Sirens will signal the beginning of the Mothers March Monday night as members of the 1947 Club and PTA make a house-to-house solicitation drive for the March of Dimes campaign. Mrs. F. P. Brashier, Jr., announced here today.

Mrs. Brashier asked that all citizens within the city limits who wish to make contributions to the drive to leave their porch light burning, the practice that has become symbolic of the Mothers March all over America.

The city has been divided into nine units with captains and block chairmen appointed for each unit. Mrs. Brashier, who outlined the divisions, said that the solicitors would operate as follows: Young Addition and Wood's Grocery, east to the highway — Mrs. Dean Crawley, Mrs. Bob Earnest, Mrs. Morris Newnam and Mrs. James Ratliff.

Wood's Grocery west to the railroad and Tiffin Road — Mrs. Pat Thomas and Mrs. Sam Aills.

Cooper Addition, Oak St., South Austin, and South Rusk to Mesquite St. — Mrs. Ronald Pruet, Mrs. Morris Campbell, and Mrs. Larry Purrefoy.

Three new students at Ranger Junior College are expected to bolster the Rangers basketball squad through the remainder of the season and strengthen the football team next fall, the college's new coach, Stanley Burnham, announced today.

Two of the new entrants, Ed Bawcom and J. P. Bartley, both stand in the 6-2, 180 pound bracket. However, both are freshmen and have not seen college action.

Burnham said that he had several other prospects and that before enrollment deadline expires, he expected at least three more to add to his growing roster.

Lonnie Woods also of Wellington, enrolled during the last semester, but dropped from school before the semester's end. A 5-9, 165 pound quarterback, he has played both basketball and football in high school.

Repair Begins On City Hall Building Here

Dismantling of the remnants of the Arcadia theatre wall which adjoins city hall was begun this week, by city employees.

Lester Crossley, city manager said that the wall on both buildings had been constructed so near each other that an exterior wall had not been needed. The same roof also covered the walls on both buildings.

After the fire had razed the theatre, and exposed the bare wall, constructed of hollow tile, it was not strong enough to withstand the elements and rain and wind-seeped and blew into the city office and the Elk's club above.

Crossley said that the city employees would level off the theatre wall and that later a contract would be let for actual reconstruction.

NO FLIGHT OF IMAGINATION—Pilot shown above is seated at an instrument panel which may appear in planes of the not-too-distant future. Office of Naval Research, which recently released this picture at Los Angeles, Calif., says that the round radarscope in background and semicircular plate resembling a windshield represent flat television tubes which will provide pilot with all operational data he'll need. In-flight test of the system is expected to occur in about three years.

Bulldogs Eliminated From Title Chase

MINERAL WELLS (TNS)—Ranger High School's basketball squad was virtually eliminated from the District 9-AA championship race here Tuesday night as the Mountaineers inflicted the fourth district loss on the Bulldogs 42-34.

Mineral Wells redeemed an earlier loss in the season to Ranger. Carl Knight, Mineral Well's 6-8 center, took scoring honors for the night with 23 points. He currently leads the scoring column in the conference with a wide margin.

Ranger jumped off to an early 11-8 first quarter lead and remained seven points in front at the end of the first half.

Mineral Wells tied the score late in the third frame and cinched the contest in the fourth as the Bulldog offense collapsed. The win gave the Mountaineers a 4-2 conference record, giving them a slight chance in the pennant race.

Jim Littlefield led the Ranger scoring with a combination of four field goals and two free throws for ten points. Scott Forney followed with nine markers.

The Mineral Well's B team also squeaked by the Bulldog B squad with a narrow 39-28 win.

David Wharton, Claude Koenig, Benny Robinson, and Hatfield all scored six points for the losers, while David Pruitt led the winners with 11 points.

Constable Warns Of Bad Check Wave Here

Ralph Veal, constable of the Ranger precinct, has warned that all merchants should make positive identification before cashing personal checks here as a "hot check" wave has engulfed the city since Jan. 1.

Veal said that there are approximately 35 checks within the city non-negotiable because of insufficient funds, closed accounts or outright forgery.

The officer said that several forged checks had been forwarded to state agencies for handling, and that he personally had 25 more in which he was attempting to collect from.

Council Plans Awards For Scout Week

Scout leaders from the North District of the Comanche Trail Council mapped plans for the Annual Boy Scout Week Feb. 6-12, Monday night at Breckenridge.

The council plans to make ribbon awards to each scout troop and cub pack who participate in four of five points of the week's program which are group church attendance, window displays, good will camp, public program and parent's night.

Arthur Deffebach of Ranger, introduced Joe Galbreath, scout executive in charge of the Comanche Trail Council, who spoke to the group on the 45th anniversary of scouting which fall this year. He noted that the organization began in England.

