A wet norther slipped into Ranger at 3:30 this morning after an intermittent mist fell on the city most all Thursday afternoon. However, more rain and possible snow was on tap for the area today and tonight, the weatherman said.

After a short inspection of the college campus this week, it certainly isn't any problem to see that they are in need of more adequate housing for students since enrollment figures have jumped skyward in the past few years.

As one school official said, "Our dormitories are splitting at the seams." A common phrase, but the requirements of the growing school is nothing common and nothing that can be remedied overnight.

Seems that if the school is to continue to grow the housing requirements are going to be required to be eased in some manner.

First prime asset of any college is its housing situation. Most any mom and dad makes an inspection of the grounds before sending his son and daughter to a school away from home. You can wager that they won't be sent where the school does not have attractive buildings with the maximum space and conveniences for them.

However, there is a slight hint that the college here will experience a slight construction boom in a few years, but it will be soon enough, will be the main factor involved.

A young man applied for a job in a man's clothing store as a clerk. The owner of the store pointed out a real crazy suit he'd had in stock for several years; hideous color, style, etc.

"Sell that number," he told the applicant, "and you've got yourself a steady job."

"The trial clerk was left on his own for the rest of the day, but around 4 o'clock he rushed into the boss's office—his clothes badly torn, scratches on his face and hands, bleeding a bit, but very happy.

"Well," he cried triumphantly, "I sold that suit!"

"Is that a fact," the store owner replied incredulously, "but you must have had some trouble with the customer."

"Nope," the young man replied, "The customer was easy but I had a bad time with his Seeing-Eye Dog!"

Marvin Garrett, who pens the column "The West Texan," in the Fort Worth Press recognized Dr. Price Ashton as honorary Mr. West Texas in the Friday evening edition for his contributions to the growth of Ranger Junior College.

"To the Editor
I note that the several candidates who have announced for City Commissioners in the forthcoming April election have expressed their position with reference to taxes, sanitation, street improvements, etc. I believe that the citizens of Ranger would like for these candidates to express their position and attitude with reference to making a bona fide effort to clean up the junk yards, wrecking yards, and other eye sores on either side of Highway 80 beginning at Tiffin Road and extending out as far as Blundell Street.

"These junk yards and car wrecks are not only an eye-sore but are a disgrace. The tourists passing through our fair city on Highway 80 certainly get an eye-ful as they travel down this 'junk avenue.'"

"I would like for all of the candidates for City Commission to express their attitude with reference to trying to clean up this mess. Yours truly,
A Citizen with a Pull Tax"

THE RANGER TIMES

35th YEAR RANGER, TEXAS, SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 20, 1955 PRICE FIVE CENTS

Weathermen had warned of possible tornadoes and severe thunderstorms Friday from Childress to Ardmore, Okla., but the warning was raised Friday night after any serious winds failed to develop.

The front, losing some of its speed Friday, was expected here in the early night, but lost some of its momentum.

One of the largest fronts of the season, it ranged Friday night from Minnesota southwestward to the Texas Panhandle and went to New Mexico.

At 9:45 last night, in Amarillo, the temperature was 24 degrees and visibility was reduced to two miles by blowing dust.

Snow was widespread 100 miles back of the front in the states north of the Panhandle. The mercury dipped to a few degrees above zero in Colorado.

A snowfall of 2 and 3 inches was expected in Amarillo. Temperatures there were expected to drop as low as 10 degrees and stay below freezing for 36 hours.

As the icy air slid over Texas the forecasts called for snow Friday night and early Saturday in West Texas with lows of 10 to 20 degrees in the Panhandle and 15 to 25 in the North Plains. Central Texas expected a low Friday night of 25 to 35 with showers Saturday turning into freezing rain or snow in the west and north portions.

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Friday in the Brock Baptist Church for George W. Savage, 85 of Weatherford, who died at 12:30 a.m. Thursday at his home there. He was the father of Sam Savage of Ranger, who had been at his bedside for two weeks.

He was a native of Nashville, Tenn., but had lived in Texas since he was 5 years old. He farmed in the Brock community, 10 miles southwest of Weatherford from 1909 until he moved to Weatherford four years ago.

Survivors are his wife; two sons, Jim Savage of Weatherford and Sam of Ranger; four daughters, Mrs. Lige Bratcher of Longview, Mrs. L.B. Williams of Grand Prairie and Mrs. E.L. Sosebee and Mrs. Robert Sosebee of Weatherford, 20 grandchildren and 26 great grandchildren.

