New Jobs Created By Sales Tax

The new Limited Sales, Excise, and Use Tax which became effect tive September 1, 1961, the beginning of the new State fiscal year, is putling Texas into a new bus-iness fast. Robert S. Calvert, who is the State Comptroller, has to administer and collect the t a x throughout the State.

Sounds simple until the gigan-tic task is reduced to the practical question "Who is going to collec the tax?" A limited number of highly qualified professional aud-itors will be needed to cover the state from the Comptroller's four regional offices. These offices are located in Dallas, San Antonio, Lubbock and Houston.

Calvert has called on the Texas Employment Commission to help him meet this critical need in a professional field which is not presently over crowded. The TEC, through its network of 91 local ing, her husband and daughter offices throughout the state, feels Mr. and Mrs. Carl Falkenberry confident that, if there are qualified tax auditors available, they will be able to find them.
