Olds—

1962 88's and 98's. Wolfgram said "has been achieved through completely different front and rear styling, new fender lines, and new crisp roof designs. The advanced roof styling," Wolfgram said, "is typified in our new 98 Holiday Sports Sedan which combines the eye appeal of a Holiday coupe with the convenience and utility of a four-door model."

"And," he added, "Oldsmobile's entire line is further enhanced by the exciting Starfire Coupe. Making its appearance for the first time, the Starfire Coupe will incorporate all the features that have made the Starfire Convertible so popular."

Wolfgram emphasized that the new Oldsmobiles are even quieter, more comfortable and smoother in operation this year.

Pointing out that Oldsmobile's top performing four-stage Hydra-Matic transmission has been improved again for 1962, he explained that a new "pressure-compensated shift pattern" provides a smoother-than-ever transition between the four speed ranges. And, on the full-size cars, the Hydra-Matic utilizes a new concept — counter-phased gear sets — which virtually eliminate gear noise even in neutral.

"New highs in Oldsmobile engine performance for 1962 result from several important design improvements," Wolfgram continued. "A new combustion chamber shape and higher (10.25 to 1) compression ratios in the Rocket engine step up power and performance throughout all driving ranges. These improvements in engine efficiency, coupled with lower rear axle gear ratios, increase fuel economy considerably."

"In the case of the Dynamic 88," he continued, "its ultra-high compression 280-horsepower Rocket engine delivers a substantial increase in performance as well as increased miles per gallon on premium-grade gasoline."

(A 260-horsepower Rocket engine with an 7.5 to 1 compression ratio is available as an option at no extra cost for those who prefer to use regular-grade gasoline.)

Maximum brake horsepower of the 1962 Skyrocket (4-barrel carburetor) engine, standard on both the Super 88 and 98 series, is increased to 330.

Exhilarating highway performance, provided by its own Starfire engine and a precise coordination of power train elements continue as the outstanding features of the Oldsmobile Starfires.

The ultra-high compression (10.5 total) Starfire engine at 345 horsepower, represents 1 horsepower to every 13 pounds of car weight.

The exciting new Starfire Coupe is equipped with front bucket seats and a sports-type power console. Luxuriously and tastefully appointed, it will feature the same color and trim combinations as the spectacularly-received Starfire Convertible.

Standard equipment on both Starfires included the 4-S Hydra-Matic transmission, power steering, self-adjusting power brakes and dual exhausts in addition to the bucket seats, power console and generous use of genuine leather in the trim scheme.

Complete new Pontiac interiors, according to Knudsen, are designed for the ultimate in operator and passenger comfort, safety and convenience. Richly appointed instrument panels feature cushion pads and distinctive ornamentation for each series. Attractive seat coverings of Jewel-tone Marmorides or patterned cloths and genuine leather color keyed to harmonize with exterior finishes. All models include deep loop pile door-to-door carpeting.

Power for the new line is supplied by Pontiac's renowned Trophy 425 engine. The big 389 cubic inch V-8 is offered in a broad selection of model variations with horsepower ranging from 215 to 348. Standard with synchromesh transmission in Catalina and Star Chief models is an 8.6:1 compression ratio engine equipped with two-barrel carburetor. An 8.6:1 engine with four-barrel carburetion is standard with synchromesh in Bonneville.

LUXURIOUS STYLING—Pontiac's 1962 sports coupe model is graphically illustrated by these views of the sparkling new Bonneville. A smaller rear window and a lower roof design give this two-door hardtop the rakish look of a softtop convertible. A divided V-shaped grille of horizontal bars exemplifies the smooth flowing lines and the Bonneville's generous full-length side moulding accents the car's long, and sleek appearance. This same new look in hardtops is found in the Catalina sports coupe to go on sale Thursday at Bagwell Motor Co., Pine and Rusk, Ranger.

Additional engine options offer compression ratios up to 10.75:1 and a choice of two, four or triple two-barrel carburetion.

The longer new Pontiacs, with the exceptions of the three Safari station wagons, measure 211.6 inches in the Catalina series and 218.6 inches in the Star Chief and Bonneville series. The Safaris have an overall length of 212.3 inches. Heights range from a low of 54.5 inches with sports coupe models to 56.9 inches for the Safaris. All new Pontiacs measure 78.6 inches in width.

In the Catalina sedan, hardtop and convertible models the wheelbase has been extended to 120 inches. Star Chiefs and all Bonneville's, except the Safari, are built on a 123 inch wheelbase. All Safari wheelbases measure 119 inches.

Conservative Budgeting Keeps County Tills on Par

Eastland County's financial footing appears sound and as each year goes by, it gets firmer. Ten years ago the county owed $537,130. Estimates are that on Jan. 1, 1962, the county will owe $124,286.09.

On the first day of this year, debts amounted to $11,905.51. Jan. 1, 1951 the county owed $509,000 (of which $150,000 was on the court house, which has been paid off, and the four precincts owed $28,190).

The sinking fund balance on Jan. 1, 1962, is estimated to be $37,207.19.