Breckenridge, Casco, Eastland and Ranger constitute the council's northern division.

Those attending were broken into three groups for discussion on scouting, cub scouting, and commissioners with emphasis on scout week.

H. A. Shockey, neighborhood commissioner of Ranger, supervised the scouting discussion, and Arthur Deffebach, north district chairman also of Ranger, headed the commissioner's discussion.

Those from Ranger, other than Deffebach and Shockey were W. F. Crocker, Rev. Harvey Weaver, J. A. Bates, Willis Clarke, Raymond Lingde, H. L. Coady, Roscoe Hopper, Charlie Garrett, Dwaine Dennis and M. G. Smith.

Our Slip Shows

Last week the Times ran an article which said that all the pancakes, coffee, and sausage "you could eat" would be served for 50 cents at the Lions Club Pancake Supper Saturday night.

However, we were incorrect as it should be all the pancakes "you can eat" for 50 cents. Sausage will be 10 cents extra.

It is still a genuine bargain though, and there is no change in the schedule. It will begin at 6 p.m. in the Gholson Coffee Shop and Aunt Jimma is still anticipating her trip to supervise the cooking of the pancakes.

The proceeds will be diverted to the March of Dimes Campaign.

Representative Omar Burlison says that he is planning to introduce a bill soon, that probably would prove highly effective but also amusing at the same time.

The proposition that he is studying would recall all currency now in circulation and issue new currency. He says the reason for this is to bring out of hiding hundreds of millions of dollars now stored away in safety deposit boxes on which no taxes have been paid.

Mr. Burlison says that it would not cost the Federal Government a cent of money to reprint all currency, since the average life of one-dollar bill is only about nine months.

Probably some would criticize these days that we speak so much of polio.

But, especially at this time of the year, as the March of Dimes enters the last days of its annual appeal, we are more aware of the misery and suffering that the disease inflicts.

At its best, polio is a evil thing. How many of us have seen a small child bedrained with a terrible fever, passing to a semi-consciousness that lasts for days.

How many of us have seen the bewildered expression on the parent's face as a doctor gravely gives the verdict — "POLIO! Then later the body begins to wither, bones become a drawn knot of pain, and another child's body is not a future of happiness, playfulness and health, but rather a twisted limb for a foot or arm — for the fortunate, or months — or years in a wheel chair for the less fortunate.

It is a disease of little hope, of despair and often financial ruin. It is the master of disease, as it more often cripples than destroys. It is a connoisseur of pain as it dips into the pool of life, sampling of all ages and sexes, poor and wealthy alike.

Now has come the time that we may deal the evil, and feared disease a shattering blow, one that would crush the infectious roots of the ghost that has dealt more casualties than some of our earlier wars.

We have watched those within this community, wracked with the disease, and now we have an opportunity to assist. There will be various types of programs throughout the campaign including the Mothers March Monday night.

There won't be any opportunity for excuses that "no one contacted me."

We feel rather certain that if polio struck you today, you would want someone to contact you.

In Pioneer Loop

Exams Remain Top Hoop Contenders

Examinations still take the spotlight in the Pioneer conference basketball schedule as only two contenders with non-loop contenders are on the itinerary for conference teams.

Friday, the Arlington State Rebels, with four victories and 11 defeats for the season, will journey to Decatur for a tilt with the Decatur Bulldogs; and on Saturday, the Schreiner Mountaineers, currently the class of the conference with 10 triumphs and two losses, will journey to Corpus Christi for a game with the Del Mar JC quintet.

All conference teams, with the exception of Ranger, will resume league competition next week with the San Angelo Rams, 1954 loop champions leading off Monday in a game with Schreiner at San Angelo. Ranger engages Tarleton Feb. 8.

At present, either Schreiner or San Angelo, is favored to emerge as the 1955 loop champion, although the Tarleton State Flow

French Journalist-Cyclist Visits Here

(Editor's Note: This is an article written by a young french Reporter of FRANCE SOIR. This daily paper has a circulation of 1,200,000 copies. Guy who will be 20 in April, stopped his bicycle, on which he is touring the world, in Ranger Tuesday, Jan. 25.

He is giving to the American people a glimpse of the ingenuity, daring and frankness with which the French have so often shocked and amazed other nations.)

BY GUY CHASSAGNARD FRANCE SOIR Staff Reporter You wonder why I am here in Ranger, and how, on my bicycle, at 5,000 miles from home. So let me tell you my story, which is the one of a "Kid of Paris".

