request the service. Inquiries should be addressed to: Market News, Texas Dept. There is no charge for the bulletins.

CONSTRUCTION OF NEW BEN FRANKLIN WAREHOUSE SET

Rex Mitchell, owner of the Ben Franklin Store in Ranger, has announced that Dallas has been selected as the location for the first of several new Ben Franklin stores to be located from coast to coast.

Final arrangements have been completed for an entirely modern one floor warehouse to be constructed in the Santa Fe Oak Cliff Industrial District approximately five miles from downtown Dallas. Construction is to begin immediately and the warehouse is scheduled to be ready for operation by February. The streamlined one story building will cover 300x500 feet and will provide 150,000 square feet of warehouse and air conditioned office space. Building and parking space for customers and employees will cover approximately eight acres.

"The new Dallas warehouse is designed for the greatest possible operating efficiency," says Mitchell, "and the building will be equipped with hydraulic lifts, conveyors, adjustable storage racks and many other cost reducing devices. This will enable Butler Brothers to move more merchandise faster at the least possible cost and to meet the needs of the increasing number of Ben Franklin stores serviced from Dallas."

Kicking off the program at 1:00 p.m., Dec. 3, will be the Rangers, pitted against Howard County Junior College. Other games on the opening day will be the Hardin-Simmons Frosh against Tarleton State, Cisco against Weatherford and Arlington State matched against the Decatur Baptists at 9:30 p.m. for Friday's closing.

Hoopsters from Howard County Junior College, Hardin-Simmons Freshmen, Cisco Junior College, Weatherford Junior College, Arlington State and Decatur Baptist College, will gather here for the two-day tourney which will be eliminated by a consolation game at 7:30 Saturday, Dec. 4 and followed by the championship game at 9:30 p.m. for Friday's closing.

Play will resume again Saturday morning at 8 o'clock with the loser of the Howard County Junior College - Cisco contest going against the winner of the Hardin-Simmons Frosh - Tarleton Frosh.

Also, on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, the loser of the Cisco - Arlington College - Weatherford affair will meet the losers of the Arlington State - Decatur grouping.

Saturday afternoon will feature the advance of the winning teams with the Howard County Junior College - Rangers winner meeting the winner of the Hardin-Simmons Freshman - Tarleton State contest. This will be followed by the winners of the Cisco - Weatherford meet in the conquerors of the Arlington - Decatur game which will mark the end of activity until the consolation and finals games.

Three resolutions proposed by the Eastland County Farm Bureau were adopted by the Texas Farm Bureau last week during the State convention held in Galveston.

All of the resolutions, which will be forwarded to the National, concern peanuts.

Following are those resolutions offered by Eastland County delegates that were approved at the state convention:

(1) We recommend to the Secretary of Agriculture that as long as there is not a surplus of peanuts and we are under acreage controls, that no additional peanuts be imported.

(2) We believe that if there is a shortage of peanuts then the acreage should be increased.

(3) We recommend that foreign material allowable in peanuts for loan purposes be not less than 12 percent.

P. M. Ray of Scranton and Bay Norris represented Eastland County at the Galveston convention.

The identity of this year's queen will be kept secret until the mid-way ceremony.

Candidates for the title, all of whom will participate in the crowning, are Mary Ann Wallace, Ranger; Delia Joines, Austin; Rhonda Reed, Cisco; Barbara Emerson, Graham; and Beverly Cary, Vernon.

Members of the college football candidates selected entries for the contest and only this week, by secret ballot, chose their favorite.

The football captains will signify the winning candidate Friday night when they award her a bouquet of roses.

The three areas to be opened for hunting are:

Austin Creek Area, 13,500 acres of the Davy Crockett National Forest, four miles southeast of Apple Springs, Trinity County; development begun in 1954.

Bannister Lake Area, 10,000 acres of the Angelina National Forest, twelve miles southwest of Hemphill; development begun in 1949.

The deer and turkey harvest will be permitted on three of the five wildlife management areas which are in operation in three of the four Texas National Forests.

About 50,000 acres in all will be opened up to the public. Surplus game, besides providing hunting this fall, helps increase wildlife population on lands surrounding the management areas.

In two areas, not open to hunting for the present, protection will be given brood stock needed to maintain a harvestable population in surrounding areas.

Game and Fish laws of the county containing each area will prevail. Local gamewardens as well as Forest Service personnel will aid hunters in determining the areas to be hunted, which will be marked with signs.