The league leading San Angelo Rams will be the target of the Ranger Junior College Rangers Saturday night as they travel to San Angelo for the Pioneer Conference hoop encounter.

San Angelo sits atop the league with a perfect 5-0 record, while the Rangers are wrestling with Tarleton State for third spot with a 2-3 mark.

The Rangers, whose pennant hopes were smashed Tuesday night at Stephenville, will field an improved team from that unit which opened loop play.

The Ram attack has been built around their high scoring set shot artist Donald McDonald who leads the Pioneer Conference point makers with 235 tallies.

Ranger will retaliate with Lloyd Cogburn who stands third in the point race.

After the San Angelo fracas, Ranger returns home for their last two engagements of the season. They meet the cellar-dwelling Arlington State Rebels Feb. 22 and the second place Schreiner Mountaineers Feb. 25.

Library Enjoys Successful Year In '54
The Ranger Community Library has grown to include more than 6,000 volumes and enjoyed one of its most successful years during 1954. Mrs. R. A. Jameson, librarian, reported today.

The librarians reported that 6,532 books were checked out during 1954 and the purchase of 40 books that were in the junior and senior reading list at the school plus approximately 60 donations had swelled the number past the 6,000 mark.

Mrs. Jameson said that she had purchased an additional 100 books in Dallas Saturday.

Mrs. Jameson was particularly complimentary toward the teachers of the schools and college here and gratified at the assistance that (Continued on Page Two)

Editor's Note: Mayor Calvin W. Harris today gave the following statement to a representative of the Ranger Times relative to a recent action by the City Commission in which the application of the Community Public Service Company for 20 year renewal of their franchise was denied by a split vote of two and two with the mayor casting the deciding vote against the renewal.

Mayor Calvin W. Harris stated today that he and two members of the City Commission (referring to L. T. Rushing and Lee Castrell) in voting against the renewal of the Community Public Service gas franchise had done so with the sole idea of protecting and furthering the interests of the majority of the citizens and for no other reasons.

The Mayor particularly stressed the fact that he was appreciative of the very pleasant relations that had existed between the City of Ranger and the Community Public Service Company, and he paid tribute to personnel of the company for their acceptance of civic duties and responsibilities.

The present franchise, granted originally to the Sammie Oil Corporation of Texas effective April 1, 1935, for a term of 30 years, ending April 15, 1965 was transferred by the Sammie Oil Corporation to the Ranger Gas Company. Then transferred from the Ranger Gas Company to the Texas-Louisiana Power Company and from there to the Community Public Service Company. As each firm accepted the franchise they assumed the limits of the franchise agreement, which would have left four more years for the Community Public Service Company to operate in Ranger had they not sold the properties.

Mayor Harris said, "It has long been recognized by the civic leaders and business people of Ranger that there would be many material benefits to the citizens here and the Lone Star Gas Company if that company acquired the gas franchise in Ranger. Many of these benefits are obvious, the Lone Star has many employees living in and near Ranger who, over the years, have spent their money in Ranger, in fact the economy of Ranger has been very closely associated with the Lone Star since they purchased the Chemol-Smith Corporation. The Lone Star and its employees have had a vital part in the civic, cultural, and industrial development of Ranger."

The Mayor continued, "The fact has been that the Community Public Service Company is, and has, in recent years, been hampered by the problem that they did not have (Continued on Page 2)

Ranger Man Hurt In Auto Accident

Billy Ernest Townsend, 24, of Ranger, was seriously injured Thursday night in an automobile accident near Mineral Wells which took the life of Annette Higgs, 16, of Port Worth.

Miss Higgs, a junior student at Brewer High School in Ft. Worth, was killed as Townsend's car in which she was riding struck a bridge on U. S. Highway 80 about 20 miles west of Weatherford.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bogan Higgs of 4200 Penrose Ave. in Rightles West, Miss Higgs was returning from a visit with an aunt at Strawn, Mrs. Martell Buzard, when the accident occurred. Townsend, discharged from a hospital only recently, said the headlights of a truck blinded him and that his car sideswiped the bridge.

Dr. Tice Tells Ranger Lions Landscape Gardening Merits

Dr. Grady Tice, head of the Agriculture Department of Ranger Junior College, spoke to the Ranger Lions Thursday on "Landscape Gardening" at their regular luncheon meeting at the Gholson Hotel.

Dr. Tice outlined landscaping the yard of a typical home. He said that it is generally believed that through landscaping the real estate value of property can be increased on an average of 10 percent. Another purpose he said was to appeal to "aesthetic values."