My name is Guy Chassagnard, but don't try to remember it, or even to pronounce it, you would be like the thousands American people I have met on my way unable to say it correctly. So for you, like for all people in the States, I want to be "Guy the French cyclist".

I was born nineteen years ago in a dreary corner of a Paris suburb, surrounded by the smoke from factories and the noise of trains. My parents, too, were born in poverty, and unhappy for them, they have stayed poor during their whole life.

My parents are still poor: my father works in the French National Railroads. My mother works for a toy factory. They sent me with many sacrifices, to the equivalent of your high school and of your college. Now, my studies have been finished, but they must take care of my young brother, Daniel, who is only 4 years old.

I wanted to be a journalist in one of the French newspapers located in the French metropolis, but I did not know how to find a job. I had no relations, no influential friends, to help me and to introduce me near the Editor of a newspaper. And I had no experience in journalism. So I decided to find references, experience and publicity, travelling over the world. Then I should be able to go and meet an Editor, and to say to him: "This is what I am able to do..."

In summer 1953, I was in England, spending my school holidays to make a small study about "The English Working Life" for the French Government from which I had received a scholarship. Getting some publicity through the English newspapers, I decided to do better in 1954. I decided to cross the United States on a bicycle. I chose the States because I was sure that I could interest some French newspapers and a magazine if I could get a such far country without money. I was sure, too, to find help and assistance on my way.

I chose a bicycle to travel, because it is very cheap to run; you have just to peddle... The motor is in your legs.

I began to prepare my trip in October, 1953; first I made a plan of more than 4,000 miles to cover on the bicycle; Montreal, New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Chicago, Los Angeles and

San Francisco. Then I contacted French manufacturers in order to find official sponsors. Between October '53 and July '54 I could interest twenty seven French manufacturers who accepted to help me. I received a bicycle of $200, a camera, a movie camera, a tent, an air mattress... and even a cigarette lighter.

But I don't want to speak about the time spent writing letters, or meeting managers to get this result. I don't want to speak about the people who closed their door in front of me.

But at the same time, I could interest a French book publisher who agreed to publish the book I should write after having done my trip. And he introduced me near it's easy to put this much sugar into one cup BUT HOW WOULD YOU MIX IT IN 5,330 CUPS?

a problem of the same proportion is facing most feed companies in mixing about 1/3 oz. of stilbestrol into one ton of cattle feed

The Food and Drug Administration in its approval for use of stilbestrol has set about 1/3 oz. per ton as the right amount for this powerful growth stimulant. That means it is added in the proportion of only 1 part to 90,000 parts. It must be mixed so that cattle get just the right amount . . . too little stilbestrol in their ration won't produce maximum gains . . . too much in their ration can prove toxic. Yes, it is a big mixing problem for most feed companies—but not for Purina, with its exclusive Micro-Mixing process.

MICRO-MIXING is accurate to the 1/10,000,000 part! Modern mixing equipment plus the technical skill of Purina engineers, laboratory technicians, and mill employees makes such a mixing job routine for Purina. Purina's Micro-Mixing is a quality control process that assures you every bite is mixed just right. Every animal gets its fair share when you feed Purina Steer Fatena or Beef Chow with stilbestrol added. That means that you go to market with a much more even bunch of cattle.

Golden Wedding Anniversary Is Celebrated By Will Underwoods

By MRS. BILL TUCKER
Times Correspondent

There were 63 names registered in the guest book at the Will Underwood home Sunday afternoon, when relatives, neighbors, and friends called on their 50th wedding anniversary to wish them continued happiness.

The register, made of white satin and lace and adorned with two gold hearts, was the handiwork of their young neighbor, Mrs. Billy Wayne Reid. The hearts of gold were from her own wedding book.

Two grand daughters, Betty and Fern Melton of Fort Worth, presided at the register and assisted with the display of the many lovely gifts.

After the guests registered they were escorted to the dining room. The refreshment table was laid with a white linen cloth, with a central arrangement of yellow marigolds interspersed with fern and the numerals "50" in gold styrofoam.

Other decorations were potted chrysanthemums in deep yellow and an heirloom vase containing handmade flowers. Napkins were embossed in gold.

The wedding cake, a caterer's creation, iced in white with a spray of yellow confectionery roses and the inscription "Della Will, 1895-1955, graced one end of the refreshment table.

In the scoring department, Lloyd Cogburn of Ranger, was nudged from second place by Jimmy Page of Tarleton State, as Tarleton entered a contest last week while Ranger was idle with exams. Donald McDonald of San Angelo, who also sneaked in a game last week, remained high with 325 points. Page has 288 while Cogburn has accounted for 281.
Ranger and Arlington State each with two conference losses, may pick up strength by adding January high school graduates to their squads next week.