Christian Science

The choice between a spiritual basis for happy and abundant living, and a limited material sense of life will be dealt with at Christian Science services Sunday. The Lesson-Sermon, "Mortals and Immortals," is keynote by this Golden Text from John (3:6): "That which is born of the flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit."

Selections to be read on this subject include the following passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (p. 76): "The sinless joy — the perfect harmony and immortality of Life, possessing unlimited divine beauty and goodness without a single bodily pleasure or pain — constitutes the only veritable, indestructible man, whose being is spiritual."

From the Bible will be read this verse from Romans (8:6): "For to be carnally minded is death; but to be spiritually minded is life and peace."

A worship service emphasizing emergency needs in the Korean Methodist Church will be held in the First Methodist Church in Ranger, Sunday, Nov. 14, at 10:50 a.m.

According to the Rev. Bruce Weaver, pastor, Methodist congregations all over America will be conducting similar services on the same day.

A novel feature of the service will be the presentation of the offering in miniature "rice bags," symbolic of the sacrificial offerings of rice which the Koreans themselves have given to rebuild their war-ravaged sanctuaries.

Known as the "Bishops' Appeal for Korea," the special offering has been approved by the Methodist Council of Bishops and the Council on World Service and Finance. Seventy per cent of the receipts from the offering will be administered through the denomination's Division of World Missions and thirty per cent through the Methodist Committee for Overseas Relief.

Rev. Weaver will preach at the morning hour on the subject "Take A Long Look." Visitors are invited to be present for this worship service and participate in the friendly Christian atmosphere found in the First Methodist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Don Browning

Dempsey - Browning Wedding Vows Read

Miss Joyce Dempsey and Billy Don Browning were united in marriage at 6:30 p.m. Friday, Nov. 5, under an archway in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Dempsey. The double ring ceremony was read by Rev. Don Fordyce, pastor of the First Christian Church. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Browning.

White tapers and white muslin stood at each side of the archway, which was garlanded with greenery, before a white background. The white kneeling bench completed the setting.

The bride wore an original ballerina length gown of white nylon lace and tulle over satin. The fitted lace bodice had three-quarter sleeves, Peter Pan collar and tiny self buttons down the front. The bouffant tulle skirt was in two over layers. The tulle veil fell from a lace-covered headpiece trimmed with seed pearls. She carried an arrangement of white carnations and a white orchid on a white Bible.

The bride's only attendant was her sister, Miss Audie Faye Dempsey, who wore a pink lace and net ballerina length gown and carried a nosegay of pink carnations.

The candlelighters, Misses Linda Sue Tackett and Sandra Hallbrooks, wore aqua net formal gowns.

Jack Allen served as best man. Preceding the ceremony, Miss Mary Ann Wallace sang "Always" and "The Lord's Prayer" accompanied by Miss Cecil Lynn Robin.

Miss Imogene Loper registered the guests in the bride's book.

A reception for members of the wedding party, the families and a few close friends was held immediately following the ceremony.

The dining table was centered with an arrangement of white carnations and carnations and flanked by white tapers in crystal holders. Misses Jenny Vee Hatton and Mary Jo Sticke alternated at the punch bowl and Mrs. Jimmy Cantrell served the wedding cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Browning are both 1954 graduates of Ranger High School. They will make their home in Jal, New Mexico where he is employed by the El Paso Natural Gas Company.

Rebekah Lodge Meets Tuesday

Routine business was transacted and several members were re-elected absent due to illness.

Assembly president, Maude Busard, is asking all members to send small bath towels, wash cloths and Ivory soap to the home for aged members in Ennis. A box has been placed in the hall for his purpose; those unable to bring their donations are asked to phone 784 or 747 and they will be picked up.

Tickets were made for the good of the order, and the penny prize, which was furnished by Lillie Anderson, was won by Winnie Pirkle.

What's that old adage about a nail not holding if it's watched? It must be true, for it definitely worked in reverse here Thursday.

An unwatched kettle of peaches sitting on a low burning fire on the third floor of the Toombs and Richardson Drug Building began to pour forth streams of smoke and Eastland firemen were called to the scene. The peaches had been left on the stove by mistake when the residents of the apartment left.

Results: A lot of excitement, little damage.

W. H. Cooper Is Reported To Be Improved

W. H. Cooper, who was hurt in an accident North of Cisco Tuesday evening, is reported to be improving and was released from the Eastland Memorial Hospital Friday.

When the wrecker hooked on and made the pull, the chain struck Cooper on the shoulder and neck. The blow also knocked down the other man but he was not injured.