The professor said that now is a perfect time to plant shrubs in this area. He made the following suggestions:
1. Dig holes with sufficient dimensions to allow setting of plant without crowding or folding of root system. Leave loose dirt in bottom.
2. Set young plants one to two inches deeper than they grew in the nursery.
3. Pack first few inches of dirt tightly around the root system, add one to two inches of well rotted barnyard manure or leaf mold, and fill the hole in within one inch of the surface of the ground. If the soil is relatively dry, water freely.
4. Keep plants watered the first few weeks and shape by pruning the second year.
Dr. Tice said that it was a misconception to think that shrubs require a lot of water. He said that at first they do need to be watered often, but after they have been given a chance to get their roots formed, they can hold their own.

He told of his many miraculous escapes from death, illustrating the fact that people are spared for their special purpose in life. He quoted Washington as saying that the public school system is the program we must support and said that by supporting the schools, we are striking a blow for democracy.

The centerpiece on the speaker's table was a miniature cherry tree complete with cherries in a log container against which a small red hatchet was standing. This arrangement was flanked by red candles in log candelabra. Blue and white napkins completed the table arrangement. Potted, white mums graced the center of the dining room.

an adequate supply of gas to offer new industry, or heavy users of gas. A very good example of this problem is the American Aggregate Company plant located in Ranger. They had a great deal of trouble in obtaining sufficient gas for their operation, until by special agreement, they got a connection with the Lone Star Gas Company.

"The new lake is completed and when filled, will insure adequate water supply to industries seeking a location in the great Southwest. We have unlimited electrical power resources, we have a large pool of skilled and unskilled labor available but, and this fact has been pointed out on a number of occasions during negotiations with prospective industry, we did not have sufficient gas for fuel for quantity users, under our present franchise, and even in extremely cold weather the pressure has on occasions dropped alarmingly, even to the point, in a recent year, going completely off during the night in a severe cold spell in which many cities had left stoves burning during the night. By a miracle there were no fatalities as a result of that failure.

It was stated by representatives of the Community Pub Service Company that their plan in applying for a franchise deal at this time was to have a plan in making arrangements for a new and adequate source of gas.

Mayor Harris proposed, "As stated previously, the franchise under which they are operating was granted 36 yrs ago, which seems to me to have been ample time in which to arrange for sufficient gas for domestic and commercial use.

The Mayor stated that it was his sincere belief that acquiring of the gas system in Ranger by the Lone Star was in-hand with the building of new lake in importance to Ranger.

In conclusion, the Mayor stated that while he and the commission had not been approached at this time by Lone Star officials regarding rates, he felt that the people of Ranger might give in a better position in regard since a comparison of present rates and the rates in effect at Eastland and Cisco by Lone Star are the same as those in effect at Ranger pays a minimum of $2 and each of those cities has a minimum of $1.

One or two quart supply of sandwiches for packed lunches can be prepared at time and stored in the hot freezer. This method side-steps the more time-consuming procedure of making up sandwiches fresh. A sandwich taken from the freezer in the morning will be soft and ready to eat by lunchtime. Sandwiches should be sealed individually in cellophane bags and labeled. Then like sandwiches are sealed in large bags, daily seal is quick and easy.

EARLY LAYERS MAKE THE MONEY!

SO START CHICKS EARLY!

Every month earlier in the year (before April 1st) that you start chicks makes every hen in your flock worth about 20¢ more in fall eggs... February starting would double that figure and bring in around 40¢ more from each pullet in the flock. That's $40 more per 100 pullets! That's a tidy premium for starting chicks early, isn't it? Why don't you drop in or telephone your chick order now. Put those early chicks on Chick Startena and get that premium return on the early fall egg market! We'll help you get started. Come in or phone us your chick order.

Large Attendance Expected Sunday At First Baptist

"Sharing Our Saviour" is the sermon theme the pastor will use for the morning worship hour at the First Baptist Church. The pastor stated, "We want to share our Saviour with all of the city and with those around the world who know him not. The Church has not only met the challenge of "City Missions" by having a Mexican Mission and an Eastside Chapel, but have gone to the foreign field with the salary being paid for a foreign missionary, likewise the church shared their pastor in the Jamaica Mission in January.

The evening services begin at 6:30 with Training Union meeting in the same assemblies as on the morning Sunday school hour. "Training Union grows and develops the Christian Church member into a useful worker. There is no excuse today for any member being unlearned in spiritual and eternal values," the pastor stated.