'Short-Cut Cookbook' - Special Feature Of January Magazine

A new "Short-Cut Cookbook" utilizing a wide variety of the prepared precooked, and ready-to-eat foods found in today's markets - has been prepared by Food Editor, Helen McCall, for the January issue of McCall's. Designed to "dramatize the scope of these wonderful, modern foods," this special 8-page editorial feature contains 1288 recipes that "prove that one short-cut food combined with another adds up to delicious eating."

In her introduction to the "Short-Cut Cookbook," Miss McCall writes: "When the American housewife shops her super market, she has a choice of 4,693 short-cut foods - the most dazzling array of foods the world has ever seen. These amazing short-cut foods have revolutionized cooking habits in every home in the United States. A boon to everyone, they're worth their weight in gold to the woman with a job, the mother with small children, the bachelor who likes to cook himself a meal, the husband on his own, and the new cook facing a stove for the first time."

New and exciting recipes for main dishes, vegetables, salads, desserts, and quick breads are included in McCall's "Short-Cut Cookbook." In addition, there are many suggestions for "dressing up" or adding new flavor to old favorites.

McCall's "Short-Cut Cookbook," with its emphasis on the wide range of food products found in today's super markets, was the inspiration for McCall's proclamation of January as Supermarket Month. Supermarket Month, which has received the endorsement of leading government and civic officials, was inaugurated by McCall's to pay tribute to the men and women of this vitally important industry which has helped to make America the best-fed country in the world.

French-

(Continued From Page 1) cision. It is true that I find now a very cold weather, much wind, sometimes snow, often rain; but I have acquired on my way winter clothes; an army coat, a fur-collared jacket, overalls, heavy socks. Today I come from Mineral Wells. I left this place this morning at 8:45 a.m. I arrived in Ranger at 2 p.m. It was really sunny; a nice weather for traveling on a bicycle, except for a strong wind coming on my side. Sometimes, I was going like a turtle. I have discovered leaving Mineral Wells the real West with poor lands where the stones and the rocks grow easier than the grass. When I left France I had a tent, and during summer and autumn, I could use; but now it is too cold; I am obliged every day to find a bed. My $70 died a long time ago, but I am still alive, thanks to the people I meet on my way; they invite me to their homes and feed me. They give me too, the subjects of my articles. The more I am going west, the more I am finding help. Sometimes, however, I have no luck and I must sleep in jail, or in churches. And I go my way, happy and optimistic. . . . Today I have $4; but when I arrived in Mineral Wells I had only 82 cents. . . . For the some expenses I have, I must find money; so I speak in clubs when I can. I have my films to buy, and I have to send many letters to all the friends I have made. . . . One day I broke a peddle; on other day I had to change my tires, I had to wire to the manufacturer of the bicycle to get the new parts. I do not know when I got to California. I do not know exactly when I came back to France. I decided before entering in Texas, to spend my Christmas in Paris. . . . Texas. In fact I staid nearly three weeks there, making many new friends, speaking in some clubs, visiting factories and schools. It was funny to say to myself, that I was in Paris. I discovered soon that there are 16 other Paris in the United States. I must say that Paris, Texas, is the biggest Paris after the French metropolis; just some millions inhabitants of difference. . . . Near Los Angeles, I have a friend who is a teacher in a High School, and he wants to keep me in his house three months. In this manner I shall be able to take some classes of American Journalism. . . . Then having finished my trip, I shall come back to New York in a car; if I can find some money to buy one; and shall come back to France. I should like to say in the United States, but different things call me in France. There are first my parents; then my newspaper, a lovely girl friend. . . . and the French Army which is curious to know if I am a good a soldier as a good cyclist. And France needs young people who are not afraid of life. I can do a good job in my native country, later; because my trip is proving to be very educational. I learn to take more and more interest in politics; every day I have to speak about French politics; every day I must explain why the French Government does "this" and not "that". Sometimes I don't know myself the reason but I must find an answer. I must try to speak a correct English if I want to be understood at the clubs, at the TV, or at the Radio. I learn to express myself in a language which is not mine; I learn too, to keep my control when people smile because I say a word with a bad pronunciation; for instance when people bring me a piece of paper when I was asking for the "pepper". . . . Texas was one of the States I wanted to see the most and it is now one of the best I have seen during my trip. I hope to get on my way a pair of cowboy boots, and a leather coat. I have got already the 10 gallon hat. . . . Passing through Ranger, I want to say to the readers of this article "Be joyful, you live in a wonderful country. Your country is the land of opportunity and happiness, but please forgive the Europeans if they don't act always like you wish, they have different problems than yours; their first one is to be happy one day, like you are. . . . today."