The original courthouse bonds for $300,000 were due this year, but were paid off in 1959 saving interest.

The county's old road bonds, dated Feb. 3, 1922, for $4,320,000, will be retired Feb. 1, next year, with an $8,000 payment.

There's an unpaid balance of $70,000 on some 1951 refunding bonds, on which the county has been making advance payments, and they will be paid off in April of 1966—three years ahead of schedule.

Payments of $10,000 for the 1969 installment, $10,000 for the 1968 payment, $12,000 for the 1967 installment and $5,000 on the 1966 payment have been made, County Auditor C. H. O'Brien reported.

The estimated balance in the road and bridge sinking fund is expected to be $16,631.67 on Jan. 1, 1962.

In hammering out the budget for next fiscal year, which begins Oct. 1st the commissioners and the auditor made their revenue estimates realistic and their expenditures conservative.

Such items as delinquent tax estimates aren't even included in the anticipated income.

When asked what he thought about the game, Coach Ken Vakey gave these reasons for the loss: Wharton's capitalizing on our mistakes and making touchdowns on them and the predominance of freshmen on the team and their being nervous. He added, "But we are going to work the next few days to be ready for McMurry B team Thursday night."

Coach Jim Lewis stated that the Rangers made lots of mistakes against Wharton, but that in time these can be corrected and the defense will be tightened.

Ranger Co-captains Paul Free and Joe Morrow feel that Wharton got "all the breaks in the world" but that penalties really hurt. They pointed out that this was the first college game for most of the team.

TOUCHDOWN TALK

By Kennard Royal

In losing the season opener to the Wharton Pioneers Saturday night, the Ranger Junior College Ranger, drawing most of the penalties of the game and not blocking for the passer, gained very little yardage on the ground the first half. Wharton, on the other hand, made 142 yards rushing in the first half, and the comparison with yardage made by the inexperienced Ranger squad tells the whole story of the game.

TELEPHONE TALK by Archer H. Marx, Jr., Manager

TELEPHONE SERVICE NEAR NORMAL AFTER HURRICANE CARLA STRIKES Hurricane Carla has come and gone, and I know we were all glad to see her go. Even though we were not directly affected here in Ranger, I'd like to tell you a little of what she did to telephone service on the Gulf Coast and what Southwestern Bell did about it. It's an interesting and dramatic story.

- damage totalling $6 1/2 million to telephone facilities -145,000 telephones knocked out along a 500-mile stretch of coastal front and inland points -miles of telephone lines and poles flattened in a twisted maze of wire and splintered wood -15 Southwestern Bell exchanges completely isolated, including Freeport, Bay City, and El Campo, along with 28 other communities

Telephone people were ready for the emergency. Before the winds and rains had subsided, Southwestern Bell had men and equipment rolling to the disaster area to restore crippled telephone service. An army of 5,400 telephone men from many cities and states was hastily assembled in the Galveston - Corpus Christi-Victoria area. More than 900 came from points in North Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Kansas, and Missouri.

Equipment Flown In At the same time, the company flew emergency generating equipment for electric power in to the storm area from many places in our five-state territory. From other cities in North Texas, special mobile radio trucks converged on the stricken area to help bridge the gap left by the silenced telephones, relay emergency messages, and maintain contact with the "outside world."

These joined forces with the men, trucks, and other emergency equipment which Southwestern Bell already had sent into the area as a precautionary measure when hurricane warnings were first issued.

Operators From West Texas While repair crews began the work of restoration, 150 telephone operators from Lubbock, Amarillo, Abilene and other West Texas points were sent to Houston and other storm-hit cities to help handle the tremendous volume of long distance calls... many of them vital messages from police, public health, civil defense, and other agencies.

With skill, determination, and co-ordinated teamwork Southwestern Bell people worked round the clock until all circuits were restored and all telephones back in service (where the condition of homes and business permitted). Telephone service in the disaster area is now back to normal. It was a tremendous job, carried out under trying conditions at top speed.

When Hurricane Carla struck, telephone people "came through" 100 per cent in the emergency. Southwestern Bell's "telephone team" of men and women again demonstrated their ability to meet the challenge of the storm in the highest tradition of "The Spirit of Service."

Call by number. It's twice as fast. SOUTHWESTERN BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY

The upper altar of the nuptial space featured a tall white archway topped in wedding bells and Lilies of the Valley flanked with high baskets of white gladioli and lemon leaves, with two cathedral candelabra holding tall white twisted tapers in the background.

Providing traditional wedding selections was Mrs. B. F. Howard of Terral, Okla., at the organ and Mrs. W. G. Schleck of Fort Worth, mother of the bridegroom, soloist.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir: Just read where Eastland School Board came out against the county school consolidation.

It seems to me the reason for the main opposition from Eastland Ranger and Cisco is a matter of certain citizens wanting to be a big fish in a little pool instead of perhaps a little fish in a big pool. It is a sad state of affairs when certain citizens put their own interests above the education and future needs of their children and country.

Yours Truly, Ed Webster, Eastland
